Emboldened by his complete lack of response, I gingerly put my hand around his limp dick, not moving at first but rather just allowing it to rest in the palm of my hand with my fingers wrapped gently around it. It was actually a rare experience for me. Mot times by the time I got my hands on a dick, especially a teenager's, it was either fully erect or well on its way. To feel Tony's dick in its "natural" state was rather exhilarating.

Just then I thought I heard a noise and my hand pulled away from his dick instinctively. It turned out to be just the wind - I heard it again and realized it was a tree branch against the side of the house, but my sudden movement seemed to have stirred Tony. He made a sort of soft, groaning sound but then that was it and once again he was like in a coma. I held my breath until I felt myself turning blue, afraid to even move lest I awaken him.

Finally I got my courage back and once again I felt his soft cock in my hand. This wasn't the first time I'd ever fondled a guy's cock while he was sleeping, not by a long shot. It WAS, however, the first time I'd done it to a guy who didn't go to sleep with me next to him, or at least in some way wouldn't have been totally surprised to awaken and find my hand wrapped around his dick.

After a couple of minutes, my hand seemed to gain a mind of its own and I watched, more fascinated than anything else, as my hand began to seemingly start to move as if controlled by some unseen force. I was gently jerking him off, pulling on him ever so gently, just enough to stimulate his dick. Slowly, ever so slowly, I began to feel him react. At first it was hardly noticeable but eventually it was unmistakable - he was becoming erect!

It was one of the things I loved about dicks - they not only had their own head but they seemed to have a mind of their own as well. Men can't seem to control them while they are awake, so why should it be any different while they are asleep? Cock heads didn't seem to need sleep though, they reacted no matter what the rest of him was doing!

As my one hand slowly massaged his growing dick, my other was back under my nightie, touching myself and poking up inside of me. I decided to switch hands, using the wetness of my pussy that had transferred to my hand help me to stroke his dick easier. I guess I could have drooled a little spit on him but this method seemed so much more erotic. I could smell myself as my pussy odor mingled with his. His dick glistened in the sharp moonlight as my pussy wetness covered his now almost erect shaft.

Amazingly, Tony STILL hadn't so much as moved a muscle - other than his dick swelling. I didn't think he was faking - even when men tried not to react when I was stroking them, like in a restaurant or theater, they still couldn't totally suppress every twitch or gasp. Tony, on the other hand, appeared as though he'd been nailed with one of those tranquilizing darts they use on animals on TV. It was just fine with me as the part of him that I wanted to react was doing just marvelously.

My hand barely fit around his expanding shaft now and I smiled at how much his cock had grown in the past few minutes. Every cock grew differently and I learned long ago that flaccid size did not always translate to rigid size. Of course, it didn't generally hurt to start out big if you wanted to finish big, but Tony was living proof your dick didn't need to be extraordinarily large when it was soft to be damn good when he was hard. What had been a relatively average dick to start was now definitely in the upper percentiles. Not that Tony would be auditioning as a porn star any time soon, but compared to most guys he was larger than usual.

I couldn't even remember the last time I was this close to a dick, the last time I'd held a dick for that matter, and I hadn't blown it - at least not by choice. Sure, sometimes all you could do was a hand-job, especially in public places, but this was about as far from "public" as it comes yet I was still playing by the rules. Seemed sorta silly I guess. After all, he was now totally erect, as hard as a steel pipe, yet totally asleep. His dick was pointing straight at his head, hovering over his stomach like a porpoise caught in mid-air as it leaped out of the water over a rope. It had a slight curve to it, starting out at the base more upward and then curving downward such that it was poised to cum directly onto his button should that moment arrive and nobody moved it.

Tony's cock looked black and white in the moonlight, but I could see a dark stripe that encircled it just below the head. The head was all swollen, bigger than the shaft below it and I could just imagine how incredible it would feel as it tried to violate my pussy, pressing itself into me, forcing my pussy to literally split apart to accommodate his girth. Mmmmmmm, I just knew it would feel great in me!

There was no way I was going to be able to stroke him hard enough, fast enough, or long enough to make him cum so I had to make a tactical decision. Do I just fondle him, enjoying the feel of his dick in my hand or should I do more? Of course I wanted nothing more than to straddle him and start bouncing on that cock as it slid in and out of me, but that would have certainly awakened him no matter how deep he was asunder. Thus fucking was out of the question. No matter how horny I was, I wouldn't go THAT far as it was almost a certainty that at least, if not Beth and who knows who else, found out. However, that didn't mean I had to stop at a hand job. Heck, if anything, wouldn't sucking him be more gentle on his dick than my hand?

His bed was just a little bit too high for me to kneel on the floor next to him so all I could do was lean over and put my face into his crotch. I managed to get my free hand on the other side where I could at least rest it against the wall. Thank goodness he only had a twin bed, not a double sized one like his older sister. With my face just inches from his crotch, the sensual odor was almost overwhelming. Obviously Tony wasn't into taking showers before he went to bed. It's not that he stunk, I don't mean that at all. It was just that I was being exposed to at least a full day's accumulation of male muskiness that made it so overpowering.

I held my breath as I realized it was my last chance to back down, to stand upright and stop what I was doing before this went any further. Even if he woke up now, I was sure I would have enough warning to get my hand off of him and he would just think he had woken from a wet dream.

Too late, I did it - I started sucking his dick. I loved it. I mean, I LOVED it! God he tasted wonderful! I wanted to gulp him down and lock my lips around his shaft, sucking on him tight but I knew I had to be a little bit careful and not get too overenthusiastic. My tongue explored the exterior once again. I simply loved the way it felt to run my wet tongue over the smooth head and then down his stiff shaft, letting it flow over the lower ridge of his head.

Oh god, I LOVED sucking his dick. I tried to imagine what he would say now if he woke up, seeing my head over him, feeling my warm lips wrapped around his delicious hard shaft? Would he try to stop me or just lay back and enjoy it? Perhaps he was even dreaming about it now, not knowing who was stimulating him but then not caring either, at least for the moment, either.

My pussy was crying loudly for attention of its own but there was simply no way I could touch myself at this moment. Of course, if I ceded to its demands I'd be climbing aboard and it would be gripping his cock tightly inside of me. Not that that was such a bad idea but for the first time this evening, I somehow managed to resist the temptation. Yes indeed, as much as I wanted him to fuck me, as much as I would have LOVED to feel his dick slipping into my pussy, THAT would be going way too far.

Actually. the biggest question in my mind at the moment was, could I make him cum? How much of a man's orgasm was controlled by his dick and what part, if any, did the "big head" play? My guess is that all that is needed was to stimulate a cock long enough and nature would take its course but that's just my opinion. Would it take longer for him to cum while asleep or was it all a function of the right motivation? How long was I going to continue risking discovery if he didn't cum right away?

Then there was the first sign of response as he made a very low moaning sound. It didn't sound like pain though, more like pleasure. He seemed to squirm slightly under me and I was tempted to retreat before he regained consciousness. Still, he seemed to be on the verge of cumming by now so did I really want to quit now, now that I was so close to my goal? No, I just HAD to risk it just a little bit more. It would have killed me to drop him from my mouth, just to see him cumming a few seconds later onto his flat stomach. It was worth the risk, at least that's what my naughty side was saying. As for my "good" side, it had retreated long ago, conceding total defeat by the "dark side".

Then I felt it, the precum dripping from his dick and then before I could even savor the moment, he was suddenly ejaculating into my mouth! It was a little different from when a guy was awake in that men will normally try to "help" things along by thrusting their hips forward, as if trying to add momentum to the cum shooting from their mouth or perhaps it's just their instinct to drive themselves deeper inside of my womb, trying to implant their sperm further up inside of me.

In this case, it was just his dick that was reacting, pulsing and shooting one load after another like an artillery gun had been perched on his crotch, except it had been loaded with sperm instead of shells. I eagerly gobbled up every drop, keeping my lips sealed around the shaft to prevent any of it from leaking out. This was one time his cum wasn't going to be wasted, not even a drop, not if I had anything to say about it. I loved the taste on my tongue, the slimy feeling of it against the back of my throat and around my mouth. It was salty and rather sharp, definitely an "acquired taste" for most girls, but I'd loved it from the very first time my boyfriend had cum in my mouth almost nine years ago in that dark movie theater. Back then I swallowed because I didn't know any better and besides, it tasted good. Now I was doing it not just because I enjoyed tasting it, but also to keep things clean.

Once he had finished cumming, I wanted to remained there, perhaps suckling his dick as it slowly shrank back to its original flaccid state. I was still horny as hell but somehow the "good girl" that I'd managed to lock away had escaped and was stridently warning me of the dangerous situation I was now in. True, I'd REALLY pushed my luck and it wasn't going to hold out forever so I needed to get going – and soon. Reluctantly I let him gently slip from my mouth, giving him one last little kiss on the head before I straightened up.

As I stood over him, taking in my last views of his handsome nude body, I ran my tongue over my lips, savoring the aftertaste of his cum in my mouth - and it DID leave an incredible aftertaste that I knew would hang around forever if I didn't do something about it. About the last thing I needed was to have Beth wake up, kiss me, and detect the unmistakable taste of a man's cum on my lips and tongue!

Waving goodbye, I slipped quietly from his room, wondering one last time if I should've tried riding him but deep down, knowing it would've never worked out. Now what? I couldn't go back to bed with Beth, at least not yet. God, if anything my pussy was even wetter than before! So I wound up in the bathroom, masturbating like crazy just as I had planned to do before I was "distracted" by Tony. As horny as I was, it didn't take long to cum and I had both hands between my legs, trying to suppress a primal scream that I could feel trying to find its release from me.

God I needed to be fucked. I needed to be fucked BAD!

This time I was on the floor of the bathroom, my feet up on the bathtub as I rubbed myself again and again, plunging my fingers into me as if Tony was fucking me hard. I came again... and again. I might have gone for yet another except for the gentle knock on the door.

"Kelly, you OK"? I heard a muffled voice from outside. It was Beth. Whoa, how long had I been gone? Looking in the mirror, I tried to smooth my hair and make myself presentable in the few seconds I had and then opened the door for her.

"Something wrong?" she asked, rubbing her eyes as she tried to focus on me, "I just woke up and you were gone so I thought I'd better check on you."

Yeah right, I knew what she was checking up on - she was making sure I wasn't in her brother's room doing who knows what sort of nasty things. Ironically, had she woken just a little bit earlier, she would've seen exactly what she was afraid might be happening! The bathroom light was off except for another nightlight so she wasn't able to see me THAT clearly but the odor of my sex in the room had to be overpowering.

"Damn girl, what the hell have you been doing in here?" she asked, shaking her head and wrinkling her nose as if she had opened the door to a barn or something. I just looked at her and smiled naughtily, like she'd caught me doing something I shouldn't have been doing but yet I didn't care.

"Yeah... like I had to ask!" she huffed, turning around and heading sleepily back to her room.

As I followed her, I noticed the door to Tony's room has been shut. Hmmmmmm, who had shut it? Had he come out to use the bathroom and upon hearing me masturbating, heading back to his room but shutting the door this time? Or was it his sister, noticing his open door and the view of her naked brother through it. Had she lingered for a few minutes to look at the naked form of her sexy brother? Did she have any thoughts that maybe I had seen it myself - and if so, did she have idea how I reacted to it?

I crawled in bed next to her but she was facing towards me this time. We scooted up close and wrapped out arms around each other as once again I felt her incredible boobs pressing against mine.

"You know, you could have just woke me," she whispered into my ear in a husky tone.

I assumed she meant instead of masturbating as I doubted she would have been so accommodating had she known how I'd gotten myself off looking at her nude brother, not to mention giving him a BJ while he slept ever so soundly. We kissed and I was glad I'd taken time to brush my teeth and use some mouthwash. For a moment I thought she might want to do something more but she fell asleep almost instantly. I even wondered if she would remember the entire episode in the morning.

6. The Next Morning

Breakfast the next morning was interesting, to say the least. Beth and I had on matching robes which came down to our knees as her dad sat at the table eating his breakfast. The robes were a little overkill but I doubted even if he hadn't been there that her mom would have felt comfortable with us all but naked in our nighties sitting at the table with her. Tony was nowhere to be found and I wondered why but only for a few minutes as eventually he showed up, wearing nothing but some old grey athletic shorts. He looked handsome as hell with his bare chest and lean legs exposed but his mom didn't seem to share my opinion.

"Go put on a shirt before you sit down young man. What do you think this is, your college dorm?" his mom chastised him. Well, too bad for me; I was hoping he would take his shorts off too! He reappeared in less than a minute, this time sporting an oversized t-shirt. He looked like he was still about half asleep as he plopped down in his seat. His hair was a mess and he hadn't shaved or even washed up yet. Thinking back to swallowing his cum, it was a good thing I'd made sure he wasn't even messier when I left him the night before.

When Tony sat down, I couldn't help but keep an eye on his crotch, remembering how much better it had looked last night with nothing on to keep his wonderful dick from view. I hated the fact that it was now hidden away underneath those damn shorts. Beth kicked me under the table and I looked at her. She was giving the me old "evil eye" and I knew she had caught me staring at her brother again. I almost laughed as I thought about how she would react if she knew what I was thinking instead of just where I was looking!

As for Tony himself, he didn't seem to have any idea at all of what had happened last night. In a way, I was disappointed. I guess deep down I had been hoping he was faking it the whole time and then this morning he would wink at me or otherwise indicate we had a little secret to share. Did he even know he'd cum last night? Probably not as I guess men do that all the time on their own, just through their own fantasies as they sleep.

Later, as we were dressing in her room, Beth seemed preoccupied with something so finally I offered her the proverbial penny for her thoughts. At first she seemed to shake it off but then it was like she suddenly changed her mind and she whirled around to point her finger at me accusingly.

"OK, time to fess up girl, I saw the way you were looking at him this morning. Something's up so spill it."

I looked at her with my trademarked, "Who me" look once again and she would have none of it this time.

"Let's see now... my brother left his door open last night - something he NEVER does, and he was sleeping naked in bed with the curtains open - something else he NEVER does. Then I find you in the bathroom, playing with yourself like there's no tomorrow. God, I could smell your cunt in the hallway! Hmmmmmm, I wonder what got you so hot and bothered - AND so interested in my brother's lower half of his body this morning, at least more than usual."

"OK, OK, so I looked at him!" I exclaimed, trying to act even more exasperated than I was at her accusations, "C'mon, did you really expect me, of all people, to just look away? Sheesh Beth, I know he's your brother but even you have to admit, he looked pretty damn hot laying there all nude like that - especially on his back!"

"I guess," she muttered, probably as close as I was ever going to get to a confession from her that her brother was a hunk. "Still, I'm perturbed at him as much as you for leaving his door open like that."

"Maybe he didn't close it tight and it just opened on its own?" I offered in his defense.

"No, a few years ago I caught him jerking off in his room after he was suppose to have gone to bed and ever since then, he practically bolts the door shut at night when he goes to bed. Noooooo, he left it open on purpose and I'd like to know why."

Actually, so would I. It was too much a coincidence that he'd somehow forgotten to shut his door for the first time in years the very night I was staying over, thereby setting things up such that I got to see him naked. Had he intended for me to see him? Had he hoped I would wake him up and suck his dick, maybe even let him fuck me? Was that why I'd gotten the silent treatment from him this morning, as he assumed I hadn't stopped by as he had hoped?

Beth was still pondering things as she slipped on another sweatshirt and jeans. Then she finally smiled at me and came over to give me a kiss.

"You know, I have to apologize... When I first saw his door was open I was sure you were inside. I'm sorry I didn't trust you. It had to be a hell of a temptation for you, I know."

Sheesh, talk about feeling guilty! My best friend was apologizing because she assumed I had done something – something I HAD done! OK, maybe not in the way she might have imagined, but certainly I was not the innocent angel she was making me out to be. I felt so bad I was about to confess to her what I'd done but at the last minute managed to hold back.

"Something you wanted to say?" she asked, a questioning look on her face?

"Oh no... nothing at all, I was just afraid you were mad about me for last night."

Beth kissed me yet again and smiled at me. "Oh Kelly, if anyone knows you and what you do sometimes, it's me so just forget about it."

7. Tony's Girlfriend Heidi

That afternoon, when I had returned home and was laying on the couch watching TV, I couldn't help but think about Tony and how wonderful it had been to suck his dick the night before. I could almost taste the cum in my mouth again! That night I went out with a friend I'd met at a party a while back. We ended up at his apartment (I never bring them back to mine), and as he was fucking me, I caught myself imagining it was Tony fucking me instead. Indeed, at one point I almost called out his name! Now THAT would have been a bit embarrassing, to say the least. As good as it felt to finally get laid again, I came home later that night feeling a bit unsatisfied, as if something had been missing.

For the next few days, it was a constant nagging in the back of my head. All I could think about was Tony's cock; how it tasted, how it felt while it was growing, the smell of him, the way his cum felt as it shot into my mouth. I lost count of how many times I masturbated thinking of him fucking me in his bed while his sister and parents slept. To be sure, I didn't feel anything for him, I mean I wasn't in love with him nor had I any desire to be his girlfriend or even a close friend. Instead, it was more like I was seeking the Holy Grail, or the Fountain of Youth, or anything else that fixated someone on a goal, a quest that they feel drawn to or even compelled to finish.

It was killing me that I had been so close, that I had his dick IN MY MOUTH and yet hadn't been fucked. Sure, there had been plenty of guys I'd sucked and not allowed to fuck me, but it was ME that made that decision. I couldn't remember any other time in my life when I'd had my mouth on a guy and wanted to get laid by him that I had NOT ultimately gotten what I wanted. It was frustrating as hell, to say the least. It didn't help he was the brother of my best friend. Well, that didn't really matter, it was that she didn't want him to fuck me that was the problem. How the hell could I get him to do me without her finding out?

Well, the Bible says that no temptation will be made on you that you cannot overcome so I shouldn't have doubted that sooner or later, a solution would be found. Who was it that said, "The Lord works in mysterious ways."? Well, they didn't know the half of it!

The key was Heidi... Tony's plain, but well endowed, girlfriend.

It was a slow weekend for me. Right after New year's the demand for parties was at rock bottom and I supposed it would be a few weeks before things picked back up to normal again. Thus I had a lot of free time on my hands but still, a girl can only masturbate so much - even me! As it turned out, I was over at Beth's house, more to just have company than anything specific, when Tony came in, closely trailed by his girlfriend,

"Hey Heidi," Beth welcomed her.

Come to think of it, that was the first time I'd heard her refer to her brother's girlfriend by name, it had always been "my brother's girlfriend" or "his girlfriend" (or something nastier).

I looked at Heidi a little closer and once again had to shake my head a bit. Sheesh, what did he see in her? A hunk like him should have had his pick of any babe around but instead he was going out with dumpy Heidi. To be fair, she was a sweet girl and "had a nice personality" as they say, but a low-carb diet and some exercise would have certainly been a nice New Year's resolution for her. Of course, it was hard not to notice what he DID see in her, or should I say ON her - the most massive boobs for a girl her size I'd ever seen outside one of my dad's porn DVDs. Heidi was not really a BIG girl, not by any means. Sure, she had a fat ass and was overall a little chubby, but she wasn't truly obese and she was pretty short as well. But her boobs.... OMG her boobs! The only way to describe them is they were simply massive. It was a miracle she didn't walk all hunched over from the sheer weight of them. When Beth said her brother was a "boob guy", she wasn't kidding.

The two of them quickly made their way to his bedroom, the door shutting tightly behind them. I guess at nineteen nobody could tell him that he had to keep his bedroom door open when a girl was with him although noticed that Beth didn't seem entirely pleased with it. We soon forgot about them and spent the rest of the morning just hanging around, not doing much of anything, when Beth's mom called. Beth answered her cell phone and I could see from the sagging of her shoulders she was frustrated - and a little pissed.

"What?... Now?" she whined into the phone, "Oh mom... can't it wait until later?"

Whatever "it" was, evidently couldn't wait as she slapped the phone shut rather hard.

"I don't fucking believe this," she griped as I waited patiently for her to continue, "My mom ordered this fucking cake and I have to fucking pick it up before they fucking close."

She must have REALLY been pissed. Beth didn't have exactly the cleanest mouth but still, she usually didn't manage to sprinkle so many "F" words in one sentence. She looked at me and evidently the question in my eyes was all she needed to know what I was thinking. "Down at that shop on the Strip. Look, you just hang out and I'll be back in 45 minutes or so, OK? No need for both of us to bundle up and freeze our fucking asses off."

She stormed off to her room to get her shoes and coat, mumbling all the way in and then all the way out. "Catch you in a bit," she called out as she went into the garage.

I'd spent plenty of time in her house alone before, just as she had in mine herself at times when I was running late or needed to go out myself for a bit. I'd been coming here almost all my life so it was like a second home to me in some ways. Thus I didn't feel guilty raiding the frig or making myself at home so I went to the kitchen, grabbed a can of Diet Coke, and settled into the couch in the family room to watch some TV. I was a little tired so I was starting to drift off when my privacy was disturbed by Heidi and Tony. Something didn't seem right, you could tell from the body language that the two of them weren't exactly hitting it off at the moment. Heidi spoke first, actually the first time she'd ever spoken directly to me come to think of it.

"Kelly, are you really a slut and is your sister really a whore?"

Whoa! Now THAT was right out of the blue. I have to admit, give me a thousand guesses as to what she might ask me and I'd of never gotten that one right.

"Sorry," she continued, as if nothing was odd about her questions, "Tony here called you a slut and your sister a whore... so I was just a little curious."

There was more to it than that, THAT was obvious, but I figured what the hell, why not play along and see where this train wreck was heading. I just shrugged my shoulders and answered simply, "Sure.. you have some sort of problem with that?"

Heidi quickly waved her hands and shook her head. "Oh no, I didn't mean it that way. He calls me a slut too, you know, "she confided in a conspiratorial tone as if he wasn't right next to her listening to every word. There was an awkward silence so I decided to probe a little and see if I could figure out for myself what was going on.

"And he told you all this because...?"

Heidi actually seemed to blush for a moment and she looked at Tony as if expecting home to support her. No luck there. She finally took a breath, her monstrous boobs heaving up and then down again as she released it slowly.

"Well, I've been teasing Tony about us having a 3-some lately with his sister but can you believe it - he won't even talk about it!"

I couldn't help but smile - my kind of girl. It didn't surprise me that she'd gotten that reaction from him. If there was one thing I was certain of in this world, it was that Beth and her brother would never have sex together. It's not like I hadn't suggested it but her reaction was always the same; a look of sheer disgust and a loud "Ewwwww!". It followed that Tony would feel the same way about his sister, even if she DID have big boobs that I knew he looked at now and then - although nowhere near the scale of Heidi's rack.

"So I asked him who he knew that WOULD join in and he said you were a slut and if you didn't want to, your cousin's a whore and that she would do about anything."

My leg was feeling really sore all of sudden. It gets that way when someone pulls on it really hard and I was practically having it jerked off now. What kind of sick joke was this anyway? There was no way some girl was going to ask her boyfriend to do a threesome and he volunteers his sister's best friend as an option. Heidi was evidently pretty good at reading faces because once again, she answered my question before I even had the chance to ask.

"I'm serious Kelly, would you be interested... even a little bit?"

I looked at Tony to see his reaction but he couldn't look me straight in the eye. Hmmm, that told me that she was telling me the truth - at least about his side of the story. Had this all been some sort of elaborate practical joke on me, he'd be trying to sell it just as hard as she was without acting ashamed or embarrassed.

"You know Tony, if your sister ever found out.....," I trailed off, the rest being unnecessary to vocalize as we both knew what would happen.

"So that's a yes?" Heidi barged in, a little giggle escaping as she wiggled excitedly on the couch like she had to run to the bathroom any second.

"So tell me Heidi, have you ever done anything like this before" I asked, actually meaning for it for the both of them.

I was pretty damn certain that Tony never had but Heidi, well she was turning into some sort of enigma. Actually, it wouldn't have surprised me TOO much as I knew other girls who were a little, shall we say, too short for their weight, that used sex to compensate for their lack of looks when it came to snaring a boyfriend. Tony may like her monstrous boobs but I had a sneaky suspicion that she'd been putting out from day one as well, just to seal the deal with him.

At first I thought she was going to lie and say she had. There was just something in the way that she was trying TOO hard to act like this was all normal for her. I wondered if she'd ever even been with a girl before, let alone a three-some. Most likely not. I mean, like why would another girl even WANT to be with her?

Honestly, I wasn't exactly attracted to her; it was only her association with Tony that I was even having this conversation.

"Well..." she dragged on, "Not really."

Oh really? I almost laughed as this was one of those things you either did, or didn't. Sort of like being pregnant - you either were or weren't with no such thing as being "not really" pregnant. OK, I figured if she wanted to play the game, I may as well call her bluff and see how far she was willing to go.

"OK then, let's give Tony a little something to get him started them, what do you say Heidi?" I said softly, in a sexy deep tone.

I moved over next to her and put my arms around her, then leaned into her to kiss her. At first she pulled back, most likely shocked that I had actually done it. Then she must have thought about Tony watching and she came back to me, pulling me into her as I felt her huge boobs pressing into me.

Not to waste any time, as Beth would be back before too long, I put my hand on her breast, trying to grab a handful but it was much too large to actually grab so I just cupped it like a huge water balloon. My god, it was the biggest boob I'd ever touched! She didn't pull back but then again, she didn't exactly respond either so I decided to up the ante and reached down between her legs, cupping her warm crotch in my hand. I couldn't see Tony but I was sure he was watching our every move, maybe even touching himself a little now seeing the two of us together.

"Oh god I can't do this!" Heidi exclaimed suddenly, pulling back from me and pushing my hand away from her pussy.

She looked bewildered as she went from me, to Tony, and back and forth between us like a wild animal that had been caged except that this was a trap she had set for herself, most likely assuming it would never be used. Well, she didn't know me very well then if she thought she could out-bluff me!

"But I though you wanted to make out and then have Tony fuck us both?" I questioned her, trying to act disappointed and confused.

In a way, I actually WAS disappointed but I wasn't confused - not in the least. Heck, I knew all along she was putting up fake front to try and impress Tony but in the end, she didn't consider that I might take her up on her offer! It wasn't that much of a shock to me, a lot of girls aren't into other girls so I didn't hold it against her or anything. I just was a bit miffed that I wasn't going to get fucked by Tony. Or was I?

"So what do YOU say Tony," I challenged him as I turned away from Heidi, "Do you want to fuck me in front of your girlfriend?"

Well duh! It was obvious from the conflicted expression on his face that he damn well did. He looked at me, then at Heidi, back to me, and then back to her again.

"If you ever want to touch THESE again, you know what you'd better say," Heidi warned him with a bit of a snarl together with a glaring look at me thought was hot enough to support global warming.

Heidi cupped her boobs in her hands and bounced them for him to remember what it was about her that he loved so much - and what he would lose if he made the wrong choice, at least wrong so far as she was concerned.

Tony was saved by the bell - literally. The front doorbell rang and I heard Beth outside yelling something. Damn, that was a fast 45 minutes! I ran to the door to see what was going on. As it turned out, she had locked herself out and that was it. By the time we got back to the living room, Heidi and Tony were nowhere to be seen.

"So where's my brother and the boobs at?" Beth asked, looking at me as if I should know. Did she suspect anything?

"Beats me, they disappeared to his bedroom as soon as you left," I replied, trying not to look TOO guilty.

Beth looked at me for a moment, assessing the situation. Either she believed me (probably not) or figured it wasn't worth the pain to argue (probably so). In any case, she explained her mom had called and told her to never mind. She appeared to be more than a little miffed, not to mention insult on top of injury - forgetting the house key.

We ended up back in her bedroom and sure enough, the walls WERE pretty thin. I could hear the two of them next door going at it and I couldn't help but wonder if Heidi was overdoing it just a bit, knowing I would be hearing her.

Well, so far I've yet to get fucked by Tony. Now don't worry, that doesn't mean I've given up or will stop trying! Who knows, maybe someday I'll catch her dad at a weak moment and get him to do me again.

When I got back home that day I sat on the edge of my bed and contemplated about what had all been going on lately, especially the brief time I spent with Heidi and Tony. Who was really the cockteaser? Me for playing along with Heidi while it lasted, or her for the way she got Tony all hot and bothered with the thought of fucking me?

Or is it me, for making you hope I'd be telling you how I fucked Tony!

(Jan 31) Chapter 178: K9 Again

Story codes: MF F-solo best group oral
Me (23)
Beth - BFF (24)
Samantha - girlfriend (23)
Sandy - Sam's golden retriever

If there is one thing I should have learned by now, it's never say "never"! It's been 2-1/2 years since I did something that disgusted me later, swearing I would "never do it again? Oh well, so much for that promise.

1. Memories

It seems like so long ago now. Eight six years ago I was in bed with my little four pound Yorkie when she got interested in what was between my legs so out of curiosity I let her investigate. Like many things I've done, I considered it an experiment, just a one-time experience and never did anything like that again. I'd seen clips of girls having sex with dogs and even horses but for me, the thought of having sex with an animal was somewhat repulsive to me, something only ugly girls in foreign porn movies did. The idea that I would ever even TOUCH a dog's dick, let alone suck one or fuck one, was not even something I ever fantasized about. At least, until my friend Samantha got her way.

Samantha (Sam) was one of those friends I include in my short list of close friends. We had grown up together and while I had seen her masturbating during some of our slumber parties, it was no different than any of my other friends since we all did it. We had never actually touched one another, even though it became fairly public knowledge that Sam was an avowed lesbian and so far as I knew, she had never even had sex with a guy even though she was the same age as me - twenty one. She was beautiful and she still teased and flirted with guys but it was just out of cruel sport so far as she was concerned. She had a great body and enjoyed showing it off, even if she had no interest in them beyond that. Although I am bi, my preference is for guys and I have never made a show out of being experiences that I now regret. Not that Sam didn't try to get me to do it again, but even she eventually stopped pestering me about it when she realized how strongly I felt about it. Just to show you how much it revolted me, I don't even remember masturbating once to the memory of Sandy fucking me.

Given my feelings about animal sex, you would think that the case was closed and I would never do anything like that again. Well, at least I did. Sam may have given up on me, but my best friend Beth never let me forget about it. Usually it was just a teasing comment, maybe a joking gesture when a dog was nearby, something to gently prod me and try to push a button for a response from me. Typically I just ignored her and silently cursed Sam under my breath for telling Beth about what I'd done with her "best friend".

Something else that Beth liked to pester me about was her sex parties. It had been ages since I'd gone to one with her and she was becoming quite a pain in the ass sometimes about it. I knew she went to about one a week or so, meaning she was getting plenty of cock – at least compared to me.

As for me, my sex life had become rather boring lately, restricted to a few friends I knew plus the occasional fuck from my dad when my Aunt Linda wasn't around. It seemed she was ALWAYS at our house lately, although I knew that was an exaggeration. Actually, I should say she always seemed to be there when I was there. Since my mom had been killed last fall, their relationship had tightened considerably, to say the least. Although I never thought for a moment there would it would ever become something romantic, the two of them certainly did seem to enjoy each other. I was doing two or three parties a week, but they generally didn't involve sex and if anything, I found myself even hornier when I got home than I had been before the party!

2. Feeling Horny

It was a bitter cold Friday early evening and I was on my way back from my dad's, heading to my apartment. My left hand was steering while my right hand was planted firmly in my crotch. God, was I horny! I'd gone over to see my dad, figuring he might need me to help calm down his urges which tended to build up during the week, but when I got there I found him in bed with my Aunt Linda. The two of them were going at it so hard that they never even heard me come in and if they saw me peeking around the door, then they never gave any hint of it.

For a brief moment I considered barging in and maybe even joining them, but seeing her riding my dad as she sat on his prone body, his dick impaled in her hairy pussy, I decided to just let them finish. Only problem was, I was so damn horny from anticipating him fucking me, I had a hard time even walking from the way my pussy was cramping with desire. As soon as I had pulled out from the driveway, my hand slipped inside my pants and my fingers started to touch me. Damn I was wet!

My cell phone rang and I would have ignored it had it been anyone else but Beth. Her ring-tone blasted out and I sighed as pulled my hand from my pants, wiping my wet fingers against my jeans before picking up my phone.

"What!" I gasped into the speaker, a little more emphatic than I meant to be.

"Well damn girl, don't tear my had off!" Beth giggled from the other end, "What the hell's going on with you anyway?"

I quickly explained my "situation", thinking in the back of my mind that I wished she would say whatever it was she had to say and hang up so I could get back to touching myself again.

"Well, if you're really so damn horny and all, why not go with me to a party? It starts in less than an hour from now."

"Beth...!" I dragged out her name together with a sigh. She knew better than to push me about her parties.

"Don't give me that, get your hot little ass over here now," she insisted, "See you in a few minutes."

With that she hung up. I was sorely tempted to just ignore her and get back home where I could take care of myself. Who knows, maybe tonight was one of those when I just went out to some bar and got picked up by somebody. At the moment it didn't matter to me WHO it was, just so long as he could get an erection!

My hand was back in my jeans again and I could feel how wet and hot my pussy was. What the hell, why not? At the next corner I turned and headed to Beth's house. I was dressed in jeans and a simple blouse, but I knew that it didn't make any difference what I wore TO one of Beth's arties, as once you were there it would be off before long anyway. I arrived at her house in about fifteen minutes where she met me at the door and invited me in. Actually, I hadn't expected that, figuring we would get in her car immediately or I would follow her to wherever the party would be tonight as they moved from home to home each week.

"It doesn't start for at least another half hour or so and it's only a few minutes away this time so let's go to my room for a bit," Beth said as I nodded to her parents at the kitchen table. Her brother wasn't there, probably out on a Friday night with his girlfriend. Once in her room, she closed the door and then grabbed my right hand, pulling it to her nose. Once sniff and she looked up at me and grinned.

"Somebody was being naughty as she drove!" she teased me.

"Well, it's not like I had a chance to wash my hands," I whined, pulling my stinky fingers from her face as if I was upset with her.

Actually, it was just the sort of game we would play with each other as best friends do. Beth knew from long experience how much I loved to masturbate and she never failed to miss an opportunity to tease me about it. Not that SHE didn't like it herself, she just wasn't as totally infatuated with it as me. To be fair, not many girls I've known have been either. Sometimes when we would share a boyfriend, she would be amused at watching me masturbate after he had fucked us. I had given up trying to explain to her that I didn't just masturbate as a SUBSTITUTE for sex (although it DOES help when the sex life gets a little thin), but rather to COMPLEMENT sex.

"So what's the deal tonight?" I asked her. Many of her parties had "themes" and I was just curious if that was the case tonight.

"Nothing special, at least that I know of," she hedged but there was something in her tone that told me she was not being totally truthful with me.

Hmmmmmm, she knew something. The question was, what was it? I knew better than to try and pry further. If Beth was going to tell me, she would have already.

"OK, let's just say it's the perfect night for a horny girl like you," she teased me unexpectedly.

Uh-oh, something was up, I could smell it on her just as she was able to smell my pussy on my fingers. I looked at her patiently, although patience was about the last thing on my mind at the moment. That almost overwhelming feeling I get when I NEED to cum, when I NEED to have sex more than anything else in the world at that moment, was about to burst inside of me. It didn't help I had come close while I was driving over.

"Ahhhhhh, what's the matter? Kelly needs something?" she teased me again. God, she was being merciless! She knew full well what I wanted to do. Screw it... the door was shut, I was horny, and she was being obnoxious so why not finish myself and get it over with?

"Oh Kelly!" Beth sighed as she saw what I was doing.

My jeans dropped to the floor around my shoes as I sat on her bed and leaned back, spreading my legs apart to make room for my hand to firmly plant itself on my wet pussy.

I just ignored her, closing my eyes and letting my thoughts drift to the scene I'd witnessed not all that long ago. My Aunt Linda was beautiful and when she was being fucked, she looked happier than at any other time. As I pushed my finger into me, I remember seeing my dad's dick as it stroked in and out of his sister-in-law's hairy cunt. God I wished it had been in me. I wished it was in me this very moment! I wanted to feel my dad's dick in me, feel him moving it inside of me, stroking himself in and out of me as he used me to satisfy the needs that would build up inside of him. God I wanted to feel him cumming in me, to feel the warmth deep within me that signaled my father's love being released inside of me.

"Ohhhhhh daddy... fuck me," I moaned softly, not even thinking about where I was at the moment, not caring either.

I had both hand working on me now, the finger of my left hand inside of me as those on my right massaged my swollen clit. My eyes were shut tight as I imagined my dad's dick cumming me, as he gave me the most precious and personal gift a father can give his daughter - one load after another of his incestuous cum in side of his daughter's willing pussy.

It was at such a moment that I could actually FEEL his love for me, when I knew that I was so desirable to my own father than he would so something most father's only dreamed of doing with their daughter. When he came in me I knew he not only loved me, he WANTED me. It was more than just a father's love for his daughter, it was a man's hunger for a young woman. For a few incredible moments in time, I was more than just his daughter, I was the most desirable woman in the world to my own father.

"Ohhhhhhhhh!" I moaned as in my mind, my father kept cumming and cumming in me, as if he would never stop. I could feel my pussy getting even wetter as I started to cum, my orgasm rising in me as my dream lover started fucking me yet again. Oh my god, it felt SO good! My eyes shut even tighter as goose bumps rose over my entire body but yet I wasn't cold; if anything I felt like I was in a furnace, except the furnace was inside of me, trying to burn its way out of me.

Finally I just dropped back on the bed, letting my spread legs hang over as I clutched my crotch with both hands, as if I was trying to pull it inside of me. I couldn't even try to open my eyes but even with them shut, I was seeing flashes of light as I imagined how it would be to lay there with my father's spent dick still inside of me, twitching in me as the mixture of our cum drained from my pussy and down my ass to the bed sheets.

It seemed like forever but eventually I opened my eyes and lifted my head. Sitting across from me at her desk, Beth had her arms folded in front of her as she patiently - or perhaps more impatiently, waited for me to finish. I looked at her and gave her a rather sheepish grin as I put my cum-laden fingers to my mouth, licking myself off of them.

"Sorry....." I started to say softly. OK, to be honest I wasn't really feeling very sorry.

"Whatever," Beth huffed, "I know better than to try and stop you when you get that way. You just better be that horny at the party.... which starts in ten minutes by the way and I don't want to miss the opening!"

I gathered myself together and sat up, pulling my jeans up, zipping them and then buttoning them shut. Beth HAD indeed been quite patient with me but I could see she as getting antsy now. I knew what she was referring to as far as the party went. Each of them opened with some sort of initiation ceremony for the new person - girl or girl. As a rule, they only allowed one new person at any one party so it was always that one poor person getting the full treatment.

I recalled my first party. Beth had conveniently "forgotten" to mention the part about any initiation so I was taken by surprise when at the start of the party, I was introduced and found out that I was expected to let the host fuck me in front of everyone before anything else could get started. I can't say I minded it, I just would have liked to have known about it beforehand. After a few parties, I realized that not telling the poor person (men and women) was sort of a tradition and several of them were not nearly as ready to go along with it as I had been.

Actually, I DID feel a little better as the afterglow of my orgasm would bring a tingle to my fingers and toes - not to mention between my legs, now and then. Beth was being unusually discreet for once and didn't even mention anything about her best friend's impulsive urges as we gathered out coats to guard against the arctic weather. We were both bundled up as we passed her parents once again on the way to her car in the garage. A quick wave and goodbye and we were on our way. Beth wasn't exaggerating when she said it was -like two blocks away! I'd never paid much attention to this street and even though it was so close, I can't say I ever remembered paying any attention to it. It was the typical brick home with a slate roof

- rather run of the mill so far as this neighborhood went. As cold as it was, we hurried up the steps and just let ourselves in rather than waiting on the doorstep.

3. The Party Starts

We had made it just in time from the looks of things. People were gathering in what appeared to be a large living room. There were a couple of couches and several chair had been brought in to add to the couple of older armchairs that were most likely already in the room to start. I counted quickly - 6 guys and four girls so with Beth and me, that evened out the count. I knew they usually tried to maintain an even ratio of men to women which made me a little suspicious of Beth's so-called "spontaneous" invitation. Something told me she had my attendance planned all along!

As was the custom, everyone was still dressed, a couple were even still wearing light sweaters and jackets to warm up after the cold weather outside. Someone had turned up the thermostat, though, most likely in anticipation of later events when such warm clothing would not be so welcome. Beth and I sat on a couple of pillows off to one side, the only places that looked to be left. Oh well, come last and that's what you get I guess.

I looked around, trying to spot the new girl. It seemed there was always one, almost like it was an unspoken rule. The initiation ceremony WAS a great way to kick off the evening so I could see why they did it that way. Sure enough, on the couch next to a rather large guy, was a little petite girl with those dear-in the-headlights eyes that immediately betrayed her status. I rarely attended these and my last one had been ages ago so it wasn't like I knew the regulars, although several of them rang a bell in my memory of past parties. Evidently some of them remembered ME though, as I was greeted by several and I noticed even a couple of the girls were eyeing me with a knowing smile.

"OK everyone, time to get started," the apparent host announced.

He looked to be maybe thirty or so, long hair, at least for most of today's styles, and a bit of unshaven growth on the chin. I looked to the girl on the couch and wondered if she had any idea that this guy would be fucking her in just a few minutes. Obviously she knew SOMEONE would be fucking her this evening, after all, what was the point in coming to this if you weren't into having sex with a number of other people? The key was, had she ever been the center of attention, essentially fucking for the viewing pleasure of her audience? Oh well, we'd soon be finding out!

"Ashley, introduce our newest arrival for us, would you?" the host asked after making the usual statements about the rules for the evening, location of the restrooms, etc.

One of the keys to these parties, and one of the things I liked best about them, was they stayed confined to a few rooms and everything happened in front of everyone else. In other words, no private retreats off to a bedroom or bathroom, which was just fine with me. You didn't HAVE to fuck anyone, respect for each other was tantamount. However, anyone just playing the part of a voyeur was typically not asked to return.

A girl stood up, evidently "Ashley", and introduced Emily – the girl I had correctly identified as the newbie. Emily stood up and smiled as everyone clapped for her and a few of the guys made some appreciative remarks. In another setting they might have been considered crude and maybe even rude, but since they would likely be fucking her before the night was over, I guess you could say the language was "appropriate".

It was then that the host announced the "initiation rules". Poor Emily, I had a feeling she was just a little apprehensive of the evening's events as it were but when it started to dawn on her what we being said, her face went beet red and she seemed profoundly embarrassed. Some girls loved being the center the attention and actually jumped at the chance to be fucked in front of the group, taking it as a compliment. Emily was one of the more rare ones, a girl who was here evidently more on a dare than anything else, and was seeming to have second doubts now. I'd yet to see or even hear of anyone flee before her initiation, but there was always a first time.

"Oh, and Emily... I forgot to mention who the host for the evening was," the supposed host said as Emily stood there with her feet seeming to take root in the hardwood floors.

With that he whistled and to my utter surprise, and shock, in ran the most beautiful Golden retriever. For a moment I expected my friend Samantha to follow it in as she had one that looked exactly like this one but it seemed that there was nobody else about to join us.

The group was buzzing now, people murmuring to one another, and then everyone looking at Emily to see her reaction. For a moment, I think everyone was expecting the host to announce it was all a practical joke but the announcement was never made. I turned to Beth and whispered in her ear, "He's just kidding, isn't he?"

Beth turned to me, her eyes aglow and bright as she grinned at me with the nastiest smile imaginable. She didn't have to say a word before I knew what she was about to say. Oh my god, they HAD to be kidding!

Poor Emily.. she looked totally confused. Somehow I think she'd accepted the idea of being publicly fucked, after all, she WAS at a sex party, not Tupperware. So even if it wasn't exactly how she had assumed it would go, she could've dealt with the original concept. But what was the story with the dog? The guy wasn't serious, or was he?

"Well Emily, I don't know if Ashley mentioned anything about doing it doggie style, but this is going to be what I like to call, Ultimate Doggie Style!"

Ashley's face had transformed quickly from beet red to an ashen white. For a moment, I thought she might even pass out before she started to regain her composure, at least enough to blurt out, "No way!"

So it wasn't a speech but still, those two simple words said it all. Emily wasn't merely protesting, she was making a declaration worthy of a convention. So much for THAT idea, if it was really serious in the first place. Naturally I assumed that the host would recognize the strength of her response and back down, most likely declaring it all some sort of practical joke, regardless of whether it had been or not. Instead, I was shocked yet again...

"C'mon Sandy, roll over," the host commanded and the dog laid down obediently, rolling over on his back with its dick now plainly showing.

Whoa! Had someone been getting him ready beforehand, or was he just reacting to the musky scent of horny men and women that was already permeating the room? This was crazy. I looked over at Beth, my eyes wide open as I mouthed to her, "Sam?"

"Nawwwwww, she's not here but I DID borrow her friend for the night... I think you remember Sandy... don't you?"

It was just like Beth to pull off something this insane. Damn, she must have asked our friend Samantha to "loan out" her favorite fuck - her dog that she slept with every night. Suddenly I realized this was no practical joke, Sandy was well "trained" for this and so evidently they had every intention of making poor Emily go through with it. Well, Emily wasn't ready for THAT, not in the slightest. Can't say I blame her. Had I been in her position I would have been out the door already!

The host was scratching Sandy's stomach, which must have been communicating something because Sandy's cock started to grow. It was quickly noticed and before long, the group was past the "shock" stage and had moved into the dark world of perversion, at least that is how I saw it. "Suck it, suck it!" they chanted over and over as poor Emily just stood there, looking at her so-called friend with a look of confusion, mixed perhaps with more than just a bit of anger.

"C'mon, you can at least touch it," the host cajoled her.

Big words as I couldn't help but notice that HE wasn't putting HIS hands anywhere near the dog's extended dick! Everyone in the crowd, Beth included, was now chanting and cheering for Emily to hold the dog's dick - everyone but me that is. As I looked at Sandy's cock, memories of the last time I'd touched that very same dick came flooding back to me. My heart went out to Emily as I remembered how hard it was for me to touch it the first time. Would she do it? It wasn't looking promising...

For the vast majority of us, peer pressure can be horribly intimidating and Emily was no more immune to it than most people. Her lips tightened but she got down on her knees next to the host and slowly reached out for Sandy's lengthening dick. She gingerly touched it, just rubbing her fingertips on it as the host continued to scratch Sandy's belly and rub his head and ears to keep him still. Finally she took a deep breath and wrapped her fingers around it. At the same time, her face had the same expression I would think she would have if she was holding a snake or worm. Sure, Sandy was enjoying it but I couldn't say the same for Emily!

"Suck his dick!" someone called out, followed by several other calls to action once again.

Emily was starting to look physically sick and for a worrisome moment I thought she might lose it. She started to lean forward as if she was going to actually start sucking it but then she pulled back, shaking her head and mumbling to herself, something about how she couldn't go through with it.

The host, evidently realizing that Emily might actually refuse to go through with her role in this little perverted drama, thought quickly and came out with a new suggestion.

"OK, Emily, here's my final offer..... If you can get someone to take your place and let our boy Sandy here fuck her instead, then all you have to do is let me fuck you while you watch...OK?"

Whoopee! - NOT! Not exactly what I would call an overly generous offer. But then again, with this crowd there had to be at least one or two girls who were into this sport of thing. My god, it seemed sometimes that they had someone for just about every other perversion imaginable so why not someone into animal sex?

"C'mon girls, there has to be ONE of you willing to help poor Emily!" the host pleaded, apparently realizing he had also miscalculated the depths of perversion for tonight's audience.

It appeared that there were no girls ready to ride Sandy for the sake of helping out Emily. The situations started getting tense. Who would give in first? Was there yet another compromise that could be made?

"Hey everyone, Kelly here's fucked Sandy before, I bet she'll do it!" Beth announced to the crowd. My head turned so fast to her I risked some serious whiplash.

"What! The hell I will!" I said to her firmly in as low but terse of a voice as I could, trying not to make too big a scene yet wanting to get my point across.

I looked at Emily who suddenly seemed to have a new lease on life as the look on her face clearly told how relieved she was feeling. Well, sorry girl but it wasn't going to work out that way. Nope, I wasn't about to be fucked by any dog again, let alone the same one twice!

"C'mon, Kelly, I was counting on you to help out if we needed it," Beth begged me.

Well duh, she did, did she? So THAT was why she was so anxious for me to come tonight. No wonder she'd let me get myself so worked up in her bedroom without saying a word. I couldn't believe my so-called BEST friend had set me up like this!

The group had changed its chant now to "Kelly.. Kelly..." Those that knew me from before knew I wasn't one to turn down a dare but then again, it had never involved another species before. Also, it had never involved a situation that I had sworn I would never get involved with again.

On the other hand, I HAD done it once so what would a second time really matter? It's like arguing against sex after losing your virginity - did it really matter how many times you did it after the first time? Besides, it wasn't like I was going out and hunting down a dog for my own pleasure and I certainly wasn't taking him to bed with me.

want to know what he smelled like, just sniff your fingers next time you scratch your dog - nothing all that unique about it.

As for taste, well... it tasted like a dick! Men vary all over the map as it is when it comes to the smell and taste of their dicks so really, Sandy wasn't that much different. He didn't have the head like men have which I sort of missed. I like being able to run my tongue around the ridge and then licking up to the slit and then taking the whole head in my mouth with my lips sealed around it. Nothing doing like that with Sandy. He was so well behaved. I only wished more men would sit so still for me when I suck their cocks.

A murmur began to rise and then I could make out people talking to one another. Some seemed surprised that I actually did it while others were evidently turned on. Well, they may have been turned on WATCHING but I wasn't getting any offers to help out. Meanwhile, the host and new girl started back into their fucking and I could hear her moaning with pleasure. As hot as I imagined they looked, no doubt the center of attention at the moment wasn't them but rather on the naked girl in the center of the room with a dog's dick in her mouth.

"Ugh... that is SO gross!" I heard one of the girls saying to someone.

I couldn't tell who it was but for a moment, it reminded me of what it was I was doing and for just a split second, I thought I was going to vomit or otherwise choke on Sandy's doggie dick. Whoever she was, she was right - it WAS gross when you think about it. But then at the same time, I imagined some of them had been fucked by guys and maybe even sucked the dicks of guys who were even grosser. Just because the guys were human didn't make it any less gross than me sucking on Sandy's dick, did it?

Ignoring her, I dropped Sandy's dick from my lips and sat back on my bottom. Using my right hand, I wiped the wetness of my spit off my mouth and caught my breath. Sandy must have taken this to mean it was his turn as he twisted and was up on his feet instantly, his hard dick sticking out almost obscenely from his belly. For just a moment, I was ready to call it quits. So what if people got mad at me, or even made me leave? Heck, it wasn't even MY initiation so I didn't feel any special obligation to do anything. Then I saw Beth sitting down across from me. She was staring at me and I couldn't tell for sure if it was fascination or disgust written all over her face. Well, THAT was answered soon enough as when she saw she had caught my eye, she mouthed at me, "Do it!" Well, it wasn't all that difficult to figure out exactly what "it" was. In a way, I was surprised as I never had thought Beth would being fucked, it was no wonder he was drawn to me. I felt him trying to mount me, his stiff rod poking me in the ass as he stabbed at me with it.

Without Sam's help, I quickly realized that this wasn't going to be as easy as people might have thought. Sandy was pumping wildly, almost frantically as he tried to home in on my warm pussy. I reached underneath me and managed to finally grab his dick and positioned it at the entrance to my pussy, just as he thrust himself hard into me again. It was like a hot curling iron was suddenly pushed inside of me, almost a feeling of burning as Sandy's dick was shoved into me unceremoniously. A cheer went up as everyone realized that I had actually done it. Maybe some of them hadn't believed I would go through with it but they were believers now!

"Oh my god, is he really fucking you?" Emily gasped softly, probably as amazed as anyone at what I was allowing to be done to me.

I just grinned at her as I focused on trying to keep my balance with the weight of Sandy pushing down on me. Thankfully, his paws were to my side, almost as if he was trying to hug me with his legs rather than pressing them down on my back, thus keeping his claws pretty much away from me.

Now that he was in me, things sorta went on autopilot. It's not like Sandy was into different positions or talking dirty. This was a case where I was being fucked in the most basic, simplistic terms. This is what people mean when they say they have "animal sex", even with a partner. My pussy has being filled by a hard dick and I could feel it thrusting wildly in and out of me - simple as that. I reached back to loosely wrap my fingers around it - loose enough not to interfere with his strokes but just enough to keep his knot from pushing into me. This wasn't the time or place to deal with THAT!

My heart was pounding as my emotions bounced back and forth like a volleyball over the net. On the one hand, it felt good - damn good in fact. Sandy's dick was noticeably hotter than a man's and it was like a red hot poker was pushing up inside of me. Not so hot it burned of course, but more like the feeling of a heating pad set on HI against your skin. Sandy was fucking me like an animal (sorry, couldn't resist that one), pushing himself in and out of me as fast and hard as he could.

Yet as good as it was making me feel between my legs, in my heart I felt repulsed. Without getting REALLY disgusting, there isn't anything much more degrading than to let yourself be fucked by an animal. To make it all the more humiliating, I was being watched by a crowd of people, thinking god only knows what about me and what type of girl I must be to allow this to be done to me. It was this inner struggle that was keeping me reaching any sort of orgasm - I never was even close although again, it DID feel damn good.

Sandy wasn't having any such qualms. It didn't matter to him what species he was fucking, he was happy just to be fucking something with a cunt. I knew it wouldn't take long for him to cum and I wasn't disappointed. To be honest, the sooner he came, the sooner this would all be over. Then I felt it, the searing heat in me of his sperm as he began to ejaculate. His thrusts never slowed as he came and came in me. For a brief moment, all thoughts about animal sex and degradation left me as the sensation inside my pussy overwhelmed me.

"Oh fuck... he's cumming in me!" I groaned, lifting my head back with my eyes tightly shut.

Sure, like nobody else could tell! I could hear the murmuring change to open discussions and even a little cheering, if you could call it that. I opened my eyes to see Emily staring at me as both she and the host froze for a moment to watch as Sandy emptied himself into me. Her eyes were like saucers and her mouth hung open, reminding me of when my mom would catch me with mine open and ask if I was trying to catch flies.

Sandy pulled away as soon as he was done - thank god I'd kept his knot out of me. Without someone to help me and keep him in me until it went down, it could have been a pretty painful way to end things. He ran off to the kitchen, his still extended dick hanging obscenely below him, all red and wet with it covering of his cum mixed with my pussy. I collapsed to the floor, laying on my stomach with my hand covering my crotch, feeling his gooey cum draining from me.

I guess Sandy's performance must have inspired the host as it only took a few more strokes and he was cumming in Emily. I think THAT surprised her as well as he hadn't bothered to put on a condom. I had to believe she was on the pill if she as coming to a party like this one, where condoms were seldom worn as everyone pretty much knew everybody else.

"Wow, what do you guys say?" the host encouraged everyone, "Let's give a hand to Emily and Kelly."

Everyone clapped politely but then someone called out, "Make 'em clean each other up!" A few others joined in and soon a chant started, "sixty-nine... sixty nine..." I looked at Emily who seemed more than a little unsure about the idea. For me it was no big deal - I would get to eat her pussy but she had to do mine - with Sandy's cum dripping from it. For a moment I thought she was going to refuse so rather than let her have any more time to think about it, I got up on all fours and leaned forward to kiss her. It was more like a peck but she looked at me and smiled, then rolled her eyes as if to say, "The hell with it, " and shrugged her shoulders.

There's always a debate over whether it's better to be on top or on the bottom in a 69 with another girl. For me, it really depends more on whether it's just the two of us or if someone else is there. I love to be on the bottom when a guy is fucking the other girl, watching his dick sliding into her right above my face and waiting for their cum to drip down on me. If it's just me and her, the actually I like to be on my side, where we each raise our upper leg and I can actually use her lower inner thigh like a sort of pillow to rest my head on while I eat her pussy. That was how I was trying to get Emily positioned. Apparently, she'd never done it that way before so it took a little maneuvering but eventually we were in place and getting into it.

Emily's pussy tasted GREAT. He had pulled out partially as he came, leaving most of it near the opening and the last few shots even came out on the outside of her cunt, making it easy to lick up his cum from her wet pussy. The odor of her crotch was incredible - a thick mixture of musk and sweat and cum. Her soft thigh felt nice against the side of my face, silky smooth and warm. I could feel her squirm when I took her clit in my mouth and tugged on it gently.

Emily was starting a little slower at her end. I could feel Sandy's cum draining down to my ass so it wasn't like she didn't have enough to clean up. I could only imagine what must have been going through her mind at that moment. Like everyone else, I had assumed she had licked a girl before but who knows, maybe not? That could account for her hesitation under normal circumstances. However, in this situation the trump card was most likely knowing the source of the cum she was supposed to licking from my crotch. The thought of having Sandy fuck her had been repulsive enough so I could imagine how the idea of EATING his cum must have been making her feel.

I had a pretty good head start on cleaning up Emily and it was starting to look like she was going to chicken out but then, like a trooper, she went for it. Heck, the girl had just been fucked pretty good by the host, and I knew from my own past experience he had a pretty decent cock AND knew how to use it. She HAD to be a bit hornier than before, hopefully enough to cloud her judgment enough to go for this new experience. Then I felt her tongue on me. Mmmmmmm, she didn't hesitate once she started, running her tongue all over my pussy and thighs as she licked every Stupid question... right? Without a word, a guy was lifting my legs and pulling me up to his crotch as he kneeled between my legs. I felt his stiff dick slipping into me and I knew it was going to be a fun night, even if I HAD started out in a way I had NEVER expected when I left home earlier.

My only concern was how I would explain this to my dad later.... hopefully he would react the same as he had the first time I came back home and told him I'd been fucked by a dog. If so, it would be a nice finish to what was promising to be a great evening!

(Feb 14) Chapter 179: Memories of My Mom

Story codes: ff FF Mf MF oral inc father mother daughter
John - my dad (44)
Mary - my mom (42)
Aunt Linda (40)

Until now, I had no any intention of writing about my mother's passing. The last thing I wanted was to turn her death into some sort of erotic tale and so I've pretty much kept quiet about it until now. Then Valentine's Day arrived and I realized just how much I miss her. This entry is meant as a tribute to most wonderful important woman in the world - my mom.

1. Why I'm Writing This

People have asked me wonder why I haven't said much about my mother's accident. OK, here it is in a nutshell. She was leaving her shift late at night, pulled onto a four-lane road and was "T-boned" by some drunk asshole driving on the wrong side of the road without his headlights. We were told she died instantaneously and most likely never knew what happened. For the record, that is ALL I'm saying about it.

You might be asking yourself why I've been so reluctant to talk about this. First, anyone how knows me knows how close I was to my mother. It just isn't something to chat about on-line with strangers. Second, it has taken me months to get to a place where I can try writing something like this and I don't want to reopen wounds that have only started to heal. I would hope that any reasonable person would understand my feelings about this and respect them..

In addition to the obvious reasons, there is another one and that has to do with my pride and self-image. If there is one thing that drives me nuts, it's how many erotic stories start out with "my mom died" or "my parents divorced when I was little" or something similar. For some reason, the loss of a parent either through death or divorce always seems to lead to incest. It's like we're supposed to believe that not having one or more parents drives girls to want to have sex with their fathers, uncles, etc., supposedly to "heal the wounds" or something stupid like that. Take it from someone who has just gone through it. If anything, I have LESS sex with my dad now that my mom is gone. The LAST thing I want to do is try and become some sort of perverted "surrogate" to take the place of my mom. That would dishonor BOTH of my parents and be truly despicable so far as I'm concerned.

Keep in mind that my diary entries mostly involve experiences that had a substantial impact on my life, situations that were instrumental in making me who I am today. Granted, not ALL were 100% GOOD times, but in general I prefer to write about happy memories and thus my diary is slanted in that direction. You can imagine how VERY difficult this one was to write. One thing I want emphasize yet again and that is that this is ALL I'm going to say about the matter. PLEASE, do not ask me anything more about it, OK? Anyone who does will be promptly ignored – no second chances with this one.

Finally, if you have to anything to say to me about my mom, please be respectful. I'm posting this out of my love for her, not to get guys off or to make excuses for any of my past behaviors. Do not even THINK about asking me for a pic of her or to do a tribute to her or anything else like that, OK?.

This Valentine's Day was the first time my mom wasn't with my dad and me. My dad took my Aunt Linda and me out for dinner to an expensive steak house downtown. Unfortunately, my cousin Kristen was working. Apparently Valentine's Day creates a heavy demand for girls like her! My dad gave us both flowers (red roses for me as usual) which reminded me how he use to do the same with me and my mother.

It hit me hard all of sudden. It's been months since her accident and I was just starting to get to the point where I wasn't constantly thinking about her when all of my emotions and desires suddenly overflowed once again. When I got home I started writing this, trying to somehow put in word the emotions I was feeling. In reading it over, I failed miserably but I hope some of it comes through.

First, a bit of a biographical information about her. I've tried to put together as much as I can remember from what she told me so forgive me if I don't get everything exactly right or complete. Some of this is in other areas of my diary and I have tried not to repeat too much of it. The idea here is to help you understand her better, not to write a stroke story about her.

As it turned out, the "date" also led to a revised reputation for her as he promptly told every guy in school that she put out for him. Although it was even easier to get a date after that, she also learned the price of having a "reputation". When a boy asked her out, it was expected that she would suck them and let them fuck her. Not exactly romance in the air. It wasn't until a few months into the following year though that my future father made a move towards my mom. He had a good thing going with Tammy who was putting out for him and his friends whenever they wanted it so knowing she and my mom were best friends, he apparently didn't want to do anything to threaten his reliable source of easy pussy.

Being a typical horny guy, eventually he wanted something fresh and new so he asked my mom out. She knew he was dating Tammy so at first she didn't accept but he pushed and begged until finally she reluctantly agreed. Besides, he WAS handsome and built pretty good!

My mom was well aware of what he and Tammy had been doing. Heck, he might have been surprised to know how many times the two of them had masturbated together in one of the other's bedroom as they talked about him. In any case, it didn't come as any surprise when their first date was at an old drive-in movie where, like most guys, he started groping her within minutes of parking. They fucked and both of them enjoyed it enough to want to do it again.... and again. This led to a bit of a rough period between my mom and Tammy but she knew my dad's eyes loved to wander and besides, she had some fresh boy toys she was interested in as well so fortunately it all worked out.

My mom dated my dad on and off throughout high school. They both loved sex and so although they each did other people, it was nice to know that they could always count on the other in a pinch should the "need" arise. OK, so it wasn't exactly a classic love affair but it obviously worked out for them.

Dad had a younger brother who was about the same age as my mom with the same reputation as his older brother. Later in the summer her relationship with my dad progressed naturally to where she was doing both brothers, sometimes at the same time! Still, my dad was always her favorite.

5. Mom's Sister Linda

Like most younger sisters, Linda was extremely competitive when it came to her older sister. She was determined to be even more of a slut than my mom and just something my dad and Linda enjoyed. Besides, she had my father's heart while all Linda got was his dick.

Over the years, Linda has been drawn more to women it seems, although I know she still loves being with my dad. She has been close friends with Sondra for year. Sondra is about ten years younger but they make a wonderful couple. I have no idea where THAT relationship will end up!

6. Mom and Dad Get Married

It wasn't until my dad formally proposed that my mom finally revealed to him that it was her father who had been her first. He also learned that she and Linda had been fucked by their father regularly ever since, including the entire time that the two of them had been dating him. Needless to say my dad was a tad bit surprised! It was also his first introduction to the world of "real" incest - not the porn crap.

Well, as open-minded as my dad considered himself to be, he was naturally a bit shocked at the news since incest was not something he was raised to even think about other than maybe during a few porn movie fantasies. He once told me that what helped him to accept her "terms" was when she informed him that even though they were married, he could continue fucking her little sister since she was part of her family.

My mom accepted his marriage proposal but only on the condition that he allow her to maintain her intimate relationship with her father and sister. They got married shortly after my mom graduated from high school and things obviously worked out because after over twenty years of marriage they were still totally in love with one another, maybe even more than on their wedding day!

7. Mom's "Family" Relationships

Once my parents got married, they immediately stopped having sex with people outside their families. To them it was a pretty straightforward decision because to do otherwise would go directly against God's commandment against adultery. I know that people debate a lot of the Old Testament rules as being cultural, out-of-date, etc. but the Ten Commandments were non-negotiable so far as my parents were concerned. Given the commandment doesn't say that adultery is alright IF your husband or wife gives permission, they didn't swing either.

So far as sex within their families was concerned, my dad kept fucking Linda regularly but his brother and my mom grew more distant, at least sexually. I'm not really sure why, my mom never really liked to talk about it. Personally, I think it was because the girl he was dating, and eventually married, was extremely religious and ultra-straight when it came to sex. Had she ever found out that he was fucking his brother's wife, I'm sure she would have never seen him again. It also didn't help that he didn't take care of himself like my dad did, gaining a significant beer belly and becoming quite an asshole as the years went by.

Because my mom had to move to Pittsburgh to be with my dad, she only got to have sex with her dad occasionally. As I gathered from the way she described it, usually it was her going to see them after he would call and ask for her "services" than them doing anything in our house, especially once I was around. After her dad died unexpectedly from a heart attack, the only guy my mom fucked was my dad. It wasn't until years later that she rekindled her relationship with my Uncle Jim, thanks mostly to his son, my super horny cousin Rick.

As for Rick, long story made short... my mom started fucking my cousin Rick when he was seventeen. It wasn't like she treated him as her son or anything like that; it was all about the sex - for both of them. For his part, Rick got to fulfill every teenage boy's dream - fucking his hot aunt. In my mom's favor, the guy had one hell of a cock (I can personally attest to that) and at that age he could cum two or three times in a row without breaking a sweat.

As hot as it must have been for her to fuck a teenager, I think she got more of a bit of a kick from playing the role of "Mrs. Robinson". Although she would never admit to it, personally I think it also had something to do with knowing his bitchy mother would just die if she knew her son was fucking my mom! Mom told me many be unaware of my dad's lust for me. The way things were going, she wondered if I would ever even think about sex with my dad, let alone ask.

One night when I came home from a party, I "accidentally" saw my parents making love in the hot tub on the deck below my bedroom window. Something about it made me realize I was missing something in my life and that I wanted to feel my dad's love in a more intimate manner. What I did NOT know, at not for years afterwards, was they knew I was home and so they put on a little extra show for me in hopes I would like what I saw and maybe even want to join them. My mom told me that she was actually praying that the kitchen door would open and I would have joined them that very same night.

Thankfully, it all turned out well in the end. Even though nothing overtly happened that night, a seed had been planted. They were both excited when they saw how I was trying to "seduce" my dad after that night. Ever the conservative one, mom made my dad pretend to ignore me at first but eventually she let him "give in" to me and we had incestual sex for the first time (well, it was MY first time). It was such a wonderful experience and although I still regret that he wasn't my first, at least I have my mom to thank for helping it to be one of the most, if not THE most memorable experiences of my life. A little later my mom joined in and well.... the rest is history as they say.

12. Why I Miss My Mom

OK, to get it over with, I miss having sex with my mom. There was something about being with her intimately that I don't think I will ever be able to experience again. It was a woman "thing", a mother "thing", perhaps even a bit of a lover "thing". All-in-all, it was like a rare recipe that has been lost and can never be repeated.

Now that THAT is out of the way, I miss my mom in so many ways besides sex. I miss just talking to her, confiding in her, confessing to her. I miss her smile, her laughter, that naughty little grin she would get when she was turned on by something I had done. I miss the way she would tease my dad, demonstrating the incredible love they shared that gave me such a wonderful life. I miss the way she would give of herself to anyone who needed her help, never selfish and always with humility and love. I miss her spiritual guidance, her love for God and Jesus that she helped to imbed within me. Oh, and I miss her cooking!

Since her sudden and unexpected death, I have laid in my father's bed, his cock throbbing inside me, my pussy filled with the warm incestuous sperm he'd just deposited in me, his strong arms around me holding me tightly against him. It's the most wonderful way a father and daughter can be together - period. It's at times like this when I most vividly recall how I would lay together with my mother, our smooth naked bodies pressed tightly together, our pussies rubbing against each other's with perhaps a dildo joining them.

Thankfully when the tears begin to flow, I have my father's dick inside of me to remind me of his love for me and his support. While I know I can never replace my mother - and would NEVER even DREAM of even trying, I'm happy that I can support him in his time of need as only his daughter can.

I love you Mom!

Your loving daughter,
Kelly

(Feb 21) Chapter 180: An Evening With My Dad

Story codes: MF F-solo oral inc father daughter
John - my dad (44)

There comes a time when a father has needs that only his daughter can take care of. If that daughter wants to be a good daughter, she'll always be there for him when he has those needs!

1. The True Meaning of Father-Daughter Incest

If there is one thing I've tried to emphasize over and over again throughout the years, it's that my relationship with my father, while more intimate perhaps than that shared by most fathers and daughters, has NEVER crossed the line to where I am his lover or anything more than being his daughter (as if THAT wasn't enough!). It was one of the reasons why my mother never felt any jealousy or remorse over my incestuous sexual relationship with my dad. She knew without a doubt that the only woman in the world he made love to was her. Any other woman my dad might have had sex with, be it me, her sister, or my cousins, was strictly "fucking", an outlet for his sexual needs and lust. Of course he still loved us so it wasn't "just sex", but hopefully you get the idea of what I'm trying to say.

Of course, when it comes to sex with me, while he may be "fucking" me rather than "making love", I'm still his only daughter so there's always been something special about our times together. It's more than just about the physical side of it when I say I never feel closer to my father than when I'm in his arms and he is buried inside of me, the warmth of his climax still radiating inside of me. Through sex my father can express his love and respect for me. I say "love" in that how more loving can a father be than to join himself with his own daughter in the most intimate way possible? "Respect" in that he has NEVER abused me or used me, never asked me to do anything that is shameful, humiliating or something I wouldn't want to do.

and to allow us to meet each other's needs. I cannot emphasize enough that it has NEVER been the basis for our love. He is my dad and I love him, period, sex or no sex. Of course I LOVE the sex part.

2. Dad's Reaction to My Mom's Death

After my mother passed away, it was like something was taken from my father that left a hole in him that can never be filled. However, if there was one thing I am certain of more than anything in my life, it is that I will never try to fill that hole. It would be an insult to my mother and eventually I believe it would destroy the relationship I have with my father. All this crap people write about in so-called "erotic" stories about how a girl takes the place of her dead mother to satisfy the needs of her grieving father is just that - crap. I had grown weary of that tired story line but now it angers me when I read something that starts out with, "my mom died...". It's just so much crap, pure garbage. If there is a real case where such a thing HAS happened, I think it would be sinful and just plain morally wrong.

At the time of her passing I was living at home. Once the initial grief and shock was over, and life had to start moving on once again, I chose to move back to my old apartment. It just seemed to be the appropriate thing to do. It's hard to explain, but I wanted to be sure that in some future moment of grief and weakness, that nothing ever happened that would harm the beautiful relationship I shared with my dad. Now, more than ever, I needed my FATHER.

As for dad, over the next few months he had his work to keep him busy. He also had someone else to help him - my mom's sister Linda. Actually their relationship went back to their high school days (well, 8th grade for her). My dad started dating my mom first as she was a couple of years older than Linda, but Linda eventually got herself involved with him as well. It was just teenage hormones at that time but they grew close over the years as they matured.

Of course, my dad DID marry my mom so you know which sister he truly loved and which one was just for fun, but even after the marriage, they still got together now and then for some casual sex between consenting adults. My mother never interfered because first, she knew who my dad REALLY loved and second, since her sister was part of her immediate marriage family, my dad had the moral right to have sex with her so long as it was consensual, no different than he eventually would with me and my cousin Kristen, Linda's daughter.

3. Aunt Linda's Suggestion

Then, just a few days ago, I got a surprising phone call.

"Hello Kelly, this is Linda."

I couldn't even remember the last time my aunt had called me. Although I still referred to her as my "Aunt Linda", she had been trying for years to get me to just call her Linda. Not sure what to say at first, I quickly regained my composure and replied with a simple "hello". She got straight to the point.

"You know, of course, I've been spending a lot of time lately with your dad..."

Yeah, like damn near every night lately it seems. It wasn't that I was jealous or anything, really I wasn't. At the same time, I was starting to wonder if she was still seeing all this as a simple sexual liaison or maybe she was hunting for something more. This was hard for me to come to grips with as I would've sworn no such thing could EVER happen between her and my dad, but then again, they DID have a long history and no doubt had my mom not gotten to him first, he may well have married Linda.

"...and I know Valentine's Day was a little, well, awkward...," she continued as my mind raced well ahead of her.

My dad had taken the two of us out for Valentine's Day. We went to a great steak house where he presented us with flowers. It was almost identical to last year's Valentine's dinner with one major difference - back then my mom had sat next to me but this year it was my Aunt Linda. Not only that, but last year my dad had fucked me when we got home while my mom waited patiently for her turn, or should I say, for the rest of the night with my dad. This year it was different. I was the one who went straight home from the restaurant while Linda went home with my dad. Saying it was a little "awkward" was like saying the Titanic had a leak!

"...but I felt you needed to know something about your dad," I barely heard her saying.

"Oh? And just what would THAT be?" I asked, trying to keep the sarcasm from my tone.

"Just listen to me Kelly for once. He needs you Kelly... he REALLY needs you."

"What do you mean? He didn't seem to need me all that much last week. Besides, he has me Sunday morning like he always did."

There was a pause on the phone, as if she was gathering her thoughts as to how she should best respond. I kept on, saying, "Why does he need ME so much? It seems you've been doing pretty good taking care of any 'needs' he may have been having lately."

"Oh Kelly, don't say that! Don't even think that way," she protested, "You know how it is with me and your dad. We're just friends, nothing more, but YOU are his daughter and he loves you more than ever."

She paused again, waiting for my response, but this time I kept quiet, waiting to see where this was leading.

"Think for a moment.... When was the last time you submitted to him?" she asked quietly.

"Uh, like I just said, Sunday morning before church."

"No, I don't mean just a quick fuck to get him off. I mean... when was the last time you REALLY submitted to him? You know what I mean dear."

My silence spoke volumes. Indeed, it HAD been a long time since I had done anything "special" for my dad. I couldn't pin down the exact date, but it was before my mom was gone. Since then he'd fucked me numerous times, but it was always just a quick fuck, a few minutes before church, a quick BJ after a dinner out, little things like that.

"You know dear, moving out may not have been the best idea..." she sort of threw out but I wasn't biting.

"We've been over that enough, haven't we? If anything, I'm more sure today than ever I did the right thing."

"OK, it was just an observation, you don't bite my head off," she responded, trying to add a little laugh to take the edge off. She quickly moved to change the subject.

"Look, I know you and your dad have always had something special between you, even if at times I didn't always fully understand it. All I know is for whatever reason you've distanced yourself from him recently and it hurts him, even if he won't say so himself."

I almost hung up on her. "For whatever reason"? Oh my god, how could she even SAY that? But at the same time what she said sort of hit home. Indeed, I had thought about the very same thing many times recently.

"So what do you think I should do?" I asked. Heck, I knew the answer but for whatever reason, I wanted her to be the one to suggest it.

"I think only you know that," she said, skirting the issue. "Like I said, I haven't always fully understood what you and he did, but I DO know you mom thought It was wonderful. Sure, I enjoy the sex with him and I like to think he feels the same, but we don't have 'it", whatever it was he had with your mom and to some degree with you. We never did have it."

"Well, thanks for calling Aunt Linda," I said, not too subtlety putting an end to the conversation.

"I hope I'm not sticking my nose where it doesn't being Kelly," she apologized, "I love your dad in my own way and I just want the best for him. Think about what I said, OK?"

I assured her that I would and the phone went dead. It wasn't something that really required a lot of thought. Indeed, I had masturbated numerous times recently thinking about some ideas I had in mind. The problem was, the longer it went on this way, the more awkward it made it to fix it. Pacing my apartment, I held my own private little debate. Was I being overly cautious? Trying to be too sensitive? Was it really my dad I was worried about or was it my own feelings I was having such a hard time dealing with? Enough was enough, I knew what had to be done.

"Hello, dad?" I said into the phone as he picked up my call, "I was thinking and I wondered if you would like to go out for dinner again this weekend?"

"Sure sweetie," he said without a moment's hesitation, "Do you want me to ask your Aunt Linda to come with us?"

That last question, if nothing else, drove home for me just how far I'd let this get out of hand. Six months ago such a suggestion would NEVER have been made. Heck, he wouldn't have even asked to bring my mom along. Had we really grown so apart that he thought I would want actually WANT someone else with us?

"Daddy, I just want to be your girl for the night, is that OK?"

"Sure baby... I didn't mean anything by that!"

"So what time can you pick me up?"

THAT surprised him a little, as I could deduce from the hesitation. My dad hadn't been by my place since he helped me move. It took more than that, though, to knock him off his stride.

"How about seven?"

With that established, we went on to some small talk. He asked if I'd been to any parties lately and I just teased him, telling him I would fill him in over our dinner. Ever since I first started dating, my dad loved to hear about what I did. At first, if he got turned on he would just masturbate but after we started having sex, if I got him horny enough we might head to my room to "finish the story" as he liked to call it.

me. My own father was literally mating me! It was a feeling I would never forget and indeed, on this cold winter night I was cumming hard remembering every detailed moment.

In my closet are lots of dresses and outfits that I knew my dad would love – many of them based on past experience. I didn't even bother looking, though, as I was determined to make this night really special. That meant, at a minimum, I had to wear something he'd never seen before. The next morning, after I masturbated and got cleaned up, I called my cousin Kristen to ask if she'd be interested in joining me on a shopping trip. She was a little sleepy still from her previous night's work, but she assured me she would be ready to go by lunchtime.

I stopped by Kristen's place just after noon and was rather surprised that she was at the door waiting. It wasn't that she was lazy, but Kristen just wasn't what you would call a "morning person". Indeed, she was the type that would sleep in till mid-afternoon and then spend all night out. I guess that was good considering her profession.

"Hey, my mom told me to make sure you got special but she didn't say why. What's the story Kelly?" she asked as soon as she had buckled up and we were on our way to the mall.

I filled her in on the details and she just had this naughty smirk on her face. Finally, it got the better of me and so I turned to her while at a stoplight.

"OK, spill it girl... what's up with you?"

Kristen giggled and grinned even more at me. "Why bother shopping? Just walk in naked and I'm sure he'll be just as happy."

Just like my cousin. Well, she never claimed to be subtle. I guess in her line of work she didn't have to worry about it. I didn't even try to argue, she knew full well what my plans were and she was just trying to push my buttons. Yep, typical Kristen... but I loved her anyway.

We spent the entire afternoon roaming from one store to another. I had a pretty good idea in my mind what I was looking for. Dinner called for something seductive but not TOO revealing. Sort of like setting the stage for the evening. I wanted other men to look at me so my dad would be proud of me – not to mention feeling pretty good about himself as all those other guys would be wishing they were him. At the same time, I didn't want it to look like he was with an escort either so it had to be classy without being overly slutty. Not so much sexy as erotic. Revealing but teasing. Of course, it had to look good coming OFF as well as it did being ON. Not the easiest task by any means!

Most times I wore something like this, I didn't bother with anything else. To walk into a room with nothing on but a little black dress and heels was stimulating, to say the least. Even if I DID wear something, it was usually nothing but a small thong. A bra was something definitely NOT on my list in the past. Today, though, was different. The only thing underwear was good for was not so much wearing it, it's letting it be seen and then taking it off. So on top of hunting for the perfect dress, we had to find just the right lingerie to go with it. One or the other would have been hard enough to get in just one afternoon but to find an outfit that matched in just a few hours was a lot tougher than it might seem!

If nothing else proved how daunting our task was, consider that for the entire afternoon, neither Kristen or I masturbated or played around with each other or anyone else we met. Not that we didn't have plenty of opportunities. The dressing rooms in several stores practically called out for some action and there were enough guys watching me try on dresses and bras that it would have been like shooting fish in a barrel to grab one of them. But we were on a mission, our energies and minds focused on the goal. This was one of the most important shopping trips I'd ever made and I wanted it to be perfect. I could always go out with her some other time and have some fun.

Finally, mission accomplished. Kristen and grabbed something to eat at TGI Fridays after which I dropped her off at home. By the time I practically stumbled into my apartment, I was exhausted! I hung up my new dress in the bathroom on the shower rail and dropped off my bags on the chair in my room, then simply flopped on my back onto my bed.

Oh my god, I was so happy! It had been a wonderful day with my cousin. Sure we didn't do anything "wild and crazy", but we had fun just the same, enjoying each other's company and conversation. It was a rare opportunity for us to be this way, just two girls out together, enjoying themselves without the pressure of trying to "one up" the other or deal with guys. OK, so I'm sorry that there was nothing for guys to jerk off reading about, but it was important to me.

As exhausted as I was, I must have dozed off instantly as next thing I knew I was in the dark, laying on my bed with my clothes on and the lights off. Rubbing my eyes to try and wake up, my eyes gradually focused on the clock by my bed. Damn, it was after midnight! I must have been even more tired than I thought. How many miles had we put on the past afternoon? I know we had to have hit every shop at least twice! Struggling to get out of bed, I stripped off my clothes, debated whether I should shower first, and then said the hell with it and just crawled under the covers. I had a big night ahead of me and if I didn't get some sleep now, I'd never be in shape for it when it came.

The next morning I awoke with a start. God, talk about a crazy dream! The memory of it was fading so fast I could only grab bits and pieces of it but whatever it was, it had me horny as hell! Reaching down under the covers, my pussy was soaking wet and my finger slid easily between my pussy lips until the tip of my finger was just inside of me. Damn, who was it that was fucking me in my sleep? It was so real, so intense, as if someone HAD been fucking while I was practically in a coma. All I could remember was the feeling of this massive dick, stroking in and out of me, then cumming and cumming, shooting streams of thick sperm into me like a hose that just wouldn't shut off. It had kept pouring into me, literally gallons of cum, gushing out of my pussy around his dick and down over my ass onto my bed. As I fingered myself, all I could remember now was how much he had cum in me, more than ten guys normally could have. I twirled my fingertip just inside the entrance to my pussy, teasing the nerve endings that were clustered there, sending shivers up and down my spine.

Any other day, I might have tried to go back to sleep and relive the dream again, to find out who this magic dick belonged to, learn how he was able to cum so much in me. Sleep, however, was about the LAST thing my body was ready for as I quickly brought myself to a climax. As worked up as I was when I woke up, it didn't take much more to send me over the edge! I was on my side, my hands plunged between my legs, curling up into a fetal position as I wanted to scream out.

It felt so good!

I used one hand to finger my clit while I pushed two fingers into me from the other. Goose bumps broke out all over me even though I was sweating but at the same time shivering. I closed my eyes and concentrated, not thinking about anything but what was happening between my legs, and how it was making the rest of my body go bezerk.

How long I laid there, all curled up tight in a ball under my covers, I have no idea. It didn't really matter anyway. Finally, Mother Nature's call became loud enough that I had to get out of bed and use the bathroom. My legs wobbled a little as I walked across the hall to my tiny little bathroom. Leaning over the sink to keep my balance, I looked at myself in the mirror and winced. God, I looked a wreck! My hair was all over the place, makeup messed up, and I just looked like I needed a few more hours of sleep! It was tempting - VERY tempting, but I had appointments to keep and I wanted to look good for daddy tonight so I couldn't miss them.

Once I had cleaned myself up and gotten at least presentable, it was almost time for my hair appointment so I threw on my coat and headed to the salon. Normally I'd do my own hair but this date was with daddy, and I wanted it to be a special one. I felt like I was glowing inside as I couldn't wait for the day to pass so I could be with my dad! At the salon, even the girls seemed to notice I was in a special mood. The girl doing my hair must have been all of eighteen or nineteen. She asked me if I was going out to a dance or something tonight and I just smiled at her and told her the truth, that I was meeting my dad for dinner. At first she kind of gave me an odd look but then it was like she had somehow rationalized what I'd told her.

"Oh how nice," she said, "Sort of a father-daughter night out?" I nodded and she continued, "You're lucky, I haven't spoken to my dad in ages."

It seemed to open a door for her and for the rest of the time I was there, she told me about how her parents always argued and how she actually wished they would have divorced so at least she didn't have to listen to them yelling at each other all the time. She explained how she had wanted to go to college but got knocked up when she was just sixteen and didn't even know who the father was - without a DNA test there were simply too many possibilities apparently. It went on and on and it seemed to help her to get it out of her, although I wondered how the salon manager might have responded had she known what we were discussing.

When I left, I couldn't help but think how lucky I was to have been raised the way I had been. I almost felt guilty when I thought about how the poor girl didn't even speak to her dad while here I was, getting myself all dolled up for mine so I could look pretty for him on our date tonight. Imagine if the girl had known my expectations for AFTER the date!

Back home, I had a few hours so I set the alarm and took a quick nap. It wasn't the most comfortable one as I sat on the couch in the living room so my hair wouldn't get messed up but I was still feeling tired and I wanted to be as alert as possible later on. Silly me, I assumed I would only doze for twenty to thirty minutes so I didn't set an alarm or anything. Suddenly my eyes popped open and I was instantly awake as I realized it was later than it should have been judging from the dimming of the light in the room! Oh god, I had barely an hour before he was picking me up!

Thankfully, I'd showered and shaved this morning, my hair and nails were done, so all I had to do was brush my teeth and fix my makeup. Reaching for the dress bag, I smiled as I carried it to my room and carefully laid it out on the bed. First things first.... I looked myself over in the full length mirror on the back of the bedroom door. OK, so I wasn't as tight as I was when I was sixteen but the girl I saw in the mirror was almost eight years older.

I hefted my boobs in my hand and smiled. God, how I had waited so long for them to fill in! I must have been one of the last girls in my group to justify a training bra and it seemed mine were always the smallest. Girls like my best friend Beth were filling out their C and D cups while I was still looking like a kid from junior high! Whoever said girls mature earlier forgot to tell my boobs! Now they were a solid C cup and I loved the way they felt as I held them up and let my fingers tease the nipples.

My hand ran over my bare pussy mound, smooth as a baby's behind still after my morning shave. I ran my fingers all over, checking for any remaining stubble. Mmmmmmm, I couldn't wait to feel my dad's hands over it later! Twisting around to check out my ass, I frowned a bit. It wasn't that I was fat or loose, but a little time at the gym wouldn't hurt.

I opened my shopping back and took out the bra Kristen had picked out for me. It was jet black and strapless, the only strapless one I had. After all, if you're wearing a strapless dress, why bother with a bra in most cases? In this case, my dress wasn't strapless but I still needed a strapless bra as there wasn't enough to hide bra straps and I wasn't going for the slutty, "show your lingerie off" look tonight. Wrapping it around me, I snapped the clasps together and twisted it around so the cups were under my boobs and then lifted it up, stuffing each boob in as I did. It was an underwire support bra so it had the effect of boosting my boobs a bit and squeezing them together, maximizing my cleavage.

As usual when I first put on a bra, I felt a bit restricted but it wasn't all that bad and I knew it looked good on me. Certainly the guys hanging around the shop where I'd bought it thought so! But then, I could've been wearing a maternity bra and they probably would've given the thumbs up. The edges were lined with lace and the material was so sheer you could see my nipples outlined underneath. Just what I was looking for, something that teased but still made it clear what was available.

Next came the thong. It wasn't the smallest thong I'd ever worn, not by a long shot, but then it still revealed a lot more than panties. Actually, we had debated whether or not I should wear panties instead of a thong. The girls helping me and Kristen at the store had brought out some really sexy pairs for me to try and they all agreed some of them really looked hot on me. I also got the distinct impression a couple of them wouldn't mind giving me some more "personal" service but there was no time for that.

In the end, I went with the thong just because I wanted to show off more of my bare ass. I guess it was maybe growing up with little boobs but I just loved to show off my bottom. Given a choice between being bottomless to topless, bottomless won every time. Back to the thong... it wasn't a string style so there was actually some material in back which I sort of preferred as it was a lot more comfortable than having something pulled up between your ass cheeks all night. In front, it actually hid all of my pussy and more, almost enough to be presentable in public. The material matched the bra, jet black and sheer with just a touch of lace to make it even more feminine.

The next box in the bag held my shoes, six-inch stiletto heels that wrapped around my ankles a few times and then tied off. Open toed, cold for winter but I didn't care. Yes, uncomfortable as hell but I loved the way they looked on me at the store and I knew they would really help to make my legs look good. Sitting on the bed, I put them on and it took a while to get all the strings looking just right. Well, at least they weren't going to fall off! When I stood up, I looked back in the mirror again and smiled. Yes indeed, my dad was going to love them!

Finally, I carefully picked up the dress. Actually, it was more of a wrap than a dress but once it was on me, tied in back and properly adjusted, it looked like a regular dress. It had spaghetti shoulder straps to help hold up the front which plunged deep below my cleavage. There simply wasn't enough material to hold up the cups without the straps. The dress flowed down my torso, hugging me tightly yet not bunching up. The lower edges were almost to my ankles, but it wasn't like my legs were totally hidden or anything like that. The edge of the wrap was on my left side and if I twisted sharply or sat down, it would separate and display some leg. The sharper I moved, or if I sat and crossed my legs, the more it showed. I loved the way it first appeared to be relatively conservative, at least from a length perspective but then surprised by showing off my entire leg up to my hips. The whole dress was what my dad would have called "slinky", flowing smoothly without any decorations or markings, from my boobs to the bottom hem. Yes indeed, I certainly didn't look like a sixteen year-old anymore!

It was close to time for me to be picked up so I got out my long overcoat. I had debated the previous day about whether or not to add a purse, but what was the point? I was old enough now that waiters weren't carding me and besides, with my dad along I doubted that would be a concern anywhere anyway.

Standing there in the living room all alone, suddenly it was like I was waiting for a date back in high school again! Just as it was back then, I had a pretty good idea where the night was going to lead, but I was still excited and couldn't wait for it to happen. Back then I might have masturbated a little, getting myself all worked up before my boyfriend arrived, but there was no need for that tonight. As it was, I was worried my thing was going to be soaked before the night even started!

5. Pleasing My Father

The doorbell rang, making me jump as it broke my train of thoughts about the good old days. It could be only one person - my dad was here! Reining in my emotions, I did my best to walk deliberately to the door, opening it slowly and then acting as if I was surprised to see my dad standing there.

"Hi daddy!"

"Evening baby," my dad responded, "Whoa... you really look nice tonight! Love the hair."

He reached for me and took me in his arms and kissed me as we stood in the open doorway to my apartment. His lips felt so good on mine! Our tongues met and I felt like I was melting in his arms. God, it had been so long since he had hugged me and kissed me like this! There's simply no love like that of a father for his daughter.

"I think we'd better get going before we BOTH get carried away," he whispered to me.

As always my father was right, a few more minutes and I might just pull him into my apartment and said the hell with the dinner and just spent the night in bed with him. As much as I desired it, at the same time I wanted the evening to be something special for him. Not that fucking me wouldn't be special!

My dad took me by the hand and led me to his car. Opening the door for me like a gentleman, I noticed his eyes were on me the entire time. With my coat over me there wasn't much to see but the look on his face told me how much he wanted me. God, why hadn't we done this sooner?

It took about twenty minutes to get downtown where he used the valet service so we wouldn't have to walk in the cold. I was especially thankful since I wasn't exactly wearing hiking boots. Inside the restaurant, he helped me off with my coat for the coat check. Once it was off, he - and the coat check guy, both stared at me in my new dress.

"Like my dress daddy?" I cooed, fishing blatantly for compliments.

My dad's cheeks puffed as he blew out a breath of air. "Wow, it's been a while since I've seen you wearing anything like it."

Meanwhile, the look on the coat check guy was classic. He seemed to be in his twenties or so, and when he heard me say "daddy" his eyes widened a bit and he looked even more at me. He was probably debating whether I was just being cute or if this guy really WAS my dad. Just to give him a little more to mull over, I reached up and kissed my dad on the lips. The heels were like stilts, making it easier for me to reach him. This time I looked over at the coat check guy and winked at him. He quickly looked away, a little embarrassed perhaps that he'd been caught checking me out.

We were led to our table which was towards the back of the restaurant which was fine with me. The place was fairly crowded but the lights were low with candles on the table which made it seem more private, even though there were people only a few feet away. Just as I had hoped, I was catching the eye of every guy I walked by. I just hoped my dad was seeing them look at me as well. As I sat down, I deliberately crossed my left leg over my right which had the effect of maximizing the side opening in my dress, exposing most of my bare leg up to the top of my thigh. As I scooting in, the table cloth covered much of me but guy at the table next to me was getting a pretty good eyeful of my exposed upper thigh. My dad also noticed as he pushed the chair in behind me and then took his own seat.

"That's really quite a dress... new?" he said after we had taken our seats and the waiter left our menus.

"Bought it yesterday... just for your daddy. Kristen helped me pick it out."

"Well, I have to say, it certainly shows off your 'assets' quite well," he added with a sly grin and a glance at my open cleavage, "Be sure to give Kristen my thanks."

I just smiled demurely and actually felt my face flush a little. It was nice to hear him comment on my dress and looks again. It had been quite a while since I got anything more than the basic compliment from him.

Dinner was actually rather uneventful. We talked about his recent cases and he asked me how my new job was going. It's not like it was a real "job" per se, but it was easier to call it that and he seemed really interested in hearing more about it. One thing we did NOT talk about, and that was my Aunt Linda or even my mom for that matter. It was like we had an unspoken agreement that tonight was just about the two of us. He didn't even ask me for any updates about my cousin Kristen, which was unusual since he usually loved to hear what new and crazy things she was in to.

All in all, it worked out exactly as I would have hoped. I think we both were a little nervous about the evening and this gave us both a chance to flush out the butterflies. It's not that we didn't see each other or that we weren't having ANY sex anymore, but I think we both knew that tonight was something that was going to be special - or at least we both wanted it to be that way. It wasn't the kind of thing you just jump into or else we may as well have stayed at my place earlier!

We finished dinner and shared a bottle of wine. I'm not typically a big wine drinker but a nice white zinfandel went over well for me. I only had one glass myself, but even that was enough to make me feel a little light headed! Dad paid the bill and called for the valet as I waited.

My heart was beating faster now, as I knew we were getting closer to what I had been dreaming so much about. We'd gone out on "dates" likes this before, but that was under different circumstances and it had been quite a while since the last one. Was he as nervous as I was? You would never know it but my dad's a lawyer and so he knows how to maintain his poker face. The ride home was quiet, as if we were both thinking about what was waiting for us when we got back.

Walking back into the house where I had lived most of my life, it was like I was walking onto the set of "This Is Your Life". Memories came flooding back into me. God the things that I had done here, heard hear, watched here. Growing up as a young girl and then maturing (at least I like to think so) into a young woman, the one things that stayed constant was our home. No matter what else changed, my bedroom was always there.

We went into the living room where my dad took my coat and hung it in the hallway closet. He started the fireplace (gas logs) and kept the rest of the lights off. I stood on the runner that covered the wood floor in front of the fireplace, the warmth of the flames feeling good against me after walking in from the cold. My dad stood at the entrance to the living room, his hands together front of him, just staring at me.

"My god, you look so... so beautiful," he whispered, barely loud enough for me to hear. My heart was ready to burst, like I was being with him for the very first time again.

I stood there, waiting for him to make the next move. He stepped towards me, his arms reaching out for me as he approached. I extended my arms to meet him and we hugged each other tightly. Mmmmmmm, I felt so safe and secure in his arms!

"Kiss me," he whispered, his voice getting husky as it did when his lust would grow within him. I lifted my head to meet him and we kissed gently in the light of the fireplace although the warmth that was growing in me wasn't from the flames! His hands were flat on my back, pressing me tightly into him and then he moved them slowly over me, caressing me through the smooth material of my dress.

"Oh daddy, I missed this so much," I said softly, trying to fight back the tears that threatened to flood from my eyes.

"My dear Kelly, my baby.... I need you... I need you so badly," he barely was able to say, his own voice choking with emotion, "Oh god, I NEED you."

"Take me daddy," I said, surrendering myself totally to him, "I want you to take me... I give myself to you, everything to you. I love you daddy and I want to satisfy your needs."

It wasn't necessary for me to say that as after all he knew I was his, just as I'd always been. But yet in a way, it WAS necessary. Our lives had changed so much the past few months and in a way, this was like a couple restating their vows. It wasn't necessary so much as it was needed to renew their relationship. So it was with my dad. I wanted him to know that nothing had changed between us, that I was still his loving daughter and little girl, that he could still have me anyway he wanted, to use me however he needed to quiet the demons deep inside of him.

It was as if I'd opened the door, removed whatever was in the way. His hands moved to my ass and I gasped softly as he put one hand on each cheek and then squeezed me, pulling me up and forward such that I was pressed into him. My boobs were flattened against his chest as I could feel the bulging of his cock inside his pants.

"Take me daddy... I'm yours... you can do anything with me... anything you want... anything you NEED."

He didn't respond at all this time, at least not with words. Instead, he actually pushed me a little away, then looked me up and down, pausing at my breasts as my breathing was faster than it had been all night.

"Damn, I want you so fucking bad," he said, a little growl in his voice. I stepped back and smiled at him.

"Watch me daddy," I said in a low deep voice. I started to sway back and forth slowly on my feet, putting my hands on my hips and then turning to allow my dress to open for him. Placing my left leg on the coffee table, I pulled my dress back, exposing my entire leg and upper thigh. I ever so slowly ran my hands down the length of my leg and then back up again as he stood there watching me.

Maintaining my pose, I reached behind and undid the dress, allowing it to loosen and partially unwrap. Then I stood up and it slowly unwound, dropping from my breasts and exposing my bra underneath. Reaching up, I lifted the straps off my shoulders and just let the dress fall to the floor in a heap around my feet, leaving me standing there in the flickering light in just my underwear and heels.

"Do you want me daddy?" I asked, trying to sound like his little girl again, "Am I still your little girl?"

My dad motioned for me to come to him and I stepped forward, leaving the dress behind. He put his hands on my bare hips grasping me firmly. "Yes I want you... more than anything in the world," he finally assured me.

He reached around me and he lifted me off my feet, holding me in his arms. Silently he carried me upstairs to his bedroom and laid me gently on my back on the bed with my head resting on the pillows. I watched silently as he undressed in front of me, slowly removing all his clothes until he was left naked. Granted, he wasn't the hot young man he'd been twenty years ago, but he kept himself in shape and I enjoyed seeing him nude. His dick wasn't hard but it was starting to respond. I hoped dad had taken one of his little pills! It wasn't like he had ED but it did take a little more work getting him up during the past couple of years. Not that I was complaining!

"Fuck me daddy.... I want you to fuck me," I said in a gentle, but demanding tone, "Show me you love me... prove to me you love me."

One thing I had learned early in my sexual "career" was that there were two words ALL men loved to hear - "fuck me". My father was certainly no exception and I think he especially loved it all the more when I added "daddy".

I was still in my bra, thong and heels as my naked father climbed onto the bed and laid on his side next to me. The room was fairly dark except for a small lamp across the room that he kept on most of the time. It was almost more a nightlight than a lamp with a soft light that accented the room more than illuminated it. Actually , it was perfect for this moment as it was bright enough for him to see me without it seeming like we were displaying ourselves to everyone (although nobody was watching of course).

At first we just kissed as he leaned into me and I felt the warmth of his strong naked body pressing against me. His dick was pressed against my outer thigh as his hand caressed my boobs through my bra. Instinctively, his hips thrust into me, driving his hardening dick more into me. I reached down and held his cock in my hand, just holding it gently, feeling the warmth of it against my palm. I could feel it growing and I knew what I wanted at that moment - to feel it grow in my mouth! I loved being in his arms this way but I knew this might be the last chance I had for this tonight so reluctantly, I pulled back from him.

"Something wrong baby?" he asked, a look of concern on his face.

"Oh no daddy, I just want to suck your dick while it's growing."

He smiled at that. I know my dad pretty well and one of the things I know that turns him on is for me talk to him about sex. Even as a teenager he loved me to come home and tell him all about what my boyfriends would do to me. God he use to get SO hard sometimes listening to me! When we have sex, he has always loved me to tell him what I like and how I feel. Thus while I could have simply SHOWN him what I wanted, telling him first and THEN sucking his cock was a sure turn- on for him. He laid over on his back with his hands to his side, his dick fully exposed for me. He was maybe half-way erect but I knew there was no time to lose. I scooted down the bed and then worked my way between his legs so I could look up at him, as I sucked his dick. Putting my hands on each side of his hips, I leaned over his crotch and ran my tongue up from the base of his dick just above his balls, all the way to the very tip where I took the head of him in my mouth.

"Oh fuck, you look incredible," he gasped, bunching up a pillow behind his head so he could watch me more easily.

I kept my eyes locked on his as I just took the head and felt it between my teeth and on my tongue. Then slowly, ever so slowly, I descended down onto his dick. Never quite stopping but moving as slowly as I could to ease him deeper and deeper into my mouth until finally he was all the way in. My chin was resting on his hairy balls as I bent my head back so I could still see his eyes looking down at me. He smelled wonderful, a musky mix of his sex and natural crotch odor. There was hint of soap as well, probably from the shower he must have taken before picking me up.

Under most circumstance I would have started bobbing on his dick, running my tongue over it, and so forth, the usual BJ sort of stuff. This was not "most circumstances". I wanted to make this as special for him as I possibly could, and for me as well. There was no rush, nothing to hurry back home to. So I just remained that way, laying on my stomach between his legs, his dick in my mouth. My tongue played with him, running over and around his dick as best I could.

Meanwhile, he was throbbing in my mouth, his heartbeat pulsing as the blood surged into his cock, causing it to slowly but surely grow. It was like someone had a balloon in my mouth and was gently filling it, causing it to swell and fill my mouth.

Our eyes would meet at times and then I saw his turn to look at my body stretched out between his legs, and then at his dick, at least what he could see of it that was not in my mouth.

"Oh fuck, I can't stand it anymore.... suck it Kelly.... Oh god, suck my dick!" he finally groaned as his dick reached a full erection.

Well, I wasn't about to argue as it was killing me as well to just stay still while he grew in my mouth but at the same time, it was a special memory I knew we would both never forget.

I gave him a few bobs and then ran my lips outside of it up and down, my tongue flickering across his shaft as I did. He was so hard and stiff he was practically quivering! Then I dropped him from my mouth and moved back up alongside of him, draping one leg over him, pushing myself up so my crotch was pressed against his hip. I ran my fingers through his dense chest hair playfully and then leaned over to kiss him.

"I want to feel you touch me daddy.... put your hands all over me... touch me anywhere you want."

My loving daddy smiled and pushed me back over my back as he rolled and resumed his previous position with me, except now his stiff dick was poking my bare thigh a LOT more than it had before. He started to lightly drape his fingers my stomach, tickling me slightly and then moving the backs of his fingernails over my bare torso. His other hand was behind my head and he bent his arm so he could play with my hair as he kissed my neck and ear.

"Your skin feels so soft and smooth," he whispered into my ear, "I love to touch it and feel you all over."

I shivered involuntarily as he stroked his fingers through my hair, pulling on it ever so slightly and then running his fingertips into my scalp before starting another stroked for the length of my hair.

"Did I ever tell you how fucking hot you look as a blonde?" he said, more of a rhetorical question I assumed, "How many guys besides your daddy know you're a natural brunette though?"

He chuckled at that, a clear reference to the fact I was shaved so any evidence of the dark brown hair that would have naturally covered my crotch was gone. Only a boy who had fucked me early in my teens would have known the truth today. I think my dad got a kick out being one of the few guys ever to fuck me when my pussy had hair, even if I DID grow it out for a short while just for him.

His back hand reached around and started to trace small lines on my cheek and neck while his other hand began to tease my nipples through my bra. Then he reached up a little higher and dipped his fingers inside the bra until they were surrounding my hardened nipple. Then his hand cupped my still-covered boob, pulling the bra tightly against my back as it fought against him.

"You know, the bra looks REALLY hot on you but I think it's served its purpose, don't you?" he again asked somewhat rhetorically because he was already reaching around me to go for the clasps.

There were only two so it wasn't all that hard to undo and he pulled it off of me and tossed it on the other side of the bed, leaving my breasts bared to him. I loved the way to felt to have them free again, the air against them as they awaited my father's attention. They didn't have to wait long!

"You have the most incredible tits," he said soothingly as his hand started to caress first one, and the then the other.

My dad put his hand over my entire boob, letting the pointed nipples poke between his fingers and then he squeezed it gently, pulling up and letting his fingers grip my nipple as he pulled up against it gently, then letting it snap back into place.

"Oh daddy, that feels so good!" I purred as I watched him play with my bare boobs.

His other had was still caressing my face and I sucked on his finger as he pressed it into my mouth. We laid there like that for a while, me sucking on his finger like a pacifier as he lovingly caressed and massaged my breasts. It was like they were being jolted with electricity as each time he would pinch or pull on my nipple, it would tingle like being touched with a battery. Then finally he leaned over and took my right boob in his mouth, his tongue playing with my nipple as his mouth slowly closed around my nipple and he grabbed it gently between his teeth and tugged on it.

"Oh yes daddy, that's it... oh god, I love your mouth on me... bite it daddy, oh fuck don't stop!"

He gripped it tighter between his teeth, causing a momentary painful sensation but that was overwhelmingly erases with a flood of pleasure that coursed through my body. He kept biting and sucking on one boob while his hand massaged and squeezed the other. I was in heaven! I felt his hips pressing in tighter to me as he instinctively started to hump my leg, almost like the neighbor's dog, except in this

He knew me FAR too well. Then again, I really was glad I had worn it since he liked the way it looked on me and I think he was having a good time teasing me now about it. He wasn't without a conscious, though, and he knew it was probably starting to get really difficult for me so like a good father, he grabbed them by the one side and started to pull them down.

I lifted my butt off the bed to make it easier and then he slide them down my legs and up and over my heeled feet. That left me with nothing on now but my heels and smile! The heels required minor surgery to get off so I left them on. It wasn't something I normally did with my dad, but he didn't seem to mind. I know a lot of men get off for some reason having a girl wear her heels while he fucked her so why not see how my dad enjoyed it?

FINALLY I felt his hand on my bare crotch! I was soaking wet so his fingers quickly became wet themselves with my pussy juices. He spread it over my pussy and crotch, then ran his finger between my pussy lips, reaching slightly into my pussy hole just enough to get wetter and then spread it up to make my clit and crotch even messier.

With me all wetted up, he reached down and just cupped my entire crotch in his hand, his fingers reaching down to my ass and the palm of his hand putting pressure on my clit. He pulled up against me, lifting me up slightly off the bed even and he rubbed his hand against me. All the while, he was STILL sucking on my boobs although I noted his attention was more on my pussy now. He let me down and then as he pulled his hand upward, he pressed his middle finger into my pussy, and then drove it all the way in.

"Oh daddy, that feels so fucking good!" I sighed, just lying there as my father played with me, enjoying the moment and trying to soak it all in. I had no doubt what would be dominating my thoughts while I masturbated for the next few weeks!

My dad fucked me with his finger, adding a second one for good measure. Then he put his thumb on my clit, rubbing it as his fingers remained inside of me. My boobs felt like they were on fire as my hungry pussy reacted to his soft touch.

"Oh daddy, don't stop, don't stop daddy!" I begged him loudly this time, "Oh daddy, make me cum, I 'm gonna cum!"

Indeed I was. My hips lifted up as my orgasm struck, like a tsunami rolling over my entire body but instead of waves of water, I was being inundated with waves of pure pleasure. I could hardly breath as I gasped for air, my hands flat on the bed, pressing down with all my strength as he relentlessly played with my pussy and clit.

"Oh god, that's too much, I can't take it, stop!" I cried out but my dad didn't even hesitate.

I reached down and tried to push his hand away from me before I went crazy with pleasure. If he didn't stop I didn't know what might happen yet at the same time, I wanted to find out. Well, it's not like I didn't already basically know but each time was like an adventure, a little different and unique.

"OH FUCK!" I practically screamed as his thumb remained fixed on my swollen, hyper sensitive clit.

My dad bit down hard on my nipple but the pain only served to magnify the pleasure his hand was giving me. My pussy exploded, literally exploded! A tsunami of my own hushed forward as I came and came HARDER than I had in a long, long time. My body was bucking under him, tossing from side to side as I yelled out and said things that now, I have no idea what I was saying.

Eventually it came to an end, leaving me panting and sweating on his bed like I'd just finished running a marathon. I couldn't hardly even move! Well ,that didn't deter my now ultra-horny father. He got up and straddled my chest, his ass over my boobs as he leaned over my head and supported himself with both hands on the headboard. Then he reached down with one, grabbed his dick, and pressed it to my mouth. I was operating on pure instinct at the moment, doing what comes natural to a girl when a man's dick touches her lips. I opened and accepted his stiff dick as he pressed it into my mouth.

I could still barely move but again, my dad didn't need me to help out. He started to fuck my mouth, driving himself in and out as I just laid there, totally spent from the incredible orgasm he had just given me.

"God your mouth feels so damn good on me." he groaned as I tried my best to respond and lick his cock as it drove itself in and out without any help from me.

I couldn't answer him of course, not with a mouth of cock, but I did my best to look up at him. But as much as he loved fucking my mouth, I knew there was another place on my body that he loved to shove his dick inside of even more - his daughter's tight pussy.

He pulled his cock out of my mouth and let it slide across my cheeks and lips as he whipped it back and forth across my face. I assumed he was going to fuck me but apparently dear old dad was also into the "make a memory" concept tonight as well. Instead of moving down and shoving his dick into my pussy, as he normally would have done about now, he crawled down and this time it was his turn to get about to reach in and guide him in when it found its target and I felt his pressing his head into me.

"Slow daddy," I begged him, "first fuck me slow."

He couldn't answer me and I wondered if he even heard me. The look on his face was one of absolute lust, almost frightening in its intensity. He was fully consumed by his needs, by his ancestral drives, by every basic instinct within him. At that moment you could have come in the room with a gun and ordered him to stop and there was snow way he would respond. There was something so animal like, so pure about him at this moment that I didn't care. My father was not going to just fuck me, he was mating me, taking me as his own, driving his dick into me as he prepared to fill me with his sperm.

So much for a slow fuck! He rammed his cock into me, almost shoving me off the pillow. His dick was thrust into me to the hilt, his thick pubic hair mashed against my smaller, bare crotch. He immediately began to stroke himself in and out of me, like he was out of his mind with desire. He just grunted and moaned as he thrust himself into me. I loved it, every second of it. I was proud of myself, pleased that I was sexy enough to drive my dad into this state, it where I was HIS, to where he was taking me for his own and nobody or nothing in the world was going to stop him now.

He grunted even louder and I felt him drive himself into me and hold himself there, thrusting even more as if he was trying to push it all the way through me. Then he came, his warm seed ejaculating into my welcoming pussy. This was what I had craved, what I wanted more than anything. My father was cumming in me, my own father was cumming in me! He loved me and desired me so much and this was his special way of showing me.

Over and over he thrust himself into me, each time shooting another rope of cum into me. It wasn't quite as much as in my recent dream, but it was quite a substantial load.

Finally he collapsed, falling to the side so as not to crush me as his dick slipped out of me. he was spread-eagle on the bed, his still stiff dick glistening in the soft light with the lovely mix of our cum. I reached over and sucked on him, tasting our cum on his dick as I suckled his cock that had just moments before been buried inside my own pussy. God he tasted so good! I felt him dwindling in my mouth as I kept my mouth wrapped around him. As he shrank, a few drops of cum would leak out and I gobbled them up like candy, playing with his balls softly as I waited for him to regain his senses.

"Damn Kelly, that feels incredible, " he complimented me.

Actually, I wasn't 100% sure if he meant fucking me or sucking his dick now. I climbed on top of him, my boobs mashed to his chest as my pussy ground against this dick. We kissed and if he noticed the taste of his cum on my mouth, he never mentioned it.

"I love you daddy," I whispered as I drew back from his embrace slightly to look him in the eyes.

"Oh baby, I love you so much," he sighed, his hands planted firmly on my bare ass.

"You know daddy, I want you to fuck me again," I informed him, giggling like a little girl.

"Sheesh Kelly, I don't know....," his voice trailed off. Then he smiled slightly and said, "Well, I did take a big one earlier."

I grinned at him as I knew he was talking about his Viagra, or whatever one he was taking now. I knew he had several dosages and when he said "big one", that must have meant the 100mg ones - and they WERE big, like horse pills.

"Well... let's see what I can do about it," I giggled again, feeling like I was his little girl once more.

I turned around, staying on top of him this time as I straddled his face with my messy crotch. I really didn't expect him to lick me, most men seem to be a but turned off at just fucking me after another guy had cum in me, let alone eat me out - even with their own cum. I was more interested in his dick anyway. By now it was rather soft and laying over on its side, like a forgotten balloon left lying around a few days after the party. This time he was getting a proper BJ, that was for sure!

His cock felt funny being all soft and tasting like our cum. It was small and easy to suck, though, so I enjoyed myself. After a while, I wasn't getting much of a response, something he was noticing as well.

"Sorry baby, looks like it ain't happening," he said, a tone of sadness in his voice.

I twisted around, getting to the side of him so I was facing him and held his dick in my hand. I HAD to get him hard again. I HAD to have him fuck me again. With the help of his purple pill he should be able to physically do it, I just needed to provide the right motivation.

"You know something Kelly, I want you the way you are now... just the way you are now," he said softly as he started to fuck me from behind.

"I love you daddy!"

He had his arm around me, cradling my boob in his hand as I felt him push himself into me, pressing his crotch into my ass to drive his dick into me. I was playing with myself and I could feel myself approach that cliff edge I so loved to jump off!

"I'm cumming daddy... make me cum daddy," I begged him as yet another orgasm struck me. God, how many times was that tonight? I didn't care, the only one that mattered was the one I was having then. I could feel my pussy clamping down on his dick, gripping it like it didn't want him to escape. Of course, he had no thoughts about pulling out of me but tell that to my pussy!

My orgasm must have set home of once again As I heard him groan almost as if he was in pain. He seemed to be trying to hold it back, to make it last longer or more intense, I wasn't sure. Then suddenly he gasped and again, I felt my father cumming in me. It was even more special this time. The first time was just raw sex, me satisfying his physical needs. This time it was my daddy cumming in me, the man who loved me as his daughter, not some animal fucking a woman.

"I'm cumming in you," he whispered as he jerked slightly, and then again, "I love you so much Kelly."

It was hard to talk at the moment, given the sensation of his dick exploding in me just served to revive my orgasm, which has just started to dwindle but now had new life. It didn't matter, he could tell from the way my pussy was grabbing him that I was loving every moment of it, every drop of cum.

We just laid there, father and daughter naked in bed after just having the most wonderful evening imaginable. He left his dick in me as long as he could but with him behind me the way he was, as it diminished it pulled from me and eventually it was too soft to keep in me. By then it didn't matter to me as I was sound asleep in his arms, safe and secure in a way I could only feel in the arms of my father.

Have I ever mentioned I love my dad?

(Feb 27) Chapter 181: Blindfold Games

Story codes: MF MFF FF F-solo oral
Me (23)
Beth - BFF (25)
Kristen - cousin (21)
Gary (26)
Todd (24)

It was supposed to be just a girl's night out with my cousin and best friend. Things ended up not quite as planned, including being blindfolded at one point. Any guesses as to what the blindfolds were for?

1. The Girls

The Three Musketeers, The Three Stooges, three blind mice... why is it that a group of three works out the best so often? Is two being too personal? What about the old saying, "Two's company, three's a crowd,"? Is it really that FOUR is the crowd?

I guess this train of thought came to me after the events of last weekend. Myself, Kristen and Beth have always made a great threesome and it seems like as much as I love being with them individually, some of our best times have been when the three of us are together. Kristen, my cousin, is just a couple of years younger than me and it seems the older we get, the less significant those two years have become, if they ever really were.

Beth, almost exactly the same age as me at 23, has been my best friend forever - long before the "BFF" phrase was even coined. Over the years the three of us have shared so many things, argued and debated - even fought at times, that in many ways they are the sisters I never had. In some ways we are as different as night and day yet at the same time, we have a number of common traits that have kept us together through thick and thin. Maybe it's our differences that make us such friends even more so than our commonalities?

Kristen is the 21 year-old daughter of my mom's younger sister, my Aunt Linda. She was raised by her mom, never knowing her dad as he divorced Linda while Kristen was still young. Apparently he wasn't as ready for her "family" lifestyle as he claimed that he was when they got married and allowed his jealousy and insecurity to drive a wedge between him and my aunt. After he left, Aunt Linda and Kristen practically lived at our house, or so it seemed at times, so in some ways she was more of a sister to me than a cousin.

Over the years, there has always been a friendly competition between me and my cousin, well maybe not always so friendly, especially when it came to boys. Being the younger one, it was like she always had to do something at a younger age than me or crazier and wilder. That competitive spirit is even visible today, although she would deny it has anything to do with her "career" versus mine.

As for me, I currently work as a model for a "home entertainment" distributor, but it's just modeling and demos, not selling my body, at least not physically like Kristen does. My REAL career goal is to return to teaching elementary school and I view this current phase as just a transition to my next teaching position. Kristen, on the other hand, dropped out of college (not the sharpest knife in the drawer to begin with - just being honest) and now earns a healthy income on her back, as well as many other positions. Enough said about THAT!

Beth and I met when we were little girls playing in the neighborhood and we've been inseparable ever since. While only a few months apart in age, she was always years ahead of me in terms of physical development. Beth was overflowing her B cup bras before I legitimately needed a training bra. Even now, large natural D cups (at least) swell from her chest a hell of a lot more than my solid C's. Granted, she gets a little help from the fact she weighs about twenty pounds more than me, but she's still by no means fat.

Speaking of bodies, put the three of us in bikinis and you'll see we differ quite a bit as well - three different body types. Kristen is the cute, dark blonde, perky one who has always looked probably two or more years younger than she is. Her B-cup boobs are amazing - not a hint of a sag yet large enough to fill out her bikini perfectly. Beth is the heaviest but as I mentioned, nobody would think of calling her fat. It doesn't hurt that most guys never get their eyes below her chest!

I'm the only natural brunette of the bunch, although I've been bleaching it out blonde for a while now. People say I have the "girl-next-door" body which is a polite way of saying I'm no swimsuit model or future centerfold consideration, but I like to think that I draw the attention of most men. I lack the perkiness and tight body of Kristen and my boobs will never rival Beth's, so I guess I fall sort of right in the middle. My point being in all of this, is that while we may be emotionally and spiritually "sisters", nobody would confuse us for being twins!

One thing the three of us share, and that has probably been a major factor in keeping us together, even when times were rough, and that is a deep-seated love of sex. But just as we differ in appearance, we also vary a LOT in our approach to sex and the activities we enjoy. Of course, the biggest difference between us pertains to incest. Beth is not involved at all with her family, even though I've fucked both her father and brother.

Beth has the considerable distinction of being one of only two girls not in our immediate family that my father has had sex with - the other being Tammy, my mother's best friend. Interestingly, the two women my dad has committed adultery with were the best friends of his wife of daughter. It sort of takes the sting out of the "adultery" label but it is what it is and he'll admit it.

Kristen, not having a father or siblings, was always very close to her mother growing up, to the point they have always shared the same bed and bedroom - and still do today. When I was younger, it never occurred to me that they might be doing anything other than simply sleeping together, something I didn't learn about until much later. While sexual topics, including masturbation, were never taboo in my family, incest wasn't really discussed in detail until I was sixteen and made my own choice to have sex with my dad. He certainly would have liked for it to have happen sooner, but my mom felt VERY strongly that such a decision had to be made by me without any coercion from either of her parents.

After that bridge was crossed, my mom filled me in on what was going on with the rest of the family, including Kristen and her mom. You can imagine how surprised I was! It also helped explain why my Aunt Linda would come over to "consult" with my father (he's a lawyer) about her real estate deals so often. Still, it wasn't until I was away at college that my dad and Kristen did anything and even then, it was the following summer before I found out - and had sex with Kristen for the first time. Sure we'd masturbated together at parties and in our bedrooms and even shared a few boyfriends, but it wasn't until my freshman summer break college that we had sex.

Beth and I also masturbated together frequently growing up, not really a whole lot different than what I did with the rest of my close friends for the most part. We never touched each other, it just wouldn't have felt right, at least not at the time. I consider it fate more than coincidence that the first time we DID do anything, it was my hot tub where my father found us together - leading to the first time he fucked Beth (which was pretty special as he only did her once again after that).

What I'm trying to get across is that while the three of us are best friends in many ways, and all of us are probably more sexually active than average in our thoughts AND actions, our relationships are NOT based on sex. Sure I masturbate with them and share guys with them, but it was nothing more than I did with several other girlfriends. In my humble opinion, it's the things we do that do NOT involve sex that has made out friendship as strong as it is today.

It sort of reminds me of how people criticize me for having sex with my dad, saying I shouldn't feel obligated to submit to him so he'll love me. How wrong can they be? I don't submit to my father to make him love me, I do it because he loves me. So it is with me, Beth and Kristen. We don't fool around to make our relationships closer, we do it because they already are.

Speaking of fooling around with each other, that is another area where the three of us have quite distinct outlooks and behaviors. In many ways, overall I would say I'm the conservative one. All three of us earned quite the reputations in high school for being sluts, but after that our paths diverged. I went out of state to attend a Christian-based private university, where sluts were expelled if they were exposed (no pun intended). Kristen tried a public university but found that classes interfered too much with her parties and so she dropped out. Beth never attended college at all, opting to become a hairdresser.

We've also have quite different opinions when it comes to the type of parties we attend. For me, I enjoy a fun party as much as the next girl, but I don't drink hardly at all and prefer more one-to-one relationships. Kristen, on the other hand, likes to be the life of the party, the first to lose her blouse, the one without the panties, the general drunken tease that trends to find their way onto some "Girls Gone Wild" video (although she hasn't actually done that so far as I know). Then there is Beth. Somehow or another she managed to immerse herself deeply into the local private sex party scene. Group sex is more her thing, and I know she has shunned more "personal" dates most of the time. Men, women, it didn't matter to her who was involved so long as there were lots of them.

There is one thing that both of them seem to get a kick out of, and that is dragging poor Kelly along with them now and then to see what they can con me into doing. Kristen has a knack for getting me involved in some of the most outrageous parties and guys, most of the time in conjunction with her "job".

Perhaps one of the wildest (or maybe better said, craziest) times I've ever was when she had me join her to "host" some private party at a convention where I was fucked and cum on for several hours literally nonstop. For her part, Beth is always inviting me to one of her parties and now and then I agree to go along with her. They are always "interesting", to say the least, and I have to admit I generally have fun at them, but I couldn't handle the steady diet of group sex to which she seems to be addicted.

All this leads up to the events of last Friday night. We really hadn't planned anything, just to go out somewhere for dinner together and maybe end up back at my place to watch a video or just gossip the night away. It had been a while since we'd done anything like that and I felt like it was time we got caught back up on things. We'd arranged to meet at TGI Friday's, our usual haunt for such events. It was one of those rare Friday evenings when I didn't have a party AND Kristen wasn't booked so we were all set for the evening. I was truly looking forward to being with just the two them, like the old days.

2. Getting Ready

Guys have it so easy when they go out, a pair of jeans and a shirt, some deodorant ( I hope) and out the door they scoot. Perhaps the biggest decision they face is whether to wear sneakers or shoes! Girls, on the other hand, face life or death decisions every time they step out the door! Take this evening for instance. It may be "just" two of my best friends but still, we'd be out in public and seen by other people so a girl has to conscious of what she wears. It was all based on what "message" you were trying to send and to whom you were sending it. Because they were my closest friends and the night was intended to be casual, Beth and Kristen didn't figure in per se, except that I had to be concerned about what THEY would be wearing so I wouldn't look out of place. I could assume the lay-back, casual look that sort of melts into the crowd, nothing to stand out in which case jeans and a plain blouse always fit the bill if you really don't care who's looking at you. However, if you DO care, then the question becomes, who is the target audience? If it's "guys" and I'm "on the hunt", so to say, then that's easy as well. Just about anything revealing works - and the more revealing the better. Just show lots of leg, ass and boobs, nothing complicated about it.

The most difficult time I when choosing clothes is for those times when all I want to do is tease. It could be with a guy his family out for dinner or some poor schmuck stuck in an oversized grocery store pushing the cart behind his wife like a lamb being led to slaughter. Even though I know the odds are about a million to one that anything would ever result from it, that's not what's getting me off at the time. What turns me on is the thrill of the tease, the look in his eyes when I know he sees me and I know he desires me. It's the way he quickly look away when he thinks I'm watching him or even more so, when his wife is watching him. It's wearing something to church that comes right up to the line, maybe even barely crossing it. The blouse that's a size or two too tight, a tight skirt that's a couple of inches too short, the bra that's "forgotten" back home, the tight jeans that simply scream, "There's nothing between me and her ass!" It's the faint smile that tells them I know they're watching me - and that I appreciate it.

Tonight I wasn't planning on actually meeting any guys and even if I did, it wasn't my intention to go home with them. This was supposed to be a classic "girls night out", an evening with my closest friends to recharge the proverbial batteries and maybe even bring some sanity to my life. Of course, that didn't mean I couldn't have some fun along the way. Restaurants like TGI Friday tend to have a wide cross-section of customers, from high school kids out on dates, to older married couples looking for a meal, to men (and women) on the prowl. Actually, ALL of them are potential "targets of opportunity" when your aim is simply to have some fun. After all, why limit yourself when there are so many potential prospects?

Rummaging through my closet, I quickly picked out the perfect skirt for the evening. It was an important choice as everything else I wore would revolve around my skirt; thus it was the first item to be selected. It was actually quite plain, pure white with a thin black belt around the waist. It was by no means the shortest skirt I owned, but it WAS one that wouldn't get me arrested for wearing it in a public restaurant! At the same time, it was just the right length such that when I sat with my legs crossed, it would pull up and reveal just enough of my thigh to make someone watching pay attention, perhaps wondering if it would inch up jusssssssst a little bit more and ultimately reveal something more intimate for just an instant if they kept staring. It was really tight, the kind you don't even think about trying to run when you're wearing it, but then who would I be running away from?

With the skirt on the bed, lonely and waiting for its companions, I returned to my closet with determination. Holding my chin in my hand, I hummed a bit as I sorted through everything. Damn, how can you have so many clothes but not a thing to wear?

Ahhhhhh, there it was, just what I was looking for. It had been a while since I'd worn this particular halter top but it would be perfect for this evening. Being it was jet black, it contrasted sharply against my pure white skirt. Granted, it was really more suited for warmer days but I was going to be indoors in a heated restaurant, not trekking through the cold wilderness, so what difference did it really make? What I especially loved about it was the plunging neckline. The halter tied in back of my neck, allowing me to determine how tight it pulled my bust up. Thus when I needed to be a bit discrete, I could draw it tight against my boobs, revealing lots of cleavage but nothing more. If I was trying to be really slutty, then loose it was and you could actually see my boobs if you had the right side angle and I leaned forward just enough. For tonight, it would be somewhere in between, maybe a little biased toward the slutty side, teasing but without actually giving anyone a show. It was silky smooth and wasn't lined, meaning my nipples would be poking out naughtily as a bra was NOT an option with this top.

Now for the shoes... probably the easiest decision, at least for me. Unlike some girls, I don't go nuts over shoes preferring function over style in my everyday wardrobe. I pulled out a pair of simple black toeless heels with a single strap and medium height four-inch heels. The heels weren't so tall that I would feel like I was walking on stilts but in concert with my short skirt, they would show my legs off nicely when I was standing on them. Still, they were not the most comfortable shoes in the world but then what high heels are? If you wanted a certain look and you were willing to trade comfort for looks, then there's really not much of a choice. Again, guys don't have to face these vital decision so I guess they can't really appreciate all that goes into the process.

Believe it or not, I debated wearing pantyhose - honestly I did! The weather had been terribly cold the past week or so and walking out and about with bare legs at this time of year could be rather intimidating. Besides, I was more than a bit overdue at the tanning booth and my legs were not as dark as I would have liked so some hose might have helped as well. I debated over a pair of sheer black pantyhose that would have really set off the white skirt between them and my black halter top but at the last minute, tossed them back in the drawer and said the heck with it. Instead, I pulled out a pair of high top white panties that were cut way up the sides - not quite a thong but definitely not your typical everyday panties. They were actually a lot more comfortable than a thong would have been and for my purposes tonight, showing off my panties would have the same impact as a thong anyway.

With my clothes finally picked out, it was time for a shower, shave and fixing my hair. At least with the way I had my hair cut these days it was pretty low maintenance. Leaning forward so I could look more closely in the mirror, I frowned as I realized I was also overdue at my stylist as my natural brunette color was making an unwanted appearance! Dang it, if it wasn't one thing tugging at my purse it was another! Maybe I should just let it go back to being brunette? Oh well, a decision for another time, maybe even something to bring up tonight with the girls if I remembered it.

Sitting naked at my makeup table in my bedroom, I sat back and gazed thoughtfully into the large mirror. The bright lights were horribly revealing – it was like they were spotlights aimed at every blemish on me. I hefted my boobs in my hands, letting them drop and then picking them back up again as if I was comparing two melons at the supermarket. Well, if nothing else at least they felt about the same! I pinched my nipples lightly between my fingers, feeling them tingle just a little as a result. Mmmmmmm, I loved to grip them between my thumb and finger and tug gently, then let them snap back into place.

Lifting up my right boob, I leaned down and reached out with my tongue and barely was able to use reach the tip of it against my sensitive nipple. A smile came to my face as I thought about all those years as a teenager I longed to be able to do that! It wasn't something I did a lot, but sometimes it felt good. I wondered if guys ever reached down and tried to suck their own dicks? A smug smile came to my face as I recalled one who DID! It was years ago when a guy had cammed for me. He was in a stuffed chair and used it to curl up with his legs over him and his dick would drop down just into his mouth He was the first – and the last, guy I'd ever seen do such a thing. He was also the only guy I'd ever seen cum in his own mouth. Considering most guys wouldn't even touch, let alone taste their own cum (or any guy's cum for that matter), it was really quite something to watch, especially as it was live!

With those thoughts in mind, I reached down and ran my hand between my bare thighs. My pussy felt smooth after having just shaved in the shower a few minutes before. Sometimes I missed the feeling of my pubic hair, running my fingers through it and letting it curl between my fingertips. It was sort of like how I enjoy running my fingers through a guy's crotch and feeling his coarse pubic hair pulling between them. There's an unmistakable musky odor that gets on my fingers when I play with a guy's pubic hair that I can smell for hours later on my fingers.

My legs spread as if they had had a mind of their own as my hand reached further between my thighs. God, it was amazing how warm I was down there while the rest of me was shivering after leaving the hot shower and warm humid bathroom. The pressure of my palm against my clit was intoxicating as I pulled my hand in tighter and upwards against my crotch. Then I ran both hands down my bare legs, one on each side and then pulled back along the softness of my sensitive inner thighs until they met at my crotch where they reversed directions to do the same route all over again.

For a moment I remembered how wonderful it felt to run my hands along Kristen's legs, being so firm and smooth. Mentally I compared Kristen's legs to Beth's. Beth's may have a bit more meat on them but they weren't flabby either, maybe just a little softer. My eyes closed as I remembered how it felt to have Kristen's head between my legs, the light touch of her tongue followed by the firm grip of her lips as she pressed her face into my waiting crotch. God, how long had it been since she'd licked me like that? Whatever the answer it was too long, that was for sure. My middle finger pressed inward, pushing its way just inside of me as I wiggled my finger the way Kristen's tongue would be teasing me so badly. Damn that slut knew how to lick pussy! My finger pressed in even further, without my even thinking about it as I closed my eyes tighter and let my head hang back, visualizing Kristen's talented tongue as her fingers pressed deep inside of me. I could feel myself getting wetter and wetter as my left hand started to rub my swelling clit while my right hand was now pushing two fingers into me. The room no longer felt so cold - if anything it was like the furnace had kicked in and over-heated the room! I willed my fingers inside of me to be still as I concentrated more on my clit, running the tips of my fingers over it in tiny circles and then up and down and then back in circles again. The dick that was in me, at least in my imagination, felt so good and I dropped down on the chair more to let my hips rise up against my hands.

"Ohhhhhhhhh fuck!" I whispered hoarsely into the emptiness of my apartment, wishing I wasn't alone, wishing I was actually being fucked. My fingers couldn't help but to start fucking my pussy again, synchronized with the circling motions of the hand on my clit. My eyes were shut so tight it was like I could see stars in the darkness behind my eyelids.

"Oh yeah...," my voice drifted on as I felt it begin, the awakening within me like a volcano sending out tremors to warn of an impending explosion.

It was indeed just a tremor for the moment, a shudder that went up my spine and made me catch my breath but I knew I was getting closer to something even better. "Fuck me... fuck me...," I called out over and over again to my imaginary lover, his face unseen but his dick imbedded deep within my pussy, fucking me and filling me with his male organ. It became like a chant as I called out "fuck me" in time with the movement of my hands, my chest rising and falling as I struggled to breath.

"OH!" I cried out sharply as my orgasm struck like a hurricane hitting the shore.

I bit my lips to where they almost bled as I tried to focus on the surge of feelings that were bubbling up and out of me like a some sensual cauldron. My back arched and my feet pulled under my chair as I struggled to keep my balance and not slide right off the end of the seat. When I opened my eyes briefly, all I could see was this wild woman in the mirror, her eyes blazing with her chest flushed as if she had this incredible fever. Over and over I felt it, that rush that seemed to start everywhere at the same time and then passed through me like a tidal wave of the purest form of sexual desire and lust. God I felt so good!

Finally I just sat there, my chest heaving as I gripped my crotch with both hands, my palms tight up against me and my other hand right on top of the first. My legs tingled, feeling too weak to stand as if they had fallen asleep and were now trying to reawaken. My head dropped forward as my eyes opened and I tried to focus on the room around me. Damn, I was sweating something fierce and would have to take another shower now! Oh well, it was well worth it. I just had to be a bit disciplined and not go for a repeat performance or I'd be late for my dinner with the girls. Oh well, if anyone would understand if I were to explain why I was late, those two would! Kristen was one of the few girls I knew who masturbated as often as I did, maybe even more. Beth did it, but sometimes I wondered if she wasn't doing it for my benefit more than hers. When I asked her how often she did it at home, she usually just giggled and deflected the question. I knew she did it, she had the toys hidden away in her nightstand for SOME reason, but I got the distinct feeling it wasn't as dominant a factor in her life as it was mine and Kristen's.

Oh well, another shower, more makeup and I was ready to get dressed and on the road. As I pulled on each piece, I couldn't help but wonder in what order I would take them off should I get the chance to do some in front of someone. Being a stripper was one of those fantasies I had always had growing up. The closest I had come in public was a wet t-shirt contest but that didn't mean I didn't fantasize a lot about it. Actually, one of my biggest fantasies was to have sex on stage in front of a crowd of strangers - and the guys fucking me would be a stranger too. Granted, Beth had tried to fulfill that fantasy for me once a while back but it was with her sex party friends which didn't make it quite the same for me - fun to be sure and erotic as hell, but not the fantasy I dreamed of.

I grabbed a warm long coat - it WAS damn cold out, and headed out to my freezing car.

3. The Restaurant

As I drive to the restaurant, I could feel my pussy still throbbing from the recent workout I'd given it. You can imagine how sorely tempted I was to reach down and pull my panties aside and go at it some more but the restaurant was only a few miles away and unless I was prepared to sit in the parking lot long enough to finish myself off, it wasn't something I wanted to get started and then have to leave before I was done. Besides, having just showered for the second time this evening, I really didn't need to get all worked up yet again before the night even began!

Driving slowly through the parking lot, I thought I saw Beth's car. That was good as judging from the crowded parking lot, my guess was that the restaurant was pretty full and so I was hoping we wouldn't have to wait in the cold entrance for a table. Well, I was hoping I wouldn't have to wait at least. Beth was usually the early-bird with Kristen being chronically late to most everything and tonight was looking to be no exception. Pulling into an open space, I killed the engine and stepped out into the freezing night air. Even though my winter coat hung down past my knees, my bare legs still felt like they were stepping inside of a freezer. The open-toe heels weren't helping either so I hurried inside as quickly as I could without falling on my ass on the patches of black ice that were scattered about the uneven asphalt like a minefield.

Sure enough, there was quite a crowd in the reception area and I looked around to see if Beth was anywhere in sight. When I didn't see her, I asked the hostess if I could look around and eventually I spotted her sitting at the bar. Not exactly where I would have expected but at least the no-smoking ban made it livable.

As I approached, I could see that she was carrying on an animated conversation with the bartender, a tall, gorgeous blonde with a smile and white teeth to kill for. Her hair reminded me of those old Farrah Fawcett posters, all big and wild but yet controlled at the same time. Her hair probably didn't really matter in the long run as I doubt many guys noticed it since their eyes likely never went any higher than the huge boobs she was displaying rather openly in an ultra-tight t-shirt. It was obvious that she wasn't wearing a bra underneath and her nipples were poking through like they were trying to escape. Obviously the boobs were fake - natural ones that large would never have held up so high on their own without sagging. Yet for the average horny male, I'm sure the authenticity of her chest wasn't an issue. Why some guy thinks a chest of silicone is sexy is beyond me, but there you go.

"Hey girl!" I greeted her, tapping her on the shoulder to get her attention.

Beth turned to me and grinned as she stood up to give me a welcoming hug. Then, as if to set the tone for the evening, she gave me a kiss on the lips, lingering just long enough to send the message to whomever was watching that it was more than just a friendly hello. Indeed, I was pretty sure we WERE being watched by most of the guys sitting at the bar, not to mention a few girls as well. The bartender just smiled demurely and gave Beth a wink before moving on to attend to her other customers.

"Take your coat off, stay a while," she said, offering to help me out of it.

I unbuttoned it and slipped my arms out after which she hung it on the back of the barstool next to her. Her eyes gave me the once over and from the naughty grin on her face, I must have met her approval.

"Damn Kelly, that skirt looks fucking great on you... and the top... whoa girl!" she complimented me.

Beth wasn't dressed all that conservative herself. Similar to me, she was wearing an off-white skirt, although just a bit longer than mine, together with a peach cami top under an open pale blue blouse. I could see the outline of her bra under the cami which didn't surprise me. Unlike her friend on the other side of the bra, Beth's were 100% natural gifts from Mother Nature herself. She would often whine to me about how having big boobs wasn't all it was cracked up to be, with the resulting back problems and bouncing. Well, I wouldn't mind trying them out for a day just to see how "miserable" they were! She might complain about them but at the same time, she never failed to proudly display them every chance she had.

Beth explained it was like an hour wait for a table or booth which is why she took the bar seats. She lifted her head, like a gopher from its burrow, looking around for Kristen, mumbling something about what a bitch it was to hold open seats when the place was this crowded. We both took out seats again and I did my best to pretend I wasn't noticing the eyes focused on us as we deliberately crossed our legs and allowed our skirts to ride up just enough to let people wonder what would show if they went just another inch or two higher up. It was a bit chilly and my legs felt cold but it was a small price to pay for the satisfaction of knowing people were most likely staring at them. OK, I admit it... ego trumps comfort every time!

I ordered my usual from the bartender - a Diet Coke, and just as I was served Kristen finally came in puffing away, her face a little red either from the cold or hustling in from the parking lot, probably a mix of the two.

"Damn, I had to walk a fucking mile to find a fucking parking spot," she huffed as she caught her breath, obviously a little pissed off judging from her language.

Her assessment of the distance was no exaggerated but judging from the ridiculous heels she was wearing, it probably felt like it. The heels must have been six inches high, which accounted for why she seemed so tall, and the coat she was wearing didn't even come down to her skirt, which barely covered her ass to start with. As she took her jacket off - no wonder she was cold wearing something so light-weight in this weather, all eyes were on her and for good reason. It was a phenomenon you would think I'd grow accustomed to but it still irked me a little - but more than I would ever have confessed to anyone.

Whenever I was out with Kristen, it was a given as to who would be getting the most attention. In the past I had been quite jealous but nowadays I just tried to accept it as the way things were - with varying degrees of success. Kristen was every guy's dream girl and there was nothing I could do about it by worrying myself over it or trying to compete. Now if only I could get myself to believe that!

Unlike Beth and me, who had chosen light-colored skirts, Kristen was wearing a dark blue number that gripped her hips and thighs like it was made of Saran Wrap. It was actually more of a tube top worn around her waist than a skirt. To go along with it she had a white blouse with a simple floral print that didn't even HAVE buttons until it was below her cleavage. It was cut to hang loosely and actually looked quite comfortable. Her nipples were showing the effects of the cold outside but as loose as the blouse was, it was like they appeared and then disappeared, teasing anyone watching to get a better view of them. Kristen took the seat that Beth and I had been saving between us and FINALLY the three of us were together.

We looked over the menu and decided rather than ordering a full meal we would just share some appetizers. Kristen ordered some sort of alcoholic drink and to my amusement (and her chagrin), the bartender carded her. I couldn't blame the bartender as had I not known any better, I would've guessed her age to be more like eighteen or nineteen whereas in reality she would be 22 in just a couple of months. There was just something about her cute smile and perky boobs that gave her youthful appearance that I knew made her extremely in demand at her agency.

While we waited for our food, we chatted about the weather, the latest gossip as to who was seeing who - and who wasn't, that sort of thing. I was enjoying myself and wasn't even really paying a lot of attention to anyone else around us. On the other hand Kristen, ever the consummate professional, kept us duly informed of the comings and goings of every cute guy - and girl. At some point she must have seen something special because she had an extra-naughty seemed to be struggling not to giggle.

"Oh my god, did you see the look that guy just gave us?" she said in a conspiratorial voice, as if trying not to make it look or sound like she was talking about someone.

I wasn't sure who she meant and so I just shrugged.

"Look... see the guy with the two boys and his wife in the booth across the way to the left," she explained in more detail, "His wife just poked him for staring at us!"

Leave it to Kristen to notice such things. Here we were having a nice talk among friends and she was scoping out the people in the room. Oh well, since it appeared there was an opportunity to do a little innocent teasing, I pretended to adjust my skirt, tugging at it as if I was trying to pull it down but not really accomplishing anything but giving me the chance to look around. I saw the guy she must have been talking about but he was staring dutifully down at his plate.

What was funny was who WAS looking sat us - his wife. Our eyes met briefly and I could see her lips forming the word, "slut" as she glared at us. It was all I could do to keep from breaking out into laughter. If only she knew that instead of offending me, she was making my day! She really wasn't worth the effort so I just smiled at her and turned back to our conversation. Mission accomplished so far as I was concerned.

"Soooooo, did you see him?" Kristen asked in a low whisper to me.

"No but even better - his wife was watching us, the original Wicked Witch of the North," I replied, "I got the impression that she doesn't likes us very much," and we all giggled. We all agreed that so long as wives like her hated us, we must be doing something right!

Just then our food finally arrived. As I started to reach for it, I sensed someone behind us and turned to see a group of guys standing there smiling gamely. To my surprise, I recognized them immediately, even though it had been quite a while since I'd last seen a couple. I recognized the one who seemed to be the leader as Gary. We had been in the same high school class and even dated a few times. At the time he'd gotten nothing but more than a BJ from me but then years later we bumped into each other at church.

Well, it turned out to be a lot more than a bump but you get the idea. Next to him was Terry, one of Kristen's old boyfriends I vaguely remembered from a couple of years or so ago. My memory started to come back and I recalled that he and his brother had spent a few double dates with Kristen and me. Some fond memories of an afternoon out on the deck with them still haunted me at times. In the back of the pack was Todd, still as shy as always. Todd and I went back quite a ways. There was one time in particular where another girl and I had teased him mercilessly in Chemistry class where he worked as an assistant. Years later our paths crossed and I learned that he had grown up - a lot, and in all the right places as well. Indeed, the day he spent with my friend Nancy and I was one that made it into my diary!

Wow, it had been a couple of years or so since I'd been with any of them and so it felt sort of weird that the three of them would be together just at the same time that the three of us girls were out. Something was suspicious. Call me paranoid but I immediately suspected my slutty cousin of arranging something but she was acting as surprised as I was. Well, she was PAID to be a good actor so I never could tell for sure in these type of situations if she was playing me or not.

Beth didn't seem to know any of them and I had to remind her about Todd and Gary, since they'd been in several of our classes. It didn't surprise me she didn't know Terry, unless she had been hanging around with Kristen and hadn't told me about it. I sort of doubted it as one of the them would have been bragging about it the next day!

"Hey, we've got a table over there, would you girls like to join us?" Gary offered. The three of us looked at each other and almost as if we were mind readers, all shrugged at the same time which drew a laugh from everyone.

"Sure, just let us get our stuff here moved to your table," Kristen said quickly, seizing the moment as she liked to say.

The guys were more than anxious to help us and they even grabbed out coats for us. We followed them to their table which was over in the outer section of the restaurant. There were lots of windows and it was noticeably chillier than it had been in the center of the restaurant at the bar but I wasn't about to complain. I could feel a small furnace lighting between my legs which was keeping my mind off the cold! I'd fucked all three of these guys at least once in the past and had to admit, wouldn't mind doing all three of them again - maybe together this time around.

Seating arrangements were a critical decision, even if we tried not to make a big deal of it. Basically, there were two options - "tease" vs. "slut". If there's one things girls just seem to know instinctively, it's using the "herd" mentality for protection. Think about it... how often do you ever see a girl at a table go to the restroom alone if there's other girls with her? And no, it's NOT so they can have wild lesbian sex behind closed doors! Look at the mall... I'm sure you've noticed that the girls all hang together in their little "herds", typically separated by looks, social status and culture.

As a general rule, the "herd" stays together so if you see a group of girls hanging around together, don't expect it to be so easy to "split one off from the herd" just so you can do her. Sorry, but unlike in the raunchy movies, the odds are heavily against you and you'd be better off saving your strength, biding your time for when they break apart later. It's when you see a girl alone, especially if she's flaunting what her momma gave her, that you know you have the best shot - or at least an opportunity. It's the wild mustang that goes it alone - or the loser but we won't go there!

So what does all that have to do with the three of us sitting in a restaurant with these guys? Well, we COULD have sat with the three girls together and the three guys together. It was a round table so the outer couples would still be next to each other but the general atmosphere would have been, "hands off, we're together". The other option, which we naturally chose without even thinking about it, was to sit alternating boy-girl. This had the immediate effect of reducing our defenses and sent a signal loud and clear to the guys that yes indeed, we WERE interested - in what we weren't sure yet though. As far as what we were MIGHT be interested in, THAT'S another story but at least we left the door open for negotiation.

As it ended up more by accident than design, I was between Gary and Todd with Beth surrounded by Todd and Terry leaving Kristen to squeeze in the back against the outer wall between Terry and Gary. Personally, I was pleased with the seating arrangements. Terry was really more a friend of Kristen so having Gary and Todd by me was definitely the preferable choices, at least so far as I was concerned.

We got to talking and at first it was just mostly reminiscing about our long past school days and then it started to go into who was dating who back then. The guys were drinking beers and Kristen and Beth had their own drinks going so I was probably the only one with a legal blood alcohol level before long. Needless to say, the conversations began to get racier and more "interesting". Still, we WERE in a public restaurant so it wasn't like things could ever get THAT crazy but it was fun to see what we could say.. without actually saying it, if you get what I mean.

"So Kristen, I hear you're working nights.... how's that going for you?" Gary said, nudging her just a bit with his elbow.

Of course Beth and I knew what he was referring to but I wasn't so sure Todd did. Terry, moving in closer to Kristen from the other side, certainly seemed to understand what Gary was referring to. His hand was under the table and being towards the outer wall of the room, even though I couldn't actually see where it was, I had a pretty damn good idea. From the mischievous grin that Kristen was wearing, I was sure I was right!

"Yeah, saw you drive up earlier... nice wheels!" Todd joined in but I had a suspicion he wasn't "in" on what everyone else knew about Kristen. Heck, you would think if anyone did, he would given how much they'd seen of each other. Then again, maybe he didn't WANT to know. After all, not every guy's thrilled to have a hooker for a girlfriend.

Kristen just smiled and let it go at that. Actually, she usually didn't talk a whole lot about her "work", not even with me except when she was trying to persuade me into doing something with her. Instead, she nodded towards me and said, "Well, it's Kelly's whose been working the neighborhoods actually."

Todd and Terry looked a little puzzled but Gary seemed to know something about it.

"Oh yeah, I'd heard about your little 'parties'. Did you know my mom was at one of them a while back? She said you were really hot," Gary said, sitting back as if pleased with himself for sharing that nugget of information but he wasn't through. "Actually, she didn't know it was you personally - I don't she ever really met you, did she? She just knew your first name and from the description I figured it was you. You always did have that 'inner slut' thing going, didn't you?"

Beth was a little left out. From the way she was talking with Gary, I got the feeling they knew one another but I wasn't sure if they'd done anything. She didn't seem to know Todd but that didn't surprise me as he was the class nerd and extremely shy back in high school. He certainly blossomed after graduation but in school, he was such a dork! Terry was really Kristen's old boy toy so unless they had something going I didn't know about, he would be new to Beth as well.

A few more drinks and the conversation drifted into a debate over who was the biggest slut in high school. Naturally I felt I was up for the honors but the boys made a great case for Kristen as well. Beth, while quite active behind the scenes, had never flaunted herself as publicly as Kristen and I had, thus disqualifying herself for the award. To my frustration, the guys decided that Kristen was the bigger slut. It was a little unfair as she got to come along behind me so she knew where the bar was. Since I was the "pioneer" you would have thought I would have gotten some extra credit for that at least. Of course Kristen seemed quite pleased with herself and then I noticed something I should have before the vote.

"Hey, that's not fair!" I protested, "That's tampering with the jury!"

Indeed, Kristen had one hand to each side of her and I had no doubt where they were resting! Oh well, what could I say about my younger cousin? She played to win, whatever it took. She had learned at an early age, just as I did, that girls could manipulate guys easily and used her "powers" to their fullest.

Meanwhile, I had my own issues to contend with, not that they were so bad. In fact, they were quite nice! Gary was trying to feel me up now that Terry was paying more attention to Kristen. I felt his hand on my bare leg but I didn't make a move, hoping he would get the idea from the fact that I was not pushing him away that what he was doing was fine with me. If nothing else, his hand felt so warm! He moved slowly as we talked until his fingers were up to the edges of my skirt and then I felt them slip just under it, not enough to cop a feel but more than enough to signal intent. I just went on as if nothing was happening as he got bolder and his hand crept more towards the inside of my leg. It had been years since we'd last met and I recalled the fun we had in the church basement that morning. It made me wonder why hadn't we gone out again after that? I really didn't have a good answer, it just hadn't happened.

Poor Beth. Todd may have grown into quite the hunk and I knew from past personal experience that once you got him over his shyness he was quite the man indeed to be with, but he still seemed to be skittish as a rabbit in public places. You would have thought he would've grown out of some of his shyness by now, but it was sort of cute to see him looking at Beth and while I knew what he wanted but didn't have the courage to go for. Beth undoubtedly knew what Kristen and I were getting and even it wasn't all that much, it was still physical attention and what girl doesn't want some of THAT? Nothing of consequence was going to happen here though, and for that matter the whole situation was like a scene from our high school days. Sheesh, you would think we had grown out of such foolishness!

Apparently Kristen agreed with me as she turned and whispered something into Terry's ear. His eyes widened and a smirk came to his face. I could only imagine what she'd said to him. With Kristen, it might have been most anything, from a comment about how his dick felt all the way to an invitation to fuck her in the back supply room or restroom. Frankly, there isn't a whole lot that would have surprised me when it came to her.

"Sounds cool," Terry finally said aloud to Kristen. He then looked at the rest of us and said, "Kristen here suggested that we go someplace.... a little less 'public' if get her meaning. Suggestions anyone?"

Kristen was boring hole in me with her eyes and I knew she was waiting for me to offer up my apartment but there was no way THAT was happening. If there was one inviolate rule regarding my place that I made when I moved in - it was no boys allowed. My apartment was my home, my sanctuary. It was MINE! It was the first place in my entire life that I could call my own. At my parent's house I had a bedroom in a home I shared with them growing up. At school I had dorm rooms and apartments that I had to share with one or more roomies. When I moved in my apartment and shut the door behind me for the first time, I felt this incredible rush knowing it was just ME and ME alone for the first time ever. If a guy wanted to spend the evening, or night, with me, he could take me to his place but never to mine. There was also the little issue that I felt a more secure when most people didn't know where I lived. Last thing I needed in my life was a stalker!

Beth's place was out of the question. She still lived at home and while I had no doubt her horny kid brother would love to watch and even her dad might like to sneak peek, her mom would faint dead away if she invited us over for an orgy in her house. Not that we necessarily WERE going to have one tonight, but it never hurt to be prepared.

Kristen's place was definitely doable. After all, she and I had been with numerous guys over the years at her house - sometimes even with her mom. No doubt these guys wouldn't mind having a hot MILF for the night join us but I wasn't sure this was the time or place for such a Linda's cougar instincts to come out. All it would do in the end is make the evening even more crazy that I had imagined it would be when I left my apartment earlier.

That left it up to the guys. I really had no idea what their personal situations were these days. Did they have their own places, live at home, share a place, or what? Heck, the last time I'd even really had anything to do with any of them was now literally years in the past. As it turned out, Terry (Kristen's old boy-toy) was living in a dorm still and Todd was still with his parents so that left Gary. Like he had a choice! It was either bring three hot and horny girls to his place or be left with nothing but a cheap feel under the table. Hmmm, I wonder what he would decide? Since this wasn't planned and he was a guy living alone, or so he had said, I could only imagine what a mess his place might look like but I guess it wasn't like it really mattered.

Needless to say, Gary gave in and said we could come over. The guys offered to drive us to Gary's place but to their obvious frustration, we chose to stay together and drive in one car to meet them there. We ended up taking my car for no other reason than I'd been lucky enough to find the closest parking spot, even it was still a long ways away from the door. We finished up our drinks, I got the directions to plug into my GPS, and we were off. The three of us piled into my car, Beth in front with me while Kristen took the backseat for herself. I started the car right away so it would warm up while I typed in the address in my GPS.

"Wow, I can't believe we met those guys tonight... like, what are the odds? Don't you agree Kristen?" Beth asked mischievously, looking back over her seat at Kristen. I wasn't looking myself but I could hear her snickering behind us, trying to keep from bursting out laughing.

"I guess it's just a mystery, isn't it?" Kristen replied. I glanced back and she was grinning like a cat who just ate the canary. Beth had her nailed! It really didn't surprise me to be honest. Even though for me an evening with my two closest friends was something to be looked forward to and cherished, Kristen was always trying to push the limits. I could only imagine what she had told them beforehand. I wondered who she had called first? Did she just call one and he recruited the others or did she invite the three of them personally? Was she seeing them more than I had thought?

"OK, spill it cuz, you've been fucking all three of them, right?" I challenged her.

Kristen pouted as if she was hurt - yeah right. The only thing that would hurt HER was if you removed the batteries from her naughty toys!

"Actually I haven't!" she said, almost proudly as if it was something to brag about that she did NOT fuck somebody for once. "Todd's always been such a nerd. I never got what you saw in him Kelly. Yeah he LOOKS hot now but other than that.... he's still Todd the Toad" she trailed off, figuring she'd probably said enough just by reminding me of what I use to call him back in high school.

"And how about YOU girl... what's YOUR story with these guys?" I queried Beth as I pulled out of the parking lot into the evening traffic and headed towards town.

"Well. I DID sort of have a thing for Todd back in school, but I never told you 'cause I knew what you would say," Beth said, almost wincing as she said it like we were going to laugh at her or something.

"You're kidding!" I exclaimed, truly surprised for the first time tonight, "You and... Todd? Damn girl, why didn't you tell me? Did you do him? Fess up!"

"Well... sorta," she said, as if she was ashamed of herself.

"Sort?" Kristen barged in, "What the hell does THAT mean?"

"Well I blew him a few times, that was all," Beth confessed, "He really IS pretty well hung you know."

I certainly did and I had to admit to myself, although I wouldn't to Beth at the moment, at least not in front of Kristen, that there had been times I'd regretted teasing him so mercilessly in school instead of making a run at him myself.

4. Playing Games at Gary's Place

We went on some more and before we knew it, we were at the address Gary had given me. Damn, the place was BIG. All I can say is that his parents must be loaded. Funny thing was, he claimed to have his own place but there was no way anyone his age could afford this joint, unless he'd won the Lottery jackpot.

Looking around, I saw their car parked down the driveway, on an extension that left the large bricked circular drive that ran in front of the main house and led to a smaller building off to the side - I was guessing the proverbial "mother-in-law" suite? It might also serve as a guest house or anything else for that matter. At the moment, I was guessing Gary was living in it himself so TECHNICALLY he didn't live WITH his parents, he just lived on the same property.

The guys were waiting for us as I hadn't set any speed records on the way there while no doubt they had run the red lights in their quest to get back as quickly as possible. They even opened the doors for us and helped us out which was always a welcome thing when you're wearing heels like ours - especially Kristen's.

"Cool place," Kristen said admiringly.

"C'mon, let's get in before we all freeze our asses out here!" Terry called out. Given they'd been waiting in the cold for us, no doubt they were already half- frozen. Besides, I imagined their swollen dicks were an incentive for them to get inside as well.

We walked in and it looked to be more a cottage than a home, sort of wide open with a kitchenette, living room, and dining area all filling one large open living space. A single door, no doubt leading off to a bedroom, was at each side with a fireplace in the far wall that was already "burning", natural gas rather than wood but it looked pretty realistic all the same.

"Here, let me take your coats," Gary offered as we slipped them off and handed them over. He opened one of the side doors and sure enough, I got a glimpse of a bed inside where he dropped them off before returning, closing the door behind him.

Looking around, I have to say the place wasn't nearly as bad as I'd feared it might be. As hesitant as Gary has been I had been concerned that we were going to be treated to the stereotypical single male mini-trash dump of beer cans and empty pizza boxes. Surprisingly, it turned out to be fairly well kept up, leading me to suspect the same maid service that took care of the main house also stopped by to keep an eye on Gary's place.

We all stood there, for a moment there was an awkward silence. ALL of us knew why we were here yet nobody was going to come right out and say it. It was the typical "dance" people go through but fortunately we had Kristen with us. If there was anyone who could get things started, it was my slutty cousin!

"OK, so like... who's gonna fuck me first?" she said in a casual tone, almost as if asking what the temperature was outside.

For a moment everyone just kind of stared at her and then at each other, not sure how to respond. To be honest, even I was a little surprised that she was THAT forward but then I guess if I was to think about it more, I shouldn't have been. Oh well, so much for a simple night out with my friends! Actually, any chance of THAT had gone out the window long before now.

Nobody reacted right away so Kristen just huffed in mock frustration and started pointing to each of us, taking charge.

"Well, if THAT'S the way it's gonna be... Kelly, you take Todd... Beth, Terry... and Gary, I get you first," she decided for us. I noticed she emphasized the "first" part quite heavily, as no doubt the guys did as well.

We each looked at our "assignments". It was sort of funny in that as horny as everyone was - we girls as much as the boys had we dared tell them, the way Kristen was shoving us into it sort of made everyone a little uneasy. Then I had an idea...

"Hey, why don't we get started with a game first?" I proposed, "You two up for a challenge?"

I was looking at Kristen and Beth, both of whom seemed to have no idea what I was talking about so I explained. Kristen seemed a bit miffed as she now doubt was ready to get down to it but she listened as well.

"OK, here's how it goes... In the first round, each girl sucks each guy for one minute. Then the guys get blindfolded and we suck them each again for one minute but they don't know who does them when. The guy who identifies us in the correct order wins!"

"What does the winner get?" Gary asked quickly, looking a little anxious.

"Ahhhhhh... Well, he gets to decide the rules for the next round," I answered, "But it has to be something where the girls are blindfolded instead."

The guys certainly seemed to be OK with it and Kristen and Beth just shrugged. I think so long as they got to suck some dick - and do it SOON, they didn't really care what the "rules" were. We were still all dressed and for another pregnant pause we all just stood there until Kristen took over again. "Well, are you guys gonna get undressed or what?" she asked, more a statement than a question though.

Instantly three belt buckles came undone and before long the guys had their pants off, followed quickly by their underwear and socks. Kristen just shook her head and pointed at their shirts, which quickly joined the pile of clothes behind them, leaving three wonderfully nude men standing in front of us. All three had nice erections, their dicks sticking out from their groins like firm fleshy sausages. Todd was definitely in a class by himself but the other two were still well within the "average" range for penis size. Gary appeared to be a little thicker than Terry, and he also had the thickest bush of pubic hair of the three, something that always drew my attention.

As for us girls, we just dropped our heels and otherwise stayed dressed. No doubt we would be naked soon enough, but all of us had learned years before that staying dressed at the beginning can be more of a turn-on for a guy than stripping down to nothing right off the bat. The guys were lined up with Gary to our left, then Todd and finally Terry to our right. At that moment, Kristen was lined up with Gary, followed by me and then Beth.

"Well, I guess we need to give you guys something to remember, don't we?" Beth finally spoke up, getting into the game.

As if we'd practiced this before (which we had NOT), we each took a step forward at the same time and dropped to our knees in front of our first designated guy. I reached out and took hold of Todd's hard dick by the base and just held him there as the other two watched me and then did the same with their guy's dick.

"OK, who's keeping time?" I asked. The guys looked at each other and Gary lifted his shoulders and said he would try his best. "Mmmmmmm, OK then Gary, tell us when to start and then let us know when the first minute is over."

I looked to my right and then my left. Both girls were gripping their guy's dick and I could see the lust shining in Beth's eyes. Damn she seemed to be horniest of the three of us - and that's pretty darn horny! Just then Gary exclaimed, "OK - go!"

My attention immediately returned to the wonderful hard cock in my hand. As I took Todd's fat dick in my mouth, I couldn't help but remember the last time I'd sucked him and how great it had been when he fucked me. I was sure he remembered as well as I felt his cock surge in my mouth as I started to stroke up and down on it, my tongue dancing along the stiff shaft as it slipped in and out of my mouth. Damn, he was really big! I circled his dick with my right thumb and forefinger to stabilize it as my other hand carefully caressed his hairy balls. He smelled incredible, a mixture of thick and heavy musk with a faint odor of sweat, and I loved the taste and feel of him in my mouth.

"Time!" Gary called out.

Damn! It seemed like it had been only a few seconds! Todd looked down at me appreciatively as I dropped his dick from my mouth and scooted to my right in front of Terry. Beth moved around to Gary while Kristen took my spot that I'd just vacated in front of Todd.

"Ready... set... GO!" Gary called out and I took Terry in my mouth this time.

There was a dramatic difference in how he filled my mouth compared to Todd's dick but he tasted just as good, if not better. I could hear the guys all starting to grunt as the second minute of getting their dicks sucked passed by quickly. Too quickly, at least for me, but then it was me in front of Gary this time for the third and final round of the pre-"game trial runs". I stared at the incredible forest of pubic hair in front of me, running my fingers through it as we got settled in our new spots and waited for the go-ahead. I loved the way it ran through my fingers, kinky and coarse. Of course, the best thing was the beautiful dick that emerged from it, like a tall redwood tree reaching out from the forest canopy below.

"Go!" Gary called out, not giving us any warning this time.

I briefly looked to my right and saw the other girls had dived onto their dicks, like they were starving and the dicks in their hands were the first food they'd had in ages. As I suckled Gary's dick in my mouth, I wondered if it reminded him of the time I'd done almost this very same thing while we were playing hooky from the church service in the church basement? I certainly did! God, it had been so hot to fuck him while we could hear the goings on in the pews right above us. Imagine if the minister had known anything at all about what we were doing instead of listening to his boring sermon?

Once the third and final minute was completed, we stood up and I wiped the spit from my mouth, smiling at Gary as his eyes rolled. I wondered how I'd done compared to my cousin and best friend? Well, we would find out shortly how memorable each of us had been!

Gary went to the closet to find some cloths to use for blindfolds. All three of the guys were even stiffer than before, not surprisingly, and none of them showed any sign of dwindling as they waited to be blindfolded. As soon as they were all properly prepared, the three of us girls silently pointed to who we wanted to start with. Funny, but all three of us pointed to Todd first! I guess we all wanted that incredible massive dick right away but then, we would all have a shot at it soon so why make a big deal out of what order we did it in? Soon we settled on an order, which turned out to be exactly the same as we had started. It was my silent suggestion to do so, figuring they would expect us to change around so it mike make it more interesting to see who they thought was who this time.

With a blindfold on, Gary couldn't keep time for us so somehow or another I was given the task. I wasn't thrilled as the last thing I wanted was that sort of distraction but unless Gary had a kitchen timer handy (which he apparently didn't), SOMEONE had to do it and since it was my idea in the first place, I was given the task. Needless to say, I couldn't say anything as that would have defeated the game so my intention was just to poke the other two when the time came.

Once again, we "assumed the position". Beth and Kristen watched me as I waited for the time to hit on the minute. Rather than say anything, I just started sucking Todd's dick and others quickly followed suit on their own. After having just sucked all three just minutes before, I once again marveled at the size and thickness of Todd's dick. God, it was incredible! Actually, it made me want to have him fuck me more than anything as sucking something this bad boy was actually not the easiest thing to do.

When it comes to blowjobs, give me an average or smaller dick every time as I can be more creative with them without stretching my mouth out to wear it feels sore afterwards. Most guys really don't have that big of dicks, unlike what you might think watching porn flicks and such. Indeed, that's another reason I don't like to get "cock shots" in my e-mail as I doubt how authentic they are. If I was to believe my e-mail, every guy on the planet is sporting an eight inch or larger dick! As that directly contradicts my personal experience - and it's not like I haven't had enough dicks to suck to form a statistically large enough sample, I have to conclude that most of these so-called "cock shots" are "borrowed", to be kind about it.

As I had feared, it was definitely a distraction to have to keep time! Still, I think I did a pretty good job on Todd, even getting that massive head a bit down my throat without gagging, well not much at least. I glanced at the watch and saw I was actually ten seconds overdue so I let Todd out of my mouth and poked the other two. They didn't seem entirely happy but we silently traded places. I handed the watch to Kristen, who was sucking Todd this time, figuring that it was only fair we shared the duty.

For the next minute, and then the one after that, we each did our thing on our assigned guy. The only sounds were their moaning, with Gary being the loudest. God, he sounded like he was in agony and it didn't seem to matter which of the three of us was sucking him. Now there was a guy who definitely appreciated a BJ! When the last minute was over, we stood up and backed away from them, waiting a minute before saying anything so they wouldn't know if we had shuffled around at all.

"OK, blindfolds off!" I declared and the guys quickly removed theirs. "Well, what do you think? Did you all figure out who was who?"

The guys looked at each other and all three of them were grinning like crazed idiots. I noticed Terry was holding his dick, apparently subconsciously stroking himself. The other two just stood there, apparently not at all embarrassed at being nude in front of one another after each having received partial blowjobs.

"Hmmmmmm, I think I have it," Terry was the first to volunteer, "Kristen was first, then Kelly and then Beth."

We couldn't tell him if he as right or wrong as that would have told the other two what order we had done them in so I just nodded and pointed this time to Todd to get his answer.

"Easy," he grinned, "Kelly... Beth... Kristen."

It took all my willpower not to grin and show him he was right so I turned my attention to Gary instead.

"I agree with Terry, at least in the order," he said, a smirk on his face as if he was sure of himself, "Beth, Kristen and then Kelly."

The three of us girls looked at each other, rolling our eyes as if all of them were wrong.

"C'mon, I know I had it right!" Todd protested. Indeed, he was the only one. I found it personally interesting that while the other two had both mixed up Kristen and Beth, they ALL had correctly identified me.

"OK, here's how we started," I said as we changed around to our original order. Terry and Gary seemed surprised but Todd looked triumphant.

"I knew it" he crowed, and then he got this look in his eye as the realization of what his "win" signified, "And so now what do I get for a prize?"

I was about to answer but Beth jumped in first. Kristen, meanwhile, was standing there with her arms folded, looking a little miffed actually. I was sure she caught on that the two guys had confused her and Beth while all three and correctly identified me. It wasn't something her ego was ready to accept apparently!

"Well Todd, you get to choose the rules for the next round," Beth told Todd, "Don't you remember?"

"Todd just shrugged and smiled, "Sorry, I've been a little distracted since then, you know?" after which we all laughed. Then he grabbed his chin with his hand, assuming a more solemn look as he contemplated what to ask for. His eyes brightened and he straightened up to announce his decision.

"How about something similar, except this time the guys fuck the girls and they have to figure out who's fucking who?"

Well, it certainly sounded fine with me! The others seemed to accept it as well and it was time for us to get undressed. We took off our clothes rather unceremoniously, and finally the six of us were all nude. It was Kristen who then took the lead.

"C'mon, we can all three sit back on the couch and they can do us next to each other, what do ya think?"

Sounded like a viable plan to me! Once again, I was in the middle with Beth to my left and Kristen to my right. It seemed sort of appropriate as I was the one in the middle when you compared us most ways. I had the middle-sized boobs with Beth having the overwhelming favorites with her large D cups while Kristen's perky B's may have been smaller than mine but they looked fabulous! Kristen was the petite one while Beth was a little heavy, putting me somewhat in the middle and I'd rather not say which was I was leaning. Kristen was the whore, Beth the party-orgy girl, while I was the one that preferred more intimate and personal sex (well, most of the time anyway).

We scooted to the back of the couch, each of us putting our feet on the edge with our knees spread until they were touched the one next to us. If there was ever a case where three girls were definitely ready to be fucked - and were showing it, this was it! My pussy was feeling like it was on fire and I reached down to touch myself - once again almost in perfect sync with the other two as all three of us were horny as hell. We slowly masturbated, wetting ourselves in preparation for their swollen dicks, which hadn't shrunk one bit since we'd gotten started.

The guys also took the same order as during the BJ round, apparently out of habit now more than anything. Mmmmmmm, that meant I'd be getting Todd's dick first! There were definite pros and cons to that, as my mind raced while they took their positions. On the one hand, it WAS the biggest dick so naturally I couldn't wait to feel it in me. However, the other two after that were considerably smaller, a fact that would be accentuated after being stretched out by Todd's monster dick. Oh well, it was only going to be for a minute so it wasn't like I was getting a nice long fuck.

Once again, Gary had the watch as the three of them positioned their dicks at the entrances to our pussies. Todd instinctively started to rub his dick up and down my pussy slit, provoking my clit and sending shivers up and down my spine!

"Ready, set... FUCK!" Gary called out, being a little more clever with his announcements this time.

I was spreading my pussy out with my fingers for Todd as he lunged forward. God, it was like I was being split in two! His massive mushroom head forced its way into my wet pussy, spreading me apart and making me feel practically like a virgin from the way he felt so huge in me! I couldn't help but cry out a bit as he pushed it deeper and deeper into me, making me feel like he was filling my entire insides up. Damn, how far up in me was he going to go?

Then he hit bottom, his hairy crotch smashing up against my bare, smooth pussy. He ground his pubic hair into me as his hips swiveled to circle his dick inside of me like he was stirring a large soup pot with his dick. The he started stroking himself, in and out of me in a slow rhythm which quickly sped up until he as pounding that great dick in me! God, I was about to cum already when to my total frustration, Gary called out that it was time to switch. Todd looked me in the eyes, the lust burning within them as he reluctantly pulled out. When his head popped out it was like I felt suddenly totally empty inside, like I'd just expelled a baby or something!

No sooner than I had started to catch my breath than Gary was in front of me, his stiff dick firm and ready to go. The guys certainly weren't wasting any time this round! As soon as they were in position, rather than wait for the time to start on the minute, Gary called out to get started and he rammed himself deep inside of me in one fast push. After Todd's massive tool, he slide easily in me but I still loved the feeling of his dick inside of me. For that matter, I loved the feeling of ANY dick inside of me! Sure, there may be some that are better than others, but I can't recall one that I did NOT enjoy inside of me!

"Oh yeah... fuck me," I whispered, almost to myself as he started to drive himself in and out of me.

I was struck by how much more I could feel his pubic hair against me, that massive bush that spread even down his thighs a bit. He certainly had never shaved or trimmed it, that was for sure!

Gary simply thrust in and out of me for what remained of the minute. He was staring at my boobs and pussy the entire time, never once meeting my eyes, or at least not once that they met. His hands reached under my ass, lifting me up and off the ouch up to his hairy crotch as he slammed himself into me.

Terry was the last one to fuck me and he was rather uneventful, to be frank. As soon as time was called to start, he entered me but didn't push it all the way in, rather he stirred his cock head around just barely inside of me for half the time before ramming it without warning into me to the hilt. It felt good, of course, but I can't say there was anything that made him stand out from the other two.

The whole time I hadn't even looked at the other two besides me. I could hear Kristen moaning while Beth seemed to be going for the quiet approach, a little grunt now and then when I suppose whoever was fucking her shoved himself a little extra harder into her.

It seemed more like a few seconds had gone by rather than little more than three when Gary called out time was over for the last time. In a way this was a little fun but at the same time it was more than a bit frustrating to just get into the swing of things and have him pull out without so much as an extra stroke! Now things were going to get more interesting....

"Your turn to put 'em on this time," Gary said as he handed each of us a blindfold.

We stayed in the same positions on the couch. I looked over at Kristen and she was grinning from ear to ear, obviously enjoying herself. Beth seemed a little less taken with the whole thing and knowing her, she was wishing all three of them would gang up on her and get it over with! Oh well, may that would happen later, who knows?

With our blindfolds in place, once again I waited for my pussy to be filled – but this time I wasn't knowing ahead of time whose it would be. Actually, I didn't expect to have an problem figuring out who was who. The three dicks were all so different that it would be next to impossible NOT to tell them apart. Sure enough, one by one they fucked me and I knew from the first instant they penetrated me who it was. Todd, needless to say, was the easiest. Neither of the other two stood a chance of imitating that massive cock! Even Gary and terry weren't that hard to distinguish and when the last round was finished, I knew exactly which one had done me when. From the looks on Kristen and Beth's faces, they seemed just as confident as well.

"Shit, that was too easy," Kristen bragged, Beth nodding in agreement.

Without waiting, she pointed them out in order and it was exactly as I thought it should be. The guys seemed a bit chagrined and I hoped none of them took it as anything bad or anything. It was just that with such marked differences between their dicks, figuring out who had fucked us was pretty simple, especially when you had the experience the three of us had.

"Well, that was a tie so now what?" Kristen asked to nobody in particular.

This time it was Beth who took over.

"Shit, enough stupid games, I want to get laid dammit," she demanded in her typical straight forward way.

With that, she grabbed Todd by the dick and pulled him towards the couch again, like she was leading a donkey except in this case, the donkey wasn't fighting back.

Kristen and I looked at each other and for a moment my head raced with the possibilities. In the end, I knew what she wanted and she didn't disappoint me, or should I say, she didn't surprise me.

"C'mon Todd, I want your big dick in me again," she told him, walking towards the bedroom, motioning for him to follow.

That left me and Gary. If you ignored the little game we had just played, it had been several years since he'd fucked me and to be honest, the thought of him doing me again wasn't the worst thing in the world - not by a long shot!

"Well, I guess that leaves you and me," he said, almost shyly. It was a little surreal for him to act like some schoolboy embarrassed to ask a girl to dance when we were both naked and he had already fucked me twice so far tonight, albeit just for a minute each time.

I stepped in closer to him and his arms reached around my back, his hands dropping down to cradle my ass in his palms. I had my arms around his neck and I got up on the tips of my toes as he leaned down to kiss me. As our lips met and tongues played, I could feel his stiff erection poking me in the middle of my stomach. I loved the way he grabbed my butt, squeezing one cheek in each hand.

"Oh god, I want you to fuck me Gary," I whispered, our lips just barely apart.

Beth and Todd were on the couch, Beth already mounted on top of Todd's massive pole, grinding her shaved pussy into his crotch as she filled herself up with him. Kristen and Terry were off on their own. She was probably happy as the two of the them had quite a history. Plus, Terry was the youngest of the three guys and Kristen was always on the lookout for the freshest dick available!

Gary looked around and pulled me over to a Lazy-Boy recliner by the TV where he sat down and sort of laid back, his ass at the edge of the chair with his still rock-hard dick standing at attention. It looked so good and without a second thought I was on my knees between his hairy legs, taking his dick in my mouth as quickly as I could get my lips around him. I could smell the distinct odor of pussy on him and I for a moment I wondered who was the last girl he'd fucked, remembering then that it had been Kristen. For a moment my mind wandered as I thought of what a REAL test would have been - to have each girl try to identify the taste of the other two's pussies on one of the guy's dicks. Now THAT would have been interesting, to say the least.

With Gary's delicious dick in my mouth, I wasn't thinking about such things for long as I continued to savor the feel and taste of him. I felt a little lucky in that I'd gotten what I considered the best of the three dicks to start off with. Gary's cock was large enough to stretch me out a bit when he fucked me but not so big it was a problem to blow him. He also had the most dense forest of black pubic hair of any guy I had ever known. I know some girls get turned off by pubic hair and prefer a guy to be shaved, but not me. Nope, the hairier the better I always say! When I really appreciated a hairy crotch was more when I was just playing with a guy, say in a car or theater or restaurant. It's thrilling to me to put my hand down a man's pants and run my fingers through his hair. I also think a man smells better with lots of hair down there. My theory is that the hair captures his male musk created when he gets horny, helping to overpower the less agreeable sweaty smells a guy's crotch tends to have, especially at the end of the day if he hasn't showered recently.

"Fuck! Oh Kelly, that feel so fuckin' good," he moaned as he put his hands on my head and pushed me down onto his dick. "Your mouth's the best of the three of you - hands down!"

If that mouth hadn't been so full of his dick at the moment, I would have smiled from ear to ear following that compliment. Face it, I know I give a pretty damn good BJ but it never hurts to receive a compliment, especially when it compares me favorably to my whore cousin and horny best friend!

I started to just lick the head, letting my tongue run around the ridge and the playing with the hole at the tip while my hand gripped his shaft at the base like a candlestick. I kissed his dick and suckled on just the head at times, then running my wet tongue up and down the length of his shaft without actually taking him in my mouth.

"Damn you know just how to do that," he gasped as I felt his hips buck up against me, driving his dick into my mouth the next time I had my lips around him.

This time he was more forceful and he also held my head down to force me to take in the entire length of his dick. I felt it push down into my throat and I did my best to relax, thus allowing it to slide down inside without gagging me. I looked up and I saw that he as watching his dick disappear completely in my mouth as my face buried itself in his thick bush of crotch hair. It tickled my cheeks and it was all I could do not to gag and back off as I fought back the laughter. He was staring at me, the way all men do when I take their entire dick in my mouth. I could only imagine how it made him feel but however it was, he certainly seemed to be loving it.

"Shit, I gotta fuck you... now!" he gasped, lifting my head from his dick. I stood up and rubbed my crotch for him to watch. Damn, talk about being hot, wet and outright horny! He wasn't the only one that wanted him to fuck me!

I climbed up on the chair, putting my knees to the side of him, pressing them in between his thighs and the inside of the chair arms, wedging me into place. Leaning forward, I kissed him as I lowered myself down slowly to his impatient dick. Reaching down between my legs, I gripped his shaft and positioned it against my wet pussy hole. Technically. it had already been fucked six times tonight, although only by three dicks, yet in a way for me it was like it was the first time all over again. This time it wasn't a game, this time he was fucking me - and doing it right. No timers or pulling out his time - no siree!

"I want you in me Gary," I whispered in a husky, lustful low tone, "I want to feel your hard dick deep in my cunt... fuck me Gary... please fuck me!"

Actually Gary wasn't the one controlling his entry into my pussy. I was lowering myself down onto him at the rate I preferred this time. None of this 'slam it in" crap this time around. No... I wanted to feel it enter me and SLOWLY push its way into me one inch at a slow inch at a time. His head started to push into me and once again I felt myself spread apart to take him. God, I was so horny and wet it slid into me almost effortlessly and I held him at that point for the moment.

I swiveled my hips around, this time it was me circling his dick head just inside of me, stimulating me and making bolts of lightning-like pleasure stab into me and spread throughout my entire body. Slowly but surely I dripped down onto him, twisting around him as if he was a bolt and I was the nut being screwed down onto it. I guess you could say that "screwing" was the perfect description for this!

"Shit you're so fucking tight!" he gasped as the final inch of his dick pushed its way inside of me until I was now firmly planted on his hairy crotch, every bit of his dick was now inside of me.

For a few minutes, I just sat on him, enjoying the pleasure of him in me. I noticed he was looking down at where my pussy was pressed against his crotch and I could imagine what he was thinking, realizing his dick was now buried inside of me. I wondered how it felt for his dick to be surrounded by my warm, wet pussy, squeezing down on him and gripping him in a sexual embrace.

As for me, sitting there quietly, relaxing for a minute or two with Gary's dick inside of me, was wonderful. It was like I actually could feel him throbbing inside of me. All it took was the slightest movement by either of us to trigger a pleasurable jolt within me, like being pricked by a pin or someone touching your ear after rubbing their shoes on the carpet, except in this case it felt incredibly GOOD!

Then I began to slowly grind against him, ever so slowly revolving my hips around his pole, feeling his working around inside of me as my pussy throbbed with pleasure. My hand reached down and I started to toy with my clit as his hands remained planted firmly on my ass, helping me to move around him. The instant my finger touched my swollen clit I gasped as my entire body went rigid. Oh god it felt so good!

"I love your dick in me Gary," I whispered hoarsely, barely able to speak, "Oh FUCK I love it in me!"

The it hit me, my first orgasm of the night, at least I hoped it was my "first". My pussy clamped down on Gary's dick and I heard him groan, not sure if it was from pleasure or pain but I didn't care about him at that moment, all I cared about was what was happening to me. My eyes shut as I could see flashed of light in the darkness as goose bumps rose all over me and even my hair felt like it was tingling. It was like I was freezing yet at the same time I was on fire, my face feeling flushed and my boobs even felt warmer.

"I'm cumming Gary... oh my god I'm cumming so good!"

Gary just sat there, letting me do my thing as I started to rock on his cock, driving it in and out of me just a little as my hand continued to rub my super-sensitized clit. I could feel my pussy cumming on his dick, flooding his hairy crotch with my cum almost like I was peeing on him. It was such an incredible sensation, like I was almost floating over his dick, feeling it in me, becoming part of me, like it was filling a void in me - physically and emotionally.

As my orgasm slowly faded, Gary became more animated given my pussy wasn't gripping his dick like a vise quite as much. He began to hump under me, driving his stiff warm dick in and out of me at an even faster rate than I had been going. My knees were beginning to hurt from being bent so long so I lifted myself up and quickly spun around, putting my feet together on the floor and lowering myself back down onto his shaft once again. Even with my thighs tight together, my [pussy was so wet and slippery he easily slid into me and I felt this hands once again on my butt, his thumbs working their way into the crack of my ass. I remembered that Gary had always been sort of an "ass man" and Imagined the sight of my naked butt poking up at him with the occasional glimpse of his dick slipping in and out of my pussy was about enough to make him cum soon.

One thing about this position, I was able to see across the room to where Beth and Todd were going at it. They were spooning, with his back against the couch and his arms around her to keep her from falling off the edge while her upper leg was stretched back onto the top of the couch above him. It have a marvelous view of her bare pussy with his huge cock ramming in and out of it slowly, like some sort of sexual pile driver. She was loving it and for a moment, our eyes met and she grinned at me. I could only imagine how her pussy was feeling with that massive dick inside. Sure, I'd had a bit of it earlier, but she must be getting pretty worn out by now after his being in her for so long. I didn't know if she had cum yet or not, or maybe more than once, but she was certainly enjoying herself.

As for Kristen and terry, I had no idea what was happening with them. It was sort of odd for Kristen to go off alone in this type of setting but then again, she and terry had gone out quite a bit at one time so maybe she felt something a little more personal than Beth and I were tonight. She had never really referred to him an anything but another "boy-toy" in the past, but who knows, maybe she felt something for him more than usual?

Meanwhile, I had my own dick to think about - the one in my pussy! I decided to lean back onto his chest, laying my head on his shoulder as I lifted my feet up and planted them on the tops of this thighs. His dick stayed in me and he took over the responsibility of fucking me. It felt perfect, so natural, to just lay back like this, his warm body under me, as I felt his hips thrust up and down to drive his dick in and out of me. Occasionally he would slip out but he quickly grabbed himself and he was back in me within seconds.

Gary was getting close, I could sense it. The urgency of his thrusts, the depth he was trying to ram himself into me, the gasps and groans, all signs of an impending explosion of cum. "Cum in me Gary," I sighed softly, reaching down to let my fingertips touch his slippery dick as it slid in me. I let the palm of my hand press against my clit as my finger ran over his shaft as he moved it within me, just letting the sensations ripple through me. "You can cum inside of me if you want to Gary."

"Fuck me", "Cum in my mouth," "You can cum inside of me." The top three phrases men like to hear, at least from my experience. Of course, "Fuck me" is number one by a mile. Nothing makes a man's dick spring into action faster than hearing a girl ASK to be fucked. Asking for it in her mouth is more kinky than anything. Frankly, I think it's a result of watching too many porn movies more than anything. "You can cum inside of me" is different. "Fuck me" appeals to the basic ego where a man loves to hear a woman wants HIM to fuck her. In contrast, "You can cum inside of me" is more intimate, more submissive. It's a woman not only wanting him to fuck her, it's as if she also wants to have part of him inside of her, a virtual "mating" so to speak. While I have never had a man say to "fuck me", I HAVE had men turn down the "cum inside of me" request, maybe because it WAS too personal for them. Well, that wasn't that case with Gary. No, he was more than willing to stick it out and stay in me when he came as he was about to prove.

"Oh shit, I'm almost there Kelly," he groaned, as if he was holding it back to keep the sensation of being on the edge there as long as possible.

Then, like a dam suddenly breaking, he literally exploded within me. I felt his entire body jerk under me as his dick drive into me, the first eruption of cum pouring from his dick like lava from an erupting volcano. I could feel it in me, like a bloom of heat deep inside of me that faded away quickly, only to be replaced by another and yet another as he came hard inside of me. His sperm was shooting deep inside of me in a futile vain attempt to mate me. He was grunting and groaning as his most basic of instincts- his sex drive, took over. Gary put his strong hairy arms around me and pulled me in tight to him as his hips rose up in the air, as if trying to drill even deeper into me. His hand covered my boobs, touching them for the first time as he squeezed them while his orgasm quickly diminished.

"Oh fuck, that was incredible," he groaned loudly as I felt him literally sag under me, all his earlier drive and lust suddenly gone as if it had burst from him along with his hot cum.

"Hold me Gary," I whispered, trying to maintain this moment for as long as I could.

His hands remained on my breasts as my hand pressed down on my clit, not moving to stimulate it but rather just putting continuous pressure on it. I could feel his dick getting smaller, receding from me as it shrank. Finally it flopped out of me and I could feel a warm wetness as his cum drained out of me and down to my ass once the dam created by his cock was out of the way. I rubbed my fingers in it and brought it to my mouth, licking the mixture of our cum from my fingers like I use to lick the beaters from my mom's mixer when I was a little girl. As much as I loved licking those sweet beaters back then, what I was tasting now beat it hands down!

Gary was spent for the moment so I turned my attention to Beth and Todd. She was on her back now with Todd kneeling on one knee with his outer leg on the floor, fucking her as he stood up straight. She had one leg draped over the edge of the couch with the other ;lifted upward and being held up by Todd as he slowly slid hid giant cock in and out of her poor abused pussy. Well, she wanted it so I didn't want to hear any complaining later about how sore she was! She looked at me as I approached and I saw her eyes go to my crotch, where's Gary's cum was draining down the inside of my thigh. God, how much had he pumped into me anyway?

"Mmmmmmm, " was all she said as she reached out for me.

I knew what she wanted, at least with Beth it didn't take a lot of fancy psychology to figure out what she wanted during sex. It was pretty simple - as many dicks as she could get and as much cum as she could swallow - regardless of the source. Beth and I weren't together sexually all that much, very little in fact. Most of the time it was situations like this - a party where we just happened to come together during the course of events.

As Todd watched, I straddled Beth's face and lowered by freshly fucked pussy to her face. Beth lifted her head with her tongue outstretched as she eagerly awaited the chance to lick Gary's cum from my pussy. Sure, she might like just licking my pussy but I knew what she REALLY wanted was to get that cum out of me for herself.

"Oh yeah," I sighed as her tongue danced on my clit and pussy lips.

Then her lips grabbed me and I could feel her tongue exploring up and inside of me, pressing into me as far as she could reach. She lapped up Gary's cum from my pussy like a hungry cat at a bowl of fresh milk. I ground my pussy into her face, feeling her nose against my asshole as she sucked and licked my pussy noisily. Meanwhile, Todd was still fucking her and I could feel her move under me each time he slammed his crotch into her pussy.

"I'm going to cum," he said through gritted teeth as he started pumping her hard and fast.

"Don't you fuckin' cum inside of me you fuckin' asshole," Beth suddenly exclaimed between my thighs.

I was facing Todd so he looked at me as he couldn't see Beth's face. From the wild look in his eyes, I could tell that he was close to cumming and there would be no stopping him before long.

"Cum in my mouth," I told him, thinking ahead to what I thought Beth would like. Todd looked at me, as if making sure he had heard me correctly so I said it again. "That's right Todd, you can cum in my mouth."

That seemed to be the straw that broke the camel's back, or should I say that pulled the trigger on his grenade, or whatever silly analogy you want to use. He pulled out of her pussy and I leaned forward, keeping my own pussy on Beth's face as I positioned myself in front of the monster dick that was now mere inches in front of me. Todd was stroking himself with his hand and it only took a few before his first shot erupted and I watched as it sprang from the tip of his dick, directly towards my wide open mouth. It landed perfectly on my tongue but the next shot went off the mark and hit me square on the forehead. I leaned closer and he got the rest in my mouth from that shot on. As big as he was, I guess I was expecting more cum but he didn't shoot nearly as much as I thought Gary had done to me earlier.

I opened my mouth to show Todd the results as he smiled – just as very guy does when he sees my mouth full of his cum, as if it was some monstrous accomplishment on his part. Actually, I felt I deserved the credit in most cases for being able to capture some of the wild shots they made! I think Todd was expecting me to swallow it at that point and indeed, had it been just me and him I would have, opening my mouth like a patient getting pills from a nurse to prove it was all in my stomach. But in this case, I wasn't alone!

Lifting myself off of Beth's face, I kneeled down next to the couch and put my head over hers. She liked at me and I could see from the grin on her face that she knew what was coming up next. Sure enough, she opened her mouth as I did the same, allowing Todd's sperm to slowly fall from my mouth to hers in a gooey mess. I couldn't turn my head to prove it, but I was sure as anything that Todd was watching and I wondered if his cock was staying hard as he watched me give his sperm to Beth.

When it was all out, or at least as much as was easily going to, I leaned down and kissed Beth. I felt her pushing his sperm up and into my mouth with her tongue and I reached out with my own tongue to touch hers, all sperm-covered now. This time I DID look back at Todd and sure enough, he was stroking himself as he watched two girls, one of who he had just fucked good and hard, swapping his cum between them. I imagined this was a sight he'd be remembering for quite a few masturbation sessions in the future!

"Well, I assume that's where you wanted him to cum?" I asked her with a sly grin after we kissed for a while.

Beth didn't answer but just winked at me. By now, Gary had recovered and he motioned for Todd to get out of the way as I he wanted to take a crack at Beth for a while. Todd was stroking his dick which was about half flaccid now, despite his best efforts. Well, I guess I had my work cut out for me!

OK, so it wasn't the "girl's night out" as I had envisioned it. But it did turn out to be quite an evening in its own right. Beth and I traded between Gary and Todd a few times, sometimes ganging up on one and then the other, Beth even letting them DP her at one point. The two of us came several times, once together as we 69'd for the benefit of the guys at one point. It was funny in that I didn't feel so much as I was having sex with Beth as I was performing with another girl for the 'audience". I guess that's why I always say it's better when it's 1-1, as you don't feel that way when you're alone with just one guy.

Kristen and Terry never did leave the bedroom, not even when Beth and I were ready to call it a night. In the end, we left her behind to find her own way home the next morning - something Terry was more than happy to provide. She never really wanted to discuss it later but I have to wonder sometimes if she doesn't feel a little something extra special for him, despite her protests to the contrary.

Usually when you think of mentoring, you picture an older person passing on their knowledge to a younger person, leading them along their career path. Sometimes it works the other way too, and not just at work but for play too!

1. The Party

It all started out pretty much like any other party. A simple e-mail telling me the date, time and location. After all, it wasn't like I had to do much preparation other than making myself presentable. A shower, shave, hair and makeup and I was ready to go. I didn't even have to worry what to wear because whatever I chose wouldn't be on me for long once I arrived at "work".

You see, my "job" is to model lingerie and demonstrate adult toys to groups of women no different than those you might see at your typical neighborhood Tupperware party. For most of them, it's a fun evening where they get to be a little "naughty" and perhaps even a bit embarrassed but it's all meant to be fun and since ONLY women are allowed to attend, nothing really "bad" ever happens. In fact, if anything like that DID happen, the hostess would have probably fire me!

It was the beginning of December and bookings had been down a bit with the holidays and such First Thanksgiving and then the start of the Christmas shopping and as a result, the party scene was cut down seriously as the amount of time women had to attend such extraneous affairs as a Passion Party disappeared. Still, a girl has to make a living somehow so I made sure I accepted every assignment that came my way. Beggars can't be choosers.

The party itself was rather uneventful, at least from my perspective. There was the usual gasps and reddening of faces of some of the more conservative ones in the crowd, especially when I would come out in one of the more risque outfits. A little wine didn't hurt things and as they loosened up as time went by - so did my outfits. The toy demos didn't start until over an hour or so after the party started, time enough for inhibitions to drop yet even more. Even then, it's not like I masturbated for them or anything. Mostly I would just rub it up against me with perhaps a little penetration; more to tease and shock them than to turn them on. Nothing improved sales like group guilt!

Another reason I work these parties is that they are great ways to "advertise" for more provocative parties - bachelor, bachelorette, birthdays, that sort of thing. Of course, sometimes I would get requests for more "intimate" parties - maybe just one or two people, which I typically turned down or referred them to my cousin Kristen who made a career doing things of that sort.

In my mind, I'm simple earning money to get by until I can get back into a teaching position, not working my way to being a whore. There was that one time towards the beginning when I did something with a couple (it's in my diary if you're interested) but as fun as it was, I knew that if I pursued that sort of thing further I would likely gain a reputation that would kill my teaching career plans.

When the party was officially over, many of the women hung around, as they usually did, to gossip and drink more of the hostess's wine. Sharon, the distributor, would sit off to the side taking orders and handing out catalogs. Sometimes I would hang around and chat with some of the women who were interested in my "job" and perhaps the other `services" I provided. It wasn't so much that THEY wanted to do what I did, but rather more why I did it and perhaps voyeuristically share some of my experiences. Typically I tried to diplomatically dodge any such "story telling" but I also felt an obligation to help Sharon bring in more orders. Besides, I got a small commission from whatever was sold at the party so the more sales, the better.

One of the women, she called herself Kate which I later learned was short for Katrina, seemed particularly interested in me. Well, again not so much ME as what I did and how I'd gotten into this line of work. At first glance Kate looked to be your typical soccer mom, mid to late thirties, hair shorter than it had likely been when she was younger, dressed rather plainly in pants and a floral top. The modest clothes couldn't hide the fact that she was still in pretty good shape, probably thanks to a few sessions at the club each week. She seemed hesitant to buy any lingerie, though, but did seem interested in several of the less-exotic toys.

Kate was just one of several women I talked to that night and under other circumstances, I would probably never have remembered her a few weeks later. As always, I had handed out my business card to everyone at the party and evidently she had kept one because it was about two days later when I got a surprise phone call from her. It was a little embarrassing at first because I didn't remember her right away but then she reminded me about the party and our conversation and I was able to recall her face again. After her brief introduction, there was a rather long pause as I waited for her to tell me what was on her mind.

"You know... I was thinking about those toys we talked about," Kate finally said. It was like she was embarrassed to be talking about them and I could barely hear her over the phone. "It was so hard to decide which one to buy. I've never used anything like that before so I was wondering if there was one you would recommend to start with?"

Well, there's always a first time for everything and this was the first time a complete stranger had ever called me for my advice on which dildo she should buy! After the initial shock, or at least surprise, I thought for a moment and then described to her one of my favorites. It was just a small vibrator with a remote control that she could operate from her purse. Isn't thee wireless revolution great? I explained to her that not only was it enjoyable to use on yourself, it was a great way to have some kinky fun with your partner as well.

She asked me if I had one she could buy but I don't sell them myself. I told her she would have to call Sharon, the distributor, to order one and asked her if she still had the catalog since it had her name and phone number stamped on the back.

"Oh yeah, I have it somewhere...," she replied, "Ummmmm...," she paused, as if something else was really on her mind but she was afraid to say it, "Do you think I could meet with you to talk about it some more. This is sort of hard for me to discuss over the phone as you might be able to tell."

Alarm bells rang and my spidey senses tingled. She hadn't SEEMED to be the stalker or loony type but then you never know what lurks behind those naive looking faces sometimes. Kate definitely hadn't seemed to show any signs of sexual advances toward me and I got the opinion seeing her in the audience she was one of the ones that was most embarrassed when I would touch myself or show myself to the audience during the party. I couldn't quite place my finger on WHAT it was, but I was certain there was more to her request than an innocent discussion regarding my dildo and vibrator recommendations.

From past experience I knew simple questions often have much more complex realities. For instance, I'd recently had a wife ask me to do her husband as a "gift" which in the end, turned out to be some crazy fun, but Kate didn't seem to be the type to get involved in that sort of thing.

"I'm sorry, I don't mean to impose... If you don't want to meet me, that's OK," she said when I didn't answer right away, "I'm sorry I bothered you."

"No wait," I hurried back before she could hang up. I told her I would meet with her and so we set up a time for the next morning for brunch. She offered to meet me at an Eat'N Park restaurant, not exactly the most private location which was good and bad. Good in that nothing would happen in such a public place but bad in that nothing would happen in such a public place! I wasn't sure exactly what even COULD happen but my curiosity was peaked now. And you know what curiosity did to the cat...!

2. Getting to Know Kate

The next morning I drove to the restaurant she had recommended. It was part of a chain with several in the area so I hoped I remembered the right one! Once inside, I saw someone waving at me from a booth towards the back and I recognized Kate. Waving off the hostess, I walked in and took a seat opposite her in the booth.

Kate was dressed about like me - jeans and a blouse, nothing fancy or even suggestive. It was the witching hour between breakfast and lunch when business was slow and there was nobody on either side of us at the time. The waitress came by and offered me coffee, which I politely refused, asking for water instead. Kate was already on what was at least her second cup of coffee judging by the empty cream and sugar packs She was drinking regular rather than decaf so I could just imagine the caffeine levels in her blood about now!

"You know, I can't believe I asked you to meet me here like this," she finally said after we exchanged some inane comments about the traffic and weather. "I've never done anything like this before."

I tried my best to suppress a smile. What in the world was she talking about? We were just two women sitting in a booth in a typical Bob-Evans style restaurant. What was so special about it?

"Oh I suppose you're wondering what I'm talking about," she rambled on, evidently catching the puzzled expression on my face. "You seemed so easy to talk to about things the other night and I don't know.... I guess I thought maybe you could help me."

OK, so what did THAT mean? I just sat there with what I hoped was a supportive look and posture for her to continue. Ten minutes in and I still had no idea where this was leading!

"OK, I guess I should just say it then... My husband and I haven't had sex in over a year and I was hoping you might help me be... well more... appealing if you know what I mean."

Whoa! Boy, talking about a change of course the conversation! My mind raced as a number of possibilities came and went. Were they having problems with their marriage? Was he cheating on her? Was she as conservative and repressed in bed as she seemed to be in life and maybe he was just bored with her? Was there a physical issue that needed to be addressed - maybe something medical? Maybe it was just a simple case of ED and some Viagra was all they needed. If so, it wasn't like it wasn't advertised so why hadn't they tried it? It's amazing how fast your mind can churn and the number of ideas you can have in just a few seconds!

"Do you mind my asking how old your husband is?" I said gently, trying hard not to appear as surprised as I felt.

"He's 49. I'm 38... he wants a younger wife I think. We've been married for eighteen years now."

"Kids?"

"Two - boy sixteen and a girl fifteen."

"Ummmmm, can he get it up?"

Granted, it was your typical conversation starter but I didn't think it was THAT personal a question, especially considering what she had told me about their non-existent sex life, so I was a little surprised when the tears started to form. Was she a psycho or what? Kate swallowed hard and then bit her lip before answering.

"Well, at least not with me."

Now I couldn't let it go at that. What exactly did she mean?

"What do you mean Kate?", was the obvious follow-up question.

"Well, I know he masturbates. Sometimes forgets to clean up after himself and I find the nasty tissues and towels he uses. There's porn on his computer but I'm afraid to say anything about it. So he MUST be able to do it but when he's with me he claims he can't."

"Well, an erections usually not something most men con control and keep from happening so it's probably true, at least so far as that goes," I said. "Has he seen a doctor? I mean, there are all sorts of things advertised on TV that he can take to help himself."

Kate pursed her lips again but she hung in there and answered, "He claims he has but he won't let me go with him, says he is too embarrassed to discuss it with the doctor in front of me. He's gotten some pills but they don't seem to help."

I sat there for a moment, not sure where to go from here. For THAT matter, why was she telling me all this crap anyway? It sounded like either he needed a better doctor or they needed a marriage counselor, neither position for which I was qualified... or wanted to be involved in.

"So Kate, why tell me all this?" Again, the obvious follow-up question but it had to be asked.

"Oh wow.... I feel so embarrassed talking about this but I thought someone.... well someone like you would understand," she started out. I wasn't too sure I was exactly thrilled over the "someone like you" commentary as I doubted she meant it as a compliment, at least not in her mind. "I guess I have needs too," she finished up by saying.

Her voice trailed off after that and again, my mind raced with all sorts of possibilities. Was she looking for sex? That was my first reaction but one look at her and it was obvious that it wasn't the case. When I was doing my thing at the party she could barely even look at me, let alone appear turned on by me, and even now she seemed more embarrassed than horny.

Then it dawned on me. Yo! Earth to Kelly - wake up! Of course, that's what it was all about. The first thing she had asked about was a toy. Kate was looking for a substitute for her husband's unresponsive dick. Yet something also told me it wasn't a fake dick she was looking for either

"Kate... Doesn't your husband try to help you, even if he can't do it himself?"

"He tries and he says he enjoys it, even if he can't get an erection, but I know he just does it to keep me from complaining... or leaving him. He knows I could NEVER leave him or cheat on him. Kelly, I want you to know that I love my husband totally. It's just I don't want to go without sex for the rest of my life."

"So you think a dildo or some other toy is going to take the place of your husband?"

Kate got that determined look again and her lips practically disappeared as she thought about how to answer me.

"I don't know... I've never masturbated before."

Well, I can't say I was totally shocked. I'd known girls before, even roomed with one back in college, that claim to have never masturbated. Regarding my personal experience, it was a religious thing where my college roomie believed that masturbation was morally the same as having sex, just without a partner present, making the fantasies that accompanied it perverted and against the will of God. Other than her, though, I've never personally known anyone who has truly NEVER masturbated at least a little.

Thoughts of my Aunt Sheri came to mind but even then, someone as narrow-minded and twisted as her must still have those urges, those personal moments where she lets her fingers to the walking, so to speak. For Kate to say she NEVER masturbated was a little hard to believe but if true, it certainly might explain her weird behavior.

"NEVER?" I questioned her, letting a little of the doubt in my thoughts seep out in my tone of voice, "Not even ONCE?"

"Never," she confirmed, "I was raised in a very strict family and my mom taught me that masturbation was perverted and nasty...something only THOSE girls did and that if I was a good wife to my husband that he would be enough to satisfy my needs."

"So you've never even TRIED?"

"Oh I've thought about, sure I have. I just can't get over that feeling I get any time I start to put my hand anywhere near myself that way. I can't even look at myself down there."

"Then how in the world do you ever plan to use a toy?" It was a question that had to be asked. If she was so self-conscious that she couldn't even LOOK at her pussy, how was she going to use a toy on it?

"I hope you don't mind me asking this Kate... but have you ever had an orgasm?"

Kate flushed red, even more so than she already had been.

"I don't THINK so... Bruce always asks me that so I use to try to do the things I thought a girl should do when she has one to make him happy, but I've never actually felt any of those things you see girls do in movies or such."

Gradually I was getting more of a picture here and it was becoming all the more interesting as it came into focus. Kate could have easily just ordered a toy at the party and avoided all the embarrassment of confessing these things to me if that's all she wanted. But would she have actually had the nerve to USE it on herself?

Probably not. I was starting to get a pretty good idea of what she REALLY wanted from me. Seeing her eyes avert from mine and just from her overall posture and appearance, I doubted she was going to have the courage to carry this through without some help from me.

"So Kate, were you hoping for me to help you in some way?" I asked gently, trying to see if I could coax it out of her without actually leading her too much. She didn't answer so I got a little more provocative, hoping to get some sort of a reaction.

"Were you looking to have sex with me?"

Well, THAT got a reaction, needless to say, but not what I was looking for. Kate's eyes opened wide like saucers and her face REALLY turned red this time. Her mouth hung open like a fish out of water and for a moment I thought she was going to get up and run away waving her hands over her head and screaming like a crazy person.

"Oh my god no! Never! I could NEVER do anything like that," she protested, her voice rising enough that I had to hold up my hand to signal her to keep it down.

She looked around nervously, evidently afraid that someone might have overheard us but there was nobody within twenty feet of us or more. "Heaven forbid, I am NOT a homosexual."

It wasn't the time to debate homosexuality versus bisexuality, so I just smiled at her and tried to calm her back down again. When I reached out and tried to hold her hand, she pulled it back, probably afraid now that I would try to make some sort of a move on her now.

"I'm so sorry Kate, I didn't mean to say anything to upset you. I just don't understand why you're telling me all this, that's all... believe me."

Kate seemed to settle down a bit. "Well, I thought this would be a LOT easier than it has been... I'm sorry, I didn't mean to overreact... I can see where you might have gotten that impression. I suppose for girls like you it's no big deal but oh my god, I could never do such a thing."

There it was again; "girls like you". Hmmmmmm, I could only imagine what type of girl she thought I was and to be fair, I couldn't blame her since all she knew about me was what she had seen at the party and if that was all she was basing her analysis of me on, she must likely think of me as a whore, or least a slut – and not in the way I like to think of me as a slut.

Kate took a deep breath and finally came out with it saying, "Here goes nothing... I was hoping maybe you could teach me to masturbate with one of those toys you showed us. You know, maybe be my mentor or something like that. I know you're younger than me but I would prefer to think of it as something like that."

Wow, now THAT was something new for me. After all these years, I've never had someone come to me from out of the blue and ask me to teach them to masturbate! Most girls learned that on their own or with a friend when they were in their early teens. For a woman her age to even NEED to learn was something extraordinary. At the same time, it WAS something unusual, something new, and that's what appealed to me. Kate seemed so naive yet at the same time, she was no overweight middle-aged woman who had let herself go.

There must have been something more to her husband's erectile dysfunction then she had said as I couldn't see any reason why a man wouldn't be attracted to her sexually. Hmmm, too bad she was so straight as she didn't look all that unappealing to me! In a way, she reminded me of my Aunt Linda. Not at all physically, but more the age difference and relationship we had.

"So how did you think this would happen Kate?" I asked, figuring it might be best for her to take the lead as much as possible.

"Gosh... I have NO idea!" she busted out, "I really can't even believe I got THIS far!"

I thought for a few moments and then a plan began to gather in my mind.

"OK Kate, I'll help you," I said, "But I think we should get to know each other a little better first, don't you?"

Kate's eyes widened again and I think she thought maybe I was making a move on her so I quickly jumped in to correct her thoughts. "Don't worry, I didn't mean anything like THAT", leaving her fertile imagination to figure out what "THAT" meant. "I meant just go out and get to know a little more about each other, maybe some shopping or something."

Once again, Kate visibly relaxed and then after a few seconds of thought she agreed. We set up a time for a few days later at the mall and from there the subject was dropped and we finished off our drinks over some innocuous small talk before leaving, not even shaking hands, let alone exchanging hugs.

On the way back to my apartment, I marveled at the events of the past hour or so. Damn, who knew? I mean, I would NEVER have imagined that someone like her would EVER ask me to do something like this. I was actually feeling a little tingle between my legs and I knew before I got home it would become a lot more, enough that I had a good idea of what I would be doing for a while once I got back!

I did.

3. Our First Date

We met at the mall food court a few days later, just as planned. In between I hadn't heard a word from Kate, not a phone call, e-mail or text message. Then again, I wasn't sure if Kate was all that computer literate. She was at that age where it could have gone either way. Probably it was a case where her husband did all the computer stuff and she didn't bother with it.

Seeing her sitting at an empty table, her purse sitting on her lap, together with knowing why we were meeting, I almost had laugh but somehow I managed to control myself and just smile nicely instead. Kate was dressed in loose jeans and a turtleneck top with a winter jacket over it all. A pair of plain brown dress loafers and a simple gold necklace around her neck finished it off. Her makeup was basic, some eyeliner, lipstick and a light base but nothing overwhelming. A pair of diamond earrings were in her ears, no doubt a present from her loving, if dysfunctional, husband. Hmmm, they looked to be pretty big ones too. Was someone trying to compensate for something, maybe buy her off?

I would have given anything to be able to read her mind just when she saw me. The look on her face was priceless so no doubt her thoughts had to be something else indeed. While I was far from being in full "slut mode", I wasn't exactly dressed for family day at church either. Had it been summer I would've gone for shorts but with winter arriving, a short denim skirt was more in order. Granted, when I say short, I mean SHORT - as in just a few inches down from the bottom of my ass and tight around the waist with ruffled bottom half.

Underneath I was wearing a standard black thong which wasn't visible - yet at least, but when I sat down it would take some careful maneuvering NOT to show it off when I crossed my legs, if I really wanted to hide it in the first place. On top I had a tight pink camisole, no bra, that came down to my bellybutton when I tugged it down but then it would quickly creep up to reveal a few inches of my torso. I liked the way it dropped down low enough to show plenty of cleavage and with the cold air outside my nipples were popping through like someone had put the nipples from a baby bottle underneath!

My high heels were about four inches, enough to let me strut through the mall and make the best of my legs while not so high I was in danger of tripping over myself all the time. I was wearing a thin winter jacket with a fur-lined collar that was unzipped, falling open to let everyone see what little I was wearing underneath. If nothing else, was certainly getting the looks from every teenage boy in the place, not to mention most of the older ones as well.

"Hi Kate, I'm so glad you could make it!" I greeted her as I took a seat opposite.

I crossed my legs just slowly enough to let some of my "observers" catch a quick glimpse of my thong and wondered if they were turned on seeing my underwear or disappointed that I was wearing it in the first place.

"Oh my god, I can't believe your outfit!" she gasped, trying to appear nonplussed but clearly flustered.

"What's the matter Kate?" I asked, trying to appear as if I really didn't know what would be bothering her. "Too conservative?"

She rolled her eyes at my futile attempt at humor. "Like... you may as well not be wearing anything... you know? Do you always go out looking like THAT"

After some of her comments at breakfast earlier in the week, Kate seemed to have this knack for insulting me without actually doing so but I didn't take it personally, it was just her. I leaned over towards her, deliberately so as to let my boobs hang down to give her a good view of them. She started to avert her eyes but it was like a car wreck where you know you shouldn't look but yet you can't resist.

"Look, one of the things you need if we're going to make this work is more self-esteem. Dang it Kate, you're a hot women yet you dress like my grandmother. How do you expect to get yourself off when you're don't appreciate what you've got?"

She looked at me with an odd expression, as if she didn't quite understand what I'd said - or maybe it was more like she didn't WANT to understand.

"Look, we're going to do some shopping and have some fun, OK?"

Kate just nodded, as if she was unsure of herself to speak. I took her by the hand and this time she didn't pull back. It wasn't anything overt, just two girlfriends holding hands but it was a step, albeit a small one, in the right direction.

As we stepped out into the general mall area, I turned to Kate and smiled saying, "OK, first things first, you need some new clothes! What do you say we start from the inside and work our way out, OK?"

At this point I think Kate was just overwhelmed. It was hard to think of her as being fourteen years older than me. You would have thought SHE would be the one to teach ME, not the other way around. From the way she flinched as we walked by, I think she was a bit surprised when we passed the Victoria Secret store and headed for Macy's instead.

"You seem surprised," I observed as we walked quickly down the aisle towards the mall anchor store,

"Well, I just assumed you did all your shopping at places like THAT," she replied, still a note of surprise in her voice. There it was again, that inadvertent little dig which was starting to get irritating!

"Well, believe it or not, you can get some pretty nice things at regular departments stores and pay half the price," I told her, "Besides, I know the guy who works the lingerie department at Macy's... we're pretty good friends." Kate looked at me at that and I laughed at her paranoia. "Noooooo, not THAT kind of friend... you'll understand when you meet him."

Entering the lingerie department, I spotted Frank and pulled Kate over to him. She probably would never have guess that this was the guy I was talking about... and for good reason. Frank was in his fifties, very thin and dressed, as always, immaculately. One look and you just KNEW he had to be gay - and you'd be right.

"Frank, I want you to meet my good friend Kate, she needs some advice on a few things and I told her who better than you to help her out!"

Frank took Kate's hand and bowed slightly. He introduced himself and Kate sort of replied, but barely audible. Frank looked at me with a "what the hell is this all about" type of glance but we'd known each other for years and I knew he trusted me enough that if Kate was a "friend" of mine then she was OK. Actually, my mom introduced me to Frank back when I was getting my first bra. He was someone I trusted totally, probably one of the few men I could strip naked in front of and know with 100% certainty that he wasn't imaging fucking me.

"You know Kate, Frank once told me that 90% of the women he sees are not wearing the right bra size, or at least don't have their bras adjusted properly. Isn't that so Frank?"

Frank was giving Kate the once over and didn't even seem to have heard me. Kate shifted her weight from one foot to the other, clearly uncomfortable with the situation. Frank had one hand to his chin with the other cupping his elbow, clearly lost in thought as he stared at Kate's chest. It was more like he was analyzing her than ogling her though. Frank was always a total professional in his work and I knew Kate was 100% safe with him. His mannerisms were a little hard to get use to as when most men looked a5t you the way Frank did, it meant something entirely different.

"When was the last time you were fitted?" he asked her softly. Kate just shrugged and Frank shook his head and smiled at her. "Well Kate, I think I can help you. Do you mind if we step back into a dressing room?"

Kate looked at me as if checking to see if this was all on the up and up. I just nodded and smiled, assuring her in my own way that everything was just fine. Her chest rose as she took a deep breath and followed Frank into one of the back rooms. Once inside, he pulled out a tape measure from a drawer. Then he pointed at her top and fluttered his finger at her.

"Let's get to it... I can't do anything with your clothes on you know.... so let's get them off," he instructed her, as if it was just the most natural thing for a woman to strip in front of him. Kate hesitated and I was sure she had to be wondering what in the world I'd gotten her into.

"Say Kate, would it help if I took my top off too?" I offered, trying to make her more comfortable.

She quickly shook her head and said no, that it was bad enough to undress for a strange man let alone be topless with another girl at the same time! With that, she unbuttoned her blouse. I helped take it off of her and then I hung it on a hook on the back of the door. That left her in her bra, a conservative Playtex style that my grandmother probably would have preferred but nothing sexy whatsoever about it.

As I was already behind her, I reached out and started to unhook her bra clasps. She started to pull away instinctively but then she stood her ground and allowed me to unsnap it completely. The shoulder straps fell to the side and she held the bra against her boobs to keep it from falling to the floor.

"C'mon, put that old thing to the side and let's get going Kate," Frank encouraged her.

Kate sighed audibly and let it fall from her boobs, setting it on the bench seat to the side of her. For the first time I saw her naked, well topless at least. Her boobs weren't as perky as I'm sure they were years ago but they were still quite solid and held themselves up pretty much on their own - suspiciously well in fact. Frank picked on that as well.

"Nice... Dr. Wanchowski's work I assume?"

Kate's eyes widened as if she had been goosed, "Uhhhhh, how did you...?"

Frank smiled and assured her, saying, "Hey, you see enough women as I do and you start to recognize the workmanship. The man's a genius and I see you were no exception.

Ahhhhhh, so Kate's boobs WERE fake! I wouldn't have guessed it but then I'd never seen her topless before either. Considering how conservative she was always dressed, the odds of anyone else seeing her "assets" bared were pretty remote. I had a sneaking suspicion that the boob job was something her husband had demanded. Most women that get their boobs done can't wait to show them off to the world. The fact Kate always kept hers well-hidden was a pretty strong statement in and by itself.

"Actually, I'm a bit surprised the good doctor never told you what size you were," Frank commented, making conversation as he approached Kate with the tape measure, "That's unusual. You know, for full-figured women like yourself, having the correct bra fitting is more than how you look, it's essential to your health and comfort."

He reached around her and measured her band size and then cup size. He seemed to be doing some calculations in his head and then measured her boob again, as if he wasn't sure the first measurements he had taken were correct. It might have had something to do with her plastic surgery. For girls like me, with "average" boobs and "natural" shape, the standard measurements usually came out pretty close but when a woman deliberately modifies the shape of her breasts from what Mother Nature intended, Frank told me in the past it can be a bitch to get the right size! Usually he would mutter something about "don't fool with Mother nature" but he was too much of a gentlemen to make such a comment in front of Kate.

Frank abruptly left the dressing room, leaving Kate blushing like a little girl after kissing her first crush. She held her hands over her boobs, as if she was trying to hide herself from me. I reached out and gently pushed her hands down to her side.

"You know Kate, you've got a GREAT figure and you shouldn't be embarrassed to let others see it," I said, trying to reassure her.

Kate tried to smile but it was obviously forced. "I TOLD you Kelly, I'm not THAT kind of girl," she whispered to me, as if afraid someone might overhear us.

Just then Frank returned and Kate quickly tried to cover herself again. Frank had brought back several bras of different styles and colors with one thing in common - they were all a heck of a lot more revealing than the old-maid version she'd been wearing when she came in. As much as she tried to hide it, I couldn't help but notice a slight smile at the edge of her lips as she looked at them.

One by one, Frank tried them on her. My favorite was the red one, It was so deeply cut that it barely concealed her nipples and it lifted her just slightly, enough to emphasize her cleavage without having that fake "WonderBra" look where your boobs are all squeezed into the middle of your chest. I convinced her to leave it on and I think she liked it, even if she tried to act as thought it was too revealing for her.

Frank seemed to like it as well, adjusting the straps for the best possible fit. Then he motioned at her pants saying, "Now for the rest. I'll be back in a moment... be ready."

He turned and left without a word, leaving Kate a bit confused. "He didn't mean I should...." her voice trailed off as she digested what he'd said.

"Well, unless you like to try on panties over your pants, then I guess so," I said with a grin. She was so funny in the desperate look she had. "Just take your pants off for now and leave your panties on. I'm sure that will be OK for now."

That didn't seem too bad for her so she unzipped the side of her pants and dropped them to the floor, stepping out of them and then hanging them up on another hook. It was the first time I'd had a good look at her ass and legs and again I had to say she kept herself up pretty well for a woman who wasn't getting any for over a year! Her butt wasn't quite as firm as it most likely was ten years ago but it was still tight, at least as best I could tell with her white cotton granny panties. There was such a contrast between the new bra and panties, the new versus the old. We didn't have time to say anything as Frank was back quickly with several items in his hands which he set down on a chair next to the door.

Frank selected a pair of high cut black lace panties and held them out for Kate to see. Her mouth dropped open just a but as she most likely had never imagined wearing anything like that. Frank huffed a little as he waited rather impatiently for her to undress and try them on but Kate didn't seem to be getting the message.

"Ummmmm, Kate, don't you want to try them on?" I gently nudged her.

"Now?" she questioned me, "In front of the two of you?" I just nodded and smiled, trying to appear as encouraging and non-threatening as possible.

Kate turned away slightly and slowly dropped her panties, leaving her bottomless and giving me a great view of her bare ass. Even better without the panties! I would have loved to have spanked her playfully but I doubted she would have known what to do if I had, probably scared her more than anything.

Slowly she turned around, one hand over her pussy as if trying to hide it but being only marginally successful. She appeared to have trimmed it slightly, at least enough to keep it presentable when wearing a conservative swimsuit, but other than that, it was long and bushy. It reminded me of how my mom use to keep her pussy trimmed and my Aunt Linda wore hers the same as well. Must be a generational thing, I guess. Kate reached out and took the panties, finally removing her hand from her crotch so she could pull the new ones on.

"Wow, I know I said it before but dang it Kate. you really have a great figure!" I said, trying to get her over her shyness. If anything, it seemed to have the opposite effect, making her all the more shy.

"Oh my, these don't hide much, do they?" Kate said in a hushed tone as she looked in the mirror. From her body language, I wasn't sure if it was the way her bush spilled out from the narrow crotch of the panties or how revealing her ass was - probably a bit of both.

"All you have to do it trim a little more and it won't stick out like that," I told her, pointing to her crotch while resisting the temptation to reach out and touch it. I lifted my skirt to reveal my own thong. "See, if you shave it like mine then it doesn't show at all."

Kate stared at my crotch for a moment before she seemed to realize what she was doing and again, her face regained the flushness that had been slowly disappearing until now.

Kate tried on several more pair, seeming to become a little less self-conscious of being bottomless between pairs. In the end, I liked the first pair she tried on the most. There were some that were more revealing but as firm as she was for her age, she was still almost 40 and gravity can be cruel. I had her put those back on and then look in the mirror. Between the slutty red bra and high cut panties, she looked totally different than when we had first stepped in. Even Frank, who had been keeping relatively quiet throughout, murmured his approval.

"So what do you say Kate, I think this is the best ensemble, don't you?" I asked. She nodded and I gave Frank a wink. Frank gathered up the other pieces and said he would meet us at register when we were ready, leaving Kate and me alone.

"I don't know Kelly... I mean these are soooooo, well slutty," she debated, more with herself I think than me.

"Oh no! I think they look great and you're going to get them, ok?" I said, deciding a little push was needed and she seemed to finally agree. She started to take them off but I put my hand on her shoulder to stop her.

"Hey, leave them on, we have more shopping to do and you want to make sure everything goes together, right?"

Kate looked at me, again with that semi-disbelieving look as if she wasn't sure if I was serious or pulling her leg. I handed her the blouse and she didn't protest further. As she buttoned it up I again reached out and stopped her about half-way up.

"What's the point in wearing a sexy bra if nobody sees it?" I teased her gently. By now she was not fighting me anymore and instead she put on her pants. As she slid them up over her butt I thought to myself that they had to go, and soon!

We paid for the two pieces and I gave a Frank a hug and a peck on the cheek for his help. "See ya later," I promised him as we left the store.

From there we must have visited half the women's clothing stores in the mall - or more like all of them if you listened to her description later. Even though I knew I was drawing the attention of a number of guys of all ages, for once I ignored them for the most part as I was more interested in what I was doing with Kate.

It was fun for me, watching her eyes widen as I showed her various outfits that were most likely more revealing than anything she'd ever worn in her life. At the same time, she WAS 38 so it's not like I wanted her to look like some mother trying to imitate her twelve year-old daughter at a Hanna Montana concert.

At one store, just for fun I snagged a REALLY short skirt, just to get her reaction. When I brought it back to the dressing room, she took one look at it and shook her head.

"OH no, now THAT'S going too far girl... no WAY am I wearing that!" she protested.

I assured her it was just for fun and nobody would see her but me so why not do it just to try it on once? She sighed and took it from me, reluctantly drawing it up her legs and over her butt. It was REALLY short, barely more than enough to cover her butt - assuming she was standing up. Even I would have had to think twice before wearing such a skirt in public and then only somewhere sleazy where I could get away with looking like a slut without being arrested for indecent exposure!

"You know...," I said slowly, my hand to my chin as I thought about it some more, "I bet this might get the attention of someone back home."

"Oh god no, Bruce would think I'd lost my mind if I wore something like this!" she said, shaking her head quickly.

"Well, how will you know if you never try?" I argued.

I could tell that it was a little more than she was ready to handle yet so I went out and found one that was actually quite similar to my own, perhaps a little longer. This time she didn't seem to mind it as much and she even started loosening up a little, pretending to pose for me in it like she was teasing me. My pussy twinged a bit and I wondered if she knew how seeing her acting more suggestive was REALLY impacting me! Had it been my cousin, no doubt I would have started playing with myself at this point but I didn't think Kate was quite THAT loose yet!

It took all afternoon but finally the two of us were strutting our stuff around the mall. No longer did we look like a younger slut out with her mousey mother. Indeed, Kate looked like she was ten years younger with fresh makeup, the short skirt and a new blouse that was just transparent enough to allow her new bra to be visible through it. Her loafers had been replaced by some heels which while not nearly as high as mine, making her almost three inches higher than she'd been when she walked in the mall.

"Hey, did you see those boys looking at us?" I whispered to her. She giggled a little - a couple of glasses of wine during the course of the afternoon were finally helping out a bit.

"Oh my god, they must be in high school," she said in a conspiratorial voice, "I feel like I'm robbing the cradle."

"Why don't we give them something to REALLY look at?" I suggested. She paused and looked at me, obviously wondering what I meant by that. "C'mon, let's sit down on that bench over there."

Kate followed me but she was talking the whole way over. "SIT? In PUBLIC wearing THIS skirt?" she asked rhetorically, "No way!"

"Oh come on Kate, that's the fun of dressing like this, to tease and show off!"

"Yeah... Easy for YOU to say," she came back, "Let's face it, I don't look like you."

We reached the bench and I turned to her and looked her in the eyes. "Kate, you look GREAT. Who do you think they were looking at the most back there? There's plenty of slutty girls like me around but you're a definite MILF!"

"MILF?" Kate questioned me, evidently not familiar with the phrase.

"Mother I'd Like to..," I said, not finishing it off but she got the idea and her eyes widened like saucers. "Now sit down slowly and don't look at them, pretend they're not even there."

I could feel my skirt riding up on me as I sat and Kate must have had the same sensation as she reached down to hold it down.

"Just let it go," I admonished her gently, "Pretend you don't even realize that it's doing that. Let them think you don't know they can see your crotch."

With that she tugged even more and I gently took her hand and pulled it away as discretely as I could.

"You've got panties on so don't worry... it gets more fun when you don't."

"You mean you..." she started to ask me as the reality of what I was implying struck her.

"Sure, and so will you someday."

Kate started to protest but then she couldn't help but look across the way to where several teenage boys were just staring at us, seemingly oblivious to the fact that we could see them looking. I slowly crossed and the recrossed my legs, making sure they got a good eyeful each time. Kate kept her still but with the skirt riding up so high, it barely covered her but and showed off almost her entire upper thigh.

"Now imagine how they'll be jerking off tonight when they get home... thinking about YOU Kate... about fucking you... isn't that just so cool?"

Before she could answer, a couple of older women shopping together passed by the boys and seeing them staring and pointing, they looked to see what the commotion was about. It was all I could do to keep from bursting out in laughter when I saw their mouths drop open when they saw us. You didn't have to be a master lip reader to know what they were calling us!

"Oh God Kelly, we have to go... this is SO embarrassing! What if someone I know sees me like this?

I could see she was getting pretty stressed out and to be honest, she'd come a LOT further along than I had dared hope for when I started the day off. We got up, her being more careful about her skirt than me but still I was willing to bet most of the mall saw what type of panties she was wearing. Regretfully, it was time to call it a day as Kate wanted to be back home before her husband returned from work. In the parking lot, we prepared to go to our cars and suddenly she reached out and hugged me.

"Oh Kelly, I had such a good time today... really I did," she said. For a moment, I thought she was going to cry.

"Well, be sure to let me know what Bruce thinks of your new outfit," I said, enjoying the feeling of her tight against me. She sighed and I could see the nervousness back in her face again.

"I'll try to get the courage up.. that's all I can promise," she said, rolling her eyes and grinning at me.

That night as I laid in bed and masturbated, I wondered what Kate would say if she knew those teenage boys at the mall weren't the only ones getting off thinking about her tonight! I'd shown a tremendous amount of willpower today and I guess I was a little proud of myself. Either that or I was incredibly stupid!

4. Kate's First Masturbation Lesson

It was almost three weeks before I heard anything again from Kate. There were a number of times when I was tempted to call her and find out how she was doing but I forced myself to set the phone aside and be patient. Maybe she was more freaked out by the day at the mall than I had thought. As innocent as that day had been, at least from my perspective, I knew it had most likely blindsided her out a bit - or maybe even a lot. It was killing me not knowing how had things gone with her husband. Did she have the nerve to show it to him? Did he like it? Did it "motivate" him as we had hoped?

It was almost got to the point where I was afraid she had chickened out or something else had happened to stop her from carrying on any further with me. Then one morning my phone rang and my heart jumped as I saw who it was that was calling me - Kate!

"Hi Kelly, sorry I haven't gotten back to you sooner but with holidays and all... well, you know how it is," she apologized.

Trying not to sound as anxious as I was feeling, I assured it that everything was fine and for a few minutes we discussed our Christmas gifts and what we did for New year's Eve, that sort of trivia. Finally, just as I was starting to wonder if we would ever get to the point, she asked me if I could stop over for some coffee and lunch, that she wanted to talk to me about some "things". This wasn't the time to tell her about my passionate dislike for coffee so I simply agreed to come over in a little while.

After hanging up, I had to wonder what Kate had in mind. Did this have anything to do with her original phone call and request to me? Maybe it was nothing beyond some more clothing advice. She hadn't mentioned a word about her husband - was that a good sign or bad? I threw on some comfortable jeans and a t-shirt, nothing sexy or special, and drove over to her place, arriving a few minutes after the noon hour.

Kate must have been watching for me because she greeted me at the door as I approached up the walkway. Once I stepped in, she closed the door behind me, talking my coat and hanging it up in the hallway closet. I noticed she was dressed in jeans as well, but with a nice shirt on that she had left hanging out. It gave her an authentic "mom at home" look.

"Sorry, I didn't ask if you liked coffee," she said, leading me into the kitchen.

I apologized as well, telling her I never drank it but a diet soft drink or even just water was fine with me. Fortunately, she had a couple cans of Diet Coke in the refrigerator which was perfect for me and we sat at the kitchen table while she mixed up some cream and sugar with her coffee.

"Well, so how did things go when you got home after our shopping trip?" I finally had to ask after we spent the first ten minutes or so talking about TV reality shows and local gossip.

Kate's smile suddenly changed to a frown and I worried that I may have asked the wrong question.

"Oh Kelly, I DID try.... I really did!" she said, her eyes starting to tear up. "Bruce was surprised... to say the least, maybe more like shocked but still I think he liked it on me. Then he asked me whatever possessed me to buy such an outfit and when I tried to tell him what happened he turned away and acted like he didn't want to know. Then he got mad at me for `wasting' so much money and even accused me of unfairly taunting him when I knew there was nothing he could do to respond properly."

Naturally I was more than a little surprised to hear all this. Sheesh, what a jerk! Here his wife tries to do her best to seduce him and all he does is lay a guilt trip on her for HIS malfunctioning dick - IF it was malfunctioning in the first place.

Kate continued, reaching for a Kleenex on the kitchen counter, "So needless to say, we didn't do anything. God Kelly, I guess I can say this to you... I was SO damn horny. I felt like going out on the deck and just screaming, the frustration was THAT big in me. It was so much fun and I came home feeling soooooo good after being out with you and then WHAM, it was all over, just like that."

Kate sat there quietly, not saying another word and the room was deathly quiet for a few minutes, so quiet I could hear the fizzle of my Diet Coke. All I could think about was what I should say next - and maybe what NOT to say.

Then I recalled why she had gotten in touch with me in the first place and how maybe it was even more important now than ever for her to find the proper outlet for her sexual frustrations. Reaching over the table, I took her hands in mine and our eyes met as the silence continued. It was like she was silently pleading with me, her eyes imploring me to help her, to take that first step that she knew she never could - but wanted to do so badly.

"Kate, do you still want me to help you masturbate?" I finally said softly, figuring it was better to just get straight to the point and not fool around with silly euphemisms.

"I guess so," she replied, so softly that even in the awkward silence I could barely make it out.

"What do you say we go to your bedroom, OK?"

She bit her lower lip, almost like it was back in her teenage days and it was the first time she was considering going to her bedroom with a boy - or wherever it was that she had her first sexual experience. Finally she just nodded silently and led me up the stairs into the master bedroom. It was nothing TOO fancy but at the same time, just right for someone like her. A queen sized bed with cherry furniture that looked pretty well made. There was a door that looked to lead to a master bathroom and I could just make out the entrance to a large walking closet at the back of it. At first we just stood there, maybe a foot or so apart, our arms to our sides, each waiting for the other to make a move.

It didn't take the genius of a rocket scientist to realize that Kate was never going to initiate anything. As for me, this was all new territory as well. I'd never been in such a position with a woman older than me, for that matter not with one younger than me either! Really, where do you start I a situation that's practically like having to teach you mother to pleasure herself?

"SO have you ever seen anyone masturbate?" I asked her, trying to break the ice.

"Well, I told you before that I've seen my husband doing it," she answered. "I thought it was disgusting."

OK, so I worded THAT question wrong. "I meant... have you ever seen a WOMAN masturbating?"

"Oh noooooo, never," she said softly. "I remember back in my youth camp days some of the sluttier girls would put their hands in their panties at night but it's not like I really WATCHED them or anything like that."

I smiled at the way she referred to them as "the sluttier girls". No doubt that description would have fit me had we gone to camp together!

"Well then Kate, do you think it would help if maybe you watched me do it first?" I offered tentatively, still not really sure how to play my hand.

"Oh I don't know...I'm not sure I could watch that," she said, retreating just a bit at just the suggestion of seeing another girl having sex with herself.

Nonplussed at her initial rejection, I patted the edge of the bed towards the foot. "So why don't you just sit here and don't say another word... just watch me. Remember - not a word."

Kate started to say something but I knew it would just be more reasons for NOT watching me so I shushed her and patted the bed again. This time she listened to me and took her seat. In the back of my mind I was a bag of mixed emotions. As much as I LOVE to masturbate and as much as I LOVE to have someone watch me, this was completely different from turning on a boy in the front seat of his car. It was a bit frustrating because I don't think Kate saw me in any sort of sexual way, at least not in terms of being turned on by me. If she was so straight, how would she react to me doing anything in front of her? Heck, for THAT matter, how would I react to someone with her attitude watching me?

Well, there was only one way to find out. What the heck, what was the worst that could happen? So I took a deep breath and undressed in front of her. When I started, my intent was only to lower my jeans enough to rub myself but then I suddenly changed my mind and decided to go for it all - be totally nude.

From the way Kate was looking at me, I suspected she had also expected a more minimalist approach and when she realized that I was stripping down all the way, her eyes widened and I thought I could see some redness on her cheeks. It was then I realized that she had not seen me undress during our day at the mall and so she hadn't seen me nude since the party which was now a couple of months in the past. Even then, I hadn't technically been nude but given what I was wearing at times there wasn't much difference. Also, when I model at parties I try not to make it overly sensual, at least not in the way I would've had I been trying to turn on a partner.

When I was naked I got up on the bed and arranged the pillows so I could lay back against them and be propped up enough to see what I was doing. At first I just laid back with my legs outstretched in front of me, my bare feet just a little bit away from where she was sitting. The room wasn't what I would call cold but then it wasn't exactly hot either and I could feel a few goose bumps rising on my legs and arms. My nipples were already at attention and I hadn't even touched them yet!

"Are you cold?" Kate asked, a note of concern in her voice, "I can turn up the thermostat if it would help. Bruce keeps the house so damn chilly all the time."

I assured her that I was just fine and besides, I was expecting things to heat up nicely on their own in a few minutes anyway! There was no sense in delaying any further so I started to talk to her, to explain what I was doing.

"I guess every woman does it a little different," I started off, "Some like to use toys, others just their fingers.... Me...I'm a finger girl all the way. I think that toys are something you can try after you've mastered using your fingers."

As she watched I pulled my legs back until my feet were flat on the bedspread with my knees together. Then I slowly spread my legs apart, keeping my knees straight up which effectively parted my thighs, giving Kate an unobstructed view of my freshly shaved crotch. Seeing her looking at me made me feel excited yet strangely nervous. After all, as much as I loved to have someone watch me masturbate and as many times as I've done so in the past, especially as a high school teen on dates, usually it was as much watching the other person getting turned on by seeing me masturbate as much as it was what I was doing to myself that got me going.

In this case, while I was hoping Kate would get at least a little bit turned on by me, it was almost clinical rather than being erotic. Sort of like those sex-ed videos they showed us in grade school where someone took extraordinary effort to make sex as unexciting as possible. My hands cupped my boobs, hefting them a bit and then I started to gently massage them.

"Usually I like to start out just touching myself - you know, massaging my boobs, feeling myself all over," I explained softly as my fingers pulled gently on my stiff nipples, then letting them snap back in place before I put my fingers around them again as my hands covered my breasts.

I've always enjoyed playing with my boobs, even when they were barely bumps on my chest. As I went through puberty, there would be those days when they would hurt as they grew (slowly I might add) and I learned that by playing with them, it helped them to feel much better.

As I touched myself I remembered how I use to wish I could lick and suck on my nipples the way my best friend Beth could when she was getting herself off with me. Unfortunately, I was years behind her before I could finally do that to myself. Now I bent my head down and pulled my breast to my mouth, taking my hardened nipple in my mouth and feeling it's stiff yet soft feel on my tongue. God it felt so good! My eyes looked up at Kate as I suckled my own breast and I felt a twinge between my legs at the sight of her staring at me, not moving or doing anything but at the same time unable to take her eyes off of me.

Sighing softly, I released my nipples and leaned back, allowing my hands to roam all over me, feeling the light touch of my fingertips as they traced lightly over my sensitive skin as they traveled down from my chest, over my smooth belly, and then down along the tops of my bare thighs, only to return along the same path to my breasts. The goose bumps raised even more and this time I couldn't blame the thermostat setting! Each trip my fingers would dip just a little bit further between my thighs until finally I was drawing an imaginary line just at the outskirts of my shaved pussy slit, coming as close as possible without actually quite touching myself there.

"You don't have to rush into anything," I explained to her gently, trying to remember that this wasn't just for my own pleasure and I needed to explain things to her, "Just relax.... enjoy the feeling of your body, admire the softness of your skin, concentrate on how it feels to touch yourself - as only YOU know how you want to be touched."

Kate was still sitting motionless, like a rabbit caught in the middle of the yard, almost quivering as she watched everything closely but remaining still, as if hoping not to be noticed.

"Why don't you get undressed Kate?" I asked her, trying not to sound too demanding but yet hoping to push her along just a little bit.

At first she seemed scared but then I think the events of the day at the mall had their effect on her and she wasn't quite as shy about revealing herself to me as she would have been when we first met.

"God, I can't believe I'm doing this," I heard her muttering to herself as she took off her clothes, hanging each piece carefully on the back of a chair as she tried to keep her eyes on me, as if by watching me she could somehow ignore what she was doing herself.

Finally she was naked and she sat down with her legs crossed and her hands clasped tightly in her lap, not quite covering her boobs with her arms but rather pressing them together which had the effect of lifting them and making them even more impressive. I was sure that wasn't her intent but no matter, it was the results that counted!

"Just touch yourself doing to yourself what I'm doing to myself," I encouraged her, "Just allow yourself to enjoy it the thought of it... try to imagine it's someone else fondling you, but they're doing it just the way you've always wanted to be touched."

Kate kept her legs crossed but she did put her hands on her leg, then I felt my heart skip as she actually started to work her way upward onto her stomach and sides. She skipped her boobs and went to her face and neck, running her hands through her hair with her eyes closed.

"Don't close your eyes.... I want you to watch me while you touch yourself Kate," I told her, "Concentrate on me while you let your hands do what comes natural to them."

My legs were spread wide apart and the next time my hand went between my legs I cupped my crotch, feeling the pressure of my palm against my clit as I rubbed it slowly. My middle finger worked its way between my pussy lips, the fingertip pressing into my pussy hole, drawing out the wetness and then running it up along me to wet and lubricate myself more.

"See what's happening? I'm soooooo wet doing this for you Kate.... I love it when you watch me," I purred as my wet finger started to run little circles around my sensitized clit.

Then I applied more pressure and forced my finger inside of me, feeling the tightness of my warm pussy contracting around it. Slowly I began to stroke my finger in and out of my pussy while my other hand continue to fondle my breast. God it felt so damn good and it was even better seeing Kate's eyes fixated on my crotch, as if she'd never seen such a thing before. Well, I guess she hadn't! She had claimed to have never masturbated or been with a girl who did, so this WAS the first time she'd seen a girl touching herself.

"Some girls don't put their fingers inside of themselves but I love it Kate..... I imagine I'm being fucked," I explained as I stroked my imaginary cock in and out of me, my finger pushing in as far as it could and then withdrawing until just the tip remained inside of me.

Kate was still keeping her hands in neutral territory, mostly in her hair and neck while at times she would touch her legs and stomach, but she had yet to do anything with her boobs, let alone anything deeper between her legs.

"Go on... touch your breasts Kate, they're so beautiful.... touch them for me," I said, hoping all she needed by now was a just a little nudge.

Again, she kept her eyes focused entirely on me, mostly at my crotch but there were a few times our eyes would meet but she would quickly turn away when that happened. Finally she slowly lowered her hands until they were resting on her boobs. She didn't move them or do anything, just had them cupping her breasts but staying motionless. I didn't want to push her too hard so I just continued with my own ministrations.

"I want you to imagine you're my mirror Kate," I suggested, trying to keep focused on her while at the same time my pussy was screaming for more attention.

What I would have given for her to walk over and plant her head between my legs but I knew that was a long ways from happening - if ever.

"Don't think about anything but doing exactly what I do... ok?"

I put my hands on my breasts again, in the same way she had hers so that we were starting out in an equal position. One difference, though, was my hand had been playing with my pussy and I could smell the fragrant odor from the wetness covering my fingers. I would have loved to have licked it off my fingers but that was for later - hopefully at least.

To get the ball rolling, I simply repeated what I had done earlier for her, running my hands and fingertips over myself. She hesitated at first but then she joined in. It took a while but slowly I led her until our hands were once again poised at our respective crotches. I held my breath as I proceeded, wondering if she was turned on enough, if she was horny enough, to keep following along with me. This time when I cupped my crotch, I was thinking more about Kate than myself. We each were looking intently at the other's hands so our eyes didn't meet but I could have sworn still that there was a glimmer of lust in hers. Not enough yet for my satisfaction, but it was a start at least.

"Don't be afraid, just let your hands do what comes natural for them," I whispered softly to her as I started once again to play with myself. "Deep down you know what you want."

Seeing her hesitate and then awkwardly touching herself, I actually believed (perhaps for the first time) that she really hadn't masturbated or touched herself before. Frankly, I'd had a hard time up until now believing that even just simple curiosity hadn't ever driven her to at least explore herself once, or to hold a mirror down between her legs and see what was going on down there for herself. God, how could anyway live to be her age and not have touched herself even once? Even when doing something as basic as washing herself or using a tampon or douching, she should have at least felt SOMETHING at one time or another that would have made her want to check it out a little more, at least you would think.

"That's it Kate, now pay special attention to your clit.... feels good, doesn't it?" I told her, doing the same to myself. It was getting to where I was getting as turned on watching her as I was doing myself while she watched me. "Tell me how it makes you feel Kate. Talk to me."

"I don't know what to say...," she said, a tone of embarrassment in her voice, "I guess it just feels good."

"Oh I'm sure it does," I responded with a hint of a giggle, "Just wait until it REALLY gets going and then you won't be guessing anymore!"

Kate had both hands down in her crotch now, starting to do things on her own instead of simply mimicking me. She had one hand pressing at the top of her pubic hairline, putting pressure against her smooth bare skin but not actually touching her pussy or doing anything more sexual. Then I couldn't help but smile as her right hand started rubbing her clit faster although she stayed outside her pussy, at least for now, but I wasn't going to push that issue. I know some girls who masturbate a LOT but yet never penetrate their pussies with their own fingers so I guess it's just a desire that some people have in their DNA - or don't.

"Now close your eyes Kate, don't watch me.... just concentrate completely on how you're making yourself feel now," I instructed her, albeit reluctantly.

Face it, I enjoyed having her watch me but this was more about her than me. If she was to really get into masturbation, it had to be all about HER.

This time there was no hesitation, her eyes closed and she leaned back in the chair as she massaged her own pussy, working to pleasure herself for the first time in her life. It gave me sort of a thrill to watch, almost as if she was giving up her virginity right in front of me.

"Oh wow!" she sighed, almost as if it escaped from her more so than she was trying to tell me anything.

I could see her chest rising and falling as her breath quickened and her eyes squeezed tightly shut. It was tempting to ask her to get in bed with me where she could really let loose - and be next to me as an added bonus, but I didn't want to break the mood. The last thing I wanted to do was distract her and allow her to start to think about what it was she was actually doing.

As for me, I was barely masturbating myself now, more of an absent-minded, sort of like I do when I'm watching something sexy on TV or daydreaming while driving. It was fascinating to watch Kate doing what I knew was instinctive to all women (and men I guess too). For her to suppress her own desires and natural feelings all these years had to be extremely stressful - more so than I would have bet she ever understood. Maybe that was even a little bit behind her marriage sex issues. Being too hung up to even masturbate surely must have had SOME impact on how she approached sex with her husband. Like, how can you totally give yourself to someone else if you can't even be open and honest with yourself?

"Oh my!" she groaned, a little louder this time as her hand was moving even faster on her pussy now.

She still wouldn't put a finger inside of herself but I wasn't going to mention it again, at least not in the current environment. After all, I didn't put my finger in me either when I started to masturbate but then I was only eleven years old!

Watching this beautiful sight in front of me, I wanted so bad to encourage her, to even sort of cheerlead for her but I was fearful that if I said or did anything that it would distract her and maybe even cause her to question what she was doing. Kate seemed to be deep in her own world now, no longer looking at me but keeping her eyes closed tightly and doing herself without any further hesitation. She was breathing hard, short gasps of air and I wondered if she would cum. Now that I thought of it, had she ever even HAD an orgasm before? Somehow I doubted she had so now the question became, would she do it by masturbating?

"Oh... my... god!" she suddenly exclaimed, pulling her hand away and gripping the arms of her chair, her eyes wide open now and her face flushed red. "I can't do it anymore... it's too much for me... I have to stop."

It took every bit of willpower for me not to rush over to her and push her to finish herself off - maybe even help her do it, but I knew for her first time she'd actually down quite well - even more than I'd probably hoped deep down that she would have. As she caught her breath, it was like her mind began to focus once again on her surroundings... and what she had done.

"Oh Kelly, I can't believe I just did that... it was crazy," she gasped, looking more bewildered than anything more at the moment. "I'm sorry, I HAD to stop... I felt like I was about to explode! I almost lost control of myself!"

At that I smiled at her and finally had to say SOMETHING. "Well, someday you need to let yourself explode - that's the best part you know."

"You mean orgasm?" she asked, looking at me curiously, "I've never had one of those, at least not the way I see women doing it on TV or in the movies. But a lot of women never orgasm and they still have good sex, right?"

"Don't worry, that's what's so wonderful about masturbation," I assured her, not wanting to get into a discussion about sex without orgasms, "It's all about YOU. You can do, or not do, anything you want... it's only what YOU want and how YOU want to do it so if you're happy, that's what counts."

We looked at each other and I felt like if we'd been closer we might have finally hugged but she wasn't making any move in that direction. Pressing my naked body against hers after what we'd just shared would likely have been a bit too much for Kate, at least this time around. Hopefully there would be further "lessons", and maybe some more "personalized" instruction!

As it was, we both simply got dressed and then retreated to her kitchen where she had some more coffee. She had this shy quality about her, like she wanted to avoid discussing what we had just done and I respected her desires. That night I laid in bed and had one of the most incredible masturbation sessions as I dreamed of sex with Kate, of making her cum as I licked her pussy and felt the warmth of her pussy with my fingers.

All I can is that I've always wanted to be a teacher but I never would have guessed how erotic the subject material could be - not to mention the student!

5. Modeling Together

Several weeks had passed since our first masturbation "lesson". Since then Kate and I had several more "follow-up lessons" where she gradually began to relax more and become less inhibited. Now when I came over she would greet me at the door in a short terry robe, naked underneath, ready and raring to go. Still, it wasn't until after our fourth time that she finally found the courage to do it on her own without me being there to encourage her. She actually called me on the phone afterwards, giggling like a teenage girl calling her BFF after a first date with her new crush! I have to say, I was playing with myself as she told me all the details over the phone!

So far as I knew, she still hadn't allowed herself to orgasm, though. I say "allowed herself" because it was clear to me that Kate was more than capable of achieving orgasm. In fact I got the impression that Kate was much more of a sexual creature than she realized and that she could've brought herself to one faster than most women, but she kept holding herself back.

Even though Kate was becoming more accepting of her own body and its needs, she still had this deep fear of losing control. It was like she was afraid that if she let herself just go and have an orgasm, that she might do something. What that "something" was, she couldn't articulate and most likely didn't even understand it herself. Yet whatever it was, it was enough to hold her back from realizing her full potential. Sooner or later I was sure she would do it, it was just a matter of time. It was too bad she was so turned off by contact with another woman as I was sure that if she allowed me, I could have brought her to the mountain peak before she knew what hit her! Once she did it, I knew she would realize how wonderful it was but until then, she still seemed to be satisfied with the new pleasures she was giving herself.

"So tell me Kate, what do you like to think about when you masturbate alone?" I asked Kate one afternoon after we had just finished another "lesson" in her bedroom.

We were lying in bed naked next to each other, not quite touching but still only inches apart. I could smell her scent, the pungent odor of her wet pussy just as I was sure she could smell mine.

Kate's faced flushed even deeper red than it already was having just finished masturbating. Her eyes rolled and she groaned as if I was asking her something a little too personal but I just waited patiently and eventually she answered.

"To be honest... having sex with my husband," she confessed, "I know that doesn't sound naughty but I really do love him and I just wish it could be the way it used to be when we were younger. I really miss having him inside of me." She hesitated and then grinned at me, "Now before you say anything Kelly... I LOVE what we do together and I sort of like watching you now but still, mostly what I think about is Bruce making love to me."

"Mostly?" I teased her, trying to get her to open up. This time she really did redden up and I knew there was something she didn't want to tell me. "C'mon, you can tell me. Sheesh, of all people I would think you could tell ME about your fantasies."

Kate was blushing like her bikini top had come undone at the beach. She started to say something, then hesitated, and then finally confessed.

"Well... you remember the party where we met - the lingerie party?"

Of course I did, as if that was something I would forget about. While it hadn't been one of my wilder parties, not by a long shot, it was one of the few where anything came out of it afterwards and the only one to lead to a personal relationship such as the one I had with Kate. Usually I would get referred to someone looking for a stripper for a bachelor party or something like that, not to teach them to masturbate! So anyway, I just nodded and waited for Kate to continue.

"I've just wondered...," and she paused again, looking down at the floor as if she was confessing to a murder or something, "I've just wondered what it's like to be a model at a party like that."

Wow, that wasn't what I'd been expecting but it was certainly something I could run with it. "You'd be great at it Kate, in fact it might be good for ladies to see what things look like on someone more their own age."

"You mean someone more flabby and fat," she said soberly, frowning as her eyes stayed fixed on something that seemed to be fascinating on the floor below her.

"Oh no! That's not what I meant at all!" I said, trying to recover from my inadvertent negative comment, "I mean you would be proof that they can look hot and sexy too."

"Crap, it doesn't matter anyway... not like THAT would ever happen!" she finally huffed and then tried to change the subject saying, "You know, I've been doing it almost every day now."

"Masturbating?"

"Yes... Bruce almost caught me the other night. I thought he was asleep and I started to do it in bed. God, I about died when he asked me what I was doing."

I grinned at her, seeing her eyes sparkle as she related her experience. "So what did you tell him?"

"Oh I just told him it was nothing, that I was just trying to get comfortable. He just didn't know HOW comfortable I was getting myself!"

"So did that get you even hotter... knowing that your husband almost caught you doing yourself right next to him?"

"Oh my god Kelly, I was soaking wet! I felt like I was being SOOOO naughty! What I REALLY wanted was for him to make love to me, though, but this was different somehow."

From there I pressed her to tell me everything that had happened, from start to finish, is as much detail as possible. As she did, I started to touch myself and I noted that her hand was planted firmly on her own pussy as well. Kate's eyes closed as she related how horny she'd been, how it felt to have her fingers inside of her right next to her husband in bed, doing herself while he slept beside her. God it made ME horny as hell just listening to her! When I came, I hoped she would too but just as she was about to go over the edge, I caught her holding back again, as if she just couldn't let herself go that last little bit.

On the way home, I called the lady who ran the parties that I modeled for. I explained to Sharon the situation with Kate... well maybe not ALL the details but enough to get the idea across about what Kate wanting to do. Sharon wasn't exactly thrilled with the idea at first. Having me model for her was a major step as it was (I gathered most distributors did not have models) and I think she was worried about crossing the line between her parties being a fun time with the girls to something more sordid.

The more we talked about it, the more she warmed up to the concept. I explained that it would have to be party somewhere out of the immediate area as Kate had been adamant with me about her biggest fear being that someone she knew would be there. Sharon said she would think about it and I didn't push the matter any further.

It was about a week later that I got a call from Sharon and as it turned out, she had considered the idea some more and agreed that it would be worth trying - so long as Kate went through with it and didn't get all skittish or anything during the show to embarrass her. I assured her that I would make sure Kate was prepared and besides, it would probably be just a one-time thing to let Kate realize her fantasy. When I called Kate later and told her the good news, the phone was silent and for a moment I thought we'd been disconnected.

"You still there Kate?"

The silence was finally broken with, "I can't believe you did that Kelly!" At first I wasn't sure if it was just a measure of disbelief that I would actually arrange it or if she was truly upset with me for divulging her fantasy with someone else. Fortunately it turned out to be the former.

"Oh... my... god... are you serious Kelly? I'm not sure I can do it."

I assured Kate that I was and she just kept repeating over and over how she couldn't believe could be happening. Overall, despite her disclaimers, she sounded excited about it. She was relieved when I told her it was going to be way up north, about half-way to Grove City where my grandparents live. This the odds were about zero that anyone would have the faintest clue who either of us was, addressing her biggest fear (well, her second biggest one).

"So what do I have to do now?" she asked, "I can't believe this is happening."

I explained that really there wasn't much to do. Just be sure to shower and shave as best as possible and to minimize the pubic hair - or at least trim it down a bit so it wouldn't be so obvious in her lingerie outfits.

"But no nudity... right?" she checked once last time.

It was about the tenth time she'd asked the same question and I just sighed softly on the phone, assuring her that this was strictly a lingerie modeling gig, not a strip show, and that it would be for women only, just like the ones at the party she had attended earlier.

With that Kate hung up, giggling like a teen girl with a new secret about her best friend's boyfriend. As for myself, I was left to wonder what I was getting myself into. From personal experience I knew full well that it's one thing to sit at home and fantasize about being a stripper, but quite another when you find yourself facing the REAL thing. Would Kate chicken out and embarrass me after all my assurances to Sharon? Deep down, I didn't think she would which is why I set it all up to begin with.

Now that Kate had overcome her fear of masturbating, it was like a whole new side of her had been opened up and she was eager to explore it. Of course, at her age and given the love she had for her husband and the commitment to her marriage, it wasn't like she was about to become the neighborhood MILF or anything. Modeling at a party like this was probably the best way for her to express her newfound sexuality without getting in too deep over her head.

The night of the party, I picked up Kate and no sooner had she gotten into the passenger seat next to me than she started to giggle and blush.

"Tell me this isn't a dream... This isn't happening... I just know it isn't!" she gushed, "I told Bruce I was going to an Avon party and he didn't even bat an eye! Oh my god, Kelly, I'm SO horny right now. I've done nothing all day but think about this."

I smiled at her, trying to concentrate on the curvy roads while still listening to her. "Well, it's not like you're going to get laid tonight, you know," I teased her.

"Oh now Kelly, you know I didn't mean it THAT way at all!" she exclaimed, as if she just realized how what she was saying could sound to someone else, "I just can't believe I'm going to expose myself to women I've never met before - like you did at that last party!"

"Well, you know how I get myself ready just before a party?" I asked in a conspiratorial tone. She looked at me anxiously, as if I was about to reveal the secrets of the universe to her. "Well, let's just say it's gonna take us a bit to get to the party so why not pleasure yourself a bit on the way?"

"You mean do it in the car?" she exclaimed with disbelief, "Now? With all these other cars and trucks all around?"

"Oh for goodness sakes Kate, nobody will see you and besides, that's half the thrill, seeing everyone out there and knowing they have no idea what you're doing right in front of them."

"I don't know....," she hesitated but I could see her squirming in her seat. God, she must really be as horny as she said she was. One thing I had to say, Kate had come a long ways from the mousey housewife I'd met not that long ago!

"Here, how about I do it with you?" I encouraged her. Without waiting for a response, I unsnapped my jeans and pulled down the zipper with one hand while I tried to stay in my lane. As I wasn't wearing any panties it was easy to slip my hand down to my shaved crotch where my pussy was already warming up just talking about all this with her. "C'mon... do it... you KNOW you want to."

Kate was also wearing jeans - I'd told her to dress casual since she would be taking it off anyway once we got there. Giggling like a little girl, she followed my lead, unbuttoning the jeans and then unzipping them. As she started to reach down in, I noticed she had on pink panties underneath.

"Since you're not driving, why not just slip them all the way off?" I challenged her. Kate's eyes widened yet again and she looked around at the traffic around us. It was dark and even I could barely see her in the seat right next to me, let alone anyone from the outside. "Go on now.. pull them down! Let's see that bare bottom!"

Kate grinned, wanting to do it but just need in a little encouragement - as usual. She lifted her hips up and she slid her jeans and panties down to her ankles, leaving her bare-assed on the seat which fortunately had warmed up by now. She still had her top and jacket on so it wasn't like she was totally exposing herself to the world.

"Oh my god, I've NEVER done anything like this before!" Kate said more to herself than me as she started to masturbate, "God this is SO hot!"

As she started playing, I was also touching myself but between driving in the dark and trying to pay as much attention to Kate next to me as possible, it was more absent-minded playing than serious masturbation. In any case, I was wet enough to be happy and now and then I couldn't help but flinch in my seat as my finger would touch my clit in just the right way.

"Oh Bruce...," I heard her whispering as she had both hands between her legs.

She must have been fantasizing about her husband again, one of her most common thoughts whenever I watched her doing herself. It was such a shame he couldn't satisfy her the way she needed to be. I wondered if he had any idea his wife was rubbing herself daily, wishing he would make love to her. No doubt he still masturbated. Interestingly, the men I'd met who had a difficult time getting erections could still masturbate and cum, they just couldn't get hard enough to fuck me. I couldn't help but wonder if her wonderful Bruce was as loyal to her in his masturbation fantasies as she was to him. Somehow I doubted it, not if I knew men at all!

"Oh my!" she moaned, her hips lifting up off the seat as she was rubbing herself furiously.

Up and down she went on her emotional rollercoaster. I had taught her over the past few weeks how to get herself on a high and then slow down to let things simmer for a while and then ratchet it back up again. Now if only she would push herself that last little bit but it was not to be tonight as she suddenly all but collapsed in the seat. The car was filled with the scent of our sex - mostly hers. I grinned as a thought came to mind. Imagine if I was to get pulled over by a cop now!

"Oh my god Kelly... that was nice," she finally sighed, rolling her head over on her shoulder to look at me, a big grin spread from ear to ear.

"Well, just in time too as we're almost there," I told her as I turned into the subdivision where my GPS which had giving me the directions to the party address said to turn.

Kate gasped and worked feverishly to pull her panties and jeans back up again. "Oh no, I must smell like a whore," she worried.

"Don't worry, you'll have plenty of time to wash up and get ready," I assured her, "Besides... I sort of like the new perfume you're wearing now."

"Oh Kelly, you're so silly some times," she brushed me off, as she always did any time I would mention anything remotely leading to something between us that might be a bit more personal than just mutual masturbation.

If there was one thing Kate was, it was being straight as an arrow. She wasn't as hung up about being nude with another girl or, obviously, masturbating with one, but that was as far as it ever went, even in jest.

I pulled up to the house and parked at the curb. It gave me a chance to get my own jeans back together again and I couldn't help but put my fingers to my nose. Mmmmmmm, I LOVED the way my pussy smelled when it was wet! We got out and I noticed my distributor's car was parked just ahead of me which was good as I didn't like to arrive before she did. In fact, she was already opening the door for us when we walked up to the front steps.

"Great to see you Kelly," she welcomed me in, "and you must be Kate. I'm Sharon."

Actually, although I'd never asked her age, Sharon looked to be about the same age as Kate as they shook hands. Kate just stood there, looking at me for directions.

"Follow me, there's a room in back for you to use," Sharon said, leading the way down the hallway.

I didn't see anyone else and I wondered where the hostess was. Probably getting the snacks and whatever ready. Sharon led us to what appeared to be a guest bedroom. It had its own bathroom which was convenient as well. In most cases I had to use a common bathroom which sometimes led to some "interesting" moments should the hostess's husband or kids be at home.

Sharon already had the outfits hung up on a rolling hangar bar as well as the toys we would be demonstrating laid out on the bed on a white satin clothe. "I wasn't sure what size you wore but most of this is one-size-fits-all and you look to be in great shape Kate so there shouldn't be any issues."

Kate blushed a little at the compliment and I winked at her. Sharon noticed the flush in her face and looked a little concerned.

"You're OK with all this Kate, right?" she asked, "Kelly says this will be your first time doing anything like this."

It was tempting to explain why Kate was really flushed but I didn't think Kate wanted me to be telling Sharon about what she'd been doing during our drive over so I just stepped in and assured both of them that everything was going to go just fine.

"Ok then, things should get started in about an hour so I'll give you a heads up when the show is about ready to start," Sharon said as she left the room, closing the door firmly behind us. Kate looked around the room at the outfits and the toys, seeming to be a bit apprehensive now.

"I forgot about the toy part," she said with a worried tone, "Do I have to do those too or are you just going to do that?"

I knew she hadn't really forgotten about the toys but I understood her concerns. Like I'd said before, it was one thing to fantasize about doing something but quite another when the reality was staring you in the face.

"Don't worry Kate, you'll do just fine," I reassured her, "besides, it's not like you really USE them to get off. All you're supposed to do it get it close and let their imaginations do the rest, OK?

Meanwhile she had walked over to where the outfits were hanging up. "Geeze, these are soooooo... revealing!"

"Well, this isn't a winter parka show, you know!" I teased her gently, "Besides, even Sharon said you look great and trust me.... you look marvelous!", using my best Billy Crystal imitation. She giggled nervously at that and started to sort through the outfits.

"So which ones will I wear?"

"Whichever ones you want," I answered, "You can pick out anything you like, it really doesn't matter what order they go in.

Sharon likes to keep some of the sleazier ones to the end. By then, usually the women are more drunk and aren't as easily offended. It also helps her judge the party to see if they SHOULD be shown. There have been a couple of times when she has had me NOT wear them if she thinks the party isn't right for them."

Indeed, that was a key point to these parties. They were meant to be fun and to allow your typical desperate housewife to cut loose a little in a safe environment without going TOO far as if they would had they gone to a male strip club or something.

As I said, there had been a couple of parties where the reaction to even some of the more conservative outfits was so strong, that Sharon sensed it would be best NOT to demo the more daring outfits. This also applied to the toys. I had learned myself over time how to gauge the audience and how far to let myself go with them without crossing the line. Most of these women just wanted to be teased a bit and go home feeling a little naughty about themselves, not to be seduced or treated to something they would be embarrassed to talk about the next day.

"Soooooo, any ideas which one you want to start with?" I asked.

Kate pulled out a pretty white satin teddy. It was opaque and probably one of the more conservative outfits on the rack. Actually, probably the best choice for her to get the ball rolling. I nodded and then pointed to the bathroom, time to get ourselves looking good.

She had already done her hair up nicely and I wondered if she had told the girl at the salon what the event was that she was getting ready for. Somehow I doubted that! It fit her face nicely, not looking like some middle aged woman's style but at the same time, not as if she was trying to be a teenager again. As she undressed, I noticed her pussy was shaved down considerably more than before as she pulled her panties off. She still had plenty of coverage but it had been trimmed down considerably from the wild bush she had the first time I'd seen her crotch.

"Nice!" I complimented her, "Has Bruce seen the new look yet?"

Kate grinned naughtily and shook her head. "Noooooo, I just did it today and I now I'm afraid to show him. I don't know what he'll say. I'm sure he'll want to know why I did it after all these years and I'm not sure what to say to him." She rubbed her hand over her crotch and smiled, "You know, it hasn't felt this way since I was a teenager."

By the time we'd washed up, fixed our makeup and freshened up our hair, it was approaching party time and I could hear people arriving and moving about in the hallway outside. Then there was a knock on the door and Sharon poked her head in.

"Ten minutes girls... ok?"

I nodded and she hurried off to take care of whatever it was she did to get things organized. That's what was so nice about this gig; Sharon did all the work and I just had fun - and got paid for it at the same time! Maybe not all that much but it was fun and paid the rent so what more could I ask?

Sharon was trying on the white teddy and so I picked out a black one, a similar style but a bit more see-thru with a higher-cut crotch and hips and more cleavage. I figured the contrast between us - her in the white conservative version while I was in the black, slightly more risque style, would set the tone for the night. Each of us was in black heels, nothing too high as we had to move about without tripping all the time but enough to help accent our legs and give a bit more cosmopolitan appearance.

There was another knock, a bit tentative this time and so I went to answer it. Opening the door, I saw a woman I hadn't seen before, most likely the hostess, smiling at me. I opened the door further and saw she was holding a glass of wine that looked to be about half-gone already. From the flushness of her cheeks, I had my doubts that this was her first glass.

"I guess we're ready for you girls," she said, smiling like it was her birthday surprise or something.

I nodded at Kate and she suddenly froze and for in instance I was worried she might get cold feet and back out at the last second. The hostess has already gone back to her party, thank goodness, so she didn't know about my "problem".

"It's OK, you look stunning in that teddy," I said, trying to calm her nerves.

Kate looked like the proverbial deer-in-the-headlights. Her breathing was shallow and fast and I was worried she might hyperventilate! "You don't have to do this if you don't want to Kate. But I need to go now so what do you say?" I prodded her, getting anxious as I knew the party was waiting for us.

"OK... let's do it," she said as she took one last deep breath and headed for the door like a woman on a mission.

We left the room with me leading the way but it was only a few steps down the hallway to the living room where things were set up. I quickly scanned the room to get the layout and check out who was in attendance. It was what I would call a "formal" living room in that it had no TV or other appliances. A large fireplace stood inert at one end and the furniture looked like it all was fresh from the showroom.

I quickly counted eight women, including the hostess, all of who were seated on either the couch, love seat, or one of several arm chairs. Sharon was standing behind a table with her materials on it, a nice white tablecloth giving it an air of class versus the usual card-table look, The women were all dressed a little expensively, casually but still it wasn't your off-the-rack JC Penney styles. Lots of Coldwater Creek, Chico's, and other designer labels with enough jewelry to say they had money, but not so much to be ostentatious.

As we entered the room, all eyes were on us and I heard some murmuring and smiles. I noted several of them seemed to be particularly interested in Kate, something Sharon evidently picked up as well.

"Well ladies, here are our models for the evening, Kelly and Kate. Kate's helping me for the first time tonight so I hope you all give her a warm welcome."

With that, the evening began. It was rather simple actually. Sharon would describe the outfits we wore while we walked slowly about the room. Kate watched me carefully, trying to mimic my actions. Modeling lingerie was a fine line, to be sure, at these type of parties. It wasn't like a bachelor party where all you had to do was swing your hips and push out your chest and crotch for the to gawk at. Ladies like these expected a little more polish, more refinement. They seemed to appreciate the "live" modeling but at the same time, they hadn't signed up for a strip show either and so they weren't expecting me to act like a whore. It was my job to model the outfits and show them off to the best advantage I could, not to seduce them.

Kate was doing great, gaining more and more confidence as the night went on. About midway through, after she'd worn her first bra-panty ensemble that was more revealing than anything she'd probably ever worn in her life, let alone show off in front of anyone, we went back to the guest room to change and she finally let loose.

"Oh my god Kelly, this is so CRAZY!" she gasped, holding her hand to her chest as if she was having a hard time breathing. "You know, I think that blonde at the end of the couch has been looking at my crotch... can you believe it?"

Indeed, I knew the one she was talking about. In every crowd you tended to get a mixture of women and reactions. Some are simply embarrassed and if anything I find they drink the most, as if to try and get through the night without blushing the entire time. Others try to play it cool, acting as though it was all just another party and the half-naked woman in front of them was no big deal.

Then there were the ones who seemed to enjoy the evening a little more than just a casual party. The blonde she was referring to seemed to be one of these. I was guessing late thirties or early forties, married and married well if the size of the diamond on her finger was any indication, and dressed as sharp as any of them. I had noticed from the first set that she was interested in more in what was under the outfits than the outfits themselves but I hadn't mentioned anything to Kate as I didn't want her to feel self-conscious. With a few more glasses of wine and more revealing outfits though, it was obvious to even Kate that she had an "appreciation" for the womanly figure.

"So tell me Kate, how does it feel to know you're turning her on," I asked teasingly, "You know it's YOU she looks at the most."

"I don't know... it's just that I've never had a woman look at me like THAT before," Kate replied as she changed into her next outfit. Obviously she hadn't been paying much attention to how I had been watching her when she masturbated!

"Well, this time out we'll start showing off the toys so let's see how she responds to them, You never know how some people will react," I warned her.

Kate seemed surprised, as if she had once again blocked out the toy aspect of the evening. She didn't say anything more, though, so thankfully it didn't become an issue.

We started out with a couple of basic battery operated vibrators. Kate was especially shy this time out, barely nudging her crotch with it as Sharon went on about the virtues of a low-cost model that still had plenty of value. Even so, her "fan" was watching the entire time. The rest of the women seemed to be a little surprised to see us actually touching ourselves with them, even though we still had on panties and didn't do much more than brush them against our crotch as we showed them off.

Over the next half hour we each "demonstrated" over half a dozen models. My favorite was the remote controlled vibrator. I would have loved to let Kate put it in her while I controlled the remote but that would have been pushing things instead I let her have the control unit. The women all seemed to get quite a kick out watching me apply it to myself and then react when Kate would turn up the juice. Indeed, it DID feel pretty damn good and at one point I pushed it under my panties and applied it directly to my wet crotch. Kate pushed it all the way up and I couldn't help but gasp as it stimulated my already sensitive clit, making my knees buckle just a little bit in the process.

I noticed several of the women averted their eyes while most just tried to maintain a blank look on their face, as if afraid to react publicly to what was effectively a girl getting herself off right in front of them. Our blonde friend, though, made no bones of the fact she loved watching, leaning forward and actually encouraging Kate to crank it up even further.

Unfortunately, we had to move on and I looked at Sharon who barely shook her head. I knew what she meant, this crowd wasn't going to go for anything much more than this so from then on I toned it down a notch which most likely suited Kate as well.

Finally it was over and we took our final bows and the ladies politely clapped in appreciation for our performance. Back in the guest room, we stripped down for the last time and before Kate could grab her clothes I turned to her and grabbed her by the hand.

"Well? What do you think? Was it what you expected?"

Kate's cheeks puffed out and then she let out a big gasp and she shook her head. "Oh my god Kelly, that was INSANE! I never felt so sexy in my entire life. The craziest thing was that it was for a bunch of WOMEN!"

"Hey, nobody said you can only be sexy for guys you know," I prodded her just a little, "You know, I was turned on too by you tonight. You really looked hot in some of those outfits."

"Oh really? You were turned on by ME?" she said softly, as if she wasn't quite sure where I was leading to. I still had her by the hand and we were standing so close to each other I could practically feel the heat radiating from her.

What the hell, I decided to go for it. I leaned forward and kissed her gently on the mouth. At first she froze, as if uncertain what I was doing, and then she pulled her head back away from me.

"Kelly... what are you doing?"

There was nothing I could say that would make it any easier so I pulled her hand behind me as I pressed up against her, our boobs touching, pressing tightly together. Leaning forward, I again kissed her on the lips. This time she didn't pull back as quickly but after a few seconds she, stopped again.

"I don't think we should be doing this," she said, her voice suddenly husky and deep.

Despite her words, the third time I kissed her she didn't pull away, instead she pressed her lips against mine and when I extended my tongue, she met it with hers as well. My arms went around her neck as she wrapped hers around my body and I felt the fullness of her breasts pressing against mine. After several minutes, we both leaned back just enough to part out lips from each other's.

"Tell me what you want Kate," I implored her, "Tell me now."

"I don't know... I really don't know," she said softly, sounding a bit bewildered, "Just do it."

Well, if by doing IT, she meant more of what I was doing, I was more than happy to oblige. She wanted IT, I knew it, but she couldn't find it in herself to come out and say it, to put it into words. It was like if I was the one who had to initiate things, then she would be OK to go along with it but at least then in her mind it wasn't HER asking for it. I think the phrase, "plausible deniability" applied here!

I pulled Kate to the bed, pushing aside the lingerie and toys we had strewn about, and laid on my side with Kate facing me. I could feel her entire naked body against me, our smooth legs intertwined and her leg between my thighs with mine between hers. I pushed my hips up so my bare, wet pussy was pressing against her leg and was pleased by her response, doing the same with her pussy against me.

"You're so beautiful Kate... you feel so good," I moaned softly in her ear.

My hands running along her bare back and down to her ass, pulling her tighter into me as we kissed like lovers. It was as if all the emotions and lust that had built up between the two of us in the past few weeks, the shopping escapades, the masturbation "lessons", the naughty conversations, all broke loose and we finally gave in to our mutual lust.

"I've never been with a girl before," she whispered, sounding like a girl telling a boy in the back seat she was still a virgin.

"Don't worry.... just relax Kate," I assured her. She laughed just a bit, as if what I had said was funny and most likely to her it was. How could she relax in a situation like this?

Reaching down her butt, I pulled her leg up over me more so I could get my hand to her crotch and finally my fingers brushed against her pussy. God was she wet! I ran my fingers up and down her wet slit, letting one fingertip worm its way in between them and down to her pussy hole where I traced tight little circles around the entrance.

"Oh Kelly, how can you touch me there?"

I wasn't sure if she meant that she was amazed I would even do such a thing or that she was surprised I was doing it without her asking me first. I didn't matter to me as I was going for it all no matter what. I pressed my finger into her hot pussy and I felt her entire body stiffen.

"Oh my god, what are you doing Kelly?" she asked yet again of me, "Oh that feels so good!"

She kept her arms around me, her hand against my bare back, not even caressing my butt but at least she wasn't doing anything to restrain me from playing with her pussy. I fucked her with my finger, pulling it out all warm and wet and using it to toy with her enlarged clit, feeling her jump each time my finger passed over it.

Pushing her over on her back, I put one leg up and over hers while I began to suckle on her breasts, taking her hard nipple between my teeth and lips while I continued to work my hand on her pussy. She started to put a hand over mine, as if to stop me, but I brushed it aside quickly and she stopped trying to do anything.

"Oh yes... that's it... oh god Kelly, that feels SO damn good," she sighed, "That's it... suck on it harder... bite it if you have to!"

She clearly loved her breasts to be sucked on but her hips were reacting to my hand on her pussy as well. I pulled my hand up and ran the wetness on my fingers over her nipples, then suckled on them again to enjoy the tease of her pussy on her nipples. Back my hand went and she spread her legs further apart this time to make it easier for me to access her crotch.

"You like me doing this?"

"Oh god... don't stop."

"You want more Kate?"

"Ohhhhhhhhh, god yes I do... don't stop... oh God, PLEAE don't stop!"

It was about as excited as I had seen her when she masturbated so I decided it was time to take it to the next level. Without taking my hand off her pussy, I scooted down the bed and pushed her legs apart so I could lay down between her legs and still look up at her face above me. As I moved my face closer to her crotch, she suddenly realized what I was about to do.

"Noooooo, please don't do that Kelly... that's too dirty, please don't lick my crotch," she begged me but I wasn't about to take no for an answer.

I could smell her pussy and the taste of her pussy on her breast was still fresh on my tongue so now I wanted more. Despite her protests, Kate wasn't doing one thing to stop me so I took that as tactic approval and lowered my face directly onto her crotch. I used my fingers to spread he pussy lips apart and my tongue went straight to work on her engorged clit.

"OH MY GOD!" she said more loudly this time and for just a brief moment I was reminded that we were not exactly in the privacy of my bedroom Oh well, so what if they heard? It wasn't like we would ever be hack here again!

"OH FUCK!" Kate exclaimed as I inserted two fingers into her pussy as my teeth gently pulled on her clit and then let it snap back into place.

My nose was buried in her thick but short pubic hair, taking in the full glory of her scent as I tasted her marvelous pussy. Kate put her hands on my head, trying to push me away.

"That's it.. that's all I can take," she gasped, trying to get me to stop. Well, I wasn't about to be deterred so easily so I just pushed back and continued to play with her pussy all the more.

"STOP!" she cried, "What are you doing to me!?"

It was more of statement than a question as she began to convulse under me. Her hips were bucking such that it was hard to keep my face on her clit but I made a valiant effort. Suddenly I felt her pussy clamping down on my fingers and her legs tightened around me. Instead of pushing me away, she pulled me head down into her crotch as suddenly she gushed into my face and I knew she was FINALLY experiencing her first orgasm.

"Ohhhhhhhhh myyyyyyyyyy godddddddddd!" she cried out, repeating it over and over again and I continued my assault on her pussy.

I wanted her first orgasm to be one she would never forget! Her pussy tasted wonderful and my face was covered in her cum as I licked it from her like a hungry cat at a bowl of fresh milk.

Finally she dropped back to the bed, laying limply under me as if all the strength had been sapped from her. I quickly moved back to her side again, draping my leg over her such that my own hot pussy was pressed against her hip. I cupped her crotch in my hand, pressing just enough against her to make her convulse slightly. Leaning over her, I kissed her with my face all wet from her crotch. I half expected her to pull away from tasting and smelling herself on my mouth but she never hesitated, kissing me like I was her long lost lover coming back to her again.

Just then, the door opened without so much as a warning knock. I turned my head to see Sharon, looking in with just a bit of a shocked look on her face.

"Ummmmm, when you girls are through we need to be going," she said quickly, closing the door behind her. I looked at Kate and our eyes met, both of us laughing a bit at Sharon's reaction.

"Holy smokes Kelly, what the HELL did you do to me?" Kate gasped, still trying to catch her breath.

"You know," I teased her, "I've been telling you to let yourself go so maybe next you do yourself you know what to do now, ok?"

"That was the most incredible sensation I've ever felt," she gasped again, her eyes rolling back in her head. "I can't believe you did that to me Kelly. I just can't believe it!"

For a moment she just laid there, eyes closed and breathing deeply. Then her eyes suddenly popped wide open and she looked at me with this look of shock.

"Oh god, am I a lesbian now?" she blurted out, as if she had cancer or some incurable disease.

"Oh for heaven's sake Kate, you're no lesbian," I reassured her, "Even if you were, it's not a disease you know. Just remember it as something special between two friends, ok?"

Kate got out of bed and hurriedly started to dress, not even taking time to wash up first. It was if she needed to cover herself up in front of me as quickly as possible. As soon as we had our clothes back on, I poked my head out the door and motioned for Sharon, who was down the hall talking to the hostess, signaling that we were ready. As she came in, she leaned her head towards me and whispered so Kate couldn't hear, "Just a housewife, eh?"

I grinned at her and she smacked me playfully on the butt. Sharon and I had a great relationship, totally platonic but we make a good business team. I had a feeling she was more surprised at what she'd seen than what she was letting on and to be fair, I would've been as well had I been in her shoes. It was just one of those things that just happens so who is to question why?

On the drive home, the discussion was entirely focused on the party. There wasn't a word exchanged between us about our own little "party" afterwards and I didn't press the issue. My only concern was how this might affect my future relationship with Kate. I certainly hoped it didn't freak her out so bad that she cut off ties out of fear she might do it again. Then again, maybe after more reflection she would WANT to do it again? Oh well, it was going to be interesting one way or the other, that was for sure.

6. Kate Finally Cheats

After the lingerie party, I didn't hear from Kate for almost a week. It didn't really surprise me given her reactions to past events and besides, I figured I would leave it up to her as to whether she wanted to continue our relationship given our last time together had been rather emotional and I wasn't entirely sure how comfortable she'd been with that. Deep down, I knew Kate was madly in love with her husband, no matter how big a jerk he was. In her mind having sex with another woman was STILL sex and that meant she was cheating on her husband.

Over time I began to sense that the real reason she hadn't masturbated in the past was because in her heart, that would be like cheating on her husband, even if it was just all a fantasy. Now in the past few months she'd made some dramatic changes in her lifestyle and attitudes, but I had to wonder if her husband was even aware of them!

Just as I was about to give up on her, I got a phone call out of the blue and it was none other than Kate. We talked about things, just general girl talk before finally the topic of the party came up. Even then, all she seemed to want to discuss was the modeling aspect without a hint of how she felt about our "private party" afterwards. The call ended up with us agreeing to get together for lunch in a couple of days, leaving me to wonder where her head was at. Kate had never been one to discuss personal things on the phone so I didn't take the absence of any mention of her recent masturbation activities as a negative sign, but still, I had to wonder how the party had impacted her and if she was masturbating more or less since then.

We finally met at a local diner, nothing fancy with just a few customers which left us pretty able to talk about anything without having to worry about someone listening in. Again, we started with some general chit-chat while the waitress took our orders and then Kate leaned forward over the table an motioned for me to come closer.

"You should be proud of me - I can make myself cum now," she boasted, as if she had just achieved some Novel Prize-winning achievement which, in a way, she had.

For anyone to go so long without ever having experienced an orgasm was virtually unthinkable to me yet I had to wonder how many other wives were in the same, boring, sexless lifestyle as Kate had been in when we met. If it hadn't been for that lingerie party where we first met, she would still be home wishing her husband could get it up with no relief in sight!

"Does Bruce know anything yet?" I teased her, knowing full well her husband would probably be the last person in the world to find out his wife was playing with herself, finally achieving by herself what he'd never been able to do for her in twenty plus years of marriage.

"Oh god forbid no," she quickly answered, then grinning even more broadly as she shared another juicy secret, "I even did it last night right next to him in bed while he was sleeping! Oh my god Kelly, I felt SO naughty!"

"So why don't you do it in front of Bruce?" I asked, "Maybe it might provide some incentive for the poor boy downstairs to get back in the game again?"

Kate frowned and I almost wished I hadn't asked. "He would just say I was being nasty. So far as he knows, I've never masturbated in my life and I don't think he even cares if I cum."

"Why he say it was nasty? I'm sure he jerks off all the time! What's the big deal if you do the same?"

Kate's eyes widened and she sat back a little as if what I had delivered some sort of revelation. "I wasn't really honest with you I guess. Truth is, I've NEVER seen Bruce masturbate," she confessed, "I've never even found a dirty magazine since we've been married. I just thought I should say... well, I don't know WHAT I thought when I told you that.""

Two thing immediately came to mind. Either Bruce had some serious sexual issues that were probably the root cause of his E.D., or he was doing one hell of a good of lying to his wife and hiding things! Fortunately, for once I managed not to blurt out my first thoughts and so I just left Kate to live in her fantasy world. Bruce didn't masturbate.... yeah right! As my dad always said, ninety percent of men admit they masturbate regularly and the other ten percent are liars.

"So anyway...," I injected, trying to change the subject before I said something I would regret later, "How often are you doing yourself now?"

Kate actually blushed and I saw her biting her lip just a little as if the answer was embarrassing to her. "Usually every day now."

"Only once a day?"

Kate looked at me like I was some alien saying, "Why, how often do YOU do it?"

When I told her usually twice a day, sometimes three and once in a while more, her jaw dropped open in disbelief.

"But Kelly, you get laid regularly so why do you have to masturbate so much?" she asked.

Smiling, I tried to explain to her that it wasn't that I HAD to masturbate, it was that I ENJOYED masturbating. For me, masturbation isn't a substitute for sex, but rather something that compliments it. Sure I may do it more when I'm not getting the real thing regularly, but it's not uncommon for me to do myself again even right after being fucked when the guy drops off, going for at least one more good orgasm! Simply put, I tried to explain, I just enjoy doing it for the sake of doing it, not because I am or am not getting the real thing.

"I guess I never really thought about it that way before," Kate said with thoughtful expression as she seemed to try to mull this new concept over in her mind. "I just figured people only masturbated when they couldn't have real sex."

"Well, that just goes to show you shouldn't feel embarrassed or feel like you're cheating on Bruce just because you enjoy going solo," I encouraged her, "Even if he WAS getting it up, that doesn't mean you still can't enjoy some personal quality time!"

We both giggled as the waitress brought us our order. She looked at us a little odd, probably wondering what we were so giddy about in the middle of the day but whatever, that was her problem.

"So tell me Kate, have your fantasies gotten any nastier now that you do masturbate more?"

Once again Kate got that "caught with her fingers in the cookie jar" look, as if she felt guilty for even THINKING such things, let alone tell me about them. "Oh my, it gets really BAD sometimes," she said in a high whisper, as if afraid somebody might be listening to us. "I feel so guilty sometimes but yet at the same time, it's really hot to think about stuff I know I'll never do but still..."

"Oh? And just what might some of those be?" I inquired, actually quite curious to find out what this recently "converted" housewife might be fantasizing about.

"Well, there's young man on our block who is JUST gorgeous," she said, her face reddening a bit, "I've wondered what would happen if I needed someone to help me with some yard work while my husband was away on business."

"Not bad, the classic naughty housewife," I said, giving her a thumbs up, "But I KNOW you've been naughtier than that... let's go, confession time!"

Kate looked around, again as if fearful someone might overhear us but the nearest person was the waitress and she was twenty feet away at least.

"OK, here goes but you have to promise not to laugh," she said with a smirk. I just grinned and nodded my head in agreement so she continued, "Well, you once told me about some of those bachelor parties you go to and the dirty things you do at them. Well, ever since the party we did I've been fantasizing about how it would be to dance in front of a bunch of horny men instead of a bunch of repressed housewives."

Wow, now THAT wasn't was I had expected to hear. Sheesh, talk about going from fairly innocent fantasies to hardcore in one giant leap! But then I thought again and realized she was just talking about the dancing aspect, not the sex. Or was she?

"Nude?" I decided to ask, pushing just a little but not going overboard.

Kate blushed and I knew I'd hit the nail on the head. "Well, isn't that what you're SUPPOSE to be when you dance at one of those?" I asked her.

Kate shook her head though and disagreed, "Maybe at yours but Bruce has been to several and he always assures me that the girls never get nude. OK, maybe topless but not completely nude."

I ALMOST said, "And this from the guy who claims he never masturbates," but pat me on the back, once again I held my tongue.

"Well, I'm sure that at some parties that's all that happens but from my own experience, the guys want you to get naked - at least if you want to make the most money that's what happens."

"So you get nude when you do them?" she asked, suddenly very curious about my "side jobs".

I explain that technically, I only "contract" ahead of time to get down to a bikini. Granted, it was the sort of bikini that would have gotten me banned from any public swimming pool, but still, I wasn't technically naked. Once the party gets started, THEN it was time to negotiate what else they wanted from there. I learned early on that nobody makes a worse negotiator than a horny drunk guy at a party facing a half-naked girl he wants to fuck.

"So do you let them touch you?" she asked.

Again, I explained that it was all in what they were willing to pay. Letting guys SEE me naked wasn't that big a deal but to touch me.... well THAT was a different story.

"OK, so how far DO you go if they are willing to pay for it?"

In response to that question, all I had to do was give Kate a naughty grin and a wink which she understood immediately.

"Oh my god Kelly, so you're a WHORE?" she exclaimed, suddenly looking at me as if she had never really seen me before.

I quickly calmed her down and explained to her the difference between a whore and a slut. If I was really a whore, all they needed to do was simply fork over the money and then do whatever they wanted within the bounds of what they paid and I would do it regardless of how I felt about them. That's why I never consider myself a whore - because I never give up control. Even if they are willing to pay for sex, I still make the final decision as to who and how. Even then, I don't care how much they pay (non-refundable of course), if the guy turns out to be an asshole he doesn't get laid.

Kate was still looking at me as if she was seeing me for the first time. I almost felt like she was disappointed in me, as if I had somehow degraded myself in her eyes. Frankly, it sort of pissed me off that she could be so judgmental but I decided to give her the benefit of the doubt and see where it went.

"Look, it's not something I do at EVERY party, in fact it rarely happens. Usually it's just a strip show and let me say AGAIN, I make the decision as to whether to go any further, no matter how much they want to pay me." Kate just sat there rigidly, as if she wasn't certain what to say which was probably a good thing. I smiled gently, trying to soften the mood and asked, "So Kate, how did YOU imagine doing a bachelor party with me?"

At the mention of her masturbation fantasy, Kate finally seemed to shrug off whatever it was that was distracting her and a smile returned to her face. "I guess sort of like the party we had last week, just getting up in front of them in some naughty lingerie and maybe pretending to play with myself for them. I just think it would be fun to see how turned on I could make them I guess."

Somehow I think these new fantasies had to do with the lack of response she was getting from her bastard of a husband. It was too bad that just because a guy was unable to get it up that he cut off all sex with his wife. He could at LEAST still give her oral sex if he was any kind of decent husband, at least that's how I felt about it.

My inner amateur psychologist was seeing a loving wife desperate for attention from her husband, so desperate she dreamed of displaying herself in front of other men just to prove to herself that SHE wasn't the problem. OK, so I may have been totally off base, but I've found I'm usually pretty good at reading people when it comes to stuff like this.

"Would you really do it if you could?" I asked her. "I mean, go further?"

Kate seemed to visibly trembled at the thought and in a way, it made me almost want to laugh at her innocence and naivety. At times she could be such a sensuous woman and then in a heartbeat, back to being the silly little girl.

"Well, maybe when I masturbate but I would NEVER do it for real," she insisted, shaking her head from side to side like an elephant on parade.

"Why not? After all, it wouldn't be like you were being unfaithful or anything," I prodded her, "What's the difference between showing yourself off in front of a bunch of women and a bunch of men."

"Kelly!" she huffed, as if she couldn't believe I would make such a generalization, "There's a BIG difference and you know it."

"Not really," I countered, "besides, imagine how much more turned on you'd get seeing all those men staring at you, every one of them wanting you and desiring you. All of them wanting nothing more at that moment than to take you in the back bedroom and fuck your lights out! Wouldn't that make you feel good?"

"That's EXACTLY what I worry about," she huffed, "That I might like it. But I'm not a slut."

"You mean like me?" I gently countered.

Kate's mouth dropped open and I could see she was a little embarrassed now. "Oh Kelly, I didn't mean it like THAT!"

"Then prove it," I demanded, "I've got a party tomorrow night and it's just a little one that shouldn't be anything too wild. Come with me, I'm sure they won't mind if I bring along a friend - especially if they get her for free."

Kate obviously wasn't even close to being sold on the idea but at the same time, she wasn't shaking her head as strongly much as she had.

"How about you let me think about it," she offered as a compromise. It was her usual response when she was trying to get me off her back about something so I warned her she needed to make her mind up fast.

"OK, let's make a deal. When you go home tonight I want you to put on something sexy and then see what Bruce says. If he likes it, great. BUT, If he ignores you then I want you to think about what the guys would say tomorrow night if you wear that same outfit. THEN make up your mind and call me, deal?"

Kate just rolled her eyes at me, something she seemed to do quite a bit when we talked come to think about it. Well, I'd done all I could and there was no sense pushing her any further. I'd learned quickly with Kate that she was actually pretty open to suggestion but she had to be the one who made up her mind in the end. Nothing made her dig in her heels faster than feeling like she was being pressured into something she didn't want to do.

We finished up our meal and she offered to pay. I left the tip and we parted, each going our separate ways. On the way home I wondered if she was just agreeing with me to stop me from pestering her further or if she really was going to go through with it. Personally, I would have given odds at best fifty-fifty once she got home and had time to think about it some more.

The next morning I was still in bed when my cell phone rang and I saw on the caller ID that is was Kate. I wondered what she was calling me about so early as in my morning fog I wasn't putting it together with our conversation the previous day. Immediately when she started to talk, though, I perked up.

"Oh Kelly, I tried, I really did try!" she cried into the phone as soon as I answered, not even bothering with the small talk we always started out with.

I told her to calm down and get her to explain to me what was wrong.

"I did like you said. I wore the sexiest outfit I have; you know - the sheer black teddy you helped me pick out with the micro black lace panties. When I walked out of the bathroom into the bedroom, Bruce didn't even give me a second glance! Shit, hardly even a first. All he did was ask me how much it cost, as if he was more worried about the credit card bill than my needs. How could he do that to me Kelly? How could he?"

She broke down again and started crying some more, leaving me there with my phone in my hand trying to figure out what to do next. I decided saying nothing was better than putting my foot in my mouth so I waited for her to collect herself.

"The kids are gone to school so I'm home all alone. God Kelly, I've never felt so worthless. Am I REALLY that unattractive? Why doesn't Bruce want to even look at me when I dress up for him? I feel so ugly now."

If I told her what I thought was the REAL reason, I would probably just make things worse. It was obvious. ED or no ED, her darling Bruce was cheating on her, I would have bet money on it. OK, so maybe she wasn't eighteen anymore but she looked easily ten years younger when she got herself made up and I knew from personal experience it wasn't for want of any sexual drive on HER part that nothing was happening with her husband. With the boob job, which no doubt she did to try and please him, she looked incredible! They looked perfect and REAL, not overdone like so many women where it's obvious they are fake.

Then I reminded Kate of how even the women at the party we went to were attracted to her and if THEY were, to imagine how much more a group of men would be. Then I gentled tossed in a suggestion that maybe she should prove it to herself by going out with me tonight.

"I have to confess Kelly, I only agreed to do that so we wouldn't talk about it anymore," Kate said in a hushed tone, like it really was part of a confessional, "But this morning I woke up and I was SO horny and I wanted Bruce SO bad that even masturbating wasn't enough to make it go away. I don't know what to do now, I am SO confused."

"Oh? So you're still horny now?" I asked, using the opening to shift the conversation.

"Oh my god, you have no idea. I was so worked up last night getting ready for him that when he blew me off me it was like I wanted to explode!"

Again I suggested that she join me tonight to work off some of the "tension" and this time she hesitated a bit before answering.

"You're sure it would be just like the other party, right? Just dressing up and showing off? Nothing nude or bad?"

Thank god we still don't have video phones! I was grinning to myself at how naive she could be about such parties but I wasn't going to say anything to dissuade her. Besides, so long as I was there I knew that I could control things enough that if that was all she ended up wanting to do I could most likely keep it at that level for her. As for doing anything "bad", well... that was all in how you defined "bad"!

"Trust me, you'll love it Kate. It will be a ton of fun; something you'll never forget. You'll feel so much better about yourself afterwards."

"I don't know Kelly, what if they get pushy?"

"The we just leave," I assured her. Actually, that was the truth and it wouldn't be the first time I'd grabbed my things and walked out when guys got overly obnoxious or rude. It was rare, to be sure, but also why I always made sure I got paid up front!

"So what do I wear?"

Cool! While she hadn't expressly agreed to go, her question was a tactic agreement and I wasn't going to push for a signed contract or anything so this was likely the best commitment I was going to get from her. To answer her question depended on what type of party I was going to. Basically they broke down into two flavors - the ones where I arrived early and dressed up in another room and came out when they were ready for the show, or the alternative was I just showed up at the door, walked in and did my thing.

Each had their advantages and disadvantages. The first allowed for me to get more settled in and gave me greater costume options as I didn't have to go out in public wearing it. The problem was you were there longer and before you could leave, you had to gather your things in the other room, making as quick getaway more challenging.

The second option was usually quicker as I was only there when I was doing the show. It also gave me a better feeling of security knowing everything I had was in the room and I just had to grab it and run for the door if things got out of hand. Fortunately, that had only happened once in my entire "career" but that was all it takes to make you wary. In this case, it was the "open door" party which was probably best for Kate as it minimized the time she had to spend at the house where the party was being held.

"Well, here's what I suggest," I told her, "Put on that same outfit that your husband wasn't interested in and we'll see what other men think of it on you."

Silence on the other end. Then I realized what she was probably wondering about and continued on saying, "Oh don't worry, that's not ALL you'll wear! Go to your closet and pick out what you would wear to a PTA meeting at school. Something with a skirt and a top that buttons - nothing pull-over though."

"A PTA meeting?" she asked, sounding confused.

Then I explained to her what my plan was. I thought it would be hot to show up as a mother-daughter pair. Sure, Kate wasn't THAT much older than me but she had that innocent look and naive attitude that screamed soccer-mom. I figured I would have her dress the part of the everyday mom while I would go as the slutty daughter. It should make for a great show. After all, just look at how many web sites cater to the MILF fantasy as well as to the mom-daughter thing.

Kate laughed on the phone, finally loosening up a bit as she listened to my concept for the evening. "You know, you really have quite the imagination," she complimented me, "I'm just glad you're not after my husband."

Oh if she only know some of the naughty thoughts I'd had along THAT subject! Truth be told, her Bruce would've made a fantastic challenge for me and nothing would've been hotter than to have him do me behind Kate's back at the same time I was trying to help Kate "seduce" him. As horny as such thoughts made me, I could never do that to a friend, though, so Kate was safe from any worries about me, even if she didn't realize how close it had come to happening more than once when I was especially horny!

Now that she was on board, I then went through more details as to how the evening would go and what I expected to happen. Like the previous party, I would pick her up. We would drive to the house, ring the bell, and step in to what should be quite a party already in progress. No doubt there would be alcohol, porn, and who knows what else. We would dance and strip - as far as she was ready to go, and that would be about it. The arrangements, at least so far, were just for an hour's show so we shouldn't be there all that long and she would be home at a decent hour.

Kate cursed under her breath and when I asked what was wrong, she replied, "I just realized I have to come up with an excuse for where I'm going. Bruce would kill me if he ever found out."

Her worries didn't bother me as I knew she would think of something. Besides, she would be leaving in a "normal" outfit as nobody had to know what was underneath so there would be no reason for anyone to suspect her true motives for the evening. We got talking some more from there about everyday things. She liked to tell me about her kids at times like this and I listened patiently, again thankful for the lack of video so she couldn't see the bored expression on my face. Eventually she was talked out and we hung up after I gave her a time to be ready.

Now that I was going with the mother-daughter fantasy gig, that changed my entire plans for the evening. I had planned to show up in a long coat with nothing underneath but a sexy bra, some hose and a garter belt, panties still undecided. It was an easy outfit to get ready, easy to take off, and all I had to do in the end was grab my coat and leave without even worrying about getting dressed again.

With Kate, however, now I had to play the role of "daughter" which actually had a lot of opportunities. My thoughts were to act as the "slutty" daughter who made my conservative mother mad at me for teasing the guys and acting nasty. Eventually, of course, she would get "excited" seeing me with the guys and want to join in herself. It was all terribly cliche, of course, but then isn't most porn? Besides, it actually fit Kate's real attitude perfectly. Indeed, she WOULD be aghast at my actions to start with but hopefully, she would get turned on and want to join in herself.

How far she would go, now THAT was the million dollar question. I was setting a personal goal of getting her nude. Even that would be a stretch but anything more than that was pretty unthinkable knowing Kate.

Looking through my closet, there was really only one thing to wear in this case. My usual outfits - the Catholic schoolgirl, French maid, naughty nurse, etc. were more for individual performances as I almost always worked solo unless my cousin Kristen was with me. Tonight I thought I would stick to something simple - my shortest shorts with a micro thong underneath.

On top I had the perfect black bra together with a sheer white shirt that I could tie up around me under my bust and then leave it unbuttoned to show off my cleavage. The bra and panties were for show as I didn't want to be naked TOO fast with them. Besides, technically they hadn't paid for me to get nude so I wanted something to use for bait that would lure them into opening their wallets for more. I didn't charge all that much for a standard one-hour strip-to-my-underwear show. It was a classic bait-and-switch marketing ploy. I knew once I had them going that the REAL money was made when they were dying for me to go further. The trick was to get your foot into the door. After that, it was all hormones!

For the rest of the day, my thoughts kept drifting back to the coming events of the evening. I had all sorts of different scenarios play out in my head, most of the terribly unlikely but still hot to think about. Kate was the wildcard. Had I been going with my cousin Kristen, it would have been just the opposite. With her the question wasn't how far would SHE go, it was how far would I go with her! A couple of time I found myself wet as hell and took some time to take care of myself, but other than that it was mostly just laundry and housecleaning with a nap in between to be sure I was rested.

I pulled up in front of Kate's house exactly on time to the minute. She was typically prompt and I knew it frustrated her when I was late to things so I wanted to get the night started on the right foot. Sure enough, no sooner had I put the car in Park than Kate was coming out the side door by the garage, waving goodbye to someone unseen in the house. Anyone in the neighborhood would have thought it was just her as usual, meeting someone for a meeting at school or the library. She slipped into the passenger seat next to me, took a big breath, and let it out slowly.

"Oh my god... Oh my god! I can't believe I'm going to do this," she sighed, "Bruce almost caught me putting on the teddy and I think I would've died if he saw me getting dressed with it underneath my outfit."

"But it turned you on though, didn't it?" I teased her as I pulled away from the curb.

Kate tossed her head back and giggled, "You have NO idea! You know, I've never left the house dressed like this It feels a little weird to be honest."

"So you're nice and horny now?" I pressed her a little.

She turned her head to me and I just caught a glimpse of her face as she grinned naughtily. "I did it THREE times today, can you believe it! I've NEVER done that before! I almost did it four times but the kids came home from school before I had the chance."

I smiled as I drove, trying to picture her in my mind, lying in her bed doing herself while her family was out. I wondered what her kids would think if they knew of their mom's new daily "routine"? Despite the fantasies you might read about on most porn sites, most likely they would be grossed out but then again, you never know!

"So tell me again... what do I do?" she asked after we quite laughing about her new "record".

"Just follow my lead," I told her, "There IS one thing that is REALLY important though.... NEVER offer anything you're not ready to back up."

"I don't understand. What do you mean?"

"Well, teasing them is fine - it's even expected and they would be greatly disappointed if you didn't. Just don't ask them things like if they want to have sex with you or in any way make it appear like you are offering them anything - unless you want to do it."

What I wasn't telling her, because I didn't want to scare her, was there was more than just the issue of taunting men to where you may get in over your head, there was also the legal issues that offering yourself to a man, potentially for money or other compensation, can cross the fine line between a stripper and a hooker. The LAST thing I needed was somebody getting pissed off or undercover and charging either of us with prostitution. I just imagine her calling her husband to bail her out of jail!

For the rest of the 45 minute drive we talked about ways to tease and what to do and NOT do. Kate touched a little bit on the issue of sex but I tried to steer away from that as I knew it would only frighten her off.

"Remember. if you ever get to where you feel uncomfortable with them touching you, then you have to control things," I told her, "It's ALWAYS up to YOU how far they can go. NEVER let them think they're making the decisions. Don't worry, they actually expect to be treated that way it so it's only if you allow them to do things on their own will it be an issue."

All of which was true. I've found most men are pretty conditioned from strip clubs. movies and such that there are rules and restrictions when it comes to strippers. Of course they'll always try to push the boundaries but usually all you have to do is tactfully push their hand away and they get the message nine times out of ten without having to resort to anything more forceful.

According to my GPS we had "arrived at your destination". We found ourselves in a typical Pittsburgh neighborhood - red brick homes built on hills. It was an older neighborhood and even had the original brick streets still in place. The house was nothing special or unique, two stories with a garage attached to the basement with a driveway dropping from street level down to the garage. It was interesting in that all the homes on this side of the street had the garages in back while those on the other side had the garage entrance in front but that was due to the ridiculous hills people decided to try build home on way back when!

"Well... ready?" I asked her, trying to smile and cheer her up.

Kate looked a bit apprehensive and I started to wonder if she wasn't going to back out at the last second. I guess if she did, she could stay in the car as I hadn't told the guy who arranged this that I was bringing her. I didn't think he would mind getting two for one! Still, it would have been disappointing if she did, not to mention I was sure she would regret it afterwards if she chickened out now.

"OK, let's do it," she said in a determined voice.

Without another word, we got out of the car and walked up to the front door. Kate looked more like the Avon Lady making a delivery while I had on a long overcoat so nobody watching would know how little I was wearing underneath in the middle of winter.

"Kelly?" the guy asked who answered the door after I'd rang the doorbell.

I always use my real first name as it is too easy to get confused otherwise but other than that, he knew nothing about me other than my cell phone number - and it was a throwaway from Wal-Mart that I used just for this sort of thing so I couldn't be traced. I saw his eye look to Kate behind ma and then he looked back at me, the question obvious without him saying anything.

"Oh, this is my mom" I explained with a grin and a wink, "She's going to watch to make sure you all behave."

At first I think he took me literally and the expression on his face was priceless. Then it dawned on him what was really going on and looked at Gwen, "Well hi mom, I'm Don. So what's your name again?'

"Kate," she answered, taking her cue from me on using her first name.

"Say, it's freezing out here, aren't you going to invite us in?" I playfully whined.

Don opened the door for us and we walked in straight into the living room. There wasn't anyone else there but from the sound coming up from the floor it was obvious where the party was going on.

"Can I take your coats?" Don offered.

"Ohhhhhh, I think we'll keep them on for now," I replied, smiling at him and trying to be sexy.

Don grinned and I imagined he was probably wondering what, if anything, was hiding underneath but that was the whole idea - make them wonder. It was the tease that got them going. No sense revealing anything until you had to.

We were led down the stairs and as soon as our legs must have come into sight, the hooting and hollering began. I looked back at Kate who had the appearance of being walked to the hangman's noose and smiled at her, telling her to perk up! Once we got down there, I took a quick count and saw there were just four other guys besides Don, which was what I had been expecting. Larger groups can be fun but this size would be less intimidating to Kate, at least that was what I was hoping.

There were several coolers which I assumed were loaded with beer and who knows what alcoholic beverages - no signs of soft drinks anywhere, just empty beer cans. A large HD TV was mounted on one wall with the obligatory porn movie playing. A few mostly empty pizza boxes attested to the menu for the evening. The only truly negative thing was it smelled like at least one of them was into cigars. While not as nauseating to me as cigarette smoke, I still hated it and I was hoping they wouldn't smoke any while I was performing.

"So guys, this is Kelly and her mom Kate," Don started out to introduce us but he barely got out those words before the ruckus started.

"MOM?" a couple guys asked at the same time, "What the fuck?", or some version of it, was also a common response from several.

"That's right guys, my mom's gonna be watching you so you better behave or we might have to spank you," I said teasingly and they quickly got the picture, just as Don had upstairs. I don't know if they believed that Kate was my real mom or not, but it was close enough I was sure for the fantasies to get started in their heads - and their dicks.

"So who's the naughty boy tonight?" I asked, as if the grave-stone shaped sign hanging around his neck proclaiming his imminent departure from singledom wasn't making it obvious enough to identify the groom.

I handed Don a CD which he put into the boom box I'd told him to have ready back when we negotiated our deal. My first song was "Doncha" from the Pussy Cat Dolls and I walked over to where the groom was sitting, beer in hand (obviously not his first) and stood there with my hands holding together the front of my coat that I had unbuttoned on the way down to the basement.

"So does your fiance ever wear something like THIS for you?" I taunted him as I slowly opened my coat to reveal my classic Daisy Duke outfit.

I dropped the coat down my arms and then tossed it over to Kate who just stood there watching for the moment, her eyes fixed on me the same as all the others in the room. Standing there in my heels, short shorts and revealing top I started to sway to the music, running my hands over my outfit and then up my legs and between them.

For the first few songs, it was just showing off a little, not revealing anything or doing anything terribly naughty. It was something you had to learn with experience, when to move on before they got bored or overly anxious without going TOO fast and doing the entire act in fifteen minutes. Sometimes, I could go half an hour without removing anything if they were into it while other times I could sense they were hungry for more from the outset and had to start stripping even half-way through the first song.

I motioned for Kate to take off her coat and it was funny to watch the reactions from the guys. She was likely at least ten years older than any of them and even in her conservative PTA outfit they still seemed to be as interested in her as they were in me!

For the time being, Kate stayed to the side, acting the part of the concerned mother keeping an eye on her slutty daughter. Don had offered her a beer which she declined, but then he brought out a bottle of cheap white wine (screw-top) and a glass, which to my surprise she accepted. She poured her own drink and started sipping on it as she watched. I'd never seen Kate drink before and I wondered if she was use to wine or just trying to overcome her nervousness with some cheap "confidence".

All the guys had taken a seat by now, forming a semicircle with the groom in the center in a stiffed chair with the others on folding chairs. There wasn't that much furniture in the basement other than a ping-pong table, pool table, and a couch that looked like a refugee from Goodwill over by the TV. It was a little chilly being a basement but nothing too uncomfortable. Dancing kept me warm anyway and it actually worked out rather well the way they were seated because my back was never to any of them. Kate seemed to prefer standing up and she kept behind me and to the side, her arms crossed, playing her role as the vigilant mother to the hilt.

Leaning over the groom so he got a good eyeful of my bosom, I slowly untied the blouse. Being it was already unbuttoned, once the knot was out it fell to the side, revealing my bra underneath. It wasn't like they didn't know it was there as it was plainly visible through the sheer blouse, but now there was nothing at all in the way which made it better for them to see.

Slowly the blouse came off and I tossed that to my "mom" as well. Soon the shorts followed, after taking what must have seemed forever to them to drop from my hips to my ankles. The thong didn't hide much of anything, well nothing really from the rear and about all it did up front was prove I had to be totally shaved as it barely covered my pussy slit. As I worked the room, a few guys started to reach out for my bare butt but for the moment, I playfully swatted them away and moved on to the next guy when they tried too hard.

Of course it wasn't too long before they wanted more. While I wasn't ready yet to take anything else off, that didn't mean I couldn't tease them a bit more. Using one hand over my pussy, I used the other to pull the thong to the side so my hand was flat against my bare skin. Mmmmmmm, I was pretty wet and it was tempting to give them the show I knew they wanted, but I'm a professional! It was the classic pussy tease - they KNEW nothing was covering it but my hand was hiding it from sight. One little slip, they had to be hoping, and they would get to see my pussy, as if they hadn't already seen more than most men ever would.

Sliding my thong back in place, it was time to play with my boobs for them. Reaching under the lower lip of the cups, one with each hand, I lifted them up and over my boobs, replacing the material of the bra with my hands until the only thing hiding them from view were my palms and fingers. I squeezed them and it felt good to press against my hardened nipples. Like I'd done with my pussy tease, each of the guys got a close-up view and for a brief moment I would let my fingers part just enough to reveal one of my nipples and then poof, it was out of sight again.

Meanwhile, Kate was still watching me. She had a thin smile and I wasn't sure exactly how to read her. She was probably wondering when she would get involved but I had it all planned out and she wouldn't be waiting much longer if things went according to what I had carefully worked out ahead of time.

Pulling my bra back down and pulling it down in place, much to their obvious chagrin, I went to standing in front of each one, my legs spread apart as I faced away from them and then reaching down to grab my ankles. I could feel the thong stretch and pull up between my pussy lips, virtually disappearing from view as it revealed my shaved pussy to each of them in turn. Legally I wasn't nude but try telling that to the guys staring at my pussy!

Of course the groom got the best show and this time when he reached out to grab my ass, I didn't push him away. Instead, I called out to Kate, "Mom! He's trying to grab my ass!"

It was Kate's cue and I hoped she would pick up on it. Thankfully she seized on the opportunity and moved forward as if to protect me.

"What do you think you're doing to my daughter young man," she scolded him, almost convincing ME she was really my mom! The poor guy didn't know what to say as his hands instinctively pulled away from my bare butt.

"Well I guess I'm just going to have to give you something else to think about so you won't molest my daughter," Kate went on. OK, so the line was a stretch, totally unrealistic and way overboard but what the heck, this wasn't Broadway. Besides, I had to give Kate credit for coming up with it on her own. My "mom" was making me proud of her!

"Mom!" I exclaimed, as if I was shocked at what she was insinuating, "Don't you dare!"

By now Kate must have downed at least a couple glasses of wine from what I'd seen, maybe more as it was hard to tell the way she tended to refill it constantly. In any case, she was definitely a little less sober than when we'd arrived and she had this quirky smile on her face that I hadn't seen before. She winked at me and finally took off her coat, revealing the "soccer mom" outfit. It was a basic beige skirt, hose, and a ruffled off-white blouse with long sleeves. The heels were higher than what she would have normally worn, but that just added to the erotic look.

"So what do I have to do to keep you guys off my daughter?" she teased them, getting into it a lot faster than I had ever expected.

Heck, if I'd known a little wine would loosen her up this quickly, I might've shared a few bottles long before now!

"Take it off!" one guy offered. "Strip!" was the simple response from another.

All of them were suddenly focused on Kate, even though she was fully dressed while I stood to the side in nothing more than heels, a barely visible thong and a bra without so much as a mention! It's weird how guys react sometimes, but quite predictable. It's what they haven't gotten yet that they want and in this case, they wanted Kate to "give in" to them.

Kate huffed, as if exasperated by their response but she started to unbutton her blouse, slowly going from one button down to the next. It parted just enough to reveal her teddy underneath but not enough to really show off anything. Leaving it on, she moved to the zipper on her hip for the skirt and slowly pushed it down until her skirt loosened up enough to drop on its own to her ankle. Every eye was focused on her as she stood there in heels with the blouse barely covering the teddy that was now being revealed underneath. She left the hose on, at least for the time being.

"Enough?" she asked, as if THAT answer was a mystery.

Of course the response was a collective, "NO!" and I could see in her face the joy that comes from knowing men want you. They all craved her and were desiring her and she KNEW it. Even if they couldn't have her, to know that they would do almost anything to change that was enough to boost even the most shy girl's ego and I could see Kate was responding to their appreciation for her.

I walked up behind her and slowly pulled the blouse off her shoulders and down her arms until she was standing there in nothing but the sheer teddy. The panties were black and just as sheer, enough to see the dark thatch of pubic hair she had decided to keep. Her ass, while not as tight as mine, was still looking pretty damn hot and several times guys would reach out to her as she made the rounds, trying to get a feel. She learned quickly from me, pushing them aside with a smile and a wink at time.

By now the hour was up and so was my "contract". Actually, they'd gotten more than what was bargained for as there had been no discussion of my "mom" coming along and stripping down to her lingerie. I leaned over to Don and quietly whispered that it was time for us to go. Rather than actually leave, though, I waited for the inevitable request and Don didn't disappoint me.

"Oh come on, can't you guys stay any longer?" he pleaded.

I grinned and responded, Well Don, I guess anything is negotiable... and I do mean ANYTHING. What did you have in mind?" Of course I already knew what he would want but it was important that the suggestion come from him to protect me.

"Strip?" he asked tentatively. I whispered to him what it would cost and his eyes widened. I just shrugged my shoulders and acted as if I was going to leave when he grabbed me by the arm and pulled me back.

"That's for both of you, right?"

"Well, it's OK with me but it's up to my mom what she does."

Basically I was offering to strip myself but leave it up to Kate what to do. Don dug into his wallet, came up with the cash (amazing how guys always seem to have it ready at these parties), which I quickly transferred to my coat pocket with as little fanfare as possible.

"So are we leaving?" Kate asked, not having heard my discussion with Don.

I explained to her I would be doing a bit more first and she could do whatever she wanted - even strip down more. She shook her head and retreated back to her wine bottle to watch the show. I could have sworn the bottle was full when she was given it and now it was down two thirds of the way and she was still working on it. She didn't seem to be drunk yet so maybe she hadn't drunk it all herself.

"OK guys, I'm told you all want a bit more," I announced as the music continued.

Without dragging it out, I stripped off the bra and thong, handing them to Kate who just stared at me with her eyes wide as I stood there in nothing but heels and makeup. Things began to heat up now as I worked the room, wiggling my bare ass and boobs in their faces, grinding my bare bottom on their laps. It was obvious they were aroused as hell from the bulges I could feel when I sat down. At first I kept their hands at bay but over time, I started to let them get away with a little more and then a little more. First it was just my legs and butt and eventually I let them fondle my boobs and even get close to my pussy, but not IN it. Once again, I decided to see if my "strategy" to get Kate involved would work.

"Mom! He's trying to put his finger inside my pussy!" I whined to her when one guy got especially rambunctious.

Kate was sipping from her wine glass and I could see the look in her eyes as she realized what I was insinuating. It was decision time for her - to strip to not to strip. I was sure that had I just walked over and asked her that she would have declined but now, with everyone looking at her expectedly, seeing the lust and anticipation in their eyes, it was a different story entirely. She had to see that they WANTED her, just like she wished her husband would.

These men, none of whom had never seen her before, CRAVED her body, like she wished her husband would. Everything that had so frustrated her in the past was now available to her. Under the circumstances, how could she say no? I knew she couldn't in this situation, which was exactly why I had maneuvered her into it.

Kate set the glass of wine down and rolled her eyes, as if to say, "The thing I do for my daughter!" Then she actually DID mutter it, just loud enough for everyone to hear which set up a burst of laughter. Kate was doing great, playing the "mom" role to the hilt as if she was a professional. It was all quite convincing, well at least if you buy into the classic porn cliches and set aside any common sense.

As for me, I decided to keep a seat on the groom's lap. He had his hands planted firmly on my bare hips but I could tell his concentration was more on Kate now than me, even though I was sitting there naked as could be on his lap. Meanwhile, Kate was standing in the center of the semi-circle, looking more than a little nervous which was actually the most erotic she could be for this group in her role. She really DID look like a real mom who was doing this for the first time. The ironic part was, it WAS her first time but these guys probably figured it was just a good show.

There were definitely two camps in terms of what they were hoping for next. A couple of the guys were calling out for her to take off her panties while the others wanted the bra to drop first. It was a classic dilemma every stripper faces - boobs or pussy first? For some guys, nothing is greater than a topless girl while others get turned on more by the bottomless look. It was something you couldn't predict beforehand but just had to make a judgment call in the end.

In this case, however, it was Kate that would make the final choice based on HER comfort level. It was no surprise to me to see her toying with her bra to start with. Most girls I know, if they HAD to expose themselves, would go topless long before bottomless. It's like boobs are "normal". Strip clubs go topless but keep the panties on. Beaches are often topless but still require bikini bottoms. Movies can show breasts and get a PG-13 rating but pussies are still off limits.

"Take it off!" one of the louder ones called out.

I wanted to yell at him as such behavior was NOT helping. Kate was nervous as it was and for them to treat her like a whore was NOT the attention she wanted. She wanted to know men appreciated her, even lusted for her but it was in context of affirming what her husband refused to do for her, not to become a slut or a whore. She looked at me and I tried to give her the warmest, most encouraging smile I could. I silently mouthed to her, "Go for it!" which seemed to calm her down just enough to keep going.

The bra straps dropped from her shoulders to her elbows and she worked her arms out of them, leaving her bra pretty much in place but in a precarious situation. Then she slowly pulled down the cups, one with each hand, until her nipples were on the verge of being exposed and then she retreated and pulled them back up again as if she was having second thoughts.

"C'mon mom, show us your tits before we fuck your daughter!" the loud one called out again. There's always one, isn't there?

Kate just ignored him and again slowly pulled them down until they flopped off her boobs and dropped to her lower chest. In a move crafted after decades of practice, she twisted the bra around bring the back to the front where she undid the clasps and tossed the bra to her side. For a few brief moments her beautiful boobs were on display but then she hid them behind her hands, like a girl caught in the shower. She looked at me as if she wanted the OK to go further and I just nodded imperceptibly, giving her my "permission" to proceed. With that she dropped her hands from her boobs and just stood there, beautiful in her partial nudity, standing there as if she didn't know what to do next. Well, the guys certainly knew what THEY wanted and weren't afraid to tell her.

"Nice rack!" one said in appreciation of her assets.

"Hey, are those real? Let me check `em out!" another said.

It seemed to jar her back into motion as she strolled slowly around the five of them, pausing in front of me while I reached out and tweaked her nipples, something she hadn't allowed the guys to do.

"No fair!" the complaints arose, "Why does SHE get to touch them and we can't?"

I took advantage of the opening and stood up next to Kate, putting my arm around her bare waist, resting my hand on her hips while allowing my fingers to reach just inside of the side of her panties.

"There's LOT'S of things mom lets me do you can't," I teased them.

Kate looked at me with that, "What the hell are you doing NOW?" glare but she didn't seem to be resisting me either. I leaned over and started to suck on her nipple, tugging on it between my teeth and then sucking it hard in my mouth while my tongue played with the tip of her nipple. At first Kate tensed up but then between the alcohol and the feeling of my mouth on her breast, I could hear her sigh audibly, as did the rest of them as well.

"Oh yeah, now THAT'S what I'm talkin' about!" Don called out, "Now tell me, do I know how to pick the entertainment or what?"

Kate was letting me take the lead so I stood behind her and put one hand on each hip, hooking my fingers in her panties. Then slowly, with as much flare and tease as I could, I lowered her panties down to her ankles where she gingerly stepped out of them, leaving her with just her hose and heels on to compliment her smile.

"You look GREAT!" I quickly whispered in her ear as I stood back up, tossing her panties to the groom this time.

To the delight of his comrades. He held them to his nose and took in a big whiff of Kate's crotch odor.

"Oh yeah, smell that mommy cunt!" one of the them encouraged the groom,

"It's the last one you'll be smelling besides Amy's for a LONG time!" I assumed Amy was his fiance.

I moved over to Don as my mom gave the groom an up-close and personal view of her naked body. She still wouldn't let him touch her but she dropped her boobs right in front of her face. It was an amateur mistake and before she could react, he rushed forward and sucked on her nipple for a second before she could pull back. She took it well though, playfully smacking him on the side of the face and calling him a naughty boy. Meanwhile, I'd taken a seat on Don's lap and I could feel his swollen dick pressing against my bare bottom through his jeans.

"Well, you got us nude so it's time to go," I warned him, "Hmmmmmm, somebody doesn't seem to want to see us leave though!"

I reached under me between my legs and playfully planted my hand over his dick. I could feel the warmth through his jeans and it was like a steel pipe was hidden away under there. Ribbing it through his pants, I was sure he was getting my not-so-subtle invitation.

"Oh god... how much?"

If he was surprised at the last demand, this time he must have totally shocked but I pressed down on his dick again and he just stuttered before answering.

"Let me check with the guys," he said quickly, motioning to the others to gather around.

"What's the story, I thought this was all we would do?" Kate asked me as the guys huddled.

"Well, I think they want me to provide some special services, I guess you could say," I tried to explain without getting TOO graphic.

"You mean SEX?" she gasped, "Oh no, not me Kelly. I told you I can't do that."

"I never said anything about YOU," I corrected her, "You can watch but you don't have to do anything you don't want to. Besides, didn't you say you wouldn't get nude either!"

"Well, that doesn't mean means I will have sex with them!" she said firmly and I believed her, even if she WAS on her fifth glass of wine and was pouring out the last drops from the now empty bottle. The way she was going, it wasn't as much a question of would she or wouldn't she, but more of would she pass out before anything COULD happen?

Meanwhile, Don was back, a grin on his face and his hands holding a wad of money. Once again, it's just magical how money can just appear when the penis gets hard enough! "It's a little short but it's all we got unless you take a check."

I almost laughed but that would have been embarrassing and rule number one - never embarrass the client. OK, maybe it wasn't number one but it was a top ten for sure. Like I would take a check! I counted it and they were only a hundred shy so I figured what I had was better than nothing since I was there already so why not?

"OK, here's the rules," I said, moving in front of them with the music off for a moment. All you could hear were the moans and cries from the porn video that was still going, I guess it was an appropriate backdrop for the situation. "First, everything stays HERE - nothing private or alone. Second, all or none. I mean that if you want something, all of you have to be willing to do it with me or none of you do. Third, stay out of my ass - PERIOD. Last, mom just watches - hands off her, are we clear on that?"

They were simple but important rules. The first two were for my protection with the first being obvious. Going off alone to a private room with a drunk horny guy was a recipe for disaster, so that one was obvious. The second was not so much to be naughty, although it can lead to that especially where the groom is concerned, but again it was for my protection as usually if someone wanted something REALLY kinky, not everyone would agree to doing it so it tended to keep things on a more even keel. As for my ass, anyone who knows me knows how I feel about that. Lastly, I wanted to be sure Kate wasn't pressured into anything she wasn't ready and willing to do. Sure it would be sexy as hell to see her getting down and dirty but I wasn't counting on it.

They gave my rules all the deep thought you give that disclosure statement when you install software - none. They were drunk and horny as hell and their dicks were doing the thinking now for them. They weren't sure what was going to happen next so I made the first move. It was the least I could do considering the amount of money they had just "invested". Of course, the first one to get my attention was the groom. No sense wasting time so I just leaned down and undid his pants, then reached in and pulled out his dick, or more accurately speaking, freed it from its prison as it pretty much sprung out from his pants like a jack-in-the-box.

Looking back at Kate, who for the first time seemed to grasp that I wasn't just teasing but was really going through with this, was staring at me, reminding me a lot of the first time I had masturbated in front of her.

"There we go!" I heard one of the called out as I took the groom's dick in my mouth and proceeded to give him a blowjob he wouldn't soon forget.

I bet his fiance didn't suck his dick nearly as good as I did. Of course, odds were his fiance hadn't sucked a tenth the number I had, probably much less than that and as my dad always told me, practice makes perfect. As drunk as the groom was, his dick was still hard as a rock and I loved having the audience as well as I kneeled down, keeping my mouth clamped around his dick the entire time. Now that I was more comfortable, I bent over him and shoved his dick into my throat, pressing my face and nose into his hairy crotch was his entire dick disappeared into my hungry mouth.

"Fuck, look at the bitch take it all!" someone complimented me, at least that's how I took his comment to mean.

Meanwhile, I started to play with myself, FINALLY touching my clit after having ignored the poor thing until now and it let me know how much it missed my attention. I was soaking wet and between the feel of his dick in my mouth and my finger pushed up inside my pussy, I was already about to cum!

"Oh fuck it!" the groom suddenly exclaimed and I quickly realized the source of his expletive as he started pumping his cum in my mouth.

I kept my lips sealed on his dick, keeping his cum in my mouth while trying not to let any of it escape. When he was done, I lifted my head and it was show-time as I opened my mouth and stuck out my cum-covered tongue for them all to see. Once they had seen "proof" that I indeed had a mouthful of his cum, I made a grand display of swallowing it and then reopened my mouth to prove to them that I had indeed swallowed his entire load in one gulp.

Glancing back at Kate, I saw she was just watching, sipping away at the last few drops of her wine. It was hard to tell if she was turned on or just more fascinated in seeing something like this for the first time in her life.

I was suddenly surrounded by four dicks all popping from their blue jean jail, almost poking me in the eye for that matter. I grabbed two of them and started sucking on a third but the fourth was left on his own. I tried trading off between them, giving equal time to all four as best I could but it was hard with four of them and just one of me. I could see Kate, watching everything intently and a thought came to mind. It was a long shot but why not?

"Mom, I can't do them all! I need you to help me." It was a tossup as to who was more surprised, her or the guys. Kate looked at me like she couldn't believe what I'd said while the other guys all looked at Kate, hoping that they HAD indeed heard what I'd said.

"Yeah, get over her and help your little girl out mom!" Don encouraged her.

She shook her head violently with an emphatic "No!" that was mouthed but not heard. Undeterred, and ignoring my warning about pushing Kate to do something she wasn't ready for, Don walked over to her, his stiff dick gripped firmly in his hand until he was right up against her. As she sat there looking at me as if asking me what to do now, he lewdly rubbed his erect dick against her bare hip and belly.

"What's the matter Mom, don't you want to help your daughter?" he teased her as he continued to rub the head of his dick against her bare belly.

As much as she was trying to say no, I noted she wasn't exactly pulling away from the touch of his dick against her and I thought to myself that if Don kept pushing just a little more, but not TOO much, that he stood a good chance of actually getting her to suck him!

Don was smart, I had to give him that. I think he sensed that pushing Kate verbally would be self-defeating so instead, he reached out with his free hand, took Kate by the hand, and guided her hand to his dick. Surprisingly, she grabbed his hard cock, almost instinctively as he let go of it with his own had. She just stood there, holding a man's dick, the first one beside her husband's for what was the probably the first time in twenty years or more, seeming unsure of what to do next.

"C'mon mom, show your slutty daughter how it's REALLY done!" he finally encouraged her.

She didn't say a word but for the first time I could see the effect of the wine as her eyes sort of rolled and she stumbled to keep her balance. Then, almost robotically, she dropped to the floor and he pushed his dick up close to her face. Everyone else, even me with a dick in my mouth, was watching her every move. She just stared at Don's dick to begin with, and then I saw her lick her lips and I knew it was just a matter of time now.

Sure enough, she closed her eyes and leaned forward, allowing Don's dick to enter her mouth slowly and then she closed her mouth around him and he started to stroke it in and out of her mouth. She took his cock in her mouth as if she'd been sucking cock forever. I was the only other one in the room who knew how many years it had actually been since she had sucked a dick as I doubt the others would have even believed me if they knew the truth about Kate's true sexual history.

One of the other guys moved over to Kate, leaving us each with two dicks to suck while the groom was left stroking himself, trying to get himself back in the game. I feared that with as much as they all had been drinking, that he might be good for just one shot but if anything, he seemed to be recovering even faster than normal. Well, I guess it was time to up the ante a bit now that all of them had their dicks sucked to one degree or another. Standing up, I kept a grip on the two dicks I had "assigned" to me and backed up between the groom's legs.

"You don't mind if I sit down on your lap again?" I asked him innocently, although there was nothing innocent about my intent.

As I did, I felt his hard dick press against my butt and then slip behind me as I sat on his lap, pressing now against the small of my back as I planted myself on his lap.

"You know, that thing is really in the way... can't you put it someplace better?" I teased the groom.

There were a couple of reasons why I picked the groom to be the first to fuck me - IF he was going to. The first was just that, WOULD he fuck me? It went back to my all or nothing rule. Usually if anyone it was the groom that would back out from having sex with the stripper as he had the most to lose the next day. Imagine if his fiance were to find out just before the wedding he had fucked another girl? There was no sense dong the others only to have the groom chicken out in the end. Besides, it was just polite to do the guest of honor first, don't you agree?

Unlike the majority of grooms, this one evidently had no moral issues with fucking another girl the night before his wedding as he didn't wait for a second tease but went straight for the prize. As I lifted myself up and off his lap, keeping a grip on the other cocks the entire time, I could feel him positioning his dick below my pussy hole and then I felt the familiar pressure of a hard dick head trying to force its way into me, like an intruder violating my most private entrance.

"Hey mom, watch me!" I called out to Kate as I lowered myself onto his dick.

As horny as I was and as wet as my pussy was, he slide fairly easily into me, even for the first time. Kate was alternating between her two dicks and even as I was starting to be fucked, I wondered if this was the first time in her life she had ever done two men at the same time before.

I settle down on his lap, his cock filling my pussy as I slowly ground my ass into him, resuming my sucking of one cock and then the other. The groom was holding me by my hips, rocking me back and forth to keep his dick moving just a bit inside of me at all times. God, was this hot or what? Here I was being violated by a man who was about to sear everlasting love to a women in less than 24 hours while I watched a "normal" housewife degenerate into the slut she was afraid of becoming as she sucked away at two dicks like she was a pro and had been doing it for years.

On it went like that for what seemed a long time as the guys would trade off between Kate and me while I kept letting the groom be the only one to fuck me. Between the beer and having just unleashed a load just a short while ago into my mouth, I was about to give up on him cumming again when once again he said it.

"Oh fuck it!" he gasped and this time I knew what was coming just a moment before my pussy confirmed it as he jerked under me and shot his second load of cum into me, only this time into my pussy instead of my mouth.

I ground my ass hard into his crotch, feeling his thick pubic hair brush against my bare bottom like a soft Brillo pad as his dick quickly shrank within me to where I finally was able to just lift myself slightly and he flopped out - totally spent this time.

"So who's next?" I said innocently, like a clerk at the checkout counter calling for the next customer.

Don was back with me by then, having rotated a bit earlier between me and Kate. He seemed to be the dominate one of the group and as such, the one who made sure he was the next to have me. He grabbed me by the upper arms and lifted me off the groom's lap.

"Bend over the chair slut and spread `em," he demanded.

Well, I guess since he paid for it, he could be a jerk but still, it wouldn't have hurt to be a little nice to me, would it? Don went straight for it, jamming his cock in my pussy from behind with little warning, shoving it in to the hilt in a couple of hard movements and then he was literally buried to the hilt in me. Without even taking the time to enjoy the feeling of his dick in me, he started to stroke himself in and out of me, hard and fast.

"Damn Kate, your daughter sure has one hell of a tight pussy," he gloated.

Just as he said it, one of the guys Kate was sucking erupted, catching her off-guard just as her attention had been drawn to me and before she could pull back, he emptied his first load into her mouth, with the rest spraying onto her face and boobs. From the expression on her face, I wondered if ANY man had cum in her mouth before then? Oh well, it should make for an interesting conversation on the way home, THAT was for sure.

One of the remaining guys yet to cum went over to the one Kate was still sucking and I saw them whispering back and forth but couldn't make out what they were saying. Then the one said something to Kate and by now, she just shrugged, as if giving head to strangers was old-hat for her. He sat down on the chair next to the one I was leaning on as Don fucked me, although more slowly now as he seemed to be as interested as I was as to what was going on with Kate.

Kate started to kneel in front of him to suck his dick again but he told her to stay standing up and lean over to suck him. She just shrugged, blissfully unaware of what was painfully obvious to me what his intent was in asking her to do so. Kate rested her hands on the tops of his thighs as she leaned over and started once again to take his dick in her mouth. Our heads were just a foot or so apart now and she turned to me and smiled, unable to say anything with her mouth full of dick. What she didn't seem to realize was what a tempting target her fine ass was making for the rest of the guys in the room!

Looking over my shoulder, my instincts were confirmed. Unknown to Kate, the second guy was moving in behind her and sure enough, without warning he quickly grabbed her butt and spread her cheeks apart and planted his face firmly in her ass, licking her pussy and asshole. Kate tried to stand up to stop him but the guys she was sucking had his hands on the top of her head, forcing her down on his cock and not letting her stand up. Then the guy licking her must have hit the "sweet spot" because suddenly her eyes widened even more and I heard a muffled "Oh!" as she groaned with her mouth full of cock.

In a way, Kate and I were in almost identical positions, at least so far as out body positions were concerned. I was bent over an empty chair, being fucked from behind while Kate was being licked from behind while sucking on the guy seated in front of her.

The groom, meanwhile, seemed content to just watch us, stroking his now flaccid cock as he still masturbated while watching us. It wasn't long before our situations became even MORE similar, much to Kate's surprise. The guy licking her pussy suddenly stood up and once again, her lack of experience showed as before she could react he slipped his rigid dick in her now well-lubricated pussy.

"You can't fuck me!" she cried out, jerking her head up so violently he couldn't keep it down in his lap unassisted, "Noooooo!"

Between the two men though, she was unable to get away and with his dick now all the way in her, what was done was done. Whether she wanted it to not, she was being fucked by someone other than her husband so in my head, I was pleading with her to enjoy the ride! Although I doubt my powers of telepathy are all that great, it was like she heard me as she stopped struggling and seemed to accept what was happening to her.... and then enjoying it.

"Oh god yes... fuck me," I was shocked to hear her panting, "Mommy needs to be fucked SOOOO bad."

The best part one, unlike some of the things I was saying as I was being fucked, I knew what Kate was saying was REAL, coming from her heart, not her brain.

It must have been enough to get Don off as he was fucking me as he started to cum in me and then pulled out and sprayed his remaining cum over my butt and back. Crap, why couldn't he just stay inside of me as now I had a mess to clean up. For a brief moment I wondering just what men get out of doing that? Why not stay in me and shoot it in my pussy where I wanted it?

Then it was Kate's turn to take a load. Her guy was groaning loudly as he pumped one shot after another of his cum into her and I hoped she had some form of protection, even if the odds of her husband fucking her at any given time were nil.. Oh well, that was her problem, not mine.

That left two to go and I was surprised, if not a little miffed, that both wanted Kate rather than me! The Mrs. Robertson syndrome strikes again! I guess you could say that I am at that "tweener" stage, too old to be the teenage "young girl" that guys loved to fuck back when I was younger but not old enough to qualify yet as a MILF.

Oh well, I wasn't complaining. If anything, it gave me the opportunity to sit back and enjoy the show as I played with myself as I watched Kate sink deeper and deeper into her newfound depravity.

The next guy was on his back on the floor rug, motioning for her to take a seat on his dick which she readily took advantage of, straddling his hips and leaning over him, allowing her pendulous boobs to drop into his face as she mounted his hard dick. I played with my cum-filled pussy as I watched the craziest scene I had seen in ages unfold before me. I NEVER would have dreamed that Kate could go crazy like this. It was like someone had opened the flood gates and all the pent-up emotions and sexual needs that had built up over the years of neglect from her husband were suddenly flooding out of her all at once. She was calling out for them to fuck her harder, saying nasty words and being as dirty mouthed as your finest whore, things I hadn't even realized were in her vocabulary.

By the time she'd gotten the last one to unload in her pussy - her third load of cum and all of them in her pussy, I had gotten myself off as well, sort of a final touch to the evening so far as I was concerned. It was unusual for me to have the chance to cum at these parties as my energies were largely focused on meeting the client's needs and my "performance". If course, that meant faking some pretty spectacular orgasms but it wasn't that easy to cum under these conditions so having some "me" time to get myself off was like a bonus for me.

Then, just like that, it was over. It was like some sort of silent alarm went off and everyone just stopped and seemed to agree that we were done. The guys had all come and for men, that's what counted. Kate was left kneeling on the floor, her face flushed beet red after what I had counted to be at least three orgasms, maybe more. She put her hand down to her crotch, bringing it back up covered with the mixture of cum that was dripping from her well-fucked pussy, looking at it like it was some alien substance. It was almost like in her drunken state that she didn't quite understand where it had come from and what it was doing coming out of HER. She had a dazed look on her face, a combination of being fucked hard too much wine.

I gathered our things and found a bathroom where I tried to clean the cum from her as best as could while she just sat on the toilet seat, her eyes raising back into her head as her head bounced around like a bobble doll. God, all I was hoping was that she wouldn't pass out, or get sick and puke all over my car on the way home! I washed off her face and tried to comb out her hair. Forget the underwear, I was lucky to get her skirt and blouse back on but fortunately her jacket would hide most of it anyway. After I was dressed, I put on my coat and we headed out back through the front door again.

"Hey Kelly, that was great!" I heard behind us and turned to see Don waving goodbye.

Then he seemed to want to ask something and finally he got the nerve to ask, "So tell me something, is Kate your REAL mom or was that just an act?"

I just grinned at him, not answering him but leaving him to wonder, maybe for the rest of his life, what the REAL story was. Well, it was close as after all, she WAS a real mom and married woman. She may not have been MY mom but did that really matter?

Just to close this out with the aftermath...

I somehow got Kate home and in bed without alerting her family as to her "condition". From what she told me later, she slept in until noon the next day and just told everyone she had a "bug" and wasn't feeling too good - enough incentive to not have to get too close to anyone for them to smell her until she had time to shower and clean herself up.

It was at least a week before we had the chance to get back together again and I could tell she was torn about what she had done. On the one hand, she was aghast at what had happened and was feeling guilty as hell about committing adultery, especially in such a wanton, slutty way. On the other hand, she said she no longer felt "unattractive" when her husband ignored her as she knew now that at least there were a few men out there were more than happy to fuck her again if they ever got the chance.

We never even discussed the possibility of a repeat performance. I didn't have to be hit over the head with a blunt object to recognize where Kate was at with regards to such a thing. It was a one-time thing for her, something to be ashamed of yet at the same time, something she would never forget. There was no need for her to repeat it though. Kate was a loving and loyal wife and I just hope that someday she'll look back at our months together fondly and perhaps thank them someday for helping her out.

After all, isn't that all any mentor really asks for?

(Apr 11) Chapter 183: I Was His Daughter

Story codes: MF F-solo exhib oral adultery
Jack (39)

Well, at least I was for one afternoon. I've found that most husbands, if pushed hard enough, will admit that they have at least THOUGHT about having sex with their daughter (it doesn't seem to matter how old they are either - father OR daughter). Now while probably more than 99.9% of fathers would never actually DO any of the things they secretly fantasize about doing with their daughters, there is always that one...

1. Why I Model

A girl has to pay the rent and buy food so when my teaching career was put on hold, I had to find some way to earn money. Since teaching is the only "real" job I've ever had, my resume was a bit thin when it came to seeking employment. I've never even worked as a waitress. During my high school years, while most of my friends were turning down babysitting jobs, I became the neighborhood sitter. Paid in cash, tax-free, work your own hours, watch TV and have fun half the time you're at work... what more can you ask for? Of course there is the annoyance of the kids, but I can deal with them and besides, they usually went to bed soon after the parents leave anyway. Unfortunately, when you move into your twenties, "babysitting" becomes" child care", along with a host of rules and requirements I didn't want to get involved with. Plus, I had finally grown out of it and besides, it wasn't a full-time paycheck big enough to pay for my living expense.

The only other real "job experience" I have was from when I worked as an escort. Now that does NOT mean I was a hooker. OK, in college I did the escorting "with benefits" thing, but it was more because I was horny than I needed the money. In any case, It didn't last long - to only took five clients before I learned the dangers of such a "job" first-hand and quit before anything more serious happened.

After college, I worked for an escorting agency but it was a "legitimate" service specializing in providing "hosts" for parties, corporate meetings, out-of-town executives needing a "date", and so forth. The agency was extremely concerned about their image and reputation, especially with the local vice squad, so sex was strictly off-limits. In fact, it was one of the things that would get you fired without a second chance. I enjoyed it, got to meet some really nice people, and earned a decent living but it didn't have any long- term career potential.

When a teaching position opened, even though the pay was only a fraction of my current salary, I jumped at the opportunity. I loved teaching elementary school and I thought my career was finally going in the right direction.

Then came last fall and my life turned topsy-turvy. In the space of a couple of months, I lost my mother, my fiance, and my job. They weren't all related but it was like taking a series of body-blows all in one round. Without going into the details, I was uncertain if I would ever get a teaching job again so I looked for something to keep me eating and warm with gas in my tank, at least for the near future.

My old escorting agency was anxious for me to return, but another opportunity came up that was different and so I gave it a try. I joined up with a lady who hosted home lingerie and sex toy parties - sorta like Tupperware parties but more risque. They are for women ONLY and I don't do anything but wear naughty clothes and pretend to "demonstrate" the merchandise. It's a "soccer mom" thing and they aren't looking for a strip show or anything TOO naughty, just something to giggle about and maybe be slightly embarrassed by.

One of the side-benefits of the parties are the referrals I get for more "interesting" events - bachelor parties, birthdays, etc. Some of the requests are rather blatant and it's obvious the person is looking for a whore more than a slutty stripper. These I pass on to my cousin Kristen who just happens to BE a rather high-end prostitute so they're right up her alley. As a general rule, I stay away from "private" dates with one person and stick to groups. As Clint Eastwood might have said, a girl's got to know her limitations!

Anyone reading my dairy will find a few entries about such "referrals" from the parties where I work and from them, it would be easy to make the mistaken assumption that they represent the "norm" when actually they are quite the opposite. The reason they appear in my diary is because they are NOT normal or typical and which is why I write about them. I have told people over and over that my diary represent the "highlights" of my life, not the average day-to-day events. I have two criteria for deciding to make an entry - either it is something different and unique or it was something that had a big impact on my life, making me into who I am today.

Unfortunately, most of the latter are not always GOOD things but I feel they're just as important for people to read about me if they are to understand me at all.

Where I am going is that almost all bachelor parties and such are NOT all that wild and crazy, at least from my perspective. I would guess that at almost half of them I never even get fully nude - pretty damn close but at least a G-string remains. Of the remaining, over half of THOSE I never let anyone touch me and of THOSE, less than half get to do anything more than touch my butt and maybe my boobs. Sex is a RARE thing indeed and even then, usually limited to blowjobs. Full intercourse is VERY rare, so much so that almost every time it happens, it makes it to my diary so one look at the index tells you how seldom THAT happens!

Another thing that is rare for me is to accept a personal request from someone that attends a my party where I entertain. I'm talking about a request to meet them alone at some point after the party. As I mentioned before, most of those requests I defer to Kristen but in a couple of cases, I've kept them for myself and had some quite "interesting" times. Such was the case with Jack...

2. Jack Contacts Me

The party where Jack saw me was actually back in December. It was a 21st birthday party for some guy and all his friends pitched in to pay for some entertainment. I handed out cards afterwards and to be honest, never expected to hear from any of them. By the time Jack called me a couple months later, even I had forgotten about it! All I could remember was that it had been a bit boring as I never even stripped naked and nobody laid a hand on me. Usually when that happens it's because the guys are too cheap to pay for anything more!! That's why my policy has always been that I only "contract" ahead of time for a sexy dance and only to strip down to being topless with a G-string. Anything more than that has to be arranged at the party where I hold all the negotiating power, plus it helps to avoid any potential entrapment issues where someone could claim I was prostituting myself over the telephone.

Given their lack of enthusiasm for putting out any more cash, I hardly expected any of them to call me later for anything more personal - and substantially more expensive. Thus you can imagine my surprise when my "party" phone rang and it turned out to be Jack from the December show. Of course I didn't remember him specifically, and definitely not his name, but he knew enough details from the party that the odds were he was on the up-and-up. He was rather cryptic over the phone, not really saying what he REALLY wanted.

In the end, he invited me out to dinner where we could discuss potential "business opportunities". It didn't take the genius of a rocket scientist to know we weren't going to be talking about setting up an Avon franchise! Not having any idea what he was up to, I told him I would meet him at a local restaurant where I knew the booths were large with high backs so our conversation could be relatively private. Also, since we were meeting on a Wednesday night I figured it wouldn't be as crowded as it usually got on weekends. Heck, if nothing else it should be a free dinner so what did I have to lose? One thing I did do that I think surprised him was I asked him to send me an e-mail with a photo of himself. Jack was reluctant to do so but I told him I wanted to be able to recognize him when I entered the restaurant and it was non-negotiable so he finally agreed.

I didn't get his e-mail until the following day and then I was surprised to see that he sent it from his work e-mail account based on the company name in the address. I shook my head and asked myself why guys are such idiots. So many guys send me things from either their personal or work accounts and THEN ask me to keep the address private, Why in the world they don't set up another FREE account with one of the umpteen sites that offer them to use for things like this, I'll never understand.

You see for me, privacy on the internet is everything. None of my family or friends even know about my private e-mail account and I use it ONLY for my website activities. Guys like Jack get another account I use strictly for work- related stuff. Nobody gets my personal cell phone number except my family and closest friends. For "work" (like when Jack called me), I use a throw-away phones from Wal-Mart that came prepaid and I don't have to give out my name or anything. To me, all this isn't being paranoid, it's just common sense!

Unfortunately, I couldn't recall Jack from the party, even with the photo he sent me. I wondered if it was a recent one? Actually, he sent two photos, one of just him and the other looked to be a family portrait, sort of like the ones you have taken for a church membership directory. It looked like your typical, everyday middle-class WASP family with Jack, his wife, and two kids - a young boy and a teenage girl. I would have guessed the boy to be maybe eight and the girl somewhere around sixteen or seventeen but then she may have been younger.

Jack's wife was pretty, a tall brunette with long hair and a great figure from what I could tell. Unlike her mom, their daughter was a blonde and she was standing behind her parents in the portrait so it was hard to see much of her other than that she seemed to be quite cute. Based on the kids, that put Jack in his mid-thirties by my calculation, maybe pushing forty. In my experience, turning forty, more so than the "seven-year itch" was more reason for men to start straying. Call it "mid-life crisis" or whatever, but it seems they start to realize they are no longer teenagers anymore while their wives are typically more involved with outside activities and less sexually active when their kids get into their teens.

Well... so far it all seemed to be a fairly stereotypical situation. My guess was Jack wanted to prove he still "had it" and was worried if he didn't do it soon, he may never get the chance again to be with a girl my age. It was really a shame in a way, but then it also meant an opportunity for me! After all, it feels good to be the one a man like Jack turns to when he finally makes the decision to cheat on his wife and family.

3. Dinner With Jack

Wednesday night came quickly and I drove myself to the restaurant. During the day I had debated a while over what to wear and in the end went for the "girl- next-door" look more so than the "slut" image he was probably expecting (hoping?) for. I decided that I wanted to hear what he had to say before I gave him anything more than what he'd already seen at the party. Hopefully he remembered me from the last few minutes of the party when I finally took off my bra leaving my boobs exposed along with my bare ass while my pussy was barely concealed by a flimsy G-string. Granted, they only got to see me like that for a few brief minutes but I would be willing to bet that good 'ol Jack had masturbated that night at home imagining me going even further - a LOT further.

I loved going home after parties and try to picture how many men were jerking off at that moment because of what I'd showed them or maybe even done to them at the party. Now that I'd seen Jack's family, it made me even hotter to think about their loving father and husband, stroking himself in the bathroom behind a locked door as he closed his eyes and imagined how it would feel to have me suck his dick and then even fuck me.

Mmmmmmm, the thought of his cum shooting out onto his hand while he dreamed of cumming inside of me was SO hot!

As I stepped into the restaurant, I was surprised to see there was a waiting list. Fortunately, I was a little late so Jack must have already been seated as I didn't see him in the waiting area. I took off my jacket and I could almost feel the eyes of the men seated around me boring into me. It wasn't that I was wearing anything that particularly revealing, just pants and a t-shirt, but rather how it was how they fit me that caught their eyes. The t-shirt was pure white with glittery letters spelling out "Daddy's Girl" across the front. Being it was about two sizes too small for me, it clung to me like Saran-Wrap leaving little doubt that it was ALL I was wearing above the waist. It was opaque enough that my nipples didn't show through but being as tight as it was, they poked out even when I WASN'T cold. It was too short to reach my pants and even when I pulled it down there was about an inch of my tummy left showing.

In the process of pulling off my jacket, it pulled up and now there were two to three inches showing which I didn't bother to do anything about. My light tan pants were just as tight and seamless, fitting my ass like an expensive glove. Even the so-called "no-show" panties would have revealed themselves had I chosen to wear any - which I hadn't.

Around my waist I was wearing a studded leather belt my mom's best friend from Oregon had sent me for Christmas, more for show than anything as there was no way those pants were coming down even without it. The pant legs came down to the tops of my ankles, revealing my strap-on, three-inch high-heels. A simple gold necklace around my neck, a Pandora bracelet, watch, and diamond earrings were all the jewelry I was wearing.

My vain attempts to curl my hair enough to keep it from being completely straight had met with only with moderate success. At least it didn't look like I'd just gone swimming and dried it out with the car window open. As I approached the snobbish-looking high-school girl who was taking names, I felt a bit of satisfaction in seeing her glaring at me with barely disguised contempt. She was pretty good looking but still had that high-school image about her. I knew that when we were standing together, the guys were looking at me and not her, even though her skirt was about as high as her manager would have dared to allow anyone to wear. There were times I wouldn't mind being sixteen again but sometimes, being a little more sophisticated with just a touch of slutty was all a girl could ask for in situations like this.

I gave the little bitch Jack's name and she noted from her list that he had already been seated so she took me to his table. She didn't stay an extra second and promptly turned her back on me and strutted away. Jack looked just as he had in his photo which was a relief. It wouldn't have shocked me to see someone totally different or perhaps thirty pounds heavier with half the hair. I'm not a big fan of on-line dating but I've heard enough horror stories from friends that do to not have to have worried a little bit about who I would actually be meeting.

"Hi, I'm Kelly," I introduced myself.

Jack, ever the older gentlemen, stood up and pulled out my chair while introducing himself to me. His eyes gave me the once-over, well, make that two or three times over, and I couldn't help but notice they lingered on my bosom each time. What was interesting to me was that unlike most men, he made no attempt to hide what he was doing, almost like he WANTED me to see him basically undressing me with his eyes. Well, it's not like he hadn't already seen 99% of me before so there shouldn't have been much to leave to his imagination.

A waiter appeared promptly to take our drink orders. Jack waited for me and when I just ordered my usual Diet Coke, he took the same direction and ordered one for himself. While we waited for our soft drinks, we traded some small talk about the changing weather, the unexpected crowd this evening, and other minutia.

The waiter was quick and within a couple minutes had our drinks. Jack probably had plenty of time waiting for me to have perused the menu and I ate here enough to know what I wanted so we made our meal orders with Jack making sure the waiter understood it would all be on his check.

"Well thank-you for dinner this evening, Jack," I said as the waiter departed.

"Trust me, it's worth every penny to get to spend the time sitting across from you," he said with a smile, "Damn, you look hot."

I just smiled and shrugged, as if to say he was just being nice.

"Don't give me that," he chuckled, "You know damn well every guy in the joint was staring at you when you walked in... just like you had all of us eating out of your hands at the party."

It was the first mention by him of the party, or for anything related to it or his intentions for that matter so I took him up on it.

"So I take it you liked the party?"

Jack rolled his eyes and smiled at me, "Nahhhhh, overall the party sucked... just bunch of drunk guys and porn movies... but YOU dancing, now THAT was the only good thing all night."

"So why didn't you ask me to do more?"

Jack took a deep breath, his cheeks puffed out and he released it slowly, giving himself time to formulate his response. "Trust me babe, it wasn't for any lack of DESIRE. I just know the wife would have killed me if she ever found out and with THAT bunch, she would've for sure."

I studied the straw in my drink like it was a cryptic manuscript, waiting for him to make the next move. The silence was a bit awkward for a moment until he finally started to unveil why we REALLY were here this evening.

"OK, so I guess you want to know why I asked you to have dinner with me?"

I looked up from my fizzing drink and raised my eyebrows, signally he was 100% correct.

"Well... I just wanted to see if you were interested in... well let's just say I was wondering if you do more private parties?"

"MORE private?" I replied coyly, "As in 'just you' private?"

"Well... yeah."

"And just what KIND of party are you looking for Jack?"

Jack hesitated for a moment and then looked around, as if to make sure nobody was listening to our conversation. At least he didn't have to worry about me being wired - there was no hiding so much as a pea under THIS outfit without it showing through.

"Before I say anything more about that, I wanted to tell you that when I saw you at the party, the first thing I thought was how much you look my daughter Jenny."

Now I'd seen his Jenny in the portrait photo he had sent me and frankly, I didn't see the resemblance but it was a nice line so I let it pass. I couldn't help but poke him a little just for fun though.

"Oh, so Jenny dances for you topless in a G-string?"

Fortunately, he caught the sarcasm in my voice and didn't take it badly. Instead, he just grinned and responded with, "Of course not... but would you think bad of me if I told you that I WISHED she would?"

Ahhhhhh, now it was coming out. So Jack was a naughty daddy! Apparently this wasn't going to be the typical cheating husband whining about his sexless marriage. Jack had a thing for his daughter. Of course, I would be the LAST person to criticize a man for being in lust with his daughter but I wasn't about to tell Jack that! At least she wasn't some preteen sweet innocent girl with a perv father.

"Oh really? Hmmmmmm, so tell me Jack," I whispered to him as I leaned over the table, "Do you masturbate thinking about what you'd like to do with Jenny?"

No doubt the last thing he was expecting was for me to respond so directly. His face reddened and it was all I could do to keep from breaking out in laughter. What was funny to me was I was willing to bet it wasn't that he was embarrassed about being sexually attracted to his daughter, it was having to admit to me he masturbated that was the sin. Men seem to get so hung up about it, at least when it comes to talking about it. Sure they want to see ME doing myself but when it comes to them showing me how they stroke their meat... surprisingly few guys can do that. I wondered if Jack had EVER had a girl ask him if he masturbated, let alone do It thinking about having sex with his teenage daughter.

"Oh Jack... it's OK, everyone does it so don't be embarrassed," I encouraged him.

"I have... a few times is all," he whispered back to me.

"Cool," I responded with a grin, "SO be honest with me... after the party, were you doing it thinking about me... or about Jenny dancing like I was for you?"

Jack didn't have to reply, the guilty look painted all over his face was more than enough to tell me I had him nailed. It's not like I had to be the star of CSI to figure this out... he was just like most every other man is all.

"OK Jack, so you're just a normal guy," I continued rather than wait for him to reply, "But what does this have to do with me... at least now?"

Just then the waiter came with our meals, cutting off our discussion just at the moment when I thought Jack was ready to open up. It felt like I'd been working to land the big one and just as I got it into the boat, it escaped and now I had to start all over again. We spent a little time dealing with dinner and then it was back to our conversation.

"So Jack... you were about to tell me what it was you REALLY wanted from me," I said, reopening the discussion finally.

It was like Jack was almost relieved that the waiter had 'rescued" him earlier and his face reddened again as he gathered the nerve to reply to me.

"First, I want you to know I love my wife and I adore my daughter and I would NEVER do anything to hurt either of them. That includes ANYTHING with my daughter... if you get what I'm saying."

I bit my tongue as I fought the urge to respond. Good Lord, how many times had I heard THAT line before? Not only that, but it was almost always just before they DID do something that had their wife or daughter found out, would've hurt them badly.

"OK... OK, here goes...," he struggled to get it out. "OK, this is it... I was wondering if you would like to do some role-playing for me... like pretend to be my daughter?"

Well I already knew exactly what he wanted, it was obvious from the first time I seen his family portrait - why else send it to me? But he wasn't getting off the hook THAT easily. I wasn't giving him an inch. If he wanted me, he was going to have to work a little for it. I stayed quiet, waiting for him to continue. When I didn't respond, he took that as a tactic "yes" and continued.

"Have you ever watched the Taboo series?"

Well, given it was my father's favorite set of porn movies, at least a dozen times but I wasn't about to tell Jack that so I shook my head and pretended I'd never heard of it. "No, I'm not a big fan of porn."

Technically, I was being sort of truthful. I've never actually sat down and put a DVD in to watch a porn movie but I HAD seen plenty them thanks to my dad's perverted interests. And as for not being into porn movies, now THAT was truthful in that I really do NOT get off from seeing strangers doing it on video for money. While I know a few women who DO like porn, for the most part, it's designed and sold for men.

Jack reached beside him under his jacket that was on the chair seat and pulled out a plastic shopping bag and handed it to me. I peeked inside and saw it was a DVD he must have burned at home. It was labeled "TABOO" and so I figured it must have one of the movies, or more, on it.

"I was hoping you could watch this and then I'd love to do the last scene in the movie. You'll understand when you see it."

Well, it certainly was a first for me, that much was for sure. I've had lots of guys want to role-play with me, my father being one of my biggest fans when it came to having me act out various characters for him. However, none of them had ever directed me to act out a specific scene in a porn movie before.

"I tell you what, "he proposed, "Go home, watch it and then see what you think. If you like the idea, then you can call me and we'll see where things go from there, ok?

"And I would want to do this because...?" I hinted at him.

"Of course I would make it well worth your while to do this for me," he said in a low tone. "Just watch it and then we discuss that, OK?"

I put the bag with the DVD on the chair next to me and then I looked him in the eye and my tone changed, becoming more serious and business-like. "Just to get one thing straight, OK Jack? I am NOT a prostitute."

Jack gave me one of those, "who are you kidding?" looks, prompting me to repeat myself. "I mean it Jack. Sure I strip and do shows but I don't charge for sex... I'm NOT a whore."

"Hey, that's cool... however you want to play it's fine with me," Jack replied, holding his hands up in the air like he was being arrested, "I didn't mean to say anything to upset you."

I smiled and giggled, trying to take the edge off the rather tense scene that was developing.

"Sorry, I just had to make sure you know where I stand."

We dropped the subject and finished our meal without another word about his offer. I pressed him to discuss his family and I was impressed at how much he seemed to care for them and love them. Most guys at this stage are bemoaning how much weight their wife has gained, how uninterested in sex their spouse or so-called girlfriend is regarding sex, how unappreciative his kids are, how his daughter acts like a spoiled brat, and so forth.

If anything, it made me all the more interested in what he was proposing, whatever THAT really was. I'd seen the movie he'd given me and I remembered the final scene because it was one of the hottest I'd ever seen in any porn flick my dad had. Ginger Lynn plays the daughter whose father finally gives in to his lust after seeing her sleeping half naked in bed. It was an intimate scene, not like today's slam-bam so-called "reality" fuck scenes, and it almost made you believe they were really father and daughter. I didn't tell Jack I knew about the scene because I wanted HIM to tell me what it was he wanted from me.

With that, we finished dinner and we left with nothing more than a handshake. I think THAT disappointed him somewhat but what was he expecting me to do, throw myself at him in front of everyone? He could've made a move himself and I would've probably gone with the flow but since that didn't happen, a simple handshake was all he had to remember me by, at least for now.

4. Fulfilling Jack's Fantasy

Returning home, I watched the movie in its entirety. It really WAS one of the few porn movies I can honestly say turns me more every time I see it. In my humble opinion, Ginger Lynn sucks cock better than anyone I've ever known and I have to admit that I've plagiarized more than a few of her techniques. Even though I know she's just acting in front of a camera, she makes it look like she really ENJOYS sucking cock, rather than just going through the motions to get the guy off.

From the first scene where her sister's boyfriend fucks her in her sleep, to the last one where her daddy finally realizes his fantasies about his gorgeous daughter, I was masturbating almost the entire time! I could easily imagine Jack inserting himself into the scene, with his daughter Jenny playing the role of the daughter. The question was, how was I going to pull this off for him?

Although I knew from the time at the restaurant when he gave me the DVD what it was he wanted to do, I still waited almost a week to call Jack back, plenty of time to let him sweat it out a little bit. He'd given me his work number so I wouldn't accidentally talk to his wife or daughter when I called. Again, I had to marvel at his naivety in handing out such key personal information about himself to what was essentially a total stranger.

"Hi Jack, just wanted to say I watched what you gave me and I'm OK with everything," I said to the recorded message on his phone. I didn't say anything more in case someone else checked his messages for him. It was less than an hour when I got a call back.

"Hey Kelly, thanks for calling, I was starting to worry a little bit when you didn't call right away," he confessed. "So what now?"

Actually, I had planned everything out in my head for what I thought would be a fun evening but I didn't want to tell him all the details, as that would've taken out half the fun. So instead I asked him when his house would be available for just the two of us for a few hours.

Jack was silent for a few minutes and I could imagine him going through the calendar in his head. With a teenage daughter and young son, I imagined his home life was a bit hectic, not to mention his wife's dealings as well.

"You mean you want to do this at MY house?" he finally questioned me incredulously.

"Of course, where else?" I countered, not giving any more away than that.

"I guess I just assumed it would be somewhere else...," he drifted on, trying to come to grips with the new issues confronting him.

"Nope, it HAS to be your house if you want to do this," I insisted, holding my ground.

"Well, that doesn't leave much to choose from... as I'm sure you understand," he mused, "Hmmmmmm, how about Saturday afternoon? I know Jan was planning to take Jenny out shopping up north to the outlets for the day and I can probably pawn Michael off with one of his friends."

Amazing how quickly he seemed to adapt to the idea of doing it in his own home! Well, Saturday was fine with me. We established a time for me to come over and he told me where the key to the front door would be, The pan was at the start it would be like I was home alone. From there... well, he didn't need to know the details yet. With most everything in place, that left one rather important detail and I knew Jack had been avoiding it as well.

"I suppose there is the matter of your... compensation?" he finally came out and asked.

"That's simple... just leave an envelope out for me to take home when it's over," I instructed him, "I think a thousand dollars should cover my expenses."

There was silence on the phone and I could imagine the color of his face, but then again, maybe not. Was it red and blustery, upset with me for being so greedy, or white from the shock and the sudden concern over where was he going to come up with that sort of cash without anyone knowing about it, especially his wife. Well, I didn't care WHERE it came from and in fact, I'd rather not know in the first place. So long as I got the cash, I was happy. It WAS a lot, considerably more than I would have normally charged even for a party, but then I got the impression Jack was pretty well off. He could come up with it, I had no doubt about it.

"OK... you got it... see you Saturday," he said hurriedly as if he wanted to end the conversation before he lost his nerve. I hung up the phone and smiled to myself. A grand wasn't bad for a few hours' work, and tax free at that! Hmmm, maybe I should have asked for more?

This was one case where I really didn't have to prepare anything except to clean myself up and be on time. My plans included where I would be getting my clothes that Jack would be seeing me in and besides, I wouldn't be wearing much of anything for long anyway if things went as expected.

I entered the address in my GPS, even though I had a pretty good idea where he lived. Jack had a new home in a new subdivision someone had carved out of a valley, with streets that weaved their way around and homes set back into the hillsides. Their home looked to be one of the older ones, with the lawn fully grown in and even a few trees planted that might be useful to an owner twenty years from now. The brick driveway was empty so I parked in front of the middle door of a three-car garage.

Nobody seemed to be around in the neighborhood but you never know who might be watching out their windows so I quickly went to the front door, got the key out from under the mat (how original) and let myself in.

"Anybody home?!" I called out.

It would have shocked me had someone answered and for a moment, I regretted not peeking into the garage to see what cars were there. It would've been a wee bit difficult to explain to his wife why a total stranger was in her house!

Jack had described to me the general layout of the house so I first took a brief tour to get the lay of the land, so to speak. There was a formal living room to the left, along with a staircase to the second floor. A small office was to the right and the kitchen lay straight ahead. Once in the kitchen, a large formal dining room was to the left and a huge great room opened up to the right where a giant flat-screen TV dominated the corner and a set of couches and chairs would have allowed maybe a dozen people to sit comfortably. In back was an enclosed patio, complete with a covered hot tub that looked to be twice as big as the one my parents had while I was growing up. There was another staircase leading to the upstairs from the great room which I took to see what was up there. At the top was landing with a railing where you could look down at the entrance. A monstrous master bedroom dominated half the upstairs, complete with a king-size bed, huge bathroom, and a walk-in closet almost the size of my bedroom. Actually, the bedroom was bigger than my entire apartment!

There were three other bedrooms, much smaller than the master bedroom. One was obviously the boy's room, filled with models, sports posters and video games. The smaller room appeared to be used for storage leaving the larger of the three for Jenny. She was a girly girl, all pink and lace. I was a bit surprised to see a Hannah Montana poster which made me question my original estimate of her being as old as sixteen. Come to think of it, Jack had never told me the exact ages of his

Looking at myself in the mirror, it reminded me of one of my skimpier bikinis, the one my dad use to refer to as "Kelly's slut bikini". It was so revealing that while I loved to wear it around the house and on our deck, even I never dared to go to the public pool with it on as no doubt I would've been thrown out immediately!

Grabbing a towel from the bathroom, I headed downstairs and went out into the patio where I removed the cover from the hot tub. The controller was on the one corner and soon I was luxuriating in the hot streams of water. I nestled my back into one of the corners such that I was facing the house, laying my head back against the built-in cushion. Mmmmmmm, now this was the life!

If things were going according to plan, "daddy" should have come home by now and I tried not to look at the curtains so I wouldn't "catch" him and spoil the moment. Still, as much as I was enjoying myself, this wasn't just for my benefit so I wanted to be sure Jack was getting his money's worth so I kept one eye sort of peeking now and then to see if I could tell when he was around.

There it was! Just a small movement but definitely a deliberate one as the curtain moved just a hair. Well, time for "daddy" to see what Jenny did when nobody was home! Standing up and facing away from the house, I raised my arms up as if I needed to stretch but in the process, I clenched my ass and gave him a good side view of my boobs. Then I reached down and slowly untied one side and then the other of the bottoms, pulling it between my legs and tossing it to the patio floor besides the hot tub. That left me bottomless with just the tiny bikini top on, at least for the moment. Grabbing my bare ass with both hands, I kneaded my butt cheeks as if I'd been sitting down in the car for a long trip and it was feeling sore.

Careful not to look at the house, I turned and sat down on the corner edge of the hot tub, lifting one leg up and placing my heel on the edge. It was about as good a view of my crotch as I could give him without going up to the window and laying down spread-eagle for him. Looking down at myself, I started to run my fingers over my smooth pussy, just lightly touching myself at first, then tracing the tips of my fingers over me. Using my other hand to steady myself, I arched my back slightly as my finger found its way to my wet clit and I started to masturbate in earnest. My lips parted slightly as I gasped from the pleasure it gave me. it was no act - I was indeed feeling turned on, especially knowing I was being watched "secretly", not to mention the feeling I was getting from the actual physical touch of my finger.

As I masturbated, sitting bottomless on the edge of the hot tub with my top barely covering my boobs, I closed my eyes and tried to imagine what Jack was probably doing now. Was he stroking himself as he peered through the curtains at me? Was he seeing me or was he picturing his daughter in my place? Has he seen her in this bikini before, wishing she would take it off as I had, praying she would do just what I was doing now, masturbating for him to watch? Mmmmmmm, how hard was his dick right now?

God my pussy felt so hot and good!

I plunged my middle finger inside, touching myself and pretending it was a nice dick violating me, getting ready to fill me with its cum. My boobs strained against the tight top and I imagined how the top had contained Jenny's boobs, probably with a lot less stress! Had Jack ever seen his daughter's boobs in this outfit? Even with her smaller bust there would have been plenty for him to see. Had he ever gotten an erection from seeing his daughter in this sexy bikini? Did he get even harder seeing her than he was now, watching me masturbating as I wore her bikini?

Feeling even more turned on and horny than ever, I reached behind my head and pulled the string, releasing the knot and allowing the top to flop down, exposing my boobs. For the moment, I left the back tied such that the top remained tied around my chest but my boobs were totally exposed with the top hanging down inside out below them. As I continued to masturbate with my left hand, I massaged my boobs with my right, pulling on my nipples with my fingers, squeezing them with my hands. God, I was so close to cumming... so close!

"Oh god!" I gasped loudly, exaggerating the words to be sure Jack know what I was feeling.

My fingers rubbed my clit furiously now while my other hand just gripped my boob and held onto it like it was supporting me. Then it struck, making me cry out with pleasure as my orgasm jolted me like a lightning strike. As physically hot as I was from the hot tub, I still felt goose bumps raising all over my arms and legs. Damn, my wonderful pussy was tingling as I felt it almost cramping with pleasure. Then I started to imagine Jenny in my place. Had she sat in this very spot, wearing this exact swim suit, maybe masturbating just as I was? Did she make herself cum in this same spot, just as I was doing now?

Finally things started to calm down so I allowed myself to slide slowly into the hot tub water. When the hot water reached my crotch, it was like being poked with a Taser, rejuvenating my orgasm again, not quite sending me over the edge but still making me jump like I was being tickled. Finally I settled in, allowing the warm jets to pulse against my ultra-sensitive pussy, rubbing my firm boobs with both hands.

Once I had caught my breath, I slowly raised myself from the water, making sure I was facing the closed curtains, stretching and posing for my unseen audience before stepping out and wrapping the towel around me.

Grabbing the bottoms from the floor, I made my way back in the house and to the bathroom upstairs where I took a brief shower to wash off the hot tub water and associated chemical smell from the bromine. Of course, I left the door wide open and "forgot" to close the curtain all the way such that anyone who might be peeking in from the hallway would have a great view of me soaping myself down and then washing myself off. As I faced the shower head, letting the hot water beat against my breasts. I ran my hand between my smooth legs and groaned from the intense pleasure it gave me.

"Oh daddy... that's it... touch me... touch me just like that daddy... oh yeah, just like THAT," I moaned, just loud enough to make sure that someone outside would be able to hear me.

Turning off the water, I slowly and deliberately dried myself off, taking special care to rub a little more than necessary between my legs and then my boobs got extra attention from the soft terry towel. I found a blow drier under the sink and stood naked in front of the big mirror behind the countertop as I dried my hair. It looked a wreck but somehow I doubted that anyone watching cared how my hair looked! Mmmmmmm, I felt so good right then, the last vestiges of my orgasm were still tingling between my legs while the rest of me felt warm and clean.

Back in Jenny's bedroom, I laid the bikini over the back of a chair to dry out, telling myself over and over in my head not to forget to put it away before I left! Looking back through Jenny's drawers again, I finally found what I was hoping for, or at least close to it. She had a long nightshirt with a Pittsburgh Steelers emblem on it and a large number "7" on the back. Hmmm, another Ben fan! Well, I couldn't blame her, half the girls in Pittsburgh would've loved to have Ben, probably more like most than half. It fit me loosely and hung down just below my ass - enough to cover my butt when I was standing up but it would be easy to pull and out of the way up should the need arise.

Well, I'd been at the house for well over an hour now, almost two, so it was time to raise the ante a bit. I knew Jack was watching me, there had been a number of times he'd made a little noise or sound that would have tipped off his real daughter but fortunately I was a little more hard of hearing, or least so far as he was concerned I was. Now it was time to say hi to daddy!

"Daddy, is that you?" I called out, walking towards the door.

As I entered the hallway, I saw Jack standing there, tucking in his shirt and for a brief moment I couldn't help but smile as I realized he'd probably had his pants open and was masturbating while he'd been watching me. Let's just say that if he HADN'T, I would've been VERY disappointed in myself!

"Hi Sweetie, I just got home," he called out to me

Jack was trying to act as though he hadn't been watching me for the past hour but the bulge in his pants betrayed him, though I wasn't about to mention it. Had he ever met up with Jenny looking this way? Had his daughter ever noticed his erection when she stumbled upon him while he was masturbating? Did she realize WHY he was erect, that he had been thinking about her?

"I'm so tired daddy... I'm going to get a glass of water and then go to bed, is that OK?"

"Sure sweetie, whatever you want."

I walked slowly by him, not quite brushing against him as I passed him and headed for the kitchen. I could've just as easily grabbed something to drink from the bathroom sink using the Dixie cups stacked off to the side but that wouldn't have been nearly as much fun. Jack followed me down, silently watching me from the great room as I opened the kitchen cabinet doors until I found the glasses and then filled one from the refrigerator dispenser. As I drank, I allowed some of it to spill and wet the front of the t-shirt, causing it to plaster itself to my boobs, making the material almost transparent in the process.

"Oh darn, look what I did," I sighed, looking down at the front of me where I'd soaked the front of the t-shirt.

Jack was staring at my chest as well, subconsciously licking his dry lips as he stared at my boobs that were showing plainly through the thin material.

"Oh well, I guess I'll have to change now before I go to bed," I said, pretending to sulk and be upset with myself, acting as if I was totally unaware that I was practically naked in front of him for all intents and purposes. The best part was I knew the next time he saw Jenny wearing this t-shirt that he would remember this moment, and probably pray for her to be as accident-prone as I supposedly was!

"Good night daddy," I said, stretching up in my bare feet to kiss him on the cheek.

With that I headed up the stairs, taking my time to allow him to position himself below me. I felt the t-shirt ride up my ass as I stepped up but made no effort to pull it back down, giving him a bird's eye view of my naked ass and crotch as I took each step slowly and deliberately, apparently totally oblivious to the fact I was exposing myself to him as I did.

Back in Jenny's bedroom, I took off the t-shirt, dried myself off with the towel and located a pair of her underwear, a cute little pink cotton number from my friends at Jockey. Then I checked out her sock drawer and added a pair of white anklets. Staying topless, I pulled down the covers to her bed and laid down on my side, facing the door, with one leg under the covers and the other over them, with nothing covering myself on top but an arm draped to the side. I closed my eyes and pretended to fall asleep immediately, obviously exhausted and ready for bed. I figured I wouldn't have to wait long and I wasn't disappointed!

There was a soft shuffling sound at the door but I didn't move a muscle, pretending to be sound asleep and oblivious to the rest of the world. The scene from Taboo ran through my mind and I thought that if Jack was playing his "part", he would be at the doorway now, conflicted by his morality versus his lust. Even though I wasn't his real daughter, in some ways I imagined he might actually be feeling such a conflict within in. After all, I WAS , and pretending to be his own daughter, sleeping in Jenny's bed while wearing nothing but her pink panties and white socks. Where did the role playing start and end in his fantasy world? Was this perhaps becoming a little TOO real for him?

While I freely admit that I love it when a fathers confesses to me his true desires for his daughter, in my heart I know that 99% of them would never actually DO any of the naughty things that they fantasize about and that's the way it should be. I firmly believe that when it comes to fantasy, NOTHING is off limits, so long as if it involves someone else that they agree to it as well. But if it's strictly your own fantasy, let yourself do whatever turns you on in your mind.

Now mind you I don't necessarily agree with a lot of things that turn some people on and many of them even sicken me, but so long as I don't have to partake and nobody is hurt, so what? The only time there's a problem is when someone can't differentiate between their fantasies and reality. Child abusers, pedophiles, stalkers, rapists, etc. are prime examples of this type of person and I have no sympathy for them. If you want to masturbate while dreaming of raping your neighbor's hot wife next door, go for it. If you get turned on by the thought of having sex with an eight year-old girl, have at it. BUT, the moment you cross the line and touch her, well let's just say that I hope that Rocco drills your ass in prison!

I don't think I could have thrown in any more "daddy" references than I did but I knew it was what he wanted to hear, even if it was only his imagination that was making them come from his daughter's mouth.

His hand reached under the elastic of my panties and I felt him exploring under them, moving his hand down until his fingers were between my pussy lips. God, I was already soaking wet with anticipation! He easily slid one finger inside of me, his palm applying pressure on my clit, making my hips instinctively rise up against him.

"That feels so good... I love you to touch me like that daddy."

He pulled his hand out and tried to work my panties off. I raised my hips up, allowing him to get them down off my butt and he pushed them down to my knees where I slid them off with my feet and onto the bed somewhere. He moved down and laid between my legs, lightly stroking his fingers over my bare pussy as he stared at my crotch like it was the first pussy he'd ever seen.

"God your cunt is so beautiful," he whispered hoarsely, "I've dreamed so many times of how it would look baby."

He was immersed in his fantasy now. In his mind I was Jenny, his daughter he'd lusted for who knows how long, finally in her bed, finally letting her daddy have his way with her as he had dreamed so often of doing. He bent over and I felt his hot breath against my crotch as he blew softly against my bare skin, making me shiver uncontrollably.

Then his tongue reached out and he barely touched me, just lightly skimming it over my pussy as if he wanted this moment to last, afraid to go on until he had savored every moment he could. Finally he reached down and spread my pussy lips apart, exposing my wet pussy hole and my swollen clit. I couldn't help but jump as his lips enclosed my clit and he sucked on it gently, then ran his tongue over it and finally licked it, like a cow on a salt block. God, he knew how to lick pussy! Jenny didn't know what she was missing!

"Oh daddy! That feel soooooo good daddy," I moaned, louder this time. Thankfully, "mom" wasn't home!

My eyes widened as I felt him stuff first one, and then almost immediately after a second finger into my tight pussy, driving them as deep as he could into me, then stroking them in and out of me as he worked his magic with his mouth and tongue on my sensitized clit. It hadn't been THAT long since I'd orgasmed in the hot tub and it didn't take much to set me off again. Soon I was cumming... and cumming HARD.

"Don't stop daddy... oh fuck PLEASE don't stop now!" I begged him, no acting required anymore. Indeed, the last thing I wanted at this moment was for him to stop, just as my orgasm was taking off for orbit.

"That's it baby... cum for daddy... let daddy make his little girl cum," he whispered to me, exhorting me to cum - as if I need any further encouragement.

My hips raised up off the bed, pushing his head up with them and then dropped violently to the bed. I wrapped my legs around him, pulling him in with my strong leg muscles as tightly as I could into my crotch. Whether he could breathe or not wasn't my concern, I wanted his mouth on me and I didn't want him to stop, not even for a second!

God, I was cumming so hard and to be doing it in his daughters bed just made it all the better. It went on and on and on, like it would never stop. I don't know how long it lasted, time loses its meaning in such situation. Finally I relaxed, letting my legs fall to the bed and he pulled his head up and off of me, drawing in his breath.

"Damn, you trying to suffocate me?" he teased me, "Wow, you can really cum hard, can't you?"

"Well especially when my daddy licks my pussy," I said with a naughty grin. Then I looked him in the eye and I knew exactly what words he was dying to hear me say, just what he needed to hear from his "daughter".

"Fuck me daddy," I said softly but firmly, "I want you to fuck me... now."

I've always said that the two sweetest words any man wants to hear are "fuck me" but actually, in special cases like this it's three words - "fuck me DADDY". Jack didn't want to hear Kelly Wells ask him to fuck her. She was just a whore to him, just a stranger who in the end, meant nothing to him other than a conquest he would masturbate about for the rest of his life. No, what Jack wanted to hear was his daughter JENNY begging her daddy to take her virginity, to fuck her like she'd never been before, to plant his seed in her, to mate her. THAT'S what Jack wanted to hear and I delivered it for him. Hey, for what he was paying me I'd recite the Pledge of Allegiance if that's what he wanted!

"Oh god... I want to so bad baby," he groaned.

I'd actually expected him to saddle up and fuck me but for some reason he remained between my legs, breathing heavily as if he was struggling with what to do.

"Oh baby... I want to... I really do... but..."

Wow, he really WAS immersed into his fantasy. He was so full of lust, so horny, that he was seeing me as Jenny. It wasn't play acting anymore, he was struggling with himself as to whether he could really go through with it now that his "daughter" was actually offering himself to him. I imaged in real life he WOULD have such a struggle.

Really, how many men, even if their daughter DID come onto them, would actually take advantage of the opportunity? Not many is my guess. Sure they masturbate and dream about it for the rest of their lives, probably condemning themselves for not doing it, but in the end I think most guys wouldn't fuck their daughters in real life regardless of how intense their fantasies might be. So now the question was, would Jack fuck his daughter? Well, he would if I had anything to say about it!

"PLEASE daddy... I want your hard dick in me. Show me how much you love me daddy. If you really love me, show me... prove it to me by putting yourself inside of me."

He was beginning to give in and I saw him start to get up and then fight it again.

"I want to be with you like never before daddy," I begged him, "I want to feel you in me, giving me your love... give me your love daddy, give it to me! I want you to prove to me how much you really love me."

That was it, his lust won, just as I knew all along that it would. Would his little Jenny have pushed him as hard as I did? I doubt it but so what? THIS was what he wanted and I was not going to let him have to suffer later with regrets for turning down the best sexual opportunity of his life.

Jack crawled on top of me, staying on his elbows to keep his weight off of me as his stiff cock poked against my crotch, trying to find the mark on its own. I reached down and grabbed his hard dick, touching him for the first time as I guided him to my welcoming pussy.

"Push daddy, push it in now," I begged him as I maneuvered the head into my hole.

Without a word Jack thrust his hips forward, driving the thick mushroom head into my tight pussy. God it felt so wonderful! This was one of the best moments of sex for me, the instant when his head first stretches me out and enters me, the moment of violation, the moment when his body joins together with mine and we become one, the moment when he takes me as his mate, the moment my body submits to his.

"Damn you're so fucking tight!" he croaked as he pushed himself further into me, grunting as his erect dick drove itself deeper and deeper into my wet warm pussy.

Finally Jack was all the way in me and I could feel the base of his cock pressing against my crotch, his thick pubic hair smashed against me, tickling me slightly as the coarseness of it contrasted with the thick bushy feeling.

"That's it daddy... it feels so good to feel you in me finally," I encouraged him, "I've dreamed so many times of you doing this to me."

Wordlessly, he began to stroke himself in and out of me, slowly at first and gradually picking up the pace. My hips thrust back in sync with him, driving him in as deep as I could, more each time it seemed as his dick stiffened even more from the feel of my welcoming pussy as it caressed him as only a woman's pussy can.

"That's it... fuck me daddy... fuck me!" I cried out, trying to get my legs around him as he drove himself into me over and over again.

"Oh god Jenny, I want to fuck you... I've always wanted to fuck you so bad," he groaned.

I loved it that he called me Jenny. Right now, in his mind he was fucking his daughter, not me. What really turned me on was knowing that for the rest of his life, no matter how he might try to rationalize it, he would remember exactly what he'd REALLY done. Even if it hadn't been the "real" her that he had fucked, in his heart and soul he was screwing his daughter just as real as if it was her laying on her back in her bed.

I would've enjoyed a few different positions, maybe a little doggie or cowgirl, but he was so immersed in having sex with his daughter that the thought of changing around never entered his head. Soon he was driving himself in me even harder, taking long, deep strokes, and I knew what was about to happen.

"Cum in me daddy... give me your love... prove to me just how much you really love me."

He groaned especially loud and he thrust one last time into me, pushing himself in as deep as he could inside of me, grinding the base of his cock against my crotch like he was trying to drill it just that last little bit deeper inside of me.

"Oh fuck, I'm cumming baby, I'm cumming Jenny!" he cried out as he pumped me with his incestuous sperm.

OK, so maybe technically it wasn't incest but in his state of mind at the moment, he was filling his daughter with his cum just as surely as if it was her pinned under him. If SHE had been in my position, he would be filling her with his sperm, no doubt about it.

Over and over he unloaded himself into me, pumping every drop of his cum into my pussy and then, just as I was afraid he was going to collapse on me, he fell to the side, pulling his dick out of me as he laid on his back with his cum covered dick sticking up, glistening in the light.

I couldn't let it just lay there with his dick inviting me as it was, so I scooted over to him and took his dick in my mouth, tasting and smelling myself and his cum together on it. He groaned as I took his sensitive dick in my mouth, sucking the last bit of cum from it as it slowly dwindled in my mouth.

"Oh my god... that feels so good," he sighed, as he laid there limp, so exhausted he was letting me suck his dick without even touching me.

Finally it was totally flaccid and I gave it one last suck and let it drop from my mouth. I sat up in the bed and held it in my hand while I reached down and felt my pussy with the other as I could feel his cum begin to drain from me.

"Mmmmmmm, you're cums leaking out of me daddy." I said with a naughty smile as I licked it from my fingers.

Just then a phone rang. It must have been his cell phone in his pants on the floor. He wasn't about to get it so I got up but it stopped ringing before I could get to it. I handed it to him and he looked at it and his eyes burst wide open.

"Shit, that was Jan," he said sharply, suddenly checking back into reality.

Jack called his voice mail and I could've sworn as flushed as he had been, his face was almost white again. "She's going to be here in ten minutes. Dammit, you have to get out of here!"

I quickly grabbed my clothes and dressed. I started to reach for the bikini but he grabbed me by the arm and he looked scared to death.

"Please, you really do have to leave NOW. I'll take care of all this."

I looked at him again, that same look the waiter gives you when he hands you the check. Fortunately, he took the hint.

"Dammit...," he muttered, more from frustration than being upset over the payment I think. He grabbed his pants and pulled a thick envelope out of his pocket.

"Trust me, it's all there... now get out of here... PLEASE!"

I gave him a kiss on the cheek and ran from the house. As I turned out of the subdivision, a BMW passed me with a woman driver and what looked to be a teenage girl in the passenger seat next to her. I had no doubt who it was although they certainly were there sooner than the ten minute warning given to Jack.

I haven't heard from Jack since that day. I wonder how he managed to clean up Jenny's room in the few minutes he had after I had left before his wife and daughter had come home. Did he remember her bikini and even if he did, what did he do about it being wet? Did he make her bed? If so, how did he get the smell of sex out of the bedding, not to mention the wet spot under where we had cum? I would have bet good money that he didn't remember the pink panties that I'd pushed under the covers after I took them off with my feet. Assuming he forgot, what had Jenny said when she found them later? Did she notice the foreign smell in her sheets, the distinct odor of our sweat and sex? I couldn't help but wonder if maybe she put two and two together and figured out what had actually happened. If so, did she take the hint?

Well, THAT one was a long shot but a girl can dream, can't she? After all, that's what fantasies are for. I just hope Jack didn't pay the REAL price for making his fantasy come true (almost).

It might help to remind everyone that back in their teen years, my dad and his youngest brother were quite the hustlers from the way my mom described them to me. Both of them had sex with my mom (as well as her sister) while they were in high school but in the end, my mom married my dad while Uncle Jim married my Aunt Shari shortly afterwards. Being Uncle Jim was her husband's brother, my mother could have continued on having sex with him without violating her marriage vows, but my Aunt Shari was definitely NOT the type to condone such actions. Frankly, I've never really understood why my uncle married her in the first place being she is so prudish. Still, while he may have remained to faithful to his wife (out of fear more than love?) I saw how he looked at me when I was around, especially when I flirted with him a little.

Thus it really didn't come as a huge surprise to me to learn that when my dad suggested that I might be "available", any worries about the wrath of his wife fell away and soon he was doing what I think a lot of uncles like to do - fucking his niece. As I mentioned before, technically he wasn't committing adultery as I was his brother's daughter and thus a member of his family, but I doubt my Aunt Shari would've seen it the same way.

To be honest, while I'd always found it fun to tease him, my uncle isn't exactly the nicest guy in the world and the only reason I allowed his to fuck me was to please my dad. Even so, at first it wasn't all that bad. In fact, once he was doing me it seemed only natural for his son to follow in his footsteps and needless to say, Rick was more than willing to go along. Thus in the space of just over a week, I'd taught my youngest cousin about girl-girl sex and had sex with my uncle and his son. Quite a week, to say the least, but then in my experience, it seems that once when things get started they tend to take off rapidly so in retrospect, it really wasn't that surprising.

One thing that DID catch me a little off-guard was to learn that my mom had her eye on Rick as well. Once I'd broken the ice with Rick (during which she helped things get started but then stayed away once it heated up), it was only a couple of weeks before she took advantage of the Rick being a member of her family. Other than my uncle, Rick was the only guy to have sex with my mom since she married my dad and anything with my uncle was way back when they first got married.

Thus Rick was the first guy she'd been with in over twenty years besides my dad. Being a horny teenage boy with extensive staying power didn't hurt either! To be sure, my parents are VERY strict about adultery and anyone who knows me together for Easter this year, the status was as follows: My dad and Aunt Linda were having sex regularly, she even stayed the night many times.

As for me and my dad, we typically got together Sundays before church, and maybe another time during the week but not usually given his heavy work commitments and my crazy party schedule. My dad hadn't been with Tammy since last summer, and it was a subject we generally didn't discuss as I knew his LUST for her was still there, but he realized that the opportunities simply weren't available.

So far as I knew, Tammy wasn't having sex with her brother anymore, except for maybe a rare party or so, and she avoided it with her father as much as possible. In some ways, it was for the best because if my Aunt Shari ever found them together, there would be hell to pay! It was bad enough that she was constantly battling Tammy about her taste in clothes (slutty) and the way she behaved in front of boys, (slutty as well), but INCEST would have simply been the straw that broke her back.

The past few years our family has taken to going out for dinners on holidays rather than someone having to fix a ton of food and be forced to deal with the mess, clutter and stress of a big family dinner. While holiday brunches aren't usually very cheap, everyone gets to eat what they want, and as much of it as they can stuff down. Then the best part – when you get home there are no dishes or leftovers to deal with. Personally, I think it's a great idea.

This year our plans were to attend the Easter service at church together and then head straight to the hotel where the brunch was being served. Even though we had reservations, past experience had taught us it never hurts to get there early. Afterward dinner, the plan was to meet back at my Aunt Shari and Uncle Jim's house since they had the most room. Even though it was way too early for the pool to be opened up, hopefully the weather hold up and let us sit out on the deck without freezing to death!

2. Meeting My Dad Before Church

Every family develops "traditions" that are unique to them. Even if similar to others, there is something special about every family, something that makes them different from everyone else. Growing up, we had many of the "usual" traditions – Thanksgiving with the relatives, Mother's and Father's Day, how we spent the usually enough to wake me. Every now and then though, I would be especially tired and I would wake to the feeling of my father's erection swelled up inside of me.

God I love that!

There is something incredibly erotic about knowing a guy has been fucking me while I was asleep, of being unaware of what he was doing to me, and then waking to feel him already in me. It was like he was taking me as his prize, regardless of whatever I might have to say about it. Unfortunately, now that I live in my own apartment, this "tradition" hasn't been practiced for quite a while.

One other father-daughter tradition my dad and me have developed over the years is our "pre-church fuck". Usually it's just before we are ready to head off to church, usually with me all dressed and ready to go. The way it works is he comes to my room as I am finishing up getting dressed. Then he simply lifts my dress or skirt, pulls my panties to the side (those rare time I wear) and fucks me.

Like the morning fuck tradition, it's typically nothing wild and crazy, just my dad having some quick sex with me and then cumming inside of me. It use to drive my mom crazy as sometimes he wasn't as quick as others and she would complain we were late for church, but I can't remember a time he stopped before climaxing in me. Actually, cumming inside of me was the REAL goal as it only took a few minutes to get to church and often his cum start draining from me as we sat in the pews. If I was bare ass under my dress or skirt, it wasn't a rarity for me to leave a small wet spot on the cushions!

I'm sure you can imagine how special it is for me to sit in church, surrounded by literally hundreds of people, and feeling my pussy tingle from having just been fucked by my loving father, seated to my side. I've often wondered what people would have said had they known!

This last "tradition" is something we have tried hard (no pun intended) to maintain, although with me moving out of the house to my own apartment it's required a few modifications. Now I have to get ready and go over to his house early enough to give him time to fuck me and still make it to church. When I lived at home, for better or worse HE set the schedule. Now it's up to me to get there on time and I'm not exactly known for being punctual!

Today was Easter and I knew the church would be packed so I had to get to my dad's house a bit early if anything. I was wearing my brand new Easter outfit, a simple white dress with a bow that wrapped around my waist and tied in back. It was strapless, dependent on the elastic in the ruffled "peasant girl" top that covered my boobs to keep it up in place. I fell in love with it at the store because it showed off my boobs nicely, just enough to cover my nipples but leaving plenty of cleavage exposed. Of course the hem line was a little shorter than most girls would have worn to church, but it was by no means a "slut dress" as my dad likes to classify most of the skirts and dresses that make up my wardrobe. After all, it WAS Easter and I felt a little more reverence than usual was called for.

Again, being it was Easter, I chose to wear a pair of white hose, the type with the elastic band at the top so you don't need a garter belt. The fact I could wear them without exposing the tops when I sat down was a testament to how much longer this dress was than what I normally preferred to wear. Granted, I had to remember to hold it down and tug at it a little but when I sat to keep it low enough, but even if I should "forget", it wasn't like my panties would be showing. Speaking of which, I wasn't really wearing panties but more of a white thong although, like my dress, it wasn't the most revealing pair in my drawer. In fact, I could have probably gotten away with wearing it alone at the pool except when it was wet it became rather transparent.

On my drive over I was excited even more than usual as it had been a few weeks since I'd last seen my dad. The previous week he'd been out of town on business and the week before Linda had stayed over the night before. Of course Aunt Linda knew about our Sunday morning tradition and she apologized to me profusely later at church, saying she had forgotten all about it once things got started the previous evening. What could I say to that? I knew the feeling...

Arriving at my dad's house (seems funny to call it that now), I pulled in and parked at the top of the concrete paved driveway rather than driving down to the garage. The garage was attached to the back of the basement - as it is in many Pittsburgh homes that built on the ever-present hills, and it was a steep drop once you started down the driveway.

Normally I would use the basement entrance as my dad spent most of the time when he was home in the family room which was part of the basement. On Sundays, however, he was usually getting the last minute things done in either the bedroom or bathroom so odds were he was upstairs (as in the second floor). Not to be lazy but I figured why climb up TWO flights of stairs when you didn't have to?

As I walked from my car to the front porch, I stood still for a moment in the middle of the sidewalk, taking a look around at the neighborhood where I'd spent my entire childhood. It was surprisingly quiet but I suppose that was because of the holiday. Even our Jewish neighbors weren't out working on the lawn today. So many memories...

Of course I had a key so I let myself in the front door. Setting my purse on the table in the entryway, I slipped off my white heels and silently padded my way up the hardwood steps to the second floor. As I took the last step up, my parent's room was in front of me but it appeared empty. To the right stretched the short hallway with my room adjacent to my dad's and the bathroom across the hall. Two smaller bedrooms flanked ours, one at each end of the house, but they were used more for storage now. My room still looked like the day I'd left and I smiled as I recalled some of the more pleasant memories of my childhood that it conjured up as I peered inside.

The bathroom door was cracked open and I peeked inside where my dad was trying to adjust his tie in the mirror. He had on his grey suit pants with a plain white shirt and a blue striped tie. His coat was probably on the bed, if I knew his habits, and from the warmth and humidity in the air, he must have just finished his shower not too long before.

"Hey daddy!" I greeted him, throwing the door open and reaching out to him. My dad smiled and dropped his tie, stepping over to give me a big hug. He looked at his watch and frowned slightly.

"Cutting it a little close this morning, aren't we?" he teased me.

True, church was supposed to start in twenty minutes but it was only a two minute drive to get there and with the crowd they would have this morning, odds were it wouldn't start on time anyway.

"Daddy! Don't be mean to me," I pretended to whine, putting my finger to my mouth and twisting my hips with my toes pointed to the floor like I would when I was twelve or so. Well, it worked just as good this morning as it had back then as my dad grinned at me and stepped back to look at my dress.

"That new?"

"Yeah, I got it at Macy's yesterday... what do you think?"

My dad grinned even more broadly and replied, "Well, if you MUST know, it covers WAY too much but then I guess it IS an Easter dress."

I giggled and flipped up my dress to flash my bottom. "See, I even have panties on this morning!"

My dad rolled his eyes as if I had just announced the end of life on Earth as we know it. "My oh my, just goes to show that miracles DO occur on Easter!" he teased me some more.

My hands reached up to the bust of my dress and I slipped my fingers just inside and pulled the top down, the elastic stretching to allow it to pull over my boobs and then tighten again just underneath, leaving them exposed with my nipples all nice and perky for him.

"Is this better?" I asked innocently.

"Mmmmmmm, MUCH better," he sighed, his eyes fixed on my boobs.

It wasn't like he'd never seen them before but still, I loved it when he stared at them. My hands cupped them and I hefted them up and down a bit, like I was comparing two cantaloupes at the supermarket. "God I love your tits," he groaned softly, reaching out with one hand to pinch my nipple and then placing it flat on my breast and squeezing it slightly.

"We have to get going daddy... you gonna fuck me or what?" I said with a grin.

God, how many times had I said those words, or something similar? "Fuck me daddy," were his three most favorite words and no matter how many times I said them to him, he never seemed to grow tire of hearing it. I guess having your own daughter ask you to fuck her is something a father never can hear too often.

Reaching down to his suit pants, I pressed against his crotch where I could feel his dick through the thin material. It wasn't like he was fully erect, or even half-way there so I knew I had to give him some help to get started. It wasn't his fault... between being in his forties now and the high blood pressure medication, there were times his dick didn't always respond quite up to expectations. In the more extreme cases, I might just give him a BJ as I found that a man doesn't have to be erect to cum - it just makes it a lot harder to get him inside of me when he's not as stiff as he could be.

"Sorry babe, guess it's gonna be one of those mornings...," he tried to apologize.

"Well, we'll just have to see what I can do about it," I said determinedly, squatting down on my tip toes in front of him as I undid his belt and pants.

I wasn't about to kneel in the bright white hose I was wearing and getting all undressed was NOT an option when you're on a time-crunch. After unzipping his pants, I pulled his boxer shorts down enough to let his semi-flaccid dick flop out.

Hmmmmmm, I certainly had my work cut out for me, that was for sure, and not much time to do it.

Taking his soft dick in my mouth, I cradled his balls in one hand as I used the other to keep my balance by holding onto the bathroom entrance molding. He smelled of soap with a slight hint of sexual musk as I felt his soft dick in my mouth against my tongue. Letting him out until I was holding just the head in my mouth, I used my tongue to tease the tip of his dick, playing around the edge and tickling his hole at the tip. My fingers were running through the thick hair of his crotch as I heard him moan slightly as I sucked a little harder on his dick head, then taking it all back in my mouth again.

"Oh baby, that feels so good," he whispered to me, not to be quite but more not to break the mood that was beginning to develop, "God I love it when you suck my cock. You look soooooo beautiful with my dick in your mouth."

Indeed, I could feel the stirring of his dick as my mouth worked on him. Thankfully things were looking up this morning - and I mean that in more ways than one! I really wanted him to fuck me bad this morning, especially since the whole family would be at church this morning. Even my older Uncle Paul and his family would be there, including his two daughters Ginny and Laura. They were both a little older than me and I'd never done anything sexually with any of them (if you ignore a certain bachelorette party years ago).

Still, to greet them and talk to them, all the while feeling the aftereffects of my dad having fucked me literally a few minutes earlier, was something I didn't often get to experience. Mmmmmmm, I wanted his cum IN me when I was sitting with them, even if they didn't know about it, I would and that was hot so far as I was concerned.

It only took a few minutes of determined cock-sucking to get him stiff enough to do what I wanted. I figured once he was in me he would continue to grow so why waste any more time than necessary with the clock ticking? Grabbing his wet dick in my hand, I released him from my mouth and looked up at him with a grin on my damp face.

"Mmmmmmm, you ready to fuck me now daddy?"

"Like I would ever say no?" he chuckled.

He had a point.

I stood up and turned away from him. He lifted up the back of my dress and I dutifully leaned forward with my hands on my knees, raising my ass to him. he could have simply pulled them down to my ankles but instead he reached under the crotch with his fingers and pulled them over to the right, exposing my warm, wet pussy. Without another word, I felt him push his semi-hard cock against my pussy, working the tip between my wet pussy lips. Had he been stiffer, he could have simply shoved it in me but now when he pushed, he just bent and I wondered if I should have sucked him a little bit more.

"Damn, STILL incredibly tight," he said more to himself than me.

I smiled and once again was thankful I had resisted the temptation to use over-sized dildos that just stretched you out without making that much of a difference in how you felt. Back when I was in my teens, men EXPECTED me to be tight but now that I was 24, it was almost like they were surprised that I was still as tight as most girls many years younger than me.

I was tempted to reach between my legs and help guide him in but I didn't want to embarrass my dad. I figured he would eventually work it in me and it wasn't long before my patience paid off. His head suddenly was in just the right place at just the right time and it popped into me in one quick move, the entire head now safely buried inside of my pussy.

"Yes daddy, that's it... fuck me daddy," I said on a soft voice, hoarse with my lust for my father's hard dick. The fact it was hard because of ME is what made it so special.

Just recently a guy asked me if it was still special to have my dad fuck me. I told him that it was something totally different than being with any other man. To be perfectly honest, my dad isn't the BEST lover in the world and I've had many cocks that were a lot bigger than his and that could perform better. Bu then, sex with my dad wasn't about the SEX - it was about submitting myself to my dad in the most intimate and personal way I could. Now I am not talking about submission as in BSDM, but rather the ability to give myself totally to my dad without any strings attached, or holding back in any way. Sex with my dad was a means to an end, not the goal.

As he pushed it in me, I could actually feel it getting thicker in me and I was pleased that my plan was working. Indeed, it wasn't long before he was fully erect, or at least pretty close to it. I could feel him stroking it in and out of me, taking me as his, using me to satisfy his most lustful desires. To be able to do this for my dad, to please him and honor him in a way so few girls ever do for their dads, was special to me, VERY special indeed.

"Cum in me daddy," I begged him, knowing he undoubtedly wanted to as well but a little encouragement never hurt. "Give me you cum daddy... Show me how much you love me daddy!"

Indeed, THAT was what is was all about, my dad loving me and proving it to me in the most precious and loving way possible. Granted, my dad didn't HAVE to prove anything to me. I know he loves me, sex or not. It's no different than telling someone you love them. Of course you know they love you, but still , you want to hear them say it. So it was with sex with my dad. I know without a shadow of a doubt my dad loves me as only a father can love his daughter but to have him SHOW me by cumming in me and giving me his sperm... well THAT makes it special indeed, as I think most people would agree.

"OH god baby, here it is..." he groaned as I felt him push his dick into me as far as he could.

His crotch was pressed against my ass now, his pubic hair tickling my bare butt as he drilled his dick into me and the ground it even deeper inside once he was in me. Again and again I felt it, that brief burst of warmth deep within me that signified my father was shooting his cum into me, deep inside of me. He didn't take long to unload and after staying in me for just a few seconds afterwards, he pulled out reached down to pick me back up so I was standing before him.

"Oh Kelly, I love you so much," he whispered softly to me, his face flush with the expenditure of his lust, "That felt so damn good!"

Adjusting my thong back in place again, I pulled down my dress and tried to straighten it out as best I could. Lifting my top back up again over my boobs, I checked myself out in the bathroom mirror to be sure it was properly arranged. I was a little flushed, not as much had I cum but then, this was about my DAD'S needs, not mine. It wasn't like I was hurting for sex and had to go to my father for it. What was important to me in situations like this was that I pleased HIM, that I satisfied HIM, not necessarily me. Yet by satisfying him, I was also satisfied so it was a win-win for us both. Had it been anyone else, I might have felt a little cheated but not with my dad. Seeing the look of satisfaction on his face, the sight of his wet, flaccid cock covered with a mixture of my pussy juices and his incestuous cum, was all I could ask for.

"Dammit, we're gonna be late," he hissed as he looked at his watch.

I told him I would meet him out front as I had to move my car but instead we decided to just take my car so we could get going faster. Slipping on my heels, I grabbed my purse, digging out my keys as we rushed to my car. Once inside, I backed out from the driveway and we were on our way.

"Mmmmmmm, I love looking at your crotch after we fuck," he said with a smile on his face while he looked over and down to my crotch, 'You have no idea how often I use to dream of seeing my cum oozing out of you like that when you were younger."

I pulled up my dress with one hand while trying to drive with the other, exposing my thong to him.

"Awwwwww, did my baby wet her panties?" he teased me.

I looked over at him quickly, raising my eyebrows and giving him my most "you're clueless" stare. "Daddy!! You know what that is!"

My dad reached over and pushed his finger against my pussy, right over where the wet spot was showing which happened to be right over my pussy hole.

"Maybe it's a good thing you wore this today," he grinned, "Wouldn't want anything dripping down your thigh when you shake the Pastor's hand!"

Actually, it wasn't all that much of a joke. It wouldn't have been the first time he'd loaded me up especially full and when I stood up during church to sing I would feel it drain out of me and down my leg. Yep, good old "cum down the leg" - yet another reason for a girl to always carry some Kleenex in her purse!

Today, however, I didn't think he had cum all THAT much in me, given the "hard" time it took to get him erect. Sometimes it can really be hard to tell how much a guys is leaving when he cums inside of you. It can even be difficult to tell when he actually does cum as the warmth it gives me isn't all that intense, more a passing feeling that afterwards you have to wonder if you really even felt it. Still, I would be surprised if very much drained from me this morning, if any did in the first place other than the slight wet spot that was staining my underwear.

Traditions... the things that make a family a family. Mmmmmmm, I LOVED this tradition!

3. Easter Church Service

As late as we were, it came as no surprise that the church parking lot was crammed full. Fortunately, I spotted my Uncle's van so I double-parked behind it, figuring we would be leaving at the same time anyway. As we stepped inside, the last of the prelude was playing and we had just enough time to find the relatives before the service started.

Thankfully they had saved a couple of seats for us and I found myself seated next to Ginny, my oldest cousin with the fake boobs. She and her husband had married almost five years before and had yet to have any kids but I guess that is more normal these days for people to wait rather than rush right in and start procreating. As I mentioned, she'd had a boob job done a while back and she still loves showing them off. No matter what outfit she wore, you could count on it being low-cut or tight, whatever made her boobs look their best. My dad had often expressed how he would have loved to get a feel of them but it just goes to show that not all fantasies can come true.

There were fifteen of us in all, counting my Aunt Linda and Kristen. They were seated at the opposite end of the pew so I wasn't about to say anything to Kristen about me and my dad this morning. My dad use to fuck Kristen quite a bit, starting when I first went to college and she volunteered to "stand in" for me. These days, with her becoming a professional whore and all, it was like my dad wasn't as anxious to be with her, preferring her mother more than ever. Personally, I could understand his feelings. After all, when a girl's on her back with umpteen strange men a week, it's sort of hard to see her as your cute little innocent niece anymore. But Kristen had always been a slut so I doubted the prostitution gig was the issue. I think it was simply with my mom gone he found more satisfaction in being with a more mature woman like my Aunt Linda - something Kristen would never be accused of!

Next to Linda and Kristen was my cousin Tammy and her family. I only got a quick glimpse at her when I sat down but it was enough to recognize who had dressed her this morning - obviously her mom. Both she and Kate had on long dresses that covered everything up pretty well. It's not that the dresses were ugly or anything, quite the contrary. They were quite beautiful and it's only guys like my dad that probably were wishing they had been a bit more revealing - which most likely included most of the men in church!

The church was packed and even with the cool morning, it was still stuffy and hot. I found myself thankful I was wearing something as light as I was since it didn't look like they would be turning on the air-conditioning (cheapskates!). A few people were fanning themselves with a bulletin and I noticed even my dad was playing with his collar a bit as if trying to loosen it up. Oh well, an hour or so and it would all be over.

When we stood up to sing the opening hymns, I noticed Tammy slipping out from the end of the pew and heading out of the sanctuary. Was she OK? Neither my Aunt Linda or Kristen were following her so it must not have been anything TOO serious. Even so, she had left with this strained look on her face so I had to wonder if maybe something WAS wrong and she just hadn't told anyone about it. I whispered to my dad that I would be right back and quickly made it out just as the final verse was concluding.

Looking around, I didn't see any sign of her so I went down the stairs to where the restrooms were and stepped inside the Women's restroom. Tammy was in there alone, leaning forward in front of the sink with her hands resting on each side, holding herself up as she hung her head down.

"Hey kid, you OK?" I asked quietly, closing the door behind me.

Tammy looked up and me and grimaced, her face looking flushed and slightly shiny with sweat.

"I don't know what happened, I just felt hot and weak all of a sudden, thought maybe I just needed to walk around," she replied slowly, not even looking up at me as she did.

"Can I get you anything? I asked, moving in closer to her and putting my hand on her back. Damn, she was trembling!

"Oh Kelly, what am I going to do?" she started sobbing, covering her face with her hands.

As I had absolutely no idea what she was talking about, I just stood there, waiting for her to spill it in her own time.

"I'm late," she said simply.

Oh my god, the three words no girl wants to hear, at least not when you're sixteen! Damn, now THIS was more than I'd expected to be walking into, THAT was for sure.

"Really... are you sure? Haven't you ever skipped one before?"

Tammy started to sob again but I felt I was obligated to try and find out all I could.

"Never... never ever," she whimpered, "It's always on schedule, ALWAYS... Oh god Kelly, what am I going to do now?"

Immediately a million thoughts raced through my head. It was like being in a time warp. It's amazing how much you can process in such a situation! Who was the father? Did she even have a clue? If she was as sexually active as rumors had it, it could be any of several boys. God, what it if was her dad's... or her brother's? How in the world was she going to deal with her mother? It's not like she would be supportive - more like throwing her out of the house.

"Did you test yourself?"

Yeah, like being in denial was going to determine if she was pregnant or not. At the same time, it gave me a little to hope for. So far as I knew, Tammy had been on the pill for years now, thanks to my mom's friendly and understanding gynecologist. So far as I knew, her mother had no idea she was taking them because if she did, she no doubt would have raised hell with everyone involved. Of course, nothing is 100% effective but still, the odds were heavily in her favor.

"Look, right after church I'll stop and pick one up, OK?" I offered, "You really need to be sure. It's probably just your clock having a hiccup so don't get so worried now."

She didn't exactly become perky but at least the sobbing stopped. I hugged her and she hugged me back, just two girls, two cousins, supporting one another. She had grown quite a bit in the past couple of years but was still a few inches shorter than me. She was quite a pretty girl, even with the swollen eyes and red face.

"Look, I'll go back upstairs and tell everyone you're ok... it's just a woman thing," I told her.

My mom had taught me early on that if there was ever anything you didn't want to discuss with a guy, just say it was a "woman thing" and that always shut off the conversation. Guys no doubt had no idea what I was talking about, but they didn't want to admit it so they just dropped the conversation. I was sure if I went back up and used the old standby excuse, nobody would worry any more about her, even if she didn't return to the service at all.

Sure enough, when I got back to my seat my dad whispered to me, asking me if everything was ok. I gave him the standard line and it was all I could do to keep a straight face as he silently nodded, as if he knew what I was telling him. Looking down the pews, I saw Kristen and Aunt Linda looking at me and I just gave them the thumbs up, figuring I could explain it all to them later.

The rest of the service was a blur. Whatever satisfaction I had entering the church regarding my dad's cum in me was set aside by my concerns over Tammy. Of course I had to believe like I was sure she was OK in front of her, but in reality I had to wonder if maybe she WAS pregnant. After all, it wasn't like she had a supportive mother to help her remember to take her pill on time. Had she forgotten one? Even missing just one lowered the odds of being protected dramatically.

4. Brunch

After the service I quickly excused myself, asking my dad if he could hitch a ride to the brunch as I had forgotten something that I needed to get. He looked at me with a little question to his expression but he didn't push me. I wondered if he connected it in any way with Tammy? Kristen managed to corral me just as I got to the parking lot but I put her off as well. I figured the fewer people that were in on it, the better, at least until I knew for sure one way to the other.

I drove straight from the church to the nearest CVS and picked out a pregnancy test kit, one that promised super-fast and accurate results. The woman at the checkout counter looked at me when I set it down on the counter but I just ignored her. She could think whatever she wanted, I really didn't care one way or the other.

Even with my stop, I'd left the church in such a hurry that I arrived at the brunch at the same time as the others. My dad REALLY gave me the eye this time, but I didn't say anything, again not wanting to say a word until I knew for sure. IF it proved to be positive, there was plenty to discuss, that was for sure. I worked my way over to Tammy and told her to meet me in the restroom as soon as we got seated. She looked at me and I nodded towards my purse. She didn't look especially happy about it but she shrugged and agreed to meet me.

All I could think about as we walked into the ballroom where the brunch was being held was Tammy. I'm sure I was getting plenty of looks from the men and boys we passed on the way but this wasn't the time for fun. I was much more worried than I'd let on to Tammy. Like, if she WAS pregnant, how much would come out about her sex life - not to mention how she got started? Would anyone else in my family be implicated - maybe even me? How would she deal with it? On the one hand, her mother would never go along with an abortion but at the same time, I couldn't imagine how she would handle a pregnant daughter and bastard grandchild either.

As soon as we were shown to our table I told my dad that I needed to use the girl's room. Naturally he was suspicious but what man is going to question a girl when she says she has to use the restroom, even if she is your daughter? Tammy was right behind me and while the restroom was temporarily empty, I took her by the hand and led her to the handicapped stall. It was a little ironic in that I'd had some interesting experience in such stalls in the past but never under such circumstances.

Once inside, I bolted the door shut and pulled the test kit from my purse. Tammy gave me a questioning eye and to be honest, I wasn't sure how to use it myself so I pulled out the instructions. It seemed pretty easy and straightforward and then there was the longest five minutes of my life. It was almost like I was the one being tested, at least you would have thought so the way my stomach was churning and tied up in knots. I could only imagine how hers was feeling!

Oh my god!! It was negative! Suddenly it was like this huge weight had fallen from my shoulders. Tammy must have felt the same way, in spades, as she slumped and I was afraid for a moment she was going to pass out so I let her remain sitting on the toilet seat until she fully grasped what it meant.

"So that means I'm not...," she started out, almost afraid to finish the question.

"That's right girl, you're OK," I assured her. She started sobbing again, except this time it was more from happiness than worry.

"Hey, I know how you feel... I've been late myself a few times... it's scary," I tried to reassure her. "I'm sure it'll start any time now."

She settled down and I helped her wash her face off and fix her makeup. She was smiling now and getting back to her normal perky self again - not quite but at least on the path.

"Hey, let's get something to eat!" I said, literally pulling her out of the restroom.

Soon we joined our families and I could tell my dad and Kristen dying to know what was going on. I assured them I would tell them everything but for now, all was ok so not to worry. I wasn't about to start telling them until I had the time to tell them everything.

The food, as always, was incredible. I sat at a table next to my dad with my Aunt Linda and Kristen across from us. Then who should sit next to me but Rick. I knew why he chose that seat - so he could look down my dress while I ate - and stare across at Kristen and my Aunt at the same time! He wasn't the worst guy in the world, not nearly as bad as his dad, but he wasn't exactly subtle either. So far as I knew, he'd never done my mom's sister, something I had sometimes wondered about. I was sure the two of them had to discuss him and Linda must have known what her sister and nephew were up to. Still, to the best of my knowledge she never so much as flirted with him.

Actually, if you ignored Kristen's boyfriends, I'd never seen my Aunt make any sort of move with a guy much younger than her. I got the impression the main reason she messed around with her daughter's boyfriends was more from the thrill of being a genuine MILF than any true attraction to them.

"Getting a good look?" I whispered to him after he made an especially obvious peel down my top.

"Not as good as I'd like," he came right back, not in the least intimidated by me knowing what he was doing.

Then it hit me, like a fairy godmother has smacked me on the head with her wand. What a day it had been already. First I'd woken and, as usual, masturbated before driving to my dad's where I was fucked quick and fast. Then just as I thought it might be an erotic day at church, came along Tammy and her potential issue. Well, THAT turned out to be all for nothing and now here I was, leaning over to let my perverted cousin get a peek down my dress! Indeed, that is exactly what I was doing, leading him on and getting myself off knowing he was getting turned on by me.

Indeed, it hit me hard! Ever suddenly feel so incredibly horny you thought you were going to burst? Has your pussy ever suddenly almost cramped with the need to be fucked? Have you ever felt your face flush and your breathing become erratic as the only thing you can think about is the dick on the guy next to you? Well, if you have then you know how I was feeling all of sudden. Masturbating had felt good but it only made me hornier. Being fucked by my dad was fulfilling but it left me physically wanting.

I'd thoughts of masturbating in church and maybe even getting laid but all those thoughts had disappeared when my cousin had her issues. It was like the perfect storm, the waves of unfilled desires from all three events converging on me at once, with the means to satisfy those desires sitting right next to me. Of course, my dad was on the other side of me but in all fairness, it would've been asking a lot of him for a repeat performance this soon.

Getting it up again was NOT a problem for Rick, that was for sure. At twenty years-old, he may no longer be technically a teenager but if anything, his sexual prowess was stronger than ever. If anything, he was better than ever as instead of being an aimless teenage boy, just wanting to stick his dick anywhere he could put it, now he was more mature and had his emotions more under control - but not TOO much so, thank goodness!

My legs were crossed and I squeezed my thighs together, making my pussy twinge with lust. God, I wanted to be laid SO badly! Sure, I probably could have found someone in the crowd or on staff, but why go through the bother when there was a willing dick right next to me, just waiting for me to say the word? It had been a long time since we'd had sex and no doubt, he probably thought I was just teasing him as usual, but he had to have SOME hope deep down that MAYBE he had a shot at me. Mmmmmmm, if only he knew. Well, time to let him know!

Reaching over under the long tablecloth, I rested my hand on his crotch. Sure enough, the bulge under his pants was there. If anything, the feel of his dick under my palm made me even hornier, if that were somehow possible. I looked over at Kristen, who was keeping a close eye on me and I saw her lips tighten, trying not to smile as she obviously knew my condition - and what I was doing about it. No doubt she would have joined had I asked, but there wasn't all that much time and besides, I was in no mood for sharing at the moment.

"You are SUCH a fucking tease, you know that?" Rick whispered to me.

I couldn't blame him for assuming I was just teasing him as after all, that was what I usually was doing in such circumstances. However, in this case I wasn't teasing - I wanted it - and bad!

"Follow me and we'll see who's teasing," I responded with a naughty smile and a wink.

Rick's eyes widened and his eyebrows lifted. Then they narrowed and he looked at me, apparently thinking I was just teasing him all the more.

"Yeah right," he grumbled, figuring he was not going to be tricked again. God, guys can be SO stupid sometimes!

Without another word, I excused myself from the table, telling my dad I had to use the girl's room again. He looked at me a little strange, as if to ask me how many times I needed to use it today but he held his curiosity in check and just waved me off, returning to his discussion with my Aunt. I looked down at Rick and winked before picking up my purse and heading out of the room. Looking back, I saw Rick folding his napkin and saying something, probably some excuse for why he needed to leave for a while. He quickly pushed his chair back in and met me in the hallway outside the ballroom.

"Well, what's the story Kelly?" he asked, "Is this just another 'tease poor Rick' escapade or what?"

I looked around but there were far too many people about to do anything TOO forward. Instead, I leaned forward and whispered in his ear, "For crying out loud, quit whining. Now do you want to fuck me or not?"

With that he grinned and replied, "Stupid question - where?"

Typical guy, leave it up to the girl to figure things out. Fortunately, I'd already found the perfect place so I lead him down the hall to where the restrooms were located. I had him stand outside the women's restroom while I went in to scope it out. Once again it was empty. There was another set closer to the ballroom where most of the women must have been going but who was I to complain?

"Hurry up, get in here!" I hissed as I opened the door and stuck my head out.

Rick looked up and down the hall and them after satisfying himself that nobody was looking, he quickly stepped inside and pushed the door closed behind him.

"Damn, no lock," he cursed after checking out the entrance door.

"That's OK, in here," I said, opening the door to the same stall that Tammy and I had occupied an hour or so earlier. Rick looked around and shook his head, but smiling the entire time.

"This is insane, you know that, don't you?" he growled.

"What's the matter, haven't you ever done it in a public restroom before?" I teased him.

"Hell no, have you?" he shot back.

At first I think he said that just to show he was no different than me, at least in terms of our restroom sexual experiences, but when he saw the grin on my face he realized he was wrong.

"Shit, you HAVE, haven't you! You little slut!"

I just grinned, accepting the compliment, lame as it was. Rick wasn't wasting any time now that he realized I was serious. Before I could say another word, he had reached out and pulled my dress down, exposing my boobs as I had done for my dad earlier today.

"I've got to say, you have the best boobs in the family," he whistled softly as he reached out to grab them with both hands.

I doubted he had any idea how special that made me feel. Back when I was a teenager my boobs were a constant source of frustration and embarrassment for me. I was the last girl to NEED a bra in my circle of friends and while my best friend was moving from a B to her first C cup, I was barely filling out an A. Thankfully, my boobs didn't stop developing until I was in my twenties and today I'm quite proud of them, late as they may have been in arriving.

I reached behind me an untied the bow that gathered the dress around my waist. Reaching down, I crossed my arms and grabbed the hem, pulling up and over my head until I was left standing there with it in my hands. I hung it up on a hook on the back of the stall door, then turned to him wearing just my thong, hose and heels. He was staring at me, waiting for me to make the next move and I knew what he wanted so I pulled my panties down to my ankles, then stepped out of them; leaving me now in just my white hose and heels, which I fully intended to KEEP on.

"So what do you think Rick?" I asked in a sultry tone, turning around for him to get a nice view of my bare ass and then back to facing him again, my nipples pointed out at him like missiles ready to launch.

The blank look on his face, the open mouth, the wide eyes, and most of all – the bulge in his pants, told me all I needed to know.

"Well, are you just going to stand there or what?"

That seemed to jolt him back to reality and he quickly unbuckled his pants, pulling them down with his boxers, leaving his shirt and socks on. It was sort like a scene with Tom Cruise – minus the boxers. His dick as fully erect now, sticking out between the tails of his shirt, peeking out like a nasty serpent ready to strike. I reached down and grabbed it, holding it in my hand.

"Mmmmmmm, now THIS is what I wanted for dessert," I sighed as I bent my knees until my face was level with his dick.

Looking up at him, our eyes met as I took his dick in my mouth. God he tasted so good! Just the feel of his thick hard shaft in my mouth was enough to get me going. I have to admit that Rick's dick puts his dad's to shame, and my dad's as well. It's not only the longest of the three, but the thickest as well and for me, thickness is more important than length. I'll take a short thick dick any day over a long skinny one.

"Damn you suck dick so good," he groaned, his head falling back as he pushed it into my mouth by moving his hips towards me. "You really do enjoy this, don't you?"

Like duh!

I reached around him, grabbing his bare ass with my hands, pulling him into me so he couldn't thrust as much, letting me do more of the work on his dick. His hands were on my head, pushing me I against his dick, trying to get me to take it all my mouth. Now granted, I COULD take him all in but not every time! As thick as he was, it was much more difficult to take him down my throat than either of our fathers' cocks but if I relaxed enough and took my time, I could get it all in, at least for a few seconds until I had to catch my breath again. Some girls claim to breathe through their noise when they deep-throat but it's never been that way for me.

It was only a matter of time before someone came in, plus I was sure people had to be wondering where we had gone off to (although a few must have known we left together, most of them would never have suspected the real reason we were missing), so I stopped sucking him and stood up.

"Sit down," I told him, pointing at the toilet seat.

Being a public restroom, there was no seat cover, just the ring. I debated for just a second and then made my decision. Turning around, I backed into him until my bare butt was touching his chest, and then lowered myself down to his dick. Leaning forward a bit, I reached between my legs and grabbed his stiff dick, lining it up with my pussy and then dropping down not it, driving it all the way into me.

"Oh yeah... that feels soooooo good," I moaned softly as I started to rock on his dick, causing it to move in and out of me in the process. Damn my cousin's dick felt good in me!

Just then I heard the door open and then voices, like two women were coming in. I leaned back against Rick, lifting my feet and putting them on his legs, trying not to dig my heels in too hard but I had to do something so only one pair of feet showed under the door.

Now I had no idea who these women were, but they sounded a bit older and they were talking some gibberish about the younger women in their families and how the kids had no respect for the elders and the usual crap old people complain about. Evidently, they'd just come in to freshen up their makeup and gossip because neither of the them seemed to make any effort to enter the stall next to us.

In the meantime, I had Rick's stiff pole stuffing my pussy as I tried to keep my balance on his lap. As uncomfortable as it might be, it was extra erotic for those two women to be just a few feet away as my cousin fucked me. Hmmm, I wonder if they had known what we were doing if they would have liked to have some of what was in my pussy for themselves? No doubt Rick was thinking along those lines as well as he stayed as hard as a rock inside of me the entire time they were there.

Finally the ladies were done and walked out, leaving me and Rick alone again. It was a relief to be able to drop my legs down again, feeling a bit of a tingle as the blood flowed back into them. Then I leaned forward, all the while impaled on Rick's dick like a Coney dog on a stick.

"That's it Rick, now fuck me good!" I begged him, my pussy crying out to be fucked harder.

Rick suddenly pushed me off his dick, evidently with something of his own in mind. He grabbed me by my bare waist and turned me to the side so I was facing the outer wall with the handicapped rails. He pushed my head down and I leaned forward, grabbing the rails to maintain my balance.

"Spread your legs bitch," he growled, trying to take control for himself evidently.

It wasn't the time to argue male versus female dominance so I simply did as he told me, knowing full well what his intentions were. Sure enough, as soon as I spread my legs he was pushing his dick up against my ass again. Rick knew better than to try for my asshole, but it DID feel good to have him run his wet dick up and down between my ass cheeks a few times before he dropped it down and positioned himself just outside my pussy hole.

"Damn I love your hot ass!" he said in a husky voice, thick with lust, as I felt him entering me once again.

This time he had control and he determined the pace and the depth within me. His hands grasped my bare hips, rocking me back and forth to meet the sharp thrusts of his crotch against my naked bottom. While I may have been embarrassed of my boobs as a teen, my ass was a different story. I loved showing it off, especially when it helped draw attention from my less than spectacular boobs. Short shorts, thong bikinis, even running around the house bottomless in just a t-shirt, anything to show off my butt was fine with me.

Had someone come in now, I'm not sure what we would've done but fortunately, it was a moot point as we had the place to ourselves for the few remaining minutes it took for Rick to fuck me. I was rubbing my clit as he stroked himself in and out of me until FINALLY, I had my second orgasm of the day (the first being when I masturbated so many hours before back at my apartment).

"OH yeah, fuck me like that... just like that!" I moaned, the sharp jolts of pleasure that my orgasm were creating in me making it hard for me to breath.

Damn it felt so good! Even if someone HAD walked in now, it wouldn't have mattered. All I cared about at this moment was his stiff dick in me and how it was making me cum!

Feeling me cumming must have helped push him over the edge as well as shortly after I started, he suddenly pulled out of me and roughly grabbed me and spun me around to face him. He started stroking himself and I knew he was close to cumming. He was expecting me to open my mouth, just like those whores do on all the porn movies, but I wasn't about to let some guy masturbate to get himself off, not when I was there to do it for him! To me, it's almost an insult to have a guy finish himself off when I was right there Determined to finish what I'd started, I pushed his hand away and started sucking on his dick, giving it everything I had while at the same time, I was fingering myself to keep my orgasm alive.

"Ahhhhhh!" Rick groaned as I felt his first shot of cum erupt and splash against my tongue and the back of my throat.

Sure I would have preferred it in my pussy, but this wasn't exactly bad either! Rick's cum usually tasted pretty good and today was no exception. Damn, he must not have jerked off for a while as it seemed to fill my mouth. Indeed, I had to let a little seep out and over my lips, forming a puddle on the tip of my chin before it dripped to the floor. Finally he finished and I opened my mouth to show him his handwork, then swallowed it all down in one large gulp, opening my mouth again like a kid proving she took her pill for her parents.

"Ummmmm, now THAT was the dessert I wanted," I said with a naughty grin as I wiped his messy cum from my face with some toilet tissues.

With that we got quickly ourselves dressed. Before I let him leave the stall, I checked the hallway and once the coast was clear, he made a quick exit before anyone realized where he was coming from. I check my watch and saw we had been gone for over twenty minutes. Wow, it had seemed a lot longer but still, I could see people looking at us with that, "where have they been?" look in their eyes.

"Hmmmmmm, someone's being a little selfish today, isn't she?" Kristen commented in a soft voice to me as she stood next to me in line at the coat check.

She was just teasing so I just grinned at her and she giggled as well. Then I saw Tammy putting on her coat and went over to her to see how she was doing.

"Feeling better now?" I asked.

"Yeah, it's just hard to believe it's all OK," she sighed, " I even ate a lot. My stomach has been so upset I haven't hardly eaten in days."

"Well, you need to do something to take your mind off of things," I suggested.

"Like you just did with my brother?" she said accusingly.

Hmmmmmm, I hadn't realized that she'd noticed so it took me a little off guard.

"Like, everyone noticed you were both gone. I wonder what they would've said if they knew what the two of you were doing?" she said, but a little more of a twinkle in her eye this time.

"Well, maybe you should do the same when you get home."

Tammy shook her head and then she said something that really surprised me.

"Noooooo, I didn't tell you before but I thought it was Rick's," she confessed as we started to walk out of the hotel, staying towards the back of the family crowd.

"Really?"

"Yeah, actually I DID forget to take my pills a couple of days and that's when he was doing me a lot so I thought... well, you know," she told me.

I felt a cold chill as I realized just how much that negative pregnancy test meant now. Indeed, had I known her concern I would've been a LOT more anxious about the results! Sheesh, talk about dodging a bullet!

"So I guess you can understand why I'm not ready to do it with him just yet again," she finished.

Well, even I can see the obvious when it hits me over the hard with a stick! Still, I knew there was nothing better to take your mind off stuff than getting laid. As I drove my dad to her house, I told him all about everything. Of course he was shocked at first, but relieved that the test had been negative. Then I told him about my words of advice for Tammy at the end of our conversation. He sat there in the passenger seat silently until we arrived back at his house so he could get his car.

We drove separately to their house from there, giving me even more time to think about it. That's when it hit me. Sheesh, it was so obvious, how could I have missed it? As I parked on the street near their house and walked in, I had a definite purpose to my stride as I knew exactly what needed to be done.

5. My Dad and Tammy

I doubt that anyone reading this will be at all surprised to learn what my idea was. Face it, at this event there were only three "eligible" men when it came to having sex with Tammy. One of them, her brother Rick, was definitely not a good idea given her recent "scare". No matter HOW bad I thought she needed to get laid, I would NEVER even ASK her to have sex with her boorish father.

So as unlikely as it might seem at first, when you take everything into consideration, having the whole family over actually was going to make it easier to pull off my plan!.

Sure enough, when I first entered the house the noise struck me, almost a physical assault as everyone was trying to talk at the same time to everyone else. My dad was saying something to my Uncle Paul, his older brother. Now THAT was something I didn't see very often. Part of it was simply because we seldom got together. Uncle Paul was also eight years older than my dad and so they had never been close growing up.

Looking around, I didn't see Tammy, or even Kate for that matter. Odds were the only teenagers at the gathering were probably holed up in downstairs the bedroom they shared, trying to escape all the annoying relatives. During the short drive over I'd thought a lot about my plan and I'd concluded that if anything was going to happen, it needed to happen quickly, before our heavy lunch settled in everyone's stomachs causing the ruckus to die down, or maybe even cause people to think about leaving once they'd spent their obligatory time.

Actually, my plan was VERY simple and I've found that the simpler the plan, the better - which meant this plan was GREAT. After quickly making the required social rounds to say hello to everyone, I headed down the carpeted stairs to the basement where the kids' bedrooms were. As I mentioned, Kate and Tammy shared a room while Rick, being the only boy, had his own. My aunt and uncle's master bedroom was upstairs, leaving the kids pretty much alone most of the time. Unfortunately, since Tammy shared a room with Kate and Kate would report everything to her mother, especially anything that she even suspected about whatever Tammy might be doing. Rick, on the other hand, with his own room, had quite a bit of privacy, plenty for my plans...

Sure enough, just as I had suspected I found Kate and Tammy holed in their room. Kate reading a book while Tammy was fooling with her e-mail. Sticking just my head through the door, I motioned for Tammy to come out, mumbling something about how someone wanted to talk to her. She rolled her eyes, assuming it was one of the relatives she hardly ever saw and didn't want to have anything to do with in the first place. If anything, Kate teased her about it, all the better for me as it showed Kate had no suspicions whatsoever about any ulterior motives I might have. Keep it simple...

As soon as the door was shut, leaving Tammy and me alone in the hallway, I silently motioned towards Rick's room, indicating to her that she should go there and wait for me.

"Ewwwww, his room is disgusting," she softly complained along with an upset expression.

Well, I could just imagine how a twenty year-old guy, still living at home, might keep up his room... or could I? Given what I'd seen of the apartments of some of the guys I've dated, I felt I was prepared.

"Do you want to get laid or not?" I hissed at her, pushing her down the hallway towards his bedroom.

"Kelly, I told you before... I don't want to do it with Rick," she whined, pushing back against me. like an obstinate donkey

"Who said anything about Rick?"

That caught her by surprise. Tammy turned to me and her eyes locked onto mine, as if she was trying to read me to see if I was telling the truth.

"C'mon, you know how my dad loves to fuck you and girl, you NEED it right now so quit being a pain and get in there and wait for him!"

Tammy huffed, more about me scolding her than anything else though. Then she flashed me that fabulous naughty grin she's perfected as she turned to go to Ricks bedroom. Following her, it took just one look inside to make me understand what she had meant about his room. Oh my god, it was a disaster zone, that was for sure.

Regardless of the state of Rick's bedroom, I didn't have time to worry about it so I just closed the door behind me and hurried back upstairs to find my dad. Surprisingly, he was still talking to my Uncle Paul but I didn't have time to wait for him to finish so I broke into the conversation, telling him that I needed to talk to him about something.

My Uncle Paul was fine with it though, saying it was OK with him and then I caught him giving me the once-over. Granted, he use to look at me that way a lot more, more so though when I was younger,, but it had been a while since I remembered seeing that look in his eye. It didn't mean anything in the long run as I knew full well that the chances of EVER doing anything nasty with him were LESS than zero. Still, it's always nice to be looked at, regardless of whose eyes they were.

"OK, what's the big hurry?" my dad asked once we were out of earshot of his brother.

"Hey... have you seen Tammy?" he asked.

Now it wasn't like Rick didn't know about my dad and Tammy's history, but at the same time I really didn't want to get anything started with him while my dad and Tammy were going at it. Maybe I was just being overly cautious, but I figured if Rick didn't have to know, why tell him? The trick of the matter was how to keep him out of his room?

"Don't worry about her... I know where she is... as a matter-of-fact I was just about to go see her," I said.

Well, technically it was a true statement, if not complete. Before he could say anything though, I changed the subject and said coyly, "You know, I really enjoyed our 'dessert' today at brunch."

"Oh yeah, so you ready for seconds?" he said, a wicked expression on his face.

Typical Rick, straight to the heart of the matter, especially when it came to having sex. Subtlety was NOT one of his strong suites.

"Hmmmmmm, I tell you what... ," I said slowly, hoping he would think I was deep in thought, "How about you let me and Tammy have some time together and then you can do me again after that, OK?" I bargained.

Again, it was technically true as I didn't say explicitly WHAT I was going to do with Tammy but his perverted mind filled in the blanks quickly enough.

"So why not let me do the two of you together?" he countered.

"Sorry, sometimes girls just need some... 'private' time together," I tried to explain.

"OK, so I'll just watch," he said, still trying to get in on the action.

"Oh Rick!" I said tersely, playfully slapping him. THIS time, though, he finally got the message.

"OK, OK, but you promise me?" he said, giving in finally this time but still negotiating for the near future.

"Yes..., I promise," I said begrudgingly.

Actually, the more I thought about it the better it sounded. If things went well with my dad and Tammy, and I had no doubt that they would, no doubt I would be needing a quick fuck of my own and since Rick was available and willing... heck, things might work out even better than I'd planned!

"Now you have to stay clear of your bedroom until I say it's ok... hear me?" I insisted, letting him think it would be just me and Tammy together.

Tammy was squirming under his face, thrusting herself violently up and into him as he licked and sucked her.

Knowing my dad, he could have stayed in that position for quite a while. Usually, at least when he licked MY pussy, he hated to quit until I'd cum at least once, preferably twice or even more. Today, however, as horny as he was his maturity was revealed as he realized he didn't have all that long before someone would be wondering where he was... and where Tammy and I were for that matter. I doubted anyone would put two and two together, but then why even take such a risk? He must have shared the same feelings.

"God, you know I've been wanting to fuck you again for ages," he said to her, as he stood up and stoked his stiff dick in front of her.

Tammy, like the well- trained slut she was (I say well-trained in that I think that while her experience certainly played a role, it was also Kristen and my "lessons" that we'd had back when she was younger that also made her more than your average school girl slut), grabbed her legs and pulled them back even further, giving my dad a juicy target.

"God I want to be in you so bad," he groaned as he stepped towards her, directing the head of his dick into her crotch and rubbing it up and down her wet pussy slit. I couldn't really see Tammy's face all that well with her on her back and her legs in the way, but I WAS able to hear her.

"Fuck me Uncle John... please fuck me," she begged.

Yep, that was my little slut! I was proud of my "student". One of the things I'd emphasized with Tammy from the start was to be sure to beg the guy to fuck her. In this particular situation it wasn't going to make any difference as my dad was going to fuck her now no matter what she said. But still, I knew my dad LOVED it when I asked him to fuck me, just as virtually every man I've ever known loves to hear those words - "fuck me".

I mentioned that my dad was going to fuck her now, no matter what she said. You see, when my dad gets himself worked up into the lustful state he was in now, incredibly horny and dying for some pussy, there was no stopping him until he had accomplished his mission. In all honesty, at this moment I think My Aunt Shari could have walked in and my dad would have ignored here and continued to push himself inside Tammy, even as her mother desperately tried to stop him.

God, how many times had I seen this look on my dad's face before - that hungry thirst, almost animal-like drive for sex that could only be satisfied one way. It immediately tasting the sweetness of Tammy's young pussy on it along with the sharper, more distinct flavor of my father's cum. He shuddered as my tongue played over the head of his still ultra-sensitive dick.

Once I'd cleaned off his dick, I turned my attention to Tammy. Prying her hands out of the way, I assumed a position quite similar to what my dad had been in not that long ago. God the scent of her naughty pussy was incredibly strong now after having just cum and being fucked so hard! Indeed, she tasted especially strong as well, not to mention the added flavoring provided by the remains of my dad's cum as it seeped out of her. My tongue flicked over her still-swollen clit, causing her to jump involuntarily, like when the doctor hits your knee with his little hammer and you react without any control. God she tasted so good! I've always said I loved the taste of my own pussy better than any other but I could have made a case for Tammy's right about now!

With that I stood up and adjusted my thong back in place. Checking my watch, I saw that it had been well over a half-hour since I'd left Rick and no doubt SOMEBODY had to be wondering where at least one the three of us was.

"Let's go you two horny toads, you know we can't stay in here much longer," I prodded them.

A pair of groans was all I got in response but I wasn't about to let them off the hook THAT easily. Grabbing their hands, I pulled them up and both of them begrudgingly got their clothes back in place again. Tammy pulled her panties back on and I loved watching her hands work underneath against her cute bare bottom to adjust it back into place. My dad had it pretty easy as well, simply pulling his underwear and pants back up again, tucking in his shirt, and tightening his belt.

"Why don't you check to see if anyone's out there?" I suggested to my dad, figuring it would be less difficult for him to explain why he was in Rick's room than either me or Tammy.

My dad opened up the door, stuck his head out, and then pulled it back in, giving the thumbs up. As he started to leave, I hissed at him, "DAD! Don't forget you have to wash up first!"

Indeed, I was sure all three of us smelled like a Nevada whore house on a Saturday night at the moment, especially my dad and freshly fucked Tammy. My dad went first, quickly returning after what must have been a cursory hand-washing at most. I started to ask him if he had washed his face but figured what the heck if the rest of the family couldn't take a joke! Well, actually I knew it was useless to press him further so I just hoped and prayed nobody got a good whiff of him. Tammy and I went to the bathroom together. Once inside, she said something to me for the first time since I'd walked into Rick's bedroom earlier.

"Well, I hope your dad's happy now," she said to me with a smile.

At first I wasn't sure how to take what she said. Was she trying to say she'd done it just for him without really wanting it for herself?. Maybe I was reading too much into it, trying to look for a way that she might be trying to say she had done it only for him, or for me.

"Well, it looked to me like someone here came pretty good herself!"

Tammy looked at me, almost a little sheepish. "Well... he DOES fuck pretty good for an old guy."

Well, considering my dad was almost three times her age, I couldn't really say anything about the "old guy" characterization. Still, she didn't have to put it QUITE that negatively. Heck, when I was her age I loved doing guys my dad's age. They always treated me so much nicer and cared more about making ME feel good and not just about getting themselves off.

"Better than your own dad?"

Instantly I regretted the question as her entire body sagged and the smile disappeared from her face. She didn't actually say anything, but her body language and facial expressions were enough to confirm my worst worries about her home life. I'd always hoped that being she was his own daughter that her father would treat her better than he treated someone less closely related, like me.

To be blunt, my uncle is an asshole when it comes to sex and if it wasn't for my dad's lust for Tammy, I would never let him touch me ever again. Well, just as I have to grit my teeth and bear it at times, yielding to him for the greater good, apparently Tammy was in same the position herself. I could only imagine how her father would react if she ever tried to say no to him. With everything else she was involved in, it wasn't like she could go to anyone to protect her either.

Oh well, there was nothing I could do about it now. A little makeup and some perfume and we were set to go. Just one last thing...

"Do you have any other panties?" I asked her, being mindful that hers had been wet already when my dad tossed them to me, and I could only imagine what state they were in now with her standing up and my dad's cum draining from her and into the crotch.

Tammy giggled, understanding what I was getting gat. With a sly grin back on her face, she reached under her dress to pull them off. Yes indeed, they were quite a mess! I was tempted to ask her if I could keep them as a souvenir for my dad but then I realized I had no way to hide them so I just let her throw them in the laundry hamper. Didn't her mother ever notice the stains on her panties? A question for another day...

"You know Kelly, maybe I should just go without any?" she teased me but we both knew that THAT wasn't the best of ideas at ANY time in her house, let alone having just been fucked by my dad. "Oh now don't be so serious... I know better... I'll have to get some from my room so hopefully Kate's out."

Indeed, Kate was nowhere to be found so Tammy quickly pulled out a fresh pair of panties and slipped them on over her heels and up her legs. With that, we were about as ready as we would ever be so the two of us headed back upstairs together. Sure enough, we were met at the top of the stairs by her wicked witch of a mother.

"THERE YOU ARE! Where have you two been? I've had Kate looking all over for you girls," my aunt griped at us.

Right on cue, her little minion Kate appeared from behind her, giving us that spiteful little smirk that she liked to put on when her mother couldn't see her. We just ignored her and went to the living room to mingle once again. I saw my dad talking to his older brother again. Gee whiz, this was the most I'd seen them talk in ages! The two of them looked at Tammy and me and I knew exactly what was running through my dad's head at that moment. At least he didn't get hard again!

As for my Uncle Paul, he was tougher to read. Indeed, he DID give both of us the once-over but then, I would have been surprised had he not. Still, was there something more there than met the eye? Over the years, I've tease him and my Uncle Jim mercilessly and while that eventually led to my Uncle Jim fucking me, I knew the odds of Uncle Paul doing anything even close to the same had to be at least a million to one. It never hurt to dream though!

Then I remembered my promise to Rick.

Maybe if I left fast enough...

It's amazing what you can still learn about your own family sometimes. Even more so is who you learn them from - and what happens after you do.

1. Family Background

I explain all the gruesome details of my family life in my diary on my website but this time there are some things that are different that need to be explained in order to understand what happened today.

Anyone who keeps up with my diary knows that my mom and her sister was raised in an incestual relationship with their father but on my dad's side, it was pretty much the standard family situation. My dad was the middle of three boys. His older brother Paul is 52 now, making him eight years older than my dad, and Jim is forty, only two years younger. Due to their age differences, my dad grew up much closer to his younger brother and even to this day, he has little to do with my Uncle Paul. It's not that they have anything between them, it's just they never really formed a close bond growing up so far apart in age. Plus, Jim and his family live in the south side of Pittsburgh, much closer than Paul and his family who wound up on the north side in the Fox Chapel area.

When my dad was in high school, Paul had already graduated from college with an Accounting degree and was working his way up some corporate ladder. Meanwhile, my dad and Jim turned out to be quite the lady's men, a polite way of saying they chased every skirt and tried to get in every girl's panties they could! Two of the girls they both were involved with were my mom and her younger sister Linda. The four of them dated in various combinations but my dad married my mom shortly after she graduated from high school while Linda went off to marry some other guy, leaving Jim to hook up with my Aunt Shari.

everyone, my Aunt Shari and Tammy's older sister Kate have never been involved as if they even had a hint of what was going on it would lead to disaster. I say "unfortunately" because it makes things much more difficult than they need to be because so much had to be hidden from them.

As for my Uncle Paul and his family, there was nothing at all incestual there, at least none anyone knew of and I had no reason to believe otherwise. He and my Aunt Julie have two daughters - Ginny (now 28) and Laura (26). Both girls look great with Ginny sporting an incredible set of boobs (thanks to the miracles provided by modern surgery). Other than a one-time tryst at Ginny's bachelorette party, so far as I knew they were both pretty conservative in their views regarding sex. Each was now married although neither had any kids yet, both being more career-minded for now it seems.

So far as I knew, my Uncle Paul had no idea that his younger brothers and their families were involved in incest. Uncle Paul has always been the "straight- arrow" of the family - staunch Republican, moderately wealthy, etc. I have to say he has been my favorite uncle in that he and Aunt Julie have always nice to me, a LOT nicer than my prudish Aunt Shari who always bitched to my mother about the way I dressed and behaved. Growing up, I would catch Uncle Paul looking my way at times, especially when I was wearing cutoffs or a bikini that left little to the imagination. But then, he looked at my other cousins the same way, no different than most men did, so I never took it as anything personal. Actually, we rarely spoke to one another and I can't even remember the last time we had a one-to-one conversation as anytime I talk to him it is with my dad there as well.

Such was the case even this past Easter, when our families all got together at my Uncle Jim's house after having a brunch downtown. My dad spent a lot of time talking to Uncle Paul, at least it seemed like more than usual to me, and I noticed that my Uncle's eyes strayed more than once to my cleavage when I was nearby. Of course I knew it didn't mean anything, most guys often leave me after a conversation with no idea what I looked like from the neck up! It certainly wasn't anything I would complain about, as if there was some reason I should. I make sure my dresses and such show as much cleavage as possible because I WANT guys to look at me and fantasize about me! Indeed, I would've felt a bit disappointed in myself had Uncle Paul NOT looked at me like any other normal man.

2. Saturday Morning With Kristen

While I LOVE having my own apartment, one of the disadvantages of moving away from home is the lack of basic resources you took for granted while growing up. One of the first things I learned was that doing your own laundry is EXPENSIVE! Fortunately, I didn't move all that far from home and my dad doesn't mind me stopping by now and then to do a few loads - especially if I do some of his at the same time. Also, my apartment is rather small... make that VERY small and so I don't have the same closet and storage space I have always been accustomed to having. It was almost like being back in college in a tiny dorm room. Thus I have kept most of my summer clothes in my old bedroom during this past winter.

While it seemed for a while that winter would NEVER end, finally the warm days have been returning. Another thing I learned that I was missing living in an apartment was access to a free hose for washing my car. Like Laundromats, it didn't take long for me to discover the high cost of getting my car washed. It wasn't such a big deal in winter because I had no choice about the matter; but now that summer was back any opportunity to save ten bucks a week or more was certainly worth pursuing. After all the rain and yucky weather this past week, I awoke to brilliant sunshine on Saturday morning and my trusty WeatherBug was predicting a warm sunny day.

Indeed, the sun was more than just rising and I saw that the clock on my nightstand said it was just past 11:00! Well, the previous night had been pretty tiring so I didn't feel TOO guilty about sleeping in. It had started with a small Passion Party where I did my usual thing - modeling lingerie and showing off sex toys for a small group of housewives out to have a little risque fun for the evening. Almost all of them were maybe ten to twenty years older than me so I kept things toned down a bit, much to the relief of the distributor I worked for!

After the party, I had a late dinner with my cousin Kristen. It wasn't often we both had Friday evening off at the same time After much debate we finally decided on a local Chinese place, not one of those gross buffets but a really nice place in town. It was really nice to just spend an evening with my favorite cousin, trading stories and gossip, without having to be concerned about who was watching us or what the guys we were with were going to try to do next. Granted, there WERE plenty of guys watching us but for this one evening we agreed up front that it would be just the two of us, two cousins just enjoying an evening together.

After dinner we ended up at my place along with a couple bottles of wine. For me, at least, that was a little out of the ordinary since I rarely drank anything alcoholic except for maybe a small glass of wine with dinner now and then. My lack of "experience" with regards to alcoholic drinks showed as it didn't take long before I was uncharacteristically drunk... plastered would be a more apt description I think.

Having downed even more glasses than me, Kristen was too drunk to drive home but fortunately not TOO drunk that she didn't realize it so she ended up spending the night. It wasn't like she needed pajamas or nighties. The last thing I remembered was we both just dropped our clothes at the side of the bed and collapsed with hardly a word or even a kiss good night.

Speaking of which... As my head cleared and my eyes adjusted to the bright sun, I finally remembered the lump under the covers next to me. God, I must have really been out of it not to remember she had spent the night in bed with me when I woke up! Kristen wasn't moving a muscle so I lifted the covers to make sure she was ok - or at least breathing! Underneath she was laying on her side, facing away from me, but she was still sound asleep. I grinned as her hair and makeup was a total disaster but then I doubted mine was looking much better. It goes without saying she was naked but that was no big deal. In all the years I've known her, I can't remember a single time when she'd ever worn anything to bed unless it was absolutely necessary - like at a sleepover at a friend's when we were in school. You have to remember that not all parents were as enlightened as her mom when she was growing up, at least so far as sleeping naked went. Heck, even I wore pajamas or a nightie to bed until I was twelve. Then again, I hadn't been sleeping with my naked mom since I was a little kid either.

My attention was distracted away from her as all this moving around after having first woke up was having it's inevitable result - I had to go potty, and I had to go BAD! I slipped out of my bed as stealthily as I could, as if I needed to worry about waking the dead, and quickly made my way to the bathroom where I took care of business and then washed my hands and face off. Ugh, I really DID look pretty bad in the mirror! Running a brush through my hair helped to tame it to some degree, and brushing my teeth made my mouth feel human again. Maybe a shower later... who knows? For now I decided to go back to bed and take advantage of the opportunity to be lazy.

Returning to my room, I saw that Kristen hadn't budged an inch. I didn't have anything I HAD to do right away and I still felt a bit tired so I slipped back in bed under the covers with her again. At first I faced away from her, trying to catch a few more winks but in the confines of my narrow bed I could feel my bare butt pressed up against Kristen's, causing any thoughts of sleep to quickly evaporate. Squirming just a little, I bit my lower lip as I enjoyed the feeling of her soft smooth ass against mine. This was silly... why was I facing AWAY from her?

Twisting around under the covers, I moved in closer to her in a spooning position with my upper arm draped over her and my lower one down pressed down alongside the two of us. Mmmmmmm, she felt so soft and warm after spending the night all tucked in under the comforter. Her cute bottom was being cupped in my crotch as my boobs pressed against her bare back. Working my arm under hers, I cupped her perky boob in my hand, just holding it at first as I pulled myself in even tighter against her, burying my head in her dark hair.

Not to go off on another tangent, but when I wrote that last sentence it reminded me of some comments made by a few people that I recently sent photos of Kristen. In most of my diary entries I describe her as a blonde and me as the brunette yet in recent photos, it's just the opposite. What I ended up doing was showing those people some older pics where we are our natural hair color - me the dark brunette and Kristen a dishwater blonde.

In the past couple of years, I've tried various styles and colors, first going total blond and now experimenting with more of a streaked blond look. In contrast, Kristen has gradually darkened her mane more and more to where now it's almost black. So while I guess in my mind I'm still a brunette and she'll always be a blonde, I WILL try to be more technically correct from now on in my descriptions of us.

OK, sorry for that public service announcement. Now back to being in bed with my unconscious cousin...

Uncharacteristically, Kristen and I hadn't done anything sexually the night before, not even masturbating together, so it goes without saying that I was a little hornier than usual this morning. Don't ask me why, but mornings are the most natural time of day for me to have sex. It's sort of odd in that I am definitely NOT a morning person when it comes to everything else, but rather the night owl who would love to sleep in until noon every day if I had my druthers. Yet for some reason I can't explain, my BODY is usually raring and ready to go as soon as I woke up, even if my MIND is trying to get me to go back to sleep. Of course, I can be stimulated most any time of day if I try, but I'm talking about my "natural" state. Perhaps that's one reason I loved it when my dad use to visit me in the mornings before he left for work. The best part was I didn't even have to "wake up", he would do me even if I was just lying there!

Feeling the way I was, had I been alone there is no doubt whatsoever that I my next move would be to lay on my back and take care of my morning "business", just as I usually do before getting out of bed permanently for the day. The temptation to shake Kristen awake and beg for some attention was almost overwhelming but I held myself back in deference to my cousin's apparent need for a ridiculously LOT of sleep.

Instead, I let my lower hand work its way between my legs until I was cupping my warm crotch. It felt extra special to touch myself this morning as not only was I feeling MY pussy under my palm, I could also feel Kristen's smooth butt against the back of my hand as I spooned in closer to her. Slowly my fingers worked their way between my bare legs until I was running my middle finger up and now my shaved pussy slit.

As I started to masturbate, my other hand squeezed her boob a little more tightly as I pressed my chest into her back, flattening my boobs against her as I gripped her smaller boob in my hand. They may have been smaller in terms of cup size but they were perfectly shaped and incredibly firm and perky. There wasn't a hint of sag in them and her nipples seemed to be in a permanent state of arousal. I swear, she could have been reading a textbook watching a boring soap opera and her nipples would have been sticking out all nice and hard. Indeed, at this moment my fingers tweaked her nipple and I rolled the stiff projection between my fingertips. Even in her sleep it seemed to arouse her a bit more as a faint but audible groan emerged from her.

As Kristen became aroused, I couldn't help but let loose a sigh myself as my fingers found their mark between my legs. As horny as I was, my clit was already stimulated and to have my fingers touch it was getting me off quickly. Mmmmmmm, I found myself wishing Kristen was awake and eating me out instead of leaving me to touch myself. Kristen has this knack for eating a pussy, a god- given "gift" that wasn't exactly listed in the Bible but it had to be spiritual in origin. Maybe it was because the two of us were about as close as two girls could be without actually being sisters and so we just knew instinctively what the other wanted. Whatever it was, I LOVED it when Kristen ate my pussy!

Scrunching down the bed just a bit, I worked my upper leg in between Kristen's so I could grind my crotch in against the back of her thigh. I pulled my hand out so I could get in as close as possible to her nude body and started to gently hump her like a dog in heat would do on your leg. By maneuvering my arm up and out and draping it over her head, I was able to could play with her messed-up hair as I fondled her perky boobs. Oh my god, the pressure of her warm thigh against my horny pussy felt incredible as my clit was squeezed in between.

In her sleep, God only knows what Kristen was dreaming about but whatever it was, it must have been something pretty erotic as I felt her ass clench and then her hips instinctively moved forward, as if she was trying to push up against a guy fucking her or something like that. Then her arm moved and I watched as she put her hand between her legs and started masturbating in her sleep. Just her fingers seemed to be all that moved but from the way her butt was squirming, whatever she was doing must have felt pretty good. I put my own hand back between my legs and the two of masturbated together as we laid in bed with one hand between each of our legs.

Oh my god, it felt wonderful! I could smell her wet pussy as she started masturbating faster. I loved the softness of her breast in my hands, the hard nipple poking against the palm of my hand as I cupped it and gently massaged it while at the same time, rubbing my own clit in rhythm with her movements. I felt SO damn horny... I needed to cum REALLY bad! Kristen's breathing was getting heavier and more deeper as her moans became louder and more steady. Whether she was really asleep or not anymore... who cared? All I knew was at that moment, the only thing I could think about was my hand on my pussy and the feel of my hot cousin's nude body against me.

"Ohhhhhh!" I finally had to let out as my orgasm finally arrived.

My hand on her breast must have squeezed a bit harder as I heard her moan a bit as well and I felt her free hand over mine, and then moving to her other boob to cradle it in her hand. It was like my body was frozen stiff, unable to move as the enormous feelings of pleasure swelled within me and then burst out like a geyser erupting. All I had to do at this point was simply press my hand against my screaming clit, letting just the pressure maintain my orgasm as I came and came... and came more.

Kristen was rubbing herself like crazy now. With the way she was touching herself and the almost constant litany of sighs and groans, she certainly wasn't asleep at the moment but she kept her eyes closed and didn't actually SAY anything. Then, as the paralysis that had gripped me began to dissipate, I felt her struggle under my arm and twist herself on her back. I still had my arm around her, only now it was just below her bosom, gripping her side. I stayed on my back so my leg just naturally lifted up and rested on hers, letting my soaking wet crotch press against her hip bone, feeling the hardness against my clit and making me cry out slightly.

Kristen was awake now, for sure. She was looking at me without saying a word, just this mischievous look on her face as she resumed masturbating, this time with both hands on her crotch. Our eyes met and I could see the staring on her face as she struggled to maintain her composure as she rubbed her clit and fingered her pussy. The covers were thrown back now and I could see her playing with herself. Damn she looked so hot! She had one finger inside her pussy while rubbing her clit with her other hand. I resumed my attention to her boobs, moving between them and then finally leaving over to suckle her closest boob.

Whether it was my mouth on her nipple or she had just reached that point of no return, whatever it was Kristen came. A loud "Oh fuck!" rang out and then her lips pursed tightly shut and her head was thrown back as she lifted her hips up against the two hands between them. She bounced on the bed like she was being fucked, crying out to me to suck her tits and bite her nipples ever harder. On and on it went, like she was some orgasmic machine that once activated, wasn't going to stop until the batteries ran out.

Eventually she DID calm down but not before she had driven herself to another orgasm just as I thought she was through with the first. God she must have been even hornier than me this morning! The room reeked of sex and I could only imagine the state of the sheets under her butt about now. So what if I had to do some extra laundry now? It was all worth it though, no doubt about that!

"Wow... now THAT'S the way to wake up in the morning, eh cuz?" she finally gasped in a soft tone, that sly grin still all over her face.

She turned to me and we hugged, pressing our nude bodies tight against one another as we kissed. As horny as I was, even morning breath wasn't going to stop me from enjoying her at this moment. Actually, I'd learned long before the best way to cure THAT little problem was simply to lick some pussy cum from your fingers! Just a little piece of free advice for folks reading this...

The rest of the morning was rather uneventful. We were both "satisfied", at least for the moment, so after a quick shower and such, Kristen gave me a kiss and headed back home. As for me, it WAS a beautiful day outside and so far, it was beautiful inside as well.

3. Washing My Car

With Kristen on her way home, I was left with the prospect of having to wash the dirty car that waiting for me. It wasn't much of a car but I was proud of it and I enjoyed washing it for the most part, especially when I got to do it with friends or in front of other people. Face it, the car wash had been the ultimate tease/fantasy for years. What would be a charity car wash without the bikini girls trying to draw in traffic? Nothing brings in bigger tips than a wet-short and no bra. Washing a car provides so many opportunities to bend over, lean over, etc. without being TOO obvious about it although everyone still knows what it going on. Even church-sponsored car washes that I've taken part in seem to wink at the blatant sexuality, all in the name of charity of course.

Unfortunately, today was going to be a bit more mundane in that my plans were just to park the car at the bottom of my dad's driveway and use the hose to wash it off. The odds of anyone even noticing I was there were pretty low but then you can't expect EVERYTHING you do to have some sexual connection, even car washing. This it was more because of the weather than any conscious decision to tease that I chose to wear the "traditional" carwash outfit - bikini bottoms and a t-shirt. Even though it wasn't THAT hot this early in the year, with the sun out it was plenty warm enough to get started on the summer tan.

I'd checked with my dad earlier in the week and was disappointed to learn that he would be working downtown at his office all day Saturday but then, what else was new? It would have been fun to tease him a bit while washing the car. Heck, he may be my dad but he is still a guy and what guy doesn't get off watching a girl washing a car - provided she does it right.

So anyway, I pulled in and drove down the driveway to where the garage was and parked in the middle of the concrete slab. Punching in the code to the garage door, it rose and I dragged out the hose and a bucket with some rags that he kept around just for this. After I hooked up the hose I went inside to get a bucket of hot water from the laundry sink, added same car soap, and got to work.

First I rinsed it down and soon realized that while it might be warm and sunny, there was more of a breeze than it first appeared to be. As I sprayed the car, the wind blew some water back at me but I managed to stay pretty dry until the stream hit one of the tires just right, causing it to bounce back at me. I sputtered and spat as it hit my face and dampened my T-shirt.

Looking down at what was now essentially a transparent T-shirt, thoughts of my morning masturbation session with Kristen came back as I felt my nipples poking through the wet cotton that clung to my boobs like Saran Wrap. Suddenly it didn't feel quite as warm out and my nipples tingled with the impact of the cold water against them. From the way I was responding, it was soon apparent that I was still horny and there's just one thing to do when you're horny and all alone - masturbate!

Nobody was around - I hadn't seen or heard a thing since I had pulled in, so rather than bother going inside with my wet clothes I simply opened the passenger door and sat sideways on the seat, my feet resting in the wet pavement below me. At first I just placed my hands over the wet material covering my boobs and squeezed them together. Mmmmmmm, it felt better with my warm hands on me! Then I pulled up the T-shirt over my boobs, feeling the breeze against the wet flesh, making my nipples tingle even more. God, they were SO hard and sensitive now, perfect for someone to suck on them and drive me wild! I love my boobs to be touched and sucked. Perhaps one disadvantages, if you can call it that, of being "easy" on a date was that guys would play with my boobs but as soon as they found out they could continue around the bases they would go straight for my pussy and never looked higher up again.

As much as I loved playing with my boobs, I WAS out in the middle of the driveway so expediency was also a concern. I quickly pulled my shorts down to my ankles, leaving them on so in case I should be surprised by someone I could get them back in place more easily. Of course, that depended on who should show up...

For the next ten or fifteen minutes I continued to masturbate in the front seat. Leaning to my side against the car seat back, I held onto the dash to keep my balance while my other hand played with my pussy - which now was a lot wetter than it was just from the hose before, not to mention a LOT warmer! Mmmmmmm, now if only I had a nice hard dick available! I knew a few neighbors guys use to look at me a lot when I lived at home and I would've bet some pretty good money that if any of them had seen me this way that they might decide the heck with the wife... but nobody seemed to be home this fine day. So it was just me and my fingers - but that's not so bad, is it?

When I came, I was thinking about being with Kristen and how it would have been if she had been able to be here with me right now. God... to have her mouth on my pussy right now would be heaven! One good thing when I was done, I didn't have to worry about any wet spots showing up on my cutoffs!

4. Uncle Paul and My Mom

With THAT little "problem" out of the way, I went back to work on my car washing efforts. I'd just gotten the car soaped down when I heard another car pull into the driveway entrance above me. At first my thoughts jumped to my just-finished masturbation fantasy - was Kristen here... I was up for more if she was! But then I looked closer and didn't recognize the car at first, it certainly wasn't Kristen, nor was it my dad's SUV, the second thing that came to my mind as I thought for a moment it might be my dad coming home early. He knew I would be here and it wouldn't have surprised me if he took off work early to meet me here but alas, that wasn't the case.

Then, much to my surprise, my Uncle Paul climbed of the car. That was odd in that so far as I knew, he hadn't stopped by our house in ages, as in years.

"Dad's at work!" I called out to him as he stood at the top of the driveway, as if uncertain whether to go to the front door or come down to where I was.

My uncle replied back down to me. "I know. I just need to borrow a couple of tools from your dad's workbench."

Now THAT sounded a little suspicious. You see, my dad's a great lawyer but he's not exactly the mechanical type. Sure, he tries to take care of the little things around the house but it's not like he maintains an extensive tool collection or anything like that. When it comes to any major plumbing or car repair, he just calls in the experts.

Uncle Paul walked down the steep decline towards me. I tried not to smile as I noticed his eyes did exactly what 90% of most guys' eyes when they approached me - up and down with a pause at my chest - and often that was as high as they got! Of course, being my uncle he was trying not to be TOO obvious about it but it's funny how guys think they can look a girl over, blatantly undressing her with their eyes, and still somehow think she doesn't notice.

"Yeah, I called him earlier this morning and he said to just stop by. He mentioned you would probably be here in case I had trouble getting in."

Well, it was nice know my dad at least remembered I would be here, even if he didn't take the time to BE here when I was. It was no different than most weekends while I was growing up. I guess you don't get to be a senior partner working 8 to 5 on weekdays only.

I just shrugged, not thinking much about it and he disappeared into the garage while I went back to my car washing.

"You know, you really look good in that outfit."

He sort of startled me as I was concentrating on a particularly stubborn dirty spot and had put my uncle out of my mind in the process. I straightened up and in doing so, realized what a view I must have been giving him, bending over at the waist to get towards the bottom of the car door. My shorts would ride up pretty high when I did that, probably giving him quite a tease between the crotch as there wasn't much material left there to begin with and then to bend over and stretch it thin...

Uncle Paul was standing at the edge of the garage floor, empty-handed. I wondered where the tools were that he was supposedly looking for. If he expected ME to help him find them, well all I can say is good luck to THAT. OK, so I know a hammer from a screwdriver but that's about it when it comes to being a mechanic.

"Don't take this wrong but that was quite a view," he chuckled, standing there with his arms folded across his chest.

Well, I wasn't going to take it "wrong" but his remark certainly surprise me as while I knew he had looked at me more than a few times when he thought didn't notice, he had never really said all that much to me, let alone compliment me on my appearance. Certainly he had never made any sort of suggestive remark to me ever before. I wasn't quite sure how to respond so he picked up the conversation - if that's what you could call it.

"Soooooo... tell me Kelly, what did you think about our Easter get-together at Jim's?"

Hmmm, not what was he referring to? At this point I really wasn't sure what he meant or where he was going at with this line of questioning so I pretended to not understand what he said, causing him to reword his question.

"What I was trying to ask was... did you have fun while we were all there?"

Now he was starting to freak me out a little. Fun? As in what kind of fun was he referring to? Certainly he didn't mean the "fun: I had down in the basement bedrooms as there was no way he could know anything about THAT. So what was he getting at? I mean, spending the afternoon with relatives isn't exactly the most "fun: thing for most people.

Uncle Paul must have caught the puzzled look of my face. He paused for a second, as if trying to decide whether or not to say something, and then a sly grin appeared, like he was about to share a naughty secret with me.

"You know Kelly, I would've paid about anything just to see the look on Shari's face if she had seen what your dad was doing with that little slut Tammy down in the basement."

What the hell? How did he know about THAT? Uncle Paul started to laugh at me as I must have amused him when my jaw dropped so far I was surprised it didn't hit the concrete.

"Oh come on Kelly, I know all about what he's been doing with our little niece. Shit, I have to say I'm a bit envious."

I just stood there, not sure whether he was just shooting in the dark to see how I responded or if he actually knew what he was talking about. Perhaps he just suspected something, for whatever reason, and was hoping that by coming out so boldly I would assume he knew everything and confirm it for him. It was a stunt lawyers like to use but when your dad's a lawyer, you know about it so I wasn't ready to fall completely into a potential minefield.

"Whatever are you talking about Uncle Paul?" I finally responded, trying to act genuinely confused, as if I had no idea about what he was telling me.

"Oh give me a break Kelly, I know everything... everything."

With that he gave me a wink, leading me to wonder now what all he knew. Was it just the Easter thing or more? If more, just how much more? Was it just Tammy he knew about or what else? Thankfully it was my uncle standing in front of me and not some investigator... or worse. Still, I felt a little lightheaded as the realization began to sink in that he DID know SOMETHING - just what was it though?

"Ummmmm, how did you find out?" I asked, deflecting his question with another, hoping that maybe I could get a hint of what he knew by finding out HOW he knew what he did. Well, it was like it was as much a game to him as anything as he played me like a fine violin.

"Well..., it COULD have been her dad - we both know what an asshole my youngest brother is," he started out. Then he paused to see my response but I tried to remain as blank as possible until finally he gave in and laughed, saying, "BUT, it wasn't." Then he looked up in the sky as if thinking and then threw out another scenario.

"Then again, it COULD have been YOUR dad - but then we both know he would never say anything about it to anyone. John's much too enamored with his that corner office and six, or is it seven, figure salary to risk telling anyone, even me... or should I say ESPECIALLY me?"

Again he paused for effect and again I remained silent, neither confirming nor denying anything he was saying. He seemed to be having a lot of fun but it was at my expense and I was starting to get a bit perturbed.

"Of course, I simply COULD have just noticed the way he looked at her and then, when the two of them disappeared for half an hour, just put two and two together," he said, rubbing his hands together like he was weaving some sordid plot together. He was actually grinning at my discomfort, a little annoying if you asked me.

As I waited for him to continue his little performance, my mind was racing. He obviously knew SOMETHING. So who the hell DID tell him? Something told me it had to be relatively recently as that was likely why he had arranged to be here with me - and when my dad was not around so what did THAT tell me? Well, I said before that I wasn't a mechanic and it looks like a private investigator gig is not in my future either. I simply had no idea where this was all leading.

"OK, ok, can you stop this and just tell me?" I said with a bit of a huff.

Paul grinned even wider and I could tell he was trying to get the maximum effect as he paused before revealing the final answer, like watching some silly reality show where the audience has to wait for the inane music to finish before they reveal who is getting kicked off the show.

"Well, you might not believe me but I swear it's the truth... your mother did."

What?? Now of all the possibilities that had been running through my head, all the different situations and scenarios, NONE of them included my mother. Now I was sure something was up with Uncle Paul after telling me what was obviously a malicious lie. Of anyone who knew about such things in our family, my mom was the LAST person I would ever have suspected of speaking to someone about it. I was starting to feel my face turn red and it wasn't the result of another orgasm. I was getting pissed - royally! It was bad enough to tease me and taunt me but to bring in my mom, after what had happened to her last year, was not only an obvious lie but demonstrated some pretty poor taste as well.

"That's ridiculous," I spat back at him, feeling genuinely mad at him now. What the hell was he trying to prove anyway?

"Hey, it's true and I can prove it," he responded, unshaken by the acid tone in my voice, "How else would I know about the time he first did her in the cabin by the lake?"

Now THAT shook me. It was one thing to infer something from the party last week, assuming my dad had been a little less discreet that he should have been. But the bit about the cabin, an obvious reference to when my dad took Tammy's virginity back when she was just fourteen... now THAT was not something he could have just guessed at, not at all."

"Why would my mom tell you about anything like that?" I asked, then realizing I had essentially confirmed his story, assuming that is what he was pursuing. At the same time, I was voicing the exact same thing that was echoing in my head. Assuming someone HAD told him about my dad and Tammy, and to make the wild assumption it was my mom, that still left the wide open question of WHY would she have done such a thing, not to mention why was I finding out about it just now?

"You know Kelly... you might be surprised at what your mother told me. There's a LOT of things I know that you don't know I know I bet."

Oh yeah? Like what? This time I wasn't going to fall for his trap and refused to reply. He seemed to get the hint and carried on towards whatever his goal was here. A devious grin came over his face as he said in a conspiratorial tone, "I bet you have no idea that your mom and me use to do the nasty."

This was insane. I leaned back against my wet car, not sure my legs were going to support me much longer. Oh my god, my mom and Uncle Paul? Get out of here!

"You and mom? I don't think so. She would have told me."

Paul smiled at me and shook his head. "You know, mothers don't always tell their daughter EVRERYTHING. Besides, for some reason she didn't want your dad to know... I don't know why and that's the truth."

"But when..."

"Oh, for years now. I think it was about the same time John started with you."

OK, everything up until now was a surprise, to be sure, but THAT comment was a total shock to my system. What the hell was going on here? When was he even telling me about it?

"For crying out loud Kelly, be real. Do you really think your mom was THAT much of a saint that she could just sit back and watch her husband doing her daughter over and over again and not want something new for herself? Your mom was a VERY sexual woman and so she did what she had to do."

"I don't believe you," I protested, angry at him for trying to make my mother into something she wasn't when she couldn't defend herself. :Mom was NEVER jealous of me. She was happy to see me and him together."

"Well, maybe not jealous - poor choice of words I guess, but it certainly got her horny as hell. Remember... by the time you were done with him, that didn't leave much for her."

It was like my whole world was turning upside down. I've always had this imagine of my mother that I've carried since I first started having sex with my dad. So many times she had assured me that she wasn't upset or jealous when my dad did me. In fact, I'm not sure how I would've reacted had I known the truth when she was alive - certainly extremely guilty, that's for sure.

"But how did you start... why?"

As much as he was telling me what he was, that question was apparently out of bounds as he replied, "well... I think that's something that should remain between me and her, OK?"

"So you've known all this time about me and them?" I asked, trying to get a handle on just how much he knew and what he had done with my mom. God, he seemed so proud of himself it was almost disgusting

"Yep, everything. Just about everything I guess."

My uncle was still standing about ten feet or so from me at the entrance to the garage. So far he not made a move towards me which was fine with me. I had enough to deal with as it was just trying to put all the pieces together in my head. I felt like a jigsaw puzzle that has just been dumped out on the table from the box.

I turned away from him momentarily, opening the driver-side car door and taking a seat sideways, similar to what o had done earlier when I masturbate on the other side except this time it wasn't that I was too horny to stand, I just HAD to sit down and try to make sense of everything. When I looked up, he had walked over to the car and stood there in front of me, his arm resting on the top of the car window as he looked down at me with a small smile.

"You know Kelly, your mother loved you very much and I know that she would never do anything - or NOT do anything, that she thought might have hurt you so don't blame her for anything, ok?"

I looked up and asked, "So just you and my mom?"

He could have interpreted that a number of ways but fortunately he took it as I had hoped.

"If you mean you Aunt Linda or Kristen... no, I've never touched them nor do I think they know any more about me and your mom than you or your dad. Let's just say you mom and me both had 'needs" at times and it just worked out for the best to keep it between the two of us."

It was funny in a way. I've had many people ask me if my mom ever got jealous of my dad fucking me or if she ever felt left out. For the past eight years I've always assured people that she wasn't jealous, that she enjoyed watching her husband and daughter together. I always claimed it was my dad with the heavier sex drive, that my mom was satisfied with what she got when I wasn't there.

Boy, talk about being WRONG! How could I have been so blind... so gullible for that matter? Was it because it was what I WANTED to believe? Would I have felt guilt or remorse had I known the truth, that my mother was forced to seek sexual satisfaction with another man because I was taking her place with my father? It was like learning that the Bible was a forgery or something similarly catastrophic in my basic core belief system.

"So why tell me now?" I asked plaintively.

Well, I was about to find out...

5. Uncle Paul Fulfills His Fantasy

By now I would've said there was nothing that could've surprised me any further today. My world had been turned upside down and what I really wanted was to just go home, lie on the couch and try to make sense of everything my uncle had dumped on me. Instead, here I was, sitting sideways on the car seat, my feet on the driveway, holding on to the steering wheel for support. The back door was open as well from when I had been washing the bottom, creating a three- sided barrier around me with the garage in front of me. It reminded me of when I was a little girl and had to pee REALLY bad while we were traveling. My dad would fuss and fume but if I pleaded hard enough he would stop on the side of the road, opening the doors like this so I could squat to pee without the people driving by seeing me.

I had asked why my uncle had told me all this now but instead of telling me, Uncle Paul stepped in between the doors and without another word or hesitation, he simply unbuckled his jeans and unzipped them, reaching down inside with his right hand to pull out his semi-hard dick. My wide eyes must have told him everything.

"Kelly!... Why are you trying to act so surprised? Trust me, if anyone does, I KNOW you're a fucking slut who can't get enough. Shit, I bet that pussy's already getting warm as toast just at the sight of my dick, isn't it?... isn't it?"

He had me there. It wasn't like my uncle as all that bad looking, for his age at least. I'd seen him undressing me with his eyes enough while growing up to know he harbored the same thoughts I suppose a lot of uncles do for their nieces. Of course, I assume almost none of them ever ACT on those thoughts and fantasies, or even admit them to anyone else. Now all this talk about sex and incest, while coming at me as a bit of a surprise, to say the least, had made me horny as hell so of course my was pussy was heating up again. I hadn't fully lost all the sensations from my most recent orgasm while masturbating just before he had gotten here. Funny how things work sometimes. While I was masturbating I was wishing a nice hard dick would appear and lo and behold, one had!

As horny as I was and as luscious as his dick looked right there in front of me, I wasn't about to just give in to him without making him work for it a little. I DID have a little pride, not to mention a reputation to live up to.

"So you think I'm just going to suck your dick now?" I teased him, my turn now, "You think you can just wave it in front of me and I'll lean forward and suck it, like a dog being offered a treat?"

Uncle Paul grinned, "I have to admit that the thought HAD occurred to me."

"I bet you want to fuck me too, don't you Uncle Paul?" I teased him.

In for a penny, in for a pound as they say. If he thought I was as slut before, it was going to be nothing to what he thought about me when this was over with... not if I had anything to say about it. Besides, he was family and while I would never admit it to him, I DID feel a certain sense of obligation to submit myself to him as he was the brother of my father. It was just like when I gave myself to Uncle Jim, despite my disgust and revulsion towards him. My dad wanted me to let him fuck me... so I did. Wouldn't the same apply to his older brother as well? Even if my dad never found about his brother and my mom, what if he found out that I had turned away my Uncle Paul - and then press to find out the details about why It had all come about in the first place?

"Well, THAT thought had also occurred to me," I responded, trying to make it as clear as possible that he would do whatever he wanted with me without coming right out and saying it.

Then a thought occurred to me as he stood there stroking his growing dick for me to watch, "What about Aunt Julie?"

"What about her?" Uncle Paul replied flippantly, "Like, can't a guy want to fuck a hot girl without worrying about his wife? Face it, it's not like I was being exactly faithful to her when I was with your mother."

Oh well, what the hell? Besides, technically this was different from fucking other married men in that I was a direct family member, well at least as direct as you can call a niece which was always good enough for my parents. If Uncle Paul was fucking me or my mom, he wasn't committing adultery, at least not technically. Now I doubt Aunt Julie would've seen it quite the same way but then, that's why she could never find out about it. At least there was nothing morally unethical about it, at least from a religious perspective.

Besides the current situation, to be honest I HAD thought about doing it with Uncle Paul in the past, especially when I would catch him undressing me with his eyes. Plus, he was the only guy left in our immediate family that I hadn't fucked. I can't count my cousin's husbands as they are related only by marriage and I barely know them anyway. No... Uncle Paul was the last open slot on my family "scorecard" - although it was one I'd written off, never expecting to fill.

"So why now?" I asked again as he stroked his dick, seemingly becoming impatient with my questions.

"Oh I don't know... I guess it was Easter that got me thinking... and then seeing you looking so fucking hot today... Shit man, do you have ANY idea how jealous I've been of my brother getting to fuck you and your cousins."

Again, I couldn't help but think it was too bad Kristen hadn't waited another half hour to leave. Now THAT might have proven to be interesting! Oh well, this just meant I got him all to myself and there's definitely something to be said for that.

"I bet you wish you could fuck your daughters, don't you?" I said softly. It was a shot in the dark but I had a good feeling about it. But he surprised me...

"What, with Ginny's fake boobs and Laura's fat ass? Nawwwwww, I've been dying to get you and Kristen though - not to mention little Tammy was well."

He had been stroking his dick the entire time, not moving any closer but just allowing me to watch him extend and thicken as he stroked himself for me as we talked. Enough was enough so I reached out and grabbed his almost hardened cock. A quick thought went through my head as I mentally compared his tool with his brothers'. If I was being honest, none of them were overly endowed. Apparently my cousin Rick must have inherited his good fortune from his mother's side of the family, NOT something I'm sure she knew a lot about. When was the last time she had seen her son's dick - when he was six maybe? I had strong doubts that she had EVER seen him with an erection. Oh well, that was HER loss.

What the heck, why not? Leaning forward, I took the head of my uncle's stiffening dick in my mouth and then slowly, deliberately, allowed his entire dick to push inside my mouth as my tongue ran along the bottom. He groaned mightily when my face became buried in his dense black pubic hair while I sucked as hard as I could on his cock. He was OK, size wise, but even so it wasn't hard to keep him all in my mouth while breathing through my nose - a technique my mom had taught me and I wondered if he recognized it?

"Jesus H. Christ, I can't believe this is happening!" he groaned as I looked up to see him looking back down on me, a look of pure pleasure on his face.

Heck, I hadn't even gotten started yet! It then occurred to me that it had likely been thirty years since he'd had a girl my age sucking his dick - probably his wife back then assuming Aunt Julie have even given him head. If the guys who write to me are indicative of the population in general, there are a lot of wives out there who don't give head, or at least not very good.

Pulling my head back, I grabbed his cock in my hand as I lifted my head up to look at him. "So... do you like your dick in my mouth Uncle Paul?"

His eyes rolled as if to say it was the most ridiculous question he'd ever heard. "Shit, don't stop... it feels great."

Regardless of whether or not my aunt gave him head during their marriage, if he had really been fucking my mom as he claimed to have over the past few years, I knew she was pretty damn good at giving blowjobs herself. After all, she was the one to give me my first lessons although I like to think the student surpassed the master before long. So while it had been quite a while since he was sucked off by my mom, it wasn't like he'd never had it done to him. Still, it's always nice to be appreciated for your efforts!

Uncle Paul put his hands on the back of my head, pulling me back into his crotch so I simply opened my mouth and let him push his dick back inside. He was fully erect now and I could feel the wooden firmness of his shaft in my mouth. Still, he couldn't have been more than six inches now that he was full erect so it wasn't much of a challenge so far as taking him all in went. Not like I was going to tell him that though!

Once again I pulled back but this time instead of gabbing with him I used my tongue to lick up and down his shaft, swirling it around the base of his mushroom cock head and then back down along the sensitive underside of his now fully-erect dick. With my other hand, I gently fondled his hairy balls, rolling them tenderly in my hands as I was careful not to be TOO aggressive with them. Then I started pumping my head on his dick as his hips began to thrust himself in and out, keeping in time with me while driving his dick even deeper into my mouth than before.

"Fuck! I love watching you suck my dick," he said hoarsely, his lust beginning to grow and develop more and more within him.

Of course, the LAST thing I wanted at this moment was for him to cum. Heck, it took my dad forever as it was to recover at his age and my uncle was a lot older so I could only imagine what it would take to get him hard again once he'd cum. I'd probably have to wait until the next day!

"So do you still wanna fuck me Uncle Paul?" I teased him. Like I didn't know the answer to THAT one!

He was breathing pretty heavy now but that didn't stop him from getting out a crisp, "Hell yes!". There wasn't all that much room the way we were situated and for a moment I considered suggesting that we move into the house but then I figured, why not do it out here? Heck, I bet he would be masturbating for the rest of his life as he recalled fucking me out in the middle of the driveway with nothing but two car doors hiding us from the neighbors. It wasn't like we were THAT much out in the open. The way the hills ran on the outer side of the driveway was a tall retaining wall so unless our neighbors happen to step out at this moment, nobody else had a line of sight from the direction. Then in back the hill sloped down just as much as it did upward to the front of the house so nobody was going to see anything with a high-power telescope mounted across the valley behind us.

I stood up and turned away from him, then leaned into the car holding myself up on my hands and arms on the car seat, leaving my butt sticking up and out towards him like target. I'd done my part, now it was up to him to take the baton and continue onward.

"God you have the most incredible ass," I heard him gasp as I felt his hands on my all but bare butt.

Granted, I wasn't wearing my sluttiest thing by any means, but even this bottom piece didn't leave a lot to the imagination. He took one hand and I felt him run it up along the inside of my right thigh and then approach my crotch. He reached inside of the crotch my bottoms and pulled them to the side.

Then his fingers were on my pussy and I could feel him groping me, trying to work their way between my wet pussy lips. "Mmmmmmm, I've never felt a shaved pussy before," he murmured, as much to himself as to me.

I knew my mom had barely trimmed her, preferring to keep it as full as she could while maintaining a little modesty in her bikini. If my Aunt Julie was anything like my mom or Aunt Linda, no doubt hers was full and bushy as well, especially since she was a lot older than they were. While porn sites would have you think all women shaved or radically trimmed their pussies these days, I knew that simply wasn't the case, especially among women in the older generations. So I guess it must have been something new and special for my uncle to put his hand on my crotch and feel nothing but smooth skin!

As he groped me I didn't say a word, just wiggled my butt enough to let him know I was enjoying what he was doing to me. He started to rub his finger up and down my pussy slit, trying to find the entrance to my pussy, wetting his finger and me in the process.

Then it was my turn to gasp as his fingertip pressed itself into me, soon to be followed by the rest of his finger. He wiggled it inside of me like a worm on a hook, then pulled it out and slid it up along my pussy lips until he came to my clit. Again I gasped, but much louder this time, as the tip pressed against my clit, making me shiver with pleasure as he rubbed it in little circles around my sensitive bud.

"Oh Uncle Paul, that feels so good!: I whispered to him, not wanting to break the mood as he rubbed me faster.

I could have let him do that all day but he wasn't patient enough, not by a long shot, to just stand there and make me feel good. No, my Uncle Paul had other thoughts on his mind!

Indeed, even as he was playing with my pussy with one hand, the other must have been busy as well because I felt the head of his dick push against my butt and then slide over to my ass crack where he drove it up my crack as he pressed into me until I could feel his pubic hair against my ass. He pulled his hand that was on my crotch out, letting him press in even closer to me. Up and down he slid his hard dick, rubbing it along my ass between my butt cheeks over my bikini bottom.

Evidently he was frustrated with my bottoms being in the way as I heard him grumble something to himself and he back up. Suddenly my bikini bottom slid down my legs as he grabbed them on each side and pulled them unceremoniously to my ankles where I stepped out of them on one side while he left them dangling from my other ankle over my sneaker. The thought occurred to me that should my neighbors come home and look down, they would be getting a pretty good view of my bare butt but fortunately they seemed to be away for the weekend. Not that I would have necessarily cared, mind you, but still I couldn't help but think about it.

"Damn! What a fuckin' great ass!" Uncle Paul sighed as he must have stood there staring at my bottom, now totally bare before him.

He put one hand on each butt cheek, squeezing them as if he was comparing two melons in the grocery store. It felt good - I LOVE my ass to be played with. Now that's NOT to say I like anal sex. There's a huge difference between playing WITH my ass and putting something IN it!! While my asshole may be a one-way street, I've always loved the feel of someone fondling my butt, especially in public. Even with jeans on I like to walk through the mall or go shopping with a boy's hand firmly grabbing my ass, watching the people stare - some getting turned on and other's clucking away at what a slut I was.

Once again I could feel his dick against my bottom, this time running between my ass cheeks without the fabric of my bikini bottom in the way. It felt nice to feel his warm stiff dick sliding between them, his curly pubic hair tickling me slightly when it came in contact. He was really stiff and I knew he wasn't going to wait much longer before he fucked me - and I was right.

"You're really such a slut... aren't you?" he asked rhetorically, not so much ASKING me but TELLING me what he thought of me.

I wondered how many times he'd looked at me while I was growing up and imagined doing just what he was about to do? Had he ever discussed fucking me with my dad? Even if it wasn't about that actual act, but just the idea of doing me? Maybe he'd talked about it with my Uncle Jim? It wasn't hard to imagine two brothers talking about fucking their oldest niece over a beer at night. Had he ever confided to my mother his more lustful desires for me? I caught myself wondering if she'd ever role-played for him, pretending to be her daughter for him?

"Well, why don't you quit teasing me and fuck me then?"

He just chuckled in response to my question. Of course, it wasn't so much as question as an invitation, one he was more than willing to accept - as if he needed one at this point anyway.

"Yeah, you want it, don't you," he growled, "You want my dick in you.. you want it bad. You're such a slut you can't stand having a hard dick around you without it fucking you, can you."

It was more like he was expressing his own fantasies about me than actually asking me anything. Then again, right about now he was right. While I may have been a little guilty of playing with him before, teasing him and acting the way I knew he expected me to, the time for toying around was over though. Yes, I DID want to be fucked and yes, I DID want it bad. REALT BAD. I'm not sure guys always appreciate that girls can want their dicks inside of them just as much, if not more, than the guy wants to get it in her. While I have no idea what it feels like to have a dick protruding from me, enveloped by a girl's wet pussy, I DO know what it feel like to be on the other end of the equation. Enough so that it was the one thing I wanted at this moment, the only thing I could think about, the thing that consumed my thoughts and was driving me crazy. God, I wanted to be fucked! I wished he would just quit yakking and get his dick in me - the sooner and deeper, the better.

While I can't speak for ALL women, I think I do for most when I say that I just LOVE the feeling of a man's stiff dick as it presses against me like a ram trying to break down the gates of a heavily fortified city. It's always seemed so ironic to me that as badly as I might want it in me, my pussy still seems to defend itself, staying tightly closed as if trying to deflect the offending cock that is trying so desperately to violate it. Sometimes it's like I feel I am going crazy when every part of me is crying out to have him in me, yet I'll see him struggling to shove it in me that first time as ,my tight pussy resists him.

Then, it's like magic as either my pussy gives up in the face of overwhelming forces, or maybe it finally gets the message from the rest of my body that the so-called intruder is actually a most welcome guest. Either way, there is that intense feeling of the most insane pleasure that comes at the moment when my pussy relaxes just enough to allow his dick to push its way into me for the first time (at least, the first time this go-around). For just a moment, there is a feeling of pain, like I'm being split apart and there's no way he can possibly fit in me. Considering how many times I've been fucked over the years, you'd think I wouldn't feel that way but in every case, almost without fail, I still do. Then as he slides into me, I can feel him filling me up inside with his dick, feeling the warmth of his dick as it drives into me, stimulating the millions of nerve endings inside of me in a way nothing but a real man's cock can do. Yes... it's like magic!

Uncle Paul was right, I wanted him to fuck me... BAD!

"Stick it in my pussy Uncle Paul," I begged, "Oh fuck me Uncle Paul... fuck me!"

Damn, I just know he had to be dying to fuck me but somehow he managed to restrain himself, to hold himself back, apparently trying to stretch this out moment for as long as possible. I knew that he would always remember this moment, listening to his niece begging him to fuck him, feeling so good about himself as this girl half his age cried out for him to take her as his prize.

Then... FINALLY! His dick was finally trying to get inside of me. Sure enough, the pressure against me was incredible as he tried valiantly to drive it into me, his stiff cock threatening to bend and break under the pressure as he tried to get it in me. True, it would have helped if he had it lined up right but I wasn't about to say anything that might make him think it was due to anything other than my pussy being so tight.

"Holy shit, you're so fuckin' tight," he groaned as I felt him grab his cock and rub it around my pussy hole, wetting the head and making me all the wetter at the same time.

Then my uncle made another go at it, this time hitting the mark perfectly and sure enough, it was like the most incredible thing imaginable - his dick was sliding into me!

"Oh Uncle Paul, Oh yeah... fuck me... I love it in me," I moaned, "Deeper... Deeper in me!"

It took several more thrusts the first time but then he was in all the way. Once again I felt his coarse pubic hair against me but this time his dick wasn't in the way - it was buried inside of me instead. He swiveled his hips, grinding himself into me, as if he was trying to literally screw me with his dick and draw himself in even further.

"Oh fuck, I can't believe how tight you are... god it's been forever since I felt a cunt this tight!"

I'm sure it wasn't hurting any that I was squeezing down on him as much as I could as well. I loved the feel of his dick inside of me. As much as I had enjoyed masturbating with Kristen earlier today, it was nothing compared to me laid by a man. The reason is simple - no women, no dildo, nothing artificial can EVER can substitute for the real deal - a hard, erect cock pressed deep inside of me. You can take the biggest, most throbbing and vibrating dildo ever made and I would trade it I an instant for the smallest dick. I just love a REAL dick in me, what can I say?

Uncle Paul was grunting and groaning now. Anyone listening to a recording of this would think he was working out in the gym rather than screwing his niece. His hands were gripping my bare hips like twin vise-grips, pulling and pushing me in time with his thrusts as he would literally slam into my ass as he drove himself into me and then pull out until just the tip of his dick was in me before reversing course again and driving it into me like a pile driver.

It would have been fun to have tried some other positions but a couple of things prevented us from doing it. First, there was the lack of space. Unless I got out and sat on the hood of the car or something, there weren't many options available under the circumstances. As exhibitionist as I may be, I doubt my uncle could ever be horny enough to be THAT flagrant.

Then, and more importantly, my uncle wasn't going to last long enough to turn this into a gymnastics event anyway. After my blowjob and now him fucking me, fulfilling what must have been quite the ongoing fantasy for him, I was actually pleasantly surprised he hadn't blown yet as it was. Indeed, judging by the sounds he was making, the speed of his strokes and the frantic manner he was now fucking me, I figured he was about ready to cum at any moment. The only remaining question was, where?

Well, I didn't have to ask as he took the initiative. Suddenly he pulled out of me, leaving my pussy feeling empty and still horny as hell. Grabbing me, he pulled me up and twisted me around, pushing me to my knees on the hard concrete driveway. Heck, he could have just told me "assume the position" and I would have gladly done so without all the manhandling!

"Open your mouth... hurry, I'm gonna cum," he instructed me as he stroked his dick in front of my face.

Damn, if he only knew how much I hated this state. Clearly, Uncle Paul had been watching too many porn videos on the internet and was influenced enough by them to believe a girl actually enjoyed watching a man jerk himself off in front of her face. Well HELLO! Whatever happened to the good old days when girl would suck a guy off until he blew his load? Like, I wanted to suck his dick until he came, not watch him masturbate two inches in front of my face! In a way, it was a bit of a turn-off, as if he was telling me the only way he could get off was to jerk himself while I watched.

Oh well, better something than nothing I guess so I opened my mouth like a fish out of water, laying my head back as I waited for him to explode. It wasn't much of a wait as he groaned even louder this time and then I watched the tip of his dick until I saw him ejaculate his first load of cum. It flew up and almost over my head, most likely making my hair a sticky mess. He corrected his trajectory for the next one, hitting my mouth perfectly, shooting his cum in against the back of my throat and on my tongue where it started to form a puddle. As for the rest of it, it seemed to go everywhere, some of it adding to the puddle on my tongue while most of it was my face and neck. I must have looked like a real cum-slut now, my face and head covered with his creamy cum. Most likely exactly the look he was hoping for.

As his last load barely made it to my face, I leaned forward and took his now exhausted dick in my mouth, sucking the last few drops of cum from it. He groaned as my lips caressed his sensitive cock and then practically jumped as my tongue played along the underside of the head.

"Oh shit that feel so good!" he moaned as I bobbed on his rapidly dwindling erection. No doubt it would be hours before it could recover to its former glory, but hey, it had done the job nicely the first time and I wasn't complaining

"Shit, you look like such a fuckin' cum slut," he said, looking down at my cum-covered face as I suckled his now soft dick. "You know, Julie has never let me cum on her face."

Now THAT was interesting... Had he ever done this before with a girl? I was curious if my mom had allowed him but he didn't offer up that information and it made me feel funny to ask him anything my mother under the circumstances. Still, I knew she wasn't a big fan of facials so maybe I was indeed his first, at least when it came to letting him shoot his dick on my face and head.

Uncle Paul quickly pulled his jeans back up and zipped and buckled them. As he did, I turned around and sat bare-bottomed on the car seat. He reached over to where the towels were that I had originally planned to use to dry off my car, grabbing one and hanging it to me. I smiled gratefully and tried to wipe as much of his messy cum off of me as I could.

"Wow, you really gave me a load Uncle Paul," I complimented him, looking at the number of cum stains on the towel.

He grinned proudly at me, not saying anything for the moment. Reaching down, I put my foot back in the bikini bottom and then pulled it up, wiggling it under me as I got it back in place again. As I did, it occurred to me he'd never even seen my bare boobs, let alone touch them under my wet t-shirt. Well, I guess my Uncle Paul wasn't much of a boob guy. Then again, I thought about his remark about his older daughter's boob job and I guess it wasn't such a surprise after all.

"You know Kelly, I'd sorta appreciate it if you didn't tell your dad about all this today," he finally said.

I looked at him curiously, a little puzzled. Then he reminded me that my dad didn't know anything about what he and my mom had done. I thought for a moment and shrugged my shoulders, as if to say, "No matter, who cares?"

"Well, I better get back before Julie sends out the hounds hunting for me," he said, breaking a rather awkward silence, "Hey, thanks... you really ARE a great fuck... better than your mom even."

With that he left, not even hugging me or kissing me. For that matter, he hadn't hugged OR kissed me while we had sex either. It was like he was focused on one thing - his dick's needs. Starting with the BJ and progressing to fucking me, it had all been about attending to his dick and nothing about me except whatever "collateral damage" he could inflict on me in the process.

As he drove off, I couldn't help but compare him to my other uncle. While Uncle Paul wasn't nearly the asshole that my Uncle Jim was, in many ways you could see the similarities between the two brothers. Both thought only of themselves, not doing anything to try and make me feel good other than what just happened to happen. Once they came, it was over with no concern as to whether MY needs had been satisfied. Both liked to cum ON me and not IN me, something I attribute to some domination fantasy many men seem to harbor.

Well, I would do as I promised and not say anything to my dad. I also made a mental vow that this would be the only time my Uncle Paul fucked me. It wasn't like he had anything to hold over me, like my Uncle Jim did. Neither Ginny or Laura would be fucking my dad in this lifetime so Uncle Paul didn't have the leverage to blackmail me into having sex with him.

As I finished drying off my car, I wonder what my Uncle Paul would say if he knew that he was just as much, if not more, of a notch on MY belt as I was on his? From now on, every time he saw me he would remember this day and how good it felt to feel my mouth on him and to feel his dick inside of me. However, whereas if I needed to get laid I had plenty of options, he was pretty much stuck with his wife and all seeing me would do would be to remind him of what he had just once...

...and will never have again. Seems only fair considering the circumstances, wouldn't you agree?

(May 24) Chapter 186: Memorable Memorial Day

Story codes: MF FF oral exhib inc father daughter
  Me (24)
  Kristen - cousin (22)
  John - my dad (44)

Sometimes the best things come about unexpectedly. I'd been anticipating a rather boring Memorial Day weekend which only appeared to get worse when my dad invited me to visit his mother in Illinois. Then he invited my Aunt Linda and her daughter Kristen to join us and that changed everything!

1. Comparing Grandparents

When I compare my grandparents, there couldn't be a more striking contrast. First, they have totally different homes and occupations (at least before they retired). My dad's parents live in a big traditional farmhouse an hour or so north of Pittsburgh. His dad is retired and now rents out the land to other farmers. On my mom's side of the family, her mother lives alone in a small house in Illinois, south of Chicago about thirty miles. My grandfather died back in 1994, barely a memory to me. He was some sort of engineer; I never really understood what he did, while my grandmother has always been a stay-at- home housewife.

My dad's parents are pretty much your stereotypical grandparents. They have always doted on me; some might say spoiled but I wouldn't go that far. My cousin Kristen and I would often go together to visit them and we had all sorts of fun as young girls exploring the barn and other cool buildings and animals on the farm. In fact, the first time we ever masturbated together was in a hayloft. The farm has all sorts of room for larger groups to gather and being it's only an hour or so away my dad's side typical holds its get-togethers there.

One thing important to note about my dad's parents, and most of his side of the family for that matter, is that they have no idea what the three brothers are involved in behind closed doors at home. In fact, most of the family is downright wedding he became possessive and jealous, forcing Aunt Linda to choose between her father and husband. Well, "family" won out, as it should have, but what a terrible choice to force up on someone.

My dad and his younger brother were also doing both sisters in high school (well, Linda wasn't quite yet in high school when they started) and you can imagine my dad's surprise when she one day confided in him that her dad was doing them both as well. Unlike Linda's jerk of a husband, though, my dad didn't have any issues with it. I guess he figured that if anyone else was going to fuck them, better it be their dad than another guy at school!

Sometimes I wonder what might have happened had my Grandpa Bill not died back in 1994. While I'll never know for sure if he would've wanted to fuck his granddaughters or not, I can't imagine he wouldn't have given the opportunity. I was only seven when he died and regardless of what people may think from what I've said, he was NOT a pedophile and he NEVER molested his granddaughters in any way. In my fantasies, I have sometimes wondered what it would have been like to have a three generational get-together. Oh well, maybe someday I'll have a daughter so my dad can expand the bounds of our family traditions.

So what was my Grandma Martha doing all this time? Well, first of all she knew what her husband was doing with her daughters right from the start. It's not exactly something all that easy to hide, even if he had tried. It seemed to become an extension of her "don't ask, don't tell" parenting methodology. While she didn't do anything to stop him, she also never joined in or even watched. So far as I know, she never even discussed incest (or anything about sex for that matter) with her daughters, not even to this day.

A few years ago while I was visiting, she made a few vague references to me and my dad having sex. I can't say I got the feeling she approved of it, more like she was resigned to the idea and so she just ignored what my dad and I did when we were there. We respected her values and didn't flaunt anything in front of her either.

It had been a while since we'd all gone to see my Grandma Martha. It seemed it was either me and my parents or Linda and Kristen, but rarely all of us. Since my mom's funeral, none of us had been back there at all to visit her. In our defense, it WAS a long drive (about ten to eleven hours at least, maybe even more depending on whose foot was on the accelerator. Add in my dad's hectic work schedule and it was simply hard to find the right opportunity to get back there.

2. Traveling to Illinois

With Memorial Day approaching, it was my intention to spend a rather boring weekend at home, maybe getting in some sun on my dad's private deck as the weather forecast sounded great. Probably the LAST thing I ever expected was to be making a road trip! My dad called me from work and announced that he was taking Friday off and that it would be a good opportunity to visit Grandma Martha. It was quite a surprise to me as I couldn't remember the last time he wanted to go there - usually it had been my mom dragging him along. While he appeared to get along with his mother-in-law, somehow I always sensed a little tension between my Grandma Martha and my dad, If I had to guess why, it would be that he had assumed the incest "leadership" role from my grandfather. So far as I know, she NEVER actually came out and said anything, but from her body language and tone, it was obvious she was not comfortable when he and I were in the room together with her, even though we never did anything that warranted a second glance from anyone.

As for me, it is hard to say this but I can't say I was thrilled to be going. Sure, I loved my grandmother and all, but not THAT much and to spend over twenty hours in the SUV traveling back and forth on some toll road between Pittsburgh and the boring suburbs of Chicago wasn't exactly my idea of a fun weekend. After all, you can only pass the time in car masturbating and sleeping for so long! Then I learned that my Aunt Linda and cousin Kristen would be joining us and that changed my entire outlook, as you might well imagine.

At 22, Kristen is two years younger than me and has always been more a younger sister to me than a cousin. Since my Aunt Linda's divorce back was Kristen was a baby, the two of them practically lived at our house. Kristen and I always seemed to do most everything together as we grew up and still do, even though our lives and careers have evolved in vastly different directions. Although we masturbated together maybe a million times growing up, (well, maybe that's a LITTLE exaggeration but it seemed that way sometimes), we never had sex until the summer after my freshman year in college. That was when I learned she and my dad had started doing it while I was away, sort of a surrogate daughter thing I guess for him.

It was also at that time when I learned about my dad's true relationship with my Aunt Linda. I had always known they dated and had sex back in school, but the fact they STILL were having sex wasn't something they'd shared with me until then. If you think THAT was a shock, imagine my surprise when I learned what Aunt Linda and Kristen had been doing since she was just a little girl!

There was one thing I was curious about, though, and that was how the budding relationship between my dad and aunt was going to go over with her mother. Sure, they'd had sex since she was in grade school - even after they both had married, but my dad was always faithful to my mom when it came to his true love. It was now barely seven months since my mom had been taken from us and while I was slowly beginning to accept things, I wasn't so sure how my grandmother would appreciate her younger daughter becoming romantically involved with her older daughter's husband, even now that she was gone. No doubt she suspected they'd been having sex before, but it was one thing for them to have sex and another to be in love. To be perfectly honest, even I was having a bit of an issue with it but I was slowly coming around upon seeing how happy she as making my dad again.

As my dad and I packed the SUV for the trip, I thought again about him and Aunt Linda. Hmmm, now who would be sleeping with who when we were at my grandmother's? The house was pretty small, with only two spare bedrooms, so did that mean he would be with me, and Kristen with her mom... or would it be my dad and aunt in one room, leaving me and Kristen to fend for ourselves in the other? Either scenario was fine with me, I was just afraid that the first one might lead to a little more tension between my dad and grandmother. No doubt she wouldn't say anything no matter which option we went with, but I knew from past experience that her attitude and demeanor could speak volumes!

We left to pick up my Aunt and cousin, stuffing their bags in the back as my dad grumbled something about how we were only going for a couple of days, not weeks, but the three of us girls just ignored his male chauvinistic whining. Sure, maybe HE could get along with just a small bag but a girl has to be prepared for any contingency. Did he really expect me to bring only one dress for church on Sunday? What if the weather changed? Heck, what if I simply changed my mind? Men just don't get it.

Although we hadn't conferred on the subject, Kristen and I had dressed in almost identical outfits. We each had on short cutoff denim shorts with similar tube tops, although hers was black and mine was yellow. When I say the shorts were short, I mean EXTREMELY short, such that our ass-cheeks poked out and there was just a thin strip of denim that pulled up tight in our crotches. You could say they didn't leave much to the imagination. Her tube top was more traditional, a narrow band of ribbed stretch material which emphasized her smaller, but extremely perky boobs. As my boobs were a bit bigger than hers, mine had to be a little wider and included a pair of ties that joined at the center of my cleavage and then tied behind my neck. We each wore sneakers with white anklets. While we didn't LOOK like twins by any stretch of the imagination, we could have passed for sisters pretty easily - and often did

With warm weather being forecasted, my aunt was also wearing shorts, although hers were hemmed, not ragged like ours and came a bit further down her legs, keeping her ass out of sight. Like her sister, my Aunt Linda had GREAT legs. Even at the ripe old age of 41 she still loved to show them off. Her blouse was also less revealing, although I couldn't help but notice she wasn't wearing a bra. Aunt Linda had gotten a boob job a couple of years ago and since then she seemed determined to get her money's worth! Because of some medical issues she didn't get implants but the surgeon took care of the damage that gravity had inflicted over the years, making her boobs about as perky as her daughter's and a full cup size larger to boot.

Then there was my dad. What can I say? Much as I have tried over the years to get him to look a little more stylish, he had once again reverted to the old standby - jeans, a polo shirt and beat-up brown leather deck shoes. God, it was like a nightmarish seventies flashback. Oh well, what can I say? I keep trying and it's not my fault he doesn't seem to care how he looks away from the office. It's funny how he can always look professional and perfect in his suits but once he got home, it was jeans and t-shirts, maybe shorts if it was warm.

As the male figurehead my dad was driving so my aunt took her position in the front passenger seat as his copilot. Kristen and I took our positions in the back seat, me behind my dad while Kristen was behind her mother. My dad turned on the GPS - why I have no idea. It's not like he didn't have the route memorized after decades of traveling back and forth. Men and their toys! The worse thing about it was the little display that said "time to destination". For goodness sake, it was going to take forever as it was and having a count- down just made it seem all the worse, like watching the timer on the microwave when you're starving.

Once we hit the expressway, I knew that it would be a boring ten hours or so before we did anything but drive 70 miles per hour without stopping for anything but gas and to go potty. Kristen and I each had our iPods but still, talk about BORING!

As we drove out past the airport on our way to the Turnpike, the traffic eased and I felt someone poking me. Kristen was grinning and nodding towards the front seat. I looked up and what hell! My Aunt Linda was leaning over, stroking my dad's dick as he drove. Sheesh, it had only been twenty minutes and already they were at it! I can't say it was really that much of a surprise, though. Lately it had been like they had reverted to their high school years, unable to keep their hands off each other.

"Ummmmm, dad..." I said, leaning forward in my seat against the seat belt and tapping on his shoulder, "Do you want me to drive?"

What is that old saying about, "Be careful what you wish for..."? I just meant to tease him, not that I had any desire to drive. I should have known better.

"Hey, that's a great idea Kelly!" he replied, taking a quick exit that just happened to be coming up at that moment.

My Aunt Linda looked back at me and just shook her head, smiling at the same time. At the top of the ramp out in the middle of nowhere, my dad pulled over to the shoulder. Quickly was all changed places, my dad and Linda getting in the back seat while I took the wheel and Kristen sat up front next to me. It had been ages since I drove this monstrosity as normally my dad didn't like me to drive it. Something about the last time I drove him to work and nearly killed us all... another story for another time.

"You too all set back there?" I called out over my shoulder, adjusting the rear-view mirror to allow me to see what was going on.

Dear God, they were at it already! My dad had pulled his jeans down to his ankles as soon as the door was closed and aunt already had a lip-lock on is erect dick.

"Just drive Kelly," my cousin said with a giggle, "I really don't think they're listening."

Driving my dad's monster SUV was like driving a semi-truck compared to my own car but it also gave me a sense of power on the road being bigger than most every other car on the road. I spun the wheel out as I accelerated down the ramp, not use to having so much power at my command. Mmmmmmm, this was cool!

By the time we got to the first tollgate my aunt was still sucking on my dad's dick. She had curled up on the back seat, her butt barely on the edge of the seat as her head was buried in my dad's crotch. She was still fully dressed but I doubted THAT would remain the status quo for long.

Meanwhile, Kristen had her seat back enough to lay on her side it looked like she was asleep with her iPod ear buds blocking out any external noise. Dang, this was even worse than I'd imaged! My dad and Aunt were making out like teenagers in the back seat while my cousin was starting to just barely snore, leaving me to do the driving and watch out for the PA State Assholes who loved to patrol this section of the highway. I set the cruise to 70 miles per hour and settled down for a long winter's nap (if you get my drift).

As much as I tried to concentrate on staying in my lane, it was difficult at times when suddenly I would hear a moan or loud groan coming from behind me. Damn, didn't they care how it made ME feel? Then again, I guess it was no different than what I had done at times to my mom and dad as they drove me and a friend to the lake or whatever. Paybacks are indeed a bitch!

Well, just because I was driving didn't mean I couldn't do SOMETHING. Indeed, back when I was in college and o would make the three hour trip from school in Ohio to home and back, I would often masturbate as I drove. Given how up I sat in the SUV, together with the dark tinted glass, the odds were about zero anyone would even notice, although I have to admit sometimes THAT can be fun, depending on who notices you of course.

Using my knees to steer, I unbuttoned my shorts and then somehow managed to push them off my butt and down my legs to my ankles and then off onto the floor without swerving TOO badly. The cool leather seats felt good against my now bare bottom and for a while I just wiggle against it, enjoying the feel of the smooth coldness against my butt. Now and then I would pass someone or they would pass me and I smiled at them. Imagine if they knew I was bare-ass as they went by!

After a while I put my hand between my legs and started to gently play with my pussy, nothing overly excitable at first, just a finger playing lightly over my bare crotch and between my pussy lips. I licked my finger to wet it and started to touch my clit gently, enjoying the immediate response as it tingled under my touch. Now this wasn't so bad!

I felt a bump against the back of my seat and glanced in the rear view mirror. My dad was kneeling in the space between the seats with his face buried in my Aunt's crotch. She had one leg draped over the back of the seat with the other hanging off the front edge. Her bushy pussy was barely visible now and then as my dad worked his magic on her. My own hand instinctively started to work on my own pussy a little harder as I watched him eat her hairy pussy.

We were almost to Ohio by now and about to get on the Turnpike. Last stop for a LONG time as I approached the toll gates. Fortunately they were automatic and all I had to do was take a card from the machine without having to deal with a nosey toll-booth attendant. Soon I was back on cruise control and my hand quickly resumed its place between my legs.

As for the nymphos in the back seat, they didn't skip a beat as my dad sat back in the seat and my aunt mounted him, facing towards the back of the SUV. She had her shorts off but had kept her top on. It still left me with a nice view of her ass as I watched her ride my dad's dick in the mirror. Damn, it was hard to just watch and not pull over and join them!

A horn blared and another pickup truck drove by me as I must have weaved a little too much into the other lane watching them fucking. The sudden noise woke Kristen and she rubbed her eyes and yawned. She looked at me and I just nodded towards the back seat. One look told her all she needed to know and she just laughed as she laid back in her seat. Yeah, easy for HER to laugh it off, she didn't have to worry about driving in the middle of holiday traffic! Instead, she dropped her shorts and lowered her tube top to expose her boobs, then proceeded to start masturbating herself with her eyes closed and feet up on the dash. Damn, everyone was getting themselves off but me!

Well, I don't mean I wasn't getting ANY attention - my hand was still toying with my crotch but I had to focus on driving AND deal with the debauchery all around me before I could even think about what I was doing for myself. As a result, it was more like I sometimes do when I watch TV or just get bored and start fiddling with myself almost absentmindedly. It was like scratching an itch - only it was a horny itch between my legs that got the attention. Not something that got me off, but at the same time somewhat satisfying.

Kristen, however, was going at it with my more gusto. Although I think overall I am more "addicted" to masturbating than she is, when she sets her mind to it she can really get herself going. Sometimes growing up we would have contests to see who could get herself off the fastest and I would say I won 90% of the time. (I knew her well enough she didn't DARE cheat!) Kristen was one of the girls who used masturbation more as a substitute for getting laid, or more correctly, as a means of addressing her "needs" when she wasn't getting laid enough.

In contrast, I just love masturbating. For me, it's not a substitute for sex but rather something that compliments it. Guys have misunderstood me when I sometimes masturbate right after they have fucked me, thinking they haven't satisfied me. Yet it couldn't be more the opposite. I tried to explain (usually to no avail), that is was like adding chocolate syrup to a bowl of ice cream – a delicious adder than made the main dish even better! The only reason I might masturbate less when I get a steady dose of sex is simply due to time constraints. It's pretty simple – if you're getting laid you can't masturbate!

I glanced over at Kristen and couldn't help but envy her a bit. God she was so cute! She had that perfect little body, perky boobs and delightful smile that made her appear two or three years younger than she really was. It didn't hurt either that she still giggled like a school girl and the dumb blonde routine was no act, trust me. Lately she may have dyed her hair darker, while at the same time mine has gone blonde, but she can never escape her roots (I know, an awful pun, sorry).

There's a good reason my cousin fucked so many of her teachers back in high school – she wanted to graduate! Two years of college were enough to prove she wasn't academic material but then who was I to judge. She was making more in a week on her back now than I will in a month as a school teacher with a diploma!

Kristen had her right hand between her outstretched legs, her feet firmly planted on the dash with her knees wide apart (as they probably are most of the time she is at "work"). Her left hand was massaging her boob, that perfect little breast that I would have given anything to have had. Damn, it didn't sag a bit and her nipple was hard as a rock as she gripped it and pulled at it with her fingers. I knew she loved them to be played with and whatever she wore, you could bet your ass that she made sure they were exposed as much as she could get away with.

Watching her play with her boobs, my own began to get that "itch" as well. While I tended to pay more attention to my pussy, even as a small girl barely into puberty, I still enjoyed having someone touch my boobs and play with them. Though you might not realize it now to look at me, for most of my teen years they weren't all that impressive and it use to kill me to see girls like my best friend Beth filling out their C and then D cups as I was barely in my first A. Mother Nature had a cruel sense of humor when it came to my boobs, making them grow ever so slowly throughout my teen years instead of busting out from the start (OK, another bad pun, so sue me). Admittedly, the boys never complained but still, when I was with someone like Beth it was painfully obvious whose chest got all the stares! Now I'm a healthy 34C and quite proud of the girls! Still, nightmares of being teased in the locker room at school and looking in the mirror, wishing they would just GROW, haunted me which is why I guess my natural instinct is to play with my pussy first.

With the strap circling around my neck, I couldn't drop my tube top to my waist as Kristen had done but rather pulled it higher on my chest, letting my boobs flop out, feeling good to be free at least. Damn, that tube was as bad as wearing a sports bra! My nipples were already responding to the feel of the cold air-conditioning blowing on them from the vents and when I pulled on them with my fingertips I couldn't help but jump a little in my seat from the sensation it created within me. Kristen was ignoring me, her eyes closed as she concentrated on her own hands. In back, my dad was cumming finally, or maybe he just had? Anyway, it looked like they would be settling down for a while finally.

I must have been starting to drift off a little, driving practically in auto- pilot, when I about hit the roof as Kristen suddenly stiffened and a little shriek escaped from her lips. She was cumming, no doubt about it. Her leg muscles stood out prominently as her thighs tensed and she was gasping as if she couldn't breathe. She had both hands between her legs now, one poking fingers inside of her pussy with the other rubbing her clit like she was trying to call out a genie from a lamp.

I could barely hear her whispering to herself, Oh god... oh god... oh god," over and over and over again. Her butt actually lifted up and off the seat as she suspended herself between her feet on the dash and her back against the seat, her hand not moving now but clutching her pussy tightly as she let out a long moan that seemed to go on forever. Damn, I don't know what she was thinking about at the moment but whatever (or whoever) it was must have been REALLY hot!

Finally she dropped down to the seat again, her feet slipping from the ash an falling to the floor mat as she laid back limply, one hand on each boob as she just sighed and breathed heavily. Eventually she opened her eyes and turned her head to me, grinning mischievously as she loved to do whenever she thought she had pulled one over on me.

"How's the driving going for ya Kelly?" Kristen teased me.

The little whore! She knew damn well I'd been watching her get herself off, all the while unable to do anything substantial myself. I just frowned at her and stared ahead at the road, pulling my tube top back down over my boobs. I'm not sure exactly WHY I did that, maybe some sort of silent protest or something silly I guess. Didn't make any more sense to me then than it does now, more perhaps to DO something than just sit there and let her taunt me.

The sign said "Last rest area in Ohio" and I noticed the gas gauge was getting below the half-way mark. Knowing from past trips that gas prices always seemed to go higher the further west we went, I called out that I was going to be pulling over soon to fill it up.

Everyone started to get dressed except me. It was impossible to put on shorts as tight as mine while driving so I would have to wait until we stopped. No matter, I had plenty of room once I didn't have to worry about crashing as I tugged them up and over my butt. By the time I had pulled up to the pump, the rest of them were ready to go. My aunt and cousin headed off for the restrooms, saying they would meet me there when I was ready. My dad stayed to pump the gas - at least he didn't make me do THAT!

Alone in the truck, I reached down to the floor and grabbed my shorts. With the steering wheel in the way it was a little awkward but I got them up and on finally. They were extremely tight and hard to button so I got out of the truck and stood tall, sucking in my stomach as I pulled the two sides together.

"A little tight?" my dad teased, seeing me having problems getting them back together.

"Noooooo, I always swell a little when I sit in the car too long," I came back.

THAT wasn't true, at least not hardly, but I wasn't about to admit I might be gaining any weight! At home I had laid on my back on the bed and pulled them on that way which seemed to work a lot better but eventually I had them done. As I walked to towards the service building where the restrooms were, I noticed the guy in the car ahead of us watching me. Hmmm, had he seen me doing my shorts? I wondered if he realized WHY I was doing them? Then I noticed a woman in the front seat and two little heads in the back. Awwwwww, too bad, just a tourist sightseeing. Oh well, too bad he didn't have a camera!

After we had taken care of our immediate "needs" and grabbed a bite to snack on, we resumed our trip. This time it was back to our original seating arrangements. Apparently the others had addressed their needs for the moment as Kristen resumed listening to her I-Pod and my Aunt Linda just sat in the front seat like normal, chatting with my dad about who knows what. I felt a little left out to be honest. It was still six hours or so to go and here I was, feeling all alone and horny. I turned my head and looked out the window, rubbing my boob through my tube top gently. As people would pass by I would look at them and try to fantasize what type of sex like they had. It was a game sometimes I played with Kristen, better than counting red and blue cars. We would come up with all sorts of crazy scenarios for people which, in all likely hood, were just as normal as any Dick and Jane family might be.

"We're here!"

I jolted awake, apparently having fallen asleep somewhere in the middle of the boring Indiana tundra. Wow, we were finally here! I quickly adjusted myself and ran a brush through my hair. My dad was backing into the driveway where my grandmother was waiting for us. He must have called her on his cell phone as we got close to warn her we were almost there.

At least the first trip was over…

3. Awkward Homecoming

We all got slowly out of the SUV, stretching our muscles that had tightened after hours of non-stop travel. As I got out, I saw my dad hugging my grandmother, followed shortly by my aunt as she kissed and hugged her mom. Then it Kristen and my turn. She stood there with her hands on her hips, looking at us with a critical eye. Then she turned to Aunt Linda and shook her head but didn't say anything. Still the look on her face and the frown she wore may as well have been neon signs saying, "You let your girls dress likes sluts!"

Well, I couldn't argue with her - we WERE dressed like sluts, but it wasn't like any of us cared so why should she? It wasn't like we were doing her any harm. Then she looked at my dad and I could just imagine what she was thinking - "you love it because you fuck them, don't you John?" Of course, such words were never spoken aloud but I could imagine that was the least of what she was thinking. Hmmm, what would she say I she knew what he and her daughter had been doing in the backseat on the way here?

We gathered out suitcases and bags and went into the house, dropping them in the kitchen for moment which avoided the immediate question of which bedroom would go which bags. Although we protested that we weren't hungry, she insisted on fixing sandwiches and drinks. The five of us sat around the kitchen table, trading small talk as my aunt asked how the trip had been for us.

I wondered if she caught the furtive glances that we each exchanged? My grandmother may not SAY a lot about things, but I was warned a long time ago by my mother that she doesn't miss much. Oh well, so long as it didn't create any problems, so what if she saw us? I was starting to think this could be a long weekend if we had to walk on eggshells the whole time!

Eventually the "adults" went into the living room - more like a shrine actually. It smelled funny, like old people I guess you could say. God, did she ever open a window or un the air conditioning? The room was filled with knick-knacks, doll collections, ancient family photos, and all the furniture looked like it was from the fifties - which it probably was! I guess when you live alone with your family all so far away, it's only natural to surround yourself with memories of days gone by. In a way it as sort of sad though. Suddenly I felt a little guilty for all the negative feelings I had about coming here. How would I feel someday if I was left without my husband and my only daughters both lived so far away and hardly ever visited me?

Kristen and I went out in the back yard. Behind the family room was a small deck with a table and chairs. It was nothing like my dad's deck - totally open and you could see the neighbors on each side. A tall tree shaded it most of the day and the was no hot tub either. Still, a cool breeze was blowing and it felt good to at least not be traveling anymore.

"So what do you think?" Kristen suddenly blurted out? I looked at her as if I had no idea what she was talking about - and I didn't.

"You know... my mom and your dad," she said in a low conspiratorial voice as if someone was going to actually hear us, "Think the old lady's gonna have a stroke?"

"Kristen! How could you!" I exclaimed, actually a bit shocked at her insensitivity. What was that about blondes again?

"You know what I mean," she said defensively.

Then she beamed again and leaned over towards me. "Fuck, did you see the look she gave my mom when she first saw us? THAT was priceless, almost as good as when Aunt Sheri gets all pissed off when we visit her."

She was, of course, referring to my aunt on my dad's side, the wife of his younger brother Jim. Aunt Sheri was a loony nut, no doubt about it. She was constantly appalled at how my mom and Aunt Linda allowed Kristen and me to dress, not afraid to call us sluts straight to her face. The only problem, at least for her, was that mom got a kick out of teasing her and if anything, egged us on all the more the nastier she got.

"Well, at least she doesn't SAY anything," I came back. "You know how she is."

Kristen sighed and looked around the empty neighborhood. "God, this place is deserted. It's gonna be a long weekend."

I just nodded. It looked like the old guy that had lived next door for as long as I remembered was gone, judging by the children's toys scattered about. Hmmmmmm, I wonder what had happened to him? Did he finally kick the proverbial bucket or was he in a home or hospital? He had always been really nice to Kristen and I, a piece of candy was waiting for us any time we come over to visit.

On the other side, it looked like the same couple was still living there. If I remembered correctly, their only daughter should be graduating soon, maybe even this year. I couldn't help but notice that they had their pool filled up. It was a round, above-ground number and while it looked inviting, I would have bet most anything that the water was still FREEZING! They had one of those bubble solar covers that heat the water using the sun spread out over it, but still, this early in the year it certainly wasn't going to be TOO warm without a heater (which it I doubted a pool this small would have), no matter what technology was in place.

"Soooooo, where do you think you'll be sleeping tonight?"

My thoughts were broken by Kristen and I shook my head to clear it. I thought for a moment before shaking my head. "I have NO idea... what do you think?"

"Well, unless someone sleeps on the couch, it's going to be interesting no matter what. I mean, your dad had to sleep with SOMEONE, assuming he doesn't get the couch. I figure it won't be me so it's either you or my mom." Kristen got that naughty grin again and continued, "So let's see, either the sister of his past wife or his twenty-something daughter... could be interesting either way."

I had to agree. In the past, when I visited with my parents my mom and dad took one room and I got the third. If Kristen was with us, she shared it with me and my Aunt Linda was there as well, she usually got stuck with the hide-a-bed in the couch (but that only happened once that I could remember).

Of course my grandmother knew my dad fucked me, but we respected her "don't ask, don't tell" policy and never did anything that might make her uncomfortable. Sleeping with me would be crossing the line - making her uncomfortable I am sure., At the same time, sleeping with his sister-in-law wasn't exactly the answer she would be looking for either. It was a bit of a conundrum and I wondered how it would be settled. We were soon to find out...

"Let's get your stuff out of the kitchen and put away, OK girls?" my Aunt Linda called out to us, sticking her head out the family room door that led to the deck.

Actually, by the time we got ourselves in there, my dad had already done most of the work. My heart sank as I realized that the option I had only considered as an academic exercise was the one that was chosen.

"Dad?" was all I said as I saw his suitcase by the couch. Wow, so he had chickened out and given the spare room to my Aunt Linda, leaving Kristen and me together in the third bedroom.

"It's just for this weekend and I don't want to upset your grandmother, OK?" he whispered out of earshot from my grandmother - which was about three feet in most cases given her hearing lately.

So that was how it was going to be - play it straight for grandma. What a pain! Oh well, she probably slept twelve hours a day anyone so I was sure we could work things out in the end.

In the end it really didn't matter all that much the first night. We were all exhausted and to my surprise, my grandmother was quite the night-bird, the last to go to bed. Kristen and I retired to our bedroom where we stripped and fell asleep almost as soon as our heads hit the pillows - at least I did.

4. Enjoying the Weather

While it may have still been May, the weather was gorgeous! Had I been back in Pittsburgh, no doubt I would have been taking full advantage of the warm sunshine to work on that summer tan, laying out on my dad's deck in nothing but the tiniest thong bikini. I know some people like seeing an "all-over" tan on a girl because it implies that she runs around outside nude a lot, but I've always liked just a wee bit of a tan line. Not enough to show when wearing typical outfits and such - that looks silly. I mean such that when I undress, it's almost like those most private areas of my body are highlighted, giving the impression to whoever is looking at me that they are seeing something that is not normally exposed. Seems a lot more erotic to me!

However... I wasn't in Pittsburgh and I didn't have the privacy of my dad's deck available so that left the small deck at the rear entrance to my grandmother's house. It was like the complete opposite of back home - zero privacy to the point you almost had to strike up a conversation with the neighbors when they came out to their car so as not to seem rude. Another major problem was the damn tree. Well, it was nice for shade most of the time, but that same shade pretty much made the deck useless for tanning.

Kristen and I slept in pretty late, not getting up until after ten in the morning when my aunt finally decided it was time for us to be social and have some breakfast. I just threw on a nightshirt and Kristen used what looked to be one of my dad's shirts (when had she gotten that?) and we emerged into the light still rubbing our eyes. It wasn't like we were exposing ourselves or anything, but still I caught a glance between my grandmother and my aunt. It wasn't much, but it as there if you knew what you were looking for.

After breakfast we washed up and put on our bikinis. I would classify mine as my "public tanning" versions. That meant while it covered more than my normal tanning bikini did, making it suitable for wearing to a public pool or beach without having to worry about getting tossed out for indecent exposure! On the other hand, it really wasn't intended to actually SWIM in, or for that matter, even run around wearing as it was pretty flimsy and easily shifted out of place or up my butt crack. It would help to assure that I didn't create TOO much of a tan line yet at the same time, wouldn't embarrass my grandmother if the neighbors saw me, at least so I assumed.

Kristen had on a similar number but while mine was jet black, hers was girly pink. Personally, I thought the black would look better on me once I got a tan but for now, it contrasted sharply with my lighter skin tone. Hmmmmmm, I needed to get some sun!

By now it was well past noon and the bright sun was out, a beautiful warm day. We grabbed a few beach towels and headed out for the lawn, abandoning the deck as there were only small patches of sun that worked through the leaves. The grass was freshly mowed and it actually felt better laying down than the deck would have since my grandmother didn't have any decent cushions.

There was nobody around that we could see but even so, it wasn't like we were on a private deck back home so a little modesty was required. Besides, I think that that a few strategically-placed tan lines are actually sexier than an all- over tan. With an all-over tan, it's obvious you lay out in the nude and the immediate thing that comes to mind is everyone in the world has seen her nude so what's the big deal? With just the smallest of tan lines at my pussy and around my nipples, it's like they highlight something that is "hidden" from view most of the times, like the guy is seeing something that most other guys haven't. Of course, it's all a matter of perception. An all-over tan may have been gained from a completely private location whereas the girl with the tan lines may show plenty of her body, just not in the sunlight, but in the end, perception is what counts, not reality.

With this bikini I had on, keeping it in place completely would have resulted in TOO much of a tan line, such that it might show depending on what clothes I wear. That, of course, is NOT desirable. Visible tan lines when you're supposed to be "decent" just say you wear a conservative bikini. Thus once I was on my back, I loosened the ties and let the strings full to the side, leaving my back bare. My bottoms were pretty narrow in the back - it was the front area that they were covering a larger area, so left it as it was since most of it was between my ass cheeks anyway. Indeed, from a distance I suppose somebody would have to look close to realize I wasn't bare-bottomed.

Kristen, as usual, wasn't quite as concerned about neighborhood decorum. Not only did she loosen up her top, but the bottom as well, leaving her essentially lying nude on her stomach with her bikini underneath her. God she looked hot! I loved the feel of her tight little ass and her long thin legs were shaved smooth and glistened in the warm, sunlight.

"Need some lotion?" Kristen said, looking over at me.

Now if there was ever a clich, line, that had to be it. Almost as bad as "Gee, it's hot in here, isn't it?" Then again, I wasn't complaining.

Kristen sat up, her bikini top hanging from her neck loosely, barely covering her nipples - although for the life of me I didn't understand how it even managed to do that. It was like there was two-sided tape or something keeping it from moving totally off her boobs. Her bottoms feel away but she was kneeling besides me so it wasn't like she was showing off her shaved pussy to anyone. It was ever-so-tempting to reach out between her legs and touch that cute little thing but I just laid there, waiting for the feel of her hands on me.

The suntan oil felt a little cold at first on y sun-warmed skin but it quickly warmed as she spread it all over me. I moved my legs apart to allow her to get between them and she didn't waste the opportunity to reach right up to my crotch where she moved my bikini out of the way and oiled my pussy. I couldn't help but jump a little as her oiled finger easily slid into me.

"Kristen...," I warned her, trying to remind her where we were.

"Oh you can be such a fuddy dud sometimes Kelly," she mocked me, pushing another finger in me as if to prove to me she didn't care WHERE we were at all. "Don't EVEN try to tell me you don't like it."

Well, she had me there. Even though nobody was around, having my cousin fucking my pussy with her slippery fingers DID feel naughty and nice. With her other hand she massaged my butt, rubbing the oil between my ass cheeks and all over me from there.

"God you're such a slut," I sighed, trying to pretend to be exasperated at her continuing efforts.

"Hey, who's the slut here? I'm not the one laying out in public all but naked getting my cunt fingered!" she came back at me.

I guess I could have reminded her that while I may be laying down all but nude, it was her that sitting up all but naked with her boobs clearly showing underneath the all but invisible bikini top. There was also the point that while I may be getting my pussy fingered, whose fingers were doing the fingering? Then again, why bother arguing?

"God that feels good," I moaned softly, closing my eyes as I just laid there enjoying Kristen's touch.

My cousin had one finger in me with another outside, rubbing up and down my pussy slit, hitting my clit each time as she moved her hand in and out of my crotch. The oil made everything so slick, it felt great! I noticed her one had had stopped fondling my ass and I opened my eyes just enough to see what she was doing. Sure enough, she had moved her hand to between her own legs where she was working her own pussy as she did mine. Damn, Kristen was really horny today! OF course, so what was new about that?

"Ohhhhhh, just like that, I sighed as she touched me right where it felt the best. It was like the sun had just gone nova or something as I started to feel hot all over, even inside of me. Kristen was fingering me non-stop, relentlessly pushing me over the edge.

"Oh god... YES!" I moaned as my hips arched upward and into her hand. God, it felt incredible as I came.

Kristen pushed a second finger into me again, fucking me hard with her hand as she giggled. It was like she thought it was funny that she could drive me this would so fast. Well, if there was one girl who knew what it took to set me off, it was my cousin.

As I peeked and then slowly came down from my high, Kristen kept her fingers in me, just holding them inside of me the way a guy would keep his dick in me after cumming inside of me. She laid down next to me, her arm over my thigh as she kept her hand in place.

"You like my fingers in you Kelly?" she whispered to me softly, seductively.

Well duh! Did I really have to answer that? I just sighed and opened my eyes to look into hers, smiling at her as my body tingled all over from the residuals of my orgasm.

"Imagine if Grandma could see us now?" she teased me, giggling again like a little schoolgirl.

"Yeah right, like THAT would go over like a ton of bricks," I sighed, not even able to work up a decent answer as I just laid there and felt her fingers twitching inside of me.

I suppose I would have returned the favor given a little more time to soak in the final few pleasurable moments I was having but it was then I heard a door opening from the house next door. Thankfully Kristen has enough sense to pull her hand from my pussy - as much as I would have loved for her to keep it there. We both laid there on our stomachs, just inches apart, essentially nude although all anyone would have seen looking at us were our bare butts and it's not like there would have been hidden much more had we had our thong bottoms on.

"It's their daughter." Kristen informed me, her head turned to the side so she could see who was coming out of the house. She was blocking my view so unless I picked myself up I had to depend on Kristen to keep me informed.

"Wow, she's certainly grown up," Kristen said in a sultry voice, "She must be what, eighteen now?"

The couple next to us (the ones with the pool) had only one daughter. The last time I had seen her was years ago when she was probably still in grade school. Grandma had mentioned something her graduating this year so I guess that would make her seventeen or eighteen.

"What's she doing?" I asked, curious now as to what was happening.

"She's in her bikini - not bad by the way. Fuckin' hot actually. Looks like she's going swimming."

With my curiosity now overwhelming me, I picked my head up enough to see over Kristen's head. Damn, she wasn't kidding. That little girl next door was HOT! A dark brunette, she wasn't tanned at all yet and was wearing a skimpy white bikini that showed off her body without being TOO revealing. I suppose later when she had more of a tan the white color would make for a nice contrast but for now it only emphasized her pale skin. Not that it looked bad, mind you. She never looked our way once. If she HAD noticed the two of us, she was doing a damn fine job of pretending she hadn't.

Both Kristen and watched (stared may be a better description) as the teenager opened up the gate to the pool, climbed up the steps and started working on removing the solar cover. Both of us sucked in our breath when she leaned over without bending her legs, showing off her incredible ass as the bikini pulled up tight between her butt cheeks. She wasn't wearing a thong but the bottoms she had on still left very little to the imagination. She just pulled the cover to one side, not getting it completely off the pool as it appeared to be rather heavy and cumbersome. Then without further ado she jumped in and for a moment I thought of how cold the water had to be and was waiting for the inevitable gasp; but evidently the solar cover had done a better job than I'd anticipated as not a sound came from the pool.

Instead, what surprised me was to see first the top, then the bottom of her bikini being tossed onto the walkway around the pool. Damn, our sexy neighbor was skinny dipping! You really couldn't see her because the water level was below the walkway and thus unless you were right next to the pool it virtually otherwise impossible to see anything in the water. It was sort of cool in that I hadn't realized before now that even though it was out in the open, the pool was actually quite private so long as you stayed below or just barely on top of the water.

"Do you think she noticed we were out here?" Kristen whispered to me.

I shook my head together with a barely audible grunt that was meant to convey that I didn't think she had, not with the two of us laying on the ground and the manner in which she had walked straight out of the house to the pool without even looking our way. I imagine knowing it was just my grandmother next door, she didn't pay a whole lot of attention to the goings on in her neighbor's back yard. Actually, if I'd been in her place I probably would've done the same. After all, even if someone WAS looking it would be just be an old grandmother who probably would have disapproved of my bikini so why give her the satisfaction of seeing her looking at me that way?

"Hey, what do you say we join her?" Kristen suggested.

I gave it a thought before I answered. After all, it wouldn't be like we would be pursuing some kid as the girl WAS eighteen, or least close to it if not maybe even older. In addition, there was no sign that anyone else was home next door. The garage door was open and there was no car in it or parked on the driveway.

"C'mon! Let's do it!" Kristen urged me as she tied up her bikini and gathered up her towel.

Oh what the heck, why not? I quickly tied and adjusted my bikini, grabbed my own towel, and walked quickly to catch up with her. As we approached the pool I had to wonder how the girl might react to having two strangers suddenly pop in on her while she was swimming naked!

As it turned out, she wasn't SWIMMING naked, but she WAS indeed nude. When we got to the edge of the pool, I could peek through the fencing around it and see that she was lying on her stomach on an air mattress towards the opposite side. Her head was turned to the side, facing away from us, and she was lying there motionless, almost as if she was sleeping. With the blazing hot sun and her pale skin, I hoped that she had on some pretty good SPF sunscreen or she'd be paying for this later!

Kristen, ever the more outward one, didn't hesitate. She climbed the steps and stood at the top, grinning back at me as if pleased with herself that she was the first to be there. Then she turned back to the pool.

"H!" she called out to the girl, "My name's Kristen and this is my cousin Kelly. We're visiting our grandmother next door."

The poor girl must have either been asleep or pretty well out of it as at the sound of Kristen's voice her head popped up and she twisted so quickly that she fell off the air mattress and into the water. Gathering her senses as she stood up in the pool, she quickly got behind the mattress, using it to shield her nudity from whatever intruders were there. Her eyes were about popping out of her head as she looked at Kristen, then me, and back to Kristen again, a picture of uncertainty painted on her face.

"Sorry, didn't mean to scare you, can we join you?" Kristen went on, as if nothing had happened.

The girl just stared at us, as if too frightened to reply. I don't think she still had quite figured out who it was that was violating her privacy. Well, if she was surprised at our entrance, imagine her surprise when Kristen simply stripped off her bikini and jumped in. Figuring that nothing much I did now would make a difference, I quickly undid mine and joined them.

So much for the efficiency of solar covers! Damn the water was COLD! I could feel my nipples instantly harden and goose bumps raised all over me as the initial shock sank in. It wasn't really THAT bad, but colder than I had anticipated so that made it seem worse than it was at first. By the time I'd gathered my wits and cleared the heavily chlorinated water from my burning eyes, I saw Kristen had already made her way over to the air mattress on the opposite side from the girl who was still staring at us, speechless.

"...and this is Kelly my older cousin," Kristen was saying, evidently introducing us. She turned to me and motioned for me to join them "Hey Kelly, get over here. This is Jordan."

I moved in next to Kristen and nodded to Jordan, trying to smile disarmingly. "Hope we didn't scare you too badly," I apologized, "Kristen here can be a bit free-spirited sometimes, in case you haven't already figured that out."

Jordan just smiled half-heartedly, not moving away from the air mattress as if she didn't want us to see her naked body. Kristen, (surprise, surprise), broached the subject immediately.

"This pool is so cool... I bet you skinny dip a lot in it, don't you," she went on, "Do your parents know you do this?"

Jordan looked at her like she couldn't believe Kristen could even THINK that way, let alone ask.

"Oh no! Never!" she said, really the first words she had spoken until now. "I mean, it's not like I do this all the time. Actually, I never do it. I was just feeling... I don't know... like being silly today."

Kristen pushed away from the air mattress, floating on her back with her arms stretched out to her side. Her perky boobs surfaced above the water like two beautiful mountain peaks. Jordan remained still, as if uncertain as to what she should do or say next.

"Like I started to say, you have to forgive Kristen, she's not exactly shy about showing herself off as you can see."

"Well yeah... I see that," Jordan replied, "Guess you're not so shy yourself."

I shrugged, as if it was nothing that unusual. "Well, it's not like we're at a public pool and after all, YOU were the one to get undressed first."

"Yeah BUT I had no idea you two were even around!" she protested. "This is just so weird."

Something told me that Jordan wasn't going to react to the situation the way Kristen had hoped (and to some extent, I have to admit I was fantasizing a bit too about the possibilities).

"Well then Jordan, would you feel better if we all put our bikinis back on?" I asked her. Jordan's face brightened and she looked relieved at my suggestions. She nodded her head vigorously at my suggestion.

Besides being naked with a new girl, I was rather enjoying the way the cool water felt against me now that I had gotten accustomed to it. Oh well, no sense pushing it so I swam over to Kristen and explained the situation. She reacted exactly as I would have predicted - huffed and raised her eyebrows, rolling her eyes and behaving like a general spoiled brat but in the end, she snatched her bikini and reluctantly put it back on as Jordan and myself did the same with ours

"There, this better?" I asked Jordan, who was now sitting on the pool edge with her legs dangling in the water as she adjusted her ample boobs within her bikini top.

She smiled and for the next hour or so we just talked and mostly sat around the pool. Although the water wasn't nearly as cold as it had seemed when I first jumped in, it was still chilly enough to soak in after a while and the hot sun felt so much better anyway. I learned that Jordan was indeed graduating from high school in a couple of weeks (her 18th birthday had been just a couple of days after my 24th birthday) and planning on heading off to college in the fall. She hadn't decided on a major yet but she mentioned that she was interested in teaching, which immediately perked my ears and I told her about my experiences.

Kristen, meantime, was totally bored as Jordan and I did pretty much all the talking. She was squirming around like a kid with ADD but I knew the real problem - she was horny as hell. No doubt she had hoped things would turn out differently with Jordan and now her built up lust was being put on hold and if there was one thing Kristen sorely lacked, it was patience. especially when it came to sex.

Had we been alone I had no doubt that she would be doing herself right now but surprisingly, Kristen was being polite enough to respect our new friend's modesty. Not that she was being an angel - that would have been too much to expect from her at any time. Indeed, she still managed to sneak in a few feels now and then between her legs and she seemed to be having problems getting her boobs to fit in just right in her bikini top from the way she kept reaching in and adjusting them. Jordan seemed pretty naive and so I doubt that she noticed Kristen's signals but I certainly did! Look out - something told me when we got back inside she was going to be utterly insatiable!

Just as I figured it was about time for us to go, a car pulled up the blacktop driveway.

"That's my parents," Jordan declared when she saw who it was.

Sure enough, a black BMW stopped at the end of the driveway, just in front of the garage. Her parents emerged, looking like your typical baby boomer couple.

Hmmmmmm, Jordan's dad wasn't all that bad, maybe a few years younger than my dad. She had mentioned something about him coaching a high school athletic team but I hadn't quite made out which sport it was in - can't say I was listening all that much at the time. Her mom reminded me a lot of my Aunt Linda, wearing a nice set of capris with a loose blouse and sneakers. She had a nice figure and a great set of boobs leaving no doubt where Jordan had inherited her handsome chest from!

"Hi dad!" Jordan called out.

Her mom was already almost in the house as her dad unloaded some bags from the back seat from what looked to have been a trip to the grocery store. He just waved without really looking and then followed her mom into the house. A couple of minutes later he emerged once again and made his way over to the pool. He started to say something to Jordan when I think for the first time he realized she wasn't alone.

"Well hello, I didn't know Jordan was having friends over," he said, his eyes giving me and Kristen a once-over.

I couldn't help by smile to myself as I noticed that he spent a little more time on Kristen, but what else was new? Kristen had that natural-borne "come fuck me" look that always made men melt. I'd become accustomed to the fact that men always paid her the most attention when we were together - not that I was happy about it though.

Jordan explained to her dad who we were and then he seemed to remember us. It wasn't like we visited here all that much and even when we did, it wasn't unusual for us not to even see my grandmother's neighbors so it didn't surprise me that he didn't recall us at first.

"hey dad, hope you don't mind, but the three of us were swimming naked in your pool while you were gone," Kristen announced with a naughty grin.

Well, I thought Jordan was going to melt away into the water! Her face turned red as a beet and she stared at Kristen as if she had just turned over her private diary to her dad.

"Oh really? Is that so" her dad chuckled although he was clearly a little uncomfortable with the "news".

At the same time there was something in his voice and the way he looked at me and Kristen that told me he wouldn't have minded being around back then either.

"Yeah, you see, Jordan was swimming naked so we just joined in... would you like to join us?" Kristen went on.

Oh my, she was in top form today, that was for sure. I had no doubts that she knew exactly what she was doing, teasing the poor guy and embarrassing Jordan along the way. But that was Kristen for you, what can I say? Always pushing the line...

"Ummmmm, I think I'll take a rain-check on that today. Besides, the water must be freezing still, isn't it?"

For a moment I couldn't help but think to myself that he might be better off IN the freezing water as it might help him deal with a growing bulge in his pants. From her angle, Jordan couldn't see her father's involuntary reaction to Kristen's teasing but Kristen and I certainly did. For a slut like Kristen, it was like waving a red cape in front of a horny bull, well so to speak.

"Yeah, it's pretty cold alright. See what it did to me?" she said, acting as though it was an innocent remark but the way she pulled her bikini top tight against her boobs, emphasizing her hardened nipples poking through, was no joke to Jordan's dad!

She was pulling it up by the strings, revealing the start of the swelling of the underside of her boobs in process. If she pulled just a little harder it might pop off entirely!

Well, it was almost a little embarrassing, even for me, at this point. Kristen had never met this guy so far as I knew and she had no idea what he was like or what things he was into. Just because he had a hot daughter didn't mean he was going to react the way Kristen obviously was trying to get him react. Plus, from Jordan's "deer-in-the-headlights" reaction it was obvious there was nothing going on between the two of them, not that I'd expected anything in the first place given the way she was so cautious about showing herself even when her dad wasn't home.

"Honey! I thought you were going to help me put this stuff away?" Jordan's mom called out from the house.

Jordan's dad seemed almost relieved to have an excuse to get away from us - or to be more precise, from Kristen's taunts. He waved a feeble goodbye and went back to the house. Poor guy; I wondered if his wife would notice anything - and if she had any idea why he was behaving as he was? I didn't think she even knew Kristen and I were in the pool, and no doubt her dad would love to keep it that way!

"Well, I guess I'd better go in now," Jordan said apologetically.

Jordan's face was still a bit flushed and no doubt she must have thought the two of us were the worst sluts she'd ever met - and she didn't even really know us yet! Kristen and I said our goodbyes and headed back to my grandmother's house.

"Crap! I'm SO fucking horny I can't stand it!" Kristen gasped as we approached my grandmother's deck, "Mmmmmmm, did you see the arms on her dad - not to mention what was growing below the belt..., I just wish he would've joined us in the pool."

"Good grief Kristen, did you really have to be THAT naughty?" I couldn't help but blurt out in return, "You know, I think you really embarrassed Jordan."

Kristen just grinned at me as we stepped onto the deck, still dripping a little water. "It's what I do," she declared in a firm voice with her arms folded and nose up in the air all melodramatic.

We both cracked up at that and finished drying ourselves off before going into the house. The air-conditioning struck me like a wall of cold air as we stepped in, bringing back the goose bumps once again - not to mention reinvigorating our nipples. As we made our way to the bedroom, our grandma met us as we passed through the kitchen.

"Humph! I certainly hope the neighbors didn't see you two dressed like THAT!" she grumbled.

I could tell that Kristen was about to tell her about Jordan and her dad so I elbowed her in the side. Thankfully, she took the hint and left the subject alone. Sometimes it's better to just not respond or volunteer information unnecessarily.

"God I can't even believe this!" Kristen whined as I shut the door behind us in the bedroom.

In a flash her bikini was off and my cousin flopped naked onto the bed, laying on her back with her knees spread apart and her left hand firmly planted on her horny crotch. "Damn, I need to be FUCKED so bad!"

I had my bikini off by now as well and joined her nude on the bed. As Kristen laid on her back, I nuzzled up to her right side, laying up close next to her with my right leg draped over hers, allowing my still damp pussy to press up against her hip. Without saying another word I ran my hand slowly over her nude body, feeling the silky softness of her skin. When my hand was on her boobs, I squeezed her perky breasts as she gasped with delight.

"Mmmmmmm, that feels good... Damn Kelly, didn't you just want to jump Jordan?" she sighed as she slowly masturbated, "God she was hot... I wonder if she likes girls? Did you find out"

While I hadn't actually come right out and asked, judging from the way Jordan had reacted to us I had my doubts about her being bi-sexual, let alone a lesbian, but why burst Kristen's fantasy bubble at this moment? She was horny, heck, I was horny too, so why not go with it?

"I bet you wanted to taste her sweet pussy... didn't you?" I teased her as I rubbed my hand over her boobs, paying special attention to each nipple.

"Oh god yes... I bet her cunt tastes so good! You wanted her too, didn't you!"

Indeed I did but for now I was more interested in my hot cousin. "Then have her lick you... can you feel Jordan's tongue on you?" I whispered lustfully in her ear.

"Fuck oh fuck me, I wanted her to lick me SO bad!" Kristen moaned as her hand pressed tightly between her smooth legs.

Taking my cue, I moved around the bed until I was in between her legs, lowering my head down as I put my face between her legs. The scent of her pussy was strong and I loved the way it filled my nose.

"Like this?" I asked gently as I started to slowly lick her pussy, running my outstretched tongue between her shaved pussy lips and then sucking on her hardened, ultra-sensitive clit.

"Oh yeah... just like that... just like that... I want to feel her tongue inside of me," Kristen groaned.

Kristen had her own finger still buried in her pussy as my tongue reached down to lick it as she thrust it in and out of her pussy like a miniature dick.

"I bet you'd have loved to have her dad's dick in you while she licked your pussy by the pool... wouldn't you?" I went on, pushing her fantasy along.

"Damn it, you know I wanted it so bad!" she gasped, "tasting her dad's dick after it's been in me... then having him fuck her after me... fucking his hot daughter."

"Oh yes... you'd love that, wouldn't you Kristen? You're such a nasty fucking whore... you'd love to taste his fresh cum as it drains from his daughter's freshly fucked cunt."

Kristen loved it when I talked dirty to her so as I got more turned on myself, my language generally would deteriorate along with it. As a professional whore, Kristen no doubt had heard it all - and then some, but I liked to think it meant something special to her when her older cousin said it.

"Fuck yeah, have him fuck me again after he fucks her... Oh god I want to cum with his dick in me as she licks me!" Kristen cried out softly.

My naughty cousin was writhing with pleasure under me now, her middle finger fucking her pussy as fast she could while I did my utmost to keep my tongue on her moving clit. Kristen's other hand was massaging her boobs as her hips thrust up against my face, her orgasm now starting to come into play.

"Fuck me... oh god fuck me harder... fuck me harder... harder..." she moaned.

I wasn't really sure WHO she was talking to at that moment. Was it me or was it her imaginary neighbor lover - or maybe even his daughter? Whoever it was, she was loving it!

"OH GOD!" she groaned, almost grimacing as she concentrated on the incredible orgasm that had been waiting to emerge all afternoon.

Suddenly her hips lifted almost a foot off the bed, holding it there for just a moment, and then she crashed back on the bed, her legs splayed out and her hands to her side, almost like shed just died!

"Kristen?" I whispered, looking up her torso at her face between her boobs, "You OK?"

"Oh god... I needed that soooooo bad," she groaned, not moving a muscle as she did.

Well, that was all well and good - for HER, but what about me? Like, she wasn't the only girl in the room that was horny as hell. OK, so maybe I wasn't the basket case she'd been but a girl still has needs. Hmmmmmm... where was my dad when I needed him? Kristen was passed out so I wrapped a towel around me and went to find him.

It was just my luck that when I finally did find my dad, he was with Aunt Linda. Then again, I WAS lucky after all as you can probably imagine...

5. Going to Church as a Family

My grandmother always went to church on Sunday - not an issue with me at all since I was raised that way as well and still do whenever possible. I can't say it's because she is particularly religious as I suspect she goes more because of her reputation and community standing than anything else. As such, it was surprising that the church she switched to was the one practically in her backyard. A short walk apparently trumped any denominational concerns she might have had.

I woke up on Sunday morning and for the first time it occurred to me that even though I was with my dad, it didn't look good for our Sunday morning "tradition". It had started years ago, not long after we first started having sex in fact. He would fuck me just as we were ready to go to church, leaving me with a load of his cum fresh and warm as I sat in the pew next to him. besides the residual feelings of my freshly fucked pussy, it always felt just a little bit naughty to be sitting in a church pew in the middle of a service with cum leaking from my pussy - and my father's to boot!

There was something about having sex in church that always turned me on, maybe the taboo nature I suspect. Many times I'd slipped from the service and done it with a boyfriend or even my cousin Rick on occasion in the basement or some out of the way place in the church, returning to the sanctuary with a freshly fucked pussy to tingle away for the remainder of the service.

With just one bathroom in the house, you can imagine how it was for four women to get ready for church! I ended up putting my makeup and doing most of my hair in the bedroom while my aunt in particular hogged the bathroom. It didn't take long to get dressed, just a simple khaki skirt with a white blouse.

For a moment I debated whether to leave the panties at home but the skirt was short enough that if I should sit down somewhere where someone could look straight at me it would be hard not for them to notice so I reluctantly put on a pair. As for a bra, that wasn't negotiable, no matter how conservative the church may be. It was simple too hot out to wear one and I wasn't going to fuss with it just to please some old ladies who might get upset at little nipple protrusion.

Thus I was ready to go maybe a half-hour before the service and stepped out into the family room to find just my dad and Kristen. Apparently my aunt and grandmother were somehow squeezing into the bathroom together now. Pretty tight quarters!

Kristen was wearing a cute little summer jumper, surprisingly conservative for her. She was wearing a bra but I would have been stunned if she had. Her perky boobs didn't sag an inch so it didn't make much difference other than her nipples popped through a bit without one. All the bras I'd seen her wear were for show, not support or modesty.

Although I couldn't see and she wasn't showing me, I assumed she had on a thong, her underwear of choice. Her bare legs were already tanning and looked great without any hose, together with a pair of white heels that had maybe two or three inch heels at most. Anyone seeing her for the first time would have pegged her at most as maybe 18, maybe even younger. When most people find out she is actually 22, it often takes a driver's license to prove otherwise to them!

My dad, as always, was in his suit. As warm as it was supposed to be today, I knew he would never go to church without his coat and tie. He looked pretty sharp as well and my pussy twinged just a little as I was reminded of what I was missing. Actually, our "tradition" was more for him than me. Usually it was the quickest fuck of the week for me as I normally didn't arrive at his house until the last minute so we would just get to it and I worked to get him off as fast as possible so we could get to church on time. I knew it meant a lot for him, especially recently since it seemed the two of us weren't having sex nearly as often as we use to.

Aunt Linda was seeing to his needs pretty well at the moment and so I had stepped aside, knowing he needed this sort of mature relationship if he was going to recover from my mother's untimely death, at least as much as one CAN recover.

As for me, I got laid enough by other guys to where I didn't NEED him to fuck me on Sunday mornings. It was more the pleasure I got from making him happy, and the naughty feelings generated when I sat in church afterwards, that made it desirable for me. Actually, I guess you could say that was primarily why I had sex with my dad period nowadays - to be a good daughter to him and make him happy. Of course I loved it when he would join himself with me, especially when he came inside of me, but I didn't need to have sex with him to know he loved me. So long as he needed me, though, I would always be there to satisfy his needs and desires, in any way I could.

If there is one record I am most proud of, it is that I have NEVER said no to my dad - ever! Of course, it helps when your father loves you and respects you enough to never ask anything of his daughter that he knows she doesn't like or isn't prepared for. Hmmm, I guess it's like a real-life interpretation of a biblical message there - in that God never puts us in a situation we can't bear. Not that my dad is God or I have my theology screwed up, I'm just trying to illustrate a point.

I was about to take a seat and wait with them when my dad got up and whispered something to Kristen. She giggled and then looked at me with that devilish little smile she gets whenever she knows a secret - and I don't.

My dad motioned for me to follow him and headed back to the hallway. I looked at Kristen again who just grinned all the more and then turned to follow my dad. He ducked into his spare bedroom and motioned for me to get inside. The bathroom was just across the hallway, maybe a little bit offset, but still only a few feet away from the bedroom door. No sooner than I was in the room than he closed the door as silently as possible. None of the bedroom doors in the house had locks, something I'd never really thought about before.

My dad took a couple of steps in and turned to face me. Then, with a boyish grin he unzipped his pants and to my surprise, he reached in and pulled out his dick through the zipper opening! Putting his finger to his lips to keep me from saying anything out loud, he pointed to my mouth and then to his dick, as if I needed to be told what he was expecting me to do.

Indeed, with the thin doors and deathly silence, it wouldn't take much to be overheard by anyone who happened to be in the hallway at the time. It made me feel good to know that he recognized I loved and respected him enough as my father that he didn't have to ASK me to suck his dick, all he had to do was tell me and I would do anything he wanted - anything. Of course, such unconditional love and submission was founded on his own love and respect for ME. I knew that he would never ask me to do anything that would degrade me or make me feel bad. It was an outward sign of our mutual love that such a mature and intimate relationship could exist between us.

Reaching down, I hitched up my skirt a little bit to make it easier to kneel and "assumed the position", so to speak. Anyone watching would have recognized immediately what was happening - the girl on her knees in front of guy, grabbing his hardening dick with one hand while she sucks away like a kid with a popsicle on a hot summer day.

"Mmmmmmm," he couldn't help himself from letting out.

I was sure he would have loved to have said a LOT more, but he was fighting his instincts and trying to maintain order. Although I'm sure even if my grandmother should happen to step in that she would have excused herself and pretended not to have seen us, there was no sense in making her any more uncomfortable than necessary.

As soon as he was good and hard, I wasted no time putting my dad's fine erection to work. Standing up once again, I leaned over the edge of the bed and reached back to pull my panties over and to the side, exposing my warm pussy to him with a nice rear view angle. We'd done this so many times that words weren't necessary. He quickly moved in between my legs and rubbed the head of his stiff dick against my smooth butt and then worked his way down until it was positioned right at the entrance to my pussy hole. I was practically shivering with anticipation as I felt it nudging my pussy hole, teasing me a little as he rubbed it against me.

"C'mon daddy... fuck me!" I whispered sharply over my shoulder, trying to pretend I was mad at him for holding back.

He just grinned all the more and then I felt the pressure against me as he pushed his dick against my pussy hole, forcing it to spread open for him and allow his dick to penetrate me.

"Oh yeah...!" he groaned softly as I felt him thrusting himself into me, pushing in a little deeper each time until he was finally buried in my pussy, his coarse pubic hair tickling my ass like a hair brush as he rotated his hips, literally "screwing" me with his dick. I pushed my butt back against him, trying to get him as deep into me as possible.

"Fuck me daddy...fuck me... oh please fuck me more daddy! Show me how much you love me daddy!" I begged him softly, closing my eyes so I could fully concentrate on the intense feelings of pleasure emanating from my crotch as my father drilled me with his incestuous cock.

Holding myself up with one hand, I reached underneath me and rubbed my clit, feeling his wet dick sliding in and out of me against my fingertips. My boobs were rocking back and forth under my blouse, my nipples rubbing up against the texture of the material, making them stiffen which only heightened my pleasure.

"Almost there baby... almost there" he whispered sharply, his thrusts becoming more erratic and sharper, "Don't worry, I'm going to give it all to you."

"Oh yeah... cum in me daddy, give me your love," I pleaded.

Even though I knew without a doubt that he would, for some reason I always felt as if I needed to ask, just in case he might forget that one time. Sure there were times, especially if I was just sucking him off, that he would cum in my mouth, but otherwise I fully expected him to explode INSIDE of me, nowhere else. No matter how many times he already had, it was always special to me, always an honor for me to accept his gift to me, a physical sign of his parental love for his daughter.

"That's it daddy, keep cumming in me!" I exclaiming a little louder this time as I felt his dick explode and shoot its first load inside of me. Oh yes, my daddy was cumming in me! It was an incredible sensation, like nothing else in the world. My father was mating me! My god, how much must he love me to do such a thing?

As good as it felt to feel the warm bloom of heat within me that accompanied his release, it meant so much more to me than just the physical pleasure it gave me. This wasn't just some horny guy getting his rocks off. It wasn't some cheating husband giving me what rightfully belonged to his wife. No this was something only one man in the world could give me - the feeling and knowledge that my father was cumming inside of me.

It made me feel proud that as his daughter, I could create this lust within him, that I could drive him to an orgasm simply by allowing his dick to fuck me. What an incredible compliment it was that he even found me sexy enough to WANT to fuck me in the first place. There was a look in his eyes when he fucked me that I never saw at any other time, not even when he was with my mom. I can only explain that it was a look reserved for one person - his daughter. Just seeing his face and that expression was enough to make me almost melt!

"Stay in me a minute daddy... stay in me," I gasped as his orgasm concluded. I wanted this moment to last forever.

My dad leaned forward, reaching around me and cupping my bosom with his hands as he left his dick inside of me, not moving it at all and just letting me feel the pulsing of his racing heartbeat as it slowly dwindled inside of me.

"I love you Kelly," he whispered in my ear.

As if to emphasize the point, his dick twitched in me, almost as if it had a mind of his own. I was so sensitive inside that the slightest movement of his cock was enough to send shivers up and down my spine! God it felt so good to just be here like this, his fresh cum in me with his dick still inside of me, holding me and grabbing my breasts with his strong hands. We could have stayed joined together like this all night if I had any say in the matter.

Unfortunately, THAT wasn't going to happen as he pulled out of me slowly, as if his dick was reluctant to leave the warm wet home it had been welcomed into. My pussy suddenly felt so... well it felt so EMPTY. Is all I can explain it as. It was like a part of me was missing, as if I was no longer whole. I reached down and felt his slippery cum dripping out of me. Mmmmmmm, it tasted wonderful as I put my cum-covered finger in my mouth. Mixed together with my pussy juices, it mad for quite the pleasant dessert!

"We'd better get going or we'll be late," my dad said as he zipped himself up and straightened up his pants and shirt.

"You people ready to go yet?" my grandmother called out as she suddenly made an appearance.

Although I doubt she would have never admitted it, she HAD to have been listening or how else could she have timed her entrance so well? I had just barely positioned my panties back in place and dropped my skirt when she marched through the room to the outside door, grabbing her purse on a table on the way.

Kristen was waiting on the back porch. I am not going to speculate what she had been doing other than to say she seemed startled by our appearance and was straightening out the bottom of her jumper. Her face looked flushed and I doubted it had anything to do with her makeup!

"Well, did you get yourself off?" I teased her in a low voice as we walked together towards the church. She just elbowed me and gave me a sharp look and then broke into a grin.

"Well, you were hogging you dad so I had to make do," she said with an innocent smile, as if it was the natural response in such a situation. Then again, for her it was! No doubt I'd of been doing the same thing had our roles been reversed.

Aunt Linda caught up to us as we crossed the back end of the yard and entered onto the church property. Sheesh, I'd almost forgotten about her! I guess she must have had to wait until my grandmother had done her thing and was even now trying to put the last touches to her lipstick as we made our way the last few yards to the church rear entrance.

My dad opened the door for us where we were then greeted by the typical couple wearing "Welcome" name tags. As I shook their hands and my grandmother introduced us, I felt my pussy twinge a bit. Damn, it had only been a few minutes since my dad had fucked me and it was a long ways from calming down. I must have jumped more than I thought as the women whose hand I was shaking asked me if I was OK. I just smiled sweetly and told her I was just fine, probably a chill from the air-conditioning.

"Yes, it IS a bit chilly this morning. They always seem to keep the air-conditioning so low here," the woman replied conversationally.

Then I noticed her eyes glancing at my boobs where my nipples were poking through like little headlights. If only she knew WHY - and that it had nothing to do with the air- conditioning. He smile became a little more forced but she kept on as if she hadn't noticed anything.

As we made our way to the sanctuary, I couldn't help but notice we were getting more than our fair share of looks from the guys - of all ages. Between the three of us I guess we made a pretty good sight, especially considering how conservative the majority of these women dressed. Heck, I could have made THREE skirts out of the material most of them had for one!

Kristen wasn't helping matters, doing her "slut walk" where she walked slowly, placing each foot in front of the other, emphasizing her hips just the right amount as she literally glided across the floor. My Aunt Linda was the perfect MILF, attracting the eye of every guy we passed, almost as much as her daughter. I followed closely behind them, letting them run the gauntlet ahead of me.

Once in the sanctuary, my grandmother went in first, followed by my father, then me, Kristen, and finally flanked by Aunt Linda who took the aisle seat. As I sat there reading the order of worship, my eyes glazed over and all I could think about was how good it had felt to be fucked just ten minutes ago by my dad. Damn, my pussy was still on fire! I hadn't cum yet and it was letting me know it in no uncertain terms. Indeed, I was squirming in my seat like an eight year old boy wearing shoes that were too tight.

"Didn't cum, did you?" Kristen whispered in my ear.

The damn tease, she knew how to push my buttons, that was for sure. This time it was my turn to needle her side with my sharp elbow! She deserved every poke!

Damn her! It took every bit of willpower I had not to reach down to my crotch and just put some pressure on my clit, ANYTHING to relieve the incredible itch of horniness between my legs.

The service came and went. I don't remember hardly anything from it. The entire time all I could think about was how bad my pussy wanted to be fucked again, at least TOUCHED! Was that asking too much? Had I been sitting closer to the aisle where it wouldn't have been so obvious, no doubt I would have sneaked out and masturbated in the restroom but I didn't want to make a scene. I crossed my legs and the pressure against my clit made me want to practically cry out with desire. I could feel the wetness and no doubt my panties were soaked in the crotch with my dad's cum by now.

As we filed out and shook the minister's hand, Kristen nudged me again as we left the church and headed back to my grandmother's house.

"You fuckin' slut... did you even hear one word of the sermon?" she teased, "I saw that look on your face, the way you were shifting your legs back and forth – you were dreaming the while time, weren't you?"

We practically ran back to the house, at least as fast as you can run on grass in heels. Straight to the bedroom we went and Kristen closed the door behind us.

"You know, I could smell your horny cunt in church," she growled at me, a nasty smile on her face as she quickly stripped out her clothes. I was getting out of mine just quickly and we both fell onto the bed, nude and horny.

****************

Afterwards, as we lay in the bed together, our sweating bodies pressed up close as she played with my hair and I gently kissed her neck, I couldn't help but think about how lucky I was to be in the family I had. How many girls got to be fucked by their own father in the morning and then have a sexy little cousin all hot and bothered, just waiting to finish her off afterwards?

Mmmmmmm, maybe this trip wasn't such a bad idea after all!

6. The Long Ride Home

It had been a long weekend and we all were tired. This time I wanted my dad that HE would be doing the driving this time. Kristen and I slept almost the entire way back home, most of it with her laying on the back seat with her tanned lithe legs curled up under her and her head resting on my lap.

Once I woke and Kristen was sound asleep. I looked up front and my Aunt Linda her head on a pillow against the window, sound asleep as well. The radio was blaring and my dad was engrossed in some talk show as he cursed every now at some stupid driver. My fingers ran lightly though Kristen's dark hair. I have to say, I preferred her as a blonde, the brunette look seemed to age her a couple of years although it DID make her look more sophisticated.

I stroked my fingertips down along her side, feeling her through the light cotton t-shirt she was wearing. It was pulled up at the waist as a result of how she was positioned, exposing several inches of her midriff, including her cute little belly button. The denim cutoffs she was wearing were allowing about half her ass to hang out a she had her lugs curled up to keep herself on the seat. It was simple too irresistible!

Mmmmmmm, her ass felt so smooth and soft as I played my fingers along the bare skin exposed by her high-cut shorts. I felt the softness of her tanned legs, reaching down along the full length of them, from her butt to her bare feet. She moaned softly in her sleep, shifting her weight slightly. I wondered if she was dreaming about her lover touching her? Was it a boy or a girl? With her, it was hard to know for sure.

Pulling my hand back up again, I worked it under her t-shirt, reaching under I felt the firmness of her beautiful breasts. God, they were perfect! I cupped one in my hand, squeezing her nipple between two fingers, pulling on it gently. They may have been just a B cup, but there wasn't one ounce of silicone in them and they felt so warm and firm in my hand. I must have fallen asleep with my hand cupping her boob as I was startled back to the world of the loving by her stirring under me.

"Getting a good feel?" she teased, at the same time not doing anything to dissuade me.

"As if you don't like it," I teased back, giving her boob and extra squeeze before pulling my hand out from under her t-shirt.

Looking around, I saw we had gotten off the highway and were weaving our ways through the south side of Pittsburgh, almost home. Soon we turned into our driveway and then it was over. Indeed, it had been a memorable memorial weekend!

(May 26) Chapter 187: School Administrator

Story codes: MF oral exhib adultery inc father daughter

Me (24)
John - my dad (44)
Mr. Eisenberg (40)

Life can be like a roller-coaster sometimes, full of climbs and drops, sudden turns and gut-wrenching twists. All my life I'd wanted nothing more than to be a teacher and then it seemed all my hopes and dreams were crushed. When an opportunity arose, who could blame me for comprising my principles so long as it led to me doing what I'd always dreamed of - teaching.

1. Hopes Realized and Crushed

All kids grow up thinking they know what they want to be when they grow up. Little boys imagine becoming a heroic figure, like a fireman, policeman, maybe an astronaut. Little girls dress up as princesses, nurses, teachers, and beauty pageant winners. Sadly, most of them never realize their dreams. I mean, whoever gets in front of their 6th grade class to say they want to be a garbage man, a proctologist or a grocery store clerk? Yet all these people are needed and their jobs are still important, if maybe not so glamorous.

As for me, sure there were the days I dressed up in my mother's old clothes and pretended to be princess. Like every other girl, I watched my share of beauty pageants and imagined it was me standing on the stage at the end with a crown on my head and roses cradled in my arms.

Yet there was only one thing I truly ever dreamed about becoming - a teacher. I can't really explain why, it's just been something that I've always wanted. I guess I admired most of my teachers as I grew up. As I got older and had the opportunity to work with children in various capacities at my church and other volunteer groups, it only strengthened my determination. To see the joy in a child's face when they learn something new is incredible and fulfilling - it simply cannot be forgotten.

Graduating with my teaching degree was one of the highlights of my life. My goal had been to return to my old home school district and teach but it was an extremely competitive job market and the waiting list was incredibly long. As an alumni I was hoping that I might have a bit of an edge, but in talking with some friends that were already teaching there, I realized that nothing would help me more than to get some real-world experience to go along with my freshly minted diploma.

After applying at a number of schools, I was fortunate to find a small Christian school that needed a replacement for their 4-6 grade teacher who had been injured. It was one of the proudest days of my life when I stood before my first class, a real teacher at last. Sure there were days when it was frustrating and I would go home wondering what I'd gotten myself into. Overall, though, it was just as rewarding and satisfying as I'd hoped it would be - maybe even more. I loved the age group I was teaching. As one teacher I knew use to say, "young enough to love their teacher but old enough to tie their shoes".

That may have been true more of the 4th graders than 6th grade, but at least it was a far cry better than the hormonal 8th graders I had when I did my student teaching! Now THEY were a challenge, to say the least. The girls all had the "attitude" going strong while the boys were learning about sex and it seemed they had perpetual erections in class as they constantly tried looking down my blouse or up my skirt. If 8th grade as already that bad, I can only imagine what high school would be like which is why I preferred the younger kids.

At the same time my professional career was taking off, my personal life was going along great as well. Finally I was dating a guy who looked to be "the one" Duane was indeed the love of my life and I could easily see myself accepting his marriage proposal. To make it all the more interesting, I'd been getting reports of him appearing in jewelry shops looking at rings! Marriage, or at least an engagement, seemed imminent. Yes, my life was good... good indeed!

Duane knew a LOT about me, including many of the sexual "adventures" I'd had since my first time at age fourteen. Given we'd met the first time at local BJ party (at least so he and my friends claim, I hated to admit it but I didn't remember his dick in particular), it wasn't like he thought I was some innocent little teenager. In fact, not only did Duane not care that I had a reputation for being a slut, he actually seemed to be proud of me because of it. This was especially true when he got to grin mischievously at the guys I was teasing, not letting them forget that HE was the one I'd be going home to bed with at the end.

As much as Duane THOUGHT he knew about me, the potential problem was that he didn't know EVERYTHING. The inner conflict I was having was when and how to tell him perhaps one of the most important aspects of my life - the incestual relationships between me, my dad and the rest of our family. It's not like it was something that comes up in casual conversation and I didn't exactly advertise it. I never told anyone I was dating as I was afraid that when we broke up he would go out and blab about it to everyone - even if we didn't break up for that matter. As a wide person once said, a secret is no longer a secret if two people know about it.

Although I knew I had to tell Duane about me before we got married, I procrastinated, unsure of how he would react. Now you would THINK it would be just fine with him, especially since it meant he would also be able to have sex with my mom, aunt and cousins (AFTER we got married). Unfortunately, some guys can be strange.

When it comes to jealousy and possessiveness, logic and reason pretty much go out the window when it comes to guys and their girlfriends. All I had to do was look at my Aunt Linda's history. Her husband knew about everything before they got married but even then, once they were married he couldn't deal with his wife having sex with other men, even if it WAS only her father and brother-in-law. Like, they were her family so of course they fucked her, what did he expect? Anyway, he finally forced her to choose between him or her family which left her with only one viable option - divorce. You can't EVER go against your family and it was horrible for him to put her where she had to make such a decision. Thus it was my goal was to be sure THAT didn't happen to me!

Looking back now, my biggest mistake was that rather than commit myself and just tell Duane everything outright, I chickened out and decided to ease into it a little at a time. To start, I let him learn about my Aunt Linda and Kristen first, figuring I would see what his reaction was to another case of mother- daughter sex before telling him about my involvement with my mom and dad. OK, so it turned out to be a bad decision - VERY bad as he broke up with me and tried to ruin my life. Yet in some ways it may have worked out for the best in that at least I learned how he felt BEFORE we got married. Long story short, we broke up and to make things worse, he even said something to the school administrator where I taught, who happened to be a personal friend of his family.

I'll never know exactly what Duane told him, but it was enough for the school administrator to confront me and ask for my resignation using some vague references, enough to scare me without any specifics. Afraid I would make things even worse if I protested, I did as he asked, leaving my kids without so much as a tearful goodbye. Thus in a matter of days I lost the man I thought I would marry AND the career I loved so dearly. Talk about your bad week...

Losing my teaching position left me more than just heartbroken. Was my new teaching career finished before it even got off the ground? Any school that might hire me in the future would surely contact the administrator of any previous institution where I'd taught to ask for a reference. Although my resignation letter didn't give any details, and so far as I knew there were no formal records of any of the accusations that were made against me, so long as he was around my teaching certifications weren't worth the paper they were printed on.

Well, as they say, God works in mysterious ways. I'd assumed the administrator, an older guy but not ancient by any means, would be around for many more years before he retired. Then something unexpected happened; he had a heart attack which left him unable to return to work, forcing him into retirement earlier than he had planned. When I heard the news my emotions were conflicted. Of course I felt bad for him personally, nobody should take joy in the suffering of another human being. Yet at the same time my heart was fluttering as I wondered if it meant an opportunity had just opened for me?

No matter what, until a new administrator was hired I couldn't apply for anything since when someone resigns without notice, as I'd done, it would be difficult for any temporary person to make such a decision to hire someone like me back. One nice thing about private schools, they don't have to go through all the rigmarole that public schools do when hiring someone in such a position. In fact, only a month had passed before I was told by a friend that a new guy was already in place. He was from another private school in the area and well respected, much younger than the previous administrator with a wife and kids in grade school.

It was like being on pins and needles as I anxiously waited a month or so for him to settle into his new position and then finally got the courage to go to his office one day and apply for my old position as I knew they hadn't filled it. Small wonder considering the pay was crap and most teachers can't afford to work for what was virtually minimum wage with very few benefits. In fact, I remembered in my original interview that they had spent as much time talking about my marriage opportunities as my credentials - obviously hoping this would be a 'second job" in the family and I would have a husband's salary and benefits to live on.

2. The First Interview

The sign next to the door said, "Mr. Eisenberg, School Administrator". I stood resolutely in front of it, my heart pounding like a jackhammer and my knees felt so weak I could hardly stand up. His secretary had told me that he was waiting for me so this was it - make or break time. The mere fact he'd even agreed to see me was a positive sign. How much, if anything, had the previous administrator told him about me? So far as I knew, none of the other staff members had a clue as to the real reason I'd left. I'd told them it was a personal matter at home and they were polite enough to leave it at that, even if I could tell they were dying to know the details. Now here I was again, portfolio in hand. Taking a deep breath, I twisted the door knob and walked in like I owned the place.

Mr. Eisneberg was seated behind the old wooden desk - this wasn't exactly a state-of-the art building, not with the miniscule budget they had to operate under. My first impression was he was a handsome, middle-age man, balding slightly at the sides although his hair was still dark. He seemed to be of average build, several inches taller than me even with heels my on as he stood up to greet me and shake my hand. His suit, while not expensive, was clean and hung on him well; off the rack, maybe Macy's or JC Penney. His smile seemed to be genuine and I felt a little bit of my apprehension fade away as he offered me a seat in one of the chairs lined up in front of his desk.

As I sat down and crossed my legs, Mr. Eisenberg's eyes seemed to give me the once-over. As befitting for this type of school, I was dressed quite conservatively, my skirt coming just below my knees but still allowing just a bit of thigh to show when I crossed my legs. I had on an opaque white blouse with a floral vest that was left unbuttoned. Underneath, I was even wearing a matching white bra and white nylon panties, so that should give you some idea how seriously I was taking this interview! I made sure to tug on my skirt just a little to keep it from riding up too high- no need to make any wrong impressions. Schools like these prided themselves on their conservatism and even a hint of impropriety might be enough to lose the job.

At this point I had no idea what Mr. Eisenberg was all about and the last thing I needed was for him to think me some type of slut. The school was EXTREMELY conservative and when I'd taught here I had to buy pretty much an entire new wardrobe! His eyes didn't seem to linger too long at any point so there was nothing to make of it, at least not at this point.

The interview was pretty standard - a review of my college transcripts, board credentials, and home life. Being a private Christian school, I was asked a number of questions no public school would have dared to ask - my testimony regarding my faith in God, my opinions on several political hot button issues such as abortion, and my present marital status - and intentions. He then touched on my resignation and why I was returning. Mr. Eisenberg seemed to accept my vague responses and unspoken plea for privacy, so long as it didn't affect my credibility with regards to teaching at the school.

The entire interview lasted about an hour after which he shook my hand and said he would get back to me. Typical closing words - don't call us, we'll call you. All in all, it was a completely standard interview, nothing much to write home about. Actually, that in itself was encouraging. I knew the school was desperate to hire someone and that applicants with my credentials were scarce, at least when it came to accepting what they had to offer. Unless something came up unexpectedly, I couldn't see how he could afford to pass on me.

3. The Second Interview

Later that week I received a phone call from Mr. Eisenberg's secretary, asking me if I could come in for a follow-up interview. That was a VERY good sign as it most likely meant I was someone they wanted and just had to clear up a few things. It was exciting! All I had to do was endure another hour at most, and the job would be mine... or so I thought.

Entering Mr. Eisenberg's office for the second time was about the same as the first. He greeted me as before, directed me to the same chair, gave me the same look-over and got right to the point.

"So Miss Wells, I've verified your credentials and talked with the staff about you. I was quite impressed - everyone spoke very highly of you."

So far so good but there was something about the look on his face that told me there was a "but" coming...

"But," he said... I knew it!

He paused, leaving me wondering what was coming, "I also called Mr. Wright to discuss your rather unique... shall we say... situation."

My mind was racing a mile a minute now. Mr. Wright was the previous administrator, the asshole that had fired me (or at least made me resign). Oh no, what he had told Mr. Eisenberg about me? Well, it couldn't have been TOO bad or no doubt that I wouldn't have been asked in for a second interview. Yet somehow I couldn't imagine Mr. Wright giving me a glowing reference either, not given the manner we parted ways last year. He had made it pretty clear that as far as he was concerned, I would never teach again!

"You know, Mr. Wright had some every interesting things to say about you Miss Wells... some VERY interesting things I must say."

I could only hope that my face didn't betray the sick feeling that was forming in the pit of my stomach. Oh my god, so the asshole HAD told Mr. Eisenberg about the real reason I'd left. Even worse, I knew Mr. Wright had not told me everything that Duane had told him, leaving me to squirm at the time and using it to hold over my head so I would resign. What all had he told Mr. Eisenberg? Yet if he had, why had I been asked in for a second interview? Was this some sort of sick practical joke, Mr. Wright's evil way at getting back at me for daring to apply now that he had left, his perverted way of showing me his vendetta against me was still on?

"So tell me Miss Wells... just how badly do you want this job?"

Now THAT was an interesting question. Normally, you would think someone would ask why I wanted the job, not to explain "just how bad" I wanted it. It was almost like he was asking me what would I do for it? Now what did THAT mean? My gut tightened further as I imagined what it might be.

"I'm not really sure what you mean Mr. Eisenberg," I stammered, stalling for time to figure out how to react to this unexpected turn of events.

"Oh I think you know Miss Wells... I think girls like you know VERY well what I mean."

Hmmm, "girls like you"? I had a pretty good idea of what he meant by that little slur and it didn't bode well for me, or at least my hopes in securing this position.

Knowing my history, some people might not understand why I was bothered so much by what was happening. After all, I'd never been afraid to use my "assets" before to get a job or most anything else (even negotiating a car price or getting some computer help) but this was different. This was my CAREER. This was something that would be with me for the rest of my life, hopefully at least in that I planned to teach for a long time. How naive I had been to have assumed I could just return to my old job and someone erase the past.

Now what were Mr. Eisenberg's intentions? He certainly didn't seem to be upset with me or angry. If anything, he had this Cheshire Cat smile where his lips were tight together but the corners of his mouth curled up like he was some mischievous boy caught peeking up the skirt of a girl at school. He seemed to be getting some sort of perverted kick out my discomfort. NOT exactly the kind of smile you like to see on the person deciding your career's future.

As for me, I wasn't accustomed to being in this situation. After all, I was the one that was always in control, the one who called the shots. Oh sure, sometimes I might let the guy THINK he was in control, but that was just me allowing him to THINK he was, not that he really was. I has a pretty good idea where he was leading to so the question was how far did he intend to carry this out? After all, he WAS married and he did have his own position to be concerned about. Even a hint of what he had said to me so far could be enough to cost a man his job in this type of unyielding environment.

Well, there was one way to find out without jumping TOO far over the line. Staying seated in the chair, I simply uncrossed and then crossed my legs again, far slower than necessary and this time not tugging my skirt back down again but instead allowing it ride up higher than was "decent", at least so far as THIS school was concerned. It wasn't exactly a Sharon Stone moment, but it would have certainly been enough to get me thrown out on my cute butt with old Mr. Wright!

"Well, it appears we both understand the seriousness of the situation," Mr. Eisenberg said softly, putting his hands together with his fingertips pressed against one another as he leaned forward on his desk on his elbows to get a better look at me.

I twisted sideways in my chair such that the side of me with the most leg showing was easier for him to see. I was rewarded by his eyes shifting to my bare thighs, my ass now barely concealed as I allowed the skirt to ride up even higher.

"Oh yes Miss Wells... I think you DO want the job, don't you?"

I just smiled at him and waited to see where he would go. Was this enough? You never know with some men. Sometimes just a tease is all they want, something to go home and masturbate about as they fantasize about what might have happened under different circumstances. If this was all I had to do to prove my determination - show a little upper leg, then it would be the easiest I'd ever gotten out of such a situation. Well, it WOULD have been the easiest...

"OK, I think you want the job, Miss Wells, but the questions is, how MUCH do you want it?"

Like, I'd been around the proverbial block enough times to know what THAT innuendo meant. OK, if that's how he wanted to play... I smiled demurely at him and slowly started to unbutton my blouse, each button seemingly almost impossible to undo as one by one they finally came loose, exposing a little more of my bra with each. I left the blouse tucked in, allowing it to fall open but now as far it would have had to been loose. Finally I had them all undone down to my skirt, the blouse now opening up just enough to reveal my white bra and plenty of cleavage.

"Hmmmmmm, very nice, Miss Wells... very nice indeed. I see your 'credentials' are indeed flawless."

It was all like a scene from a bad "B" movie or something. Where things might have progressed to I'll never know because just then his intercom buzzed, practically scaring me out of my chair. His secretary announced that his next appointment was waiting. Frowning, he looked at me and then shrugged his shoulders, telling her that he would be done with me shortly.

"I'm sorry Miss Wells, I guess we'll have to finish this interview another time," he apologized.

Indeed, he really DID seem sorry about it and looking at his dress pants as he stood up, I could see why. I quickly buttoned my blouse back up, then stood up and pulled my skirt down below my knees again. All prim and proper once again!

"I'll be in touch with you soon Miss Wells," he said, shaking my hand as if nothing untoward had just happened, "I would suggest that in the mean time you might want to think about how bad you want this job. I might also need as closer look at your 'credentials' next time."

God, where did he get these lines, some B-rated sex movie? I left his office, smiling at the secretary as I departed. We knew each other from when I was there before and she had always been very nice to me. I wondered if she had any idea whatsoever what kind of man she was working for now? Who knows, maybe she had to prove how bad she wanted her job as well? Then again, she was about fifty so I doubted her "credentials" were as good as they use to be.

Back in the parking lot, I sat in my car and let out a long, slow breath. Oh my god, what was I getting myself into? Somehow I'd thought I would leave all the escorting, lingerie modeling, toy demonstrating crap behind me and start my teaching career anew, a new life being all prim and proper. Sure, I'd always had fantasies about being the sexy school teacher and such but that's ALL they were - fantasies. Never in my craziest moments had I ever even imagined ever actually DOING any of the things I may have fantasized about. Yet here I was, not even officially hired and already I was acting like a slut.

In my defense, I was being given little option and it certainly wasn't MY idea, but did that make it OK? Maybe I should just decline the offer to preserve my morals and ethics. It may be common practice and indeed, an expectation to have to strip and what not for an escorting or stripper job, but not to be a teacher! Yet at the same time, when would I have another opportunity like this one? I had loved teaching her before and to come back would be a dream come true.

All I DID know was that despite all the emotional upheavals and uncertainties, my pussy was definitely wet as a result of all this carrying on. Seeing Mr. Eisenberg's eyes fixated on my thighs - and then on my chest, was definitely a turn-on, especially considering WHERE we were at the moment. I'll be the first to admit that I love it when men look at me like that, even when I know I shouldn't be encouraging it. But then, how many girls would say otherwise if they were being honest?

I reached for my purse and keys, thinking about how good it would be to get home where I could strip out of these constricting clothes and masturbate. God I needed to do it so badly right now! In fact, the more I thought about what had happened - and what MIGHT happen in the future, the hotter it made me. Oh my god, I couldn't wait, I had to do something NOW.

I looked all around and noted that the parking lot was deserted. It would be over an hour before school was out so nobody should be coming out for a while. One last look around and then I lifted my skirt up to my waist, then quickly pulled my panties down and over my knees, then over my heels, tossing them on the passenger seat next to me. Just getting those damn things off was such a relief! The warmth of the car seat felt so good on my bare ass as I leaned the seat back about half-way and relaxed.

God it always feels so good when I touch myself! It was times like this when just the slightest touch of my finger was enough to set me off. I gasped as my forefinger traced tight circles around my sensitive clit, teasing myself mercilessly. Reaching lower, I could feel that my pussy was wet and my finger easily slid in, letting my palm rest on my clit as I moved my finger further inside of me. Pulling it out quickly, I put my finger in my mouth and savored the fresh taste of my pussy. God was I ever horny! I had loved the taste of my pussy since the first time I "explored" myself way back when I was younger but it always tasted better when I was horny like I was now.

My free hand held my left breast through my blouse and bra. I needed to get off - and fast, so I didn't bother undressing further. It felt good just to hold my boob, pressing on it and squeezing it just enough to make it tingle. My wet finger was back in my pussy now, soon to be joined by a second as I finger- fucked myself. Oh god... it felt incredible! If only they were a real dick!

"Oh Mr. Eisenberg... fuck me... fuck me hard," I whispered hoarsely as I envisioned myself underneath him as he prepared to violate me with his engorged cock. "Oh yeah, deeper... all the way in me!" I cried out as I felt my orgasm already starting to arise within me. Damn, it was as if my body couldn't wait to get off!

"Oh god, FUCK ME Mr. Eisenberg!" I cried out.

Thankfully there wasn't anyone around as with my windows rolled down it must have been audible for at least a little ways. My orgasm came crashing down on me, hitting me like a semi-truck broad-siding a car at an intersection, a massive, cataclysmic reaction! Damn, that was quick! It hadn't taken hardly anything at all to get me off, but I was so damn horny it didn't surprise me. With my fingers pushed deep in me, I grabbed my hand that was in my pussy with the other, pressing it into me even further. It was like being on the beach, the waves crashing into me one by one as my orgasm swelled and ebbed, then rose yet again. Oh my, it was SO good!

Exhausted but feeling oh so much better, I collapsed in the seat, my hands cupping my hot pussy as I just laid there, trying to catch my breath. It had hardly taken any time at all, but yet I felt like I'd just run a marathon. My face felt like it was burning up and my entire body felt warm and sweaty. Wow, talk about needing it... I hadn't realized just how badly I did.

Just then someone pulled into the parking lot so I straightened up my seat back and pulled my skirt down a bit. I decided to leave my panties off - what was the point in putting them on just to drive home? Besides, it always felt so much better to be bare-ass. It only took me about twenty minutes or so to get back home but by the time I was there, I already had my free hand between my legs, ready to go for it again. Parking the car in my favorite space, it was tempting to do myself again right then and there but with my apartment only a few steps away, why not wait another couple of minutes and do it right?

Less than five minutes layer I was undressed and laying naked on top of my bed, leaning back against a stack of pillows with my knees in the air, feet planted firmly on the bed, legs spread apart like a whore in heat. Indeed, it was an apt description. If Mr. Eisenberg wanted a whore... I would give him one, at least I did in my fantasies as I brought myself to another orgasm - and yet another before I was finally done.

The room was dark when I opened my eyes. Wow, I must have crashed after who knows how long I had been masturbating. Talk about being horny! I giggled a little at myself as usually it was the GUY who fell asleep after sex but then, given how long I'd masturbated and how many times I'd come, I think it as safe to say that I'd earned it. As I got up to take a shower, I started to think again about the day's events - and my reaction to it.

Crap, what had I done? It was bad enough that I'd gone along with the charade and showed off my legs and bra to him; but to masturbate in the parking later - and then for hours after I got home fantasizing more about it? This wasn't how this was supposed to have gone today. Indeed, I had assumed it would be a short interview, a handshake congratulating me and then a triumphant call on the way home to my best friends trumpeting my success. They all knew where I was going this afternoon so now what did I tell them? Not that it would shock them but I had really hoped to impress them with my getting the job WITHOUT being slut.

By the time the shower was over I'd rationalized everything pretty well. Sure Mr. Eisenberg had known about me but he just wanted to tease me a bit before giving me the job. It was probably a favor to the old administrator. The school HAD to fill the position and so far as I knew, I was the only candidate so he HAD to hire me sooner or later. Most likely the next call I would get would be to tell me I had "passed" my final interview and then offer me the job.

Yep, everything was going to be alright... just the way I'd planned.

4. Preparing For My Final "Interview"

It was two days before I got THE phone call. Two days of suspense, second-guessing, and increasing worry. Two days of stalling my prying friends who were anxious to know if I had my old job back or not. Two days of putting off my dad's repeated questions. Two LONG days. Two centuries it seemed.

When it finally DID come, it was a surprise because I didn't recognize the number on the caller ID. All my previous contacts had been from the school secretary and so I had her name and number in my address book. As it turned out, it wasn't the secretary who called me but Mr. Eisenberg himself. That was unusual and the alarms started to go off in my head.

"Hello Miss Wells, I was just calling to see if we could finish your final interview. I apologize for the interruption last time. Things seemed to be going well and I am sure with just a little more time I can make a final determination on your application."

So far... so good.

"With all the interruptions at the school, I thought it might be best to meet somewhere else, if that's OK with you."

Really, what could I say? As if I had any option other to say that is was fine with me.

"Great, how about lunch at the Holiday Inn across from the mall, say Sunday at noon? I hear they have a great brunch on Sundays."

That took me a little by surprise. An interview for a Christian school position on a Sunday? My church services were usually done by 11:30 so that wouldn't be a problem but still...Again, what choice did I have?

"Great, look forward to see in you there - a lot more of you. I hope you've been thinking about what I suggested."

Not exactly subtle, was he?

I hung up the phone and tossed it on my bed. What the heck was I getting myself into now? Under any other circumstances it would have been like a dream come true - meeting a married man at a hotel restaurant, knowing he had the hots for me. But this was different. This wasn't ME making the call. This wasn't ME luring him from his bitchy wife, pushing him and teasing him until his willpower collapsed and he caved in to his more primal desires. This time I was the one being played. He was holding something near and precious to me over my head - my teaching career. Being blackmailed somehow took the eroticism out of the situation. How would I explain this to my father? I sort of doubted that he would be proud of his daughter for getting her new job in this way. Sure, he was proud of me for being a slut, but that was when it came to teasing the guys, not professionally.

The answer was simple - I wouldn't tell him! I normally never kept secrets from my father but this was one time I simply couldn't tell him the truth. When I got the job - and I knew I would, no matter WHAT I may have to do to get it, he would be proud of me and the issue of HOW I got it would probably never come up.

Sunday morning arrived before I knew it and I woke up to the blaring of my alarm clock. Dang it, I had to get going! I only had an hour to get to my dad's if there was going to be time for our "Sunday morning tradition" and I had so much to get ready.

Last night I'd prepared two outfits for today, one for church and one for my "interview". It would have been fun to wear the second one to church as well - a pink mini-dress with plunging cleavage and the tiniest spaghetti straps barely keeping it over my boobs. I loved it especially because it made my boobs look great! It wasn't the shorter dress in my closet but it was one of the shorter ones, just long enough for me to go without panties without having to worry about being arrested for public exposure! Yet as much as I loved it - and I knew my dad did too, it wouldn't have gone over well in church, at least not publicly. I'm sure most of the men, and maybe some of the women, would have appreciated it but odds were I would've been asked to leave before even getting in the sanctuary!

So in addition to the pink dress, I picked out a longer black skirt and white blouse, an outfit similar to the one I'd worn to my last job interview in fact. It was still enough to draw some glares from more than a few of the older ladies in the church, but they didn't bother me considering the appreciative stares I got from the men!

One thing I've always prided myself on and that is the ability to get myself ready quickly. I know so many girls that make it an ordeal to get themselves ready, spending hours in the bathroom doing lord knows what. In just 45 minutes I'd showered, shaved, done my hair and makeup, and was looking in the mirror to check out my dress!

My pussy tingled as I imagined my dad waiting for me. We had been doing this for years now, a quickie before church. The idea was to do it as close to leaving for church as possible, after we had dressed and were about to go. It wasn't a time for extensive petting and such, just a quick fucking with him cumming inside of me. The idea was first, by cumming in me it kept my outfit clean; and second, it also meant that when we sat in the pews I was holding load of his fresh cum inside of me, often times even leaking out a bit! It was what I call true wholesome family fun - a father-daughter thing that we had turned into a sort of tradition and it was a rare Sunday we skipped our brief time together.

Pulling into the driveway, I recognized the car at the bottom of the driveway in front of the garage. Dang it, my Aunt Linda was already here. For that matter, maybe she had spent the night. In recent months she had been spending more and more time with my dad. At first I had been a bit jealous, feeling like it was sort of a betrayal of my mother but I realized that that my dad had needs too. Now with my mom gone I guess it was only natural for him and Aunt Linda to be closer. After all, they had been high school sweethearts at one time and he HAD been fucking her ever since, even if he DID end up marrying her older sister instead of her. Still, Sunday mornings were our special time together and she knew that so why was she here?

I went in through the garage entry and was surprised to see my Aunt standing there waiting for me. She gave me a smile and a hug and then turned to me.

"Now don't worry Kelly, I know what you must be thinking. Yes, I did spend the night but don't worry, I know what this time means to you - and him, so I would never DREAM of getting the way. He's upstairs so go do your thing."

I kissed her on the cheek and headed upstairs. Now THAT hadn't turned out so bad. I checked my watch... dang it, we would have to hurry if we were going to get to church on time! Fortunately, my dad was waiting for me in the foyer, in his suit and all ready for church. So many people dressed causal for church these days but my dad was still as it and tie guy. It was his turn to look at his watch and he shook his head while grinning at me.

"Cutting it a little close, aren't we baby?" he chuckled as he unzipped his pants and pulled out his dick, "You'd better get to work!"

My dad was already semi-erect which pleased me more than he may have known. It was good to know after all these years that my dad could still get an erection in anticipation of fucking me! I quickly got down to my knees, the Oriental floor runner cushioning me as I knelt in front of his dick, almost like I was praying. His dick was soon in my mouth and he groaned as I took all of it in.

"That's my girl... that's my precious daughter... suck your daddy's cock. God you look so beautiful with my dick in your mouth."

I looked up at him and our eyes met as I kept his dick firmly in my mouth. My heart swelled as I saw him looking down at me, watching me suck his dick. He looked so happy and that made me feel so good inside, knowing I was fulfilling my duties as his daughter, pleasing my dad as only a daughter can please her father. Sure, having any girl suck his cock would be good, but I knew it had to be special for him to look down and see his own daughter taking his dick in her mouth.

and respect. Sex is the most perfect way for a father and daughter to be together, the most natural and proper way.

Just as fast as he'd cum, it was over. When he pulled his already dwindling dick out of me it was like there was this empty place inside of me, like something was missing. But I smiled as I felt his incestuous cum draining from me, serving as a memory of what he had just done to me, a physical symbol of a father's love for his daughter.

"We'd better get going or we'll be late for church," he warned me, tucking his still almost soft cock into his pants and zipping them up.

"Dang it daddy, you really came a lot in me!" I exclaimed as I reached down and used my fingers to wipe off some of the cum that had started to run down my inner thigh.

Mmmmmmm, it tasted so good! Actually, I was more than a little surprised he HAD cum so much in me. I would've thought he had fucked Aunt Linda this morning but obviously they didn't do it for some reason. My heart burst as I considered how really sweet it was of the two of them to let him save it all for me!

All ready again, I followed my dad downstairs where Linda was waiting impatiently, arms folded and foot tapping. She looked at her watch melodramatically and shook her head.

"Well, looks like we're going to be late now, I hope it was worth it."

She was just teasing and I knew it. Grinning proudly, I pulled up my skirt and spread my legs, then reached down and used my fingers to get some of the cum that had drained from me as I had made my way downstairs.

"Oh my, don't you think you should wear some panties girl?" she asked me, shaking her head, "You know, you're getting to be as bad as your cousin!"

"Getting?" my dad laughed and we all had to laugh together at that.

We drove separately as I told my dad I had a lunch date after church. He didn't question me as to who it was with - and I didn't volunteer so that went over pretty easily. It WAS the truth after all, just maybe not ALL the truth.

Sitting towards the front of church (our penalty for being late), I could feel his cum draining from me even more. It was tempting to lift my skirt and reach in for another taste but THAT wouldn't have been very smart in the middle of a crowded church, especially with the pastor just a few feet in front of us.

With my skirt being so dark I just had to hope that any wet spots wouldn't show through. Then again, I would be changing as soon as the service was over anyway so who cared? It was hard to concentrate on the service with the sensations of my freshly fucked pussy converging with the anticipation of what might happen after church.

I wondered what the guy sitting next to me in the pew would have thought had he known what was going through my mind - and out my pussy, as we stood next to each other and sang the next hymn. Even better, imagine if he knew WHO'S cum was still draining from me!

Fortunately the service finished on time and I gave my dad and Aunt Linda a kiss goodbye. Rushing to my car, I actually drove back to his house, knowing they would be heading out for dinner before returning. Changing in the car would have been crazy so I just ran inside long enough to slip on my other dress. First, though, I went to the bathroom to clean off my cum-encrusted pussy. All- in-all, I was pretty much a mess and the last thing I thought Mr. Eisenberg would like would be to see my pussy coated with another man's cum! Funny thing is, without actually thinking about it I'd apparently already decided that he would be seeing my pussy! Hmmm, I wonder what else I would be doing before the day was over? I think I had a pretty good idea!

5. How Bad Did I Want the Job?

It was a few minutes after noon when I drove up to the hotel and searched frantically for a parking spot. The "after church" lunch crowd was already there in force and so I ended up way out in back before I finally found a place to squeeze into. Turning off the ignition, as late as I was I sat there for a moment with both hands firmly gripping the steering wheel, eyes closed as I prayed and try to prepare myself for what I assumed was about to happen.

It's funny how the same actions and events can have totally different results, simply because of the circumstances involved. Had I been here to meet some husband from church, perhaps cheating on his wife and anxious to do about anything to spend the afternoon with me, I would have been excited and wet with anticipation. Yet here I was, basically about to do exactly just that, yet somehow I felt more anxious than excited, dirty instead of slutty, resigned versus horny. Definitely NOT excepted and wet.

For a girl who prided herself on being a slut, I certainly wasn't feeling very good about myself now. Maybe it was because this job meant so much to me. I'd dreamed for most of my life of being a teacher, worked hard in school, sacrificed so much to achieve my goal and now, just as I was about to reach it, I found myself having to use my body instead of my credentials to realize my dream. Had it been any other job or position I wouldn't have hesitated a bit to use every "asset" I had - hey, why not use what you got? This was special though, this was about me becoming a teacher based on my credentials and skills, not my looks and sexual skills.

Yet in the end, what option did I have? Sure, I could get all high and mighty and claim I was sticking to my morals. That would mean walking away from this job and waiting for who knows how long before something else opened up. The last thing I wanted was to spend another school year stripping and modeling lingerie while I watched kids going off to school, knowing I wasn't in front of the class teaching them. I mean, like I was 24 now and not getting any younger. It was time to get my career started. Besides, it wasn't like Mr. Eisenberg was all that bad. He WAS pretty good looking and I was sure he would be extremely discreet as he had far more to lose than I did if any of this ever became public knowledge.

I bowed my head, said a final quick prayer, and took a deep breath. Letting it out slowly, I put my head back and opened my eyes, filled with a new determination. If this was what it took, a few hours of letting some pervert have his way with me, then what was the big deal anyway? No matter what happened, by the time I ate supper it would all be over and the job would be mine. If anything, on the bright side I figured my job security would be pretty good considering the "goods" I would have on Mr. Eisenberg after today!

Stepping out of my car, I tried to pull my hem down as my dress had ridded up to my waist as I drove. It was then I noticed a family walking by, the parents with the standard issue two kids, a boy and girl that looked to be in their young teens. I couldn't help but smile as the mother turned the boy's head from me as he must have noticed my brief "flash" as I stepped out of my car. Boy... if looks could kill, hers would have melted me down on the spot! The husband was eyeing me as well so I just grinned at him and clutched my purse as I followed them into the hotel lobby.

The restaurant was off to one side and I was about to head down the hall when I heard someone calling my name. I looked and there seated in the lobby, was Mr. Eisenberg. He was getting to his feet and gesturing for me to come over to him.

"Hello Miss Wells, glad to see you showed up. I wasn't sure after out last interview if you really wanted the position or not."

Yeah right, like there was any doubt. His eyes were running up and down my body, noticeably pausing as he took in my boobs and legs. God, what a perv! But then, a girl doesn't wear a dress like the one I had on unless she WANTS a guy to do just what he was doing! After all, what was the point of dressing like a slut if nobody noticed?

"So shall we go have lunch now?" I suggested, gesturing with my hand towards the restaurant entrance where people were lining up to be seated.

Although I'd never eaten brunch here, I'd heard it was good and judging from the crowd, the rumors were apparently true. We would probably have to wait a half hour or so just to be seated.

"Well... I wanted to talk to you about that," he said slowly, barely audible even though I was right up next to him now. "I'm not so sure it's a good idea for the two of us to be seen together in public - especially dressed the way you are. Not that I don't like it of course. It does a fine job of showing off... your 'credentials', you know what I mean?"

My eyes narrowed at him, as if I was surprised by what he was saying. Sheesh, back to those horrible lines again. Couldn't he say anything without using such tired old crappy cliches? Actually, what WOULD have surprised me the most would have been if we actually DID have lunch in public like this. Odds were SOMEONE would see us and then the gossip would start. I'm sure the last thing he needed was someone asking his wife why he was seeing a new teacher at a Sunday brunch - a teacher wearing the sluttiest dress in the room.

"But I thought we were going to do my final interview?" I asked, pretending to not know where he was going with this. Like, I would have to have been a totally idiot not to know already.

"Well, I just thought we could do it somewhere... more private," he suggested. Then he finally came out with it and said, "I booked a room where we can do your interview without drawing too much attention. Is that OK with you?"

Shrugging, I tried to look as if I had to make a decision but in reality, this was all going exactly the way I'd expected. I mean if you think a guy invites you to a hotel for an interview where you are expected to show "how bad" you want a job just to have a discussion over lunch, then you're too dumb to be teaching!

"Sounds good to me, I'm sure you'll be impressed," I replied with a naughty little smile. It was just enough to let him know I was "in" on his plans, even if he hadn't come right out and stated them.

"Great, let's get going then."

I followed him to the elevators as he looked around to make sure nobody was watching us. For him, the was probably the most "dangerous" moment where someone might see him getting into the elevator with me. It would be awfully hard to explain to his wife, that was for sure! As it was, we entered the elevator alone and he pressed the button for our floor. Neither of us said a word as it took us up and the doors opened again. Mr. Eisenberg led me down the hall to the room, never even looking at me as he opened the door and walked in with me trailing close behind like a puppy dog.

As I stepped inside the room, I could see it was your standard issue Holiday Inn - two double beds, a TV mounted to the dresser with a small round table and two chairs next to it. It was pretty warm and stuffy so he turned on the AC unit under the window. It was pretty loud but I could feel the blast of cool air almost immediately.

Mr. Eisenberg turned and stood there across the room from me, both of us quiet as we waited for the other to make the first move. If there was one thing I was sure of though, HE was going to be the one to initiate anything. It was bad enough I was essentially whoring myself out for a job. The least he could do is leave me with no option so I wouldn't have to wonder forever afterwards if I could've possibly gotten by without doing what I knew I would likely have to do.

"Well, well Miss Wells, so here we are."

I stood there silently, smiling at him to try to put him at ease but otherwise waiting for him to continue.

"I think we both know what this 'interview' is really all about, don't we," he said quietly , more a statement than a question. I just nodded slightly and waited for more.

"I just want you to know I've never done anything like this before," he said, suddenly looking a little unsure of himself.

"So why now then?" I asked softly, "We can stop now... nothing has happened yet."

Mr. Eisenberg sighed and I could see the struggle that was within him. In a way, I could sympathize with him. I'd been in similar situations before where it all seemed so hot and wild to talk about something and even fantasize about it; but when it came to the actual DOING of it, that's when the reality sank in.

"Maybe we should forget about all of this," he said, "I don't know what I was thinking."

Suddenly I felt this surge of anger. Damn him anyway. He'd put me through all this and now he was going to chicken out, I just knew it. Odds were he would then find some excuse not to hire me and then it would be my word against his as to why he'd changed his mind – and who would believe me over him, especially if he revealed anything about why I'd left in the first place.

"How bad do you want the job?"

Yes, that was the question he had left me with in his office and now I was ready to show him. Indeed, I wanted the job and I wanted it BAD – so bad I'd resigned to whoring myself to get it. Now this idiot thought he could just change his mind and back out of the deal? Noooooo, I don't think so.

One thing about this pink dress, it not only didn't hide very much, but it barely stayed on me so when I wanted to take it off, all it took was a quick shake of my upper body to let the straps fall off my shoulders and the whole thing would slip down to the floor. That's exactly what I did now – a little shake and the next thing he knew I was standing there totally naked in front of him. Well, not TOTALLY if you count my jewelry and heels but close enough. His eyes bugged out and his mouth dropped open like a fish out of water before he caught himself and took a deep breath.

"Now Mr. Eisenberg, you told me in your office that you wanted me to prove how much I wanted the position... so what do you think?"

"Miss Well..." he stammered, "please put your dress back on. I'm serious... please stop right now."

"Oh come now Mr. Eisenberg," I purred as I put one bare leg up on the bed and cupped my naked crotch with my hand, "I saw how you looked at me. I bet you've been dreaming all week of seeing me like this, haven't you?"

It was like he was frozen place, unable to move. I knew his brain was telling him to leave the room, FAST, before he did something he could never undo. At the same time, I saw the unmistakable signs of an erection starting to form under his suit pants and I knew what was happening. It was a classic struggle between the big head and little head. I knew well that as the little head grew in size and strength, it would soon overwhelm the big head.

It was like I was a mercenary supplying arms to the resistance. All I had to do was help his dick gain control and he would be mine. It was just too easy, like shooting fish in a barrel as I knew exactly what to do.

"My pussy's so hot right now... it's soooooo wet," I teased him naughtily, "It wants YOU Mr. Eisenberg... don't you want it?"

Oh he wanted it, that was obvious. Like what man wouldn't want a 24 year-old pussy as the girl played with herself in front of him? From the family pictures I'd seen in his office, it wasn't like his wife was all that frumpy, but I bet she'd never looked like I did right now and odds were she never masturbated in front of him either - as I started to do for him.

"Mmmmmmm, it's so wet Mr. Eisenberg, I've been thinking all week about you... about you and me... about you fucking me."

He visibly winced when I said "fucking me", as if I'd exposed his secret desires. I WAS wet - and getting wetter by the minute, but it wasn't so much my finger that I now had pressed inside my pussy that was turning me on.. it was his eyes fixated on my bare crotch as I did it that had me going. Oh yeah, he wanted me... he wanted me bad. It was time to get him involved a little more...

Putting my leg back down, I put my finger that had been in m pussy up to my mouth and licked my pussy wetness from it before putting it in my mouth and sucking off the rest. He looked so turned on and I knew he was ready for the next thing I had in mind for him. Moving up close to him, I reached down and started unbuckling his belt. His hands instantly went over mine, trying to stop me with a half-hearted effort.

"This has to stop now Miss Wells... now!" he burst out.

The fervor of his words weren't exactly matched by the strength in his hands. As big as he was compared to me, he could have easily stopped me had he REALLY wanted to but instead I was able to push him aside and soon his belt was undone. Next was the button and the zipper as his hands hung limply to his side, making no further effort to stop me. I pulled his pants down, together with his white jockey shorts, to his ankles. His dick was maybe half to three-quarters erect by now and it stuck out past the tails of his dress shirt, the head poking out like a gopher checking out the area before emerging from his hole.

I kneeled in front of him and grabbed his dick with my hand. Mmmmmmm, it felt so warm! He wasn't exactly steel rod hard yet but the promise of near-future stiffness was definitely there. I looked up at him and our eyes met.

"You asked me how much I wanted the job Mr. Eisenberg," I told him in a husky whisper, "Now I'm going to show you... and then you're going to give me the job."

He looked like he wanted to say something, maybe protest a little but it was too late for him now, he was mine My hand on his dick may as well have been around his neck. He knew I was about to suck his dick and at this moment there was nothing more in the world that he wanted other than to feel my lips caressing his cock, my tongue playing over his shaft as I took his stiff cock in my mouth.

"Oh my god," he whimpered, almost choking on his words as I took his dick in my mouth and began to work on it with my lips and tongue, "That feels incredible... so good."

His words were like music to my ears. If there's one thing I love to do, it's suck dick and to hear a man tell me how much he enjoys it, how good I am at sucking him... well who doesn't like to be complimented on their skills? Actually, he seemed even more appreciative than I would have expected this early on and suddenly a thought struck me!

"Doesn't your wife suck your dick Mr. Eisenberg?" I asked, stroking his now wet dick as I looked up at him quizzically.

"Hell no, she never has... she says oral sex is dirty, sinful," he gasped. His hips were making little mini-thrusts, as if he was trying to hint at me to take it back in my mouth again.

"So you've NEVER had a BJ before?" I asked in incredulously. He just shook his head as if he was too embarrassed to answer. Wow, a BJ virgin! Now this I hadn't expected.

Back to his dick I went with a renewed determination to make his first blowjob a memorable one - as if it wouldn't be no matter HOW I sucked him. It amazed me in this day and age that a man his age had never had his dick sucked, not even as a teenager. Like, there are so many different parties these days where girls do BJs for fun that I don't see how any boy can NOT get blown if he really wants it.

Although Mr. Eisenberg wasn't THAT old, I wasn't sure what his recovery time would be so I didn't want him to cum after just a BJ. Yet at the same time, I wanted him to enjoy it as much as possible. I wanted him to see what a good BJ I could give. Who knows, maybe someday he might get another and I didn't want him to think it was better than mine!

His dick was full grown now, as stiff as it was going to get. His crotch had this thick musky odor that a man gets when he is really horny and turned on. My hand cupped his hairy balls, softly rolling them between my fingers as my other hand rubbed my pussy. I always loved to touch myself while I blew a cock - like getting a "two-fer".

As I said, as much as I enjoyed sucking his dick, I didn't want to spend all afternoon waiting for it to get hard again so I stopped short of him cumming. When I dropped his dick out of my mouth and stood up, he seemed almost heart- broken as no doubt he had been imagining himself cumming in my mouth. Well, not today - at least not yet. His sadness melted, though, when he heard my next words.

"So your wife hates oral sex, huh?"

He just nodded with a frown on his face.

"So you've never tasted a pussy before?"

"Well, not directly," he stuttered. I figured that meant he must have tasted it on his fingers or something like that after he'd touched her pussy.

"Didn't any of the other girls you dated suck your dick?"

My wife and I saved ourselves for marriage," he replied, a note of pride seeping into his voice.

Why people felt proud about foregoing sex before marriage was beyond me but hey, it that's what he wanted then I respected him for it. Still, that meant I was only the second girl he'd had sex with! Cool!

"Well, I want you to lick my pussy now Mr. Eisenberg," I said in a soft but demanding tone, "I want to feel your tongue on my hot wet cunt."

Much as I usually steer away from the "c" word, it seemed to turn him on for me to be a little more "dirty" for him. No doubt his wife never even called hers a pussy in front of him, let alone a cunt.

He didn't say a word as I stepped back to the bed. I pulled off the comforter (who knows WHAT I son those filthy things!) and laid back against the pillows, lifting my knees so my feet were flat on the bed with my feet spread far apart do my pussy was on full display for him. He just stood at the edge of the bed, staring at me as I started to play with myself again for him.

"You like my little pussy Mr. Eisenberg?" I asked him in my best "little girl" voice. "I bet it's tighter than your wife's. Does she shave her pussy like mine?"

He didn't answer, instead he just watched as I used both hand to touch myself, opening my pussy, spreading my lips apart as I toyed with my clit and used two fingers inside of me to masturbate for him. God, I was so damn horny by now! Really, I would've much rather he just got down and fucked me now instead of an amateurish pussy licking but then whole point of doing all this was to demonstrate to him how bad I wanted the job, not my own personal satisfaction. Hopefully he liked the look of my "credentials"!

"Lick my cunt Mr. Eisenberg," I invited him. Mmmmmmm, I was so close to having my own orgasm by now that it wouldn't take much to set me off now - even a first- timer would be enough. Now if he would just hurry and get to it!

Mr. Eisenberg was still half-dressed so first he took off his shoes and socks, followed by his blue tie, white dress shirt and white cotton t-shirt. Now he was nude and I have to say, not bad looking... not bad at all! The thing that most interested me, his dick, was still ramrod hard as it pointed upward without any assistance. God was he horny as well! Working his way onto the bed, Mr. Eisenberg got between my legs and laid down on his elbows with his lower legs and feet hanging off the end of the bed. He started to caress my inner thighs, a part of me that LOVES to be softly touched!

"You have the most sensational legs Miss Wells," he complimented me.

By now I'd had enough of this "Miss Wells" thing so I corrected him, telling him to call me Kelly.

"That's my wife's name - Miss Kelly," he explained, his eyes suddenly looking up as if he was worried something would come down from heaven and strike him down.

Ahhhhhh... so THAT was why he kept calling me that. It was one thing to have sex with another women for the first time, but to have it with a girl whose name was the same as his wife's was undoubtedly a little weird for him. Well, at least he didn't have to worry about calling out my name should he fantasize about me the next time he and his wife had sex! Guess it also made it easy for him to keep track of the names of the girls he had fucked.

Without further discussion, he lowered his head to my crotch and tentatively reached out with his tongue to touch my pussy. Fortunately, he manage to hit my hyper-sensitive clit dead-on the first time, making me jump just a little as it sent out a jolt of electricity throughout my body.

"Ohhhhhh," I moaned, no pretending required. Indeed, there is nothing better on my clit than a warm wet tongue.

As it turned out, he really wasn't all that bad at licking me, especially considering he'd never done it before. Of course, it didn't hurt that I'd worked myself up so well ahead of time that he could've done just about anything and I would've gotten off. Indeed, when he had his tongue just inside of my pussy, his nose pressed against my clit, I DID have my first orgasm of the afternoon. My hips thrust up against this face as I wrapped my legs around his head, pulling him into me, not wanting his tongue to stop touching me.

"Oh fuck I'm cumming Mr. Eisenberg," I panted, barely able to say the words as my orgasm overwhelmed me, "You're making me cum so good! You make me feel so good!"

God... I wanted him to fuck me. Heck, I NEEDED him to fuck me.

My orgasm was slowly dwindling but I couldn't wait any longer. It was no longer a question of "demonstrating how much I wanted the job" or proving my "credentials" or any of that crap. It had nothing to do with his sweet wife sitting at home, unaware of her husband's adulterous acts with me. No, this was for ME. It was like I felt I would just die if his dick wasn't in me - and in me as fast as possible. My pussy was almost cramping with the anticipation of a warm dick inside and all I knew was I desperate to feel him fuck me, fuck me hard and then cum inside of me.

"Fuck me Mr. Eisenberg!" I begged him.

There was nothing fake about it, nothing for a show, nothing to get him off. It was all me wanting it now.

"PLEASE fuck me," I pleaded, wanting him in me so badly.

God, why wouldn't he fuck me?

Finally he mounted me missionary style, probably the only position he'd ever fucked his wife. His face was wet with my pussy cum and his eyes had that look of lust that appears when a man is at that state where the only option is sex. Indeed, he didn't hesitate for even a second. Not for a moment did he question what he was doing, the seriousness of the act he was about to commit.

If it bothered the jerk to commit adultery for the first time in his life, you would have been hard-pressed to know it. At this moment, I imagined about the last thing on his mind was the other Kelly in his life, his wife and life-partner. His vows to her were forgotten. Mmmmmmm, I knew at this moment he wanted to fuck ME - and only ME.

"That's it, put it in me," I gasped as I felt the head of his dick trying to find its place at the entrance to my pussy.

Once he was there I knew all it would take was one big push from him and he would be in me, fucking me like he'd never fucked another girl before. He fumbled with his dick, obviously nervous and anxious at the same time, unwittingly driving me insane as my pussy craved the feeling of his cock. Damn, find it for god's sake! It's not like I was all dry and shrunken and hard to fuck. My pussy was soaking wet and ready, as ready as it ever would be. Fuck! Would he EVER fuck me?

FINALLY!

I felt the tip of his dick slip barely into me, the mere suggestion of his cock at the entrance to my slutty pussy enough to practically make me cum again. What the hell was taking him so damn long? Surely he wanted to fuck me as bad I wanted him too. Why didn't he just fuck me and get it over with? Any thoughts of why I was there vanished, any feelings of guilt or remorse had long since evaporated. The truth of the matter was that I didn't give a damn about him anymore at this point. All I could think about, all my mind could comprehend, was the feeling of that cock just barely in ME, about ME wanting it all the way, all the way inside of ME. Damn I needed to be fucked SO bad! Fuck ME damn it!

"OH YES!" I cried out as without warning his dick suddenly rammed it's way deep inside of my cunt.

Once he finally had it right he simply grunted as he pushed hard and forced his wonderfully hard dick all the way into me in one fast movement. Mmmmmmm, it felt SO much better to feel him in me, like I was now complete, like a missing part of me was had returned and taken its rightful place. The prodigal son had returned and my pussy was putting on a party for him to celebrate!

"Damn, you're so fucking tight!" he whispered between heavy breaths as he started to pump me like an oil rig.

Now that was music to any girl's ears! I may not be sixteen anymore and more than a few dicks had pummeled by pussy over the years, but I'm still tighter than most girls years younger than me (or so I'm told) and I knew I HAD to be a hell of a lot tighter than his wife after the kids.

"That's it Mr. Eisenberg, faster... fuck me faster... oh fuck me harder!" I moaned over and over as he rocked back and forth over me.

My boobs were bouncing up and down as he literally shoved me backwards against the pillows with each pounding thrust, then backing out of me slowly only to be followed by another rapid thrust, driving his dick rapidly up inside of me. Then he would hold himself there, buried to the hilt for a few sensational seconds, his pubic hair mashed against my bare pussy, just throbbing inside of me. Then without a word, he drew it back slowly again, like an archer drawing back an arrow on his bow, only to thrust it wildly into me yet again like the archer releasing his arrow.

I was cumming again... oh my god was I cumming again! It was like the first time had been just a warm-up, just a preview of things yet to cum as my orgasm swelled within me. My exploding pussy clamped down on his dick like a vise, gripping him and holding him inside of me, never wanting to release him.

"OH I'M CUMMING!" I cried even louder this time. Fortunately it was just after lunch and odds were nobody was in the rooms next to us. Even if they had been, so what? Why else would anyone be locked away in a hotel room on a day like today other than to have sex?

My legs wrapped around his ass as I tried to pull him even deeper into me. My boobs felt like they were about to explode with pleasure as my orgasm ebbed and flowed, like waves in a tidal pool swishing back and forth over every inch of my body. It had been a while since I'd cum this hard and I wanted to enjoy every second of it. He was just holding himself still over me, letting my pussy grip his cock and gush over it, listening to me babble to him about how good it felt and how bad I wanted him to keep fucking me. He was about to start pumping me again when I had another idea instead.

"Over..." was all I said, more of a grunt but as I twisted my body he seemed to get the idea.

He laid down tight against me and we rolled as one, barely avoiding falling off the edge of the double bed in the process but once he was on the bottom he scooted over towards the center again, leaving me perched on his dick like a marshmallow on a stick. I was on top now with his dick still in me - nice move considering I doubted he'd ever done that maneuver before.

"You wife ever ride you like this?" I panted, the final throes of my orgasm still pulsing in me as I put my hands on his chest as I rose up on my knees, keeping his dick barely in me.

"Never... only one way with her," he managed to finally get out, trying to catch his breath.

I started to pump my ass up and down on his cock, not really bobbing up and down with my entire body but doing 90% of the work with just my hips and butt, like a hula dancer doing her thing while mounted on his dick. I loved the control, to be the one to determine how fast he went in and out, how deep he fucked me, everything about it. Sometimes I would just sit down on his crotch, putting my full weight down on my pussy, pushing him as deep up in me as I could. I looked down between my legs and smiled as all that was visible of his dick was a patch of his curly pubic hair between him and me, the rest of him had disappeared deep in me - as if that wonderful feeling I get when a man is in me didn't already tell me.

He seemed to be enjoying it as much as me. First he had his hands on my bare hips, helping me to rise up and down on his dick and then he moved to my boobs as I leaned forward just a bit to make it easier for him or grasp them. I lowered myself further until my nipples were in his face and he hungrily sucked on one and then the other like he was starving to eat them. Mmmmmmm, it felt so good to feel him suck hard on my sensitive nipples as I wiggled my ass around his cock!

"Ever fuck a girl doggie before?" I asked him after fucking him on top for a while.

I was 99.9% sure what the answer would be and the look on his face told me that I had been too cautious in my earlier estimate. Oh well, why not let him try as many new things as possible? I rose up on his dick but before he could get up I was leaning over his crotch, taking his dick in my mouth yet again. Mmmmmmm, I LOVE the taste of a dick right after it's been in me when I cum. The taste of my pussy was strong on his cock and the only thing better would be if his cum was mixed in as well.

After the fucking he had given me I only sucked his dick for a few minutes or else I'm sure he would have erupted. I got on all fours, my ass facing me with my knees apart to give him a good view of my pussy and asshole.

"Like my ass Mr. Eisenberg?"

Like he was going to say "no"? I wasn't expecting a response and I didn't get one, at least not verbally. Instead, Mr. Eisenberg got on his knees and with one hand stroking his dick, he quickly worked his way between my legs until I felt his dick against my asshole. Well, sorry but THAT was one fantasy he would just have to masturbate about later.

"In my pussy," I simply said, not trying to break the mood by being too harsh on him.

What is it with men and assholes anyway? Here I was with a dripping wet pussy dying for him to fuck, and he wants to use my asshole instead? Sheesh, what's wrong with this picture?

He didn't argue and it wasn't long before he was back in me again. As wet and freshly fucked as I was, my pussy must have been an easy target for him this time! I didn't care at this point, not so long as he was back in me as soon as possible. With his hands on my waist, he started to pump me again, slapping his crotch into my butt as he pushed and pulled me in sync with his thrusts. I loved this position as it seems that it is the best for getting a dick as deep in me as possible and he was definitely in me - no doubt about THAT.

My boobs felt like pendulums, swaying back and forth as he fucked me faster and harder. I dropped to my elbows, elevating my ass even more to make it easier for him to fuck me from behind, not to mention my arms were getting tired. He HAD to be about to cum by now and I was right, he was reaching the brink. The question now was, WHERE?

Nine times out of ten, the answer would have been simple. Given the choice, I love a man to cum inside of my pussy. Besides the obvious point that it simply FEELS good, in a case like Mr. Eisenberg, it also signifies that final betrayal of his wedding vows, to not just FUCK me, but to MATE me as well. Of course I had zero desire to get pregnant with him, it was the symbolism that mattered more to me. In this particular case, though, I was looking for something more dramatic, something more for him to remember me by every time he saw me in the hall at school. I wanted him to think about this moment every time he said hello to me in school, every time his wife was next to him at a conference or other school event. Every time he fucked his wife for the rest of his life I wanted him to remember me.

From the speed and frantic way he was starting to fuck me, I knew he was about to cum and I wanted to catch him before that happened so to his surprise, I leaned forward and crawled away from him, leaving him kneeling there with his pussy-juice covered dick glistening in the sunlight. Before he could say anything though, I'd twisted around so I was kneeling and facing him, then I took his swelling dick in my mouth yet again and sucked him as well as I knew how with just one goal - to drive him to an orgasm as quickly as possible.

Mr. Eisenberg had his hands on my head now, pushing and pulling me in and out of his crotch as he thrust himself into my mouth in time with the rocking I was doing on the bed. He was close... very close... VERY close. I dropped him from my mouth and started stroking his dick with both hands, twisting and turning them on his dick as I forced him into that final point of no return. Like a cat eying a mouse, I watched the tip of his dick without hardly blinking, not wanting to miss that first spurt of cum when it erupted from him.

"Cum on my face... I want you to cover my face with cum Mr. Eisenberg," I said to him quickly, not wanting to be caught talking when he exploded.

"Oh yeah, you would like that, wouldn't you Kelly... you fucking slut... little whore.:

Wow, I was a little surprised at his words as he had mostly been quiet while we had fucked, generally just groaning and moaning as he fucked me. I took his words as those of a man being driven by his lust, without any rational thought or control over what he said so it didn't bother me that he called me a whore. In a way though, wasn't that exactly what I was right now? Wasn't I getting "paid" with a new job for letting him fucking me?

"Here it cums!" he announced as sure enough, I saw the first rope of milky sperm emerge from his dick and strike me on the forehead. Usually that first shot is the strongest and it wouldn't have totally surprised me if it had gone over my head (and it wouldn't have been the first time for me either). The second hit my on the tongue and I could immediately taste the strong cum, even as third shot landed next to the second. The rest was sort of everywhere - my cheeks, neck, boobs, and so forth. Damn, he had a LOT of cum!

When his final load had been shot, I lifted my head and stuck out my tongue so he could see his cum puddle there, as well as the mess I must have had all over my face. At least it felt that way. He grinned at the sight of his cum in my mouth and so I closed my mouth and made a dramatic show of swallowing it, then opening my mouth again to show it was all gone except for a slimy film on my tongue. It would take a good toothbrush and some mouthwash to clear THAT off, not to mention the aftertaste.

"Mmmmmmm, I bet your wife never swallowed your cum before, has she?" I asked naughtily as I used his dick like a squeegee to wipe some of the cum on my cheeks over to my mouth where I licked it off and swallowed it as well.

"Oh god, I never thought I would ever see that," he gasped, his eye wide open as he stared at his cum all over me. "That was incredible Kelly... fucking incredible."

I quickly bounced off the bed and ran to the bathroom, returning with a towel which I then used to wipe the cum off me as best as I could. Fortunately, I didn't think he had gotten any in my hair which made it a lot easier. THEN I would have HAD to take a shower. Although it could be erotic sometimes to go out in public with cum on me, I didn't feel today was quite the appropriate time or place.

"Soooooo, Mr. Eisenberg, do I get the job?" I asked as I rubbed some more cum off my boobs I had missed the first time around.

God, that stuff is SUCH a pain to get off. And people wonder why I say I prefer it in my pussy or mouth.

Mr. Eisenberg had laid back, flat on his back with his spent dick now hanging limply to the side. Even as it got softer, it still looked tempting and I probably wouldn't have minded if he had wanted to for seconds but it seemed he was satisfied with my "demonstration". His eyes were closed and for a moment I thought he had fallen asleep but the lids cracked open and he smiled up at me as I sat back on my heels next to him.

"Well, you definitely showed me you want the job," he teased me. "Let me think about it some more. It may require another 'interview' or even more, you know how complicated these decisions can be."

Bastard, how dare he even suggest such a thing. Suddenly any feelings about wanting him to fuck me or to suck his dick disappeared, replaced by the most intense anger and disgust. He laid his head back with his eyes closed again, ignoring me. Well, we'd see about that! I grabbed my dress, slipped it over my head and dropped it into place. Not only did it come OFF easily, but it went ON just as easy. With no bra or panties, that left just my heels which I slipped on and was ready to go in less than thirty seconds.

Grabbing my purse, I walked to the side of the bed and reached out to grab his dick firmly in my fist, squeezing it hard enough to make his eyes pop open and look at me with surprise.

"What the..." he stammered but I didn't let him finish.

"OK, now let's get this straight, MR. Eisenberg," I said sternly, without even the slightest hint of tease or naughtiness, "You WILL give the board your highest recommendation. I WILL be teaching this fall or you can say goodbye to THIS!"

"Hey, you can't make any demands, I know too much about you," he countered, suddenly all serious but looking a little dismayed as well.

"Oh give me a break... most people know I'm a slut, haven't you asked around? But what would your precious wife say if she found that YOU had fucked me too? I bet the school board would love to hear all the juicy details of the blowjob I just gave you, not to mention how much you enjoyed fucking me afterwards."

"You can't prove anything," he blustered.

"Do I NEED to?" I shot back, "I think I know enough 'personal' things about you that I could convince enough people, especially your wife, that I was telling the truth."

He shut up then, mulling things over apparently. He wasn't a stupid man. The idiot had just reacted the way most men would given the opportunity. Probably figured after talking to the old administrator that this was a once-in-a- lifetime chance to fulfill some fantasy of his, never thinking it through to what might happen afterwards. Idiot.

"Alright... you win, you get the job," he said, looking somewhat chagrined.

Then he brightened up saying, "But at least I made you fuck me to get it."

Yeah, as IF that was some sort of "win' on his part. Other than the fact I hated getting my first teaching position this way, actually I'd rather enjoyed it. My anger began to dissipate as I noticed his cock was starting to stir again. Hmm, maybe he wasn't going to take that long recovering as I'd feared!

What the hell... why not? "In for a penny, in for a pound" an old college professor of mine use to say. My dress dropped to the floor yet again...

As I laid there sucking his dick again, feeling it slowly grow back to its previous glory in my mouth, I couldn't help but smile at myself. So what if I fucked my way into this job? Like, was it so bad that I had the school administrator in my back pocket, so to speak? I remembered from the last time I'd taught at the school how horny I would get sometimes and all that I could do was disappear to the restroom in the teacher's lounge for a quick round of masturbation.

Hmmm, maybe I might have to have some special meetings each week with the school administrator... some VERY special meetings...

Postlude

It's only June as I write this and so school is still over a couple of months away. After leaving Mr. Eisenberg I did a lot of thinking about what I'd done and the possible ramifications. In the end, I believe I did what I had to do and so I don't regret any of it. It's a tough job market out there and so what if I have to rely on more than just my academic credentials to get what I want? My sexual skills are just as much as part of me as my academic ones, so why try to separate them from one another?

The bottom line is... I'm going to be a teacher again! Who cares HOW I got the job, just that I got it - right?

(Jun 26) Chapter 188: Unconventional Convention

Story codes: MF oral F-solo exhib adultery
Me (24)
Mr. Eisenberg (40)
Derek (26)

For a girl (like me) who loves having sex in a church, you can just imagine the opportunity presented by national church convention! Not to mention I was attending courtesy of an invitation by my new boss - the school administrator who I'd recently "interviewed" with for my job starting this fall. His wife and kids were along as well but that just made it all the hotter for me.

1. An Invitation I Couldn't Refuse

It had been less than a month since my final "interview" with Mr. Eisenberg, the School Administrator for the small school I will be teaching at this coming fall. It may have been the most "interesting" interview I'd ever had, and certainly not at all like I had been expecting. After all, this WAS for a position at a VERY conservative Christian elementary school.

Mr. Eisenberg WAS married - with children, not to mention I'd been forced to resign last year by Mr. Eisenberg's predecessor due to my supposed "lack of ethics". It was only due to his well-timed heart attack (at least it was for me) that I even had the opportunity to apply for my old job back. Considering everything, having to meet Mr. Eisenberg at a hotel so he could fuck me was probably the last thing I had EVER would have thought would happen as part of my "interview" process!

Now I am not so naive as to think my "obligations" to Mr. Eisenberg would end after just the one interview but at the same time, I felt confident that I wouldn't have to face the problem until at least the school year started. Although I would undoubtedly cost him his job if I were to make a stink about what he was doing to me but in doing so I would just as assuredly lose my own job as well, not to mention any chance for a teaching career anywhere else - for sure this time.

Thus I was reconciled to the fact that I would likely have periodic "performance reviews" with him - at least regarding my performance when it came to sucking his dick. Things could be a lot worse though. What if I had been turned down for the job or if he had extorted me financially or in other ways? All things considered, putting out a little now and then for him wasn't exactly the worse price to pay for my teaching position. The fact that he was cheating on his wife didn't hurt either when it came to how I felt about it.

All that was months away so why worry about it now? With summer here and all the schools out on summer vacation, I was tutoring now pretty much every day. To the disappointment of my distributor, I was making enough to quit my modeling job with the home Passion party scene. Sure they were fun, more so some times than others, but after a while they got to be somewhat repetitious. I guess I could have exploited the circumstances at times more than I did but then just imagine the reputation I'd soon have had around town - not exactly the best thing to have when you're applying for a public school position down the road.

With all thoughts of Mr. Eisenberg pushed to the back of my mind, you can imagine my surprise when my cell phone rang new day and I saw it was Mr. Eisenberg calling. Puzzled as to what he might want (although a few thoughts came to mind pretty quick), I cautiously answered. Mr. Eisenberg got right to the point, explaining that he was a Deacon for the church that sponsored the school and was representing the church at an upcoming conference which was being held in Pasadena, CA.

Apparently another woman was supposed to represent the church as well but she had a family problem of some sort and wouldn't be able to attend. Given the short notice (it was only three days away) they had been unable to find anyone to replace her so Mr. Eisenberg wanted to know if I would be interested in attending. He also mentioned that he and his wife would also appreciate having someone to watch over their kids at times. Turns out he has two daughters, one in sixth grade and the other in eighth grade, so it wasn't like they really needed anyone to baby-sit them, more like just be there in case anything went wrong.

As he went on with his explanation, I noted that he never mentioned anything whatsoever about me and him doing anything. Oh yeah, like I really believed he wasn't thinking about it! Besides, why else would he have called me? Not only was I not a member of the church, I wasn't even of the same denomination so what sense did it make for me to be a delegate? No doubt Mr. Eisenberg would be expecting me to do more than just watch his kids for him... a LOT more. Still, there was no getting around the fact that it WAS a church event, a pretty serious one at that.

Given that his wife and daughters would be with him most of the time, I wondered if maybe he didn't say anything because he didn't yet have any specific plans regarding me. More like he just wanted me to be there and let the opportunities present themselves as they did. Sort of ironic I guess in you could say he was putting it all in God's hands - just not the sort of "gesture of faith" most people would be expecting at a church convention.

Wow, when I hung up the phone after he explained to me the schedule, I realized I had only a couple of days to get myself ready. Although for the past few weeks I'd been doing a lot of clothes shopping, most of what I'd bought was intended for when I started teaching in the fall and winter and so it wasn't exactly suitable for hot California summers. Fortunately, I'd also been doing some shopping for my tutoring jobs this summer, trying to present myself a bit more professionally than just wearing a pair of jeans and a tank top like I use to back when I was in college. While the outfits I'd picked out were considerably more conservative than those I typically wore around, no doubt they would still be borderline for this type of convention.

If I was eight years old I might get away with wearing a skirt above the knees, but not as a 24 years- old. Same went for cami's - they look cute on little girls, but at my age they also draw far more attention to all the "wrong" places, at least more than what people considered "decent" in traditionalist church denominations such as this one.

Looking through my wardrobe - if you can call a small closet a wardrobe, I found a few outfits that should pass muster. Plus, I figured while traveling I could wear more "casual clothes" and my bikinis would be fine as there wasn't a swimming pool at the Convention Center. Mr. Eisenberg had mentioned that they were planning to rent an RV to minimize costs and so we would be staying at some RV park a ways outside of Pasadena.

While I'd never seen an RV park other than in the movies, I figured folks there wouldn't mind seeing me in my skimpy bikini, especially the guys - although you never can tell about the girls these days as well. At least I had plenty of "appropriate" underwear thanks to my recent shopping splurges.

To my chagrin, teachers were required to wear bras at my school. Wearing a bra any time is a pain if you ask me, but in summer it ranks as cruel and unusual punishment. As uncomfortable as it might be, I didn't have to be told to know it would definitely be a requirement at these type of affairs. Again, I didn't want to misrepresent the church with any embarrassing comments that might later filter back regarding my appearance.

Suddenly I remembered my dad - I hadn't told him yet what I was doing. When I finally did call, all I got as his answering machine. Being as late as it was, that meant he was probably "busy" with my Aunt Linda. It seemed lately she practically lived at his house and their relationship seemed to be growing deeper as time elapsed following my mom's passing.

Really, it was inevitable when you think of it. Linda and he had dated in high school at the same time he had been dating my mother, even though mom was a couple of years behind her and three years behind him. My take is that while he loved my mom as a partner the most (which is why he eventually married her), he enjoyed having sex with her sister more (which I guess is a good reason why he never stopped fucking her, even after he married my mom).

Things between them had cooled off a bit after my mom was gone but over time it revived and now they were like two adolescent kids in high school going through their first crush. Sure it was all about sex rather than love, but at their age, why not enjoy themselves? So long as the arrangement suited them both given their stations in life, why not have a bit of fun?

I ended up leaving my dad a message and then I laid back in bed to contemplate all that had happened today. Boy, talk about changing your plans for the next week, this one took the cake! Tomorrow would be even busier as I had to call my tutoring clients and inform them I would be out of town for almost a week. Then I had to go shopping for a couple more outfits, then pack, get my hair done... the list went on. We would be flying on some ungodly early flight - again to save money, which meant I had to be in bed early the next night so there was a ton of things for me to do and not much time to do them.

Dropping my nightshirt to the floor, I laid down naked in bed with the covers off. Even with the air-conditioning running the room still felt a bit too warm so I turned on a small fan next to my bed to circulate the air better. As it rotated back and forth, the soft breeze blew over my naked skin, bringing little goose bumps to the surface. My nipples even perked up a bit and I felt a slight tingle in my boobs as the fan seemed to almost caress my breasts as it passed by.

Mmmmmmm... Even though it was less than 24 hours since I'd last been laid by a guy I'd been dating off and on lately, I was horny as hell and a serious fuck wouldn't be so bad right about now. As for the guy I had been with, there wasn't anything serious between us. We both had wanted to get in each other's pants (so to speak) from the first time we met and now had a mutual arrangement where we would get together whenever one or the other just needed some casual sex - no strings attached. Last night he had initiated things by calling me but it wasn't like I wasn't thinking about having some cock myself.

As I laid in bed I recalled how his erect dick had felt as it slid into my pussy for the first time (at least the first time that night). My hands seemed to have a mind of their own as they reached down to my crotch while I subconsciously lifted my hips to meet his imaginary thrusts as he rammed his stiff dick into me, stretching me out and giving me that incredible sensation I feel whenever my pussy expands to allow for a dick to initially penetrate me.

God had it felt so good to imagine feeling him entering me! I pushed my middle finger into my already wet pussy, reminding me of that wonderfully hard cock as it violated my most private part of my body, filling the void within me that was craving to be satisfied.

As I laid there with my eyes clothes, I continued to masturbate as I thought about how it seems people always say it is the guys who get horny, like they are the only ones that get so anxious for sex that they will do most anything for it. These same people seem to think that girls just react to the guy's needs, like she doesn't want it just as bad as he does, like a girl can't possible ever be as ridiculously horny as a guy, or even more.

Well in a word - bullshit. Sure last night he'd called me because he needed to get off but as we undressed and I first started to suck his dick, bringing it to a full state of erection, I couldn't even imagine how he could want to fuck me as badly as I wanted him to do me. It was like I was almost cramping from the insane desire that consumed me. As I sucked his wonderfully hard dick I played with my pussy, feeling the warm wetness between my legs that betrayed my lust for him. Did I say I was wet? Heck, it was more like a flood.

My pussy was drenched with my desire and NEED to be fucked. By the time he had me on my hands and knees, unashamedly sticking my bare butt up in the air as I pleaded for him to fuck me, I would've done almost anything to be fucked by then.

No... not "almost", make that anything, anything he wanted just so long as he put his dick in me.

Fortunately, he was horny as well so it wasn't like he took advantage of my condition and teased me with his dick the way some guys might have had they realized how I was feeling. Instead, he grabbed by ass with both hands, spreading my butt cheeks apart as he leaned forward and pushed his glorious cock up against me without even using his hands. He laid his hard dick on top of my ass, letting slowly it slide down my ass crack until I felt it pass by my asshole and then it was there - right at the entrance to my pussy, all wet and ready for him after I'd been playing with myself while I sucked him. I started to reach back, to help him inside of my pussy but it wasn't necessary, he lunged forward, driving his stiff dick hard against my hot pussy, forcing my wet pussy lips apart and burying the head of his monstrous dick inside of me.

I came immediately when he entered me.

The feel of the mushroom tip of his dick inside of me was all I needed by then to drive me over the cliff. Oh my god, it was EXACTLY what I'd been dying for, that feeling of fullness between my legs, like he was spreading me apart until I felt as if I might split in two. This was SO much better than my finger, SO much better indeed! As I cried out, wave after wave of the most incredible pleasure rolled through me as he held his dick there just inside of my pussy.

Whether it was because he was enjoying the feeling of my pussy as it pulsed around his dick as I went through the throes of my orgasm, or maybe he simply couldn't move it in my any further due to the way I was gripping down on his dick, squeezing it like a vise with my crotch. Whatever the reason, it was exactly what I needed now. Any more would have been waste as all I needed right at this instant was the feeling of him entering me - the feeling of being mated, the feeling of a man coupling with me, joining his body together with mine as I submitted myself to his will.

As I dreamed of that wonderful orgasm I'd experienced not that long ago, a real orgasm began to flare up within me and I felt my pussy clamping down on my finger. My cum gushed from me, soaking my crotch and moving down my ass onto the bed sheets. My clit practically sizzled and all I had to do was barely touch it and it like someone poking me with an electric cattle prod - except instead of hurting it electrified me in a way that is simply indescribable.

One hand kept fingering my pussy as the other rubbed my clit as my orgasm swept over me while I continued to recall how I'd been fucked so well. As my "virtual" orgasm decreased", he pushed his dick deeper into me until I felt his crotch pressing up against my bare butt, his lush pubic hair brushing up against my smooth ass. As he pressed it tightly into me, he rotated his hips, causing his dick to move around and around inside of me as his pubic hair tickled my warm ass. Memories of his dick in me continued as I twisted onto my side into a fetal position, keeping one hand on my pulsing clit as I rubbed my damp ass with the other hand. God I loved to touch myself!

Yes, I loved to feel my smooth round butt in my hand as I masturbated myself with the other. My orgasm was down to a lower degree now but it was like my entire crotch was this giant heartbeat as the throbbing of my pulse was amplified by the ultra-sensitivity of my hard clit as it seemed my pussy was literally consumed with my lust and desire for that cock... that WONDERFUL that had fucked me so wonderfully just the night before. God I love dicks!

My hand moved from my ass to my breasts as my fingers continued to play over my clit and pussy like a concert pianist, but instead of beautiful music my touch created the most wonderful sensations deep with me, that then swelled to the surface like the heat of the sun as it rises from its core and then flares out into the universe. Indeed, I felt as hot as the sun as it seemed pleasure was literally pouring out from every pore of my body. My fingers teased my nipples and I jumped involuntarily at the first touch, almost like I was being shocked when I touched them again more gingerly. I gripped my nipple between my fingers, tugging on it and then letting it snap back before repeating the movement over and over again - and then over yet again.

My boobs felt so good in my hand, firm yet soft as my finger massaged each in turn. I remember how they had swung back and forth beneath me as I was being fucked from behind, and then how it felt to have him kissing and biting them as he flipped me over and fucked me missionary style and then finally spooning with me, his hand gripping my boobs both at once, squeezing them together.

It felt so good to masturbate - probably why I do it so much. Yet somehow something was missing - it just wasn't the same as being fucked by a guy. Still, I came again and yet again before finally falling asleep exhausted with my hands clutching my crotch.

2. Bored at the Airport

Even though I haven't flown that many times, the thrill of flying had long since left me - if it had ever been there in the first place. It wasn't that I was afraid of flying, I just didn't like it. Being cooped up in a small tube with hundreds of strangers, breathing recirculated air that contained God only knows what pathogens, fighting for room with the inevitable fat guy that I always seemed to be stuck sitting next to, dealing with the ear-popping, the dry air, and generally rude people... well you might say I hadn't been looking forward to the flight.

Within the first thirty minutes at the Pittsburgh airport, my jaded views about flying were only reinforced. Flying with the cheap seats meant we had to wait in the cattle lanes while people with overweight bags tried to repack them, idiots without proper ID tried to negotiate their way on-board (and failing), then there were the security lines - hell on earth if there ever was.

I decided to drive myself to the airport even though Mr. Eisenberg had offered me a ride. It wasn't I didn't want to be with them, I just wanted to be on my own schedule for as long as possible before being subjugated to heaven only knew what was awaiting me for the next five days. When I met the family at the check-in it was actually the first time I'd met his wife and daughters. Even though I'd seen family photos in his office, you never really know how someone looks until you see them in person.

The first thing that struck me was that for the first time, I saw Mr. Eisenberg in something other than a suit (or his birthday suit for that matter). My first impression when I'd seen him last month has been that of a handsome, middle-age man, balding slightly at the sides although his hair was still dark. He seemed to be of average build, several inches taller than me even back then with my heels so now he towered over me in my sneakers. He could have used a few workouts at the gym but was no means fat.

Then there was Kelly. Yes, his wife's name was Kelly and from the start I just knew it would be SO annoying. She was even prettier than her picture on her husband's desk. Kelly was either was well-endowed by Mother Nature or had some outside assistance when it came to her boobs which looked incredible, even with the loose dress she was wearing. The outline of her bra was visible and it was undoubtedly helping to support them so I would have to wait until later to tell if they were real or not.

In any case, she probably looked great in a bikini as her figure, especially her legs, showed signs that she spent a lot of time working out as well. Seeing how gorgeous she was, it made me wonder why her husband would risk his marriage with her by cheating on her. Then again, it also made me feel all the better about myself knowing he was willing to throw away a marriage with such a hot wife just to have me.

Their two daughters remained back, as if a little shy but it could have been indifference more than anything. It was one reason I didn't want to teach the higher grades for now - the boys are all hormones and the girls adopt the typical "princess" attitudes. God, it was like they knew everything and the rest of us on the earth were placed here solely to annoy them.

Looking at the two of them, it was hard to believe they were sisters. At least one of them HAD to have been adopted. Morgan was the older of the two, soon to be an eighth grader. She was as platinum blonde as her sister Kenzie was a dark brunette, her hair as curly as her sister's was straight. With her arms folded and that look of total boredom on her cute face, she was indeed the epitome of the "princess" category I mentioned before. There would be no satisfying her on this trip and I just knew that the whole time she would act as though nothing was worthy of her interest so I immediately pigeon-holed her in my "ignore her" box that I put girls like her in when I really didn't have to deal with them.

Kenzie (short for Mackenzie) was the youngest and would be entering 6th grade this fall. She seemed more shy than anything, yet she had this impish little grin that belied something more simmering just under the surface. Oh yeah, I had a feeling SHE was going to be the one to watch out for. Both girls were wearing conservative loose shorts that came almost to their knees. Morgan's were a light pink while Kenzie's were blue denim. Kenzie was cute but Morgan was definitely going to be a hottie as she may have been just fourteen but she already had the look of a girl several years older - and the boobs to match (maybe her mom's were real?).

As for Kenzie, she was just starting to show signs of a future bust but if she had the same genes as her sister and mom seemed to share, it wasn't going to be long before she would be trying on her first real bra. Morgan had legs I would've killed for at her age while Kenzie's still had that thin coltish look of a twelve year-old. I wondered what the two of them would say if they knew what their dad had demanded of me not quite a month earlier?

As I approached them they all looked at me. Well, the girls just glanced and then went back to their I-Pods and cell phones. Mr. Eisenberg gave me the standard "guy" once over, his eyes focusing in on my boobs while his wife "inspected" me - the best way I can describe the serious look she gave me along with the slight frown on her face. Sheesh, it wasn't like I was in full "slut mode", but my white denim shorts were considerably shorter relative to my legs than her daughters', coming maybe a third of the way down my thighs (at most) but still fully covering my ass. They were pretty tight but even had I sat down with my legs spread open I wouldn't have to worry about revealing anything. One good thing about them was that at least I didn't have to worry about wearing panties with them.

On top I was wearing a salmon tank top with a light green blouse that I left unbuttoned but which covered my arms and shoulders a bit as it was a still pretty cool this early in the morning. The blouse also added another layer over my boobs such that my nipples, which were poking through the tank top as I wasn't wearing a bra, were covered most of the time. I was wearing sneakers with white anklets and all-in-all I felt I was relatively conservative considering what I COULD have worn (or not).

Mr. Eisenberg introduced me to everyone. His wife shook my hand coolly and quickly disengaged with just a terse "good morning". I saw her glance at her husband, catching him with his eyes once again focused on my chest, and I could see the look of disapproval on her face. No doubt she was having second thoughts about her husband's scheme to invite me along as I was sure it was HIS idea, not hers.

One thing I soon learned that I hadn't expected - the girls would not be with us the majority of the time. It seemed that there was a special "kid's camp" for teens that would keep them busy going to places like Universal Studios, the beach and such. Actually, it sounded like fun! I can't say I was disappointed they would be out of my hair and it also meant the RV wouldn't be as crowded, not to mention two less pairs of prying eyes.

As Mr. Eisenberg checked us in (and thankfully paid the luggage fee for my bag), his Kelly wasted no time in letting me know her expectations and terms for the trip. She pulled me over to the side, smiling sweetly to her husband as if she was going to share some sort of "girl thing" with me, but that pleasant expression evaporated immediately as she turned to face me.

"Look, I don't know what's going on here exactly but I just want to get one thing clear from the outset," she hissed in a terse tone, "When Bill told me he was inviting a teacher from school I just assumed it was one of the old biddies and didn't think twice about it. If I'd known my husband was inviting a slut like you I would NEVER have gone along with it."

I started to protest at the "slut" reference but she wouldn't let me get a word in edgewise.

"Oh now don't try to give me that," she cut me off, "Oh I've seen your type before... hell, I WAS your type at your age so don't think you can fool me for a minute. You just stay away from Bill - got it sweetie?"

I again started to protest, trying to say I had no idea what she was talking about but she would have none of it.

"Give me a break, no idea... humph!," she practically snorted with undisguised disgust for me, "Just like you somehow 'forgot' to put on a bra this morning? And if those shorts were any higher your ass would be hanging out. You DO know this is a CHURCH convention, don't you? Have you no shame?"

Trying not to make the situation any worse than it already was, I assured her that indeed I did and that I was sorry if my outfit offended her (I really wasn't but I figured I'd better say so). I then promised not to do anything like she was implying but of course, I had no intention of keeping my word. Let's be real - if it came down to doing whatever I had to do in order to keep my job or my word to her, there was little doubt what my decision would be.

Before our "discussion" could get any more heated, Mr. Eisenberg broke in with the tickets and checked our luggage. We gathered our remaining things and took the shuttle train to the terminal. I managed to grab a seat on the ledge at the front of the train car so I could watch as we zoomed through the tunnel. At the end of the line, the train lurched from side to side (someone tried explaining to me why it did that but I don't remember now what it was), pushing me into Morgan who had taken a seat next to me. She didn't even acknowledge me, more interested in something on her cell phone or whatever than me.

Once in the terminal we had over an hour before the flight was due to leave, leaving at least a half-hour before boarding would begin. Mr. Eisenberg treated us all to breakfast at MacDonald's and by the time we were done, it was time to get on the plane. I found that I had the window seat with Kenzie next to me and Morgan on the aisle while Mr. Eisenberg and Kelly had the two seats on the opposite side (there were five across in this plane). She took the aisle seat, probably more to keep an eye on the girls but it also kept her husband as far away from me as possible.

We flew to Denver first, a long and boring flight during which I slept most of the way. The plane was freezing so I had myself covered with a blanket most of the way. It wasn't like I had some hot guy next to me to admire my legs and boobs so why freeze to death for nothing?

Denver was a two hour layover so I took the time to walk the airport. I loved the way the guys would look at me as I slowly trolled the terminal, like a fisherman slowly trolling his bait through the water waiting for a strike. Nobody actually tried to approach me and I'm not sure what my response would have been had someone tried. I was feeling a bit horny after a while and with another flight ahead of me, I ducked into the restroom to take care of things - and I'm not referring to my makeup!

Inside the stall I quickly dropped my shorts to my ankles and leaned back on the seat, my hand immediately seeking out my horny clit. God it felt good to finally be able to touch myself again! I'd been tempted to do it on the plane under the blanket, but I really didn't want the two girls to see me doing anything as no doubt they would have told their mother about it later.

I managed to masturbate for almost twenty minutes until I finally made myself cum, thoughts of Mr. Eisenberg fucking me as his sexy wife looked on, helpless to stop him, cursing him for cumming inside of me. In my mind it would serve her right to have to watch. Heck, it wasn't like she didn't deserve it. I'd already determined that she was cheating on her husband as it was the only plausible excuse for a women like her to not be more demanding of her husband, at least enough to keep him from wandering.

After I'd cum I tasted my wet fingers and smiled as I savored the odor and flavor of my own horny pussy. Other girls tasted good but there's just something about the taste of your own pussy that always seems to be best. Looking in the mirror, I frowned as I saw my face and upper chest was noticeably flushed. Oh well, it wasn't like there was anything I could do about it with only a few minutes remaining before we boarded again so I would just have to hope nobody noticed.

Yeah, like THAT was going to happen with his wife being so suspicious of me already. Sure enough, as I joined the Eisenbergs I saw Kelly glance at me and then her head turned towards me and she looked at me even closer. She managed to work her way next to me and once again I felt her arm pull me to the side. I had a feeling what was about to come and she didn't disappoint me - if you could call it that.

"God, you ARE quite the slut, aren't you," she accused me, "For heaven's sake, couldn't you even wash up and put on some perfume afterwards? You stink like a filthy whore."

Well, I surely didn't think I smelled all THAT bad and besides, I doubted her husband noticed. It was something that girl's tend to notice more than guys for some reason. Maybe it's the hormones and DNA that cause a girl to notice when another girl is "in heat", perhaps some ancestral remnant from back when a woman was competing for a mate and it helped to know when her "competition" was horny or had been "active". I don't know but I DO know that I can smell another woman's pussy after she'd had sex, just as I was sure Kelly could now smell mine, even if it had just been masturbation and not "real" sex.

Rather than respond with some remark that would just make things worse between us, I simply shrugged and smiled at her, not so big a smile as to be taunting her but enough to let her know I had enjoyed myself earlier. She rolled her eyes with a sigh of disgust and joined her husband as we boarded our flight.

This time he evidently was unable to get an entire row for us all and we were spread out over three rows instead with Mr. Eisenberg and Kelly near the front, the girls a couple of seat behind them, and me all alone towards the rear of the plane. At least it wasn't the last row! I had the window seat once again and this time the middle seat was empty which was fortunate as the guy who took the aisle seat barely fit between the armrests and had any poor sole been made to sit next to him, they would've had their personal space severely restricted.

The guy next to me looked to be middle age, his face dripping sweat simply from the exertion of boarding and his shirt was even showing stains where the sweat underneath had soaked through. It was really quite disgusting and I tried to ignore him by turning my head to the window. No doubt he was staring at my legs as I tilted towards the window. Oh well, I hope he enjoyed what he saw as it was as far as I would ever go for someone as nasty as him.

Once again the plane's air-conditioning was set to Super-Max or whatever the coldest setting was and I asked the attendant for a blanket. She brought back this postage-stamp sized thin thing which was posing as a blanket but it was better than nothing. As I watched the clouds go by outside the window, I felt the twinge between my legs to remind of me how it had felt when I had cum in the restroom earlier. It hadn't been anything special but sometimes you need that - a simple masturbation time with a pleasant ending.

With the blanket covering me, I leaned the seat back and tucked my arms and hands under the blanket. I glanced quickly over at fat guy next to me and his eyes averted as I surprised him before he could look away first. Hmmm, if he only knew how horny I was... not to mention losing about a hundred pounds...

Twisting in my seat towards the window, I had my hand between my legs and once again I felt this terrible urge to masturbate. Well, actually I wanted to be fucked a LOT more than just doing myself but under the circumstances, masturbating was the only real option. Maybe in a porn movie I would go to the restroom and meet up with a handsome stranger with a thick dick but this was the real world and only person heading to the restroom was a mother and her young daughter.

I unbuttoned the top of my shorts and quickly slipped my hand inside. With the blanket over me it would have looked like I was just trying to keep warm but the warmth now being generated in my crotch had nothing to do with the thin blanket covering me! Indeed, it was little ironic as on the outside I was still cold and shivering but inside of me it was like a furnace raging out of control.

It didn't take long to get myself off and I tried to stifle a gasp as I came but a little gasp still managed to leak out. I doubted that anybody could have heard it being so soft but it still felt so damn good to allow myself to at least let a little of my pleasure to escape.

Buttoning the shorts was more daunting than undoing them, taking two hands to get them pulled tight enough together to get the button to line up with the hole. It had to be pretty obvious what I was doing, leading to the question as to why I was having to do it in the first place. Oh well, so what if someone DID see me and wonder, it wasn't like I was ashamed to masturbate.

Had I thought I could get away with it I would have done it without the blanket over me. No doubt the fat guy would have enjoyed watching the show. For that matter, I'd never known ANY guy not to enjoy watching me masturbate. Looking at his bulging stomach, he had boobs bigger than most of the women on the plane as I couldn't help but wonder if he could even get it up - and if he did could he even see it over his bulging stomach? Really, how can people let themselves go like that? I mean, sure I could probably stand to lose two or three pounds, but it's not like my stomach is hanging over my jeans or anything.

The rest of the flight, at least what was ;left of it, passed uneventful. I watched out the window as we landed at LAX and as the wheels touched down, my heart was beating faster for the first time in my life, I was in sunny California!

3. Serving at the Opening Service

We'd arrived the previous afternoon and after collecting our baggage, somehow found our way to the RV rental agency and drove off with what was to be "home" for the remaining duration of our trip. Having never been in one before, I was anxious to see how it would look. Indeed, nightmares of Robin Williams' movies had been going through my head but in the end, it actually turned out to be pretty cool.

Following the instructions drowned out by our trusty GPS, we drove straight to the RV park where hundreds of other RVs were already in place. Amazingly, no two seemed to be the same although I noted none had the big rental advertisement plastered on the side that ours was sporting. I had been wondering how we would get back and forth between the park and the convention as I couldn't imagine this behemoth negotiating the city streets, let alone find a suitable parking place. THAT "problem" had been addressed by renting a car, his wife driving it behind us as the rest of us explored the RV on the way to the park.

The next morning proved to be interesting as there was only one bathroom in the RV versus four women. Fortunately, there was a community bathroom just down the road so I gathered my things and headed for it. Thankfully it was cleaner than I'd expected and empty most of the time as well. I guess most people just used the facilities in their RV. At least with the girls leaving today for their camp it wouldn't be so crowded when it came to using the RV facilities for the rest of the weekend.

Mr. Eisenberg graciously left the RV as we girls got dressed and I saw Kelly (his wife - such a pain having the same name!) watching me closely as I picked out an outfit. Regardless of what she might think about me, I DID know when and how to dress appropriately and I knew today's events were NOT the time or place to wear some slutty short outfit or revealing strapless sundress that showed half my boobs.

It wasn't so much I was worried about what people would think about me but more that I didn't want to embarrass Mr. Eisenberg and possibly even the church should someone later say something. The whole point in accepting this invitation was to KEEP my job, not lose it by having some sanctimonious asshole send word back home that I was displaying myself inappropriately at a church service. In the end I chose a simple black skirt and a conservative white blouse. I even made sure that Kelly saw me put on a bra. She was watching me with her thin lips pursed but she seemed to approve of my outfit, or at least she didn't come to me and pull me aside for another lecture.

During the driving into town, I took the seat behind Mr. Eisenberg with Morgan taking the opposite leaving poor Kenzie, being the youngest, stuck in the center. Of course she complained and whined but where else was there for her to ride? Heck, I certainly wasn't about to sit on the hump! As we drove into Pasadena, I got my first good look at the city and was impressed. The old part of town was loaded with the cutest stores and interesting restaurants.

We pulled into a parking garage across the street from the convention center and joined the throng that was headed for the old convention center building located in the middle of two more recent additions. The interior was dimly lit and as we walked into the seating area I had to let my eyes adjust. It was so beautiful! I couldn't help but grin as I noted the paintings on the walls flanking the stage included nude men - and were anatomically correct. Hmmm, what would people say today if someone tried to paint such graphic images in a new building?

We had almost a half-hour before things were scheduled to kick off so I excused myself to look around. As I wandered the halls, I felt a hand on my arm and I turned to see none other than Mr. Eisenberg! He silently maneuvered me over and away from everyone else and then whispered in my ear saying, "Mmmmmmm, Kelly... you have no idea how bad I want to fuck you right now." He was barely audible above the growing rumble of people gathering but I could still detect the hoarse lust in his tone of voice.

"Like... now?" I asked incredulously. Not that I didn't want to get laid but where in the world could we do anything at all in this crowded place?

"Just follow me," he instructed me as he swiftly moved down the hallway away from the main area.

From the way he kept looking around I could tell that he didn't seem to know his way around but then again, I didn't think he'd ever been here before so how would he? He passed an unmarked door and then turned back. He tried the handle and I was surprised to see that it was unlocked. Glancing inside, he motioned for me to follow. It turned out to be a crowded storage room with electrical stuff on the walls and tables and chairs stacked on rolling things used to get them back and forth between various places. As soon as I was inside, he closed the door behind us and locked it. Turning to me, the sexual lust in his eyes and the horny look on his face was unmistakable.

"Surely you didn't think I invited you along with because I couldn't find anyone else to take old Mrs. Gromansky's place?" he said with a nasty grin on his face as he approached me like a lion stalking his prey.

There was no need for me to respond as he undoubtedly knew the answer already. What surprised me was that he was trying to do it NOW. Heck, there would be plenty of opportunities later, such as at the RV park, where we could be more discreet so why risk everything this way? Apparently his pent-up desires had trumped any common sense or caution.

When he was up next to me his hands went down to the front of his pants and he undid his belt and pants, pulling down the zipper to open them up. Then he reach in to fish out his horny dick, pulling it up and over the elastic waistband of his boxers. That was my cue so I bent my knees and lowered myself down until my face was level with his crotch, leaving his dick staring me in the face like a one-eyed snake. With my longer than usual skirt I wasn't too anxious to kneel as I didn't want to have to worry about it dragging on the floor.

"Now that's what I call being a good girl... I see someone still wants to keep her job," he murmured as I took his cock in my hand and started to slowly stroke it, looking up at him with a grin on my face that wasn't entirely faked.

Sure, I may have been blackmailed to do this but a dick is still a dick and I loved the feel of it in my hand, regardless of the circumstance. True, I DID want to keep my job and I had no problem sucking his dick as often as he asked if that's what it took to be able to teach. However, now I had an added incentive, one he likely didn't even know about. With his wife sticking her nose into things and after seeing how hot she was, now I especially wanted to suck his dick. It would serve the bitch right to let her husband fuck me literally right under her nose. Given he seemed to get off from the domination trip, I kept these thoughts to myself - why spoil his little game?

"Oh yes Mr. Eisenberg, I DO want to keep my job," I said in a meek voice, trying to sound submissive, "I'll do anything to keep it, ANYTHING you ask. Just tell me what you want. I'll do anything but you have to TELL me."

"Oh yeah... you're such a fucking slut... well if that's the way you want it then suck my cock bitch," he said, getting perhaps a little full of himself but it was no big deal to me what he said - it was his dick that had my interest.

I took his stiffening cock into my mouth and quickly had it all the way in, then I pulled my mouth back and just licked the end his growing dick to tease him.

"Damn I love seeing my dick in your mouth," he groaned as I started sucking his dick slowly, "It makes you look like the fuckin' whore you are, selling yourself for a job."

I looked up and I saw him staring down at me, watching me intently as he thrust his hips back and forth, driving his now erect dick in and out of my open mouth. He put both hands on the back of my head and pulled my head into him crotch, driving his hard rod all the way into my mouth until it was forced down my throat just a bit, not stopping until my nose was plastered against his hairy crotch such that the musky odor of his manhood was almost overwhelming.

"Jesus H. Christ... I love it when you do that," he moaned as I twisted my head around his dick, letting my tongue tickle his shaft in the process. I pulled back to breath and then stroked his dick as I dropped it from my mouth to look up at him.

"So tell me Mr. Eisenberg, does your wife suck your cock this good?" I asked innocently but without an innocent thought in my head.

"Hell no... not even close," he gasped as my tongue flickered over the mushroom head of his dick, "You could teach her a lot... now suck it... suck my dick."

Like I had a choice in the matter at this point. He pushed his dick against my lips, driving it into my mouth as he once again pulled my head into his crotch. His hands grabbed fistfuls of my hair which he used as handles to pull my head in and out of his crotch, stroking his rock-hard dick in and out of my mouth in the process.

"God you're such a dirty slut," he groaned, "I really do want to fuck you."

Well... FINALLY! As much as I loved sucking his dick, it would have been different had we more time but a quick look at my watch told me half our time was already gone. Time flies when you're having fun! After a couple days of nothing but masturbating, my pussy was craving a dick and I could feel the wetness between my legs already as it anticipated what was about to come its way. Standing upright again, I leaned over a pile of tables, letting my panty- covered butt stick out behind me towards him.

"Yes, Mr. Eisenberg, anything you want," I said as if I was doing it only because he demanded so.

Yeah, like I didn't want a hard dick in my warm pussy just as bad as he did - maybe even more at this point, even if it WAS his.

"You can fuck me if you want to Mr. Eisenberg... anything you want. Just please let me keep my job."

OK, so maybe I was edging on being melodramatic but it seemed to turn him on so why not? He pulled my panties down to my knees in one swift motion, threatening to rip them in the process but somehow they stayed in one piece. My now bare ass was exposed, waiting for him to fuck me as he'd promised. My pussy was screaming for his cock! I wanted to tell him how badly I wanted him to fuck me, how bad I NEEDED him to fuck me but I tried to stay in the submissive role, acting as if I was giving up myself to him only to keep my job, that he was getting to fuck me because of his position and authority over me, not because I was needing to be fucked so badly I could barely contain myself.

"God I love your ass," he murmured as I felt the head of his cock press against my butt crack and slide down and over my asshole until it was lined up with my waiting pussy, "I love to feel my cock against your cunt... your slutty wet cunt... You're such a bad girl, you'd do anything to keep your job, wouldn't you... wouldn't you... you fuckin' whore?"

"Yes... I'll do anything Mr. Eisenberg... anything you want," I said, almost ready to scream from the sexual frustration that was about to make me burst.

Damn, I wanted him in me so badly instead of playing this silly game but it was what he apparently wanted, "You can fuck me... but only if that's what it takes to keep my job."

Now I WAS getting carried away and for moment I was afraid he might be offended, thinking I was just playing him. Well, of course I WAS but he didn't have to know that. It didn't matter anyway as being as horny as he was, his lust was blinding him from reality. Heck, right now I could have said about anything and I doubted that he would even hear me as he seemed to be in that strange state men get into when fucking me. This was no longer something he WANTED to do, but something he HAD to do and nothing was going to stop him. Even if his wife had walked in right now I doubt that he could have stopped himself from pushing his dick in me... just as he finally did at that moment!

"Oh Mr. Eisneberg, I love your big dick inside of my cunt," I called out to him, trying not to let my ecstasy come through too much.

I was afraid that if he ever found out that I would have gladly let him fuck me today regardless of my job situation that he might somehow not get off as much from it. He certainly loved the domination factor and for him to learn that I WANTED him to fuck me would likely only serve to lessen the experience for him. Since it was in my best interest to make him happy, I was more than willing to play along.

Once he finally had himself all the way in me he didn't waste any time, pounding my wet pussy with his dick as his hairy crotch slammed into my ass on each inward stroke. He was going as fast as he could, driving himself in and out of my starving pussy like a man gone crazy. Indeed, it was about all I could do to keep from falling over onto the tables below me when he would slam himself hard into me.

Once when he pulled out he went too far and his cock slipped out of my pussy. Feeling suddenly empty, I mewed like a spoiled kitten whose milk bowl had just been taken away, waiting impatiently for him to reinsert his dick into my pussy. After what seemed to be hours but was likely only seconds, once again I felt the satisfaction of my pussy being filled with a real dick, just as God intended it to be. It was like I felt incomplete without a dick in me, as if something was missing, a piece of the puzzle gone. It was only when my pussy was filled with a hard cock that I felt complete, like I was a total woman for that brief period of time as a man fucks me.

"Oh fuck yeah... I'm gonna cum!" he groaned and then he suddenly stopped stroking and buried his dick as deep into me as he could.

There seemed to be this terribly long pause as we both just stood there motionless, waiting for the inevitable eruption which finally came.

"Oh yeah, that's it... take my cum like a whore," he demanded as I felt his cock erupt inside of me.

It felt wonderful as his adulterous cum literally exploded from his cock, being released deep inside of me. Over and over I felt his hips twitch against my ass as one load after another was shot inside of me. After the fifth or sixth time I had to wonder, God, just how much cum did he have today?

Finally he stopped and for a few surreal moments, we simply stood still, neither of us moving a muscle or uttering a word. It was as if the two of us were trying to take in the overwhelming sensations that arose from his cumming inside of me.

When he finally DID pull his dwindling out of me, it was like being hit with a bucket of cold water as my pussy cried out for him to come back, to fill it once again with the only thing that ever truly satisfied it. But the service was about to start and indeed, the pre-service music had already begun judging from the sounds of things outside, and we had to get going.

"Wait here a few minutes so we don't arrive at the same time," he instructed me as he did his pants and buckled his belt.

His spent dick was shrinking rapidly and I figured that by the time he reached his seat, it would be barely noticeable, if at all.

It was too bad that I couldn't say the same for me. I pulled out a comb from my purse and tried to straighten my hair out but without a mirror it as difficult at best. Reaching down, I pulled up my panties but before getting them all the way up, I wiped some of the cum that had drained from me off my pussy with my hand so as not to stain my panties any more than necessary. It wasn't the cum stains I was worried about so much as the wet appearance it would give should anyone somehow get a view under my skirt.

Licking his cum off my fingers, it tasted pretty good. Mmmmmmm, maybe next time I should get him to shoot off in my mouth? Yes, I knew for a fact that there would be a "next time". The only real question was when and where?

Walking into the auditorium, I found the Eisenbergs and walked down to take my seat. Fortunately they had left the aisle seat open so I didn't have to make anyone move out of the way. Unfortunately I was seated next to his wife, standing guard between me and her husband. The girls were also around but they were with the rest of the youth group and would be departing immediately after the service. As we stood there singing, Kelly leaned over and whispered into my ear, her voice barely audible over the chaotic noise of the singing and the band.

"Oh my God, you already got yourself laid?" she said incredulously, "You're even more a slut that I'd given you credit. Sheesh!"

How she knew I'd just been fucked was a bit of a mystery. Maybe it was the glow I felt about me after finally getting what I'd been craving for the past couple of days. Surely she couldn't smell the sex on me with this crowd around us. My face was probably the giveaway as it was flushed so baldly I felt like I had a bad sunburn.

This time I responded, but just a little as I looked back at her and grinned, letting her wonder for herself who the lucky guy was. Why she didn't put two and two together with her husband being MIA for the past half hour and now me showing up freshly fucked... well maybe she was in denial - or maybe just more clueless than I'd expected.

As we sat in the seats during the service, it was all I could do to keep from squirming as my pussy tingled in the aftermath of being fucked. Mmmmmmm, it was just like when my dad would fuck me before going to church and I could feel his cum dripping down my bare ass to the pew under me.

The worst was not being able to touch myself. It was all I could do to keeping my hands from my ultra-horny crotch! Standing up to sing a medley of songs, I could feel his cum draining from me and I knew I would have to keep Kelly from seeing my cum-stained panties later tonight when we changed clothes. Or maybe not? After all, she had correctly identified what I'd been doing today so would she really care about my panties being soaked with cum? Of course, if she WHOSE cum it was, then things would be a LOT different, that was for sure.

It was sort of symbolic having a load of adulterous cum inside me now as I sat through the service, praising God. Yes indeed, my prayers had been answered! I had been praying since I first learned about this trip that I would be fucked good and wham - I'd gotten it even before the first church service! Now tell me that if this isn't an answer to prayer, then what is? It remained to be seen what would happen next - and with who, but as it is said, the Lord works in mysterious ways.

4. Grab-and-Go Lunch

It wasn't long before I started to think that maybe this convention wasn't going to be so boring after all. The opening service was done by noon and it as time for lunch. Even though there were signs for some pretty cool places to eat right across the road, the Eisenbergs had bought meal tickets for most of the meals, some of which included a presentation of something else to do. Judging from the prices, they'd better be serving steak and caviar but unfortunately that wasn't to be the way it went. The first lunch was billed as a "Grab-and- Go" which I took to mean some sort of box lunch. Damn, for $20 it had better be a pretty darn good box!

We headed for the convention center, Kelly and Mr. Eisenberg (I just couldn't get myself to call my boss by his first name, no matter what he'd said earlier about it) broke apart and we made arrangements to meet later that day. There were some people they apparently knew that they wanted to meet so for the most part I was left to be on my own. Considering I'm not even a member of this denomination, I wasn't exactly thrilled about attending too many of the events.

The main ballroom had been split up into different sections by moveable walls and the lunch I had a ticket for was in a relatively small room crammed with tables and chairs. Before long the mob from the opening service had arrived and the room was buzzing. Someone rolled in some carts with boxes on them which I took to be our lunch and as it turned out, I was correct. Ugh, some type of green wrap, a bag of chips and some Oreo cookies. $20 for this?

"Not exactly what I suppose you were expecting?"

I turned and saw I was being addressed by some guy behind me who was inspecting his own lunch, with a look that said he was thinking about the same as I was as to its value.

"Yeah, our school serves better lunches for $3," I replied, smiling at him. He seemed to be alone and was wearing a name badge around his neck which allowed me to see he was Derek, hailing from one of the local churches in the LA area.

"I suppose now you wish you had gone home for lunch, eh?"

Derek laughed politely and just shook his head. Then he asked if I would like to join him at one of the tables and we took a seat next to each other. He seemed pretty sharp, deducing I was a school teacher based on my hint of a remark about lunch costs (at least he didn't accuse me of being a lunch lady!). We exchanged some small talk while people around us carried on their own conversations.

"You don't exactly seem like the typical delegate," Derek said, changing the subject after a conversation about the relative merits of the local restaurants.

I looked at him, not sure how to take it which made him grin and add, "I mean that nice... like most of the people here are old enough to be our parents - or grandparents for that matter."

Then he paused, as if uncertain whether to continue but then he added, "Plus let's just say you LOOK a lot better than the average delegate."

I smiled at the compliment. Actually, to NOT look better than the average delegate would require a feat of magic for a girl my age but I took it as I was sure he meant it to be - as a compliment.

"Well, you seem to be different than most guys here as well," I said back innocently, but with a sly grin that was anything but.

"Oh really?" he said, feigning ignorance, "And how am I so different?"

This time it was my turn to pause. I looked at him and took stock of what he might have to "offer". Derek looked to be a few years older than me, was good looking but not a movie star, and seemed to have a pleasant enough personality. He also had a penchant for glancing down at my boobs whenever he thought I didn't notice, just like most guys do but girls always notice anyway (we just pretend not to guys!). It didn't escape my attention that he was sitting closer to me than even the tight quarters warranted and more than once his hand "accidentally slipped" and rubbed up against my skirt-covered thigh. What the heck, what did I have to lose? It was either pace the hallways or see if I could have some fun so why not go for broke?

Putting my hand on his leg, I licked my lips and smiled at him saying, "Let's just say you look like the kind of guy that could show an out-of-town girl a good time."

Derek's eyes lit up and I could almost hear the announcer in his head proclaiming he'd just hit a home run.

"Well, I have to join a presentation at 2:30 but until then I guess I could show you a few things."

"Well... there IS one thing I'd love to see," I purred seductively. It was my turn now to rub my hand on HIS upper leg, moving upward and inward just enough so that he knew exactly where I'd like it to be instead.

This time there was no mistaking the glint in his eyes as this time he looked down at my boobs and didn't seem to car as much that I noticed. His face was slightly flushed and I noticed his breathing seemed a little heavier. There were people all around us, none of which had a clue what was happening right under their collective noses. I imagine it would have caused quite a stir if they actually DID know.

"Well, I don't think I can show you THAT right here... you know?" he teased me back.

"Well..., do you know someplace where you CAN show it to me?" I replied, keeping up the little game and advancing it forward maybe just a bit.

Greg's eye seemed to get this faraway look, as if he was staring ahead but not really seeing anything as his mind seemed to be cranking away at something or another. Then they refocused and he smiled at me.

"Maybe I do at that," he finally responded, "Follow me."

The two of us stood up to leave and worked our way through the crowd. There was a back door to the room that led to a corridor that went along the various sections that had been cordoned off. A variety of convention workers were moving things back and forth and various chairs and things were stacked, ready for the next round of presentations and talks. Derek put his hand in the small of my back and guided me towards the far end of the corridor where there were some stairs that led somewhere above us.

"I was exploring earlier and came across this place," he explained, "At the time it was a quiet place to pray but now I think it might be just what the doctor ordered."

With my heels the metal stairs were hazardous, to say the least, but Derek stayed behind me to keep me balanced I made my way to the top. No doubt the view of my ass right in front of his face provided some motivation as well! There was a small room that overlooked the entire ballroom area with various controls for lighting and who knows what else.

"I think this is where they run things during the big balls and such. For now it doesn't seem it get used at all," Derek explained, "Look... you can see everyone down there but we're above the lights so they can't see a thing so far was we are concerned."

It was like being a Peeping Tom except none of the activities below were all that interesting. Still, it seemed pretty cool that we could see and do most anything and they couldn't see us while we could see them.

"Soooooo..." Derek intoned, "What exactly was it that you wanted to see anyway?"

There may be times when I'm a bit shy but when it comes to sex and sexually-related situations, anyone who knows me will tell you that shyness has never been much an issue with me. While no doubt Derek was pretty sure he knew what I wanted to "see", still he certainly didn't seem prepared for me to be so blunt and forward about it.

"I'd love to see your dick," I blurted out, "So what do you say? How about a little show me yours and I'll show you mine."

Now THAT didn't come out quite subtle as I'd intended but he was too shocked by the first half of the statement to grasp what I could have been saying in the second half - thank goodness!

"Oh really?" he said, his voice cracking a bit.

I suppose he had never been with a girl quite so direct but then he'd never been with me before. It's surprising how guys always seem to WANT a girl to be open and forthright but then when she actually IS, they seem overwhelmed and can't handle it.

"Well... isn't that what you want Derek," I said soothingly, running my hand over his chest and down towards his waist, "Don't you want me to suck your dick?"

"Well yeah... of course," he stammered, trying to sound nonchalant but failing miserably.

"Then what are you waiting for? Show it to me Derek... show me your dick. I really DO want to see it."

He shook his head, as if trying to wake up from this dream he must have been having. No doubt he'd never had a girl, at least not one he didn't have to pay for, come right out and tell him she wanted to suck his dick. Personally I loved shocking him this way. The expression on his face was priceless!

Derek fumbled with his belt until finally he had it undone. Tired of waiting for him, I reached out and helped him undo his zipper and then grabbed the waist of his pants with both hands and pulled them down to his ankles, followed swiftly by his white cotton Fruit of the Loom underwear.

I grinned as I saw his cock was already standing proud, fully erect. Yep, no matter what a guy might say or how he might act, his dick ALWAYS was the final proof of what he was thinking about and it was obvious that Derek had been thinking about me sucking his dick for a while now - and probably more than that if he was like most guys.

"Nice dick," I complimented him as I reached out to grab it with my hand.

His shirt tails partially covered him but he held it up so as to give me an unrestricted view of his hairy crotch area, "I'm not being too forward for you, am I?"

I tried to look as if I was worried that I might have offended or maybe even embarrassed him, my sweetest and most innocent look I could conjure up. When he shook his head, unable apparently to speak at the moment, I released the inner slut in me, licking my lips in anticipation of his dick between them. He was a bit bigger than Mr. Eisenberg had been just a few hours earlier, both longer and thicker but not so much so as to be a pain in the neck (literally). Also, even though he was younger his pubic hair was much thicker and longer as well, almost like a wild bush had been planted between his legs.

"You know Derek, I LOVE dicks and I LOVE to suck them... can I suck yours now?"

It was not really a question as I would have sucked it without asking but experience told me that men loved it when I asked to suck their dicks. Guess it's that in-bred domination gene or whatever they all seem to have. Anyway, Derek nodded his head, apparently still not trusting his voice.

Using his dick like a leash, I maneuvered him to a desk and motioned for him to sit on top so I wouldn't have to kneel. (Damn, long skirts are such a pain in the neck!) He shuffled over with his pants around his ankle, almost like a shackled prisoner and indeed, with my hand gripping his cock he was entirely under my control. Pushing his legs apart after he had taken a seta, I leaned over and touched the tip of his dick with my tongue, licked it briefly and then stood up to look him in the eyes again.

"You haven't told me that you wanted me to suck your dick yet?" I scolded him mildly, "So do you or what?"

His eyes were down, watching me stroking his dick slowly and then he looked back up at me to reply, "Oh wow... you know it."

"What?" I demanded, "What do I know? Tell me Derek."

He was so confused and conflicted it was almost comical. No doubt when he tried hitting on my downstairs he had just expected to have a pleasant conversation and maybe cop a feel under the table. Now here he was, sitting bare-ass on a desk top, his cock in the hands of a girl he'd never met before. Small wonder he was having a hard time putting a coherent sentence together!

"I want you to suck it," he said meekly.

"Suck what?" I came back.

"My dick... I want you to suck my dick," he pleaded almost pathetically now. Of course he did, what man can honestly say he would NOT want his dick sucked given the opportunity? Well, none that I had met yet, that was for sure!

"That wasn't so hard to say, now was it Derek," I said more soothingly this time, stroking his dick the entire time.

"Oh wow!" he exclaimed as I leaned over and took the head of his dick in my mouth, my tongue flickering around the tip.

Bending over like this I couldn't look up but I could just imagine him staring at my mouth as it surrounded his erect dick and I took more and more of it in until I was all the way down to the base.

"Oh that feels so good," he gasped as I twisted my head around his cock, letting my tongue run all over it as I suck as hard as I could on it.

As I started to bob slowly on his cock, he hands went to touch me and I felt them reaching down and under my chest as I blew him. He had one cupping each of my boobs, caressing them as best as he could given the bra and blouse that were blocking his way. He started to unbutton my blouse but I pushed his hands away, not wanting to get undressed.

For some reason I just wanted to blow him. It's not that my pussy was fully satisfied from Mr. Eisenberg's fucking not that long ago - far from it! There was just something about Derek that told me giving him a BJ would be the highlight of his stay here and to go any further was not necessary. I was starting to think getting laid here wasn't going to be nearly as big an issue as I had feared so why not just blow him and tease him by not getting undressed myself?

After sucking him for a few minutes I stood back up again, my hand now sliding up and down his set shaft more easily than before as I looked him in the eyes, licking my lips as if I had just finished a nice mean - and I still hadn't been served dessert!

"So tell me Derek, had a girl ever sucked your dick like this before?"

His eyes opened wide and for a moment I thought I might have even seen a little fear, as if he was hiding something from me. He shook his head and my Spidey sense was tingling - not to mention my pussy as well.

"Has a girl EVER sucked your dick before?" I asked, just a shot in the dark but from his reaction, I knew I'd hit the mark.

"No... never," he said softly, his eyes averting as if afraid to look me in the eyes. What was he hiding? Then a thought came to mind and I couldn't believe what I was I thinking but I decided to go for it anyway,

"Are you a virgin Derek?"

Jackpot!

Poor Derek looked almost like he was going to cry, maybe from embarrassment or maybe from the guilt he was feeling for what he was doing. It didn't matter to me, I was going to blow him one way or the other. On the other hand, it wasn't right of me to take his virginity if that meant so much to him. I was pretty sure I could get him to fuck me now that I had his dick under control, but I would feel guilty about it later. I AM a bit religious myself and if someone wants to save themselves for marriage, I'm prepared to honor that commitment. So far as I am concerned, a blowjob is no more sex than kissing someone so there was no harm in doing that - plus I had the satisfaction of giving him his first BJ.

"Don't worry Derek, you don't have to do anything you don't want to," I assured him in a warm voice.

Of course, that meant anything BUT refusing a BJ. I was hungry for some cum and I LOVE to suck dick so I wasn't about to let this opportunity pass by.

Without waiting for his to respond, I leaned over and went back to work on his dick. Knowing my mouth was the first to taste his cock made me all the more horny and I knew it would take a lot of willpower on my part not to have him fuck me, but I knew I could handle it. The only real question was whether Derek might become so overwhelmed with the newfound pleasure he was experiencing that he might decide the heck with saving himself for marriage, he wanted to get fucked NOW.

One of the great things about sucking a guy for his first time is to see the look on his face, the glazed eyes and open mouth as they experience something they had only dreamed about until now. EVERY guy wants his dick sucked, I don't care what they may try to say. Just look at how many guys get to fuck their wives and girlfriends regularly but still complain they aren't satisfied because she won't suck their cock!

As I sucked Derek I would look up at him, stroking his dick with my hand, just to see him looking down at me with awe, as if he couldn't believe this was happening to him. I smiled at him, trying to imagine what was going through his mind. Hmmm, probably something like, "Dear Penthouse, I never thought this would happen to me but..."

I doubted he would last long and while at his age he could probably recover quickly, odds were once he shot his load the lust would vanish and he would never go for anything more, at least not now. While I respected his morals so far as saving his virginity for marriage, it was still like waving a red flag in front of me, like he was almost daring me to see if I could crush his willpower and seduce him into fucking me. Never one to turn down a challenge, I felt I at least owed it to myself and my self-esteem to see how far I could drive him, even if I didn't actually fuck him.

"Would you like to fuck me Derek," I whispered hoarsely as my hand slid up and down his wet dick.

He just stared at me, as if he didn't know how to answer so I kept up the pressure saying, "Look how hard your dick is Derek... you love me sucking it... don't you?" He nodded eagerly and so I continued, "If it feels this good in my mouth... just imagine how it would feel in my pussy."

"No... I can't," he groaned, not very convincingly though. He was on the edge and we both knew it. I bent back down and gave him a few more head bobs, cupping his hairy balls in my hand as I did, gently massaging them as I took his entire dick in my mouth before rising back up to face him.

"You know you want me, don't you Derek... you know you want to fuck me," I pressed on.

"Oh god yes, I do... I want so bad to fuck you<' he moaned, his eyes rolling back in his head as my hand slide on his shaft. The he bit his lip and tried to keep control. "But I can't... I promised and I can't."

"No one has to know Derek," I countered, "You can fuck me and we'll never see each other again. God I want your dick inside of me Derek. Oh Derek, please fuck me, I need it so bad, I need your dick inside my pussy. I need YOUR dick Derek."

I took his hand with my free one and pushed it up under my skirt. He didn't resist as I drew it up against my crotch, letting him feel the warmth of my pussy through my panties.

"Feel how hot I am Derek?" I asked him in a husky, lust-filled voice, "I'm that way because of you... because I want you to fuck me Derek... Oh PLEASE fuck me Derek, PLEASE!"

The words every man wants to hear - "fuck me". Derek was no exception. Between the blowjob and hand-job I was giving him, the warmth of my crotch against his hand, and my voice pleading for his dick to be in me was too much for the poor boy and he finally caved.

"OK, I'll do it," he gasped, as if releasing all the built up tension within him, "I want to fuck you so bad."

He would have done it at that point, I am sure. All I had to do was pull my panties to the side, turn around, and sit down on his dick and he would have fucked me for sure. My heart was pounding and I felt so naughty, yet so sexy at the same time.

Instead of riding his dick, though, I leaned over and resumed my blowjob with renewed fervor. It had to be confusing to him as now that he had gone over the edge, he more than likely couldn't wait to get his dick in me but little did he know that today was not going to be the day he lost his virginity. I knew he would have given it to me, that he couldn't resist me and was willing to break the most solemn promise he had yet to make before getting married and THAT was what counted so far as I was concerned.

It wasn't long before I realized even the question of fucking me was becoming moot. Poor Derek couldn't control himself any more than some poor high school boy getting to 3rd base for the first time. After only a few minutes more of me seriously sucking his cock he suddenly exploded, flooding my mouth with his virgin cum. Actually, it surprised me more that I was surprised as usually I pride myself on being able to detect the often subtle signs that a man is about to orgasm. Fortunately I didn't have him too far in my mouth when he first came so I didn't gag or cough as he shot one load after another into my mouth like a seminal machine gun. Knowing he was watching everything, I let some of his cum drip out of my mouth onto his shaft and let it drip down a bit before bending over and taking him once again in my mouth, cleaning off every drop of his cum from his dick.

"Oh god, stop, I can't take anymore," he gasped as I continued to suck his now super-sensitive dick.

As he was done and I'd gotten all the cum he had to offer, I straightened up and I could feel the cum dripping down my chin. My hand quickly rose to wipe it off so it wouldn't fall onto my clothes or his, then I slowly put my fingers in my mouth so he could see me licking his cum off of them.

"I'm sorry, I didn't mean to cum so quick... I couldn't stop myself... I wanted to fuck you," he tried to explain, apparently worried I might have been unhappy that he had cum so quick.

Actually, had he actually BEEN fucking me then I might have been a little disappointed at the quick reaction but it only made the blowjob easier for me so I wasn't complaining.

"Don't apologize, you were perfect Derek," I said soothingly, licking my lips like a cat finishing off the milk in its bowl, "Mmmmmmm, your cum tastes so good."

Making sure he was watching, I swallowed down his remaining cum and then opened my mouth, sticking out my tongue to show I had swallowed it all, like when someone gives you a pill and wants to be sure you took it.

"Wow... you swallowed it all?" he asked, almost incredulously like he was surprised. Damn, didn't the guy watch porn videos?

"Sure, I LOVE cum," I replied, "Besides, this is a lot better than just wasting it on the floor, don't you agree?"

He was now looking at me like I was some sort of alien, as if he couldn't believe what I had just done and said.

"So what do you have to say Derek," I probed, "Was your first blowjob OK?"

"Oh yeah," he said quickly, snapping out of his reverie, "Man, you were great! I never knew it would feel that good"

I wondered if he realized that the next girl might not suck his dick as aggressively as I did, that she might not be able to take all of him in, that she might not let him cum in her ,mouth? Hopefully he wouldn't be disappointed with her, whoever she may be, but then if she SHOULD be his new bride, I have to say I wouldn't mind that he was comparing her to me in their wedding bed!

As I had predicted, any thoughts of a "Round 2" which might include fucking me were not even brought up as he stood up and quickly pulled his pants back up and did his belt. My pussy was throbbing while it was like when he came, all his lust drained out of him along with his cum. Typical guy!

"Sure you don't want to fuck me now?" I teased him anyway. Of course I knew what the answer would be but I couldn't resist myself.

"You don't understands... I promised I would save myself for marriage," he pleaded with me, as if he would do it if I asked him to but he was hoping I wouldn't.

"That's OK Derek, you're cool," I said, smiling at him and reaching up to kiss him.

Our mouths met for the first time and then he pulled away, apparently not liking the fact he was tasting his own cum as our lips met. It didn't bother me, a lot of guys are that way and if anything, I found it rather amusing.

Derek looked at me as if he had something left to say. I waited patiently and finally he summoned the courage to finish what he had to say.

"Thank you Kelly," he said softly, not even able to look at me.

I put my hand under his chin and lifted his head so our eyes met. I smiled at him encouragingly and he continued, "I was weak and you could have taken advantage of me. Thank you for respecting me."

I suppose I should've felt disappointed that he hadn't fucked me. Perhaps if he hadn't been such a nice guy I would have done it with him, maybe even now as I knew it was never too late to convince a guy to fuck me. Sure, it would have been nice to get fucked again today but I'd already been laid once and I could last until evening if I had to. OK, so there was a small part of me that was telling me what an idiot I was for not taking his virginity but I had a feeling when I woke up in the morning I would feel I'd made the right decision.

With that we went back downstairs and Derek walked away without looking back. What was going through his mind? While he may have felt he had violated his "promise", I didn't feel guilty as it was just a BJ. Hopefully he would reconcile himself with that knowledge but no matter what, I had a feeling I knew what the subject of his masturbation session were going to be for a long time!

5. Debate in the Exhibit Hall

Well, the day was barely behalf-over and so far I'd been fucked once and swallowed a massive load of cum - from a different guy, and a virgin, at that. Not a bad start considering I'd started the day out expecting it be boring and uneventful! Actually I shouldn't have been surprised. Over the years I'd found that some of the most outwardly "religious" men are actually the ones who are the first to want to get in my panties and cheat on their wives. It's like they're wound springs, waiting for the right opportunity to release all that pent up desire and lust that they have been pushing away, trying to pretend that they don't have such feelings, that somehow they are affected the same way as other men when they see a sexy girl. Now I was surrounded by hundreds of such men and I was starting to wonder if this wasn't going to be like shooting fish in a barrel!

The main exhibit hall opened soon after I'd finished sucking Derek's cock and swallowing his cum so it was with a renewed spirit that I went in to survey the area. As I entered I passed by the Eisenbergs and stopped to say hello. Mr. Eisenberg was engaged in some deep philosophical discussion so Kelly took the opportunity to try to push my buttons.

"So... get laid again slut?"

By now I was beginning to get an idea that our relationship was going to be rather tense for the rest of the trip so I figured I had nothing to lose. Grinning back at her I looked around to ensure nobody was listening in and answered, "Well, not laid but I did just give a guy a great blowjob. He came in my mouth.. wanna see?"

I acted as though I was going to open my mouth and stick out my tongue for her. Of course by now all that was left in my mouth was the aftertaste but my threat was enough to make her gasp and put her hand up to stop me.

"And you call yourself a Christian?" she said, the tone of disgust heavy in her voice.

"Just using the gifts God gave me," I said with a smirk.

It was like two gladiators sparring - thrust and counter-thrust. If she thought she could shame me then she had another thought coming. I had long ago come to grips with the delicate balance between my religious and sexual morals. Indeed, I felt exactly as I'd just said. I feel blessed by God for giving me the body I have and the opportunity to use it. Why give me such things if I wasn't meant to use it? I wasn't being a prostitute. Men were happy to fuck me and I certainly enjoyed it so what harm was being done? I have no musical talents, the only athletic skill I possess is waterskiing, I certainly can't sing and I can't draw or paint for anything. My body and sexual skills are my biggest "gift" from God and as such, I fully intended to use them!

"I don't think it works quite that way," she started to argue with me but just then Mr. Eisenberg interrupted.

"Hey, is everything OK?" he asked, a look of concern on his face.

"Just debating how we use the gifts of the Spirit," I responded before his Kelly had a chance.

She glowered at me but then smiled sweetly at her husband, taking him by the arm and steering him well clear of me. As they walked away, she turned her head around and I could clearly make out her lips as she mouthed, "Stay away from him." It was all I could do not to laugh and run up and tell her he'd already fucked me today so she was too late but that would have not accomplished anything so I just smiled and walked away.

It took about ten minutes to figure out that this place was about as boring as it comes. It may have helped had I been of this denomination but as it was, I didn't see much that interested me so I walked back outside again and felt the warm sun on my face. Thoughts of Derek's dick erupting unexpectedly in my mouth dominated my thoughts and I closed my eyes, standing there in the middle of the crowd as I dreamed of how it might have been to fuck him.

Then I thought about Kelly. God, what a witch! I really wished that somehow I could tell her what me and her husband had been doing but as delicious as it might be for a few moments, I knew it would only result in him getting a divorce and me being unemployed. Still, it was a fun fantasy to think about when you're standing outside in the warm California sun!

6. Riding the Bus

The sun was getting hot and so I moved to the shade to try and decide what to do next. Hmmm, there was more than two hours to go before I was to meet the Eisenbergs to drive back to the RV park and I doubted Mrs. Eisenberg had any desire for me to join them one minute earlier than scheduled. Thoughts of finding some place to masturbate entered my mind as they usually do whenever I am bored. I supposed that I could hunt down another restroom but it's too hard to keep quiet enough such that the echoes of the tiled and metal rooms didn't betray your activities to the rest of the women, especially as crowded as they would be today.

Looking around, I noticed something that I hadn't seen before. A red bus was parked on the street with a sign for the convention in the window. Then I remembered that during the service they had made an announcement that there would be shuttle buses running between the convention center and the various hotels. It didn't look like too many people were interested in it now but I imagined as the afternoon wore on and people got tired that they would get more full. In the meantime, my mind was working its way towards another adventurous idea...

Waling over to the bus, I asked the driver standing outside the door whether he was a convention shuttle and he confirmed it for me. He mentioned which hotels he would be going to but it didn't matter to me. I was looking for the ride, not the destination. So long as he eventually returned here, where he went between time was immaterial to me.

Stepping inside, I saw it was empty at the moment, but he had it idling and the air conditioning was running so it wasn't stuffy or anything like that. I found a seat about two-thirds of the way back and settled in, leaning the seta back like was back on the plane again. It was actually quite comfortable, a tour bus and not some school bus with those impossibly hard seats.

Once again, I started to think about Derek and how good it had felt to be the first girl to suck his dick. I closed my eyes and lifted my skirt up. Mmmmmmm, it felt so good to expose my upper thighs to the cool air! Reaching down, I pulled my panties over to the side, exposing my shaved pussy. Touching my clit gently, I practically jumped out of the seat it was so sensitive.

It was a good thing Derek wasn't seated next to me as I doubted I could have restrained myself at this point. I had no doubts that had I really wanted it that I could have convince him to fuck me, marriage promise to not. As I touched myself I started to wonder if I had made the right decision!

For a girl to fuck a guy for his first time, it's not like when guys gets to take a girl's virginity. Of course, one major difference is there's nothing to PROVE he's a virgin, you just have to take his word for it. I have found in the few cases where I was a guy's first that their reaction to the situation was too genuine for me to even consider that they might be faking it. Derek's eyes told me everything - he was scared stiff! Another thing is that a guy doesn't have to worry about the pain that a girl has to suffer her first time. Guys are pretty lucky there -they get all the pleasure from the git-go!

For me, being a guy's first is just something special in that you know that no matter how many girls follow you, that no matter who he may marry, he will never forget his first girl or his first time. It's like you are becoming a tattoo in his life-long historical record, something he can never forget or erase. Seeing the look on a guy's face the first time his dick is inside of me is priceless, like they have found the Holy Grail. Then, when I tell them that they can come inside of me, it's almost like they are overwhelmed, their deepest fantasies being fulfilled.

Yes, I would've loved being Derek's first but at the same time, I knew deep in my heart there would be at least a twinge of guilt in that I knew he was trying to save himself for marriage and it wasn't fair to hit him with such an opportunity that he simply wouldn't have the willpower to refuse.

Still, that didn't mean I couldn't dream about it! All alone on the bus, I imaged him entering, on his way to the hotel. He was surprised to see me and I could see from the look on his face the first thing that entered his mind must have been the memory of his cock spewing his first load of cum into my mouth. Taking a seat next to me, he watches as I continue to masturbate, seeing a girl (at least a real girl and not some porn star), touching her pussy for the first time.

I pushed my finger inside of me, imagining the expression on Derek's face as he realized what I was doing. Then I tasted myself on my finger, thoughts of offering it to Derek to taste his first pussy crossing my mind. Mmmmmmm, I tasted and smelled SO good. It seemed that the hornier I got, the better my pussy tasted and tight now it was simply delicious!

I heard a sound up front and watched as the driver came back on-board. He looked back at me, probably wondering why I was sitting so far back, but he didn't say a word except to warn me that we would be leaving in a few minutes. I told him it was OK with me and sure enough, we were soon underway. I turned my head to watch outside at the people and cars going by.

Meanwhile, my hand was back on my pussy, caressing myself as I masturbated all the more. I wondered what the people out there would say if they had any idea what the woman looking out at them was doing inside the bus? No doubt none of them would have guessed correctly had you given them a thousand tries to answer. The bus driver was intent on the traffic and he didn't seem to pay any attention to me so I decided to make things a bit easier and slipped off my panties, tucking them into my purse.

The seat felt cool against my now bare butt as I leaned further back and put my feet on the seat ahead of me. My skirt was bunched up around my waist, exposing my crotch and pussy to anyone who might have been there but the bus was empty so nobody was getting the show as I closed my eyes once again and masturbated all the more, thoughts of Derek fucking me for the first time once again passing through.

God I was horny. For a moment I briefly considered moving to the front of the bus and seeing the driver was interested in a show but that nasty thought quickly went away - way too risky with all the traffic. About the last thing I needed was to explain to the cops why the driver was in an accident because the girl behind him was masturbating!

Instead, I just played with myself all the more and this time I started thinking of the Eisenbergs. Wouldn't it be cool if they were on the bus now? Mr. Eisenberg wouldn't be surprised, he knew I was a slut and for that matter, Mrs. Eisenberg probably wouldn't be so much surprised as shocked that I would actually do it in front of them. Heck, it was my fantasy so instead, she sat next to me and we had a masturbation contest while her husband watched and 'scored", the "winner" to get to have him fuck her.

I was just about there, almost ready to cum, when we pulled up in front of a Hilton hotel and the driver stood up to announce we had arrived. As much as I wanted to continue, I saw there was a line of people waiting to get on to ride back to the convention center so I let my feet down onto the floor again and straightened out my skirt. About eight or so people got on board, apparently all in one group as they all sat together in the front of the bus, talking to one another while ignoring me. We sat there for about five minutes as my pussy twitched, waiting impatiently for me to finish up what I had started.

Finally the bus pulled out and I figured I had maybe ten minutes at most before we were back at the convention center. With the people up front engaged in their discussion, I resumed my position, pulling my skirt back up again. If anything, having them just a few seats ahead of me made it even more erotic for more and in my mind, I fantasized about their reactions had they known what I was doing. Imagine, a girl masturbating just a few feet away from them as they rode on their way to a church convention!

About three blocks before our destination I finally came, pressing my feet hard against the seat ahead of me as my body tensed and my orgasm drove through me. Usually I close my eyes when I cum while masturbating but this time I tried to keep them open so I could see the people ahead of me, totally oblivious to what I was doing just a few seats behind them. I was still cumming when the bus arrived although things were starting to calm down just a little.

By the time the people had gotten off and a fresh batch began to board I was composed enough to drop my feet and lower my skirt. Damn, you would think that with all I'd done earlier that I wouldn't have needed to do myself so badly but if anything, it seemed I had been craving it all the more. Even now, with my pussy practically dripping after my orgasm, I was STILL horny, maybe even hornier than when I had gotten on the bus.

This time the people spread out more on the bus so my little private section was no longer so private. With people around me it was pretty well impossible to slip my panties back on so I just got off the bus with them still in my purse. Walking out onto the plaza towards the convention center, a slight breeze blew and I could feel it coming up under my skirt against my bare pussy. Being damp, the air felt even cooler and I shivered although more from the tingling sensation it created INSIDE me than actually being cold.

7. Day's End

A while later I met the Eisenbergs and we drove back to the RV park, sans kids Kelly just ignored me the entire trip so I sat in the back seat quietly, not trying to make an issue out anything. Later, Mr. Eisenberg left the trailer to allow the two of us (well, more like me) to change and get into bed. As much as I would have preferred to sleep nude, I knew when packing back home that THAT was pretty much out of the question so I had brought along a long night shirt that came down past my knees.

Kelly watched me as I changed, having just changed herself into gym shorts and a t-shirt. While she had changed I got a good look at those boobs. Yep, they were fake but man did they look good. When she realized that the nightshirt was ALL that I was going to wear, she couldn't contain herself anymore and for the first time since this afternoon she spoke to me.

"You know slut, would it be too much for you to have a LITTLE decency and at least wear panties to bed," she said with a huff.

Well, MAYBE had she been nice, I MIGHT have considered the request (although odds were I still would have gone to bed bottomless). Yet sometimes you have to draw the line and for me, this was the place where I was going to make my stand. Arguing with her wouldn't have done any good so I just turned away and crawled under the covers, doing my best to ignore her.

Mr. Eisenberg came back in and barely said goodnight to me before Kelly was dragging him to the other end of the RV where their bed was. She wasn't taking any chances!

Between jetlag and my activities during the day, I was suddenly dog-tired. Yet as I drifted off to sleep I couldn't help but think of what a great day it had been and I wondered what the dawn would bring.

Hey, maybe these church convention weren't so boring after all!

I've never even been in a recreational vehicle (RV) before so imagine being crammed inside one with my adulterous school administrator and his family so they could save money on a hotel. Thank goodness I had time run around the park on my own one day - stopping now and then for some fun.

1. Blackmailed

It was Day Three in California, Day Two of the church convention I'd been blackmailed into attending. Without going into the all the minutiae (see the diary entries for June 25[3] and (May 24) Chapter 186: Memorable Memorial Day for all the gory details), in order to regain my teaching position at the school where I had been forced to resign last year, I had to be interviewed by the new administrator, Mr. Eisenberg.

The mere fact I was being granted an interview made me assume the previous administrator hadn't passed on the details of my "situation" back then. Thus it was more than a little shocking to learn that Mr. Eisenberg had indeed been warned about my "issues" by the his predecessor, but he claimed to be willing to overlook things provided I proved to him how badly I wanted the position.

Long story short, to get the position I was forced to "assume the position", marking another "first" for me, one I'd rather not celebrate. For the first time in my life I blatantly used sex to get myself a job. Of course, for most of my teen years onward I've never been afraid to use sex to get other things I wanted, but we're talking about dinners, clothes, and such things. This was different, this was my CAREER. I was literally sleeping with the boss. What next, fucking my way up the corporate ladder? Then again, if it worked then why not?

[3] Don't know what this entry is really called.

Granted, in my defense it wasn't my idea nor was I given much of a choice. It was a "take it or leave it" one-time offer made by Mr. Eisenberg and I was left with no viable options. The only positive side, if you can look at it that way at all, was that it WAS just sex, and not some other form of blackmail like money or who knows what. In the end (no pun intended) it wasn't all that bad and I have to admit I even enjoyed it somewhat. It didn't hurt that he was married with two young daughters - none of whom had any idea their husband or dad was such a pervert. Anyone who knows me knows that I get off being fucked by cheating husbands, especially when it's their first time, so had the circumstances been different I might have actually looked forward to it.

I suppose what bothered me was two things. First, it involved my teaching career and I always had dreamed that I would remain professional and never do anything immoral or unethical as a teacher. No flirting with students, no slutty clothes that pushed the dress code, none of that so far as my career was involved. Thus to have to sleep with someone in order to be hired offended my ideals and ruined my career plans before it had hardly begun.

Second, even though it involved a married man, my policy has always been :"once and done" when it came to a guy with a wedding ring. I know many a guy that had fucked me would have loved to do me again, and I probably would have enjoyed it as well. However, it was never my intention to be someone's mistress and I believe too much in the principles of marriage to ever want to be the reason for one to be ruined.

If anything, by doing a guy once and letting him "get it out of his system", I feel I've actually HELPED many a struggling marriage. With Mr. Eisneberg, it could easily turn into just what I was hoping to avoid, becoming his mistress.

My worst fears were realized sooner than I'd anticipated. My assumption had been that once hired, I would be "free" from Mr. Eisenberg's demands at least until the school year started. That assumption was crushed when he called to "invite" me to be a church representative at some conference in California. It was the sort of invitation you can't refuse and for the first time, it really started to hit me what kind of situation I was allowing myself to become involved with. Something in the pit of my stomach told me that this wasn't going to be the last "invitation" I received from him.

Going to a church convention was probably one of the last things on my wish list for something to do this summer. Indeed, his wife turned out to be quite the bitch, on my case from the moment she saw me and realized I wasn't some old lady from school as she had expected but rather a girl at least ten years younger than her. Trying to look past her, I soon was having a blast at the convention. Indeed, the very first day not only was I fucked by Mr. Eisenberg just before the opening session, but soon afterwards I blew a cute virgin in the overhead of the convention center ballroom, and even masturbated while being driven around town on a shuttle bus. Not a bad start for the first day!

2. Morning Cleanup

With just me the two of them (their daughters had left yesterday on some teen adventure camp thing), I'd gone to bed the night before wearing nothing more than a long white cotton nightshirt which came down to my knees when I was standing but it was so light that it had a tendency to ride up when I slept. I'm also a notorious bedcover kicker, usually waking up most mornings with all the covers at the end of my bed or pushed over the side. Apparently this morning was no different...

"Wake up slut... sheesh, cover yourself up for goodness sakes!" a voice came out of the fog of my sleepy head. "C'mon... hurry up before he gets up and sees you like this! Oh for heaven's sake, I KNEW something like this would happen."

I rubbed my eyes, trying to focus on the source of the annoying voice. For a moment I was completely disoriented, trying to figure out why my bedroom seemed so weird. Then I remembered where I was - in a damn RV in the middle of nowhere in California! The annoying voice belonged to none other than Mrs. Kelly Eisenberg, bitch extraordinaire, who was shaking me on the shoulder even harder now.

To be honest, it wasn't too hard to figure out what she was griping about. Sure enough, during the night I'd kicked the bedcovers until they were bunched up at my feet and my nightshirt had ridden up over my bare hips. Laying on my side facing the wall, my naked ass was totally exposed to anyone who might be wandering around the RV, which happened to be Mr. Eisenberg's wife Kelly at the time. (Yes, her name is Kelly - what a pain it's been already, believe me).

I suppose in the spirit of cooperation I should've pulled it down right away and avoided the inevitable conflict but she was pissing me off, threatening me and insulting me at every opportunity so I just couldn't pass up an opportunity to taunt her a bit.

"What's the matter, see something you like Kelly?" I said in a deliberately seductive tone, deliberately wiggling my butt at her.

It was all I could do to not break out laughing as she wrinkled her nose in disgust at the mere suggestion of any lesbian interests on her part.

"Oh for god' sake, you are SO disgusting," she sneered at me, "But then again it doesn't surprise me that a bitch like you would say something like that."

I suppose "a bitch like you" was her way of calling me a slut - and not in the complimentary manner I like to refer to myself when I call myself one. Instead, she used it as a means to put me down, as if she was somehow better than me. It was OK though, better women than her had called me far worse. Satisfied now that I'd gotten the reaction I was hoping for, I stood up and pulled the shirt down over my hips and let it fall to my knees on its own accord.

As I stood there, stretching and trying to get motivated to move, my boobs were pushing out and my nipples were clearly visible through the thin almost transparent cotton. I'm sure she wasn't thrilled by that but then she couldn't say anything as her boobs were doing the same through her T-shirt as well. I couldn't help but look at them, like a moth drawn to a flame. OK, my breasts aren't all that bad, a nice 34C and I'm quite happy with them after years of teenage angst, but hers were incredible, most likely a 36D or DD. I'd gotten a glimpse of them the night before as she changed and they were clearly fake, but who would say anything when they looked as magnificent as hers did? They weren't SO big as to look clownish but rather right on the borderline where without closer examination, with clothes on it was debatable whether they were real or not. Hats off to her plastic surgeon!

"And just what are you staring at?" she suddenly hissed at me like a snake striking and I realized in my morning stupor I was indeed staring at her great boobs.

She twirled around and went straight back to the other end of the RV, pulling the curtain across so I couldn't see what was going on. Looking at the clock, I saw it was only 7:00AM - damn, why did she have to wake me up so early? The first session wasn't until 10:00 so we didn't plan to leave until after nine. Heck, I could have easily slept at least another hour or more.

Now that I was awake the body functions began to kick into gear and I had to pee pretty bad, not to mention I needed a shower desperately. The RV restroom was at their end so I decided just to use the one down the road. At this ridiculously early hour, I doubted that many people would be up anyway. Gathering my towel and bag, I slipped on some flip-flops and stepped out into the blazing sunshine. Wow, it was going to be hot today!

It was only about a hundred feet or so to the bath house but that meant passing five RV sites. Amazingly, people were up and about! Some even had fires going or were already drinking cups of coffee while sitting out on their lawn chairs. I suddenly felt a little conspicuous as all I was wearing was the nightshirt and in the bright sunlight it didn't exactly hide much underneath. It also didn't help that just about every guy stared at me as I passed by - well, make that EVERY guy. My hair was a wreck, I had no makeup on, and I needed to go to the bathroom BADLY - not exactly a recipe for feeling sexy or flirting. Normally I might have slowed down and give them a better view, maybe even stop to chat a little, but at the moment I wanted just one thing - to find an empty toilet!

Making my way quickly to the bathhouse, I was surprised once again to find it full of people! God, what kind of insane people were these to get up at such early hours? Weren't they supposed to be on vacation? It was quite a collection, mostly mothers with their daughters, brushing their teeth, showering, and generally doing all the things women do to get ready in the morning. Someone said hello to me as I stepped in but I made a bee-line to the first empty stall. I didn't mean to be rude but there ARE priorities in life!

(Sorry, no details about my potty life, a girl has to have SOME secrets. Just say I felt a hell of lot better a few moments later!)

Feeling considerably less stressed, I stepped back out into the crowded room and looked for an empty shower stall. At least they didn't have a communal shower. Nightmarish images of high school Phys-ed flashed through my mind. When you're one of the last girls to get your boobs and figure, PE can be a living hell! Closing the curtain, I slipped off the nightshirt and prayed for hot water. For a few moments I thought nobody up there was listening but soon the warm water emerged and I stepped underneath, feeling better almost immediately. I washed myself down, shaved my pussy and underarms (I tend to break out and get skin irritation if I don't do them daily), and then just stood under the stream of water, closing my eyes and purging myself of all the tension and anxiety that Mrs. Eisenberg had already somehow managed to fill me with already this morning.

The water flowed down over my shoulders and drained via the cleavage between my boobs. I cupped them, one in each hand, and then pulled one up until I could just lick my nipple. Mmmmmmm, I loved my boobs to be touched and kissed, even if I had to be the one to do it. It felt good to squeeze them, pinching my nipples between my fingers and pulling on them just enough to hurt a little but then feel so good when I released them.

God! Now that my bladder wasn't hogging all the attention, I suddenly felt so horny it was like my knees wanted to collapse! Listening to the voices just outside the curtain, I wondered how many of the girls had masturbated already this morning. Indeed, part of my problem was that I'd skipped my usual wakeup masturbation time, all thanks to Mrs. Eisenberg. Then again, if she was pissed off just seeing my bare ass, imagine if she'd have come out and discovered me playing with my pussy!

While I continued to play with my boob with one hand, the other made its way to my crotch. I turned and faced the shower head, leaning back against the cold steel wall such that the stream struck me between my legs. It wasn't quite as good as nestling up under a faucet in a bath tub but it was still doing the job as I began to masturbate under the flow of warm water.

An involuntary gasp escaped me as my clit responded to the light touch of my index finger. It felt SO good to touch myself there. I recalled how as a little girl I made the discovery that literally changed my life. While I can't remember the exact date that I first learned of the incredible pleasure such a little thing was capable of giving me, it had me hooked from the git-go and I was soon masturbating like a little fiend. My mom finally had to have a sit-down with me to discuss touching myself in public - it was so hard NOT to!

As I masturbated I thought about Mrs. Eisenberg and her incredible boobs. It was such a shame that she wasn't into girls. Still, that didn't mean I couldn't fantasize about her. She was pretty hot for a woman in her mid to late thirties, obviously a regular at the gym. She also took pride in her appearance, as indicated by the boob job, and it made me marvel all the more that her husband was willing to risk his marriage with her just to fuck me but then when it comes to guys and their dicks, common sense is usually the first casualty.

Mmmmmmm, I wish instead of shaking me on the shoulder she had rubbed my bare ass, maybe moving her hand between my legs and working her finger into my pussy. Now THAT would have been a far better way to wake up, that's for sure!

When I finally came, it was with the image in my mind of her sitting on my face as her horny husband fucked me. Sure she was a bitch but god, she was such a sexy looking bitch! If I had to be at Mr. Eisenberg's beck and call (or rather his booty call), it would be a lot more fun if she was somehow included! Just the mere idea of how upset she would be if she knew I was in the shower masturbating about her was enough to make me cum yet again!

For a few minutes I didn't even hear the din that echoed through the bath house as all my thoughts and feelings were focused on my orgasm and images of being fucked by both of the Eisenbergs. Although I'd been fucked once yesterday, somehow I had this feeling inside that today was going to be better. Not sure why I felt that way, just had that feeling.

When I was finally calmed down enough to leave the shower, I toweled myself off and wrapped it around me rather than put on the dirty nightshirt again. Not that it was THAT dirty, I'd only slept the one night in it, but now that I was fresh and clean I just didn't want to put it back on again. Stepping out into the room, I saw that the crowd had diminished by almost half. I looked at my watch that was in my bag and realized I'd been in the shower for almost half an hour! Wow, I guess time really does fly when you're having fun!

The lady at the sink next to mine was nice, asking me where I was from, what I was doing and such. She was just down to earth nice and after dealing with Mrs. Eisneberg, quite refreshing. She told me the lake had a nice beach and I might be interested in going there later in the day to work on my tan. It sounded like a good idea and I filed it away for later when we got back.

Meanwhile, I still had to change and get ready for the convention so I gathered my things and started back to the RV. Most of the people I'd passed before were still out and this time I felt 100% better than I had on the way in. My bladder wasn't threatening to explode, my hair was wet but felt clean, I'd just masturbated so at least a LITTLE of that tension inside had been addressed, and overall I just felt more refreshed and relaxed. Thus as I passed a group of guys and what looked to be their teenage sons, I couldn't help but pause and say hi as they all stared at me and waved.

Besides my bubbly personality (LOL), their hospitality MIGHT have been aided by the fact I was still wearing just a towel and it barely covered what it needed to cover to keep me from being arrested for indecent public exposure. They asked me if I wanted to have a seat, I politely refused. Not only was I on the clock, but I knew if I tried sitting down in just the towel that what little coverage it was now affording would be forfeited. Of course, I'm sure THAT thought never entered their minds when they extended the invitation. As I waved goodbye, they invited me back anytime. I didn't see any signs of females so I could only imagine what might await me should I return!

Back in the RV, the Eisenbergs were both dressed and Kelly was obviously flustered once again by me.

"About time you got back, did you have to go to the next county or what?" she fumed.

Mr. Eisneberg tried to say something to defend me but she cut him off saying, "Good grief, you walked around like THAT? What will people say if they find out you're with us and who we represent - do you ever bother to think of anyone else besides yourself?"

I just sighed and they left the RV for me to get dressed. What a bitch! I threw on some capris and a cute blouse, dried my hair, fixed my makeup and finally emerged from the RV where they were waiting in the car for me, and not very patiently, at least not Kelly.

"You know, we ARE here for the convention and the session this morning is VERY important. The least you could do is be ready on time," she fussed.

I settled back in the back seat without saying a word and soon she just ignored me as we drove back into town.

3. The Lake

We attended the morning session which was dominated by some important vote, at least important to the rest of the people there. Personally I could have cared less about it and I even gave my vote card to Mr. Eisenberg so he could cast it however the church wanted the vote to be.

Afterwards we went straight back to the car and drove back to the RV park so not a lot happened. Neither of them were interested in the afternoon activities and I think they both wanted some R&R time for themselves, which I certainly wasn't about to argue against. They had noticed on the way into the park that a place was advertising private hot tubs so I had a feeling the two of them would be heading that way. Sure enough, not long after we returned they took off in car, saying they would be back later in the afternoon.

That pretty much left me on my own - which was fine with me. I remembered the remark the woman had made earlier in the day about the beach at the lake so I figured why not work on the ol' tan a bit? I'd brought a modest bikini, at least modest by MY standards. It had a halter style top with strings that tied behind my neck and back. Up front it pretty much covered my boobs but not any more than necessary, providing plenty of cleavage. The bottoms didn't qualify as a thong but were high cut on the hips and the back was wide enough to cover most of my rear with strings on the side. It was jet black, my favorite color for a bikini as it complimented my skin complexion, at least when I had a decent tan. A basic pair of sandals completed my "outfit".

I'd brought with me a beach towel which I draped around my neck. In my bag was my suntan oil, a hair brush, comb, a paperback I'd meaning to read forever but just never seemed to get into, chap-stick, and a collection of other things that just seemed to accumulate over time. A pair of sandal, sunglasses, and I was on my way.

I only had a vague idea of where the beach was so I started walking down the road. It was the same general direction as the bathhouse and as I passed by the site with all the guys, once again they were all out there sitting in their chairs, the inevitable beer in their hands, and loud country music playing. I smiled at them as they leered nastily at me and a couple of wolf whistles rang out. It was fun to tease them but to be honest, that was about all the interest they held for me.

Further down the road I saw a sign for the beach and around the bend I saw my destination. It wasn't exactly my idea of a California beach, more like some sand that had been spread out along the shoreline of an area of the lake that had been marked off by buoys to keep the boats away. It wasn't exactly crowded but there were a number of families which seemed to be profile of most everyone there. From the looks of things I was the only single girl there on her own. Most of the families were actually moms and kids although a few dads were represented as well. The average age of the kids appeared to be under ten, although a few teenagers were there, mostly boys.

I spread out my towel and laid down on my stomach facing the water. It didn't exactly look inviting but then it was a lake, not a swimming pool. I didn't mind lakes for swimming when I was younger but to be frank, a clean pool was more my ideal today. Sure, a lake was fine for waterskiing, but to just walk around and swim in the dark water wasn't all that inviting.

The sun felt warm on my back and legs and I remembered that this was southern California, not Pennsylvania, so I'd better be careful. By this time of year I'd worked on my tan pretty well so I wasn't worried about burning but you never can be too careful. Nothing looks worse on a girl than peeling skin! At the same time, I really didn't feel like covering myself with oily suntan lotion yet as I wasn't sure how long I'd be staying here. It was rather disappointing and I may as well lay out next to the RV as here.

The warmth of the sun was soothing and I was about to fall asleep when the whine of a ski boat shook me out of the daze I was in. I got up on my elbows and watched with envy as the boat whizzed pulling what looked to be a twenty-something guy on a slalom ski. He was pretty good - and knew it, as he jumped the wake and showed off for the folks on the beach. They stayed well clear of the beach zone but the wake still generated some small waves on the beach, much to the delight of some little kids playing at the edge. I sighed and thought about my dad's boat back home. Summer was almost half over and we had yet to go out in it. Hmmm, something I would have to pester him about when I got home.

Nice boat," a deep voice commented to the side of me.

I turned my head and saw a guy who looked to be about my age or so squatting down a few feet from me, watching the boat go by through dark sunglasses. I quickly took stock of him - nice tan, average height with a muscular build, short blond hair, shaved torso and a smile that immediately made my heart skip.

"Do you ski?" he asked, seeing that he had my attention.

I replied, saying I did but hadn't had a chance this summer yet and that I was envious of the people on that boat.

"Yeah, I know how you feel," he said, nodding his head, "This is the first weekend I've had mine out this year."

Immediately I had a feeling where this conversation might be going but then I can't say I wasn't hoping that it would. I'd only been her less than half an hour and already I was bored stiff. Seeing the boats on the lake made me a bit homesick, or at least made me wish I was home on our lake with my dad and family. I thought of some of the hot times we'd had over the years and how much better it would be to do something like that this weekend instead of laying out alone on a kid's beach.

I decided to take the bait and see where I landed so I asked him what kind of boat he had. He described it and mentioned it was just him and a couple of friends. Apparently his parents had one of those "permanent" RV sites and he was here visiting them for the weekend. Then he casually mentioned that some of his friends were due to arrive in a little bit to go out on his boat that he kept at the marina. He paused and looked at me after throwing out that little tidbit, as if waiting to see how I would react.

My mind raced and I knew my next words would determine whether this was just a casual conversation or perhaps something that might lead to a more interesting afternoon. He seemed to be a nice guy and the more he spoke and I looked at him, the more I wanted to get to know him better.

"Do you have room for one more?" I asked softly with a shy grin.

He returned the smile and answered, "Of course, there's always room for a beautiful girl."

Sure, it was a bit of a hokey come-on but still, I liked hearing it anyway. Then I asked him if his girlfriend would mind me butting in. He frowned a little and shook his head, explaining he was just coming off a rather messy breakup with a girl he'd been seeing for a couple of years. Whether it was true or not, I had no idea, but at least it told me I wouldn't be getting into some kind of cat fight with a jealous girlfriend.

Riley, as he had introduced himself earlier, helped me gather my things and as I stood up I noticed him giving me the once-over. Damn, now I wished I'd brought my skimpier bikini! Not that this one didn't show plenty of me, but the bottoms especially were far too conservative when it came to showing off. Sure, some guys claimed to like the more "mysterious" look of a conservative bikini but I knew better - the more skin showing, the more they liked it.

Riley was wearing a baggy swimsuit that was more like shorts, coming down almost to his knees. It rode low on his waist and I felt a little twinge when I saw the thin line of dark hair leading down from his belly button, knowing that as it disappeared into his shorts that it lead to something a LOT hairier, and a LOT more interesting. As baggy as the suit was, he could have had a full erection and it might not have shown so I had no idea what he was packing between his legs. Would I find out later?

As we left the beach and headed for the parking lot, I found myself wondering why he had been at the beach in the first place. I hadn't seen him when I got there, I am SURE would have noticed someone like him, so he must have arrived after I'd laid down. He wasn't carrying anything and his shorts were dry so the water hadn't interested him nor did he seem to have plans for staying any length of time. Had he stopped by just to see if he could pick up a girl?

As we approached his pickup truck, he explained his parents had their RV set up at the other end of the park so rather than walk it was easier to drive. Suddenly my heart rate sped up and my mouth felt a bit dry. Did he REALLY have a boat? Was he REALLY staying with his parents? Here I was, getting into a truck with a total stranger thousands of miles from home, with nobody around to even call out to. It was like a plot from a bad horror film.

Common sense dictated that I make up some excuse about forgetting I had to be somewhere and leave before getting myself in over my head. Yet at the same time, he seemed sincere. Of course, don't all serial rapist seem sincere on TV? Then again, I WAS horny and this looked like my best prospect of the afternoon, unless I wanted to go back to the NASCAR gang and play the role of their wanton slut. I giggled at that thought, the image of me with that bunch of rednecks was more amusing than erotic.

By then, we were at the truck and Riley had opened the passenger to let me in. For some reason I looked quick to make sure there was a door handle (too many teen scream movies I guess) and then hopped in as he shut the door behind me.

As it turned out, my worries were for naught. His parents did indeed had an RV, it WAS quite a drive so I was glad we didn't have to walk, and the more I talked with Riley and then met his parents, the more I liked him. I was still in my bikini when he introduced me to his parents as I hadn't even brought a pair of shorts with me. They were older than I'd expected, maybe in their late fifties, but it's hard to tell withholder people. His mom was sweet to me while his dad obviously liked to look at young girls, especially their bottoms judging from the way his eyes drilled in on my ass whenever he thought he could get away with it.

We hadn't been there but a few minutes when another pickup pulled in and two more guys jumped out. The driver looked to be about the same age as Riley while the second was a teenager, probably still in high school from his looks although he was the tallest of the guys and thin as a rail. Riley introduced me to Ray and then his younger brother Marc (Marc specifically made sure to say it was spelled with a "c", as if that made some difference to him.) If they were surprised to see me, they hid it well although Marc in particular seemed the most interested, practically staring at my chest as if he didn't even care who saw him.

Not wanting to waste any more of the afternoon sun, after some brief hellos I got back in Riley's truck and we drove to the marina while Ray and Marc rode in the back. Sure enough, Riley DID have a boat and it was a beauty, one of those designed just for skiing with the pole in the center a sleek line that just looked fast. I'd never been in a boat like it before, let alone ski behind one, so I was pretty excited as we climbed on board.

Ray carried a cooler from the back of Riley's pickup and that was about all we had to do before taking off. Apparently Riley had been down earlier to gas it up and get the skis and such ready so as soon as we were all on-board we were off for the center of the lake.

Riley, of course, was driving, with Ray in the passenger seat to his left. That left me and Marc in the back seat which ran across the back end. There really wasn't an incredible amount of seating in the boat but then it was a ski boat, not a party boat Most of the rear end was covered with the engine underneath. The inboard was a lot quieter than the outboard was on my dad's boat but still noisy enough to make conversation difficult so we all just road in silence for the short trip. I don't think Marc's eyes came off my chest once the entire trip except for one time when we hit a wake and I was tossed to the side and my rear end pointed towards him. THAT got his attention!

Surprisingly there weren't many boats out given the nice weather and the fact it was a weekend. Back home a lake like this would have been swarming with boats, making skiing a bit of pain as you constantly fought the wakes from all the boats. I saw maybe three other boats in all and the lake surface was relatively calm - a great skiing day!

Stopping the boat finally, Marc was the first to put on a ski jacket. I was curious how he would do with his tall, thin build. He didn't look all that strong, not that he looked weak, just a bit ungainly as if he was still growing into his maturing body. As it turned out he was obvious an experienced skier and I was as impressed as I was surprised. When he got back in the boat and Ray took his place, he was panting from the exertion. I congratulated him on his skiing abilities and he seemed happy to have won my approval.

Ray was equally skilled, if not more so than his younger brother. As he was preparing to go, I had a chance to talk to Marc a bit and learned he had just turned 18 a few days before and had just graduated from high school. All the while we talked his eyes kept dropping down to my chest, as if he'd never seen a girl's boobs before. His rapt attention was too much of an opportunity to pass up so as Ray got started, I 'adjusted" my top as if it was not feeling right, grabbing the top of each cup and pulling it out and then up and over to get my boobs repositioned inside. In the process, my right breast "accidentally" spilled out for a moment and I quickly pushed it back in, smiling shyly at Marc as if I was embarrassed.

Riley was too busy driving and Ray was too far back behind the boat to notice what had happened as Marc's eyes widened with his momentary glimpse of my white skinned breast and hardened brown nipple.

Given the positive reaction my simple move had received from Marc, it emboldened me to tease him a little more. I reached to the side and untied my bottoms on that side, and then retied them as if they had been too loose. Of course in the process I pulled out on the strings and exposed just a hint of my crotch, enough for someone to see that I was either shaved or pretty darn close to it. Actually, I had loosened them rather than tightening, and in the process I noted that Marc wasn't opposed to looking at my bottom as much as my chest!

Before I could go any further, Ray took a spill and it was my turn to go. I had to tighten the ski jacket quite a bit after Ray and it still was pretty loose on me. The lake water was warmer than I'd expected and before long I was up on my single ski and having a blast. I may be a klutz at virtually every sport but this was the one thing I CAN do - water ski. Ray and Marc kept their attention on me the whole time and I was sure it was more than just acting as lookouts for my safety.

With my loosening of my ties on my bottoms, as I skied they started to drop and I had to hold on to the handle with one hand while reaching back and pulling them up with the other. Finally, my arms tired and there was one bump to many and I was down and in the water. As I waited for the boat to circle, I reached underwater and loosened the tie on the other side even more, smiling to myself as I did.

Riley maneuvered the boat up alongside me and Ray dropped the ladder over the side for me to climb back in. As I worked my way over the top, the combination of my bottoms being heavier now that they were wet, coupled together with the slickness of my wet skin, created exactly the results I'd been hoping for - my bottoms feel down to my knees! As I crawled into the boat, the guys helped me in but they seemed uncertain what to do about my bikini bottom falling down. Then to make things 'worse", as I finally got on my feet the bottoms fell all the way down to my feet.

"Oops!" I said flashing a toothy grin as I reached down to pull them back up again.

Whether it was the surprise that caught them off guard or whatever, all three of them never took their eyes off my bare ass the entire time, not even pretending to look away.

"You know, you don't have to pull them back up on OUR account," Ray said, trying to sound like he was just joking but with no doubt with an element of hope as well.

I loosened the ski jacket and Riley helped me out of it. Once again I 'adjusted" my bikini top, making sure they saw as much as possible but not actually allowing anything to pop out this time. I reached behind my neck, undoing the tie and acting as though I needed to redo it but then I had another "accident", dropping the ties and the top immediately fell down and exposed my bare boobs to them all. I hesitated a second, as if I was surprised but just long enough for them to get a good look, and then pulled it back up and retied the strings behind my neck, this time more securely.

"Sorry, I just can't seem to keep my bikini on," I teased them, taking a seat next to Marc.

I looked down and he had a very noticeable erection, even though his shorts I could detect a more tent-like appearance now as the "pole" underneath was raised. Unfortunately I couldn't see Ray or Riley well enough to see if they were reacting in a similar manner as they were now sitting in the seat, twisted around to watch me. Somehow I had a feeling they were nursing their own erections - at least they had better be!

"Well, as Ray was saying so indelicately, I hope you don't think you're required to wear that for OUR sakes," Riley chimed in this time.

They all laughed as if he was just joking but I had no doubt what he meant by it - and I'm sure the other two felt the same way.

"What do you mean guys?... are you all saying that you want me to take it off?" I teased them, "Like... we're out in the idle of the lake! Gosh, I'd be naked. What if somebody sees me!"

Ray looked around as if to emphasize the fact we were pretty much alone as the other boats had moved off a ways since we'd started. I looked over at Marc who was silent but from the expression on his face, there wasn't much doubt what HE was hoping for. Well, the dumb blonde routine seemed to be working so far so I continued...

"Wow... are you SURE it's OK if I get naked?" I asked Riley. Yeah, like I really needed his permission to strip.

"Trust me, WE won't stop you," Riley replied, his grin getting wider with each passing moment.

What the heck. It wasn't like I hadn't thought about something like this from the time Riley had invited me out on his boat. It certainly wouldn't be the first time I'd been out in the middle of a lake undressed - and a lot more (or less?). Still, I wanted to make it a little more erotic so rather than just stripping and getting naked without any fanfare, I wanted to tease them all just a little bit more.

"Well then, so who's going to untie me?" I said in a sultry voice.

I think all three of them wanted to volunteer yet none of them wanted to appear TOO anxious in front of the others. Finally, Riley got up and approached me. Without a word he reached behind my head as if going for my top but I stopped him and pushed his hands lower.

"Bottoms first, OK?" I said, "Nobody else can see if I'm not wearing those."

It's not I was shy in the least about getting nude, but it didn't hurt to let them think I was. Riley just grinned all the more as he reached on one side of me and pulled the strings, and then to the other. My bottom was being held in place now just the friction against my skin so he grabbed the front and I raised myself off the seat to let him pull it away from me. I sat back down, keeping my legs tight together with my hands folded in my lap, nothing between me and the plastic seat.

"Well?" I asked, trying to get them to say something, "You guys like my bare butt?"

"Ummmmm, nice ass," Ray blurted out, the catching himself and looking at the others.

The three of them looked back and forth as if unsure as to what they should do next. Odds were they never had a slut like me in the boat before!

"Since you've been staring at my boobs all afternoon Marc, why don't you take my top off?" I said, smiling at Marc so as not to embarrass him TOO badly.

Still, he obviously was still a little embarrassed that I'd caught him looking at me that way judging from the redness in his face. However, that didn't stop him from quickly accepting my invitation and I twisted to one side so my back (and my bare butt) was facing him. I felt his fingers fumbling first at my neck under my hair and then in the small of my back as he undid my bikini. The top fell down and I grabbed it and put it off to the side where I would be sure to find it later. The net result was I was now naked, sitting in the boat as three obviously horny guys stared at me.

"OK, so now that I'm all naked, what next?" I asked, trying not to laugh at the way they were staring at me.

Both Ray and Riley were old enough that I was quite sure they'd seen plenty of naked girls in their life. Marc, on the other hand, was a bit of an enigma. I knew lots of guys his age that had plenty of sexual experiences but then there were plenty of others who had done little more than masturbate their way through high school. At the moment I wasn't sure which camp he fell into although I was leaning towards the heavy masturbation side.

"What's the matter guys, haven't you ever had a girl get naked in your boat before?" I teased them, still keeping my legs together but not trying to hide my breasts at all.

"Well..., now that you mention it..." Riley replied, pausing for just a moment before continuing, "No!"

"Oh? So you never even THOUGHT about me being naked when you invited me along today?" I asked, as if I would feel hurt if he hadn't - and I would have been!

"Well..." as again Riley paused before continuing, "I mean it's not like I didn't THINK about it... but you know...?

Indeed I did but it was still fun to tease him about it so I pushed on, "And so what else were you thinking about me when you were imagining me naked?"

Something told me that while Riley had certainly entertained the thought of me being naked - as likely the other two did as well since after all, they WERE guys, I doubt he ever envisioned me being quite so forward about it. What the heck, it wasn't like I had a month to let things work out over time. I really wanted them to know that I was fine with most anything they might have fantasized about so we could get down to having some REAL fun! Rather than wait for Riley to compose an answer, I decided to just lay it all out on the line.

"Look fellas, obviously I'm horny and I'm guessing you all are too," I said matter-of-factly, glancing deliberately down at the tent pole rising even higher in Marc's wet shorts, "So why don't you guys get out of those shorts and just fuck me - you KNOW you want to!"

Up until now I'd surprised them plenty and probably had we done nothing more, they would've gone home happy and masturbated about all the things they COULD have done with me. From the looks on their faces, it was now beyond the 'surprise" factor - way beyond. Marc's eye widened like saucers and he looked at his brother as if seeking his guidance.

Ray, however, was a cooler customer and while I could tell he was bit taken off-guard when I first said it, he quickly regained his composure. Then he looked at me as if he wasn't sure I was being serious or just one hell of a nasty tease.

"Alright then, if that's what you want, let's see you blow my brother first," he said, as if daring me to back up my bravado.

Marc visibly gulped, looking over at his brother as if he couldn't believe his ears.

"OK then... Marc, you heard your brother, now take off those shorts... now!" I said in a demanding tone.

I may be playing the role of the ultimate slut for them but I wasn't going to be their slave toy either. This was my party now and I wanted to be in control.

Marc hesitated and so I moved over closer to him and reached over to undo his shorts. He just sat there, as if he didn't know whether to stop me, help me, or do it himself and in the end he just remained frozen in place as I pulled his shorts down past his knees and finally to his feet and off, tossing them towards the front of the boat. Sure enough, Marc's dick was like a rigid pole, pointing straight up like a missile on the launch pad ready to go into orbit.

"So Ray, ever watch your little brother get his dick sucked?" I asked, looking back at Ray.

"Hell, I don't think HE has ever seen his dick sucked," Ray chortled as his eyes focused on my bare ass that was now aimed in his direction.

"Hmmmmmm... Is that true Marc, have you had a BJ before?" I asked, looking up at Marc.

One look at his face told me all I needed to know. Damn! Two BJ virgins in two days. I thought California was supposed to be the home of hippies and free love and wild sex!

"Well, since you're his big brother, why don't you sit over next to him and watch?" I taunted Ray. He shook his head and came back, "Nawwwwww, I don't need to see THAT up close. I prefer the view from here!"

Indeed, he wasn't look at where I now was holding Marc's dick in my hand, he was absorbed with my bare butt, even if I was keeping my legs together such that my pussy wasn't showing - at least for now. I looked up at Marc as I slowly started to stroke his dick. It wasn't anything to write home about, maybe five inches at most, but damn was it hard! That was one thing about smaller dicks, they seemed to make up for with hardness what they lacked in size.

"Soooooo, do you want me to suck your dick Marc?" I said more softly this time. He nodded but that wasn't good enough for me. "No, I want to hear you say it. Now tell me - do you or don't you want me to suck your dick?"

Marc looked at his brother again and then down at me holding his dick. I think he liked what I was doing but he didn't seem too sure about his brother watching. Still, I WAS stroking his dick and he WAS horny as hell now so he managed to get out a high-pitched, "Yes!"

"Noooooo," I corrected him again, "I said I wanted you to tell me so say it."

By now I was getting along pretty well with my hand-job and he was becoming less and less worried about his brother and more and more interested in what I was doing. "Yes, I want you to suck my dick," he finally blurted out. I smiled back in return and said, "There, that wasn't so hard was it? Not nearly so hard as your great dick."

OK, so it wasn't a GREAT dick but every guys likes to hear a girl compliment his cock and I was sure Marc was no exception. I looked back at Ray and Riley one last time, gave them a grin, and then turned back to Marc and lowered my head to his dick.

At first I just licked the tip, and then up and down his fleshy shaft with my tongue. Then I put my lips over his shaft, sort of like when you eat an ear of corn except I was careful not to bite him! I nibbled on his dick from the base to the head and then back down again before going up once more. With my eyes meeting his, I let his dick slip between my lips and into my mouth, sucking gently on the mushroomed head while I teased the tip with my tongue.

"Oh yeah, go for it Marc," his brother encouraged him.

Riley was quiet, probably wondering how he'd ever been so lucky to find a slut like me on the beach this afternoon. Well, that made us BOTH lucky I guess, didn't it? As for me, I'd never even dreamed I'd be so lucky today!

I sucked gently on Marc's dick. I knew better than to get too aggressive too soon as odds were he was ready to explode as it was. Probably not even in his wildest fantasies had he ever dreamed anything this would ever happen to him! After a while I lifted my head up and turned back to Ray and Riley.

"Hey! Are you two just going to watch or is someone going to fuck me?"

There, I'd be willing to bet pretty heavy that they'd never had a girl say THAT to them before, at least not one they hadn't paid for! It was really a lot of fun for me to act out this way, like I was a total slut and nothing was too wild for me to say or do. Of course, even I have my limits but hopefully neither of them would push hard enough to find them. Riley and Ray exchanged glances and it was Riley that finally spoke up, looking at Ray as he did.

"Well, it's YOUR brother she's blowing so I guess it's only right that you fuck her, don't you think?"

"Well, if you insist," Ray replied, as if he was doing it under duress but we all knew better than that.

Ray quickly pulled off his shorts to expose his own erection. Hmmmmmm, older brother was not only bigger overall, but a lot bigger between his legs as well. Still nothing to star in a porn flick with, but a respectable six or seven inches and considerably thicker than his younger brother's tool.

Satisfied I had "motivated" him, I went back to blowing Marc, still going slow to keep him on the edge without pushing him over. I could taste the distinctive bitterness of his precum as it began to seep from his cock so I slowed my ministrations even more to stall off his orgasm for as long as possible.

I spread my bare legs apart a bit now, giving the guys a slightly better view of my asshole and pussy but I made a point of not looking back, instead I waiting to see what would happen next. Riley and Ray just sat there for now, watching me and commenting back and forth. I don't think they thought I could hear them but it's amazing how sound carries when you're on the water, especially with the motor off and the lake so smooth.

"Damn, look at her go... that bitch really seems to love sucking dick."

"Yeah, your brother looks like he's died and gone to heaven."

"Shit, you say you found her at the BEACH? Sure you didn't hire her?"

"Hey, what can I say? Someday peanuts, someday shells! Guess I got lucky today, eh?"

(chuckles) "Looks like Marc's the one getting lucky!"

"Can you believe that ass? Looks like it gets plenty of sun too."

"Tell me about it, and you can tell that she knows we're watching... just look at the way the slut spread her legs further apart for us just now."

(more chuckles) "Hmmm, you know, I think she wants it more than you Ray. I thought you were going to fuck that fine piece of ass?"

I heard someone moving about behind me. I was tempted to look behind me but I didn't want them to know I'd been listening to every word as I held Marc's quivering cock in my mouth, using just my tongue now to play with the head. Then I felt a hand moving up between my thighs and cupping my warm crotch. His finger pressed into my pussy, sliding into me easily as wet as I was (and I don't mean from having recently being in the lake!).

"Damn, she's soaking wet Riley... guess you were right!"

I moaned as his finger explored me, the rest of his hand pressing up against my shaved crotch putting pressure on my clit. With Marc's dick in my mouth, the moan was more like a hum which drew a quick response from Marc.

"Oh fuck!" he groaned, sounding more in agony than ecstasy but I knew he was loving it from the way his hands pressed my head down further onto his stiff dick.

"She doing you good?" I heard Ray ask his brother as he pushed a second finger in me, "She's got a great pussy too... wet and tight, just the way I like 'em."

Marc wasn't in any shape to carry on a conversation. It was obvious he was ready to cum from the way he was squirming under me, his hips raising involuntarily up against my mouth, instinctively trying to drive his dick in further as if he was fucking me.

Just then Marc pulled his fingers out of me and instead used them to split my pussy lips apart. He pushed my legs further to each side and then I felt something pressing up against my pussy - the hard head of his dick. I would have loved to have seen it and maybe suck on it first but with Marc still in my mouth and Ray was far too horny for any foreplay, all of which was fine with me. As Riley had rightfully observed before, I wanted him to fuck me as much as he did - maybe more.

When Ray pushed his dick in me without any warning, I almost gagged on Marc's dick as I gasped. Damn, his dick felt bigger than it looked! It was like I was being split in two for the first instant and then as his shaft drilled into me the pain was quickly replaced with this incredible sensation of sheer pleasure that made me groan again.

"Hear that little brother... she loves my dick in her," Ray bragged to Marc, "Damn she's got a tight cunt!"

As soon as he was in me Ray started pumping his cock in and out of me, slowly at first, leaving it all the way in me for a few seconds each time before slowly pulling it almost all the way out of me before teasing me with just the tip and then slowly driving it back in. Each time it was like I was being filled with his dick only to have this terrible emptiness which was followed by that magical feeling I get when I can feel my pussy being filled by a dick once again. God it felt SO good to be fucked like this, especially with his brother's dick on the verge of exploding in my mouth at any second.

It dawned on me just then that so far as I knew, this was the first time I'd ever been fucked by brothers - at least at the same time. I've had sex with brothers before, only at separate times. In fact, I'd even fucked the brother of my very first boyfriend way back when I was just fourteen. Somehow over the years I'd never managed to get both guys at the same time so in a way, this was a milestone for me I guess you could say.

My thought train was broken when Marc finally couldn't hold back anymore. I could feel him rising up and I let about half his dick out of my mouth to make it easier to take his load. Just as I did he let out a loud gasp and the first load of cum exploded from the tip of his cock, striking the back of my throat with amazing force as if shot from a pressurized fire hose.

"Oh my God!" he groaned as he thrust his dick upward with each succeeded ejaculation.

I managed to match his movements pretty well, letting each load further fill my mouth until I let me lips loosen on his shaft just enough to allow some of it to spill out and drip down my chin onto his wonderful dick. Personally, I'd have been just as happy to let it all stay in my mouth and just swallow it down when he was done, but the hallmark of a good blowjob was not only to satisfy a guy physically, but to give him a show he'll always remember as well. As much as I knew he'd be masturbating many a time in the future as he recalled this moment, the mental image of his cum dripping down his cock as he "overflowed" my mouth with his massive load would make it just that much better.

As Marc was cumming, Ray held his dick still in me as I felt him twist to the side to get a better view of me taking his brother's load. Sure enough, he was turned on by my technique as well.

"Atta boy, that's my brother... too much cum for her to handle!" he cheered Marc on.

Marc slumped on the seat as the final load was emptied into my mouth. I went down on his spent dick, licking up the cum that covered it, causing him to jerk as another spasm was triggered by my mouth twisting around his sensitive shaft. With that I lifted my head, opening my mouth to show him the cum that had pooled on my tongue, grinning to him as I felt a bit proud of my performance.

"Let's see his cum," Ray called out so I twisted my head around to face him, opening my mouth as far as I could without losing the load of cum in it.

I grinned as I shut my mouth, swallowed it down with a couple of exaggerated gulps, and then opened my mouth again to show first Ray, and then Marc, that I'd swallowed every drop.

"Damn, will you look at that... she swallowed all your cum Marc," Ray observed, like Marc needed to be told!

Ray resumed his fucking with renewed vigor now that he'd seen me take Marc's cum. I still had my arms resting on Marc's legs and his cock remained hard just inches in front of my face, sometimes hitting me on the cheek or forehead as I was rocked back and forth when Ray thrust himself wildly in and out of me. He had his hands on my bare hips, pushing and pulling me in sync with his movements. It was tempting to take Marc's dick back in my mouth to see how he would react but Ray's cock in me was all I could concentrate on as I put one arm under me and started playing with my clit. Ray fucked me faster and faster.

"Hey, look at her play with herself," I heard Riley call out to the brothers, the first word I'd heard from his direction since Ray had started fucking my pussy.

"Yeah, she wants it alright... fucking slut," Ray replied.

Unlike when Mrs. Eisneberg called me that, I knew Ray calling me a slut was his way of complimenting me for being so hot to fuck and so I felt good that he called me that. Hey, it's not like I wasn't one - and proud to be one at that!

"Fuck me Ray... fuck me harder," I said through gritted teeth, my first words to him since his dick had entered me.

"Yeah! Give it to her... fuck the tramp," Riley cheered Ray on.

"You like my dick in your cunt, don't you?" Ray said, more a statement than a question but I responded anyway.

"Oh god yes!" I moaned in response, "I love your fat cock in my cunt."

Granted, "cunt" is not my usual term for my pussy but I knew it turned him on to hear me call it that so that's what I did. Something about a filthy mouth seemed to turn guys on, at least most guys and ray certainly seemed to fall into that category.

Suddenly he pulled out but it wasn't to cum, he had other ideas. He lifted me up off my knees and told his brother to get out of the way as he put me on my back on the seat, lifting my inner leg up onto the top of the cushion while allowing the outer one to drape over the edge, my foot on the carpeted floor of the boat. Putting one knee up between my legs, Ray gripped his dick firmly in his hand, guiding it back to my pussy which was plainly in view now for all three of them to watch.

"Let me show you how it's done Marc," Ray bragged again to his younger brother as he wiggled the head of his dick at the entrance to my pussy, teasing me and making me squirm in anticipation.

"See that, she wants it bad. Tell my brother what you want slut."

I looked over at Marc who had taken his brother's seat up front next to Riley, who was still fully dressed and showed no signs of joining in. For just a second I found myself wondering why he wasn't trying to fuck me as well but then Ray slapped his cock against my clit, sending shudders through me as he stimulated it.

"I want you in me... fucking me,,, filling my cunt with your big dick," I moaned - no acting required, that was for sure. God, I did indeed want him back in me - BADLY.

"Beg for it slut, beg me to fuck you."

Damn, he was certainly full of himself but I wasn't about to say anything because at this moment I wanted to be full of him as well. God I wanted him to fuck me - I NEEDED him to fuck me. Feeling his dick rubbing my crotch was driving me crazy with lust. God, did he have ANY idea how badly I wanted it in me?

"Please fuck me, please!" I begged - sincerely at that. "Oh my god, I NEED you to fuck me... please put it in me Ray!"

"That's better... here you go, just what you want."

With that he FINALLY pressed his dick against me and I lifted my hips up to greet it, trying to draw him inside of me so I could feel that wonderful sense of fullness and completeness again. Oh it felt so good when he was back in me! I looked over at Riley and Marc and smiled at them, my face aglow with the sheer pleasure of being fucked just to feel good. Seeing them watching me, then feeling Ray's large hand on my pulsating clit as he pumped me with his erect dick, set me off finally and I came - and I came hard!

"Oh god!" I cried out, my upper leg straightening out like I was having a cramp while I tried to steady myself on the seat with both hands as my orgasm took control.

It was like an out-of-body experience, like my body was reacting to some fantastic sensation yet I was powerless to control it or do anything but lay there with my back arched and head thrown back as Ray continued to fuck me with that fantastic cock of his.

"Damn, I think she's going to pop my cock!" Ray told the other guys as my pussy gripped his dick, trying to hold onto it and never let it out of me, "I can't believe how tights she is now!"

"Oh...my...god!" was all I could say as he shoved himself deep inside of me and then held himself there as he rotated his hips to move his dick around inside of me. It was all I could do to keep from screaming out at the top of my lungs, to tell the whole world how good Ray was fucking me.

"Mmmmmmm, look at those tits bounce," Ray observed, putting his hand on one of them shortly afterwards, "All pure, 100% made by Mother Nature too!"

Well, my boobs are exactly small any more, a pretty solid C cup most of the time depending on the bra manufacturer, but nobody would mistake them for being the results of any enhancement procedures. Still, I liked it when he complimented my boobs as most guys just focus on my pussy and ass.

Keeping his dick in me, Ray leaned over and licked my nipple with his tongue and then sucked on it between his lips, pulling on it with his teeth just enough to hurt but still feel good at the same time. My orgasm was beginning to dwindle by then but his mouth on my breast revitalized it, sending me back over the top once again. Between his mouth on my breast and his dick filling my pussy, I was in heaven!

"Cum in me... I want you to cum in my pussy," I managed to finally get out as I panted and tried to catch my breath.

"Hear that guys? She wants me to cum in her!" Ray announced just in case the other two weren't paying attention - little chance of THAT under the circumstances I would think.

Then he looked down at me and our eyes met and I could see the animal lust in them. It excites me to see a man when he gets in this condition. When they get this far gone, even if for some unimaginable reason I wanted him to stop, I knew he wouldn't. There was no stopping this freight train once it left the station. Ray was going to fuck me until he came in me - and nothing in the world was going to stop him. Knowing that, seeing it in his eyes and expression, was incredibly hot!

"You wanted it, you're about to get it," he warned me as he was pumping me as hard and fast he could now.

It was all I could do to keep my place on the seat cushion without falling to the floor as he pounded my starving pussy, fucking me like some wild animal.

"Oh fuck... oh yeah!" he cried out, arching his back as his hips thrust forward to drive his dick as deeply into me as he could while "mating" me.

Then he made a short stroke and as he rammed it deep into me again, I felt that odd sensation of warmth inside of me I get when a man releases a warm load of sperm inside of me.

"That's it Ray... give it to me... give it all to me," I whispered hoarsely as he gave me one load after yet another.

I felt wonderful, fulfilled, satisfied, all those sort of things as he deposited his sperm in me. Mmmmmmm, this is what sex is all about when you push aside the distractions and annoyances. This was it - a man fucking and then cumming inside a woman. This was the essence of sex, the culmination of all we had done up to this moment.

Finally he was done and he quickly pulled out of me, leaving my swollen and wet pussy wide open for the other two to see. I pushed down, like trying to deliver a baby, and was rewarded with the funny sensation of his cum as it drained out of me and ran down my ass to the seat cover below.

"Oh yeah, now THAT'S how it's done," Ray bragged some more, "Look at my cum dripping out of her cunt Marc."

I just laid there, totally exhausted and unable to even lower my leg down from the seat back. It was OK, I didn't mind them looking at my freshly fucked pussy. In fact, I loved the way their eyes were focused on my exposed crotch, staring at my freshly fucked pussy as my body felt weak yet sort of tingly as the same time as I struggled to clear my head after being fucked so well.

Seeing Riley smile, I wondered if he was considering taking a turn now or if sloppy seconds weren't for him. I know some guys who aren't phased by being the second - or third or more guys to cum in me in a row but many guys are funny about it, Maybe they think it is homophobic to want their dick swimming in another man's cum. For whatever reason, he wasn't showing any signs of wanting to have sex with me and to be honest, that was OK with me at this moment. Now give me ten or fifteen minutes to regroup and then I might feel a LOT differently but at this moment, that was how I felt.

"Ready for some more waterskiing?" Riley asked, as if we'd just taken a break to rest.

Resting was about the last thing I'd done so getting out there and trying to ski now would have been all but impossible for me.

"Nawwwwww, I think we got what we really wanted today, don't you agree Marc?" Ray answered.

Marc just nodded, his dick still as erect as a steel rod and I had no doubt he wouldn't have minded taking another shot at me himself. He didn't speak up, though, letting his brother make the decisions - something I had a feeling was usually the case when they were together.

As they put their shorts back on I managed to sit up again, causing more of Ray's cum to flow from my pussy. God I was a wreck! I could still feel some of Marc's cum on my chin and my crotch felt like it was a sticky mess. Lord only knew what my wet hair looked like! As tired as I was, I was still horny so I couldn't resist a little teasing.

"What's the matter guys, nobody wants to fuck me again?"

All three of them started to laugh and Ray once again was the spokesman answering, "Damn, you really ARE a crazy-ass slut... two loads of cum not enough for you?"

Honestly, it wasn't! I just grinned and shook my head, spreading my tired legs apart like a cheap whore to reveal my cum-covered, freshly fucked pussy. Reaching down, I scooped up a little of the cum that remained on me and then licked it off my fingers. I felt so nasty, so dirty to act like this in front of three guys I'd only met a couple of hours earlier but then again, maybe them BEING strangers was what made it so hot for me.

Once we were back I would never see them again so what did it matter what they thought of me? I sort of liked projecting the image of a wanton slut, a girl who would fuck anything with a dick. It wasn't THAT far off the mark but they didn't have to know the reality of my situation. Can you imagine their reaction if they knew I was here to attend a church-sponsored convention!

Riley had started the boat and was heading to shore so I figured I'd better put something on before anyone saw me sitting stark naked in the back of the boat. After what they'd just done to me it really didn't concern me THAT much but still, I didn't want to get in any kind of trouble for indecent exposure.

Looking around, I found my bikini top and bottom but before I put them on I needed to clean myself off a bit. Not wanting to use MY towel and have to worry about Mrs. Eisenberg seeing the cum stains, I grabbed one of the guys' towels and wiped myself down with it - they didn't complain. Once I was reasonably clean I put back on the bikini, tying the strings properly this time so I could walk around on shore without it falling off, and took my seat to enjoy the rest of the boat ride.

While the guys worked on getting the boat back on the trailer, I managed to catch the attention of the guys at the boat ramp. No doubt they wished they'd been one of the three guys who had gone out with the girl in the tiny bikini! Before I knew it, Riley was telling me they were ready to go and soon we were back at his parents' RV.

"Have a good time?" his mom asked as we got out of our trucks.

Marc's face turned crimson red and he turned away so she wouldn't notice but he was far too slow, although she didn't say anything. Ray assured her they had a great time but that he and Marc had to get back home to take care of some chores or whatever. He came to me and I thought for a moment he would kiss me - something neither of the brothers had done the whole time we had sex, but instead he just shook my hand and leered at me.

"Hey, if you ever need more 'help' on the lake - or anywhere else, just give me a call."

As they drove away, I waved and when I turned back, Riley's parents were both there, smiling at the two of us. I certainly didn't hope they didn't think I was some potential girlfriend of his. Heck, he hadn't even laid a hand on me in the boat and I was starting to wonder about what was going on with him. He certainly didn't SEEM gay but then sometimes you never know for sure.

"Care to stay for a while longer?" his mom asked sweetly. I figured why not, my legs still felt a little shaky and resting a little more before returning to the RV might not be such a bad idea.

I saw the three of them look at me and then exchange glances. Now what was this all about?

I was about to find out…

4. The Family That RVs together... Plays Together

One question I get asked a lot is whether I've ever met or been with a family besides my own that practices incest. I don't mean anyone on-line because no matter how much you chat or e-mail, there is always that nagging question in the back of your mind as to whether any of it is real or even just a bit exaggerated.

Without compromising my own privacy and security, there's simply no way to be sure but I've come to accept that over the years and try not to let it bother me. There are a few special people I feel quite confident about, but I couldn't testify in court that they actually practice incest.

Since I don't know of anyone in my "real" life that practices incest (bestiality - yes, adultery - yes, pedophilia - yes, but not incest), my stock answer is always, "Not that I know of." OK, I'm sure someone will point out to me that there was ONE time way back in high school when the mother of my first boyfriend got involved with us but that was a one-time thing (at least I never got any confirmation that it ever happened again) and in my mind that really doesn't qualify as incest because it wasn't part of any on-going relationship between the two of them.

The point being that given the norms of our society, incest is at the very least looked down upon, not to mention illegal as well depending on the ages involved. While there may be some valid reasons for these ridiculous taboo back in the Dark Ages, prohibitions against incest are much like those against alcohol - unnecessary and unenforceable. Thus anyone practicing "true incest", at least as I believe it should be practiced, would not reveal their lifestyle to anyone outside their family no more than I would.

The problem, as I see it, is that the cases where you DO hear about incest actually should be identified as child abuse in that it usually involves sex with young children who, despite the claims of the adults involved, simply are not mature enough to make such major decisions as having sex. "Incest", by my definition, is the loving, CONSENSUAL, act of sex between family members used primarily as an expression of their love and respect for each other. Of course there is an element of pleasure involved, I am not naive, but that is a byproduct and not the primary reason for having incestual sex.

For instance, I don't have sex with my dad in the same way I do with a guy I date. My date fuckbuddies are for my enjoyment and fun. Hopefully they enjoy it just as much but I think about me first. However, I submit to my father because I love him and want to please him and make him happy, not to get myself off just because I'm horny. I don't have sex with my father so that he will love me, I have sex with him because he already does and thus I want our relationship to be as close and intimate as possible. Not intimate in a romantic sense - he is NOT my lover by any stretch of the imagination, but intimate in a physical manner. Really, what can be more intimate than sex?

What I'm trying to get at, and seem to have gone off on a tangent in the process, is that the odds are that there are probably quite a few families in your circle of friends and associates that practice incest - you just don't know it. NONE of our friends, neighbors, work and civic associates, etc., know my father fucks me. It's not that I'm ashamed of it - quite the opposite, but because of the profound negative impact it would have on our lives should it become public knowledge.

Even without that concern, why is anyone's sex life a subject of public discussion anyway? Who knows, maybe the family next door practices incest, maybe the family that sang at church last week, maybe a father and the daughter he brought last week to work on Bring Your Daughter to Work Day. Just because a family practices genuine incest doesn't mean the kids have to have bad teeth and low IQs like some stupid West Virginia caricature.

So bottom line, I've never knowingly met a family that practices incest but that in no way means I've never met one! The same answer applies to anyone for that matter.

Walking around the RV park earlier, I was constantly amazed me at the number and diversity of the people there. You name it, it was there. A surprising number of people seemed to have permanent sites, their RVs surrounded by fences, potted plants, even small storage sheds. Most had satellite dishes and all of them were air-conditioned, of course. I guess with the cost of homes in California that this was a cheaper way to have a summer home. There were RVs that looked like rolling mobile homes - huge monsters that must have had every amenity.

Then there were the truck campers that were little more than an enclosed truck bed. Many elderly couples, probably retired, were there but just as many young families, with bikes and kid toys strewn about, were represented as well. Rich, poor and in-between, it was like a cross-section of America all in one location. Did any of them practice incest? I bet some did.

With the departure of Rau and his brother Marc, for the first time I took a good look at the RV site where Riley's parents lived. Yes, I said lived. One of the first things they explained was that they stayed here most of the year while Riley lived in their permanent home. He paid their mortgage and took care of the place, freeing them to remain here where they had more friends and things to do without the worries of home ownership.

Riley gave me the quick tour of the RV and I was amazed. If I hadn't known it was on wheels I would've thought it was a small mobile home! Unlike the cheap RV the Eisenberg's had rented, this one was nicely decorated and even featured a door to their bedroom instead of a curtain. Even the bathroom was big enough to feel comfortable and didn't have that obnoxious outhouse odor like in the RV I was staying in.

Back outside, his mother - Judith as she asked me to call her, offered me a lawn chair and a glass of wine. I'm not a big wine drinker but it was a pink chardonnay, one of my favorites when I DID drink wine. She sat next to me while Riley and his dad (he introduced himself as Albert but said I was to call him Al) took up positions directly opposite us. I was a little self-conscious in that I was just wearing a bikini and my hair was damp and stringy but they didn't seem to care. If anything, I couldn't help but notice Al's eyes giving me that look I see when guys are undressing me with their eyes - not that there was much left to the imagination.

As I got to know them, I realized that my initial assessment when I first arrived had been wrong. They really weren't that old, it was just that Judith's hair was prematurely grey and she confessed she just didn't want to fool with coloring it. As for Al, he was about 50% bald, mostly on the top going down the back of his head. The rest of his hair was cute pretty short which served to de-emphasize his baldness. Like his son, Al was wearing baggy shorts without a shirt. Unlike his son though, who kept his torso shaved, Al had thick black and silver hair covering his chest and shoulders, almost like a wooly bear.

Judith was also in shorts, faded denim that were cut just above the knee. With her legs crossed, it was obvious that back in her heydays she had quite the set of legs. They now had a few wrinkles but otherwise she would have put many women ten years younger than her to shame. She was wearing a black tank top and I was a little amused to note she wasn't wearing a bra. Almost fifty years of waging war against gravity had taken its toll, though, and her boobs sagged a bit but not such that they looked like granny boobs, hanging to her belly. It helped in that they weren't all that big, maybe a B cup at best. Some girls may love their big boobs when they are younger but later in life there is a price to pay! She had her hair tied back in a long ponytail which was unusual for her age but gave her a more youthful look as a result.

Both of her parents treated me like I was just another family member. They seemed rather surprised to learn why I was in California but not nearly as surprised as Riley appeared to be once he heard. He gave me this, "You've got to be kidding" look and I knew he had to be thinking how could a nice Christian girl be such a slut?

Actually, that raises a point that really bugs me sometimes - well make that a lot of the time. Why is it that so many people think that being a Christian and a slut are mutually exclusive? My body and sexuality are a part of God's plan for me and should be celebrated, not hidden or something to feel embarrassed about.

God created sex and so long as we follow his laws and guidelines, sex should be part of our lives before God to honor and celebrate his gifts to us. You don't have to wear long denim skirts and baggy clothes with your hair tied up in a bun to be a Christian. Nothing in the New Testament says a slut can't be a Christian. Even Jesus hung around with prostitutes and who's to say he didn't enjoy being with them? It's not like anyone writing in that era would have mentioned it if he had given the cultural taboos of the times.

So anyway, I have to admit that for a brief moment I wanted to tell Riley to kiss off but cooler tempers prevailed and I realized he was just reacting the same way most people would today who didn't understand my convictions.

After a glass of wine I was starting to feel a little light-headed. I hadn't eaten much all day and the alcohol was going straight to my head. It didn't help in that I needed to pee pretty badly as well! Finally it got to where U had to ask Riley if I could use the restroom in the RV. He nodded and said to go in by myself. I stood up and just as I was about to turn away I noticed that the three of them all seemed to have the same expression on their face. It was almost eerie, like one of those sci-fi movies where aliens take over people's bodies and they communicate telepathically with one another. Just as fast as it was there it was gone, leaving me to wonder if ever happened at all or if it was just the wine going to my head.

Once in the restroom I slipped down my bikini bottoms and took care of business before anything else. While sitting there I looked at the bottoms and noticed I must have been still leaking cum after I put them back on based on the cum stains in the crotch area. My skin itched a bit thanks to a thin coating of dried cum over my bare pussy so when I was finished with the toilet I used the opportunity to wash myself up in the sink. Feeling cleaner and with my bladder no longer threatening to burst, I reached for my bikini bottoms that I had tossed over the shower door when to my surprise, the bathroom door opened.

I don't care who she is, put any girl in a bathroom, strip her bottoms off (and/or top for that matter), and open the door on her unexpectedly and I guarantee what her response will be. She will gasp, her eyes will bug out, and her arms and hands will instinctively react to cover whatever area of her body is exposed. Well, I'm no different than any other girl in such situations and so I automatically backed against the shower stall, went into a crouch and put my hands over my crotch to hide my pussy. In the doorway was Riley!

"Hey, you don't have to worry about hiding anything, it's not like I didn't get an eyeful earlier!" he chuckled, seeming to be amused by my automatic response to his unexpected entrance.

"Well you could have at least knocked!" I said, catching my breath after having it frightened out of me.

"Yeah, I could have... but then I wouldn't have gotten to see you be embarrassed - something I was starting to think wasn't possible," he teased me, standing in the doorway staring at my naked bottom as I stood up and regained my composure.

I had to admit to being a little confused. Less than an hour ago he had watched me being fucked without showing all that much interest in me. Now it was like he couldn't take his eyes off my ass, not to mention he had the definite signs of an emerging erection.

"What's the story here anyway?" I asked, my hands on my bare hips trying to act as if standing there with just a bikini top on was the most natural thing in the world, "Out on the lake you could have fucked me or anything else you wanted but you didn't lay a hand on me. Now with your parents right outside you can't take your eyes off my ass. What gives?"

Riley grinned at me, not that happy-go-lucky grin he showed me at the beach, but this was more like the hunter grinning with anticipation as he approached his prey - me in this case.

"Let's just say I'm really not into having sex in public with two guys watching," he answered, "Now if it had been two of your friends..."

He didn't finish his sentence, nor did he need to. Typical guy - didn't want his guy friends to see his dick in action but more than happy to show off for a couple of girls.

"So what now?" I asked, the answer obvious to me as soon as the words left my mouth, "Oh, you want to fuck me NOW?"

"Well, you've got to admit a bed is a lot more comfortable than some sticky boat seat in the blazing sun."

He had a point. I was about to mention something about his parents hearing us but then he was old enough to do what he wanted, WHERE he wanted. No doubt that had been the source of the "look" I'd seen exchanged when I'd left the group – them agreeing to let their son have a little fun with the slut he'd brought him. Obviously this wasn't the first rodeo for them when it came to their son's sexual conquests. Cool parents – but then again, he WAS almost thirty so what were they going to say, he was too young?

I'd my bikini bottoms in my one hand so he reached out to take my other. "No sense putting that back on," he said with a grin, "One less thing to fool with later."

Riley moved out of the way just enough for me to pass by him and out the door, As I did, I felt a hand behind my back and sure enough, he'd undone the back ties of my bikini top.

"Hmmm, I think someone's horny!" I teased him, letting my bikini hang by the top strings which meant most of my boobs were now exposed.

"And like you're not?" he countered, "I somehow got the impression that was just a warm-up out there on the lake so far as you were concerned."

I let that one pass as I went into the bedroom at the end of the RV. Wow, it was almost as big as my bedroom back home when I was growing up! The bed was made up with a checkered quit on top. I climbed onto the bed, taking off the bikini top in the process and dropping my sandals at the edge such that I was nude once at the center of the bed. Turning around to face him, I was on my knees and saw he had also dropped his shorts on the way. Mmmmmmm, he had a wonderful dick which was already in the process of becoming erect, maybe at least half-way there by now.

"So I take it you intend to fuck me this time around and not just watch?" I teased him.

"Well, eventually but I have a few other things in mind before that," he said mysteriously but I quickly realized what he meant. He pushed me onto my back, spread my legs apart and sat on the edge of the bed admiring my pussy.

"Mmmmmmm, I love the look of a shaved pussy," he complimented me, "So do you masturbate a lot?"

I hadn't expected that question. In fact, I hadn't expected ANY questions but had assumed he would just fuck me and do it quickly. It wasn't that the question embarrassed me, I just wasn't expecting it at this time or place.

"Sure, quite a bit actually."

"Show me how you masturbate."

Ahhhhhh, so Riley was even more a voyeur than I'd thought. First it was watching his friends fuck me and now he wanted to watch me do myself. Well, if that's what turned him on, I had no objections! Having a guy watch me masturbate always turned me on just as much as it did him.

"OK, but I want to watch you stroking your dick while I do," I countered, figuring I may as well see how he would react. He didn't disappoint me.

"Like this?" he asked, his right hand grasping his erection and slowly stroking it.

Well, he'd held up his end of the bargain, now it was my turn. I pulled a pillow under my head to make it easier to watch him and then I cupped my pussy and started rubbing myself with the palm of my hand pressing against my clit.

"God that is so hot!" he sighed, his eyes fixated on my crotch, never taking his eyes off even for a second.

I was turned on as well. Surprisingly (or maybe not so surprisingly), few guys seem to like masturbating while being watched.

"Show me your pussy."

I smiled and put both hands between my legs, spreading my wet pussy lips apart for him, using my finger to rub my clit gently as I did.

"God your pussy's incredible... put your finger inside."

I smiled even more at that request. It might surprise guys, but most girls I know never put their finger inside of their pussy while they masturbate. Well, maybe enough to help spread some wetness to make it easier to rub themselves, but I mean so far as "finger fucking" goes, outside porn flicks it's a minority of women who practice it (I happen to be one of them). Yet when it comes to guys, EVERY guy I've masturbated for wants to see my finger inside of me. I guess there's some element of naughtiness about a girl putting her own finger(s) up inside of herself where the guys wants to put his dick. Well, as I mentioned, I am one of those girls that likes to use my finger to help imagine being fucked so I was more than willing to do as he asked.

"Put another one in," he whispered hoarsely after I had my first finger inside of me.

Fine with me! Soon I had two fingers pushing in and out of my wet pussy hole. Riley's eyes barely even blinked as he stared at me while I masturbated right in front of him.

"Taste yourself for me," was his next command.

Really, could his demands be any easier to follow? Since I was a little girl I've always loved the scent and taste of my own pussy. Although I'd experimented a bit with it earlier, it wasn't until I was eleven and started masturbating that I got serious about licking my fingers after having them inside of me. Over the years I've tasted a few other girls but I have to say, and I admit a bit of bias may have entered into my decision, my pussy tastes the best!

"Taste good?" he asked. I smiled and then responded with, "Why don't you see for yourself?"

Now it was his turn to grin again and he moved between my legs and then crawled up onto his elbows such that he was over me with his nude body.

"First I want to taste your tits," he told me as he took first one and then the other nipple in his mouth.

I was so horny my nipples were like two monuments sticking out from my chest and it really felt good to feel his mouth over them while his tongue swirled about.

"Oh that feels so good," I sighed as he suckled on them.

He gradually worked his way down my belly and as soon just above my crotch, liking my bare skin and then detouring around until he was licking my inner thighs. God he was making me even more horny and hungry than before!

Then his face was buried in my crotch and I felt his tongue licking between my pussy lips, searching for my clit. As excited as I was, it was swollen such that a blind man could have found it and I trembled as his tongue circle around and around my clit, driving me nuts with anticipation.

Unfortunately, most guys are not nearly as good as girls when it comes to licking pussy. They TRY awfully hard and I usually have to give an "A" for effort but invariably they just aren't in the same league as girls when it comes to licking my pussy. Sadly, Riley was in that group. While he made me feel good and it got me ridiculously horny to see him in action, there was just something lacking and I was left with the option of faking an orgasm to get him to move on, or to be more direct. I hate faking anything so that left the direct approach.

"Fuck me Riley, I want you to fuck me now." I asked in my most sultry voice.

At least he didn't have the ego trip that Ray was going on and so he didn't play the pleading game, making me beg him over and over to fuck me. Sure it had been worth it in the end, but right now I was horny and in no mood to fool around anymore than necessary.

"Well, if you insist," he replied.

Riley picked his head up out of my crotch and moved alongside of me, turning me onto my side facing away from him. I lifted my upper leg and rested my foot on his thigh, exposing myself for him as best I could. Riley reached around me, grabbed his cock and pressed it against my pussy. As wet as I was from him licking me, not to mention the great fucking I'd had a couple of hours ago now, he slipped in rather easily and immediately went for the home run, pushing it all the way until his crotch met mine, his dick now out of the way as it was completely enveloped by my warm and hungry pussy.

"Oh god, that feel so much better," I sighed as he just laid there behind, me, his dick literally throbbing inside of me.

Sometimes this can be just as rewarding as the hardest fuck, just lying motionless together, my pussy impaled on his wonderfully hard dick.

"This is nice," I whispered to him as he played with my hair while his dick rested inside of me, "You feel so good in me... and I just love it when you play with my hair."

Indeed, I felt so comfortable and satisfied that my eyes closed and I was one step from falling asleep when suddenly I heard a voice. Shaking my head, I realized that I HAD fallen asleep, all the while with Riley's cock still inside of me like a baby's pacifier expect this one was in my mouth rather than my pussy - and it was a whole lot bigger as well!

"Well, if that isn't just the sweetest picture, I don't know what is."

I rubbed my eyes as I laid there, trying to wake myself back up to full consciousness, my pussy twitching as his dick in me began to move I looked at the end of the bed and imagine my surprise to see BOTH of his parents watching, a look of amusement on the father's face.

"I don't know Judith, I have to say that's the first time I've seen a girl that hot fall asleep with our son's dick still in her! Doesn't that usually happen AFTER he fucks her dear?"

Judith was at Al's side, clutching his arm as she caught my eye and smiled. What the hell was going on now? Even as I wondered, Riley started fucking me again, slowly drawing his cock in and out of me as his parents watched like it was just another TV reality show or something.

"He was just teasing you dear," Judith said to Riley, "You know your father's warped sense of humor."

It was entirely surreal, laying in their bed as their son fucked me and the two of them sipping their wine as they watched. All that was needed was a bag of stale popcorn and an old candy bar and they might have been at the cinema tonight. I just laid there, not saying a word or even moving much for that matter, at least as little as a girl can with a hard dick sliding in and out of her wet pussy.

"Ahem!" someone coughed, I wasn't sure if it was his mother or father but it was his father that then spoke up.

"Ah son, are we forgetting our manners?"

I wasn't sure what he meant by that. Was he supposed to say something or do something while he fucked me? Was I? Then I watched as his dad dropped his shorts - no underwear either. I have to admit, the first thing that came to my mind was I knew what had happened to the hair on his head - it had moved to his crotch! My goodness, he had a forest down there! His dick was hanging limp still and was barely visible as it was literally surrounded by a thick bush of long pubic hair. So now what? Was he expecting to fuck me after his son?

Well, I was half right at least. He intended to fuck me, but he wasn't about to wait for his son to finish, he was going to do my NOW!

Riley pulled out of me without any further guidance from his dad and I just had this feeling it wasn't the first time they had done this. So what was the scoop, the son brought hoi young girls for his dad to fuck? What if I said now? Would it even matter at this point? Al climbed in bed but instead of moving up against me, he laid on his back with a pillow under his head.

"Ummmmm, I hate to have to ask but at my age a little help is always appreciated," he said in a soft, apologetic voice to me.

I flipped over to face him and immediately saw the "problem" - he was still flaccid at a time when most men would have been as stiff as a pipe by now.

"It's the damn blood pressure medicine... keeps me alive but sometimes I wonder if it's worth the cost," Al mused, "Do you mind?"

He didn't say exactly WHAT he wanted from me, evidently leaving that up to my discretion. I looked back at Riley to see what he might help me out with in terms of advice. To my surprise he was standing naked by his mom, who was still fully dressed, but had her hand on his crotch stroking his still-hard dick. It was all rather nonchalant, no different than if she had been rubbing his shoulder in the way they acted, but still not what I'd expected - not in the least.

"Usually he responds to oral best honey," Judith was the one to provide advice.

Oh well, why not? Admittedly I was already missing Riley's stiff dick in me but if this was the only one to be available to me, I'd better get to work on it! I poked through the massive pile of pubic hair and managed to get most of it away from his cock before I started sucking on him. Al's dick was pretty small being this flaccid and between that and the wall of pubic hair surrounding it, my face felt like I had it buried in a girls hair - a girl with a perm at that.

"She's pretty good son... you picked a good one this time," his father complimented Riley.

I felt thankful when I almost immediately felt a reaction stirring in his dick. It seemed to take forever and I had to use about every BJ trick in my arsenal but eventually the good guys triumphed and his dick was reasonable hard. Nothing like his son's and certainly not even in the same ballpark as Marc's had been this morning, but it was adequate for the task I knew was next - fucking me.

"Sorry, but that's about the best I can do," he apologized again for his half-erect dick, confirming what I'd suspected.

He wasn't making a move so I took that as a hint that he wanted me to mount him. No problem for me as that's my favorite way to start out fucking a guy. I like the freedom it gives me and the control to determine how far and how fast he goes. Normally I am alone with a guy and unless he has a real ass fetish, I prefer facing him as I ride his dick.

This time, however, was not "normal" in the slightest. With his mother still stroking her son slowly as the two of them watched, I wanted to keep an eye on them so I chose to go for the reverse cowgirl position, straddling his such that my butt was facing him and I was looking directly at Judith and Riley. Reaching underneath me, I grabbed Al's dick, which I was alarmed to feel had already shrunk a bit since I'd worked so hard to get it hard, and positioned it under my puss. There was no time to lose or he might not have enough of an erection to push it into me. My fears were quickly put aside as I felt his entering me. It wasn't like he was poking deep into my pussy, but it was more than adequate to stimulate the more sensitive regions of my pussy.

"Yeah, she's quite the little slut, isn't she son?" his dad asked him. Damn, how many times and how many people had referred to me as a slut today alone? I wondered how much Riley had told them about the boat ride earlier?

I couldn't do much in terms of bouncing on his dick out of fear it would slip out and I might not get it back in again. Instead, I ground my ass into his hair-her husband, except it was a lot easier for her to get Riley's long hard shaft up inside of her pussy. Her legs were rubbing up against mine and as she sat on her son's dick, she leaned over and put her hand on my breast.

"You have beautiful breasts, Kelly," she said admiringly.

I blushed at her compliment which only seemed to embolden her all the more. She leaned over further and kissed me on the mouth. I turned to her and our lips met again, only this time out tongues touched and I held her boob as she caressed mine. The two of us kissed and touched one another as we sat on the guy's cocks. I'm sure they were getting an eyeful as well!

"So are you enjoying fucking my husband?" she asked.

If you hadn't understood what she said, from the tone you would have thought she had asked if I liked the RV! Everything just seemed so natural, as if this was something they did every day - and maybe they did for all I knew!

I nodded and she smiled saying, "Thanks, it always helps to have someone for him when Riley and I have sex, I hate for him to have to just watch."

Like I said before - SOOOOO surreal.

With that she climbed off of her son's dick and the more or less traded places, this time him on top in a classic missionary position. She panted and moaned as she came while he fucked her, not nearly as big a talker as I would have expected. Then it was his turn to cum and they kissed when he came in her.

Meanwhile, I was doing all I could to get his dad off. I'd been with other men with high blood pressure and I knew there was nothing that could keep a good man down as whatever it was they put in those damn pills. Not even Viagra seemed to help in these cases. Frankly, after Riley had cum in his mother, I was about to give up but just in the nick of time Al's grip on my ass tightened and he started to groan.

"I think I'm going to cum... don't stop!" he moaned.

I rocked back and forth, trying to rub his dick as much as possible using my pussy to encourage him to cum.

"Oh my god, it's happening!" he cried out, I think more to his wife than me.

I felt him jerk under me but to be honest, I couldn't feel a thing inside of me as no doubt he wasn't unleashing near the flood of cum that Ray had done earlier this afternoon. It was sort of like when a girl says she is cumming - I just had to take his word for it!

I felt him relax under me and so I got off of him and kneeled next to him on the opposite side as his wife and son. Leaning over, I sucked his cock and I could taste his cum as it mixed with my pussy wetness. There couldn't have been much as it wasn't even draining out of me and he hadn't been that far in but at least he had his orgasm. Not that I had, but there was a certain satisfaction in what I'd done.

"Go Kelly!" Riley cheered me on.

I didn't fully understand his enthusiasm until his mom sat up and grinned at me saying, "You're the first girl he's cum in for over a year now.. not even me."

Ahhhhhh, no wonder she was being fucked by her son so much and he was left watching. OK, so I hadn't cum but that wasn't the most important thing every time I have sex. I felt a little pride knowing I'd brought the old boy to an orgasm while he was in me. I wondered how many other girls had tried and failed?

It was then I noticed a clock next to be bed. Damn, the Eisenbergs were probably back and wondering what had happened to me. I had my cell phone with but it was in my bag outside so if it had rung I never would have heard it. I apologized and said I needed to leave. They seemed to understand and from the way she was looking at Riley, I had a feeling Judith was just as happy to go for round two with her son as soon as I was gone.

It was almost a half hour later before I was back at the RV. My feet were a bit sore as I had ended up hiking back as Riley seemed too engrossed with fucking his mother to remember to offer me a ride back. Sure enough, the car was outside and as soon as I walked in the door I was greeted by none other than my growing nemesis, Kelly Eisenberg.

"Where have you been, we've been trying to reach you for an hour now?" she demanded.

I basically told her everything - going to the beach, waterskiing, meeting his parents at their RV. Of course, I left out a few small details like having been fucked a few times and such! Actually, I doubt she would have believed me had I told her - or for that matter maybe she would have. Oh well, no sense in making things any worse with her.

"Is THAT what you wore today?" she asked, as if suddenly it dawned on her all I had on was a tiny bikini without any shorts or shirt.

I looked at her with a "what's the problem" sort of expression and she just rolled her eyes and huffed at me.

Actually, I took that as score one for me - she undoubtedly thought me more a slut than ever - and she wasn't the only one to think of me that way today! Not by a long shot.

(Jun 28) Chapter 190: Disneyland Fun

Story codes: MF oral F-solo exhib adultery
Me (24)
Mr. Eisenberg (40)

I'd been to Disney World when I was a kid but this was my first time at this park and I'd grown up a lot since then as well. This time my visit to the "Happiest Place On Earth" was a bit different - to say the least.
Note: You might want to first read 2009 (Jun 26) Chapter 188: Unconventional Convention and 2009 (Jun 27) Chapter 189: Fun at an RV Park as I have tried not to be too repetitious in this entry about the events that took place in the days prior to this one.

1. Last Day in California

Actually, it was our last FULL day in California, the last day of the church convention I'd been blackmailed into attending. Yes, I said blackmailed. The ONLY reason I agreed to go along was because the new administrator of the school, where I wanted to teach in the fall, had insisted - make that demanded, that I come along. There wasn't much I could say as following Mr. Eisenberg's demands was a requirement I'd reluctantly agreed to as part of a bargain we'd struck to restore me to my teaching position at the school.

Just a little background (the full details are elsewhere in my Diary)...

Last fall I'd been forced to resign from my teaching position thanks to some nasty rumors spread by my now EX-boyfriend. Fortunately (I guess it depends on your outlook), the school administrator had a bad heart attack and so a new one was hired to replace him. My hopes were he would not know the details about my situation but as it turned out, the prior administrator must have given him some very private information about me. Unlike his predecessor, instead of refusing me a position, he used the information as leverage to satisfy his own "needs". End result - I was going to the convention whether I liked it or not.

Of all the potential things I had considered doing this summer, going to a national church convention was probably one of the LAST things I would have thought possible. To my surprise, so far it was working out far better than I ever could have dreamed. The only "problem" I'd faced was his wife, who had been quite the bitch towards me. Indeed, from the first moment she laid eyes on me in the Pittsburgh airport and realized I wasn't some old maid from school (as she'd evidently been expecting), but rather a girl at least ten years younger than her, she was on my case. For the most part I just tried to ignore her and make the best of things.

As I said, despite Mrs. Eisneberg things had gone pretty well so far. On the very first day of the convention I was fucked quickly by Mr. Eisenberg right before the opening session. Then just a few hours later I gave a rally cute guy his first blowjob in the overhead of the convention center ballroom. Before leaving the convention center for the day I got horny again and so I masturbated while being driven around town on a shuttle bus. Not a bad way to spend the first day!

The next morning I was horny as hell with anticipation now that I realized this trip wasn't going to be so bad after all. Even when his wife chastised me for the way I dressed for bed it didn't faze me. With her in the RV it was hard to take care of my normal morning "needs" so I ended up having to masturbate in the park bathhouse before we spent the morning at the convention hall. Despite my high expectations, this time the time spent in town was rather uneventful, leaving me a little disappointed.

When we got back to the RV park I was left on my own for the afternoon while the Eisenberg's went off on a private hot tub adventure. While trying out the beach area (calling it a "beach" is being kind to a sand pile by the lake) Lady Luck was with me as I was picked up by this hunky guy who took me out waterskiing with two of his friends.

As it turned out, we didn't get much skiing done but I got fucked pretty well instead out on the lake by his friend and his friend's younger brother. That was just the start as when we returned and his friends had left, I got involved with my first incestual family other than my own. It was just the guy fucking his mom while I did his dad but still, it qualified as a first for me!

Given the crazy way the first couple of days had gone, you can imagine my expectations were pretty high for our last full day in California. We would be catching an early flight the next morning so for all practical purposes this was the last day. There was a large church service in the morning and then some sessions scheduled at the Convention Center for the afternoon.

As we discussed our plans for the next day, neither of the Eisenbergs seemed overly excited about attending any of the remaining convention activities. To my surprise, it was his wife Kelly, (imagine the annoyance of having to spend an entire weekend with someone else having the same name as you) who came up with the idea of making a quick trip to Disneyland. Apparently she'd never been to either of the Disney theme parks and with Anaheim only a half hour away or so, she seemed rather excited by the prospect of at least getting a glimpse of the place.

After the way she'd been treating me ever since we'd first met, it took me a little off-guard when she asked me if I wanted to tag along. It sort of confused me. Was she was maybe softening her view of me? It could also have been just her exuberance over fulfilling some childhood dream that transformed her temporarily into a nicer person. Whatever the reason, I wasn't going to argue about it. We had to be back in time to pick up their kids from the Kid's Camp they'd been attending all weekend but that still left us most of the day.

Speaking of his wife, when Kelly and I first met I think she may have had some suspicions about me and her husband, but over the past few days it now seemed that maybe those concerns had faded somewhat. While I knew she still considered me to be a slut (and in a good way), she seemed to accept me now so long as her husband was not involved. All I could say was thank goodness she had no idea about my real "relationship" with him!

Oddly, more a few times Kelly had made off-hand comments about her own past and I couldn't help but wonder if she hadn't been the class slut herself back in her high school and maybe even college days. She WAS hot, even if her fake boobs somewhat turned me off, and more than once I found myself marveling that Mr. Eisenberg was willing to risk everything with her just to fuck me. Oh well, guys are never satisfied it seems. If I was more honest with myself I would have to admit that he was probably more turned on by the taboo of cheating with me than me being sexier than his own Kelly.

Were it not for the element of blackmail, I would be pretty excited about the prospect of him cheating with me again. I also had to admit that the idea of being with HER crossed my mind more than a few times, especially when we would be changing clothes and I got a quick eyeful of her incredible figure. Not bad, not bad at all for a mother of two young teenagers. Unfortunately, any other ideas I might have for her were squashed when she'd made her feelings about sex with girls perfectly clear - she had NO interest whatsoever at best and viewed the practice as disgusting, perverted and even sinful.

Given my so-called "relationship" with Kelly. when I woke up on Sunday morning I was a bit surprised to find the covers over me as usually I kick them off during the night. Looking around, I saw Kelly watching me as she stood by the sink with an odd smile on her face. Now this was interesting... My guess was that instead of waking me up and bitching about me exposing myself, as she had done yesterday morning, she had covered me instead. Was that meant as a gesture of kindness, perhaps a small peace offering? Or was she just making sure her husband didn't get a view of my bare ass after my nightshirt had ridden up while I was sleeping?

As I tried to clear my mind to contemplate all this, my thoughts were distracted by two intense feelings. First, I had to pee BADLY plus I was horny as hell and needed to masturbate (well, being fucked would've been better but beggars can't be choosers). I don't know if it was the water or the heat of the previous day that made me drink more than usual, but the last couple of mornings I'd wake and feel like my bladder was about to burst, not my usual number one priority in the morning (and I'm sure you can guess what THAT is),

Slipping out of bed and pulling down my nightshirt, I mumbled a good morning to Mrs. Eisenberg and made my way to the bathroom as there was no way I was going to make it to the bathhouse this morning. The bathroom in the RV was like the rest of the RV - tiny and cramped, not at all like the one in the big RV where I'd had fun yesterday. Making it worse was this horrible odor that must have been seeping up from the holding tank. It was enough to make me wrinkle my nose in disgust. Small wonder I usually made the trek to the bathhouse when I felt the urge. It may as well have been an outhouse - something else I avoid like the plague!

With THAT need taken care of, there was the matter of the other - me being horny. It seems I've always been the most naturally horny first thing in the morning. That may not seem so odd except that I wouldn't otherwise classify myself as a "morning person". Indeed, I would rather stay up all hours and then sleep in until noon given the choice.

Perhaps a better way of describing it would be to say I wake up horny - regardless of whether it's morning or not. If I'm REALLY lucky, I have a naked guy lying next to me who wants to fuck me first thing but that's definitely NOT the typical scenario so usually I just take care of myself.

People often ask me how often I masturbate to which I usually answer two to three times a day on average. Mornings like today are pretty much a given and it's not often I go to sleep without my hands making their way to my crotch. In between, who knows? It depends a lot on where I am and who I am with during the day. Some days I may just do the morning thing but I almost never go a full day without masturbating at least once. Sitting here writing this, I can't even remember the last time THAT happened.

Then there are those days when I may do it five or six times - or more, depending on how I feel that day and what's been going on,. Whether or not I have sex actually has little to do with how often I masturbate. The only impact having sex MAY have is more about whether I have the opportunity masturbate. After all, there's only so many hours in a day! To me, masturbation is something I truly enjoy, not a substitute for sex, so it's not unusual for me to have sex and then masturbate immediately afterwards, especially if the guy isn't into any snuggling afterwards and just falls asleep.

So anyway... even though there wasn't much room and the atmosphere was toxic, there was no denying the urges I was feeling as my pussy was practically cramping with hunger - hunger for a dick that is. I hadn't heard Mr. Eisenberg get up yet so there was no need to rush back out and deal with Kelly - even if she WAS in a surprisingly good mood this morning. As I heard her moving around outside making breakfast, I found myself thinking more about her.

Mmmmmmm, she had looked really hot this morning in nothing more than a short T-shirt - VERY short at that. It was more than was a little surprising to see her in such revealing attire as this was the same woman who recently criticized me for wearing nothing but a cotton nightshirt that came all the way down to my knees - a LOT further than hers did this morning. Of course mine was so thin that my nipples poked through like it wasn't there. It also seemed to have a mind of its own with a tendency to ride up over my ass as I slept. My tongue licked over my dry lips as I thought about how Mrs. Eisenberg's t-shirt had barely covered her butt, doing a fine job of showing off her tanned legs. It looked like she had been wearing panties but I wasn't sure.

Anyone who knows me wouldn't be surprised that once my mind got into this mode, there was no stopping me. Cupping my boobs over my nightshirt, I squeezed them while I fantasized about Kelly's boobs. They had pushed out against the undersized t-shirt she had on, stretching the material. OK, so they were way too big for her frame, at least in my opinion, but even so they looked pretty damn good under that t-shirt.

OK, so her boobs were nice but what REALLY grabbed my attention had been her legs. Long and tan, I would have killed to have them - even now. Although I'd just gotten a quick glimpse, it was enough to see that she had a great ass to compliment her legs. I wondered how she would've reacted had I put my hand under her t-shirt and caressed her butt as I passed by her this morning. Of course in reality I knew what she done, probably slapped me and then said who knows what about me, but still I couldn't help myself now as I fantasized more and more about being with her.

My fingers were moving faster on my swelling clit as I imagined Kelly putting her pretty face between my legs, the feel of her long dark hair against my inner thighs as she blew her warm breath softly against my wet pussy, then licking me gently with her outstretched tongue as she tasted her first pussy. As I touched myself I imagined it was her fingers on me, her tongue licking me, her lips tugging on my clit as she drove me crazy with desire.

Morning horniness, hot wife, hopes for a fun day... Under the circumstances, it didn't take long for me to cum, especially when my perverted fantasy began to include Mr. Eisenberg as I imagined him entering the RV, catching the two of us by surprise. It wouldn't have mattered as by then Kelly and I would be in a 69 position on their bed. Neither of us would be willing to stop, not even for him.

As I came, my pussy was gushing with cum as I imagined her husband jerking off, stroking his erect dick as he watched his awesome wife and younger mistress playing together for the first time with who knows what debauchery to come later.

God, it felt SO good to masturbate, SO good to cum, just so DAMN good! My breathing was labored by the time I finally pulled my hand from my crotch, then tasting myself on my fingers as I struggled to catch my breath. It was like I'd just come in from laying out in the sun, my entire body warm with the afterglow of my orgasm.

When I finally stepped out of the bathroom, I saw Kelly looking at me. Actually it was more like staring at me with this odd expression on her face.

"Are you feeling better now?" she asked, an interesting grin barely noticeable on her face.

I hesitated, not sure as to how to answer her. Was this sort of trick question? Was she referring to feeling better as in after brushing my teeth and getting cleaned up in the morning? Maybe it was a vague reference to the feeling of relief at emptying my bladder in the morning? Then again, I wondered if she knew what I'd REALLY been doing in there for so long. Yet even if that was the case, I was 100% positive that she would have had no idea WHO I'd been thinking about as I did myself. Then I wondered how often she masturbated? As hot as she was and as sexually active as she hinted at being when she was younger, it would've surprised me a lot more if she didn't spend a lot of time with her hand between her legs... those incredible legs!

Sorry to go off on a tangent but I have one point I need to make at this point. Who was the male chauvinistic pig who came up with the ridiculous idea that men like to masturbate more than women? I would strongly contend that women masturbate just as much, if not more, than most men. OK, so maybe women don't openly discuss it as much or make crude references to it the way men do about jerking off, but that doesn't mean we don't do it just as much or don't enjoy it just as much as men.

One of the great things about being a women is that I can masturbate just about anywhere, anytime. Sure, not as well as I can in my bed laying back naked with my legs spread; but by simply crossing my legs in church the right way, pressing up against a table leg during dinner at a restaurant, or even just wearing a really tight pair of jeans I can easily stimulate myself. Of course, it also helps that girls don't have to contend with an obvious erection like men do when they're horny. Personally, I think a lot of women masturbate more than men do, we just don't advertise it.

So anyway, rather than respond to Kelly's query, I chose to sort of side-step the question and just smiled, leaving it up to her how to interpret it. Kelly looked at me, frowned, and shook her head saying, "You really are something... aren't you." It was a statement, not a question, and I was actually a bit surprised at HOW she said it to me Until this morning she'd been so mean to me, condemning me for everything I did throughout the trip and yet now it was like she was almost accepting of me for who I am. Well, my nagging doubts were confirmed as it turned out I was being lulled into a false sense of hope by the bitch.

"So tell me Kelly, when did you start fucking my husband?" she said, casually as if asking me the time of day.

There was no accusing tone, no hint of jealousy or condemnation. Yet somehow I couldn't help but feel that I was being drawn into her web, for what purpose I had yet to figure out.

"Well, isn't that the REAL reason why he invited you with us - to fuck you?" she continued as I stood there speechless.

Then I realized that my lack of response could be interpreted as an admission that I WAS fucking her husband so I knew I had to say SOMETHING - and quickly.

Taking a deep breath as discreetly as possible, I replied, "Mrs. Eisenberg, I know you don't think a lot of me, for whatever reason I have no idea, but that would be adultery. Your husband is a wonderful Christian man and I'm a Christian as well so I really don't understand how you can accuse us of such a horrible thing."

She just rolled her eyes at me, not buying it for a second. "Noooooo, I didn't ask you about HIM, I asked when YOU started fucking him. Don't give me that look... I see the way he looks at you - and you look at him. And let's stop pretending you're some innocent naive girl here - I can see you for what you are. I told you before that I was a lot like you when I was your age so don't think you can fool me."

My thoughts raced and I knew I had to offer SOMETHING as she just wasn't going to believe me if I tried to maintain this story. I wasn't about to admit to having sex with her husband, but there were lesser "crimes" that I cold confess to and hopefully satisfy her inquisition.

"He doesn't fuck me...OK?" I started out and she immediately rolled her eyes and huffed but I continued anyway saying, "I'll admit that I've teased him and showed off a little bit but it was just during my job interview with him. You can't blame a girl for doing what she has to do to get a job these days, can you?"

"Actually I CAN blame you," she cut me off, frowning at me, "So just how far did this so-called 'interview' go?"

Looking back to the other end of the RV, I wondered if her husband was listening but all I could make out was the sound of his snoring. Looking back at her, I tried to pretend I was contrite and nervous.

"Well, did you flash him, did he touch you, did you give him a BJ... c'mon, what was it?" she pushed me for a response.

"He never touched me," I said, hoping that would be enough but of course it wasn't.

"Yeah right... but the question is more like did you touch him?"

As I shook my head I couldn't help but marvel at how easy it was to lie to her. "No... neither of us touched the other."

"So what the hell happened then? Don't try to tell me nothing - I know better than that."

I looked down, avoiding eye contact with her as if I was embarrassed. In reality, I was feeling horny as hell telling her all this, even if it WAS a complete fabrication.

"I... I masturbated for him."

She shook her head again. "OK, and how many times did you do it?"

"Just during the second interview is all... he asked me how badly I wanted the job and so I let him watch me."

"Sounds like something the bastard would pull," she muttered, her face a perfect image of disgust. "So did you enjoy putting on your little show for my husband? I bet you did.. you look like the type who would get off from that sort of thing."

It was all I could do to keep from grinning as I thought about how she would react if she knew just how much I'd enjoyed everything he'd done to me, not to mention a couple of days ago! Then again, what was with this comments about me looking like "the type who would"?

"Yes I did... I liked the way he looked at me," I confessed softly, trying desperately not to sound like I was bragging.

"And did my husband jerk off while he watched you playing with yourself?"

"Yes, of course he did," I replied meekly, knowing she would never have believed me if I'd said anything else.

She sat there for a moment as if digesting everything she'd just been told. In some ways she actually didn't look all that upset, as if this was just confirmation of what she already knew and come to grips with earlier. It made me wonder if he had done something like this before with another woman.

"The horny bastard... doesn't really surprise me though," she muttered, "so what about after that? Did he fuck you?"

"No... we haven't done anything since that one time," I lied straight to her face

"Was that your choice or his?" she fired back.

Again I pretended to be embarrassed, even a little contrite as I responded, "Well, it was his actually, I wanted him to but he wouldn't do me... I'm really sorry."

Mrs. Eisneberg looked at me closely, like she was trying to determine what species of insect I was.

"Well, at least I have to give the bastard credit for THAT," she murmured, "I suppose you enjoy seducing married men. Does it get you off, boost your ego?" She paused, gathering in my expressions before saying anything more. "No,,, don't say anything, I know how you feel... just as I also know now how it feels to be the betrayed wife in this sort of situation."

There are times when saying nothing is the best course of action and I knew this was definitely one of them. The tension in the air was electric but then she seemed to back off as she contemplated some more.

"OK, I guess I'm sorry that I accused you of anything or implied it," she suddenly said, her entire demeanor changing suddenly, "You can't blame me, considering the way you dress and act around him."

"Oh it's not just for him... I dress and act that way all the time," I blurted out, trying to help lower the DEFCON level a little more but quickly realizing it was NOT the right thing to say.

"Yes, I'm sure you do... I'm sure you do," she said softly, shaking her head slowly.

Then to my complete surprise she looked at me and actually reached forward to take my hand before adding, "Kelly... someday you'll be married and your husband will be tempted by a young slut half your age. Trust me, it WILL happen... and you'll react just as I have. I hope you'll take this as I mean it - don't make the mistakes I did when I was your age and fuck the guy. It's not worth it in the end."

Now what in the world was THAT about? I looked at her, wondering if she was going to elaborate but that was the end of whatever it was that was going on between us. It was like a hypnotist snapping her fingers and suddenly we were back to normal again. Mrs. Eisenberg returned to making breakfast, saying not another word to me as if nothing had happened at all. Wow, it was a little surreal to say the least.

Mr. Eisneberg woke up not much later and they decided to take the RV instead of the car to Disneyland. I guess it was supposed to be a cost-cutting move as they figured they could save some money on meals if they ate in the RV instead of in the park. Personally, I thought the few extra bucks for food would have been better than having to unhook everything in order to get the gas-guzzler RV on the road; but they were paying so who was I to say anything. Without further incident, we soon were on the highway, bound for the Magic Kingdom.

2. Pirates and Bears

The last time I was at a Disney theme park I wasn't quite yet a teenager and then it was to Disney World in Orlando. This was to be my first time at the original Disneyland and really, can ANYONE not be a little excited about going there? Unfortunately my first impression was one of surprise, even a bit of a let-down. It was in the middle of a city! I guess back when it was created Anaheim was more isolated but now you drove through the city and just turn into Disneyland. Not quite the "you're entering another world" feeling you get in Florida.

With the RV, we were directed to a special parking lot with bigger parking spots. Then it was into the park for what I hoped would be a day of fun. Overall, it WAS a nice day and it might have been more so had their daughters been with us to provide some of that younger excitement, but they weren't due to return from their camp until evening so it was just the three of us.

Anyone seeing our trio would've thought we were just a typical family. Most people probably figured I was a sister or a niece or something like that as the Eisenberg's didn't look nearly old enough to have a 24 year-old daughter. Looking around I realized that I was dressed about the same as most of the girls were - shorts and a tank top. I'd decided to wear sneakers even though many people, including Mrs. Eisenberg, wore flip-flops or sandals but I knew we'd be doing a LOT of walking and I wanted to be able to still be able to feel my feet at the end of the day!

Before going any further, I need to say something to those reading this and expecting to hear all about how I fucked half the staff and who knows who else. Let me say this now and get it over with - I did NOT fuck Mr. Eisenberg in the park. In fact, I did NOT have sex with anyone else either. For that matter, I did NOT even give a single blowjob! Now how's THAT for shocking news?

In case you're wondering why, it wasn't any altruistic motives on my part but rather more the result of Mrs. Eisenberg acting as my personal shadow for most of the day. She may have claimed to believe me with regards to her husband, but she wasn't taking any chances either.

On the plus side, it wasn't a totally platonic day either. One nice thing about many Disney rides is you typically sit in some sort of vehicle or boat or whatever and watch the exhibits as they go by. Because many of the rides relied on visual effects, there are lots of times when the rooms would be dark or dimly lit - perfect for a little groping! Rides like the Pirates of the Caribbean and shows like the Country Bear Jamboree were among the best opportunities we took advantage of during the morning.

In some ways it was like going back to my high school days again when boys would try to feel me up whenever they thought nobody could see. Movie theaters were a favorite spot for the "wandering hands" and many a movie I spent with my blouse half undone or a hand on my thigh trying to reach up under my skirt.

So it was with Mr. Eisenberg who took advantage of literally every opportunity to touch and grope me. The moment the lights would go out or he thought nobody could see us, his hand was instantly on me, touching the inner thighs of my legs, feeling my boobs, rubbing my ass, even rubbing my crotch through my shorts. The only thing that prevented him from doing it more often was when his wife made sure she sat between the two of us. It was a little funny in a way, watching the two of them battle it out, neither of them wanting to admit what they were really doing as they jockeyed to see who would sit next to me. I would say it was about a 50-50 split by the time the day was over.

Before we'd arrived I'd hoped that there would be some opportunity to get fucked, or at LEAST give a BJ, while in the park, if for no other reason than to be able to brag about it later. Alas, it was incredibly crowded! Put that together with the ball and chain around my ankle (in the form of Mrs. Eisenberg), and I resigned myself early on that it was just going to be one of those days. Still, it wasn't a COMPLETE loss as I can't tell you how many other fathers, husbands and sons stared at me during the day. Although I tried to act as if I didn't notice, I did my best to give them whatever view I could without actually doing anything that would get me tossed from the theme park. Just innocent flirting but it was still fun, especially when the wife or mother caught on to what they were doing!

3. The Parking Lot

Earlier I had said that Mr. Eisenberg didn't fuck me IN the park... OK, technically I was telling the truth, but maybe not the complete story.

True to their cost-reduction plans, we all went back to the RV to eat lunch. It seemed silly to me to spend all the time traversing back and forth, and then have to wait for the air-conditioning to cool the hot interior after baking in the California sun all morning. Still, I couldn't complain since they were paying for all my expense today. On the way back in, I asked if they cared that I look around on my own, maybe to do some shopping or whatever.

Mrs. Eisenberg looked at me and I could have sworn a sly grin started to form on her face. Was she thinking that maybe I was hoping to get laid or something? Sure, I would have loved that as well but the truth was just as I had told her. Then again, should I just happen to run into some cute hunk... or girl... I wasn't going to turn anything down, that was for sure. Was she encouraging me? Maybe a little reverse psychology in hopes that if I got laid by someone else I would leave her husband alone?

Actually, I DID want to buy a few things for my dad and a few close friends back home so I headed for Main Street to shop. About an hour later, after my dad's credit card had sustained some serious damage, my cell phone buzzed to tell me somebody had texted me. As I searched for my phone in my purse, I figured it had to be Kristen or Beth – who else would be texting me using this phone number? To my surprise, it wasn't either one of them or anyone else from back in Pittsburgh – it was from Mr. Eisenberg!

"RV – ten minutes."

That's all it said. Odds were he had to sneak off somewhere just to send that much given the way his wife had been keeping such close tabs on him all day. Probably was in the men's room. Now what was this all about?

When I approached the RV, I saw it was running and I could hear the air-conditioning unit rumbling on top. Somebody was already here, that much was obvious. For a brief moment I panicked. What if it was his wife, setting me up with the intention of accusing me of coming out here to fuck her husband. Of course she would've been correct, but that doesn't mean she had to know it! From what I was starting to see in her, she seemed plenty devious enough to pull off such a stunt and so for a brief moment I seriously considered going back to the park before I got myself in hot water with her. I turned around, hesitated, and then turned back to the RV again. No, I just couldn't see her doing such a thing so it HAD to be him.

The door was unlocked (which was good since I'd left my keys inside) and so I entered as the cool interior air flowed out the open door. At first I didn't see anyone but then I caught a movement out of the corner of my eye towards the back and realized someone was on the bed. Without the lights on and the window curtains being pulled, it was too dark at first for me to make out who it was this far way. Well, there was only one person who it had BETTER be!

"Mr. Eisneberg?" I called back to the shadowy figure. No response. OK, NOW what was going on? My eyes began to adjust to the dim light and I could see him better now

"Well it's about time you made it. Now get those clothes, get up here and suck my dick you little bitch!" he suddenly demanded. Huh? Not even a "hello"? What was with the "bitch" comment?

"Dammit, don't just stand there like an idiot... I said to strip!" he demanded in an even more forceful tone.

Well, it's not like I hadn't intended to get naked sooner or later. As I quickly undressed in compliance with his commands, my mind was racing. I had NOT counted on being TOLD to do this- and especially not in such a forceful manner.

Once I was naked, I got up on the bed where Mr. Eisenberg was laying on his back, also naked with his dick already nice and hard. In fact, he was so stiff that it actually curved back such that it was now parallel to his stomach, the head staring him straight in the face as he stroked it slowly with his right hand.

"What the hell are you waiting for? Suck my dick!" he growled, as if he was mad at me about something and was seeking retribution by "forcing" me to suck his cock.

Of course, there was no reluctance on my part when it came to sucking his cock, just a nagging curiosity as to WHY he was behaving this way towards me. Was this some sort of fantasy, maybe a role play for him? If so, it would've been nice to have forewarned me.

With my eyes fixed on his dick, I laid on my side in a sort of fetal position alongside his outstretched hairy legs, leaning over his stomach and bending my head down to take his erect dick in my mouth. He immediately put his hand on the top of my head, pushing it down onto his dick, driving his cock into my mouth and against the back of my throat.

"There... that's better... much better," he groaned as my mouth and tongue went to work on him. "So you've been talking to my wife, eh? Telling her about us?"

So THAT'S what this was all about! Horrified, I started to lift my head off his dick to try and explain but he grabbed me hair and drove my face back into his crotch again.

"Don't take your mouth off of me dammit... you've nothing to say, I know everything you told her," he said in a disturbing voice, "She told me all about it after lunch... everything."

Then he paused for effect and added, "You can't be so stupid as to think a guy's wife won't say anything when you tell her something like that? How could you be so stupid to tell her that? Crap, how could you tell her we masturbated together? You're nothing but a stupid bitch!"

Feeling a ;little bit worried now, I wanted to explain myself, to tell him I had no choice, that she knew SOMETHING was up between us so I gave her just enough to feel it was true without revealing everything. Unfortunately, he didn't seem to be in the mood for a logical discussion.

"That's it... suck my dick you little whore. You'll do anything to keep that job, I know it. Even whore yourself out to me... isn't that what you're doing?"

Well of course it was and he knew it well enough that he didn't need me to explain anything. Indeed, this was more like a lecture than a questioning. He knew all the answers already, or at least he thought he knew them. Either way, he wasn't going to listen to my side of anything in his current frame of mind, that was for sure.

"Enough of that... get on your hands and knees you stupid cunt," he said suddenly as he got up from being on his back. I complied with his demands, figuring he wanted to fuck me from behind as he seemed to enjoy that position the most.

"Now I'm going to show you what happens to naughty little girls that run off to a guy's wife and spill everything," he said.

Now THAT wasn't really fair of him. After all, I HAD acted in his best interest by telling his wife enough to satisfy her curiosity but not so much as to confirm her suspicions of adultery. I was about to protest when I felt his hands split my butt cheeks apart and then he started rubbing my pussy, putting his fingers in me to wet them so he could lubricate the rest of me. I felt his finger slide upwards toward my asshole and then, without warning, he plunged one of them into my asshole! Imagine my surprise when out of the blue he had his finger buried in my ass - NOT something I would ever had wanted him to do to me, not ever.

"No!" I started to protest, "Not my asshole!"

He was a lot stronger than me but I still almost managed to pull away from his finger before he had his other arm around my waist, pulling me back into position.

"You're a naughty girl... a dirty girl... and dirty girls have to pay for being so bad," he droned on as he fingered my ass.

I felt a cool wetness and then his finger slid more easily into me as he must have poured some lotion or oil on my ass to make it easier to get his finger in me. The lube also made it easier for something other than his finger to fit in my asshole...

Mr. Eisneberg pulled his dirty finger out of me and I felt him repositioning himself as if he was finished but it was far from over so far as my ass was concerned.

"Mmmmmmm, I've been wanting to do this since I first saw you," he murmured as I felt the mushroomed cock head of his dick at the opening of my asshole.

"Please... no!" I pleaded with him. This was NOT what I'd signed up for when I told him he could fuck me if he gave me the job.

"Shut up and tell me you want it in your ass," he demanded, and then went silent to see what I would say.

When I didn't respond quickly enough, he slapped my bare bottom - hard, and then he demanded yet again, "Tell me... I want you to bed for it in your ass."

If I protested it would probably only get even worse for me so I accepted the inevitable.

"Yes Mr. Eisenberg, I want you to do it. I want your dick in my ass, fuck my asshole - PLEASE!"

Of all the lies I'd told today, that one would be pretty tough to beat. It was about the LAST place I wanted his dick! I don't understand it, not at all. I have a mouth that LOVES to suck cock and, if I may say so, does a pretty good job of it. Then there's my pussy, which also loves to feel a dick inside of it. It's wet and warm and can grip a dick pretty hard and make him cum.

So why would any man want to shove his nice clean dick up where I poop from? It's not so much I don't like being fucked in my ass. Although it's not my favorite I can imagine much worse things to do for a man. For me it's just the mental image of what normally comes out of there that just makes me grossed out. Even when a man DOES fuck me in the ass, or even if he just licks my asshole, I will refuse to kiss him or allow his mouth anywhere on me until he is scrubbed all nice and clean again.

Well, I missed my calling as an actress as Mr. Eisenberg bought everything I said - hook, line, and sinker as they say. I closed my eyes and tried not to grimace a I prepared for him to fuck my asshole. For better or worse, I didn't have to wait long as the end of his cock was soon pushing against my resisting asshole.

"God damn, your fucking tighter than I expected!" he groaned as he pushed hard against my ass but couldn't seem to get his dick to penetrate me back there.

I remember thinking that it shouldn't have surprised him given my preferences for anything BUT an ass fucking!.

With one great push that practically knocked me to the bed, he rammed his dick into my ass, giving me this most peculiar feeling. Not the sexy, fulfilling feeling I get when my pussy is first filled by a dick. Oh my God, I thought I was going to be sick at first from the sudden pain of practically being ripped in half! Then when he pulled out at first I felt incredibly embarrassed as it felt like I was pooping but then I realized it was something else leaving my ass, creating a similar sensation.

This wasn't the first time I'd been fucked in my ass so it wasn't like I had never felt these things before, but it HAD been a long time and so it may as well have been the first time all over again. My ass certainly wasn't use to this, that was for sure! Thank god he had dumped a ton of oil on his dick and over my asshole. It made it easier for both of us actually and I suppose it had to feel better for him to be able to slide his cock more easily into whatever hole he was using on my body. I had to give him credit for one thing, he a beach towel under us, something I hadn't really thought about at first but now I realized that without it he would have had a hard time explaining all the oil on the bedding!

I feel forward onto my elbows from the force of him slamming into my ass, which actually worked out for the better as it caused my ass to angle up at him at a more natural angle for him to fit into me. I'm sure it also gave him a better view although for the life of me why anyone gets off looking at my asshole is beyond me.

"Damn your ass is incredible," he groaned as he slid his oil-covered dick in and out of me. "You want me in your ass, don't you.. you fucking whore! C'mon, tell me how much you want my dick in your ass."

Hoping it might get him off faster if I did as he asked, I began to moan and buck under him, telling him over and over how I loved him fucking me, how much I loved him to be in my ass, and finally, the grand finale, I even faked a HUGE orgasm for him which he seemed to buy 100%. Although all my acting efforts didn't seem to get him to cum any faster, at least it seemed to distract him from any other kinky ideas he might be harboring.

"Oh yeah, I'm gonna cum,, damn... almost there, where do you want it bitch?"

I knew the last place I wanted it, in my mouth. One thing I had never done was to take a dick in my mouth after it had been in my ass or anyone else's, at least until he showered again. There was absolutely no way I was going to suck on his cock after fucking me in my asshole and I was a little scared he might demand it, wondering what he would do to me if I refused.

"Cum in my ass," I told him, figuring it was the least of all the evils.

My mouth was the last place I wanted it and even my pussy made me cringe from the thoughts of the bad hygiene involved. God, last thing I wasted was some vaginal fungus from his cock being in my ass before then. "Cum deep in my ass Mr. Eisneberg... PLEASE!" I pretended to beg. All I knew was that I was thrilled that he was about to cum and finally bring this nightmare to a close.

"Fuck yeah, I'm cumming... oh yeah," he groaned a I felt him jerking with each thrust even deeper into my sore ass with each load of cum.

Other than the force of his thrusts I couldn't feel anything so I had to take his word for it that he was cumming in my ass. Well, why would he fib anyways?

He pulled almost out of me for the last couple of loads. Obviously he had been watching too many "cream-pie" videos and wanted to see his cum leak from my asshole. Oh well, why not?

"Oh yeah, not THAT'S how it's done," he mumbled to himself, all but patting himself on the back for what he had done to me.

Mr. Eisenberg pushed my ass cheeks apart and watched as I felt the last bit of his cum dribbling down from out of my ass. I could only hope he would ask me to eat it! Thankfully, he didn't. Probably because the thought never entered his mind than anything else like being considerate of my feelings.

Like a typical guy, once he'd cum it was like someone had turned off his horny switch and he was all business. I guess a positive way to look at the whole thing was that I never got that far along myself to feel frustrated from not having my needs satisfied. Of course I was a bit sad that it hadn't worked out the way it COULD have, but when you're doing it for the reasons I was, you can't always count on it going your way all the time.

"I'd better get back before she starts wondering what happened to me," he explained.

I wondered what excuse he could have possibly concocted to leave her in the first place but he never volunteered the information. "You're suppose to meet us in an hour so maybe you should clean up a bit before coming back. Don't want you running around with an oily ass staining your shorts you know!"

How considerate of him. Like her really cared about ME. No, I knew he was more worried about how his wife would wonder why I was so oily - and then look at her guilty husband for the answer.

Indeed, once he left I thought about a shower but first I just laid back in the bed. My asshole felt like I'd been poked with a telephone pole and I wasn't looking forward to sitting down much for a while. I felt horny but yet for some reason I couldn't bring myself to even masturbate - and THAT should say something all by itself as to how I felt after what Mr. Eisneberg had done to me. Damn, when was the last time I ever said I did NOT want to masturbate???

Finally I got up and showered and dressed once again. The heat hit me like a wall when I exited the RV, damn it was a lot hotter it seemed than not even that long ago when I had walked over here. It was almost time to meet the Eisenbergs by the Town Hall so I hustled back and managed to get there a few minutes before they showed up.

"Have a good time this afternoon?" his wife asked me, winking at me.

It sort of surprised me - was she actually hinting that she was hoping I'd gotten a lid, or even just a BJ? Talk about a Dr. Jeckle and Mr. Hyde personality! I just grinned in response, my asshole feeling a little sore to remind me of the abuse it had taken not so long before. It was miracle I could walk with being bow- legged!

We had to get back and get ready for the evening service so it was an early earlier departure for us than most people. I was shifting back and forth in my seat all the way back, trying to get comfortable. God my ass hurt! I was feeling a little pissed at Mr. Eisneberg for taking advantage of me like that. I couldn't help but think that maybe next time I would just refuse to let him fuck me in the ass and then see what happens.

All the way back to the RV park, his wife sat across from me and I got the feeling she was dying to hear about what I had done when I was my own this afternoon. Was she now using me as some sort of way for her to relive her younger years? I wondered just what she had done back then. Other than a few vague hints, she pretty much kept it to herself. For that matter, I wondered if her husband even knew everything she had done?

All I knew for sure was that it promised to be an interesting school year this fall!

(Jul 11) Chapter 191: Tammy Visits

Story codes: MF MFF F-solo oral exhib inc father daughter
Me (24)
John - my dad (44)
Tammy - my mom's BFF (44)

It would be the first time Tammy had visited without my mom being around so I wasn't sure how things would go. I wasn't even sure WHY she was visiting us for that matter. Looking back, why was I even worried?

NOTE: While I give a little background in this one regarding past events concerning Tammy, I recommend reading the following for more details:

1. Tammy and My Mom

My mom's best friend, without a doubt, was Tammy - not to be confused with my younger cousin Tammy. Tammy was born a few months earlier than my mom (she was born in February whereas my mom came along later in June) and they has known each other since they were little girls. I guess it was sort of like what I have with my own best friend - Beth, only for a lot longer.

As I got older, it was interesting for me to learn that Tammy actually dated my dad long before my mom did. He even had sex with Tammy, something Tammy told my mom at the time as best friends would. My mom was dating a few other guys, giving out a few blowjobs here and there. When my dad fucked her about six months or so after he first did Tammy, she told Tammy that he had been her first.

The reality was that my mom lost her virginity only a couple of months after Tammy, but she never told Tammy because of WHO took it. More than 25 years would pass before Tammy learned the truth - that my mom (and well as Linda, her younger sister) first had sex with their own dad - my grandfather.

My mom married my dad in 1984 with me making an entrance nine months later. Tammy married a couple of years later to a guy she met in college. Given her and my mom's close friendship, the families got together frequently although Tammy's husband was never told the REAL history of what went on between his wife and my dad back in her high school days. Tammy has two teenage boys and lives in a rather upscale neighborhood in Bend, Oregon, your typical All-American family.

When Tammy's husband had been transferred to the Oregon, it was the first time my mom had been separated for any extended length of time from her closest friend and confidante. They relied mostly on phone calls and e-mails to keep in touch but still managed to meet each other at least once or twice a year, usually trading off each time as to who would travel to visit the other.

During Tammy's earlier visits to our house, I was pretty young so she and my mom pretty much did things without me. She never brought me with her to visit Tammy until a few years ago. Their trips were meant to be between the two of them so it never bothered me that I wasn't included.

In July of 2002, I was seventeen and enjoying the summer before my senior year of high school when Tammy came to visit. Things got quite interesting when we spent some time together in the hot tub while my mom was at work. I can still remember the way Tammy's mouth dropped opened when I raised my legs over the edge of the tub before lowering myself until the jet was positioned just right so as to send a stream of hot water right against my pussy.

As I took began to rub myself I looked over and saw Tammy just staring at me. She just couldn't believe what I was doing myself right in front of her! I was raised that masturbation wasn't anything taboo or that needed to be hidden so it was a little awkward at first.

I've said so many times that masturbation is the key to developing any form of informal sexual relationship and so it was with me and Tammy. In the end, my masturbating opened the door for us to start talking about sex and some of the things we'd done over the years. I guess I assumed that being so close to my mom that she would already know a lot about me so I didn't think twice when it came to talking about me and my dad and how he had started fucking me about a year ago now.

Well, if Tammy was shocked to see me openly masturbate, it was nothing compared to the horrified look on her face now. It took some fast explaining to begged my mom to have my dad fuck her. At that point it was like everyone came to their senses and things came to a quick end. She wasn't really ready to cheat on her husband and my dad wasn't about to commit adultery.

That same summer my mom and I visited Tammy at her home in Oregon, making it the first time I'd been west of Illinois. Tammy's family was nothing like mine when it came to sexual openness and sharing. I tried to be a good girl, but Tammy's two teenage sons WERE boys after all and I caught them both looking at me rather "inappropriately" at times. I was sort of proud that her husband did as well a couple of times. My mom actually thanked me about half-way through the week and commended me on my restraint.

After a week you can imagine how horny I was so when we went to a casino on a nearby Indian reservation, I was hunting for any opportunity. When my mom dared me to take on a group of guys at the poker table, Tammy go to see a great example of what a slut her best friend's daughter really was!

A year later Tammy was in town for my graduation party. Before she left, my mom had a special gift for her - my cousin Rick. For the first time in twenty years Tammy cheated on her husband - and with a boy about the same age as her son at that! As crazy as it was, it wasn't the biggest surprise waiting for Tammy. After doing Rick, my mom told her that she wanted her to do my dad. After all, he'd been Tammy's "first" so it wasn't like they didn't already "know" each other in that way. At first Tammy wasn't sure she wanted to do that, actually she was quite sure she didn't. In the end they did it.

Seeing my dad fuck Tammy was a complex experience for me. Of course it was erotic but the bottom line was that both of them were committing adultery. It didn't matter that it was my mom's idea and she was OK with it. Tammy was not a member of our family and so it was adultery, pure and simple. It took some pretty heavy discussions with my mom afterwards before she could convince me that Tammy was for all intents and purposes a member of our family and that it was OK. It was actually the same rationalization she used when my dad had fucked MY best friend Beth a couple of years earlier.

Then last fall the unthinkable happened - my mom had her accident and she was gone. Tammy came to the funeral but it was definitely NOT the right time to be even thinking about fooling around. I hadn't heard from her since and so when my dad informed me out of the blue that she was coming for the weekend, I have to admit it was quite a surprise.

That was nothing compared to how I felt when my dad confessed that he'd been talking to her on the phone quite a bit in the past few months. He didn't say much else so I was left wondering what the full story was. Why was she visiting? What would happen while she was here? Would she want to be with me again? Was she coming for just a platonic visit or did she had ideas about being with my dad?

So many questions but my dad wasn't volunteering anything more and I didn't want to press the issue, leaving me to wonder...

2. An Awkward Welcome

Since Tammy would be arriving in the middle of the afternoon on Friday, my dad asked me to pick her up at the airport so she wouldn't have to rent a car. It wasn't a hassle, I just rearranged one of my tutoring appointments and waited for her to call me on my cell phone when her luggage arrived.

Driving around to the loading area, I saw her standing there waving when she recognized me. She had packed pretty light - just a carry-on and one small suitcase so it was easy to get her stuff in my trunk. We chatted about her flight, the weather, and stuff as I headed out to the highway. Then for a moment it was like we both had nothing to say, the silence almost deafening as we each knew what needed to be asked and said, but neither of us anxious to address it. Finally, she took the lead.

"So I guess you're wondering why I'm here."

"Well, now that you mention it the thought HAD crossed my mind," I said lightly, trying to soothe some of the tension that had suddenly appeared.

"Look, I know things have been... well, 'different' for you since your mom's accident and I can only imagine how you must feel about things. Believe me, I had NO idea your dad hadn't told you about our calls and talks."

I turned to look at her quickly, the heavy traffic drawing my attention back to the road but not before she saw the questioning look on my face.

"At least your dad warned me," she said in response to my unspoken query, "I'm glad he did as it would have been a bit awkward otherwise."

In my mind I was shouting, "YOU THINK?" but I remained quiet, letting her go on without interrupting her.

"Things have been a bit rough between me Tom lately. As you know, your dad is probably closer to me and knows me better than any other man besides my husband. My goodness, he's still the only man other than my husband whom I've had sex with! I guess I just needed someone to turn to I knew wouldn't judge me."

"I think you mean someone to fuck you," I said - but only to myself. I was wondering where this was going.

"Well, it's not like your dad hasn't begun to move on... I mean with your aunt and all," she tried to point out, although to what end I was still confused.

"Oh, so he told you about him and her too?" I asked, trying not to sound judgmental but most likely failing miserably.

"Well I think it's wonderful myself, Kelly," she replied, "I'm not sure you fully realize just how close they use to be back in the old days. Your mother's gone, Kelly, he needs someone like her."

"Yeah, Like YOU," I again said silently.

It was difficult to describe how I felt - confused, maybe even a little jealous? I liked Tammy but it wasn't like I knew her THAT well. Sure we were together a week every year or so maybe, and yes we'd been intimate a few times as well, but I did not by any stretch of the imagination consider her my best friend, or even someone close to that. Now I really felt like I didn't know her.

"So let me get this straight then," I said, immediately realizing my tone was a bit sharp but it was too late, "You're having problems with your marriage so you thought you would come see my dad for some sex over the weekend to help you get through it. Do I have it right?"

Tammy looked as if she would cry, her eyes reddening and starting to sniffle, and it made me think maybe I'd come across a bit too harsh. Still, it needed to be said sooner or later so why not get it out in the open and get it over with?

"Soooooo, do you have a problem with that?" she asked softly.

Something suddenly struck me and I almost laughed out loud. Instead I just giggled and soon she was doing the same. It was all so incongruous, so utterly crazy. It was then I realized that I really didn't have a problem with it, I just needed to share my thoughts about it to make myself feel better with the situation.

"It's not like you two didn't seem to enjoy it the last time you were here," I teased her, putting my hand briefly on her leg.

"Yeah, that WAS pretty wild and crazy, wasn't it," she giggled back to me, "You know, I went home and for about a month I denied it actually happened - I just couldn't believe what we'd done.

That seemed to break the ice but I knew we would be discussing it more before the weekend was over. I was now into the thick of the traffic and it was too difficult to carry on such a serious conversation so we just listened to the radio until finally we were at my dad's.

"I guess you'll be staying in my room," I said as we carried her things in. Tammy was about half-way up the stairs as I said it but she stopped to look back at me.

"Thanks Kelly, but I really don't think I'll need to use your room," she said gently. Well duh! I don't know where my head is at sometimes. After getting her settled in, we went to my bedroom (no matter where I live or how long I'm away, this was always going to be "my" bedroom). We sat on the edge of my bed, each with one leg tucked under with the other planted on the floor. For just a moment there was that awkward silence again. This time it was my turn to say it first.

"What about me and you this weekend," I asked, figuring the direct approach would be best. I guess I wasn't direct enough though.

"What do you mean Kelly?" she asked sincerely, as if she really didn't understand my question.

"Well," I said softly, unsure of myself now that she hadn't grasped immediately what I'd meant, "I know you came to have sex with my dad... what about me?"

It wasn't that Tammy was the hottest woman I knew. Compared to my Aunt Linda she was a bit overweight and plain looking but it wasn't like she was fat or ugly. To me, it was more the relationship that mattered. When my mom was here my relationship with Tammy was pretty much based on them being best friends. Now that things were different, would it be different between me and Tammy was well? It was complicated, to say the least. Was it that I hoped by being with Tammy that somehow it may resurrect those feelings again when she was my mom's best friend. Was I trying to relive the past instead of dealing with the present?

Tammy reached over and hugged me. "Kelly, you need to understand that I'm just not that kind of women at heart." Seeing the disappointment on my face, she tried to explain further by saying, "What we did was special and something I'll never forget... it just isn't ME though. Do you understand?"

I understood, or at least I understood what her answer was. I can say, though, that I did NOT understand WHY. Maybe I never would. Just then I heard something downstairs and to my surprise, my dad was already home. Well, it WAS a Friday afternoon and he knew Linda would be arriving so I guess he left work a little early – defined as anything before 7-8:00 in the evening!

"John!" Tammy called out as he came up the stairs.

My dad came into my room and Tammy stood up and they hugged. Something was different already, something I couldn't quite put my finger on but it WAS different. Watching them hug and then start to kiss, I realized what it was. Before she had been my mom's best friend and anything between them had funneled through her with her blessing. Tammy was always my mom's best friend", not just another woman. Watching them together this way it seemed they were more like lovers than two people with a common friend. It had been hard enough to see him with my Aunt Linda this way and they had been together sexually forever it seemed. To see Tammy and him like this was just a little mind-boggling.

"I'll call you later Dad," I said as I walked out of the room.

Sheesh, he didn't even said goodbye, let alone give me so much as a kiss or a quick squeeze on the butt as I went by him. He and Tammy were too absorbed with one another to notice much of anything else.

I had cleared my calendar for the day and night, assuming I would be spending it with my Dad and Tammy. As I drove home it came to me that now I was all alone on a warm Friday night. This sucked!

3. Should I Interrupt?

For the past 24 years, or at least those parts that I remember, coming home was always something I looked forward to. Home meant security, love, and being with my parents. There is not a time in my life when I can recall NOT wanting to go home. Even now, I often catch myself calling it "home" even though I have my own apartment which is technically "home" for me. Still, I don't think it will matter where I live or for how long, "home" will always be that place where I grew up, where so many things happened to make me the woman I am today.

Not only can I not remember ever not wanting to GO home, neither can I ever recall ever feeling like I wasn't welcome either. No matter the time of year or day, the weather or what my parents had planned, I knew I could always count on a warm reception when I walked through the door. I didn't matter what I'd done, how badly I screwed up, or even how awful I may have treated them before I'd left the last time, I was ALWAYS welcomed home again.

Now, for the first time in my life, I wasn't sure if I should go "home". Yesterday I'd left my dad and Tammy in each other's arms and never even got a phone call later that night. I guess technically I wouldn't have gotten one under normal conditions anyway - my dad has never been a big one for phone calls just to say hi, but I still thought maybe Tammy might call to thank me for picking her up at the airport. Again, if I'd received a phone call on a Saturday morning from my dad I would've probably panicked, wondering what was wrong, so NOT hearing the phone ring was probably more to be expected but still, weren't they going to include me in ANYTHING?

Probably the best way to show how anxious I was is to say I skipped my morning masturbation time - the first time in ages that I can even remember doing so! It was like all the horniness in me was drained out and I just couldn't get myself in the right frame of mind.

Then I had an idea... a GREAT idea. If I was to go over to his house and perhaps sneak in, undress myself and then surprise them in bed, then they would HAVE to let me join them. I don't know why I felt so desperate to be a part of them this weekend, only that I did. It was almost like I feel when I get an unquenchable urge to have sex. Now and then it's like I HAVE to get laid and nothing else will do. It doesn't happen often but when it does, I usually end up calling my cousin or something to help me so I don't get myself in trouble, or at least not TOO much trouble (it's not like Kristen is all that steady herself but anything helps). This was almost like that except it wasn't about sex, but something different that I couldn't quite put my finger on. All I knew was I HAD to go over and see what they were doing,

As I drove, my sex drive began to get back in gear the closer I got to the house. I began to imagine what Tammy was doing to my dad right now, and vice versa. God my pussy was starting to itch SO bad and I cursed myself for wearing jeans instead of a short skirt that would've made things a whole lot easier.

Fortunately I was home before I got too crazy, parking my car at the bottom of the driveway where it wouldn't be seen from the upstairs bathroom (the bedrooms were on the other side of the house anyway). I keyed in the entry code into the wireless thing for the garage door and hoped the sound of the door opening wouldn't be heard two stories up. Fortunately my dad keeps the opener well maintained and even I could barely hear anything as it rose.

The basement was at the same level as the driveway (after it had dipped one story from the front of the house to the garage) and I carefully let myself in. There was no sign of life so I walked over to where the laundry chute emptied, grabbed a chair so I could get closer to it, and tried to listen to what was going on upstairs. I'd learned many years ago as a child that the chute acted like an echo chamber, bringing every sound from two stories up down to the basement if you got in just the right spot. It was perfect for listening in on my parents when they thought I couldn't hear them! Still, I didn't hear a thing and I looked back out in the garage just to be sure his SUV was there - which it was. Hmmmmmm, what were they doing - or NOT doing?

Going up the basement stairs, I opened the door to the first door carefully but there was nobody around there or in the kitchen. Making my way to the entryway, I looked up the stairs but as they made a left turn about two-thirds of the way up, I couldn't see anything, nor could I hear anything either.

Hmmm, what should do now? My original plan had been to strip down and go upstairs naked, surprising them such that they couldn't say anything about me hopping in bed with them. If my dad was going to fuck Tammy, then he should be doing me with her as well - or at least that's how I saw it. Then again, when I made those plans I'd expected to hear the moaning of two people engaged in hard- core sex such that they wouldn't even notice me until I was right at the side of the bed. As quiet as the house was now, and given how virtually every square foot of this old house squeaked, the element of surprise was going to be pretty hard to obtain.

Still, what did I have to lose? I slipped off my sandals, then dropped my jeans to the floor and stepped out of them. Reaching down with my arms crossed to the bottom hem, I pulled the tank top up and over my head in one fluid motion, leaving me standing completely naked in the hallway. The house was pretty cold - my dad LOVED air-conditioning, as proven by the reaction my nipples were making now as they stiffened.

Like the laundry chute listening secret, another thing I'd learned by living in this house almost all of my life was how to avoid the especially squeaky spots in the hardwood steps leading to the second floor. It was like watching an Indiana Jones movie as I stepped in my bare feet from side to side, almost having to be acrobatic at times but it worked - not a sound and I was at the top of the stairs. Now that I was just a few feet from my dad's bedroom, I was finally able to make out the low voice that was talking.

"Oh yeah, that feels so good," I heard at one point between the barely audible moans and groans.

Well, at least I knew they weren't sleeping and they WERE doing just what I'd hoped they would.

The window air conditioning was raising goose bumps on my exposed skin. The house had radiators for heat and was much too old for central air-conditioning so my dad had installed a monster air-conditioner in the window which pretty well cooled the entire house if you pointed the vents in the right direction. Unfortunately, I was standing right in front of the discharge that was intended to cool the majority of the upstairs - and I was freezing!

Suddenly it dawned on me that the voices I heard were not coming from my dad's bedroom! The noise of the air-conditioner must have distorted my hearing, not to mention I'd just expected it to come from there so I never really thought about it until now. No... it was coming from MY bedroom! OK so technically I didn't live there anymore but after occupying it for 18 years, that room would always be MY bedroom.

I sneaked around the corner until I could get a glimpse of the bed using the mirror that hung over my dresser. I smiled to myself as I thought of how my dad had carefully positioned it so many years ago such that he could get a good view of my bed without ever having to actually look into my room. He loved to watch when my boyfriends would come over to fuck me. None of them ever saw him in the mirror - or at least they never admitted that they had.

Now the tables were turned and it was my turn to "spy" on the events that were taking place in my room. My heart practically stopped when I saw my dad laying on my bed on his back with Tammy riding him cowgirl. They were both nude and while Tammy was more than a few years past her prime (to be kind), she certainly was trying to make up for it with effort! She was bucking on my dad's dick like she was riding the bull at a cowboy bar!

"Fuck me John... fuck me harder," she was saying, clearly audible in the hallway where I was standing, "Oh fuck me... Tom never fucked me like you do... do it to me now!"

Tom was her husband back in Oregon. So far as I knew, he was the only guy that had ever fucked Tammy besides my dad and so far as he was concerned, my dad hadn't either. How Tammy convinced him she was a virgin when my dad had been the one to take it long before she met Tom... well she never told me. Imagine if he saw his dear wife now, acting like a wanton slut in heat as she committed the ultimate sin that a wife can do - adultery.

It wasn't like they were having a conversation or anything, more just a few words here and there mixed in between grunts and moans. Tammy's boobs were bouncing all over the place - a classic example of where wearing a bra during sex isn't always such a bad idea! Her ass was spread out on my dad's crotch more than anyone else's I'd ever seen but that didn't seem to stop my dad from wanting to grab it with both hands and squeeze it as she rocked on his dick.

It was then I realized that my hand was between my legs - I hadn't even thought about it, it just went there automatically like it often did when I was horny. Yet as hot as I was, I was struggling as to whether or not I should barge in. It wasn't like I was wearing anything less than they were (as in nothing). Yet at the same time I hesitated. It was painfully obvious that they were thoroughly enjoying one another. Their relationship went back a LONG ways, even more so than my dad's did with my mom and her sister. It was like they were somehow reliving their past, capturing the old magic from back in their early high school days. Was it right for me to just drop in unannounced? Really, if they wanted me in there with them now ,all it would have taken was a simple phone call and I'd have gladly rushed over to join in.

In the meantime, Tammy had twisted around such that she was facing away from my dad as his hard dick stayed up inside of her pussy. Had I stepped into the doorway she would've been staring at me straight in the face. Now THAT might have been an interesting expression to capture, but I doubted that this was the right time and/or place. At the same time, I wondered if it wasn't EXACTLY the right time and place. After all, he WAS my father and Tammy knew how close we were. Surely she would want his only daughter to be included with them... wouldn't she?

Watching them fucking on MY bed, I wondered why they were on MY twin-sized bed instead of my dad's larger queen-sized bed. What was the point in fucking his old lover on his daughter's bed? Then it hit me... for the first time I was seeing my father having sex just for the sake of having sex. With me, I was always his daughter and no matter where or when we did it, we never could be anything else.

With my mom, it was his love, his soul mate. Sure they got pretty wild sometimes (the walls between our bedrooms were pretty thin) but again, they could never be anything else. When he fucked my Aunt Linda and my cousins, it was more sexual than emotional but there were still those family ties that could never be totally cast aside.

Perhaps the closest I'd seen him to having pure "sex" was with my best friend Beth; but even then, the cloud of adultery hung over everything, regardless of how much he later denied it, and I don't think he could fully engage with her without seeing me or my mom.

So indeed, this was a first for me, the first time I'd ever seen my dad fucking another woman just for the sake of having sex with her - no strings, no family ties, nothing but pure covetousness and desire on BOTH of their parts. They seemed to be reliving their so-called glory years as young teenagers, engaging in playful sex without any worries, without any concerns for the future, or any thoughts as to who might know about it.

Watching them, I felt awkward, strange - even weird. It was almost like I was seeing him having sex for the first time Sort of ironic I guess. Was this how other girls felt, the ones who didn't have incest with the dads, when they stumbled across their parents having sex? One the one hand I wanted to turn away, not wanting to see my father like this, yet on the other hand my eyes were riveted on the sleazy scene being played out right before me. It was like I felt like I shouldn't be watching them yet at the same time I couldn't tear my eyes away.

Had anyone asked me before now how I would react to such a situation, I would NEVER have even dreamed for a moment that it would be like this. No doubt I would have said how much it turned me on, how eventually I would walk into the room and join them. At the very least I would have thought I would get excited and masturbate as I watched. Yet now that I was faced with this in real life for the first time, masturbating was pretty much the LAST thing on my mind. Sure I wanted to watch, but not because I wanted to join them, but more out of morbid curiosity than anything else.

Indeed, as I mentioned before, this was probably how a typical girl might feel after accidentally walking in on her parents as they were making love, except this wasn't my parents, it was my dad and an old friend. Just as no doubt that girl would be fascinated by what she was seeing, so was I. Yet as fascinated as she may be, the odds were the thought of joining her parents would never have crossed her mind, just as the thought of joining my Dad and Tammy was not an option I was seriously considering any longer.

I leaned back against the wall as I watched, my eyes barely even blinking as I didn't want to miss anything. The coolness of the plaster against my skin reminded me that I was bare-ass naked and in some way it seemed inappropriate for this situation. Like, what was the point in me being nude anymore? I wrapped my arms around myself, feeling even more chilled as the air-conditioner blew from behind me.

My dad was on top of Tammy now, classic missionary position. They were kissing passionately as I watched his bare butt rise and fall as he fucked her. I could even see his erect dick as it drilled it's way deep into her hairy pussy and then it would glisten a little in the sunlight coming through the window as he pulled it back out again, smeared with her pussy's wetness. He looked so happy while he fucked her slowly as they kissed, obviously not trying to get himself off quickly but rather just enjoying the warm sensation of being inside of her pussy for as long as possible.

As I watched my dad fuck Tammy, I smiled as I knew just what she must be feeling. Indeed, how many times had that very same dick been in my mouth and pussy? How many times had I closed my eyes and concentrated solely on my father's hard cock as it penetrated me and drove itself deep inside of me? Oh how I loved it when he fucked me the way he was fucking Tammy now; slow and easy, driving as deep as he could into her and then slowly but steadily pulling out until just the head remained inside. Then he would hold himself there, circling his hips to make his cock gyrate just inside her pussy before ever so slowly pushing it back in her once again. His hairy crotch would meet up against her thick bush, nothing but their pubic hair between them as his dick was buried completely inside of her. Her hips rose as she worked to get even more of his cock in her. I could hear her soft cry as she felt him push even harder against her, feeling even more of him within her.

Although I could barely see Tammy's face in the mirror, from what I COULD see she was totally lost, consumed with sexual hunger as once again she was fucking the first man she ever allowed inside of her so many years before. Now he once again was doing her, as if it was just yesterday when they had done in the back of his parents station wagon at the old drive-in. I wondered if her husband could make her feel this way? After so many years of marriage, did it still thrill her to have him fuck her? Did she still shiver at the thought of sucking his cock? Did her pussy tingle with anticipation when she snuggled up in bed against him? Was it more exciting for her to fuck my dad while her husband was at home without her? Was she remembering her first time, or maybe one of the many times after that when she and my dad had fucked as young teenagers?

Tammy began to buck under my dad as her orgasm rose within her. I held my breath, trying to listen closer as she moaned and cried, not really saying anything intelligible. In fact, had I just listened to a recording of her as she was now, I would have thought she was in pain! Then I shivered as she gave out a long moan that seemed to go on and on.

"Oh god John, don't stop... keep fucking me," she finally called out as she wrapped her legs around him and pulled him tighter into her, "Make me cum... oh fuck John, you're making me cum so good!"

"Your pussy's so hot... so wet," my dad gasped as I could tell he was about to cum himself.

Some things you just learn to recognize after it happens enough times. My dad still managed to surprise me now and then but usually I was pretty accurate when it came to knowing when he was about to cum - sometimes I think even before he did!

"Oh Tammy, I love fucking you... I wanna fuck you so bad!" I heard my dad groan as he rammed his stiff dick into Tammy's convulsing pussy.

"On my face... cum on my face," Tammy begged - and surprised me a bit in the process.

For whatever reason, I just never had figured Tammy as the type who liked facials! Heck, even I preferred not to have them and I loved cum! They are just a mess and I only did them when I thought the guy really wanted it.

My dad's answer was to pull out of her and he stood on the floor next to my bed by Tammy's head and stroked his dick rapidly. Tammy turned her head to face him and opened her mouth just in time as the first load of cum spewed from my dad's cock like from a sperm-filled squirt gun. The first load nailed Tammy right between the eyes with some on her forehead with the next shot splashing on her nose and lips. The third one was right on target, landing directly on her outstretched tongue.

My father moved forward and she grabbed his cock as it was still ejaculating, pulling it into her mouth to take the remaining cum directly in her mouth. Yeah, Tammy WAS a genuine cumslut after all! I saw my dad's ass clench with each load as Tammy eagerly sucked every drop from his dick. When he'd finished, she continued to suck his dick, fondling his balls as she tried to get even more.

"You know... you look like a slut," my dad teased her as he pulled his spent dick from her mouth, "I bet Tom doesn't cum on your face, does he?"

Tammy was carefully wiping her eyes as apparently some of him had either hit her in the eye or had dripped down her face into it. Indeed, she did look pretty hot with my dad's cum on her face as she lay naked on my bed, her freshly fucked pussy visible through her spread legs.

"Tom? Hell no, he's a missionary guy all the way; cums in or on my pussy every time," she sneered with a hint of frustration in her voice. "I took his cum once in my mouth when I was blowing him and he couldn't stop himself. The jerk wouldn't kiss me for days afterwards!"

"What an idiot... If only he could see his slutty wife now!" my dad chuckled.

I shifted my weight and damn if the wooden floor didn't squeak just enough for Tammy to lift her head to look. Fortunately I wasn't in the line of sight of the bed and she didn't know to look in the mirror over on my dresser.

"Somebody here?" she asked my dad.

He shook his head and I saw him starting to turn so he could look in the mirror but I'd already moved to the side so he couldn't see me.

"Nobody's here... you know how these old houses creak sometimes," he assured her.

"OK, I was afraid maybe Kelly might come over."

My ears perked at that. My intention was to sneak back down the stairs and leave before they caught me but now my curiosity was peeked. I couldn't see anything but I could still hear them just barely over the din of the air-conditioner. If it hadn't been running I could've heard them a lot more easily but then they could've heard me a lot more easily as well.

"Nawwwwww, she didn't say anything about stopping by and she usually lets me know ahead of time."

There was a pause, why I don't know, but then Tammy spoke up again saying, "You know John, don't take this the wrong way but I'm glad it's just you and me. I know how you are with Kelly but to be honest, since I was here last time I've thought about it a lot and I'd rather not be involved with all that."

"Oh, and why this change in heart?" my dad asked, "Seemed like the last time you were here it didn't bother you all that much."

"It's incest John... after I got home I looked at my kids and I just couldn't imagine doing what you do with Kelly with them," Tammy explained softly, her voice so low I could barely hear.

"I hope you understand WHY I do it," my dad responded, a note of concern in his voice, "It's not like it's just about the sex."

Tammy sighed and then answered, "I know you say that John, and I think you've said it so many time now that you've convinced yourself of it. But I saw you last time when you fucked Kelly... I saw the look on your face... I saw the way you fucked her. It WAS just about sex."

There was a silence and then Tammy continued, "Look John, I didn't mean to get into all this now, we can discuss it later. Now let's see what I can do about getting that guy back in action again!"

My guess was she was sucking his dick again and now that the post-sex conversation duties were fulfilled, she as going to see if she couldn't get yet another load of cum. Seemed like a good time my exit, especially after what I'd just heard. I carefully made my way down the stairs and retrieved my clothes.

Soon I was dressed and back on the road again. My mind was racing with everything I'd just seen and heard. Of course the biggest shock had been learning about Tammy's feelings about me and my dad having sex. It really bothered me because she had never even hinted at these concerns before. I thought she had realized how wonderful it was when my dad fucked me and supported us. Guess I was wrong.

Just as I got back to my apartment my cell phone rang and I saw it was my dad. Taking a deep breath I answered the phone. After a brief hello and weather update, he got to the point. "Look Kelly, I know you were watching us today - I caught a glimpse of you in the mirror. I just wanted to be sure you're OK with everything."

Thankful it wasn't a video phone so he didn't see the pained expression on my face as I answered, "I'm sorry dad, I didn't mean to spy on you or anything, I just thought it best if I left when I did."

"Kelly, I don't know what you heard but I hope you weren't too upset by anything."

I hesitated before answering back, unsure of how much to say over the phone. "I'm fine dad, maybe a little confused but I'll deal with it."

"You know I love you Kelly," he said softly.

"I love you too daddy," I said automatically back.

After he hung up I undressed and threw on one his shirts I'd "borrowed" a long time ago. I laid down on my bed on top of the covers and looked up at the ceiling. Suddenly I started crying as memories of my mom came flooding back to me. It had been a while since I'd felt this way but after seeing my dad today fucking another woman I realized how special it had been to see him and my mom together. It was so much more then sex when they made love, like they were made just for each other and were only complete when they joined together. I recalled how it was to be with them, snuggle in between them feeling so warm and secure as their naked bodies pressed against me from each side.

I don't think I've ever been so happy as at times like that, just being close to them and actually feeling their love for me, to be followed by my dad fucking me ever so gently, lovingly as my mom watched and kissed me. Just about sex? I don't think so... it had been SO much more than that when I was with them!

God, how long had it been since I thought about how it felt to have my mom kiss me, to caress my breasts and fondle my pussy as my dad fucked me? I unbuttoned the shirt and let it hang open as I touched my firm breasts, memories of my mom's lips on them flooding back. I reached down and put one finger up inside of me as thoughts of how it felt to have my father inside of me while I kissed my mother came rushing back into my head. To see her look down and watch my dad's dick moving in and out of me, watching her husband as he fucked her only daughter so lovingly, and then to hear her whisper softly, "Fuck her John... fuck your little girl."

It wasn't just about sex as Tammy had accused him. My mom hadn't been telling him to do me like some whore at a party. She loved seeing him fuck me, to see the incestual bond between us. She knew it was his love for me as his daughter - not just about sex, that she was witnessing. Then when he would cum inside of me I would tell her how I could feel him in me, tell her how much I loved it, how much it meant to me. It wasn't "just about sex", it was me submitting myself to my father in the most wonderful, intimate way possible.

My pussy was so hot and wet now as I used my other hand to rub my clit. With my eyes shut I envisioned how my mother would move her mouth down my body, gently kissing my nipples and then slowly working her way down my stomach until she was between my legs, licking my freshly fucked pussy. It was my dad's turn now to watch as my mom would lick as much of her husband's cum from my pussy. How clearly I could still remember how it felt to feel her tongue reaching inside of me, her lips as they gripped my swollen clit and then her finger pushing inside of me to draw out more of my dad's cum. She seemed so content, so serene when she was licking my pussy and I know it meant so much more to her when she could taste her husband on me as well.

Oh my god I was cumming finally! How long had I been here fantasizing about sex with my parents? Did it matter? Sometimes when my orgasm hits me it literally HITS me, like being blindsided by a truck. Then there were times like this, when it was more like this growing warmth that steadily rose within me, making my entire body feel like I was on the beach with the sun drenching me with its heat.

I gasped as my hot pussy convulsed and my legs pulled under me as I kept my hand firmly between my legs. This was so much more than "just about sex". My father had just fucked me and now I was sucking his softened cock while we both watched my mom eating my pussy, licking up my cum as my orgasm peaked and I was consumed.

After I'd finished, I laid on my side on my bed, one arm stretched out over the edge of my bed and the other locked between my legs, my palm cupping my still hyper-sensitive crotch. All I could think about was how Tammy had accused my dad of fucking me "just about sex". How could anyone even THINK such a thing? I wish she could have witnessed what I'd just recalled as I masturbated; then she would surely have known different!

Tomorrow was Sunday... maybe before I took her to the airport in the afternoon there might be an opportunity to prove to her that she was wrong. She needed to know that incest CAN be a wonderful thing, that my dad loved me as his daughter and would never take advantage of me as she had accused him.

If only she knew…

4. Breaking Tradition?

Every family has its traditions. Many are associated with the holidays and we had those to - such as whose home would host the family gathering for which holiday. Many have vacation traditions - not something we really had as we didn't take all that many long vacations when I was growing up thanks to my parents' hectic work schedules. One thing my family DID have that might not be so common involved sex.

For instance, for the past several years the 4th of July had become a time when my family and my Aunt Linda and Kristen got together to celebrate - and I don't mean just the birth of the nation either. Then there was my dad's morning tradition where he would come into my room before leaving for work to spend some "quality time" with his daughter. That tradition sort of faded away when I left for college, but during breaks it would revive itself.

If there is one tradition my dad and I have worked hardest to maintain, it's our time together on Sunday mornings. For years we've had sex just prior to leaving for church, trying to time it as close to start of the service as possible so I have his warm load still in me once we sat down in our pew. There's just something about sitting there as the announcements are read, and then standing up to sing and feel his cum against my thigh as it drains out of me that is incredibly erotic. I never tire of the way he looks at me when I sit next to him, knowing that he had just fucked me and now I was carrying a part of him inside of me. If only the people around us knew!

If only they knew that literally just minutes before his dick had been inside of me, that a loving father had expressed his love and respect for his daughter in a way probably no other father in the entire church had today. Then again, looking around, I wondered if any of the other girls were smiling as their pussies tingled with the memory of having their dad's dick in them just before church.

I have to admit that it's not just the fact my dad fucked me that makes this "tradition" so erotic. It would be pretty naive of me to try to say the naughtiness of it isn't a turn-on as well. Sometimes his cum would drip out and I could feel it drain down my ass onto my skirt. The next time we stood up, I would wonder if it was showing to the people in back of me, and if they had any clue as to what that small wet spot REALLY was.

Undoubtedly even if something DID show, nobody would have thought that it was cum, and especially not that it was my FATHER'S cum at that. Plus, it wasn't like my pussy just quit once my dad fucked me. I loved sitting in the pew feeling it all tingly and warm. Sometimes I would cross my legs to rub my clit a little and it was like goose bumps would raise all over me. At time like that it would be all I could do to keep from reaching down and under my skirt to touch myself. Now THAT would have raised some eyebrows for sure!

As I dressed for church, I thought about how Tammy would be at my dad's house this morning. For a brief second I considered whether or not I should forego our Sunday tradition just this once. It wasn't like we ALWAYS did it. Sometime one of us would oversleep or be running late (poor excuse but it happens) or he might be traveling out of town or I might be with someone. Those times were rare, though, as it meant a lot to both of us to try and keep this tradition a top priority.

Looking in the mirror, I smiled as I thought of what Tammy would think about me wearing this outfit to church. It wasn't something I would've normally picked out to be honest. After all, it WAS church and wearing a really short dress was highly discouraged. This one was more like one I would wear when going out trolling for guys - LOTS of leg and cleavage. For church it was borderline to be sure, but I didn't think it was TOO bad such that people would think badly of me or even worse, mention to me that maybe I should go home and change.

I did make one concession - I wore panties, something I almost never did on Sunday mornings. Not just a thong but actual panties. OK, maybe not the kind your grandmother buys you for Christmas. They were pretty high cut on the sides and narrow in the crotch. The key was that unlike a thong, which typically exposed most, if not virtually all of your ass, these covered a good bit of my bottom. There is a difference between dressing suggestive and looking like a slut. In my opinion, when going to church a girl shouldn't look like a slut - at least not during Sunday morning services. As for other time, well that was a different story.

I decided to head over to my dad's a little earlier than usual. Typically our pre-church "activities" were pretty much geared around him filling me up for church, not to get all sweaty and smell of sex. As a rule, we never even undressed. He would typically just open his pants enough to get his dick out and I would lift my skirt (remember, normally I don't have anything on underneath), and he would fuck me and cum as quickly as he could. This morning I might take off my panties while he fucked me but that would be all, if I even did that. He could always pull them to the side although I've lost a few pairs that way before when they ripped.

The reason I was going early was, of course, Tammy. I wasn't sure how she would react to me being there - or more so how she would react to WHY I was there. It was bad enough that she'd already accused my dad of fucking me "just about sex". What would be her reaction when she learned what we did just before leaving for church?

I parked on the curb by the top of the driveway so I would have one less flight of stairs to negotiate in my high heels. The front door was unlocked so I stepped inside. Looking down the hall, I could just see Tammy sitting at the kitchen table drinking coffee. Although she smiled when she saw me, I could tell she was a little surprised that I was there.

"Morning dear, wasn't expecting you," she said right up front. I explained that I always stopped by before church so my dad and I could go together.

"Sort of early, aren't you? Your dad is still dressing I think."

I debated whether or not to say anything as to why I was REALLY there early. Then it was like I felt this frustration within me. Why should I be worried about what she says or thinks? It wasn't like she didn't already know we did it. Why did I have to be the one to be sensitive about her feelings? Weren't MY feelings just as important as hers?

"Well Tammy, to be honest, my dad and I like to be together a bit before we go."

Tammy's eyebrows raised. She was no dummy and she caught on immediately to what I was referring to. Then she forced a smile and reached over the table to hold my hand in hers.

"You mean your dad has sex with you before church... this close to church time?"

I just nodded, not sure what more I could say at this point.

"Kelly..., why?" Tammy asked. I knew she meant more then why was I here to do it before church. No, she was asking a much larger "why" - she wanted to know why I had sex with my dad in the first place.

"I thought you understood everything after your last time here?" I asked her, trying to deflect the question. It wasn't that I didn't want to answer it or that I was ashamed or unwilling. I'd love to tell ANYBODY how I feel about my dad fucking me whenever I can.

"Well, to be honest it was sort of a crazy time and I've had time to think it over since," she shared, "I just can't get past the feeling you're just doing it for him. What do YOU get out of it? You're young, good looking, and could probably have most any guy you want. Why do you even WANT to do this with your father?"

How do you answer such a question? At least, how do you answer it in just a few minutes? To me, it was as easy and simple as the nose on your face. He was my father, what more did I need to say? Yet I knew for someone like Tammy, such simplicity was just not part of her world and culture. How could I ever make her truly understand?

I heard my dad upstairs and I knew he would be heading down soon. I looked at Tammy and then I realized that if I just let my dad fuck me now, she would totally misinterpret everything. This was one time when my dad fucked me that the actual act WAS just about being fucked. Tammy would never understand it was just the prelude to a more erotic experience a little later in church. No, all she would see is my dad hurriedly pulling his dick out and me bending over, talking it immediately into my pussy without any foreplay or anything else. He would cum quickly and then I would arrange my dress and he'd fix his pants and we'd be off to church.

It was at that moment I knew that we had to do something different today. I got up from the table and met my dad at the bottom of the stairs, leaving Tammy in the kitchen. My dad, assuming I was meeting him to get started, started unbuckling his belt but I put my hand on his to stop him. He looked at me with a puzzled face.

I explained quickly that we couldn't do it before church today with Tammy here, that she would get the wrong idea. Then I smiled at him and whispered how I would make it up to him AFTER church when we had more time. At that moment I still wasn't entirely sure HOW, but I would work something out during the service. Besides, it would be fun to think about during the sermon.

We went back to where Tammy was washing her coffee cup out. She turned and looked at us expectedly, as if waiting for us to start going at it. After all, to her it was "just about sex" so in her mind, she was probably wondering why wouldn't we just do it like rabbits in the kitchen in front of her? Well, if she had NOT been there we may have done just that but I wanted to show her the truth before she left for home and doing it now would have made that all but impossible.

As we left the house to go to church, suddenly Tammy stopped and I think for the first time it dawned on her that I was actually wearing this dress to church. I think maybe she thought it was just for my dad and that I would change before we left but of course, I had no intentions of doing anything like that.

"Ummmmm, you're wearing THAT to church?" she said, trying not to sound too judgmental but failing miserably.

"Why, does it have something on it?" I asked, pretending not to realize that her comment might be about the dress itself.

"Well, I don't mean to sound old-fashioned or anything, but isn't it a little short? And the top... Isn't the top just a bit too low-cut?"

My dad once told me that "everything before 'but' is bullshit" and I grinned as I recalled his words of wisdom. Actually it made me feel even better about wearing this dress. If Tammy thought she needed to say something about it, imagine what some of those old shrews at church would think? My dad was watching the interaction between us with a hint of amusement. I knew HE loved my dress and he was undoubtedly looking forward to seeing the looks I got from other guys. They could only look and wish, he knew he would do a lot more than look before the day was over!

"Well I think it looks good on me," I said a little flippantly, maybe a little too much.

"Well I bet your mother would have never let you wear that to church," Tammy shot back and then she turned red and covered her face with her hands as she realized what she had said.

"Oh god, I'm so sorry... I didn't mean to say that," she said, looking like she was about to cry.

"Hey, we're going to be late for church," my dad cut in before it got any worse. I was about ready to fire back with one of my own so it was probably good that he prevailed.

Actually, the dress went over quite well at church. It's not like we go to the most conservative one in town although it still had its fair share of people who went a bit overboard in my opinion. Most people dressed casually for Sundays now, the only suits and formal dresses being worn mostly by the retired folks. Jeans and shorts were common and even flips-flops were worn although bare feet was still a no-no.

In a way, I was overdressed in terms of style while some may have pointed out I was a tad underdressed in terms of square inches of fabric. Between my short hemline and high heels, I thought my legs looked great with the summer tan I'd been working so hard on. Maybe a few hours at the gym wouldn't hurt but then I hadn't been exactly coltish in appearance in many years.

The service went by without incident. Just to tease Tammy, I crossed my legs while sitting between her and my dad. She kept checking out how far the dress pulled up and once I caught her frowning a bit. It's not like my butt was showing or anything but there wasn't a lot keeping out of view. The only time anyone really saw anything was when we stood up to pray or sing. I made sure I kept the dress pulled down so as not to flash the family behind me but I'm sure the teenage boys (and probably their dad) must have thinking, "just a little bit more...". Oh well, it made time go by quicker for what was a really boring service this morning.

As it turned out, there was a potluck dinner after church sponsored by the youth to raise donations. It wasn't much but we decided to eat there and do our part to support them. Tammy had to be at the airport later this afternoon anyway so it helped by not going out for a long lunch and having to wait in the Sunday lines. Unfortunately, our church let out about fifteen minutes later than this huge Catholic church next door and I swear they had made their schedule such that they could get to the restaurants before us!

It was after 1:00 by the time we got back to my dad's house. Watching Tammy's body language, I could tell she was horny and most likely was waiting for me to leave so she could attack my dad for one last fuck before going home to her boring marriage. Well, I had needs of my own and besides, I'd promised my dad something for skipping our time before church this morning. My dad parked in the garage meaning we had to enter the house through the basement and family room. Tammy looked at me and I could tell she was expecting to say goodbye as my dad would be driving her to the airport and so since I would supposedly be leaving soon, this was time to say goodbye. Well that was too bad as I had other plans.

"So you think my dad fucks me just for the sex, is that it?" I said, catching her off-guard as she looked stunned and stammered as she worked to figure out a response.

"Well, I don't think I put it quite THAT way," she said, trying to defend herself.

"Sit down Tammy," I told her.

I think the tone of my voice surprised her and she reacted instinctively to the demand by sitting down on the couch. "Good, now I want you to watch and THEN tell me it's just about sex... OK?"

I don't think she really comprehended what I was saying until I reached down, grabbed the hem of my dress with both hands, and pulled it up and over my head, leaving me in just my panties and heels. Gotta love that dress! Turning to my dad, I reached up and kissed him, my bare boobs pressing against his dress shirt. His hands automatically went to their favorite location - my ass and cupped my butt cheeks, one in each hand. I still was wearing the black lace panties but that didn't seem to faze him. I whispered in my ear to him, "Show her how you love me daddy. I want her to see."

I turned my head towards Tammy who was starting to get up. I motioned for her to sit.

"No, I want you to watch. You need to know the truth."

She started to protest but I held my hand up like a traffic cop, commanding her to stop and shut up. She looked at my dad, expecting support, but he just shrugged and smiled as if he was saying he was just going along with whatever happened.

"Please daddy, show her how much you love me," I whispered again as he seemed to hesitate because of Tammy's discomfort.

We kissed again, this time with more passion, our tongues meeting with our mouths open. His large hands slipped under my panties, grabbing my smooth bare even use the opportunity to walk out. It wasn't like she was some kind of prude after all. Heck, we'd done some pretty wild things the last time she visited and she hadn't been exactly shy about her desires to fuck my dad this time around.

Still, I could understand how someone like her, raised in a more typical family and now married and living with her standard All-American family, would have a hard time accepting what I was doing. She hadn't seemed all that concerned last time but then it might have simply overwhelmed her and it wasn't until she had time to really think about it that she had come to the mindset she now seemed to have.

I felt my dad's hands on each side of my head, his fingers wrapped in my hair as he pulled me into his crotch, driving his dick even deeper into my mouth and throat. OK, so he wasn't exactly the most well-endowed man I'd even sucked but he was more than adequate so far as I was concerned. Besides, anything much bigger and it becomes more a nuisance than a turn-on. Sure big cocks look great in porn films but have you ever tried sucking one?

"Do you like this daddy?" I said softly to him, holding him as I took my mouth off of him just long enough to speak.

"Oh baby, you know I do... you know I love it when you suck my dick," he sighed, shuddering yet again as my tongue licked along the base of his dick and up the bottom of his shaft.

"Do you like it when your daughter sucks your dick?" I continued. It was a question more for Tammy than it was for me. Of course I knew he liked me to suck him. I just wanted Tammy to hear him say it. Besides, I never grew tired of him saying it anyway!

"Oh yeah... you do it so good," he groaned as I sucked hard on the head, my cheeks sucking in as I tightened my lips around him even more.

I loved sucking my dad in front of Tammy. For her to see how good I made him feel she had to realize it was more than "just about sex" that was causing him to react the way he was. I knew he loved it when I sucked his dick and I tried to do it as often as I could. It didn't always have to be in my mouth, just touching it was special to me. Sometimes watching TV I just liked to cuddle and just hold his dick in my hand, feeling the warmth and firmness of it as he put his arms around me and hugged me.

He was starting to get ready to cum and I wasn't ready for that, at least not yet. I stood up and dropped my panties to the floor, stepping out of them while keeping my heels on - the only article of clothing that remained on me. I backed up and sat down on the couch next to Tammy. I was actually on the other cushion so it wasn't like I was rubbing my bare ass up against her or anything. She was still fully clothed and other than seeing her lick her lips now and then, there was no indication that she was turned on by anything so far. At least she was still watching! Leaning back, I grabbed the backs of my thighs with each hand and lifted my legs up and apart for him, giving him a direct view of my moist pussy.

"Your turn daddy," I said with a smile, "Show Tammy how much you love to lick your daughter's pussy."

Again, he looked over to Tammy, almost like he was seeking her approval but she remained stoic, not giving away her thoughts or feelings. Then he looked back at me and winked, a mischievous smile on his face as he kneeled on the floor by the couch and put his hand on the back of my bare thighs, pushing them back even more. With a quick licking of his lips, like he was about to partake of a feast, he started to kiss and lick the inner thighs of my legs., alternating between them and running his tongue along the sensitive bare skin.

It was my turn to shudder as the sensation of his tongue on my thighs was a cross between pure pleasure and a tickle. I loved to be touched and kissed there, one of the good things about wearing a short skirt was it gave easy access, even to just me in a pinch. He slowly worked his way to my crotch, teasing me with his tongue as he ran up and down the side of my pussy, not quite touching my pussy lips but getting ever so close. He briefly grabbed my swollen clit with his lips, giving it a gentle tug before he release it and went back to licking me.

"Oh daddy, lick my pussy," I sighed, wanting to feel his tongue on me so bad.

At first I thought he was teasing me again as he went down to my thighs again but the time when he came back up his tongue ran up the center of my slit, from close to my asshole all the way to my clit where he sucked and licked it. God it felt so good!

Actually, my dad didn't lick my pussy all that much. I'm not sure why, but it was something he seemed to have to be in the proper mood to do. I hadn't seen him lick Tammy's either but then I could have missed that given I had arrived will into their fuck time together.

"Wouldn't you like him to lick your pussy like this?" I teased Tammy.

I didn't expect her to say yes but it was worth the shot anyway. Sure enough, she just smiled politely and shook her head. I DID notice she wasn't taking her eyes off my pussy though. Hmmm, was she more interested in my pussy or watching my dad picking it while wishing he would do it to hers?

My interaction with Tammy was interrupted when I gasped for air, as if I'd been punched in the stomach and couldn't breathe. Actually, it was a good gasp, created when my dad unexpectedly thrust two fingers inside my wet pussy when I was looking at Tammy and not paying attention. I could feel him exploring my pussy, his fingers curling and moving all around inside of me. His nose was pressed perfectly against my clit as he kept licking me while he fucked me with his fingers. God I loved him so much!

"Oh daddy, I love you," I cried out as the pleasure that was beaming from my pussy like some sort of supernova radiated out to every pore of my body.

He didn't reply and this was one of those times I was glad he didn't. The last thing I wanted at that moment was for him to take his mouth off of me, even for a second!

"Ohhhhhh daddyyyyyyyy...," I groaned as my orgasm filled me with warmth and electricity.

It felt so good and as I came he sucked on my clit, making me practically leap from the couch as sensitive as it was by then. He pushed in a third finger, filling my pussy with his fingers as he fucked me with them.

"Fuck me daddy... fuck me now.. NOW!" I cried out.

I wanted to feel him entering me while I was still simmering and he didn't waste any time doing as I asked.

"Here you go baby... just what my girl needs," he said in a voice husky with his sex, positioning his dick head at the entrance to my pussy.

Sometime he would rub it around the outside, getting it wet and teasing me with it until I begged him to put it in me. Not today. Today he wanted in me as badly as I wanted it so as soon as it was in position, he was ramming himself into me, all the way to the hilt.

"That's it daddy, fuck me... show her how much you love me," I cried out as I felt his hard stick filling my pussy.

Over and over he pumped his dick in and out of me. It seemed that each time felt better than the last, but I don't know how that could be possible. All I knew was my daddy was inside of me, that he loved me so much he gave me his most precious gift, his sex.

"Look Tammy, isn't he wonderful?" I said looking at where Tammy was watching with serious attention, '"He could never fuck me like this if it were just about sex, can't you see?"

That was about all I was going to get out as my mouth failed me as I started to cum yet again. My dad groaned as my pussy grabbed onto his dick, holding it deep within me as my cum gushed around his shaft and onto my ass and below to the cushion. It felt so wonderful, so RIGHT. It was how it was meant to be between a father and his daughter, the way god intended it, the way I wanted it. Surely she had to be seeing it as she watched us.

"I want you to fuck Tammy too," I managed to get out, "Fuck her daddy... fuck Tammy just for me."

My dad looked over at where Tammy was sitting and I was sure he had no problem with what I was asking. Tammy, on the other hand, seemed a bit surprised. Well, why not? How often do you see a girl getting the lights fucked out of her by her father only to hear her tell him to do you? It was hard for me to even understand myself but there was something in me that needed to see him fucking her, some crazy impulse or desire, especially now that he was doing me in front of her already. Tammy didn't say a word, nor did she make any obvious gestures either to help figure out what she was thinking. My dad, bless his heart, took things into his own hands - literally.

"Well, you heard the girl," he said to Tammy with a grin as he pulled out of me and moved over where Tammy was sitting with her legs still crossed like a virgin at a party. I loved the way his cock glistened in the light from the wetness of my pussy that coated it, knowing it would soon join Tammy's once he as inside of her... assuming he WAS going to be inside of her!

"John, I really don't I know about this," she protested weakly.

She wanted it, it was obvious from the way she was holding her legs tight together, not to hide anything but she was more likely rubbing her clit with her thighs instead.

My dad wasn't taking anything but "yes" for an answer but even without it, he still moved forward, uncrossing her legs and then reaching down for the hem of her long skirt. She sat there, neither helping him or hindering him as he lifted it up and above her waist, exposing her pink nylon panties underneath. Nobody was saying a word and in the silence I could hear the rustle of her dress as he bunched it up and pushed it out of the way. The next thing was her panties and this time, as he grabbed them on each side and started pulling them down, she lifted her hips up just a little, almost imperceptibly but enough to help him pull them down and over her flats, leaving her hairy pussy exposed, the jet black pubic hair contrasting sharply against the white skin of her crotch. From the look of it, she didn't even trim it but just let it grow freely, like a wild bush - hence the nickname?

All you could hear was the deep breaths of everyone as my dad licked his fingers and moistened Tammy's pussy with them. He pushed her legs up similar to what he had done with mine and then moved in closer to her until his dick was only inches away from her pussy. Tammy looked almost like she was drugged, her eyes fixated on his dick while her face was almost expressionless.

"Fuck her daddy... fuck her for me," I called out softly to him.

He didn't really need my encouragement as I was sure he was about to do jus6t that anyway, but I was sure he still appreciated hearing me say it and I wondered how it made Tammy to hear his daughter begging him to fuck her.

"Ohhhhhh," she moaned softly, the first real sound she had made since he had moved to her as he pressed his dick into her pussy.

"That's it daddy, push it in her, fuck her daddy, fuck her!"

And fuck Tammy he did. It was different than with me though, faster and more out of control. He seemed less concerned about her pleasure and more about his, even though I knew he was sure to take care of her as well. Now THIS was "just sex". She wasn't his daughter, not his wife, not even his niece or sister-in- law. Tammy was just a woman he wanted to fuck, just a pussy to drill, just a married woman cheating on her husband (something, to be fair, was more what I was thinking, not him). He was just fucking her for the sake of fucking her, to enjoy himself and to savor the feel of Tammy's pussy around his dick.

My point was made. The defense rests. Case closed. There was no way Tammy couldn't realize now the difference between my dad fucking her and how he fucked me. She had to understand that with me it was more than "just about sex", just from watching the way he fucked me. She had to see that I was more than just another pussy to him, more than just another woman to get him off. She had to see that as his daughter, his only child, that he loved me unconditionally and only wanted to show me just how much he did in the most intimate way possible.

"I want you now daddy... fuck me now daddy." I said as I sat up and leaned over the couch.

I had one knee on the couch and my other foot on the floor as I looked at the two of them, my dad still rutting in her pussy like a dog in heat.

"DADDY!" I called out to break his concentration, "I want you to fuck ME now!"

I'm not sure what I would have done if he had cum in Tammy instead of me. Thankfully I didn't have to find out as he shook his head as if waking from a dream and pulled out of Tammy and quickly got in behind me and started fucking me from behind. It was a close call as he was barely in me when he started to cum.

"He's cumming in me," I said hoarsely to Tammy, she being almost under be as my dad shoved me forward as he rammed his dick into me deep as he poured his incestuous cum into me. "See, he's cumming in me, he wants it in me, in his daughter."

When he had finished he gave me a couple of more good thrusts and then pulled out of me. I smiled wickedly at Tammy and said, "Eat his cum from pussy."

Her eyes widened but she didn't say no so I took advantage of her hesitation and stood up on the couch, moving so one foot was on each side of her. I put my hands on the wall behind us to steady myself and thrust my hips forward until my pussy was directly over her face. I squeezed down until I felt a bit of his cum drip from me and onto her face.

At first she seemed determined to just sit there but once the cum hit her face she couldn't resist any more. She opened her mouth and I lowered myself down onto her outstretched tongue as more of my dad's cum leaked from my pussy and into her mouth. My knees almost buckled when her tongue tickled my pussy and then licked my clit as she sought to lick every drop of my dad's cum from me. I felt her hand reach up and cup my butt, pulling my pussy into her face as she licked and sucked me. Mmmmmmm, it was the perfect finish!

When I eventually had a seat next to her again, Tammy just sat there, her skirt still above her waist and her crotch on display but I don't think she even really realized it. She looked at me and smiled, taking my hand.

"You know, I STILL could never let my son fuck me," she said, and then seeing the downcast expression on my face, she continued, "But I DO think I understand why you love your dad fucking you - and why he loves it with you as well."

We hugged and I felt so much better. Tammy, after all, had been my mom's best friend and to have her approval and blessings meant a lot to me.

Epilogue

We all seemed to realize that it was getting late at about the same time. Tammy needed to shower as she couldn't exactly get on the plane smelling like cum and pussy! There was still a little time left and I wondered if she and my dad might have one last fuck before she took that shower – or even shared it.

I decided not to find out. There was something special now between my dad and Tammy, something that hadn't been there before this trip and I wondered if it was even more special than what they had as teens – undoubtedly so. I gave Tammy a final kiss and hug after I donned my dress (no sense fooling around with the panties since I would be going straight home).

I had no idea when I would see Tammy again but already I was looking forward to it. What had started out as a rather awkward and depressing weekend had finished in a wonderful way and I would remember this time together forever.

Meanwhile, next Sunday I was pretty sure my dad and I would be back to our traditions once again!

(Jul 21) Chapter 192: A Night to Unwind

Story codes: FF MF oral F-solo exhib
Me (24)
Beth - BFF (25)

When you have a number of things happen in the space of a few weeks that affect you emotionally and physically, it helps to have a best friend who knows just how to take your mind off things and let you unwind.

1. All Wound Up

The past month or so may not have been the most hectic or worst of my life, but it was still quite a struggle in many ways. Traveling to California for the first time, applying for a job, dealing with a blackmailer, a surprise visit by my mom's best friend, some issues with people on-line, and finally that monthly reminder that women don't have EVERYTHING better than men (just most things), and I guess you could say I was feeling pretty wound up.

Thank God for best friends! Just when I needed her most, Beth was there for me - my absolute best friend and most trusted confidante. Whether it was because she was concerned about my general well-being, being a little nosey, or maybe just fed up listening to my persistent complaining and whining, for whatever reason she stopped by my apartment one day for a visit after I'd bent her ear earlier for an hour or so on the phone.

"Hey girlfriend, you know... THIS has simply GOT to stop," she announced with a frown, waving her hands in the air at me as she burst past me into my apartment after I'd answered the steady knocking on the door.

She moved quickly to the middle of the living room area and then twirled around to face me, both hands on her ample hips and bouncing on the balls of her feet like she was preparing for Round One of a boxing match.

"So I just HAVE to ask... when the hell was the last time you got yourself laid anyway?" she demanded when I didn't respond immediately to her initial outburst, "And I don't mean by that jerk you'll be working for or some weirdo you met God only knows where."

Although I tried to protest, reminding her about being with my dad and Tammy, she clearly wasn't looking for that kind of answer, if she was even listening.

"Sheesh Kelly, you know I'm not talking about whatever it is you do with your dad or one of his old girlfriends," she huffed, "I mean like just a good old- fashioned screwing with one of the guys... or girls for that matter. Well?"

She already knew the answer so all I did was roll my eyes melodramatically. Sure I'd been out a few times the past few weeks but other than what I'd already mentioned, all I'd done was a few blowjobs - and those without even getting undressed myself. Not that I don't LOVE giving blowjobs, anyone who knows me at all knows THAT, but she was right - now and then a girl just needs to let her hair down and just get fucked.

"Crap, so how many time a day are you masturbating these days?" she continued her virtual interrogation.

"Oh... maybe twice a day?" I replied, trying to sound flippant. She wasn't buying it, which wasn't all that surprising as Beth knew me better than anyone else alive.

"Yeah right, and I'm the Queen of England," she responded sarcastically, "Give me a break Kelly, I know you a LOT better than that."

"OK, maybe three or four," I confessed. She seemed to almost buy it this time but in the back of her mind she was probably rolling her imaginary eyes at me.

"By yourself?"

"Well duh, isn't that sort of what masturbation IS?" I countered, hoping I could divert the conversation, false hope that it was...

"Yeah right, and since when does that apply to you my slutty friend?" she laughed at me. Then she got this odd expression and she started looking around for something. Whatever it was she didn't seem to be finding it and finally she turned to me and asked, "OK, so where are you hiding it?"

I looked at her quizzically, not as part of any act this time as I truly didn't have a clue as to what she meant.

"You know what I mean... your double-ended wonder toy silly!" she giggled.

Oh... so THAT was what she was looking for. Suddenly I knew exactly what she had in mind - my double ended dildo. Over the years I'd had a number of them in different colors, shapes and sizes. While I'm not that big a fan of dildos and vibrators in general, the one she was referring to was my favorite and the only one I kept handy on a regular basis. A college roomie had introduced me to it back when I was a freshman and it had been my "toy of choice" ever since. Of course it was more fun when I got to share it with another girl but if you're determined (and horny) enough, you can still find a number of ways to have fun with it all by yourself.

My eyes shifted over to the end table by the end of the couch where the TV changer was along with a small lamp. Beth followed my gaze and grinned when she spotted what she'd been looking for.

"Hmmmmmm, looks like it's out and ready for use... or has it already seen some action today?" she quizzed me with a big grin.

Actually, I hadn't used it in a couple of weeks since my cousin had last visited me but there was no sense spoiling the moment so I gave her a mischievous smile instead, letting her assume whatever she wanted.

Beth went over and picked it up. This particular model I'd bought not long ago on-line (you wouldn't catch me dead in one of those "adult" stores"). It was a translucent purple color model with smooth ridges around the "shaft" and large mushroom-like heads at each end. It was about 18 inches long, the longest I'd ever bought, and quite flexible. Between the extra length and flexibility it made it pretty easy to do sorts of interesting things with it, even when I was alone. Beth held it towards one end, letting it bounce up and down lewdly as she approached me.

"Hmmmmmm, I bet you got off good with it the last time, didn't you?" she purred as she stuck it between my legs and used it to rub up against my crotch.

All I was wearing was a relatively short t-shirt which was just long enough to cover my butt when standing up, but it didn't have a prayer of keeping me modest with Beth rubbing the dildo between my legs.

"You filthy slut! Like... do you EVER wear panties?" she teased me, knowing full well what the answer to her question was before she asked it.

"Why bother?" I replied flippantly, "Do you want me to put some on? I'm not embarrassing you, am I?"

Beth almost choked she laughed so quickly. "ME? Embarrassed? Yeah, like that'll be the day. Besides, since when have you worried about your underwear - or lack of it, around me anyway?"

As she spoke she rubbed my crotch a little more firmly with the dildo, letting the tip dig into me a little, causing me to squirm a bit as it pressed against my exposed clit.

"Ahhhhhh, somebody's horny, I can tell," Beth teased, "I think you need to get laid girl, big time!"

By then I really wasn't paying a lot of attention to what Beth was SAYING. I had closed my eyes and found myself thinking more about what she was DOING. Her free hand had worked its way under the back of my t-shirt until she had a firm grasp of my bare ass, pushing my hips forward to meet up with the steady motion of the dildo she was rubbing against me with her other hand.

"Oh!" I gasped softly, unable to fully contain myself as I felt her hand squeeze my butt as she started to work the dildo more firmly between my bare legs. I shifted my weight from foot to foot, parting them more for her to make it easier for her to do... well, whatever she wanted to do to me.

"Ahhhhhh, you want it in you, don't you," Beth said in a low sultry voice, not teasing anymore but more like she was seducing me - and doing a damn good job of it as well. "You want a nice hard dick up that sweet wet cunt, don't you... you're just a fucking slut... and I love that about you Kelly."

Well, you didn't have to be a slut to enjoy what she was doing to me. Heck, a nun would've loved what Beth was doing to me now. She had the dildo's head starting to push its way into me, working it slowly just barely in and out of my horny pussy, using my natural wetness to lubricate it. When she suddenly shoved it deeper into me, I thought my legs would collapse!

"Oh fuck that feels so good!" I cried out ever so softly as Beth maneuvered me backwards towards the couch.

When I felt the fabric against the backs of my legs I put my hand back to catch my weight as I dropped down to the seat cushion. Beth was relentless, keeping the first couple of inches of the awesome dildo in me the entire way down. Leaning back, I laid my head against the top of the back cushion and sat there as Beth did most of the work - well, make that ALL of the work. As for me... I was just enjoying myself!

"Take that damn thing off," Beth said softly but firmly as she sat down next to me, putting her free arm on top of the cushion behind me while she worked the dildo ever so slowly into me further with the other.

I quickly reached down and grabbed the bottom of my cotton t-shirt, pulling it up and over my head, then dropping it on the couch next to me, leaving me finally naked next to her.

Beth, meanwhile, was still fully clothed in her white capris and turquoise tank top, not even bothering to remove her sandals yet. With her big boobs it was obvious she'd left her bra at home. She mentioned once they were 36D's but I think she was trying to keep me from being too jealous of them. Damn, they were incredible! All through our teens years I use to dream of having boobs likes Beth's. When we were fourteen she was already busting out of her bras and bikini tops while I was still stuffing in tissue in a vain attempt to make a training bra look sexy.

As I got older mine finally developed so that nowadays hers weren't THAT much bigger than mine. In fact, I'd was now a pretty solid 34C bra size (not that I wore one all that much), but I still admired Beth's and seeing those impressive breasts pressing out through her thin cotton tank top, the outline of her large nipples clearly visible, was making me even more horny than ever.

With my T-shirt now out of the way, Beth dropped her arm down to lay on top of my bare shoulders. She leaned in closer so she could move her hand down lower until she was able to gently caress my breast. Then while still maintaining her motion with the dildo, she bent over and I felt her wet tongue flicker across my hardening nipple, her soft hair draping down onto my sensitive stomach.

"That feels soooooo damn good," I moaned softly to her.

On the one hand I wanted to close my eyes and do nothing but concentrate on the incredible sensations being generated from between my open legs thanks to her filling more and more of my pussy with the dildo. Yet on the other hand, I wanted to open them wide and watch her as she suckled on my now heaving breasts and played with my quivering pussy. In the end I opened them to watch, not wanting to miss seeing her. We didn't do this a lot, at least not just the two us together as usually there was least one other person (male or female, it didn't matter).

Considering all the years we'd been best friends, Beth and I really didn't have sex alone together all that much. We sometimes shared a guy (or guys), she was always trying to drag me off to her incredible sex parties, and we'd each fucked the other's dad (I did hers once while she did mine twice but that's a whole other story), but when it came to one-on-one "quality time", our friendship seemed to get in the way more so than encouraging us to be intimate.

"This feel good in your pussy?" she whispered to me, the warm breath of her voice was soft against my sensitive nipples.

What could I say? Of course it did! The only thing that would have been better would have been a REAL dick but at times like this I could make do with the dildo. For a while we just went on like this, sitting next to each other, me naked while she was still fully clothed, me sitting still while she slowly fucked my pussy with the dildo. She was practically killing me, moving it so damn slow I wanted to scream out for her to do it faster and faster yet at the same time, that very slowness was what was driving me into my first orgasm.

"That's it, cum for me Kelly... cum for me," she whispered as she kissed my neck and softly bit the lobe of my ear as her tongue worked its way over my neck and ear. God she knew how to make me feel so good!

"Oh Beth!!" I cried, my voice a bare high-pitched squeak as I felt my pussy begin to spasm and my entire body exploded.

My back arched and my legs stiffened out in front of me as I felt like I was plugged into the wall outlet but it was bolts of pleasure coursing through me, not electricity. Just when I though it couldn't be more intense, Beth's timing was impeccable and she shoved the dildo into me as far as it would go.

"OH MY GOD!" I cried out as it was like my orgasm went into warp drive.

My head was laid back against the cushion as far as it would go and it was like I couldn't even breath. Beth, seeing my reaction, pulled the dildo out of my pussy and then shoved it back in, repeating it over and over again. She wasn't doing it slow anymore, it was full speed ahead and she was pumping it in and out of me like a she was a mad woman.

For me, it was like time was standing still, but slowly I came back from wherever my mind had gone and I slouched down on the couch, panting as I tried to catch my breath. Beth had the dildo out of me now, her one hand cupping my crotch, just pressing her palm firmly against me as her other hand ran its fingers through my hair. I turned my head and smiled weakly at her, my eyes barely able to even focus on her.

"Wow, now THAT was what I call the Big-O!" she giggled, tugging ever so lightly on my hair as she gave me a slight pull between my legs, just enough to make me jump. She laughed saying, "A little jumpy down there still, eh?"

THAT would be the understatement of the day. My pussy was literally throbbing and I felt like my entire body was still on a slow burn. This wasn't the sort of thing you just turn off as the aftershocks of my orgasm periodically made me alternately shiver and then jump uncontrollably.

We sat together like that for a while, two old friends just enjoying each other's company. There was so much I would've liked to have done with her, to have shared with her, to have touched her and have her touch me. Yet somehow at this moment it was perfect, just the right balance for two best friends.

"Hey, now that I've got you in the mood, so to speak, what do you say you come with me tonight to a party?"

I looked at Beth and my eyes widened as I realized what she was asking. She'd been pestering me for the past week about this party and so far I'd told her no. There had been several so far this summer and despite her cajoles and pleading, I had turned her down for all of them. Somehow I just didn't feel in the mood for such things with everything else going on in my life. She loved them and I knew she was at them sometimes two and three times a week but for me, once every few months was overkill enough - if that often.

"Well, what do you say my horny best friend?" she said, giving my crotch a more stronger tug this time, letting her finger press harder against my swollen clit. Despite my determination not to respond to her manipulation, I jumped even a little harder this time.

"Yeah, you want it, don't EVEN try to bluff your way out this time you slut," she teased me.

What could I say? After what she had done to me I was dying for a real cock and what was better than one cock - a BUNCH of cocks! Like I said, normally I'm just not in the right mood for this sort of thing but if there was ever a time when I WAS, this would be it. I thought about it for about two seconds and then figured what the hell, why not? I nodded and she giggled with glee, even clapping her hands. I quickly took a shower, dried my hair, threw on some makeup, and finally grabbed my favorite worn jeans and a tight black tank top. It really didn't matter what I wore as I knew it wouldn't be on me for very long!

We still had an hour before the party so we went out for a bite at TGI Friday. The jeans were pretty tight and even as we ate I couldn't help but squirm a bit as the crotch pulled up against my still throbbing pussy. God, would the darn thing EVER calm down? By the time we were finished eating and on our way to the party I was about back to normal. Even so, I had to admit that I was even more horny than before and I couldn't wait for us to get there.

2. Initiation Ceremony

It had been quite a while since I was at one of Beth's sex parties and the first thing I noticed was that there were a LOT of people I hadn't seen before, or at least that I didn't remember. Of course, it's not like I socialized much at the previous parties. Heck, I didn't even know the names of most of the guys who fucked me at the time, let alone remember them later. Still, the sexually- charged atmosphere was the same and looking around, the people were still as hot as ever. I don't know where they all came from, but I did know it was by invitation only. It wasn't like you could just walk off the street and join in and they certainly didn't advertise.

We first made our way to the kitchen where Beth grabbed a wine cooler while I sought out a diet soft drink. Most of the people apparently had already arrived, if not all of them, as we barely had time to get down our first drink when the host was calling out for everyone to come to the living area, the largest room in the house. The furniture had been arranged to leave the middle area open with the couches and chairs, plus the ones from the kitchen, arranged in an oval so everyone could watch what was happening in the middle.

One of the things I really look forward to whenever I go to one of Beth's parties is the "initiation" ceremony. There's always a "rookie" - someone who is there for the first time. According to the unwritten rules (or if they WERE written, I'd never seen them), only one rookie was allowed at the party - for reasons soon to become obvious. To put it simply, the initiation rules required that the new person be fucked by the host (or hostess - always the opposite sex) of the party as everyone else watched. Nobody was allowed to do anything (well, they don't stop you from touching yourself or using the bathroom) but nothing with anyone else during the initiation "ceremony".

Needless to say, nobody shows up at one of these parties without having a pretty extensive sexual resume so it's not likely that they've never been fucked by someone they didn't know, at least that was never the case at any of the ones I'd witnessed. However, most people have never had sex as a "show" in front of an audience dedicated to watching nothing but them having sex with a stranger. Beth use to laugh when she would tell me about parties where some new guy was bragging before the party started about his sexual prowess but when he learned he had to "perform" on demand he became this shy little boy. Actually, I'd never been at a party where a guy was initiated but I can say that when it came to the girls, the typical initial reaction was shock and sometimes even anger at her friend who brought her and didn't warn her ahead of time. But that was too bad as what would be the fun if they were told ahead of time?

Beth whispered to me that tonight I would finally get to witness a guy being initiated. Then to my surprise, Beth got up and joined the male host who informed everyone that she was the designated "hostess" for the night. Apparently when the party was hosted by just a guy or girl, the party "regulars" took turns being the host or hostess when the need arose to have a partner for the rookie. Needless to say, Beth hadn't told me that she was "on duty" tonight. Leave it to the little slut to keep me in the dark about these sort of things.

Dutifully we all gathered in the family room where I took a seat on the couch at the end, along with two other girls and a guy who sat between them. Of course everyone was still fully dressed but some more so than others. The two girls certainly hadn't bothered wearing too much, that was for sure, with short skirts and halter tops - and nothing else but heels. Modesty was definitely not their forte as they sat with their legs open enough to let every know they didn't have anything on under their short skirts.

The host made the usual greetings and then reiterated the "rules of engagement" for the evening. Basically they were pretty straight-forward. The important thing to remember was that this was a sex PARTY and it was to stay a party. That meant no pairing off and disappearing for a private fuck. Everything had to be done in one of the designated rooms on the first floor where people could watch and join in if they desired. Drugs were strictly forbidden with the exception of Viagra and such which were OK but absolutely nothing illegal or that required a prescription was allowed. Condoms were readily available for those so inclined to use them but everyone there was supposedly tested and clean. The bathroom was off limits for sex so people could use it. Alcoholic beverages were provided but anyone getting drunk and out of control would be asked to leave.

Essentially the idea was for everyone to have a good time and enjoy themselves. Nobody was required to have sex with anyone they didn't want to although an unspoken "rule" was that anyone who didn't actively participate or was too choosey about their partners wouldn't be asked back again. The only part of the party that was mandatory was the initiation ceremony. After that it was pretty much whatever you wanted to make of it. I liked that there were no silly games, just adults having fun the old-fashioned way - pure, unapologetic sex.

The host then introduced Beth who explained the initiation ceremony, mostly for the benefit of the clueless rookie. Everyone turned to look at the new guy - who just happened to be the guy on the couch with me and the other two girls. He seemed confused as to what was going on and he looked at the two of them, obviously expecting some sort of answer to his unspoken questions. Evidently they'd been the ones to bring him so instead of responding to his questions, they just got up with each taking one of his hands. Then together they tugged him up and off the couch, delivering him almost ceremoniously to Beth after which they returned to their seats on the couch, giggling and obviously feeling quite pleased with themselves for having deceived him so well.

Beth was beaming as she in her element – the center of attention with fresh meat at her side. It was like she was a game show host as she asked his name to which he answered with a simple, "David." Despite her earlier explanation, he still didn't seem to have a clue as to what was about to happen.

That changed pretty fast when Beth quickly reiterated to him the initiation requirements and then the group cheered as before he could respond, she suddenly attacked his jeans and was undoing his belt before he knew what hit him. David looked helplessly over at his two girlfriends who were giggling and pointing at him, then down to Beth who was struggling with the button at the waist of his blue jeans. The guy just stood there without helping her, as if he didn't know quite what to do. I quickly counted and there were 16 people in the room, including him and Beth, all fourteen of the spectators watching intently at the events unfolding in the middle of the room.

Beth was obviously horny as hell and I couldn't help but grin as I knew I'd had a bit of a hand in getting her that way. As her best friend I knew all the signs and I could tell she couldn't wait to get this guy naked. Beth has this tendency to bite her lower lip when she is getting ready to fuck someone and at the moment she was about to bite it off! All of her energy seemed to be focused on the task at hand. The jeans suddenly popped open and everyone cheered again when they saw he'd come commando. Beth seemed pleased as well, undoubtedly thinking it was one less thing to deal with. She pulled his jeans down to his knees and before he could do or say anything she had his soft dick in her mouth. Damn, from the way she attacked it she must have wanted it really bad!

David's cock was still limp, appearing to be average or so in size from what I could tell from my angle, maybe a little smaller. It's so hard to tell what kind of dick a guy will have when he's not aroused. Some guys seem to expand dramatically while others just get a little thicker and stiffer. Some rise up like a hot air balloon being filled while others hang down or barely stick out no matter how aroused they get. Some get this cute little curve to them such that when they're standing up their dick points up at their faces while others are straight or a little crooked. It's one of the things I love about dicks, no two are ever quite the same. Every time I reach into a guy's pants it's like a new adventure as I wonder what I'll find.

One other thing I quickly noted was that he was shaved clean. Maybe for the purposes of a party such as this that being shaved works out pretty good and it also helped to display his dick more prominently to the audience. Still, I prefer good old fashioned thick and lush pubic hair on a guy's crotch. Granted, I don't exactly like to suck hairy balls all that much, but I tend to be more of a "hands on" girl when it comes to a guy's balls than using my mouth anyway. My preference is to suck his dick while fondling his balls with my hands. Actually, I think it makes him feel better when I do both at the same time anyway. Beth, as I knew well from seeing her in action before, LOVED balls almost as much as she did dicks and she soon had David's smooth orbs in her mouth after just a few plunges onto his stiffening shaft, sucking on them and taking them into her mouth one at a time.

The people watching had begun chattering between themselves, some of them offering words of encouragement and advice, mostly to Beth but a few directed at David. David seemed to be just starting to comprehend that this was for real and not some cruel practical joke as I suspected think he'd been thinking at the beginning. Well, he may have been confused but his dick certainly wasn't. It was growing rapidly under Beth's expert care as she gripped it by the base of the shaft and started to stroke it in and out of her mouth.

Beth was still fully clothed and for me, it looked erotic to see her giving him a blowjob with everything still on. Even so, I knew THAT wasn't going to last long. Beth was more the "nudist" than me, although for the life of me I don't know how that developed when you consider the conservative Baptist household where she was raised.

It was sort of funny when you compared the two of us. Here I was raised in a home where while nudity wasn't typical, it was at least accepted whereas if Beth had so much as run between the bathroom and her bedroom nude her mother would've had a stroke. Yet today if you were to ever peek through the windows of my apartment, odds were you'd see me wearing SOMETHING, at least on top as I love the feel of air against my bare bottom. Do the same at Beth's place and unless her family or such was there she preferred to run around stark naked. Go figure...

Sure enough, as she sucked David's now stiffening dick, Beth was undressing herself and finally David was getting into it and started to help her. Soon they were both nude with her now back on her knees as she sucked his dick while everyone watched. As experienced as she was with the party scene, Beth didn't pay any attention to the people watching but David couldn't seem to take his eyes off the audience. Fortunately, he WAS a guy and so while his mind may have been concerned, his dick didn't care who was watching. All it knew was that some girl had her mouth wrapped around it as she played with his balls – what more does a dick care about anyway?

As hard as Beth was working his dick, odds were he would have blown in her mouth had she kept up the torrid pace but Beth wasn't about to let him off THAT easily. She stood up, hanging onto his dick with her hand like a leash and pointed to the carpeted floor. He quickly took the hint and laid down on his back, his now wet and hardened cock standing up all on its own. Beth had a naughty grin that told everyone what she had in mind (as if anybody didn't already know) as she straddled his waist and let him have a good look at her crotch and huge boobs as she towered over him.

"Fuck him, let's go!" somebody called out, obviously impatient to get things going on his own.

Beth didn't even bother looking at him. She was going to get WHAT she wanted, WHEN she wanted it, and HOW wanted it. If the idiot that had called out knew her even a fraction as well as I did, he would've known that nobody was going to tell Beth what to do when it came to sex. Then she DID look at me and winked.

I just shook my head and watched, intrigued by the sight. This was a side of Beth I hadn't seen before as I'd never watched her "perform" before. She'd certainly seen me, especially given she had even arranged for a crazy party once where I was fucked in front of an entire audience (at a church of all places) for more than just an "initiation ceremony". Still, it was wild to see her right out in the middle fucking this guy like not a soul was watching.

To the delight of the audience, Beth didn't waste any more time and was soon squatting over his cock, holding it in one hand as she used the fingers on the other to spread her already wet pussy lips apart. Fortunately she was facing in my general direction so I had a pretty good view of his dick as it slipped easily into her horny pussy. Beth, never the subtle one, practically dropped down on his crotch, burying his dick in her in one quick motion. It's not like she is the smallest girl and he gasped to get the air back in his lungs after she dropped down so hard on him. Then the entire group clapped appreciatively as she moaned like a whore in heat and started to rock back and forth on his erect cock.

Being this WAS just an initiation, it wasn't like she was going to drag this out for long - the audience probably would have rebelled anyway even if she had tried. To hurry things along Beth was giving it her best, pulling out all the stops and her efforts were soon rewarded.

David started to say something and Beth quickly took the hint and hopped off, kneeling by his side and stroking his wet dick furiously with her hand. He soon erupted like a sperm volcano and once the first shot of cum went flying she took the rest in her open mouth, letting it drain out like drool back over his cock again. Everyone clapped yet again as she took his dick in her mouth and cleaned it all off once he'd finished. Even I grinned as she stood up and bowed to everyone, like the lead actress in a play taking her final curtain. The difference was in this case, it was the opening curtain.

3. Party Time

With the initiation now completed, everyone was horny and anxious to get the ball rolling, so to speak (sorry, couldn't resist that one). I for one had my eyes on the two girls on the couch with me. With their boyfriend temporarily deflated, someone needed to be with them and I didn't see any reason why it couldn't be me. Besides, it had been ages since I was with two other women at the same time and the thought of being with the two of these sluts had been getting me wetter and wetter as the initiation ceremony progressed.

My dirty thoughts were interrupted by Beth as she made her way over to me as the crowd dispersed. She was wiping the remnants of cum that were still on her chin with her fingers, then licking it off with a mischievous grin.

"Well, so how'd I do?" she asked, obviously quite pleased with her little performance. Really, how do you answer a question like that. Sort of like when someone asks if her dress makes her butt look fat. Still, in this case it wasn't so hard to answer since I could respond truthfully.

"That was HOT. Hey, do you realize that was the first time I've seen you do something like that?"

Beth looked at me, a little surprised as apparently it was something she hadn't thought about before. "Yeah, I guess you haven't been with when I've hosted in the past. See, that's why you need to come with me more often!"

Then she gave me an overdone frown and put her hands on her hips, pretending like she was upset with me about something.

"So what the hell are you still doing with your clothes on? Sheesh, I'd of thought you'd already have been screwed twice by now!"

Ah yes, that was my best friend talking to me. I just grinned at Beth and started to undress quickly, putting my clothes off to the side so I could find them later. As I turned around I saw Beth pulling over a guy by the arm, pointing at me.

"That's the one I was talking about - fuck her," I heard her say to him.

She didn't have to encourage him any further as he immediately started moving towards me with that look guys get when they look at me like I'm not really a person but just some sex toy for them to get off with. What the heck, it wasn't like I was looking for romance tonight so who cares what he thought of me.

One good thing was that I could see that he had nice dick, maybe even a little bigger than average, and he was already stroking it as he approached me, getting it all hard and ready for me. As for the rest of him, as if it mattered, he was just your typical horny twenty-something guy, average looks, average height, nothing special but he had the one essential requirement - a hard dick, or at least soon to be hard.

Seeing he was horny for me, I turned away from him and leaned over the arm of the couch, spreading my legs like a true slut for him, not even pretending to tease or flirt. He was horny - obviously, I was horny, the room was filled with other horny couples starting to get it on, so why play games? With both hands on the arm of the couch, one over the other, I felt one of his hands explore my crotch, maybe checking to see how wet I was but more likely just to get a first feel of my pussy. If he had any worries that I might not be ready, his first touch of my pussy should have erased any doubts - I was soaking wet and ready to be fucked.

"Just fuck me," I said as I turned my head over my shoulder.

Tonight I wasn't interested in any foreplay, kissing, cuddling or crap like that. Heck, here I was naked, bent over with my ass sticking out, my legs spread apart, what more does a girl have to do to get fucked?

Apparently not much as I felt his dick head pressing against my crotch, pushing its way around as it tried to find the entrance to my pussy. He ran it up and down my pussy slit a couple of time, brushing by my clit (which always feels good), and then he finally got it on target. Without him having said a word yet, I felt him thrust his stiff dick into me, pushing it inside quickly as far as he could with one sharp thrust of his hips.

I fell forward a little as he banged his crotch hard into my naked butt but fortunately I had both hands supporting me so I quickly regained my balance. Once his dick was inside of me, he grabbed my hips with his hands and started stroking himself in and out of me, using his grip on my hips to push me back and forth to stay in sync with his thrusts.

FINALLY!

God it felt so good to FINALLY have a hard dick in my pussy! Sure I'd enjoyed being with Beth earlier and as much as the dildo had done its job, it wasn't a real cock and could never make me feel the way a real one can. There's just something about having the real thing in me that no dildo can ever do for me. A dildo is cold and impersonal, sure it may touch the right spots and feel good but it lacks any sense of intimacy or personal feelings. A REAL dick is attached to a REAL man, which makes all the difference in the world.

We may not know each other's names or a thing about the other person, but we share one thing in common - we both want his dick inside of my pussy. This wasn't love or anything personal whatsoever, it was just the joy of feeling a man inside of me, knowing he wanted me, lusted for me, that he thought I was sexy, that I'd made him erect just from thinking about fucking me. What we were doing was a validation of my sexuality, it satisfied of my ego, fulfilled my own lust and desires.

The party was just beginning so I was undoubtedly his first fuck of the night and it showed. He must have been horny as hell by the time the initiation ceremony was finished and the OK was finally given to go for it. I wasn't sure how Beth knew him or what she had said about me (there was that, "that's the one I was talking about," comment that I had wondered about), but he wasn't doing a bad job for my first fuck of the night. I say "first" as I knew he was just the first of what I hoped to be many guys to fuck me this evening.

"Ahhhhhh," he groaned, the first word, or make that first sounds, I'd heard from him since he'd started fucking me.

His hands gripped me even tighter and he rammed himself into me and held himself there as he started to ejaculate. Each time he delivered a load of cum he would thrust himself harder into me. It wasn't that he backed off appreciably between loads, he just pressed extra hard when he was delivering one into me. He was soon spent, his full load now inside my pussy.

"Thanks," Beth said to him as he quickly withdrew and started to walk away, not so much as a thank-you for me but then I hadn't really expected one.

I stood up and turned to face her, my pussy tingling a bit still and my breathing a bit hard.

"Well, you COULD thank me, you know," she teased me, "Well, I'm off, see ya later when you're ready to leave, ok?"

We kissed and I DID thank her. It's not like I would've had any problems getting someone to start with on my own, but it was pretty cool to have her help out with the first the way she had.

Now that I'd gotten my first fuck out of the way, I decided to walk around and see what was happening. It seemed that at least for the start of the party, everybody had pretty much paired off with someone. In fact, it seemed that except for me, everyone was actively involved with SOMEONE.

Beth had not wasted any time and was the only girl I saw that had two guys - one already fucking her from behind while she was bent over sucking the second. For someone who could seem like the most meek and conservative girl at times, god she could be such a slut when she wanted to be! Her large boobs were swinging back and forth as the guy fucking her was ramming his swollen cock in her pretty pussy. Alright, so maybe her ass was just a little big but it wasn't like she was fat or anything. The few extra pounds probably didn't hurt her bust size either. It seems, at least for me, that the first place I lose inches is in my chest whenever I try to lose weight - the last place I want it to disappear!

The kitchen was empty for the moment so I grabbed something to drink from the refrigerator. Already my pussy was starting to remind me that so far it had only been fucked once and that wasn't going to be anywhere close to meeting its needs tonight. As I was sipping from the can a guy walked in, probably one of the older ones at the party, looking to be maybe in his mid-thirties or so. His dick was partially erect and I wondered whether he had just cum and was softening up or if he was working on his erection.

"Wow, some party tonight," he greeted me as he reached for a beer.

"Nice dick," I replied as I purposely stared at his crotch and licked my lips.

I really wasn't interested in casual conversation and he DID have a nice looking cock. It was one of those that just LOOKED yummy and so what the heck, why not go for it? I knelt down and took his dick into my mouth without even using my hands. Mmmmmmm, he HAD been fucking someone, I could taste the girl's pussy on him. I wondered who it had been but then I didn't know most of the girls anyway so it didn't make much of a difference.

"Damn, you're really into blowjobs I see," he said, his voice cracking just a bit as I sucked extra hard on the head of his dick, my cheeks puckering inward as my tongue worked its way around the underside of the head.

I looked up at him and let his dick drop from my mouth replying, "Yeah but what I really want is for you to fuck me."

He sort of chuckled at my forwardness and then shrugged his shoulders. "Well, why not I guess."

Have you ever just wanted to get fucked and it was like nothing else mattered at that moment? Think about that feeling you get when you just can't get enough dick, when your pussy is practically screaming out for a hard dick to fill it, when you almost feel off-balance from being overwhelmed by your sexual desires and needs?

It was like the first fucking had just been a tease, something to get me started but now that I'd had one dick, I HAD to have another, and soon. Seeing his dick, tasting it still in my mouth, I wanted it in me more than anything else in the world at that moment. To say I was merely horny would be a drastic understatement - this was WAY beyond any semblance of being horny, this was a total and complete NEED to be fucked.

Putting one foot up on a kitchen chair, I stroked my exposed crotch for him as he grabbed his hardened dick and approached me. No words were necessary - I wanted his dick in me and he obviously did too so what did we need to say? I could feel my heart racing as he bent down to line his dick up with my wet pussy that I was displaying to him like some whore. All I could think was God, why is this taking so long - just stick the damn thing in me and fuck me for crying out loud!

Controlling the initial entry of a dick into my pussy is perhaps one of the few advantages men have over me when it comes to sex. - even though most don't have the self-discipline to take advantage of it. It's at time like this, when I want his cock in me so bad I could scream, that he could have demanded most anything of me and I would have done it just to get it in me - just about any way he wanted it.

This moment was one of the few times during sex the man has all the control and advantage. When would he put it in me? Would he tease me with it, rubbing my pussy and clit, maybe sliding it up and down my wet pussy lips? Would he touch it to my pussy hole, pretending he was about to push it in me only to pull back again and make me want to scream with desire? Would he put just the head in me, making me want more of him but then pulling it out and make me want it in me so badly again?

Thankfully most men at this stage are so horny themselves that they want their dick in me almost as badly as I do so they don't even comprehend the advantage they hold at that instant. Once their dick is in me, it's all over for them. That's when it's all in my control again as there's no way a guy wants his dick out of me once it's in. It's especially good when I ride him as then I completely control his dick in me.

Whoever this guy was, we never introduced ourselves - why bother? He wanted to fuck me badly so he just moved up close to me, aimed his dick at the entrance to my pussy, and pushed his way into me. As wet as I was and having just been fucked literally minutes earlier, there wasn't all that much resistance and he slid easily all the way inside in one swift motion.

God it felt so good to have him in me! I don't mind being fucked from behind as I'd been earlier, but there's something to be said for being able to watch the guy's dick as he fucks you. Sure it felt wonderful to feel him deep up inside of me but to simultaneously watch his dick disappearing inside of me made it all the better. It was incredible to be able to SEE his dick moving in and out of me and at the same time, FEEL it as it stroked in and out of my pussy, making me sigh loudly from the pleasure it created in me. His thick bush of lush pubic hair would smash in against me when he shoved it all the way in, rubbing against me as he ground his cock into me, trying to get every fraction of an inch more he could into me.

As he fucked me neither of us said a word, we let the sex do all the talking for us. I held onto the side of the chair to keep my balance as I wrapped my legs around his waist, pulling my hips upward to better match up with his thrusts. Beth was so right. THIS was exactly what I'd needed tonight, nothing romantic or intimate, just a good old-fashioned fucking.

On and on it went as he rhythmically fucked me, driving his wonderfully hard dick in and out, over and over and over again. I don't know if it was because he'd just cum in a girl previous to me or what the story was, but he certainly didn't have any issues with premature ejaculation. He HAD to have cum in her or else I couldn't understand how he could have possible held out as long as he did. How did my pussy feel to him now compared to hers? Was she older or younger than me, tighter or looser, wetter and not? In what position had he fucked her? I was curious about that last one as he certainly didn't seem interested in changing positions as he just fucked me and fucked me more from behind.

"Cumming," was the first word he said since he'd first entered me.

I tried to bear down on his cock, pressing down like I was delivering a baby as I tried to make my pussy grip his hard shaft as tightly as I could. Then he suddenly stopped, pushing his dick into me as far as it would go and I felt his hips jerking as he released his cum into me, one spermy load after another. A faint hint of warmth inside of me told me he was delivering his cum inside of me, just enough to feel it as I thought about what was happening inside of me at that moment.

Once he was done he quickly pulled out me, maybe the only disappointment for me as I would've loved to have savored the feel of his spent dick in me for just a little longer. He stepped back and I saw his cock glistening with the mix of my pussy and his cum that coated it. Unable to resist such a temptation, I leaned over and sucked his dick, concentrating on using my tongue to lick him clean, loving the taste of me on him this time along with his sperm.

"Thanks," I said to him as I finished.

He seemed a little surprised, probably thinking he should have been the one thanking me but then he probably had no idea how badly I'd wanted, heck, NEEDED, what he'd just done to me. Indeed, a mere "thanks" didn't seem anywhere near enough to convey my true feelings at the time.

It didn't seem to matter to him anyway as he grabbed his beer and left the kitchen, his now flaccid dick drooping as he went off in search of who only knows what. I stood there for a moment, expecting to feel a little better but yet if anything, it was like I'd not even been fucked for the second time. I mean yes, I did enjoy it and yes, I loved him cumming inside of me but with the weird mood I was in tonight, it was like if anything he'd merely just thrown gasoline on the fire of need in me that the first guy had ignited.

So far I hadn't cum and while that isn't necessarily a requirement for me to enjoy sex, especially when the goal was to just be fucked, it still wasn't something you could just forget about. Walking back into the family room, I saw several girls being fucked in various positions and a few just sucking cock for the moment. There wasn't anything that was all that wild or crazy, just people doing what made them feel good - so why not do the same myself?

I took a seat in one of the empty stuffed arm chairs and draped one leg over the side with my other foot on the floor. I was just a few feet away from a couple going at it. She looked to be about my age while he appeared to be barely at the age limit for the party (nobody under 18 was ever allowed). He was spooning her from behind and I admired his dick as he slowly fucked her. Indeed, he may have been one of the younger guys but he certainly wasn't the smallest! If anything, I was guessing he might actually have the largest dick I'd see so far tonight. It wasn't like any of the guys here tonight qualified for a porn movie but that wasn't so unusual and I didn't mean to complain. Still, I was guessing I might be able to get both hands on his shaft and still have the head poke out to nibble on!

Watching them fuck, I started to masturbate and as horny as I was, together with the erotic show being put on right at my feet, I came incredible fast, almost like it had been welling up inside of me and all I had to do was loosen the gate a little and suddenly it flung open and my orgasm was freed! The guy was watching me even as he fucked the girl and I saw she also took notice when I gasped and plunged tow of my fingers inside my freshly cum-filled pussy. I leaned back into the chair, letting my bottom lift up over the seat cushion, all my thoughts filled with the need to be fucked over and over again tonight.

"Fuck me," I gasped, my fingers trying to do the job but nothing in comparison to what I knew that wonderful dick in front of me was capable of doing to me.

It was all I could say as my chest tightened and I could barely breath as my orgasm drenched my body with pleasure, every inch of me was now hot and cold at the same time it seemed.

The guy said something to the girl and she seemed OK with it and so he pulled out of her and before I knew it he was pushing that great cock into me as she watched. His dick was lubricated well from being in her pussy and my pussy was about as soaking wet as it could be, not to mention the slimy cum the previous guys had deposited inside. Even so, he was definitely a lot bigger than the other two, by a mile it seemed. Usually after being fucked a couple of times in succession, from then on it was like I was some old married woman as my pussy would be a lot looser than it had been at the start of the night. Not that it was THAT loose but I could definitely tell the difference even if the guys claimed I was still tight. With this guy, though, it was like it was my first cock of the night as it felt like he was splitting me in two as the massive head penetrated me.

"Oh my God!" I cried out as he pressed harder into me, the head now all the way in and the rest of his shaft following much more easily.

"It's big, isn't it?" the girl he'd been fucking said as she kneeled on the floor at the side of the chair I was sitting on so she could watch, "I didn't think he was going to fit in me at first!"

I just grinned at her and then concentrated again on the incredible dick that was now fucking me so good. Now that he was in me, the initial discomfort had been replaced by the most incredible sensation of fullness. It was like I had a baby inside of me! The other two guys had felt good in me and while I loved the feel of them in me, they were nothing compared to the strange sensations this guy's cock was creating within me. Each time he would pull out it was like the most odd sensation as I would feel so empty but then when he would push it back into me and then it was as if I felt like I was being pumped full of something - cock in this case.

"Oh yeah, fuck me harder with that big cock." I groaned as I felt another orgasm rising within me.

It wasn't like the first one had ever totally dwindled away but rather more like a roller coaster ride where I'd been screaming downward and then he entered me, drawing my attention more to the incredible feel of his wonderful huge dick in me and now I was back at the top of the hill, ready to take that sexy dive once again.

"I'm cumming... fuck me!" I sighed, barely able to utter the words as my vision seemed to narrow and everything around me seemed to fade into the distance.

My entire world collapsed to where nothing existed but his dick in my pussy. The girl has started playing with my boobs but as much I normally would have enjoyed that, it was almost more of a distraction now as all I wanted to think about, all I wanted to feel, all I cared about was this young hard dick that was filling me like nothing I'd had in ages!

As he fucked me faster, I started to imagine how much cum he would be soon pumping in me. Damn, if his sperm load was anywhere in proportion to his cock size, it would be gallons! Actually, I've never found any relationship whatsoever between cock size and sperm quantity but still, it was fun to think about at a time like this. It appeared I was about to find out as I felt him jerking harder in me and I knew he was about to cum.

"On her tits!" his previous partner urged him.

I wanted to say no, to cum in my pussy, but I couldn't find the energy to say anything aloud. He pulled his dick out of me and she grabbed it, pumping it with her hand as he started to spurt, aiming his warm cum at my chest. The first shot was more forceful than she had evidently anticipated and struck me in the middle of my face, almost hitting me in the eyes but more on the nose and lips. To her credit, she corrected her aim and the remainder of his cum landed on my boobs, going from one to the other like a fireman trying to douse a fire.

After he had covered me pretty thoroughly with his cum, the girl kept her grip on his dick while she used her other hand to spread it around on my boobs, making them shimmer with a thin coating of fresh sperm. The she leaned over and started sucking and licking my boobs, licking off his cum as she also nibbled and pulled on my nipples with her teeth.

As much as I would have loved to have had his load in my pussy, I couldn't blame her for wanting some payback for having given up his dick to me. Besides, it felt good to feel her tongue over my nipples and it didn't hurt either to get as much of his cum off me as quickly as possible before it started to dry and get itchy. The cum on my face was more of a pain. I tried to wipe it off with my fingers but I knew there was still more to get off. Damn, he had really shot that first load out like a giant cannon!

Once finished with me, the two of them moved on, her hand never leaving his dick as she led him over to a spot on one of the couches that was open. No doubt at his age he would be hard again almost immediately and I couldn't blame her for wanting that monster back in her again. As for me, I headed for the bathroom to clean myself up a bit. Looking in the mirror, I grimaced as I saw he'd nailed me even more than I'd thought, a big load right over my forehead in my hair. There was a comb in the medicine cabinet which I used to try to get as much out as I could but I knew it would take some good shampoo and hot water to get it all out later when I was back at my apartment.

Guys and their cumming on your face - I'll never fully understand it but if there's one think I know, they all seem to love to do it. Is it because they see it done on porn videos and think that because the whore (who is being paid) acts like she loves it that all girls really love to have their stuff smeared all over their face?

Honestly, I don't know of that many girls who like it on their face. Some seem to prefer it on their boobs, like lotion or whatever, but on their face - nope. It stings when it gets in your eyes and as I mentioned, it's a royal pain to get out of your hair, almost like tar. In my mouth is fine as I enjoy the taste (most of the time) and it gives me this cool sensation to feel him cumming in my mouth. On my face though... I only do it to please a guy. It's funny, even when they KNOW I don't like it they still want to do it, almost like in some way they feel they are dominating me or something. Oh well, the things girls will do to please a man!

When I left the bathroom I headed back in the kitchen for another drink and then to the dining room where I'd yet to investigate. There were two girls laying naked on the table, one at each end, their heads almost touching. Fortunately the table looked pretty sturdy, especially considering the two guys were fucking them as hard as they could! A few people were watching, evidently the party had been going on long enough for some of them to get their initial horniness satisfied and now they were taking in the views. I normally might have been one of them, watching different girls and seeing if I could pick up any tips or new techniques. Not tonight though, I was still interested in only thing - getting laid yet again.

Back in the living room, I saw Beth still had two guys although I think they were both different than the ones from before. This time she was riding one of them while the other was fucking her asshole from behind. She seemed to be loving it and I knew Beth was a lot more into anal sex than me so it really didn't surprise me. She had tried to get me to DP in the past at other parties but for the most part I would always refuse. Just as some girls don't like a guy to cum in their mouth, I wasn't one who liked it up my ass.

OK, so there had been times in the past when I'd let a guy do my butt but it wasn't like I WANTED it and it certainly never got me off. Besides the fact I just don't like the idea of a guy sticking his dick where I shit, it also makes it so I won't suck his dick after he fucks me or kiss him if he licks my asshole. While I LOVE to taste my pussy on a guy's dick or face, I have absolutely NO desire to taste my ass. The closest I've come to having anything to do with my own ass was to finger myself a few times in the shower or bathtub but that was just experimental, never anything I did a lot.

As I watched Beth, I contemplated what (or should I say, who) to get fucked by next. In the end, it turned out to be an easy choice as I felt something poke my in the butt from behind. Reaching around behind me, I felt a nice hard dick in my hand - what a surprise! I started to turn around to see who it belonged to but then had another great idea spring into my mind. Remember that the only reason I was here tonight was to get laid.

Under that premise, I hadn't even bothered talking to any of the guys who had fucked me or even tried to get their names as the ONLY thing I cared about them was the thing hanging between their legs. So given all that, why even bother seeing what this one looked like? I leaned over and grabbed the edge of a table, spreading my legs apart in the universally understood "fuck me" pose. Although it was so tempting to look around, I deliberately stared straight ahead and waited for him to get the message and do what I hoped he would do - fuck me.

If there's one thing you can count on when it comes to guys, offering to let them fuck you is something they NEVER turn down. Oh sure there may be the guy with the girlfriend, fiance, or even a wife that may try to bluster and pretend he doesn't want to fuck me, but I can't think of a single case where I guy I offered myself to had ever turned me down in the end. Granted, I don't offer myself that way to guys I know I don't stand a chance with. After all, there are a FEW good men out there that are loyal to their vows of chastity, or to their fiance or wife, but damn few of them.

I heard it once said a man is only as loyal to his wife as his options. Most guys who claim to be loyal aren't really loyal, they're scared or they just haven't had the right opportunity. They're afraid someone will find out and they'll lose everything. Now some guys can get horny enough where those concerns fade to the background but they require more work, or at least more than I'm willing to usually invest. Overall, I have to say that I believe just about any man will fuck me if he thinks he can get away with it. It's not a bad thing to be able to say about yourself when you come down to it!

At a party like this, about the last thing to worry about it whether or not a guy is willing to fuck you so it wasn't any great surprise that I soon felt his hands spreading my ass apart and then the prodding of his stiff dick as he tried to locate the right hole. I say the "right" hole because at first he tried to stick it in my ass but I reached back and pushed him away and thankfully he took the hint, shifting his attention to my pussy. I felt a sense of relief as some guys simply don't seem to understand the concept of "NO" as easily as others.

After being fucked three time in the past hours or so you would think the fourth time would start to become routine but I can guarantee you that wasn't the case, not at all. There's something special about the first time a new dick pushes its way inside of me, violating me for the first time. It's the sort of feeling you never get tired of, something I wanted yet again tonight. At the moment I felt his head begin to violate me, any thoughts of the previous dicks melted away and all I could focus on the one that was entering me now.

With nothing else to distract me, no thoughts about his age, his looks or even how big his dick was or how hairy his crotch was, I closed my eyes and concentrated on the only thing that mattered at this moment, the feel of his cock. He started to stroke it in and out of me slowly, entering me a little bit more each time he pushed it in. While he wasn't even in the ballpark of the last dick that had been in me, it didn't matter. It wasn't the size of the dick in me now that I cared about, it was the fact it was IN me that mattered. All I cared about was that a man was behind me, lusting for me, desiring my body, and now was fucking me. Yes, this was fucking in its purest form, just a dick in my pussy with no name or face.

Silently he fucked me, neither of us wanting to break the special mood we were sharing. To speak up now would be to acknowledge the other as a person, as someone I had to think about and even care about, no matter how little. Just standing there, bent over with my ass presented to him without any condition, letting him fuck me silently and swiftly was almost surreal.

I started to reach for my clit, to masturbate myself as he fucked me but I changed my mind and stood there and let him do all the work. This time I wasn't worried about cumming, I just wanted this to be nothing but a true fucking. Indeed, when he suddenly pulled out and sprayed his load of cum all over my butt and back, I didn't even feel upset or robbed. If anything, it was the perfect ending to a perfect fuck. To have cum IN me would have been something personal but by cumming ON me made it an impersonal act where he got off thanks to being in my pussy but he wasn't going to give me his cum in return.

We must have fucked for at most five or ten minutes by the time he came, probably closer to five. Short and sweet as they say. After he was finished he must have immediately walked away because I didn't feel him touching me or doing anything else to let me know he was still there. Finally I straightened up and I could feel his cum running down the small of my back down to my ass.

"Well, THAT was a quick fuck if I ever saw one," I heard Beth say as she came up to the side of me. I guess she must have just finished with her two guys as her face was pretty flushed still. "Feeling better yet?"

I sighed and nodded slowly, a big grin on my face. What could I say to thank her? I was so happy now that she'd stopped by and convinced me to come. On any other night this might not have been all that thrilling for me but tonight it had been exactly what I needed.

"Hey, I see you got that kid with big dick before... how the hell did you get him anyway? I've been trying to get him to fuck me the last three parties!"

I giggled a bit at her, wondering if she was being totally honest as I'd never known Beth NOT to get a dick sooner or later once she had her eye on it. Still, it made me feel good to think that maybe I had indeed managed to snag one that had so far eluded her.

"So how can you take it your ass at the same time?" I asked her, avoiding her question.

It wasn't like we hadn't discussed this same subject before, in fact lots of times before, but it served to shift the topic away from the big dick kid.

"Well, how about I get a couple of guys and you find out?" she teased me. She knew better than that but I think she got a kick out of teasing me about it anyway. "Or how about three?"

I playfully smacked her bare bottom at that one. Then I got serious for a moment and reached out to pull her close and hug her. It felt so good to feel her naked body against mine again, her boobs against mine. She felt warm and I imagined I felt much the same to her. It can be quite a workout fucking this much in one night!

"Thanks Beth," was all I said to her.

It was all I needed to say. She knew what I meant by it and how I was feeling now. If anyone could sense my emotions and state of mind at any given moment, it was Beth, even more so than my cousin Kristen. Both were like sisters to me but in some ways Beth was like my older sister while Kristen was the younger one. Actually, in terms of age that was true anyway but even emotionally it felt that way. Beth was always looking out for me, always making sure I was OK. Kristen, on the other hand, was always looking for a new way to get me in trouble it seemed!

Beth had her hand around me and she pulled her fingers to her mouth and I saw they were covered with the cum that had been sprayed on me just a few minutes before. She licked them off, giving me that naughty little smile she loved to tease me with,

"Not bad... any idea who it belongs to?"

I smiled and shook my head, looking around and wondering for the first time who indeed it was that had just fucked me. There was nobody in the room that was paying me any special attention and if he was still in the room, he was doing a good job of pretending not to be the one. Odds were he wasn't here anymore and besides, did it really matter?

From the way Beth was acting, I had a feeling she wouldn't have minded the two of us getting in on for a while. Ordinarily I would have jumped at the chance to be with her when she was this horny but not tonight. Tonight was for me getting laid. Although I didn't mind sucking a little dick, this was one of those rare times when even THAT wasn't my highest priority. I'd started out the evening with one goal in mind, and was still determined to go with it.

"Oh alright then, go get yourself fucked then," she sighed melodramatically, "Sometimes I just don't know about you!"

She was just pretending to be upset, I knew that, as she knew me well enough to understand me when I got into one of these moods. It wasn't like it happened to me very often, but when it did, there was only one cure and I was thankful that Beth had made it so easy for me tonight. We kissed and she went on her way, to whom I had no idea.

By the time we decided to go, I'd managed to get myself fucked by three more guys. None of them had cum in me and as much as I tried to keep myself clean, I knew a hot soaking bath was in order as soon as I got home! Frankly, I was ready to do a couple more but it was Beth for once who came to me and informed me that it was time to leave. Usually it was me that called it quits so I was a little surprised when after the last guy had fucked me she pulled me over to the side and said she was ready to leave. I just shrugged and agreed, getting dressed and joining her in the car.

Before leaving the house I looked back. We were the first girls to leave and I wondered how late some of them would stay. Mmmmmmm, there were so many more cocks left to fuck me so what was I doing leaving so early? Oh well, Beth was my best friend and when your best friend wants to leave a party, you leave and don't question her.

4. Back at My Apartment

Beth drove me home and it was nonstop chatter as we recalled everything from the party. When we got to my apartment, I leaned over and we kissed in the car for several minutes. God I loved her! Talk about the best girl I could have for a best friend!

"You know, I don't need to get up in the morning for anything special," she hinted, not too subtly. I was supposed to tutor a few kids the next day but the first appointment wasn't until 11:00 so there was no rush on my part either.

"Do you ever get enough?" I teased her as she parked the car. Once she stopped the engine she turned to me and grinned saying, "Of you?... never... I could never get enough of you Kelly."

Obviously she was still pretty worked up from the party to be this forward with me but I loved it. Sometimes I wondered why we didn't get together this way more often but then I'm not sure our "BFF" status would have survived. I think it's the fact we DON'T have sex all the time and that or relationship is built on a much broader foundation that has served to keep us together for so many years.

We held hands as we walked to my doorway. A few guys were standing by a car in the parking lot, staring blatantly at us as we walked by. It wasn't so unusual for two girls to be holding hands but it must have been a little different when Beth pulled me closer and we exchanged a quick kiss right in front of them. They whistled appreciatively and Beth just waved at them as we resumed our trek to my apartment.

Once inside I closed the door and then we turned to each other and kissed long and hard, hugging each other close, her incredible breasts pressed tightly against mine.

"God, I had a great tonight... did you?" she whispered to me when our lips finally parted. I just nodded, not trusting my voice and she grinned at me and backed away suddenly.

"Fuck, I need a shower BAD," she said, "Damn, do I have cum in my hair or what?" as she ran her fingers through it.

Actually, I don't know how she could have possibly NOT had cum in her hair after a party like this, I knew I certainly did in mine. There was no sense even trying to comb it out on the way home, I figured I'd be in the shower quickly enough once I was home. I just hadn't expected Beth to join in with me!

We quickly stripped and stepped in the shower. It was a little small for two people but neither of us minded being pressing up against the other. Her body felt so smooth and slippery once the shower soaked us down. We teased each other, squeezing each other's butts and rubbing our boobs against the other. I soaped her down and then she did the same for me, making sure all the cum that remained on us was washed away. The hair was the hardest part. We both had gobs of cum stuck in our hair and by now it had dried and caked. It took a lot of shampoo and scrubbing but finally it was all out and I felt clean again. We dried off, leaving our hair wet rather than fool around with it this late at night.

Suddenly I felt exhausted, as if the entire day and night's events suddenly all converged on me at once. Wow, it had been quite a day at that. Beth was feeling the same so we went to my bedroom and lay next to each other under the covers, facing each other with our legs intertwined. We gently kissed for what seemed to be forever, just two old friends enjoying one another.

Now I finally understood why Beth had wanted to leave the party when she did. Yes, I loved Beth. She was indeed my "best friend forever" and I hoped she always would be!

As I fell asleep in her arms all I could think about was how lucky I was to have her as a best friend.

(Jul 24) Chapter 193: Uncle Paul Gets More

Story codes: MF oral F-solo inc uncle niece
Uncle Paul (52)

OK, so I have issues just like everyone else. One of them has to do with who is in "control" when I have a relationship with someone, no matter how brief it may be. My Uncle Paul had fucked me a couple of months back and ever since then it was nagging me how he had been in control that day. Something needed to be done about that!

1. A Matter of Control

If there's one thing I think that can cause me the most concern in a relationship, it's all about control. By "control" I don't mean who is dominant, stronger or anything so overt. Instead, consider a puppet show. The puppets appear to be doing whatever they want and one may appear to be in charge from the audience's perspective. However, the person who is really in "control" is the puppet master - the unseen person operating behind the scenes, the one pulling the strings, the only one who REALLY controls what happens. It is the same in relationships in that it doesn't matter who THINKS they are in control or appears to be to the rest of the world. Instead, it is the one who is "pulling the strings" who controls the relationship, maybe without even the other person's knowledge.

While not easy to admit, and maybe even something some people might criticize me for, when I'm in a relationship I need to be the one who is in control. I think that's true with many people, it's just most people don't realize it or if they do, they won't admit it out of fear that they might appear to be selfish or manipulative.

For me, it's only been in the last few years that I came to terms with it myself, although it's always been there when I look back at my life and see what relationships have worked for me and which ones have failed. There is an almost perfect correlation between the level of control I had in the relationship versus the satisfaction I felt being with that person.

Control can be subtle. In fact, I would say "is often" might be better than "can be". In my case, the perfect "controlling relationship" is where I allow the other person to feel in control (face it, most everyone likes to be) but yet when push comes to shove, I'm the one calling the shots, maybe such that the other person doesn't even realize it. I would guess that most guys who have dated me would say they were in control. It just goes to show that most boys are so easy to control!

So for the most part, why is it so easy for me to be "in control"? Actually, I'm sure you already know the answer - sex. Contrary to popular belief, I don't believe that boys want sex any more than girls do. In fact, I think there have been many times when I wanted to get laid even more than the guy I was with. The key is not to let them know it - something that isn't all that difficult.

First, guys have this never-fail signal that tells everyone when they're horny - their dicks. If a guy is horny on the beach, he either has to be comfortable enough with himself to let his erection be seen by everyone, lay on his stomach or hit the cold water. Meanwhile, at the same time I can be even hornier than he is but who knows? So while girls can be just as horny as guys, they are much better at disguising it.

For example, when I'm out with a guy, usually I'm just as anxious to suck his dick as he is for me to do it. Yet who do you think is in control of the situation - the guy with the raging erection trying to grope me every chance he gets, or the calm girl initially ignoring that same erection, even while she is screaming in her head that she wants it so badly! As my dad would say, I rest my case.

Fortunately, most of my social life involves sex to one degree or another so being a "control freak" isn't all that hard to deal with. There have been a few cases when I didn't feel in control - and typically I dropped the guy soon afterwards, even if it WAS fun at the time.

Of course, there IS one notable exception to all this - my father. As the one man I trust most in the entire world, I submit to him which means I voluntarily relinquish the control in our relationship and he assumes the head of household title. Currently I'm dealing with a blackmailing scheme at work, or at least at the work I'll doing this fall. Yet even in this seemingly "worst-case scenario" I'm slowly wresting back the reigns of control.

********************

So what does all this have to do with my Uncle Paul?

Simple - control issues. But first, a quick update on how I got to my current situation with him. You can find all the details in my earlier diary entries.

My dad was the middle of three boys. Paul is his older brother by eight years. Due to their closer age differences, my dad grew up much closer to Jim, his younger brother by two years and even to this day, he is far less involved with my Uncle Paul. It also doesn't help that Uncle Paul wound up on the North Side in the Fox Chapel area whereas my dad and his younger brother stayed on the South Side. Uncle Paul had always seemed to me to be the "straight-arrow" of the family - conservative to the core, staunch Republican, moderately wealthy, etc. He's been my favorite uncle in that he and Aunt Julie have always treated me so nice, a LOT better than my prudish Aunt Shari who was always bitching to my mother about the way I dressed and behaved. Even so, when I was growing up I would catch Uncle Paul looking my way at times, especially when I was wearing really short cutoffs or a bikini that left little to the imagination. Then again, he looked at other girls and my other cousins the same way so he was really no different than most other men and I never took anything he did personally.

Uncle Paul and Aunt Julie have two daughters - Ginny (28) and Laura (26). Both girls are married and look great with Ginny sporting an incredible set of boobs (thanks to the miracles of modern surgery) while Laura has a nice bust as well - thanks to Mother Nature and being a few pounds overweight. Other than a one- time tryst at Ginny's bachelorette party, so far as I knew they were both pretty conservative in their views regarding sex and no doubt would be shocked if they knew everything about my part of the family.

Until recently, as far as I knew Uncle Paul didn't know anything about what his younger brothers were doing with their daughters and nieces. All that changed a little while back when Uncle Paul stopped by while I was washing my car at my dad's place, supposedly to borrow some tools from my dad. It was then I learned that he and my mom had been having sex for years behind my father's back. I don't think I'll ever fully understand why they felt it had to be so clandestine since he WAS her brother-in-law and thus it wasn't like they were committing adultery by having sex. I guess maybe it was just the "thrill" of doing it secretly that appealed to them. My dad might have been able to shed some light on it for me but I didn't feel it was my place to tell him about it, especially since my mom couldn't defend herself if necessary.

Long story short, Uncle Paul fucked me that day but we haven't done anything else since then. Sometimes I daydream and wonder if he remembers that day when he fucked me. Does he ever think about how good it felt for him to have my mouth on him and to push his dick inside of me? Does he masturbate about me? Does he ever think about how it would have been to fuck his own daughters the way my dad fucks me?

After the first time, I had told myself it would also be the last time. While my Uncle Paul isn't nearly the asshole my Uncle Jim is, it wasn't like he treated me the way I thought a niece should be treated. I think of how wonderful my dad treats my cousin Tammy when he fucks her and wonder why his brothers can't show the same concern and care that he does. Heck, Uncle Paul hadn't even really looked or touched my boobs while he fucked me as my wet t-shirt was on the whole time. He didn't try to fuck me in the ass, at least not seriously, like my Uncle Jim always does but then he got off cumming on my face, not my favorite way to finish. When I thought about it afterwards, I chalked it up as him taking advantage of me while I was still trying to deal with the news about him and my mom - something that he wouldn't be able to do again.

There was one thing that really did bother me with regards to what we'd done that day. While I felt a little guilty about doing it behind my dad's back, that didn't really concern me all that much since it wasn't like we were doing it every day and I don't necessarily tell me dad every time I get laid. No, what really started to bug me the more I thought about it was that he had been in control that day, from the moment he dropped the bombshell on me about him and my mom, to the finals moments of him fucking me. Like I said, maybe it was the shock that caused me to submit to him that day but regardless of how hard I tried to rationalize my actions, it still bugged the heck out of me whenever I thought about it. All I could imagine was how smug he must feel knowing what he'd done to me that day. The arrogant bastard - I needed to show him I wasn't really that easy of a push-over.

OK, I know I had vowed not to let him fuck me again but this was becoming a matter of pride. Maybe I was getting a little carried away about it but that's how I felt. All I knew was I had to see him again and set things straight. If I was going to live with myself, I needed to see my Uncle Paul and fuck him again, but this time with ME in control, under MY terms. It didn't matter to me what he might think about it, I would have the satisfaction of knowing the truth.

2. Masturbating in Traffic

If all I wanted was to go after a married man and get him to commit adultery and fuck me, that would have been pretty simple and straightforward. As I once heard said, "A man is only as faithful as his options." Give most men the right options and I don't care how "faithful" they may profess to be, most will find the temptation irresistible. They may rationalize it as "just this once" or "I deserve it" or maybe even "it's not my fault my wife doesn't satisfy me", whatever it takes they will find the excuse.

OK, so maybe there are a few good husbands out there who are faithful to their marriage but I haven't met many of them. Even my own father, who loved my mother unconditionally and believed strongly in the sanctity of his marriage vows, couldn't resist the chance to fuck my best friend Beth and my mom's best friend Tammy. He rationalized it with the "we're so close they are just like family" excuse, but it was still technically adultery, even if my mom forgave him.

One concern I always have with married men is that their wife will find out and their marriage might suffer because of me. It's one of the main reasons I generally only let a married guy do me once. I'm not looking to have an affair or become someone's mistress. The longer such a thing goes on, the more likely the wife will find out and I have no desire to incur the wrath of a woman scorned! In the end, though, even if she DID find out it really wouldn't be me that would bear the brunt of her fury. The husband would be the primary target and most likely I would never even know about it unless he was someone I knew from church or the neighborhood and word of their "problem" became public.

Well, what does all this have to do with my Uncle Paul? Well, besides the fact he is my uncle, he is also my MARRIED uncle and since I know my Aunt Julie pretty well, it ,make everything a lot more "personal" for me. While technically Uncle Paul wasn't committing adultery by having sex with his niece, somehow I don't think Aunt Julie subscribes to my definition of adultery, let alone the issue of incest. Thus while on the one hand the idea of doing it again with Uncle Paul was little exciting because of the relationships involved, it was a lot more dangerous for me than it would be if he was just another married guy. If the entire family found out that he was fucking me, who knows where that would lead to? Even though I'm 24 and there's no longer any issues about underage sex, what would happen if anyone found out about me and my dad when I was younger, or even what he was doing with my cousin Tammy since she was still only sixteen? I'm sure my Aunt Shari would throw the book at him, if she didn't kill him first.

What I'm trying to say is that whatever I did with Uncle Paul, it needed to be discreet. Yet at the same time for my own personal satisfaction it needed to be more than just a quick fuck like the first time. These were potentially conflicting criteria which required some thought on my part as to how to deal with them. Of course, just thinking about such things can be fun as well as the best time to do it is when you're masturbating - my favorite thing to do.

Over the course of a couple of weeks I must have masturbated a dozen times or more about what I could do with Uncle Paul. Most of the time my thoughts digressed to wild and impossible scenarios, most of which included his daughters and sometimes even my aunt. A daughter swap, similar to what my dad and Uncle Jim had done a couple of times, was the most common fantasy I would have while touching myself in the process and was always a great way to achieve a quick orgasm. Still, while most of my fantasies were about things that could never happen, a few rational ideas popped up now and then for me to consider - provided I remembered them afterwards.

My final plan began to gel finally and one day after a particularly lengthy morning masturbation session, I laid in bed catching my breath with my pussy throbbing when it hit me - why do it all in one shot? It was genius, if I say so myself. First I would bait the trap - and then bag my prey. I would get my revenge but at the same time, it would be fun.

Sounded like a win-win for me!

Uncle Paul worked as a manager or something like that for some sort of engineering company. I never really understood what he did but then I can't say I ever took ,much interest in it either. All I knew it must have paid pretty well based on the huge home they owned and the things they did - cruises, big weddings, parties and such. Ginny and Laura certainly never seemed to want for much growing up, that was for sure. They both got cars for their 16th birthday, went to expensive private universities, and their weddings were like out of a fairy tale.

I'd never been to where Uncle Paul worked and I actually had to do some detective work just to find out what the company name was. It was like I was some sort of stalker, looking up his company on the Internet, trying to learn more about it. I even made a trial run, driving to where his office was and checking the place out. Even though the doors were locked, it was easy to get in by just waiting for someone to open it with their pass card and following them in. I was dressed conservatively with sunglasses and nobody stops a girl to question what she is doing anyway. I found his office, checked out the surroundings, and left before I might have stumbled upon him - something that would have been pretty hard to explain. I'd learned what I needed to know - I could get in the place easily, he had an office (a cube or something more open would have made my plan all but impossible), and nobody seemed to care about me while I walked around looking busy. Perfect!

Driving home, I started to think more and more about my plans. Tomorrow would be perfect. It would be a Friday and people probably wouldn't notice if he left work early. Aunt Julie worked as a legal assistant so she would be gone during the day. Finally, the more I thought about everything the hornier it was making me and I didn't think I could put it off much longer.

Indeed, just thinking about it now as I maneuvered my way towards the downtown area was making my pussy itch that special it does when I need to be fucked. My hand moved to my crotch where my tight jeans were pressing up against me. When I picked out the jeans I was thinking more about not drawing too much attention at Uncle Paul's office but now I would have loved to be in a short skirt instead.

For whatever reason the traffic was heavier than I had expected it to be as I approached the first bridge it came to a crawl. Typical Pittsburgh traffic. If you knew where you were going the roads were fine but for those unfamiliar with the twists and turns created by several bridges, tunnels, and merges from all directions it could be a nightmare. The result was typically what I was encountering now - congestion. God, I was SO damn horny and now I was stuck in traffic in a pair of jeans.

I couldn't take it anymore. I was trying to run myself through the jeans but it just wasn't working for me as horny as I was. I unbuttoned the jeans and pulled down the zipper. As tight as they were there was no chance of squeezing y hand down them, no matter how much I sucked in my stomach.

The heck with it then.

I slipped off my sandals and started to work my jeans down off my ass. This was usually hard enough laying on my bed and in my car was all but unworkable but when you're as "motivated" as I was, nothing is impossible. Trying to stay in my lane was the biggest concern but soon I had them down to my ankle and I managed somehow to pull my feet out and get my foot back on the accelerator in time to keep up with traffic.

For just a moment I looked around me and wondered if anyone could see that I was now bare from the waist down in my car. I was wearing a light blouse with a tank top underneath so there was a little bit of coverage but not all that much. The seat felt cool under my bare butt and it gave me a bit of a thrill to look at all the cars around me and wonder what they would do if they knew the girl in the car next to them was driving bottomless. Such thoughts didn't dwell long as my hand quickly moved down to my now exposed crotch. I spread my legs as far apart as I could and slouched a bit to make it easier to touch myself. FINALLY I felt my fingers on my wet pussy. I almost punched the accelerator when I first hit my clit and my legs jerked involuntarily but somehow I managed not to cause an accident. Fortunately, the traffic was so slow I didn't have to do a lot other than just maintain my distance behind the car in front of me.

God it felt so good to finally touch my pussy! It was already soaking wet from my thoughts earlier and the rubbing I tried through the denim of my jeans. I pushed my finger up inside of me just a bit and then pulled it out, bringing it to my mouth and sucking off the wetness. Mmmmmmm, I LOVED the taste of my pussy when I was horny.

I glanced next to me and noticed the woman driving was looking at me as I sucked on my finger. She seemed more curious than anything, probably assuming my finger hurt for some reason as I doubted she ever would have guessed what the real reason was for me to be sucking on it. I put my hand back between my legs and sighed as I thought of how she might react if she knew I was masturbating while she looked at me. Would she be turned on or disgusted? If she was turned on, would she touch herself in response?

I was almost to the tunnel now and it was getting harder to steer with one hand as I had to merge with traffic and change lanes but there was no way my other hand was leaving my crotch. The traffic in the tunnel was even slower, making me wonder if there was something happening up ahead as usually once you got this far things picked up.

Oh well, for once I was happy the traffic was slow as it allowed me to think more about masturbating than driving. I couldn't help but think about what would happen if I got in an accident now. How would I explain not wearing anything on my bottom as I drove? The paramedics would probably be happy at least.

As I emerged from the tunnel I was starting to tremble a bit as my pussy was getting more and more stimulated. For a few moments I was distracted as I turned off the exit ramp and got off the expressway onto the next road. I immediately hit a stoplight which allowed me to focus again on my pussy. It took three more lights, hitting every one of them red but for maybe the first time, happy I did, before I started to cum. I was pleading for the light to stay red as my fingers flew over my pussy and clit. It wasn't the most spectacular orgasm but under the circumstances, it was more than adequate.

For the rest of the trip home I just cupped my soaked pussy and pressed up against it, the pressure stimulating me just enough to feel incredible but at the same time, subtle enough to allow me to drive the crazy streets without killing anyone – especially me.

When I pulled into the parking lot of my apartment, I tried to pick a spot where I wouldn't be seen so easily as I knew getting my jeans back on was going to be interesting, to say the least. Usually I laid in bed and pulled them up, then laying on my back sucking in my stomach as I zipped and fastened them. In this case, I leaned the seat back as far as it would go and struggle to get them up. Damn, my ass need a little work. Not that it was fat, but when you wear clothes like these jeans it only takes an extra hamburger it seems to make them all but impossible to get on.

I stood up outside the car and gave the jeans a final hitch upward. They were ridiculously tight in the crotch and as sensitive as my clit was it all but made me cum again when I started to walk and the material moved against me. Fortunately it was a quick walk to my apartment and before long, I was stripping them back off again and heading for my bed. This time I could do it right!

3. Teasing Uncle Paul

I woke the next morning and as is my custom, the first thing I did was masturbate again. There are times when the bladder wants attention and so I take care of that quickly, but other than that my first order of business is to take care of business. That accomplished and feeling a bit better, I got up and showered, taking special care when I shaved not to nick myself or miss anything. The last thing I wanted was to have a bunch of red marks when I showed Uncle Paul my pussy later this morning!

In deciding what to wear, I didn't choose one of my sexier outfits. The last thing I wanted was for people in the office to see some slut walk in and go into my uncle's office and close the door behind her. Now THAT would have caused some gossip, probably eventually making its way to my Aunt Julie's ears. No, I wanted to go unnoticed for once, blending into the office traffic such that nobody questioned who I was or what I was doing there. It would have been fun to wear one of my little black dresses, but they would have certainly drawn attention.

Under other circumstance, I would have loved such attention but today was time for one of my more conservative dresses that I had bought for teaching school. Actually, I hadn't even worn this one yet and so I had to remove the tags. It came below the knees - a requirement at the conservative Christian school where I would be teaching soon, and while not up to my neck, it certainly didn't expose any cleavage. Short sleeves and a belt around the waist kept it from being TOO drab but otherwise it was the sort of dress most guys wouldn't glance at twice.

There was one difference, though, between how I would be wearing this dress to school and what my plans were for it today. At school a bra and panties was required. The panties I could love with but the bra requirement sucked. Sure, there are some women who SHOULD wear a bra but if you didn't have to, I didn't see why it had to become a requirement. Besides, I would be teaching 4-6 graders who wouldn't care one way or the other so why make me be uncomfortable all day?

Today, however, no such requirements existed and so the dress was the ONLY piece of clothing I was going to be wearing, in addition to my heels. Like the lack of underwear, the heels weren't what I would normally wear to school. Not so much that they were a little too formal but more because I wanted to still be able to walk at the end of the day! Standing in front of a classroom all day in 4-inch heels isn't something I would recommend!

Getting in my car, the first thing that came to mind was how much better it was to wear a dress than jeans - at least so far as when you're driving and horny. I hadn't even started the car when I pulled up the hem and reached underneath to touch my bare pussy. Mmmmmmm, not THIS was the way to dress when you drive!

I was leaving later enough to miss the morning rush hour traffic and whatever had caused the previous day's congestion must have been cleared out as the traffic was humming along this morning. Just for the fun of it I played with myself a little while driving but nothing too serious as I had to pay a lot more attention to the road. Still, the idea of all these cars around me and none of them knowing I was masturbating was enough to make me food and horny, Not that I needed all that much more incentive giving my mission!

Upon reaching the parking lot I found a spot close to the door and I waited to get out until I saw someone approaching. I got out with my purse and quickly followed him in, just catching the door before it closed and locked behind him. There was a second door immediately after the first and this time he held it open for me after seeing me coming in the first one. He just smiled at me and went on his way after I went through, giving them a quick one-over but that was about it.

This time I knew where I was going so I made my way through the cubicles to where the offices for the managers were. The door to my uncle's office was open and I just walked by quickly without entering to see if he was there. Sure enough, he was behind his desk but there was also another guy with him, standing up in front of the desk discussing something or another. Whatever it was, they seemed quite animated about it.

There was a drinking fountain a few doors down and I used it as an excuse to loiter and wait for the guy to leave my uncle's office. Fortunately he was out in a couple of minutes and nobody had even walked by me or taken note of me. Quickly I made my move and stepped into Uncle Paul's office.

"Kelly?" he asked, knowing it was me of course but at the same time he was surprised to see me. I couldn't blame him, but that was what I had been hoping for. "What are you doing here?"

I closed the door behind me quietly. It had a pushbutton in the center of the round handle so I pressed it in to lock it. Then I turned to him and grinned.

"Hi Uncle Paul," I greeted him, "I thought you might like to see me today. Don't you want to see me?"

"Well... it's just this is where I work," he said, looking at the locked door behind me as if expecting someone to try to break in, "What if someone saw you here?"

"Don't worry, nobody paid me any attention," I assured him, "Do you like my dress?"

"Of course, you look great... what are you doing here?" he asked again.

"I was horny this morning and I was hoping you might be able to help me," I said demurely.

He had a small round table in his office with four chairs, one of which I pulled out and took a seat opposite his desk facing him. I slowly crossed my legs, letting the hem pull up without making any effort to keep it down. It was still just over my knees, though, so it wasn't like he got to see under it.

"Kelly... you really should leave," he protested weakly, his eyes now on my legs.

I pulled the hem up, exposing my upper thigh to him almost to my butt.

"Does my dress look better like this?"

Uncle Paul's eyes were staring at my leg now as I draped the dress over so it fell to the side, letting my entire bare leg show to him now.

"This even better?" I teased him.

My uncle started to get up from his chair but I motioned for him to stay sitting. He may not know it yet but he wasn't going to get out of that chair this morning, at least not while I was in the room, but that didn't mean he wouldn't get something he hadn't been expecting.

"You know I shaved my pussy just for you this morning," I said in as sexy a voice as I could muster, "Want to see it?"

It was almost laughable. He seemed torn between his fear of someone finding out what was happing and his growing lust for me. Well, I knew that all I had to do was give more time for that lust to develop and he would be totally mine. Yes, this was exactly what I wanted - he was under my control already!

I uncrossed my legs and pulled my dress up to expose my crotch. His eyes followed as I reached down and started to touch myself.

"I masturbated so hard this morning thinking about your Uncle Paul," I said as I touched my pussy for him to watch, "Do you want to watch me do it again?"

Poor Uncle Paul. Just a few minutes ago he'd been going at it with someone about some design of something and suddenly now he had his niece masturbating in front of him. Wow, talk about a change in plans for him!

"Watch me Uncle Paul... I want you to watch me do myself for you."

Masturbating alone is always fun but masturbating with an audience just makes it that much better. I saw he was shifting in his chair, probably trying to rearrange his dick as it swelled in his pants. I put my fingers in my mouth, sucking on them like they were little dicks, exaggerating my movements for him to watch me.

I had earlier planned to strip naked but judging from his reaction, he was plenty turned on now with me just exposing my pussy. For a guy with a wife and two daughters that all have impressive racks, he certainly didn't seem that interested in boobs. Maybe he got enough looks at home?

"Oh Uncle Paul, it feels so good, I remember how you fucked me... you felt so good inside of me," I said softly so nobody outside his office would hear.

I went on and on, telling him how much I loved him fucking me and how much I loved sucking his dick and having him cum all over me. I kept hoping he would pull his dick out and start masturbating too but all her did was rub himself through his pants. As horny as he was, the threat of having to answer the door or something was obviously too much for him to go that far.

It was just as I had fantasized about. I loved masturbating in front of him, hearing the people go by his office, the muted tones of their voices as they walked by completely oblivious as to what I was doing just a couple of feet away from them. I loved the way Uncle Paul was looking at me, the lust obvious on his face, his hand pressing down on his crotch where his dick must have been dying to be set free. At this moment he would have done anything I asked but first I wanted to get myself off.

When I finally came it was all I could do not to cry out and alert the entire building that Kelly was having an orgasm while her uncle watched. I watched my Uncle Paul as I came, telling him how good I felt and how much I loved to cum while he watched me. He wanted to fuck me, I could see it I his eyes and I knew all I had to do was say the magic words and he would have his pants down in a heartbeat for me to sit on his erect cock.

Yet as much as I would have liked to have done that was well, it was because he DID want it so bad that I denied him the pleasure of fucking me. He would get to fuck me sooner or later, but for now he needed to understand who was in control.

After I had cum I got up and let the dress fall back down again, covering myself again. I walked over to get behind his desk and sure enough, the swelling under his pants impossible to miss. I reached down and press my hand on his dick, rubbing it just enough to show him my intentions – or at least what he undoubtedly HOPED were my intentions.

"You want to fuck me, don't you Uncle Paul," I teased, "You want to fuck me now, have me sit on your hard cock and let your dick fill my cunt. Isn't that what you want?"

He started to nod but that wasn't good enough for me.

"Say it Uncle Paul... tell me what you want."

He groaned, as if I was torturing him and in a way, I guess you could say I was. His dick had to be ready to burst by now as the smell of my wet pussy must have been in his nostrils. I reached under my dress and wet my fingers, this time putting them to his lips and his tongue eagerly reached out to taste me.

"You want my cunt, don't you Uncle Paul? You like the way I taste when I cum, don't you?"

"Oh god I want to fuck you so bad," he moaned, reaching out for me. I stepped back, the look of surprise on his face was immediate.

"Not here... not now," I said with an evil smile, "I want you to take me home and fuck me there."

"You want me to go to your place?" he said, his voice a little high with his lust that was still in full gear.

"No silly, not MY place," I corrected him, "I want you to take me to YOUR home."

This was it, the moment I had been waiting for. This was the moment that would define our relationship, the moment when everything would be determined. If HE was in control, he would insist on ravaging me now, here in his office while his erection was controlling his actions. He wouldn't take no for an answer and her certainly wouldn't take me to his house to fuck me. On the other hand, if I was in control, then he would accept not fucking me, however begrudged, and cave in to my demand that he take me home with him.

"Right now?" he asked, the look on his face was priceless.

With that I knew I'd won. I was in control. Uncle Paul was now my puppet and I could make him do anything. It wouldn't have meant so much had it not been for the first time we were together but today was going to make up for that - and a lot more in the process.

"Well, if you want to fuck me then yes, right now," I answered.

God, it was probably just as hard for me to turn down his hard dick right now as it was for him to have to delay fucking me. After having just cum the thing I wanted so bad was to sit on that dick in front of me and feel it up inside of me. I wanted to ride him and make him cum in me, right here in the middle of his office. If he only knew how badly I wanted him to fuck me right now he would know that all he had to do was push a little harder and I would have given in. So many guys make that "mistake" where they give up too soon, not realizing how the girl really feels inside, not understanding that she is just as horny as he is and wants it just as badly. Yet because I could control myself better than him, at least for this long, I was the one on control.

Uncle Paul pushed a button on his phone and some secretary answered. He told her that he would be taking a long lunch today but that he would be returning later in the afternoon. I smoothed out my dress and gathered my purse. As I got ready to leave I mentioned he might want to spray some air freshener as I was pretty sure the place had to smell like sex as hard as I had masturbated.

I glanced down and saw the chair I had been sitting on had a small wet spot under where my pussy had cum so I moved it to the back and positioned another chair in its place. Then with a wink and a smile I walked out and headed back to my car without a word to anyone else in the place.

Out in the parking lot I waited for Uncle Paul and in a few minutes he came out the door. At first I think he was expecting me to ride with him but I knew had I done that we might never make it out of the parking lot as horny as I was so I chose to drive behind him.

4. Fucking Uncle Paul

It was only about fifteen minutes to their place where he opened both garage doors so I could park where Aunt Julie usually did. I guess he didn't want the neighbors to notice he was home during the day, and especially not to notice a second car was there or to see me get out. He was probably right to be cautious as I imagined it would be hard for him to explain to Aunt Julie if someone told her about all this. He closed the doors as soon as we were inside and as soon as I got out he was there waiting for me.

"OK, you've got your way and we're here. Now let me fuck you!" he exclaimed and I think had I allowed him to, he would have turned me around and fucked me on the car hood right then and there. That wasn't my plan, though, so I pushed him away and smiled.

"I want you to fuck me in your bed," I insisted, "Fuck me where you fuck Aunt Julie."

He was so hot and bothered he didn't even bother to protest. I think I could've asked him to fuck me on the front lawn right now and he would have done it, anything to get his dick in me. What he didn't know was how badly I wanted it too but there was no way he was going to ever know about THAT. We hurried up to the bedroom where again he reached for me and yet again I pushed him away.

"Now what?" he whined, like a little boy being denied his candy yet again.

"Take off your clothes and get in bed," I instructed him.

He huffed and unbuttoned his dress shirt and then quickly dropped his pants and underwear to the floor, taking off his socks at the same time. It was all I could do not to reach out grab his dick as it popped free finally. It was just as hard and ready to go as I knew it would be. I couldn't wait to get it in my mouth and pussy but there were other things that I needed to do first to complete my plan.

"Well?" he asked as he laid on his back on the bed over the covers, his dick standing up on its own all nice and rigid. Clearly he was expecting me to strip and join him and I would indeed do that - in due time.

"Jerk off for me," I demanded, "Show me how bad you want to fuck me."

He looked at me like he was surprised at my demand and then he seemed to hesitate so I asked, "What's the matter, haven't you ever done it front of anyone before?"

It really wasn't all that surprising when he shook his head, looking a little meek actually as if he was embarrassed. Was he embarrassed because he had never done it or because I wanted him to do it for me?

"C'mon, I did it for you so now you do it for me," I said firmly, "I want to see your jerking that dick for me... show me hot horny I make you."

What I really wanted to say was, "Will you hurry up and jerk off so you can fuck me!" It wasn't so much that I wanted to watch him masturbate, it was that I wanted to watch him do it because I demanded that he do it. Obviously he had never done it front of his wife which wasn't all that uncommon form most men I knew. They seem to LOVE watching me do myself but when the shoe is on the other foot, then all of a sudden it becomes a problem. I didn't expect him to cum, just prove to me that he would do whatever I asked if he wanted to fuck me.

He wanted me. I smiled as his right hand gripped his dick and started to stroke himself. Actually, I think it's good to watch a man jerk off as it helps me to understand what gets him off and lets me be a better cocksucker. If only men would pay more attention to the technique I use when they see me masturbate and not just get off from the experience then they might do a better job of touching and licking me. Oh well, I'm not holding my breath for THAT to ever happen.

As he stroked himself I rewarded him by slowly undressing, unzipping the dress behind me and letting it fall to the floor, stepping out of it while keeping my heels on. I don't know why, but men seem to love to fuck me when I wear my shoes. It doesn't even have to be heels! I've had guys ask me to keep my sneakers on because it turned them on for me to have nothing on but my shoes when they fucked me. Go figure...

God his dick looked delicious! I loved the way it stretched out as he pulled on it and it seemed so nice and hard in his grip. He didn't seem to be intimidated anymore about masturbating in front of me and actually seemed to be enjoying it now. Who knows, maybe Aunt Julie might have a surprise for her next time they have sex! I was about to get on the bed when I noticed a pile of clothes on the master bathroom floor, evidently being sorted out for laundry later. There was a small pile that was destined for the 'delicate cycle" with her underwear and nightgowns. A naughty thought came to mind and I made a detour for the bathroom.

"Where are you going?" Uncle Paul called out.

I turned and noticed he hadn't stopped jerking off - a good sign. I just smiled and held up my finger to indicate I would only be a minute and quickly sorted through the small pile. I chose a plain white bra and pair of pink nylon panties and held them up for him to see. Uncle Paul look confused at first and then his mouth dropped open when he saw my intentions for them as I snapped the bra together in front of me and then twisted it around and put my arms through this traps. The bra was way too big for me but it really didn't matter. Likewise, the panties were also so large as to barely hang on to my hips and so I had to hold them up as I crawled into bed beside him.

"Why are you wearing those?" he asked.

I noticed his stroking had diminished after I lay next to him as his attention shifted more to me but still, he hadn't stopped completely. For a guy who had never jerked off in front of anyone before, he seemed to have caught on pretty quickly!

"Well, if you're going to fuck me in your wife's house, in her bedroom, and on her bed... don't you think I should be wearing her clothes?" I replied, as if it were the most logical thing in the world for me to do.

"You are SO naughty," he said with a grin, "So does it turn you on to wear your aunt's dirty underwear?"

Actually, so far as I was concerned it would have been better to wear something out of her dresser that was clean. Smelling women's dirty panties wasn't on my top ten list of things to do by a long shot although I knew a lot of men who seemed to get off from it. Heck, I could have probably made a fortune over the years selling my used underwear to guys on the Internet if the number of requests I've had for them was an indication. But back to Uncle Paul, I knew it would make it all the more naughty for him to fuck me if I was wearing his wife's undergarments and the next time she wore them, I bet I knew what he would be thinking!

"God I want to fuck you so bad," he said for the umpteenth time today.

I was sure that had I just hopped on board he would have been more than happy just to get his dick in me and fuck me without any further delay. As horny as I was, it didn't sound like such a bad idea but then I was here for more than just my own pleasure today so I needed to stay on course. Besides, as tempting as his dick had been looking all this time while he had been jerking off, I wanted to have a bit of it first anyway. "I'm gonna suck your dick first," I told him in a no-nonsense, no-debate tone of voice.

My horny uncle didn't even try to argue but then it wasn't like it was THAT bad of an alternative to fucking me, at least for now. I scooted down the bed alongside him until I could reach over and get his dick in my mouth. He held it by the base as I sucked the head to start, alternately sucking it and then running my tongue around it and then sucking it again.

"God you know how to do that so good," he groaned as I took more and more of him in my mouth each time, twisting my head around his dick as I bobbed up and down on his shaft.

I loved the feel of his hard cock in my mouth, all warm and firm yet smooth and soft as well. The head felt so smooth and I loved to lick along the underside of the crown. Uncle Paul seemed to like it as well, his hips jerking reflexively whenever I would do that and then suddenly take it in my mouth and suck hard.

Had it been up to me, I would suck his dick all afternoon like this. He felt so good in my mouth as my hand caressed his hairy balls, gently rolling them between my fingers as I played with his pubic hair. If there was ever a time I was in control of a man, this was it. One little bite and he would be in excruciating pain and a little harder might injure him for life. When is a man ever more under the control of a woman than when she has her mouth and teeth around his dick?

One thing I was worried about and that was him cumming too soon. My dad was getting to the age where repeat performances took longer and longer. Uncle Paul was eight years older and I imagined he was probably the equivalent of a musket loader - one shot and then a lot of work to reload. If I went too far and he came in my mouth, then the odds of him fucking me anytime soon would be pretty remote. If there was anything I wanted to be sure of this time with him, it was that I wanted him to cum inside my pussy and NOT all over me or in my mouth. This time I wanted to be the one who got it where she wanted it.

So with that in mind, after I'd sucked him for a while I figured it was time to let him fuck me before he couldn't hold back anymore. Again, my decision in this matter was determined by my desire to be in control so once I'd dropped his dick from my mouth I moved to mount him. Straddling his waist on my knees, I lifted myself up as high as I could and reached down with one hand to grab his dick and with the other I pulled Aunt Julie's panties to the side. They were so loose on me it was a lot easier than when I did it with my own panties (yes, I DO wear them at times!). I looked down at him and saw he was staring at my crotch, watching his dick as I positioned it in place under my pussy hole.

"NOW you can fuck me," I declared with a grin.

I don't know who was more relieved a those words, him or me. Sure he was horny and wanted to fuck me but I was extremely horny as well and I would be willing to bet I wanted his dick in me just as much, if not more, than he did. With that, I lowered myself down onto him, his cock sliding easily up inside of me as wet as I was from everything so far.

I don't really know how many times I've been fucked in my life. I use to keep a sort of record but stopped a couple of years ago when it just didn't seem worth the effort. I would imagine it has to be somewhere in the 200's, maybe 300's if you count all the parties. Yet no matter how many times I've done it, there is still something special about the first time a guy's dick enters me when we are having sex. It's like I have been craving it and wanting it so badly and then suddenly it's in me, this warm solid fleshy thing deep up inside of me. It's like the missing piece to a crossword puzzle is finally put into place as I'm made complete and whole, like my pussy was missing something without a dick to fill it.

As Uncle Paul's dick filled me, I don't know who gasped louder - him or me. I didn't take him all at once but rather just the head at first. The I slowly swiveled my hips, rotating around him causing my pussy to move around on his dick and at the same time, causing his dick to press all around just inside of my pussy hole entrance where it was the most sensitive. As I continued, I dropped down a little bit more over time until finally I'd literally 'screwed" my way onto his cock and my smooth crotch met up with his hairy one.

"God you're so fucking tight," he gasped as I gripped his dick with my pussy, squeezing down on him as hard as I could.

I leaned over him, my hands flat on his chest. My boobs weren't really held al that firmly by the oversized bra so they hung down and moved as I started to rock slowly on Uncle Paul's dick inside of me. Normally if I was still wearing a bra by this time the guy would be practically ripping it off of me but as I'd observed before, Uncle Paul wasn't all that into boobs so he didn't seem to pay much attention to them, focusing all his energy on his dick in me instead - not necessarily all that bad either.

It felt so good to be fucked. I closed my eyes as I rocked back and forth, savoring the intense feelings shooting through me when his dick slid in and out of me. I reached down and started to play with my clit as I lifted my butt up and then dropped back down to drive his cock in and out of me faster than I could do by just rocking. I could imagine what my aunt would say if for some reason she came home early on a Friday and found her husband fucking her niece in her own bed - wearing her underwear at that! Well, THAT would certainly bring a new meaning to the phrase, "family reunion".

Uncle Paul was holding my by the hips now, helping me to bob up and down his cock using my pussy to stimulate his cock. He kept telling me how much he loved his dick in me, how much he wanted to fuck me over and over and over again. Normally I like to get in a little dirty talk of my own but today I let him do all the talking. I was the one in control so there was no need for me to do anything more for him than to let his dick inside of me.

Suddenly he came. I have to admit it was a little bit of a surprise for me as I'm usually pretty good at being able to tell when a man is about to cum. Uncle Paul gasped and then I felt him jerk up against me and then there was that faint telltale bloom of warmth inside of me that told me his cum was being pumped into me. Sometimes I can't even feel that much but today I could tell each time he ejaculated inside of me. He came fast and furious, humping under me as he shot me full of his sperm. When he finished he just collapsed but I wasn't done yet so I sat down on his spent dick and played faster with my pussy, determined to cum myself.

It took a few minutes before and I could feel his cum beginning to leak out of me when finally I came - and came hard. His dick was still me when I came, a bit deflated now but still it was where it counted - in my pussy. I gushed cum, mixed with his own as I sat up straight, mesmerized by the intensity of the orgasm I was having as my pussy gripped his semi-flaccid cock. Finally I just had to lean forward and lay on his chest, his dick barely staying in me as I did.

"Did you cum Kelly?" he asked expectantly.

Those famous last words of every guy after sex. It's like they have to make a girl cum to prove their manliness or something. I enjoy an orgasm just as much as the next girl but it isn't a failure to me if I don't cum during the act of sex with a guy. Sometimes I masturbate afterwards and cum then, sometimes later when I get home. I LOVE sucking cock and I LOVE being fucked so whether or not I cum isn't a major factor in determining how much I enjoyed myself but try and tell that to a guy!

Of course I did what every girl does when a guy asks him that question - I nodded and smiled at him. Then I rolled over and felt what remained of his soft dick in me flop out of my pussy. I felt suddenly empty somehow, like something had been taken from me. We both laid there for a while and I thought he might fall asleep as I absentmindedly played with myself.

"Shit, I have to get back to the office and Julie might be home soon... it IS Friday you know and she usually gets off early."

Speaking of Aunt Julie getting off... my mind was in the gutter now so I knew it was time to get going. I got out of bed and removed Aunt Julie's clothing. I noted with a hint of satisfaction that her panties had a fresh stain on them - a mixture of her husband's cum mixed together with her niece's. If only she would know... but THAT wasn't going to happen although it was fun to think about.

Uncle Paul dressed hurriedly. It only took a second for me to step into my dress after which Uncle Paul was thoughtful enough to zip it up for me. My hair was a wreck but I quickly straightened it out enough to be presentable. Uncle Paul tried to straighten out the bed covers. It was probably a good thing for him I'd stayed on top as otherwise who knows how he would have dealt with the cum stains. Neither of us spoke, I guess there wasn't all that much for us to say to one another now that we'd finished fucking.

As we went into the garage, he turned to me and started to say something. I really didn't want to hear anything from him. I KNEW he'd enjoyed it and I really didn't want to give him the satisfaction of knowing how much I had as well. I'd achieved my goals for the day and it was time to leave him. No doubt he was already thinking about the next time he would fuck me but little did he know the odds of that were about zero. Of course, that is what I said the first time he'd fucked me and look what had happened today!

As I drove away, I lifted yup the dress and felt my pussy. What a mess! I was leaking sperm and after catching some of it on my fingers I pulled them up to my mouth for a taste. Mmmmmmm, now THIS was the way to eat and drive! Maybe since I was wearing the dress this time I might get lucky and run into some traffic congestion ahead!

Postlude

I DID tell me dad about what I'd done with his brother as I felt too guilty keeping a secret from him like that. However, he never mentioned anything about my mom and my uncle so I never did either. Does he know what they did? I don't know and I'm not sure I WANT to know! All I know if I felt vindicated after spending the day with Uncle Paul. My place in the universe has been restored, so to speak, and now I can truly go without fucking him again since the last time was completely on my terms.

Who controls your relationships?

Are you sure????

(Aug 01) Chapter 194: An Evening With My Dad

Story codes: MF oral F-solo inc father daughter
Me (24)
John - my dad (44)

Suddenly one day I realized it had been quite a while since I'd spent some really good "quality time" with my dad. Well... that shouldn't be so hard to remedy!

1. Been So Long

I was lying in bed on night, just thinking random thoughts, when it occurred to me that it had been almost a month since my dad had fucked me. Granted there had been a few quickies before church but those are so short and quick they don't really count. The last couple of times he had fucked me had been with other people involved, including when our friend Tammy visited and then there was the time before that with my aunt and cousin on the 4th of July.

Thus when it came to just me satisfying him as his daughter, it had been ages! It came as sort of a shock to me now that I was actually thinking about it. Since I was sixteen and he had first had sex with me I couldn't remember a period when we'd gone this long without doing it unless I was away at school or something.

In a way, I guess our "dry spell" wasn't ALL that bad when considered from his perspective. Since he and my Aunt Linda had gotten closer, they'd been like two teenagers in heat. I think for both of them it was sort of a release to have each other. It wasn't like they hadn't been doing it for almost twenty years now, just that now it was different.

Now it was just the two of them and even Kristen and I weren't included for the most part, at least not that I knew about so far as Kristen goes but then you never know about her sometimes. There was never going to be anything more between them like marriage, both of them was carrying too much baggage for that to happen, but it was nice to see how happy they both were these days when they were together.

As for me, it wasn't like I was a nun or anything just because my dad wasn't doing me more regularly. In fact, I'd never depended on my dad to satisfy my sexual needs, nor would I have ever wanted to. Like most girls, I've never had to worry about getting laid when I really wanted it although at times it required "lowering the bar" a bit depending on how anxious I was for it at the time. When I first offered myself to my dad it had nothing to do with being horny or needing someone to fuck me. It was then, as it always has been, more about submitting myself to my dad as I have learned that a daughter should to her father.

Now don't get me started on the difference between loving submission and anything kinky, I wrote an entire article on it that's posted on my website if you're interested. Suffice to say I love to please my father and I trust him more than I have any other man. From the first time I saw my parents making love, I knew I wanted a closer relationship with my father that was only possible through sex. Of course it was not the same sex as he had with my mother - and I would never even want to think I was his "lover" or anything weird like that. It's just that when him inside of me, and I feel him moving in me and then cumming me, it is then I feel closest to my dad, in a way I could never be with him otherwise.

As you can imagine, I was a bit torn and confused as I thought more about this "revelation" I was having. What was I really concerned about? What were my true feelings? Was I becoming jealous of my Aunt Linda for all the time she was spending with my dad - at the expense of him spending it with me? If my true concern was for the happiness and well-being of my father, shouldn't I be pleased that he was finding satisfaction with a woman he had loved and fucked for most of his life?

Of course I'd never been jealous of my mother - she was his wife after all and he SHOULD enjoy being with her. She had often told me that it never bothered her for him to have sex with me as I was his daughter and it pleased her if anything to see the two of us being so close. Although she didn't say a lot about it, I knew it also got her off watching the two of us together as she would usually masturbate while she watched.

Then came my Uncle Paul and his startling tales of having sex with my mom for so many years without anyone knowing about it, not even my dad. He even claimed that she went to him when she needed sex because my dad was more interested in me at the time. I still didn't know whether to believe that last part or not. Was it just Uncle Paul trying to make me believe things about my mother to rationalize what they'd done?

I so wished I could ask her for her side of the story. How often had they really done it? When did it start between them and how? Was she really feeling left out because of all the time my dad was spending with me? I just couldn't believe that to be honest. She wouldn't have lied to me all these years about how she was happy for me to be with my dad. Then again, the more I started to parse her words, being happy seeing my dad fucking me didn't mean she wasn't feeling left out herself. Was she only telling me half the story?

While I was confused about my mother keeping such a secret for my dad, it really was no different than what I was doing myself. I hadn't told my dad about his older brother fucking me that day, nor the last time just a few days ago, and I sincerely doubted that he had even the slightest inkling that anything like that was going on between me and my uncle. Was I now carrying on the same as my mother had done? Maybe when she didn't tell him immediately it just got harder and harder the more they did it until finally she just resolved never to tell her husband. Technically it wasn't adultery - THAT I could have never believed my mother being capable of. Even though they were related through marriage, making sex between them permissible, emotionally it almost like it just that.

Since I wasn't married it didn't matter who I had sex with so far as sinning was concerned and even if I HAD been married, I still would've been "OK" with the concept of fucking Uncle Paul since he WAS my uncle. Still, if I HAD been married I would want my husband to know about it since hiding it from him would make it seem like there was something wrong about it or something I was ashamed to admit. So why hadn't my mother told my dad?

I tossed and turned in my bed, my thought getting more and more jumbled up inside my head. What if she HAD told my dad? There was no reason he needed to tell me about it, especially since he didn't think I was having sex with Uncle Paul. What if my uncle had been bluffing, maybe to try and keep me from telling my dad about what we had done? Yet if he had been fucking his brother's wife with his knowledge, why would he think that it would be any more of a concern for his brother to know he'd fucked his only daughter?

So many thoughts... so many options. Now I started to wonder if maybe Uncle Paul was fucking his own daughters as well. Maybe THAT is why he didn't want my dad to know he had fucked me, perhaps worried that now he would have to deal with my dad doing his daughters. Being they were both married it would make it more complicated but I'm sure something could be worked out. Both of them had big boobs - something that always drew the attention of my dad, and he had in fact confided in me over the years that he would have loved to have fucked them both. However, knowing his brother wasn't involved in incest made that pretty well impossible - but WAS he so not involved? There had never been the slightest hint but at the same time, I doubted anyone in our family that wasn't already included know that my dad was fucking me so maybe it was the same with Uncle Paul and my cousins.

It wasn't just my dad that had lusted for my cousins. If I was honest with myself I knew that I wouldn't have minded having some cousin "fun" as well. Except for a few brief moments at a bachelorette party years ago, I'd never seen either of them behave slutty. Ginny, with her new boobs, loved to wear outfits that showed them off but it was more her pride and vanity than trying to come on to anyone. Laura's boobs were not bad either, and all natural at that, but that was partly due to her being a bit overweight. If she ever dropped the extra twenty pounds it would be interesting to see how her boobs would shrink along with the rest of her.

Thinking about Laura and Ginny started to distract me from the other thoughts that had been swirling inside my head. Images of them in their bikinis at my uncle's pool earlier in the summer came to mind. They weren't terribly revealing, nothing like I preferred to wear, but they still showed off their bodies nicely. I know my dad was certainly pleased with how they looked and I saw both of my uncles stealing a few glances as well. I could only imagine the nasty thoughts my Uncle Jim was having - he was such an asshole. It was more what my Uncle Paul was thinking about his own daughters that I now was wondering about.

With my eyes closed, I lay flat on my back with one hand now reaching between my thighs as I felt myself starting to react to the idea of Uncle Paul fucking both of his daughters at the same time. They'd gone back into the house to change and after seeing him slipping away shortly afterwards, I dreamed I'd followed him as well. They were all gathered in one of the spare bedrooms and I could hear them talking inside when I pressed my ear to the door.

God I was feeling so horny, and even more as I started to masturbate, thinking about the sounds of my uncle as he fucked his two hot daughters. My pussy was already pretty wet from all the other thoughts I'd been having so it wasn't like I had to get myself started or anything - I was ready to go!

In my dream the door to the bedroom hadn't been closed tightly and as I leaned against it to listen more I felt it push inward just a bit. Through the crack in the door I saw both of my cousins, kneeling before their father, sharing his cock as they each took turns sucking on it. All three of them were naked and I marveled at the incredible boobs they both had. Seeing them both sucking their dad, it made me think for a moment about what it would have been like to have a sister when I was growing up. My pussy tingled as my finger circled my sensitive wet clit, images of my mythical sister sharing my dad's cock with me making me all the more horny. God I suddenly felt so damn horny!

It felt so good to touch myself as my fantasy about my uncle and cousins played out in my head. Indeed, I LOVED to masturbate any time and when I was as horny as I felt now, it was all the better. Some girls try to tell me they don't masturbate, or at least don't do it very often and I just have to wonder how that could be true. I can't imagine going even a day without doing it at least once, preferably more. For me it's not a substitute for sex, it's more like an enhancement. I often masturbate even after having just been fucked, especially if the guy isn't too attentive afterwards. What can I say, I just LOVE doing it.

Even better is when someone watches me. It is so erotic to see a guy getting all hard and horny as he watches me playing with myself in front of him. What really gets me going is if he is confident enough in himself to pull out his stiff dick and jerk off while he watches me masturbate. Seeing his dick so nice and hard, watching his eyes glaze over as he lusts for me but yet can only watch me, seeing him cumming all over himself knowing he is thinking about doing so many things to me, all of it just makes me cum all the harder as I masturbate myself.

God, imagine if Uncle Paul was really fucking the two of them. When did it start? My mom and her sister had both been taken by their dad within days of reach other, my mom being fourteen and my Aunt Linda only twelve. Had Uncle Paul fucked his daughters when they were teenagers or was it something relatively new? Of course, that assumed he fucks them period but hey, it was my fantasy and anything can happen in a fantasy.

I was rubbing clit faster now while at the same time my fingers were toying with my erect nipples, pinching them and pulling on them. I liked to play with my boobs, maybe not quite the same as I did my pussy but they were always enjoyable to touch. If I leaned me head over as far as I could I could just get the nipple in my mouth and it made me shiver to feel myself suck on my own boob.

Mmmmmmm, now if only I could lick my own clit I'd be in heaven!

I could feel myself about to cum as I imagined my uncle fucking the two of them, both of them on all fours in front of him as he would fuck one and then move over to the other. It was like a lottery - which one would he cum in? Back and forth he would go, a few strokes in and out of one and then moving over to the other and fucking her. They both kissed as their horny dad fucked them.

God it felt so damn good!

My efforts were finally rewarded as suddenly it was like someone dropped an electrical cord on me and my entire body went stiff as I plunged my fingers deep into my pussy, moving my other hand form my boobs to my clit. All I did was push on it with two fingers, not even moving them around as I just put more pressure on my simmering clit. I couldn't keep my finger inside of me anymore, it was just too hard to reach down like that when I wanted to just straighten out as flat as I could and then curl up in a ball and then onto my back again.

All I could imagine was how good it felt when Uncle Paul had last fucked me and how much I wanted my dad to do me now. Even though they were brothers they each fulfilled something different in me. As my pussy spasmed and I moaned into the silence of my bedroom, I remembered the lustful fucking from my uncle and then the closeness I would feel when my father was in me. One came in me out of sheer lust while the other gave me his cum like a gift. One just wanted to fuck me like a slut, the other as his loving daughter. Yet the thought of both of them fucking me was exhilarating as my orgasm stretched on.

As I felt myself begin to calm, I started toying with my pussy a little more again. A little shriek escaped my lips as I involuntarily jerked at the touch of my fingers against my ultra-sensitive clit. God it so touchy! Someone could have just breathed softly against it when it was like this and made me cum again. How at this moment I would have loved to feel the touch of a tongue against my pussy now, their hot breath over my clit, the feel of their lips kissing my pussy.

For what seemed to be the longest time I just laid there, not really concentrating on anything but the feelings between my legs that rippled through me like a summer breeze over a field of wheat.

Did I ever mention that I LOVE to masturbate?

I called her cell phone only to find out she was also busy with some friends for the day. Oh well, I guess it was just me and dad - only he didn't know it yet!

As I tried to plan out my dad, it occurred to me that my aunt might be over and that would mess up everything. My Aunt Linda is pretty hot for now being in her forties and while we had played around a bit in the past, typically it was because Kristen was involved as well. Since she and my dad had been going at it, I'd never been included with them. It wasn't like I had asked and been turned down, just that the offer was never made so I didn't push it. I'm sure nobody would tell me to go home if she WAS there today but at the same time I knew they would be waiting for me to leave so they could get back in bed and that was an awkward situation I preferred to avoid so I called my aunt. Fortunately she was home and not out showing a house or anything so she could talk to me in private. I explained to her my plans for the day, leaving out most of the concerns I had about her and my dad of course.

My aunt, unlike her airhead daughter (sorry Kristen, I love you but I have to be honest) was pretty bright. It wasn't just her "talents" in bed that made her a tope Realtor, she was one of the sharpest ones out there as well. She quickly picked up on where I was going and assured me that she had plenty of things to do today and she would tell my dad she was booked with showings if he asked about her. I loved my Aunt Linda, especially at times like this when she could be so wonderful and understanding.

After lunch I gathered some things and headed over to my dad's. I was surprised when he wasn't home, especially since my aunt hadn't mentioned anything about him going anywhere. He probably just went to the store or something. I just hoped it wasn't a trip to the office since it seemed once he got sucked into there, it could be the entire day before he escaped.

Making my way out onto the deck, I squinted up at the sun which was now overhead and felt warm on my face. Yep, a great day for laying out, that was for sure. As I changed into my bikini, I looked around the deck and it was a wave of nostalgia surged over me. God, how many times had I been out here and think of all the things I'd done.

There was the hot tub where our family had spent so much time as I was growing up. It was the one time that we all were nude together on a regular basis as we never wore suits, at least not that I can remember. As a child it taught me that nudity, while not something we openly flaunted, was perfectly acceptable in the right circumstances. Why should a family worry about covering up in the privacy of their own hot tub anyway? Besides, the deck had a privacy fence all around it which was really unnecessary most of the time as the deck was atop out garage, making it all but impossible to see into without a fence except for the one neighbor to the side that was uphill but they were never around. Then there were the neighbors behind us but they would have needed a telescope to see anything.

Wow, how many boyfriends had I shocked by inviting them into the hot tub and then stripping off my bikini for them – when my parents were inside and supposedly had no idea what was going on? How many of them had I eventually sucked or even fucked, despite their trepidations about being caught. Of course I knew my parents would never embarrass me that way by barging in unannounced but the boys certainly didn't know that!

It wasn't just boys that I shared the hot tub with. There were the slumber parties, the birthday parties and just getting together with friends. Some of my friends were too embarrassed to strip down in front of the other girls but for the most part, they usually did sooner or later. Except for those times when it was just a close friend or two, we didn't do anything sexual with each other besides teasing and such, but there had been those times when we would masturbate together, no different than we did when we gathered together in someone's bedroom or even a cabin at church camp.

Perhaps my fondest memory of the hot tub was a time when I wasn't even in it – or on the deck even for that matter. I was just sixteen, returning home earlier than planned from a party, and in the dark of my room I was able to down to the deck where my dad was fucking my mom. Although I'd seen them both nude, we'd all masturbated in front of one another, and they knew I'd been having sex for two years already, they still never made love in front of me until now – and this time only because they didn't know that I was watching. Indeed, had I not stumbled upon them I may have never realized what I was missing with my parents. Everything I'd done with my mom and dad since then was really due to seeing them that night making love like I'd never seen two people do it before.

Of course, once I got started with my dad, the deck became a lot busier as it was one of his favorite places to fuck me. It was even the site for the first time I had sex with my cousin – and watched my dad fuck her as well. The deck was where my mom first had sex with her nephew (after I had him there first). Indeed, if there was one room or location in the house with the most "first" associated with it, it was the deck.

I'd brought my smallest bikini, the one that my dad referred to as "Kelly's slut bikini". Indeed, it was hard to even classify it as clothing. The whole thing could ball up in my hand and was really nothing more than a few strings with triangular patches of cloth to cover my nipples and pussy. Had I not been completely shaved, no amount of trimming would have kept anything from showing. The so-called top was more like a pair of pasties tied together with strings around my neck and back. It was not one that I would have dared to wear anywhere public, no matter how liberal the people who were there. For all practical purposes I was naked. Still, it left me with small tan marks which I prefer.

An all-over tan sends a message - this girl tans in the nude which means she flaunts her nudity to everyone and anyone. Not exactly a turn-in for any guy with emotional or possessive feelings. The small tans marks tells people that while I may not wear much, I DO cover up the essentials in front of most people meaning that whoever is seeing the tan marks is seeing parts of me most people don't - something that seems to run on guys more than full nudity.

I positioned the chaise lounge so the sun would shine up from behind me to get those hard to tan places like between my upper thighs as I spread my legs wide. The sun felt so warm and good on my exposed skin. By this time of summer I had a pretty good tan so I didn't need much sunscreen, just enough to keep the cancer away as they say. I dangled my feet off the edges of the lounge chair, my crotch exposed unabashedly but there was nobody there to see me anyway so what did it matter?

The temptation to masturbate, always in the back of my mind in any case and especially now given where I was and how I was dressed, was beginning to grow in me. I had no idea when my dad would be back, though, and I wanted to surprise him just as I was, not overdoing things like having my hand between my legs with a finger up my slit or anything like that. Besides, if things went as I hoped later today, I would be having plenty of opportunities to masturbate... and more.

I must have dozed off or something because suddenly I felt something cool pressing against my back. I opened my eyes to see my dad leaning over me. With the sun having been beating down on me, his hand actually felt cool as he rubbed me slowly along my shoulders.

"Well, this is a surprise," he chuckled, "Can't say I was expecting to see you out here. Good thing I looked out the window, I guess I didn't notice your car on the street."

"Hi Daddy!" I greeted him with a grin and a hug like I was a little schoolgirl again.

Indeed, I think no matter how old I am I will always consider myself my daddy's little girl - and he the same for me I think.

"Like my bikini?"

My dad smiled and just shook his head and grinned saying, "What's the matter... couldn't find one with any LESS material?"

"Oh daddy!" I teased him, moving my shoulders back and forth to wiggle my boobs for him.

"So to what do I owe this honor?" he asked, pulling up a chair next to me and taking a seat.

"Why? Can't a girl just want to stop by her dad's house without having an ulterior motives?" I asked, pretending to be hurt.

"Any other girl... sure, but you're not just any other girl," he responded, the smile never leaving his face.

"Well, how about I wanted to suck my dad's dick?"

This time my dad's grin grew even broader as she laughed and replied, "Now THAT I would believe!"

We both laughed and then there was as silence for moment as we just grinned at each other. Finally I couldn't take it anymore.

"Soooooo, are you gonna pull it out for me or do I have to do all the work?"

It was like old times again. Gosh, when was the last time I'd been so direct with him? How had we allowed ourselves to drift apart so far? He'd always loved it when I was direct with him and pretended it was all because of me that we fucked, even when he knew it was because of HIM that we actually did. He loved to call me his "little slut" and the dirtier I talked to him, the more up- front I was about sex, the more he seemed to like it.

"Alright, alright, hold your horses!" he came back, standing up to make it easier to undo his pants.

Meantime I twisted around so I was sitting on the edge of the lounge chair. It was lower than the chair he'd been sitting on and I knew from past experience it put me at just the perfect height relative to his waist, It was only a few seconds before my mouth until my face was plastered up tight against his dense pubic hair. He smelled so musky, so manly, so sexy. I could actually feel his dick as it grew in my mouth, becoming longer and thicker with each passing second. My heart was ready to burst as I knew it was ME that was causing this reaction.

What made it all the better was it was his natural reaction to me, nothing made up or exaggerated. He couldn't fake what was happening to him. It was only his desire for me, his lust for me, that could cause his dick to grow bigger and bigger as I sucked on it with my mouth. A man can SAY a lot of things but his dick never lies.

"God that feel so good Kelly," he groaned as I worked on his cock.

I loved it when he talked to me while I was blowing him. It made me feel good inside not only as his daughter, but as a woman to hear him express his deepest feelings and how he felt physically while I was sucking his cock. When your own father sees you as a sexual and desirable woman, what does that tell you?

I used one hand to grip his dick by the base to steady it as I worked on him with my lips and tongue. With the other hand I carefully cupped his hairy balls, rolling them gently like giant dice between my fingers. He had his hands on top of my head now, pulling me tighter and tighter into his crotch as his hips began to thrust automatically in sync with me.

"Lay back, I need to fuck you so damn bad right now," he gasped after I sucked especially hard on the head of his dick.

He certainly didn't have to ask me twice; indeed, it was music to my ears. I allowed his now fully erect dick flop from my mouth with an exaggerated sucking sound. I started to lay back but hesitated as I was unsure of how he planned to fuck me. I knew he loved the good-old missionary position but I wasn't sure the cheap chair would support us both, especially if he started to pound me with any gusto.

"Lay on your side facing me... that's it.. lift your leg...," he instructed me.

He had put the cushion from the chair on the deck and was kneeling on it, lining his dick up with my pussy as he scooted up closer. It was a little awkward but he was "motivated" as I like to say. Helping to hold my upper leg up and over his shoulder, he pressed into me and I felt the tip of his dick as it lined up with my pussy hole.

"Fuck me daddy... I want to feel your dick in my cunt... fuck me!" I encouraged him.

"That's it, right there!" I told him as I felt the tip of his dick begin to press into my wet pussy hole.

"Oh daddy! Fuck me!" I cried out as he pushed his incestuous dick into my welcoming pussy without another word.

We were right out in the middle of the deck, the warm summer sun shining down on us as my dad began to fuck me. I only wished my mother could be here to watch, to see her husband and watch his dick disappear inside her daughter. I looked down and all I could see was his heavy growth of curly stiff hair as it tickled my bare pussy. His dick was all the way in me now and I could just make out the base of it as the rest disappeared into my pussy.

"Feels so good... feels so good," he just repeated softly over and over as he started to stroke himself in and out of me slowly.

I loved looking down and seeing my dad's dick sliding in and out of me, his wet shaft sparkling in the sunlight like a diamond with that coating of pussy juices that I was giving him.

Then I looked up and saw his face. He had his eyes closed, his mouth barely open as he breathed heavily while he rhythmically fucked me. His neck was bent back slightly so the sun was directly on his face, small rivulets of sweat starting to form on his brow and neck. He seemed so happy, so content. It was obvious he was doing something that was satisfying him totally, just as I had hoped it would.

It made me feel so good, like my heart was ready to burst with joy at seeing the pleasure I was able to give to him. I loved the way it felt to have him moving in me, to feel his strong grip on my thigh as he kept my leg up high to let him more easily push his crotch into mine. Most of all I just loved being his, whatever it was he wanted of me. It made me feel so secure, so completely free as for these few moments I had nothing in the world to worry about, nothing to care or think about except what my father was doing to me. It was all about what HE wanted, not what I wanted. It was all about pleasing HIM, not me. I didn't have to make any decision, any choices, my father was in total control. All I had to do was lay back and enjoy it, to be my father's loving daughter in every way I could.

"Lean over the tub baby," he instructed me as he pulled out and my leg drop back down again finally.

I knew what he wanted as after all, this wasn't our first time by any means. Actually, I doubt there was much he could do to me now we hadn't done at least once before!

"Here it comes baby... all for my girl!" he exclaimed as I felt his hands grip my hips so hard I thought he would bruise them.

His crotch slammed into my bare ass as he lunged forward as his dick spewed the first of his incestuous loads of sperm into me.

"All for you baby... all for you!"

Tell me what could be more thrilling for a girl than to feel her own father releasing himself inside of her? What could possibly bring a father and daughter closer together than for him to mate her, shooting his sperm deep in her pussy? What could ever make me feel better than to feel my own father cumming me, the man I have loved and trusted all my life? What could please me more than to know his true desires for me, his sexual lust for me, was so great that he achieved an orgasm while having sex with me?

What indeed!

3. Watching TV

After my dad had fucked me he'd gone back in the house to clean up while I managed to catch a few more rays before coming in myself. He asked me to order out a pizza so thankfully I didn't have to worry about fixing any dinner. If only I could live on cum along - I hate cooking!

I'd gone upstairs and "borrowed" one of his dress shirts from his closet to wear around the house. It was pure white and still fairly new so it was a little stiff yet. I rolled up the sleeves as they hung down way past my fingertips otherwise and buttoned the lower half of the shirt to keep it in place. I might not have bothered with buttoning any of them but the pizza guy was going to be here soon and I couldn't very well answer the door half naked. Granted, there WERE some interesting possibilities in that scenario and had the circumstances been different then who knows what I might've done. Tonight, though, was for my dad so the pizza guy would just have to be happy with an old-fashioned tip - money.

Sure enough, the doorbell soon rang and since my dad was in the basement watching TV I answered it and to my surprise, the pizza GUY was a pizza GIRL! She looked to be maybe in her later teens or so, quite stunning actually. I imagined she got quite the tips. We both looked at each other and I wasn't sure who was more surprised than the other. She was wearing a shirt much too tight for her but which showed off her bust to the max while I was standing there in nothing but a half-buttoned man's shirt. For a moment we both just stared at the other in an awkward silence until we each broke out laughing together.

"You're not quite who I was expecting," I giggled.

"Well, I can SEE that but then, you're not quite who I was expecting either," she retorted

"I can see THAT too," I replied, purposely looking at her boobs which were obviously NOT being restricted by a bra.

"Still... you never know who you might meet sometimes in this job," she said coyly.

I had a pretty good idea what she was hinting at and any other time I might have explored the possibilities a little more. Reluctantly, I handed her the money and said to keep the change. She looked a little disappointed but I had a feeling she would be getting plenty of "tips" before her shift was over. I took the pizza down and my dad looked at me appreciatively, my bare legs showing out the bottom of his shirt.

"You know, I've worn that shirt like once," he teased me, pretending to be stern.

"But don't you think I look better in it daddy?" I teased back, unbuttoning it completely and allowing it to hang open just enough to give him a few glimpses of what was underneath.

"Hell, I'd buy a dozen more if they all came looking like that!" he joked some more.

I'd been wearing his shirts since I was a little teenage and he had been teasing me about them for just as long. Usually they made their way back into the laundry but there were a few times I hung on to them and took them home to wear around my apartment. They were baggy and comfortable, perfect to wear when you're home alone.

I'd brought some paper plates and napkins as well and so we sat down to enjoy the pizza. "Hey, did you know your pizza route has a girl on it now?" I asked him, winking at him at the same time, "She's pretty hot too, and a slut if I ever saw one."

"Guess I'll have to order out more often," he said thoughtfully, then added, "Although it would be just my luck I get the two hundred pound football player."

We both laughed and went back to eating the pizza. I only had one piece - too much junk food already this summer and I had noticed a few things getting a bit tighter lately - and not in a good way.

When we were through, my dad pulled out a DVD and grinned as he showed me the cover. I couldn't help but smile - it was a StarGate movie with Samantha Carter on the cover. His ongoing fascination with Amanda Tapping has always amused me. It's not like she is the hottest or sexiest girl on TV, not by a long shot. Yet there was something about her that got him harder faster than even his favorite porn movie star - Ginger Lynn. I can't even begin to count how many times I'd seen him masturbate while we watched a show when she would be on the screen.

He took his usual seat in his chair while I picked my favorite spot on the couch across the room for him. I can't say I'm all that fascinated with the show, but it was sort of cute to see my dad acting like a teenage boy with a crush. Whenever Carter was on the screen, it was like his eyes were glued to the TV and his hand just automatically went to his crotch. He was wearing some loose boxer shorts so it was easy for him to just pull up on one of the legs and let his cock dangle out so he could stroke himself while he watched her.

It was like old times again with one big exception, the empty chair in the room. Still, I like to think that my mom would've approved of all this. For a long time after she was gone my dad would just sit in the room and watch TV, not saying much or jerking off, even when there was something on the screen I knew had to be a turn-on for him. Thus it was nice to see him able to let loose and feel comfortable masturbating in front of me again.

Actually, it wasn't like he was masturbating in front of me so much as he was masturbating and I just happened to be in the room. I never felt at any time growing up that my dad was ever doing anything just for me to see or in any way to try and turn me on. To be honest, I can't say seeing my dad jerk off IS a turn-on for me per se. It's not like I got off seeing his hand on his cock or him cumming all over himself. For me it's always been about knowing he was feeling good, that he was comfortable enough with me around to still do the things he felt he needed to do. As such I always made sure not to interrupt him or bother him when he was "busy". I don't mean I turned away and pretended nothing was happening. It was more like I just didn't make it a big deal one way or the other.

The same "rules" applied to me as I got older and started masturbating. My parents never pushed me to do it but my mom was there to help me once I started, offering some advice and even her collection of dildos - which I politely turned down (at least most of the time). Once I got started they made sure not to do anything that might embarrass me or make me feel ashamed to do it whenever I felt the need.

anyway. Maybe I might turn bit more in his direction or spread my legs a bit further apart when he was watching, but otherwise I was doing nothing different than I would if I had been alone. I felt myself shudder a little as my clit got harder and I felt my pussy getting even wetter as I recalled the time I'd masturbated myself when I had a boyfriend with me. I did it such that it seemed that I was hiding it from my parents and only he could see me doing it but he was still shocked, to say the least.

Well, he wasn't TOO shocked judging from the erection that he quickly grew and it wasn't long before he was fucking me in my bedroom. I'd be willing to be that to this day he still jerks off remembering that night with me!

God it felt so good to touch my pussy! I could feel myself about to cum and I focused more on myself now instead of all the nostalgia. My pussy was so hot and wet, it felt SO good to run my fingers over my slick and hard clit. I flattened my hand out and rubbed myself harder and faster, my heart beating faster and my breathing becoming labored as I drove myself closer and closer to my goal.

Nothing in the world felt so good as when I came and I wanted to feel that incredible sensation again. Then it finally came, filling me with the passion and pleasure I had been craving. My back arched as my hips pushed up against my hand, my pussy hushing now as I kept rubbing myself even faster now that I was cumming. It was like pouring gasoline on a fire as I exploded. It was like I was on fire yet it felt wonderful. It made me tingle all over but it was the place between my legs that it all seemed to originate. If only this could last forever, to stay like this, not a thought about anything but the pleasure I felt, not a care about anything but keeping myself on the knife edge between ecstasy and insanity.

After I'd calmed down enough to think clearly - or at least more clearly, I turned to look at my dad and saw he had turned off the movie and was focused just on me. Now THAT alone was quite a compliment as for my dad to turn off Amanda Tapping in favor of watching me masturbate was quite a statement.

I knew then that it was time to stop being so selfish and do what I should do, what any daughter should do in this sort of situation. My father wanted me and as his daughter, what choice did I have but to submit to his needs? After all, it's not like I didn't enjoy it too!

4. Satisfying My Dad

After giving myself a few more minutes to let the throbbing between my legs subside a bit more, I stood up, being careful to hold onto the arm of the couch as my legs felt a little wobbly still. The shirt I was wearing hung open, hiding virtually nothing from my dad's view as I slowly approached him. I saw his hand was gripping his cock firmly. He wasn't stroking it for the moment as his attention seemed totally fixed on me.

For a brief moment my mind went back to eight years earlier, when I had stood before my dad in a somewhat similar situation. God I was so nervous! Back then I wasn't sure he really wanted me in a sexual way. I'd been teasing him and flirting with him for weeks after seeing him and my mom making love in the hot tub and I knew he watched me more than I had realized before, but did that mean he wanted to have sex with me?

My dad looked at a lot of pretty girls and I knew he masturbated looking at their photos and movies but that didn't mean he would actually fuck them, even if he had the opportunity. I had just finished masturbating in front of him and had been standing near him very much the same as I was now, not quite as exposed but leaving little to the imagination. Seeing his lust for me now, knowing he was waiting for me to say the words he longed to hear, seemed so natural now but back when I was just sixteen, I was almost paralyzed with fear that he might reject my offer, that he would turn me away for whatever reason.

Back then I had just told my dad I was going to my room with the hope he would realize what I was implying and follow me. Thankfully he did, and the rest was history as they say. I often wonder what I would have done if he had not appeared in my bedroom door that night. Tonight, though, after eight years of the most wonderful incestual relationship I could imagine, I had no such doubts or worries. I knew that all I had to do was turn and go to my room and he would be right behind me. Still, there was more to it than just the sex. I knew my dad loved it when I offered myself to him, when I told him what I wanted from him, when I asked him to take me as his. For some reason it just seemed to make him feel better in some way for his actions to be in response to my offer, even though he knew he could have me anytime he wanted without a word from me.

"I'm going to my room, daddy," I purred as I looked at his stiff dick and licked my lips in a show of anticipation, "I was hoping you might come up with me and fuck me again."

My dad smiled as I gave him the offer he wanted. He shifted in his chair, his hand still clenching his dick as he asked, "Are you sure? Is this really what you want?"

Such a silly question but it was like a little routine we always did. I leaned over him in his chair and kissed me, my hand reaching down and ripping the upper half of his cock and squeezing it gently. "I'm yours daddy... you can have me anyway you want... I'm you're little girl and I want my daddy to fuck me."

Perhaps if I had said those words eight years before I wouldn't have worried so much when I went up the two flights of stairs to my bedroom. Seeing the look in his eyes, the surge in his cock as I touched him, left no doubt what his intentions were. I'm sure that same look was there back then as well, I just didn't recognize it as it was my own father. Funny how that works out - now I recognized BECAUSE he was my father!

With another kiss I stood up and turned away without another word. I went up the stairs without looking back, confident that he would soon be following me. My heart was racing with anticipation. No matter how many times I'd done this, it always gave me a little thrill to know my own father was about to fuck me again. Heck, if anything as horny as he was now there was likely no way he would NOT fuck me.

There comes a time with many men when their lust and needs so overwhelm them that I know that there is no going back, no stopping them. They are going to fuck me and there is nothing I can do about it - assuming I even would think of not wanting it. It's an incredible feeling to realize that for these few moments you are completely out of control of your destiny, that this man you are with no longer sees you as a person, as a girlfriend, or even as a daughter. It usually doesn't last long but at a time like this you're something he wants to fuck and nothing is going to stop him.

With my dad, this moment normally occurred as he was close to fucking me but I could see that tonight he was extra horny. Maybe the unexpected events of this afternoon had started it and then seeing Amanda and then me masturbating had driven him over the edge. Whatever it was, when I left him behind I could see that look and knew he was going to fuck me, as if I had any doubt he would anyway.

Once in my room I dropped the shirt to the floor and kicked it to the side, leaving me nude as I jumped on top of my old bed. God, how many times had I shared my passion for it. She did it make my dad happy but I didn't get the feeling she did it for herself in the same I did it for myself.

On the other hand, my dad seemed to prefer to eat her pussy more than mine. Maybe he had a thing for furry pussy, maybe it was just a husband-wife thing. Whatever the reason, while I knew he ate my mom out almost every time they made love, he only rarely ate my pussy. It wasn't something we ever discussed and to be honest, unless a girl is licking me I can take it or leave it. I LOVE a girl to lick my pussy but guys just never seem to be able to do it the same way another girl can.

My dad approached me and as he got in bed beside me, I realized tonight was going to be one of those rare evenings when we would cuddle and touch before actually fucking. Knowing how horny he was, it sort of surprised me. Personally, seeing the look on his face when I left him in the basement I was fully expecting him to fuck me from the start with little to no foreplay whatsoever. Oh well, it just goes to show you can never totally predict what a man will do.

I turned to face my dad and he put his string arms around me, pulled me towards him until my boobs were pressed against his hairy chest. We kissed as he ran his hands over me, caressing me and lightly running the tips of his fingers all over my naked body. I loved it especially when he would start at the base of my neck and trace the backs of his fingertips all the way down my back along my spine, over my butt and down the backs of my thighs. His other hand was playing with my hair, another thing that I loved to have someone do. For me, a perfect evening is to lay on a couch with my head in a guy's lap, gently sucking his cock as we watch a movie while he plays with my hair.

As he caressed my legs he reached between them, lifting the topmost leg up to allow his own leg to press in between them. It felt so good to feel the pressure of his leg against my crotch, even more so as he moved it just enough to rub up against me. I could feel his hard dick pressing against my stomach, the pubic hair that surrounded it tickling me slightly. I reached in between us and held it in my hand, not stroking it or doing anything but holding it and enjoying the feel of its warmth in my hand.

After a bit more of this he pushed me gently onto my back and started to kiss me all over, starting with the back of my ear, down my neck and to my boobs where he sucked on one and then the other. A soft moan escaped from me as he took my nipples in his mouth, first just running his tongue on each one, then gripping them with his lips and finally tugging on them while carefully grabbing them with his teeth. As he sucked on my nipples, his hand was massaging my boobs, squeezing them and pressing them together. It felt incredible, what more can I say?

As my dad continued to suck on my breasts, his hand started to move down my belly until it was between my legs which were parted just enough to give him the access I wanted. At first he just cupped my crotch with his palm, pressing against it and pulling upward on it. Then his middle finger started pressing inward, pushing its way between my wet pussy lips and into my pussy hole.

"Oh daddy, that feel so good," I gasped, my first words since he started kissing my boobs.

He didn't respond, at least verbally, letting his lips and hands do the talking for him. He pulled his finger out of my pussy, running it up between my lips until he touched my clit. Oh my God, I thought I was going to cum right then and there! It was still pretty sensitive from my early masturbating and just the touch of his wet fingertip was enough to get me going again. He keep touching me, running up and down my pussy, toying with my clit, sometimes pushing it back into me again. Damn it felt so good!

Keeping his hand on my pussy, my dad started to work his way down to my pussy, licking my belly and kissing me all over on the way. He gently pressed my legs further apart and lowered his head down between them. I moaned again as I felt his tongue on my clit, feeling so warm and soft against it, teasing it terribly. He was laying alongside me, his legs up towards my head as he kept his head between my thighs. His dick poked me in the side of my head and so I turned to take it into my mouth. Feeling me sucking him, he pulled me more to my side, my upper leg now over his head as he pushed his hairy crotch into my face, driving his hard dick deeper into my mouth. It had been a long time since we had 69'd this way and I loved the closeness it created between us.

Usually the few times my dad DOES lick my pussy, it's for a few minutes and then that's it. Whether it was because I was sucking his dick at the same time or he was just extra horny or whatever, tonight he kept licking me and licking me. Eventually the inevitable arrived.

"Oh daddy, you're making me cum!" I cried to him softly as best I could with his dick just inside my mouth.

Indeed he was. I tried to keep his dick in my mouth as his tongue drove me crazy but finally I had to let it out just to breath as my orgasm consumed me. I could only imagine how wet his face must be now as I gushed and came harder. Once the peak had passed and it became this insistent sensation, I tried to return to sucking his dick but then he would tug on my clit or push a finger into my pussy and it was like stoking the fire inside of me yet again.

"Fuck me now daddy, fuck me now!" I begged him, wanting him in me while my pussy was still feeling this way.

"Oh baby, I want to fuck you so bad right now," he whispered to me, his voice hoarse with passion and lust.

I just laid there as he got on top of me and his dick easily slipped inside of me. God, I was cumming again now as his dick filled my pussy and I felt him stroking himself in and out of me.

"Fuck me harder daddy... fuck me harder!" I pleaded, my voice this high-pitched whine as I fought to control myself enough to even speak to him.

As much as he had been masturbating earlier and now with what he'd been doing in my bed, he didn't last very long once he started fucking me and soon I could feel his pressing himself up tight against me, straining to hold himself back as if wanting to savor this moment for as long as possible.

"Cum in me daddy, I want you to cum inside of me, I want you to fill me with your love," I encouraged him.

The vast majority of the time he did anyway so it really wasn't necessary to ask but just as I knew he loved me to ask him to fuck me, I knew he loved it just as much to have me beg for him to cum inside of me.

"Oh yeah, I'm cumming baby... your daddy's cumming in you!"

He held himself still in me as he came, one squirt after another. This was when I felt closest to my father, when he was cumming in me, sharing himself with me in the most intimate manner possible. For him to cum in me was the fulfillment of everything I wanted for him.

Once he had cum in me he put his arms around me and then we rolled over, almost falling off the bed in the process but somehow managing to switch position without him slipping out of me. I laid myself down against his chest, feeling his dick throbbing in me as we just laid there silently with nothing but the sound of our labored breathing.

"Daddy, I love it when you cum in me," I whispered to him with my head resting on his chest.

My father's spent dick was still in me but I could feel it slipping out as he shrank after cumming. So long as I didn't move it would stay in me a little and so I just laid there for as long as possible, trying to burn the memory of this moment into my brain forever.

He must have been exhausted as a couple of minutes later I heard him start to snore. His dick was barely in me now so I gently lifted myself off of him and went to the bathroom to clean myself up a little. When I returned, he hadn't moved a muscle so I just climbed in with him and laid to the side, my arm and leg draped over him.

I felt so happy, so content, so fulfilled... so full of cum - my daddy's cum at that! It had been a wonderful day and I was so happy that I had decided to stop over. Never again would I let so much time go between being with my dad like this. He obviously missed it and I would do anything to make him happy!

5. The Morning After

I woke up Sunday morning feeling totally disoriented. For some reason I couldn't figure out where I was. I should be in my bedroom in my apartment yet something was different. Then I realized I had this strange sensation between my legs and my mind quickly cleared as I realized what it was - my dad's dick was back in me!

Evidently I had slept the night through quite soundly as I didn't remember waking once and then when my dad woke he must have found me still sacked out. Well, if you were a horny guy and you woke up with a naked girl next to in bed, and that girl just happened to be your daughter, what would you do? The answer is pretty obvious and it wasn't like my dad hadn't done this sort of thing before.

When I was living at home he would come into my room ach morning before work. Sometimes if I was sleeping he would just masturbate and I would wake up with the results on my face or boobs. If he had time and I was sleeping soundly enough, he would sometimes try to fuck me and see how far he could get without waking me. Now with a guy, I can suck him while he's sleeping and get him to the point of cumming without waking him if he's tired enough. But so far as I go, no matter how tired I am, the sensation of a dick pushing into my pussy will wake me every time. Sometimes I would even fake being asleep and let him think he was getting away with it.

Qs for this morning, I must have REALLY been tired because he had managed to get his whole dick in me before I realized what was happening. He was just holding it me, not stroking it or anything, but still, to get it that far in me without waking me was unusual, to say the least.

"Oh daddy, I love to wake up with you in me," I sighed softly, letting him know I was awake now and knew what was going on.

"You looked so beautiful this morning I couldn't resist," he replied almost apologetically.

Then he started to fuck me, stroking in and out as he no longer had to try to disguise his actions.

I couldn't see him as he was behind me as I lay on my side, his dick deep in me with his arm reaching around so he could grip my boobs. I was awake but that's about all I can say as I just laid there, letting him do all the work.

It was times like this when I truly submitted to my father. Personally, I would have been just as satisfied to masturbate but still, as his daughter I felt happy to give myself to him in this way. Dad was certainly enjoying it, grunting as he shoved himself deep up inside of me and then pulling almost all the way out before pushing it back in me again.

"Oh yeah, your pussy feel so damn good," he groaned as he came in me.

It certainly hadn't taken him long but then, whenever he fucked me first thing in the morning it seemed to take him less time to get himself off than at other times of the day.

After he had cum, he pulled out and went to the bathroom to get ready for church. I was shocked to see we only had a half hour before the service. Damn, we both must have slept pretty good last night! Fortunately I had left some clothes in my closet so I found a cute sundress to wear. It was short but not THAT short. Given the events this morning and last night I felt sort of obligated NOT to wear panties to church. My daddy always loved it anyway when I went to church without anything on under my dress and I had a feeling today he would be especially happy.

I didn't have enough time to shower and do my hair so a heavy dose of perfume would have to do when it came to covering up the scent of sex that I knew must cover me now. I tried to brush my hair out as best I could and with a little makeup was able to hide some of the flushness after being just fucked.

As usual, we met my cousin Kristen and her mom at church. Evidently her weekend party had finished up earlier than she had told me. I sat next to Kristen and as we waited for the service to start she turned to me and whispered, "Well, how did it go?"

I looked at her as if I didn't know what she was talking about but she knew better.

"C'mon, my mom said you practically demanded she stay away last night... and sheesh, don't you think you should have showered this morning? Did you guys just do it or what?"

The church was pretty empty with everyone on vacation this time of year and I looked around and saw nobody was in our pew or watching so I quickly pulled up my dress and showed her my bare crotch. Kristen just rolled her eyes and did the same, demonstrating she was bare underneath too.

"Soooooo, did you think you were special because you didn't wear panties to church," she teased me.

Her mom shushed us and wagged her finger at both of us, warning us to behave in church. Yeah, like SHE never played around. My dad seemed to be more amused although I knew as much as it turned him on, he also worried at times that people might see me do something that would raise questions so typically I behaved myself - in the sanctuary at least. Still, I felt pretty horny this morning and as I looked at my dad, I decided the weekend wasn't over yet.

It had been a great evening with my dad, followed by a wonderful morning. What would this afternoon bring?

Only one way to find out...

Postscript

When I originally wrote this I decided to stop there as the rest of the day, while fun, wasn't all that much different to write about. I'm still not going to go on about it, I just felt I needed to say something rather than just leaving it hanging like I originally did.

(Aug 08) Chapter 195: State Park Tent Sex

Story codes: FF MF Fm MMF exhib oral F-solo inc father daughter

Me (24)
John - my dad (44)
Kristen - cousin (22)
Darren (19)
Kyle (18)
Drew - Kyle's brother (15)

All summer I'd been wanting to go to our favorite State Park where we water-ski but its seems there was always one thing or another in the way. When we finally got to go, it turned out that getting was half the fun, not to mention what happened when my cousin and I made a few new friends.

1. Boating History

I'd been trying to get out waterskiing all summer but with little success. In fact, if it hadn't been for a brief lucky break while out in California, I wouldn't have been up on a ski yet this year! Even that time I'd only gotten to go out once but then there were more interesting things to enjoy, to say the least. It seemed each time we planned to go out for the weekend, either the weather sucked, my dad had to work or my Aunt Linda had some big open house to deal with.

Finally it looked like the stars had aligned. The weather forecast for Saturday was sort of iffy but Sunday promised to be a great day, maybe a little windy but I could live with that. Besides, even if we were stuck on shore, I was sure we would find plenty to keep ourselves busy.

As a general rule, when it comes to sports I generally can be classified as a complete klutz. Anything involving striking a moving object with another object - be it tennis, softball, or even badminton, has always seemed to be simply beyond my abilities. In fact, I can vividly remember coming home and crying on my mother's shoulders one day when my jerk of a PE teacher declared in front of the entire class that I was the worst tennis player he'd ever seen!

Yet for all my failures in virtually anything athletic, there is one thing I CAN do better than most people - water-ski. Maybe it's because my parents had me out on the water almost as soon as I could walk, but whatever the reason I LOVE to water-ski, with emphasis on WATER. For some reason my water-borne skills don't translated to snow, but that's another story...

So in these days where most people just use tubes and water-boards, I love to get up on my slalom ski and show off as I throw out a giant rooster tale in front of a bunch of hot guys on another boat or even on shore. It also doesn't hurt that it's a sport where I can get away with wearing next to nothing (or even nothing in the just the right situations).

As long as I can remember, my parents always had a boat, usually upgrading to a newer one every couple of years. The current one has an inboard motor which I I love because it is so quiet and it makes it easy to look back when someone is skiing. It also has a cut-out bow so we can sit up front of the driver and lay back, letting everyone see us as we drive by. Before you say anything about wanting to show-off, what is the point in spending all that money on a revealing bikini, on your tan all summer, if nobody gets to see you wearing it?

Another nice thing about our boat it that is makes skiing a lot easier too as it is so powerful that it's like you're up and on top of the water before you even have time to think about it. I can remember back when I was younger and even when I was pretty little I was still dragged through the water like a log for what seemed like ages before I finally was able to get up!

The rest of our family all enjoys skiing as well. In past years my Aunt Linda and cousin Kristen would often come along with us as the boat easily held the five of us. This summer we were only a foursome which was rather sobering, but it had been almost nine months now since my mom's accident and those moments when it got hard to accept were getting fewer and farther between. Still, it was surely going to be a little awkward at first, even if nobody liked to mention it openly.

While some people skied in the river around Pittsburgh, my dad never was much of a fan of river water so typically we would drive to a state park and use one the lakes. Our favorite over the years was actually down in West Virginia, a couple of hours south at the Tygart Lake State Park. Like most lakes around us, it was created by a dam at one end and my dad once had tried to explain to me that it had something to do with water storage for flood control or something but all I cared about was it was great for skiing.

Typically we would spend at least one night, sometimes two depending on what my parents' work schedules were. I'd tried a few times in the past to get my dad to let me take the boat down alone with Kristen. I was sure we wouldn't have any problems finding some guys to help us but my dad was pretty adamantly against it from the start. Thus I had to wait until he was available AND the weather cooperated before we could get on the water - a tough combination to satisfy some years, especially this one it seemed.

2. On the Road With Cousin Kristen

As I mentioned before, it was a couple of hours or so to get from our house to the park. For some people, such a trip might be boring but one thing about traveling with Kristen - it's never dull. First, we both love to masturbate - but for different reasons. Personally, I mostly do it simply because I just love how it makes me feel so you could say I do it primarily for my own personal pleasure. Of course there are times when I like to masturbate in front of a guy to turn him on, but that's something entirely different. Kristen also loves to masturbate but really, what normal girl doesn't? The difference between us is she loves doing it more to show off and as a means to tease and flirt with guys.

Another difference between Kristen and me is that when we travel, we differ in how we like to flirt with other drivers and people we meet at places like rest areas and such. OK, so we are both unashamed flirts, but I like to tease more - give them just enough to make them think they are about to strike gold but then hold back right at the last instant. It's like wearing really short shorts which show off just enough of my ass to get a guy's attention, but not QUITE enough to let him see my pussy, no matter how much he thinks they will if he just stares long enough.

It's the same when I wear a t-shirt, tank top, cami or that sort of thing. It's fun for me to go without a bra, letting my nipples poke through and having it cut low enough (or high enough depending on which part you're talking about) to give a great view of my cleavage or the underside of my boobs, but just not quite enough to actually see my bare nipples.

Then there's Kristen, who always has to take it another notch, like she has to one-up her older cousin every time. If my shorts are short, hers are even shorter, even if it means the crotch is so thin it rides up into her pussy when she sits. If my t-shirt is tight, hers is painted on. If I cut off the bottom of my t-shirt, hers is cut enough higher. You get the picture. Plus, whereas I like to leave them wondering at least a little bit, Kristen prefers to give them a complete view whenever possible. She's the type that flips up her shirt like a Girl's Gone Wild video - without the panties. If her shorts ARE pulling up her slit, she makes sure her legs are apart enough for someone to see.

So that should give you sort of an idea of what it's like to be on the road with Kristen. If I'm playing with myself under my skirt, making it obvious to a passing trucker WHAT I'm doing but not quite letting him actually see my hand on my pussy, you can count on Kristen sliding off her shorts and baring it all. If I have my hand inside my blouse or t-shirt, Kristen has hers unbuttoned and wide open, her perky boobs on display for whoever wants to see them.

Traveling this weekend with us would be my dad and her mom of course. Now my dad had never been one to show off his dick or anything like that. Actually, I can't say I've ever been in a car where he made a conscious effort to show it off for anyone but me. He's not above letting someone see my head buried in his lap and letting them determine for themselves what I am doing, but even then it's not like anyone actually sees his dick in my mouth.

When it comes to my Aunt Linda, it's a totally different story than my dad. It must be something about younger sisters and cousins I guess. My mom had told me that Linda, who was two years younger than her (the same difference as between Kristen and me), was similar to Kristen when growing up, always trying to be a little more outrageous or sluttier than her older sister. Like mother like daughter as they say. That saying certainly holds true for Kristen and her mother.

Aunt Linda is certainly more conservative than Kristen these days, not surprising since she almost twice her daughter's age, but she still likes to have her fun. She definitely qualifies as a MILF, having kept her shape well over the years, aided by a little help from modern science and surgery, and she didn't mind showing it off. Sure, her bikinis were not as preposterously small as Kristen wore, but they were still pretty revealing when you compare them to the one-piece suits worn by most moms at the pool her age. Her shorts aren't up to her ass but they still show off some pretty nice legs.

As for my aunt's boobs, if I'd paid as much as she did for hers, I would have been show them too. What I liked about her boob job was that she didn't have implants, they're still 100% natural but the sag was taken out so now they perk up like a teenager's, almost as hot as her daughter's boobs. Actually, hers were a couple of cup size bigger than Kristen's so some guys might actually like hers better.

So as you might have guessed by now, I was looking forward to the trip to West Virginia almost as much as I was to reaching the destination (almost, mind you!). Sure enough, when I saw their car pull up and park on the street in front of our house, I had to wonder how many of the guys living around us were watching through the blinds in their homes! They were dressed quite similar, it was the degree of sluttiness that differed.

Whereas Kristen had on one of her more revealing pair of shorts (actually, I think they ALL are that way when I think about it), Linda's were a few inches down her thighs - still enough to bare most of her long legs but not making you wonder if her pussy was about to show as the ones Kristen was wearing did. Kristen was wearing a skin-tight white t-shirt with pink glittery letters that read "Naughty Girl" across her chest, her nipples already poking through. The shirt wasn't so sheer that you could actually SEE her nipples but it wasn't hiding much else.

Aunt Linda also had on a t-shirt but one that was sized properly (at least so far as a store clerk would say). I could also tell she had on her bikini top underneath - and probably had the matching bottoms on under the shorts as well, something Kristen obviously did not have on. They both were wearing sandals and again I had to wonder if some guy or two wasn't peeking out at what had to be the hottest mother-daughter pair in town.

My dad had the SUV already packed so he went to the trunk of Aunt Linda's car and got their things out to add to ours. The boat was already down at the lake and I was pretty sure that he had called someone who was suppose to have it ready for us when we got there, however that worked, so at least we didn't have to worry about towing the boat behind us. Without any further fanfare, we piled in the SUV with Aunt Linda in front, of course, and Kristen and me in back, each of us sitting behind our respective parent.

For the first part of the trip we had to navigate the winding roads and hills to out of town until we got to the interstate highway. We were all just chattering about the weather and what it was supposed to be like when we arrived. At the moment the skies looked sort of grey and it seemed it might rain at any moment but the weather web site had assured me that it would be clear by the time we got there and that tomorrow would be great.

I suppose it should have come as no surprise that Kristen would be the one that got things started. We'd been on the highway for only about ten or fifteen minutes when my dad passed a semi-trailer truck. Kristen waved to a trucker as we were passing and he honked the horn - the universal signal for "show me your tits!" Kristen promptly pulled up her T-shirt and the trucker honked again to show his appreciation.

"Already Kristen?" her mom sighed loudly from up front. I smiled at her poor attempt to pretend to be exasperated with her slutty daughter. It's not like she wasn't the one who usually egged her daughter and me on! Sure enough, she couldn't resist.

"So what's the matter with you Kelly?" she teased me, "Shy today are we?"

Well that was about the last thing I felt like today so I told my dad to let the trucker pass us. The traffic was pretty light so he was able to let off the accelerator and the truck pulled up to us but then just stayed alongside. I crawled over Kristen and looked out and sure enough, he kept glancing down at us as he tried to keep his rig on the road but look down at us as much as possible. I pulled my t-shirt up and let him see my boobs and he gave a thumbs up. Kristen, of course, couldn't let me be the center of attention so she had hers on display next to me in a heartbeat.

For the next half hour or so we teased as many truckers as we could. I started to wonder if one of them hadn't radioed the others or something because it seemed they were all ready for us as we drove by. At first, all we did was flash our boobs, nothing really all that naughty, but they seemed appreciative enough as it was.

"Shit, this is getting me so fuckin' horny," Kristen muttered after yet another guy was treated to a quick view of her bared perky boobs.

She settled back into the back seat of the SUV and quickly pulled her shorts off, sitting bare-ass on the cool leather seat with just her sandals and T-shirt on. She had quite a tan by now and I loved the way just a tiny triangle of white showed over her pussy. The sharp contrast made her tan seem even darker and formed sort of a frame around her pussy. Actually, my tan down there was shaped similar but not quite as small as hers.

"Oh yeah, this is SO much better..." she sighed as she started to play with her bald pussy.

I caught my dad peeking using the mirror, smiling as he did. It wasn't like he'd never seen Kristen playing with herself but even I was turned on at the sight of her masturbating. God she was so damn cute! I'd of given about anything to have her petite little body. Not that I was fat or even much overweight, I was just built different than her - more hips and thighs much to my chagrin. Even though I knew she was 22, she could have easily passed for 18 or even younger if she did her hair and makeup right. I suppose that's why she made so much money as a whore. Guys probably loved to fantasize that she was some underage teenager or their daughter or some other naughty fantasy like that.

More trucks were going by but with the heavily tinted windows of the SUV, unless we were right up against the glass it was all but impossible for anyone outside to see us on a sunny day like today. I was sure Kristen wouldn't have minded had anyone seen her, but at the moment she seemed more anxious to get herself off than anything else. Damn, she was REALLY horny, even more than usual.

"What's the matter Kelly, aren't you horny this morning?" my aunt teased me from up front.

Well, I couldn't let that go unchallenged so I followed suit and stripped off my shorts as well. I was already pretty wet from our little exhibitionism and watching my hot little cousin so my fingers slid easily into my pussy. Kristen glanced over at me and gave me a wicked smile before closing her eyes again to focus on her own pussy.

For the next fifteen or twenty minutes or so, the SUV was relatively quiet as the only sounds from the backseat were an occasional sigh or moan from either me or Kristen. I peeked up front a few times and saw my aunt had her hand on my dad's crotch. I couldn't really see anything more from where I was but I had a pretty good idea of what she was doing. The large console in the middle made it extremely difficult to give head while driving (not impossible though, I can attest to that!) so she seemed content to just give him a hand-job for now. Whether she was playing with herself at the same time or not I couldn't tell but knowing her, it wouldn't have surprised me at all if she was.

As I continues to masturbate, I touched my pussy and played with my clit casually, not really working to get myself off so much as to just enjoy the overall feelings it gave me. I could do this all day and indeed, there had been days when I did! Nothing makes a long drive go by more quickly than your own finger on your pussy, even if you're driving (make that, especially if you're driving). For that matter, I love to touch myself most anytime I have the chance.

Some people have other quirks, biting their nails, scratching, twiddling their thumbs, whatever their little ticks might be that they do almost without thinking. For me, I like to touch myself. I don't have to cum every time. In fact, most of the time I just play with myself like this I didn't. It just feels good to touch there and so I do whenever I think I can get away it.

Truthfully, although I would have never admitted it to Aunt Linda, I think Kristen WAS indeed a lot hornier than me at this moment. Whereas I was just foundling myself out of general principle, she was going at her pussy hard now. She was probably wishing she could get to her luggage to get one of her dildos out. I KNEW she had to have at least one or two packed away. I was actually a bit surprised she hadn't pull one out of her purse now as usually she always carried something or another with her for moments like this.

"Help me Kelly... God I need you to help me so bad," she groaned, twisting in the seat to put one leg up on it while leaving the other dangling off the edge.

She spread her knees apart and kept touching herself but I knew what she wanted. One thing I have to say about Kristen, she wasn't what you would call subtle and so when she wanted something, she wasn't afraid to ask for it - especially when it came to sex.

Kristen's shaved pussy looked incredibly cute. Like the rest of her, it looked too small and tight to have been fucked God only knows how many times. Hundreds? More? I knew she was far ahead of me when it came to the number of guys she had fucked but then she did it for a living so it really wasn't even fair to try and compare myself to her. Even back in high school, where I tended to default to a BJ with most guys who took me out, it was pretty well known that unless you were a compete ass, Kristen was a pretty sure fuck. That is, IF you could get a date with her. Needless to say, she was always in pretty high demand.

Feeling a bit hornier now, I maneuvered my way on the back seat to get my face between her soft thighs. God she smelled so strong - her pussy was soaking wet and the scent of her pussy was almost overwhelming, especially as horny as I was about that time. My face was approaching her crotch when she reached out and practically yanked my head into her pussy, pushing my mouth onto her as she lifted her hips to drive herself even harder into me. I loved the taste of my cousin's pussy as I licked her with the tip of my tongue while I put my hands under her bare butt to help keep it up off the seat to make it easier to lick her. My hands aren't all that big but her ass still felt tiny in my hands - firm and smooth like a baby.

As I licked Kristen, I was dying to have my own pussy paid attention to but in the cramped quarters it just wasn't that easy to do myself while I was working on her so I just had to be happy with eating out Kristen's pussy for now. I pushed first one, and then later a second finger into her pussy as I lapped at her pussy slit like a kitten at a bowl of milk. She was panting and gasping, her hand clutching her boobs through her tight t-shirt as she rocked her hips under me like she was imagining she was being fucked. Maybe she was! As much as she loved oral sex with girls, I knew deep down Kristen was like me in that she would take a hard dick in her anytime, even over being licked by her older cousin.

For me, I love it best when I'm the one touching myself there although I like it when a guy or girl does because I know they are getting off from the chance to fondle me. Sure oral sex is fun and I don't mind a little 69 at times with a friend. Still, for me nothing beats the feel of a dick deep in my pussy! As much as I LOVE to suck a dick, even that comes in second when it comes to being fucked.

I know this may sound strange, but as much as I loved to be fucked and to suck a dick, I don't really get off any more from doing both at the same time. I'm a one-on-one girl at heart and anytime another guy (or even a girl) is added in to the mix, it changes the entire chemistry of the relationship. Being alone with a guy is him fucking ME and thinking only of ME. Adding in another guy tends to breed competition between them and having another girls just means I have to share his dick - why would I want to have it only part of the time?

That's just me of course. I know a lot of other girls who feel differently, especially my best friend Beth who gets off more the more guys are involved. My best friend is about 180 degrees opposite from me in that she LOVES group sex and tends to shy away from anything more personal. Kristen is also more into doing groups than me although I'm pretty not sure she gets off more from being the center of attention than the actual physical nature of what she's doing. On the REALLY far edge are girls like my friend Sam, who don't even like having sex with humans, preferring her big lab to guys. Oh well, I say to each their own. Whatever gets you off is fine with me so long as it's consensual and legal.

All that said, I guess you could say that I was enjoying more Kristen's reaction to my attention to her pussy than anything else. It made me feel good just knowing I could bring this sort of pleasure to her as she was clearly enjoying it. She must have cum at least three times before my mouth and cheeks finally got so tired I just had to quit so I could rest for a while. It's odd that I can suck a dick for hours when I take my time but there's something about pushing your head between a girl's thighs and constantly reaching out with your tongue that seems to be much more tiresome than casually sucking dick. Kristen hadn't been exactly asking me to stop either as each time I even threatened to quit she would reach out and pull my head back in between her legs again.

Finally my cheeks were dying and I needed to get some air so I pulled back and pushed her hands away from me. Kristen stopped trying to keep me there and collapsed in the seat, her eyes shut tight and her chest heaving from the last of the orgasms she was having.

"Fuck I needed that SO bad," she finally sighed as I started to work on myself again, needing it even more now after she had gotten off so many times.

"Feeling better sweetie?" my Aunt Linda called back to her daughter.

I hadn't even thought about the two of them up front for the longest time and her voice jolted me back into reality. Kristen didn't answer so I leaned forward to see what was going on up front. Sure enough, my Aunt still had her hand on my dad's protruding cock. Whether she was just holding it or she stopped when I moved up, in any case she had a firm grip on it but wasn't jerking him off or anything when I leaned forward to see his crotch. As for her, I was mildly surprised she was still fully dressed. She typically was just as anxious to play with herself as her daughter was so all I could figure was that she was just waiting to get to the park before getting serious about anything. Just goes to show you never can predict people's actions all the time.

"Oh I think she's doing better now," I giggled, "Gee dad, looks like you guys are having some fun too."

My dad just waved me off with his hand, as if nothing was happening. My aunt muttered something about not having bench seats but by then I was back leaning against my own seat, playing with myself again. For the rest of the trip, that was pretty much how it went. On the one hand I wouldn't have minded it had Kristen returned the favor with me but on the other, I was enjoying the ride as it was. As I said, sometimes it's nice to just take your time and enjoy yourself more so than always being worried about having a climax.

My dad was determined to drive straight through without a stop and we reached the park in record time. It seemed weird when we turned in the opposite direction as normal after passing the guard house. We'd always stayed in the cottages in years past which were in the opposite direction we were now traveling. The cabins were my mom's thing - she liked to rough it just a little bit.

physically. Plus, if it DID start to rain, we wouldn't be that far out from the middle of nowhere where we would get too badly soaked or chilled.

After discussing our plans with my dad and aunt, my dad drove Kristen and me to the Park Office where the trail started. My Aunt Linda stayed back and I could tell from the way she was looking at my dad that she would getting herself ready for his return as soon as we were out the door. Dad said that he would pick us up in an hour or so at the other end but as horny as he was we knew we could take our time and he wouldn't mind a bit. Besides, we had our cell phones so if anything did come up, we could always call him.

Neither Kristen or I changed clothes except to replace our sandals with sneakers. The sandals would have been a pain, literally, on the trail. As for the rest of our outfits, we could have probably worn about anything as odds were we wouldn't see anyone. In past years, I'd never seen anyone heading for or leaving from any of the trails as it seemed most people came here for the lake, not the trees. Heck, if it wasn't for the fact I wanted to give my dad some time alone with Aunt Linda to start out the day, we wouldn't be out here now. Looking at the first hill w would to climb at the start of the trail, I was starting to wonder if even this was such a good idea.

My dad left in a rush, not that I blamed him. As Kristen and I were about to get started, I saw three guys approaching the trail head and so we stopped to say hello. They all looked younger than us and I noticed none of them seemed to look above our necks at first - typical teenage boys! After I told them who we were, they introduced themselves as Darren (nineteen), Kyle (eighteen) and Drew who was Kyle's fifteen year-old brother. At least that's what he claimed to be although I was guessing he was more like fourteen, or even younger.

Darren was the one that immediately caught my eye while it was no surprise to me that Kristen had her eyes undressing Drew from the start. Drew was right in the middle of the age range that she preferred - thirteen to sixteen although sometimes she would do a seventeen year-old. The way she explained it (or should I say, rationalized it) was that age boys in that range were old enough to have some idea of what they were doing - maybe even having had sex already but typically not experienced. At the same time, even if they weren't virgins the odds were they weren't not veterans so it was fun for her to "teach" them. While I can't say there wasn't some physical attraction for me as well, I make it a pretty solid rule to avoid such temptations. In this day and age it doesn't look good on your resume when applying for a teaching position to have a history of underage sex with a boy (or girl I guess for that matter).

Kristen, given her vocation, had no such concerns and so she indulged herself regularly. Although we never discussed it much, I also got the impression that her mom didn't mind it when Kristen brought home a young stud either! Something told me the boys probably liked it just as much as the mother and daughter did. I wondered if any of their friends even believed them later when they tried to claim they'd had sex with a MILF and her daughter!

Although Darren looked the sharpest so far as I was concerned, it wasn't like Kyle was a wimp either. Actually, I wouldn't mind being laid by either of them, especially as horny as I'd been today. They were both wearing shorts that came to the tops of their knees with ribbed tank tops that showed off their physiques. Mmmmmmm, these boys certainly didn't spend all day in front of a video game console, that was for sure. Later I would learn that they were wrestlers which accounted for their upper body strength and strong legs.

Drew was, well... Drew was supposedly fifteen so what could you expect? He was sort of skinny and he didn't seem to be nearly as athletic as the two older guys. He may not have LOOKED as hot, be he WAS certainly getting hot as he stared unabashedly at Kristen and me, mostly at Kristen I noticed which might have been because she was giving him the most attention as well.

I'm sure nobody would be surprised that we decided to do the trail together. The guys were staying in the campground along with their families for the weekend and were on their way back from just walking around I guess. I'm sure the road would have been easier and faster than the trail but somehow I don't think that was a major concern for them, especially given who their traveling companions would be. From the way Kristen was unabashedly sizing up Drew, I had no doubt what was on her mind. I'm sure Drew was fantasizing about her as well, just as any boy his age did about every girl stranding on two legs. Still, I would have bet the farm that he had no inkling whatsoever of just how close he was to having his dreams fulfilled!

As for Darren and Kyle, they were also staring at Kristen but they had a few looks for me as well. What can I say? Anytime I'm with Kristen it was usually the same - they guys loved the perky little "teenager" more than the "old" college graduate. Somehow I'd never anticipated that turning 24 would ever make me so old. Still, I was pretty certain that they wouldn't turn me down once they realized where Kristen's tastes lay.

Once we got on the trail it was like the rest of the world disappeared. My perceptions about the popularity of hiking seemed to be confirmed as there were no signs of anyone else, not even any trash or footprints to show that anyone had been by recently. I have to say, shorts like Kristen and I were wearing may be entertaining to wear around the house and such, but when it came to walking any significant distance their shortcomings became apparent pretty quick. Being as tight as they were in the crotch, they had this annoying tendency to pull up against me. Normally that wasn't a bad thing, such as when I was sitting down or driving as it can be quite stimulating. In this situation, though, it quickly became irritating.

Several times I noticed Kristen reaching down and pulling at hers, evidently having the same issue as me. If we'd been wearing bikini bottoms underneath, at least ones that could be worn in public, I'm sure we would've ditched the shorts after the first 100 yards or so but walking bottomless through a public park wasn't necessarily such a good idea, no matter how appealing it may seem at the moment.

As we walked we let the boys do most of the talking. It was an old trick that my dad had taught me early on about boys. I can remember him telling me that if I really wanted boys to have a conversation that they would always remember with me, just let them do all the talking! It still amazes me at times how much men will tell me when I keep my mouth closed. Actually, my dad told me he used the same technique with clients in that if he just sat at his desk quietly they would sooner or later start telling him things they maybe had no intention of saying when they started.

So before we reached the top of the first hill - taking several breaks along the way, I knew where they lived, what schools they went to, what jobs they had, and even the fact that not one of them had a steady girlfriend. There's something about boys that to prove how cool they are, they like to see how bad they can make their buddies look in comparison.

So with the three of them trying to one-up each other and show off, I soon learned that Drew was a virgin (no surprise there), Kyle had done it once with a girl at school that never saw her again afterwards, and then there was Darren who claimed to be a stud but Kyle countered by accusing him of exaggerating his "conquests" significantly. Interestingly, most of what I learned about each one didn't come from them but was offered up by one of the other two and it became a bit of contest between them as to who could spill the beans more on the other.

While they were bragging about themselves and cutting each other down - apparently thinking that somehow this would somehow impress the older girls they were with. meanwhile, Kristen and I remained quiet, grinning at each other now and then when something particularly ridiculous or embarrassing was revealed. While they were spilling their guts, so far they really knew nothing about us and in my book, in such situations that's best, at least for me. Really, what DID they need to know about my personal life? It's not like either of us was interested in becoming their girlfriends or even having anything to do with them after today. They knew our first names and that we were from the general Pittsburgh area, and that was about it. Oh, they also knew we were cousins and our ages, although they seemed surprised at Kristen's while nothing was said about mine.

Grrrrrr... So far we'd mentioned nothing about our sexual histories or experiences and if I had my way, it would stay that way. The more naive and inexperienced they thought we were, the better. Boys have such fragile egos! Being older than them, I think had they known the true extent of our past, especially Kristen's, they would've been totally intimidated.

Suddenly the trail emerged from the forest and we made our way through what appeared to be an old pasture or something. Off the trail I saw an old farmhouse and barn that looked to be abandoned. There were "No Trespassing" signs posted to keep hikers away, probably more for their own safety as the buildings looked rather dilapidated. Kristen spoke up to announce that she had to pee and told them not to look as she disappeared around the corner of the old barn. I followed her and no sooner had I turned the corner than I saw her practically ripping off her shorts, a long sigh escaping from her lips as the shorts dropped to the ground and she started to massage her crotch.

"God, it feels so damn good to get those damn things off!" she groaned, her face now an expression of genuine relief.

I looked back, half expecting an audience but surprisingly, the boys were honoring our privacy so I did the same with my shorts as Kristen had done with hers - although I didn't quite take them all the way off but rather just dropped them to my ankles. Then I also put my hand between my legs and started to rub myself. She was right - it DID feel good although I'm not so sure the hike had all that much to do with it. How were we going to make another mile or so like this?. Damn, who knew a mile and a half could be so far?

"My poor pussy is so fucking sore." Kristen grumbled, then she perked up and looked at me with a naughty grin saying, "Hey... maybe you should lick it and make it feel all better... what do you think?"

Of course she was just teasing, at least I assumed she was, and we both started to laugh but such a thought HAD already crossed my mind, except the other way around. Heck, she still owed me for the trip down here. Still, this wasn't exactly the time or place to get started with something like that now. We had three horny teenage boys waiting for us and we could do each other most any other time so why waste the opportunity?

"OK then, I got another idea!" Kristen said suddenly, an even broader grin appearing on her face.

Uh oh, NOW what was my whore of a cousin up to? She didn't reveal her idea quite yet as we both pulled our shorts back on but I noticed she left hers unbuttoned at the top with the zipper just slightly down, enough to tease but not show anything. Sort of how I would have worn them more so than her.

"What in the world are you...," I started to ask but she just shushed me and disappeared back around the corner towards the guys with me following close behind.

Back with the boys, I just stood there in amazement as my mischievous cousin came up with this story for them about how our shorts were too tight and how they were making the hike hard for us so could we please borrow their shorts to wear? I couldn't help but roll my eyes at her audacity but then, it WAS Kristen I was with so why should I be surprised? Still, how did she even know they were wearing anything under them? I guess since most boys don't run around commando it was a pretty safe assumption but even so, it wasn't like they could run around the park in public in tightie whities either.

As it turned out, Kyle and Darren had loose boxer shorts on underneath, so large they could've been worn like another pair of regular shorts. They reminded me of the kind that I know some of my girlfriends like to wear around the house or to bed.

Poor Drew, the other guys teased him as he must have had on his tight Hanes or something like that as he couldn't offer us his shorts. Kyle teased his younger brother, saying he needed to grow up and wear REAL underwear and then he wouldn't have such problems. Yeah, like they met a pair of girls every day that asked to borrow their shorts!

Without any further fanfare or discussion, Kyle and Darren gallantly dropped their shorts, standing before us in just their boxer shorts. Kyle's boxers were red plaid while Darren's were more of a dark grey. Actually, had I not known different I would have thought they were wearing regular shorts except for the fact the crotches only had a single button keeping them closed.

I licked my lips before I caught myself as I could barely make out the beginnings of their teenage dicks trying to sneak out. In fact, Kyle's actually was about to make an appearance when he felt himself escaping and shifted the waist around. Both pairs of shorts were about the same size and in any case, they were of course a lot bigger than either of us wore so it really didn't matter who took whose. I grabbed a pair from Darren while Kristen accepted Kyle's, then I started to walk back towards the barn again, expecting Kristen to follow me so we could change, but that was a silly assumption.

"Now don't look you naughty boys," Kristen told the guys as she turned away from them and suddenly dropped her shorts to her ankles, stepping out of them such that her bare ass was on display for all three boys to see who, of course, did NOT turn around right away.

We all stared at Kristen's cute butt and I could just make out the small tan line of her thong but otherwise her ass was tanned bronze and damn, it DID look incredibly inviting.

The guys stood there frozen in place, almost as if space aliens had just landed or something. Their eyes remained fixed on Kristen's bare butt as their jaws all dropped open simultaneously. Drew especially had eyes like saucers as I doubt he'd ever seen a real girl's bare ass as up close and personal as now. When Kristen deliberately bent way over to pull up Kyle's shorts, allowing her shaved pussy to become visible between her legs for just a split second and if it hadn't been such an erotic sight I would've burst out laughing seeing the new expressions on their faces. I suppose it wasn't their fault. Face it, most boys can only jerk off wishing they could see a girl doing exactly what Kristen was doing right now in front of them.

"Well, aren't you gonna put yours on Kelly?" Kristen asked, snugging up the belt which was way too large for her thin waist so she ended up tying it like it was a piece of rope.

This was an opportunity to one-up my cousin and I wasn't about to let it slip through my fingers. Instead of turning away as she had and showing off my butt - which I couldn't blame her for doing considering how hot hers looked, I just shrugged and nonchalantly dropped my shorts right in front of them, acting like it was no big deal to bare myself in front of them.

I smiled at them as they breathlessly stared at my crotch. It was tempting to start playing with myself and REALLY drive them crazy but this was good - at least for now. After allowing them a few seconds to burn the image of my pussy in their memories, I pulled up Darren's shorts slowly. This time it was Kristen's turn to try and control herself but she wasn't as good at hiding her emotions as I was and she so started to giggle a little.

"What's the matter guys, never see a girl change her shorts in front of you before?" she teased them.

Darren started to say something to recover his wounded pride while the other two just stammered and looked more embarrassed now than anything. I started to think that maybe we should have taken it more slowly, perhaps allowing them to peek at us as we changed behind the barn without us supposedly knowing. Heck, I had assumed they would! Maybe by taking it in smaller steps they might've been less embarrassed and more turned on, even though I was pretty sure they were turned on quite a bit judging by their involuntary reactions below their waists. Had they been older or more experienced they would have undoubtedly tried to make something out of the opportunity we were clearly giving them but as it was, they just turned beet red. Even Darren looked a little nonplussed, despite his claims to having "seen it" plenty of times before.

Now that we were dressed again and if anything, more covered up than before, there wasn't much else to do so we started to walk back towards the trail. As we walked I wasn't sure if the change in attire had made things any better as the boy shorts kept trying to fall down being they were so much larger than my size. Considering I was bare-assed underneath and we were starting to near civilization again, having them fall down might been a little hard to explain to the families camping in the crowded campsite. Not that it wouldn't have been fun, but a girl has to behave a LITTLE bit now and then. If I knew it was just fathers and older boys, that would have been one thing, but I wasn't about to flash little kids.

The trail ended near where the last of the cabins were. I looked at Kristen, wondering what she wanted to do now. Well, I already KNEW what she would WANT to do, the questions was more what WOULD we do? My father would be expecting a phone call from us soon and if anything, we had taken far longer to complete the trail than I had expected. Still, I doubted that he minded having a little more free time with Kristen's mom. Besides, if he was really worried he could always call us.

We looked at each other and reached an unspoken agreement to stick with the guys for a while and just see how things worked out. Thus we all headed down the narrow road towards where their families were camping.

4. Sex at the Campground

My family had never really been into camping and since the campground was further down the road from the cabins where we normally stayed. I'd never paid much attention to it before. Walking along the road, it didn't seem to be too terribly big. I think I'd read somewhere that there were around forty sites or so and most of them seemed to have tents instead of trailers. It was certainly a lot different from the RV park I'd stayed in out in California earlier this summer.

We passed a bath house which Kristen and I quickly ran into to use while the guys waited outside for us. At first I was surprised none of them need to pee but then I realized that being boys, they probably just peed anywhere they wanted back on the trail.

Once I had asked my dad why men did that as it was so disgusting to just pee everywhere. It didn't really help matters when he just grinned and answered, "Because we can." The bath house seemed pretty clean and even had hot showers.

Kristen and I took the opportunity to wash our hands and faces and it felt a little better to be fresh and clean again after sweating on the trail. Actually a shower would have been better and with Kristen it would have been fun as well but we had three boys waiting outside for us and I didn't want them to think we had lost interest in them. Still, I couldn't resist giving my cousin what was supposed to be a quick kiss but ended up being a little bit more.

"God I'm so fuckin' horny," she whispered hoarsely as I felt her hand reaching between my legs.

I reminded her about Drew and she grinned saying, "I'm gonna fuck his dick off." Funny thing, I didn't think she was joking! One more kiss and we left the bathhouse, apparently just in time as a mother and her little girls all filed in as we walked out. I grinned to myself as I wondered how mommy would have explained to her little charges what the older girls were doing!

It wasn't much further before the road ended in a circular parking area. The guys led us over to where two similar trailers were parked on adjacent sites. As it turned out, each family had their own camp trailer that the parents stayed in while the boys had a single large tent set up behind them towards the back of the site.

Nobody seemed to be around and only one truck was there so I guess their parents must have been out doing something together or whatever. When I'd mentioned earlier about our boat, the boys had seemed jealous that we had one so I didn't think they were out on the lake. Oh well, it didn't really matter I guess so long as they stayed away for a while longer. Then again, it wasn't all that long ago I'd learned that parents you meet while camping can be quite interesting... Well, odds were the boy's parents were your typical mom and pop so I needed to forego any thoughts about them being kinky or anything at all even like that.

First things first, I needed to get out of these ridiculously baggy shorts. It dawned on me that we could have easily changed in the bathhouse but I guess we were too distracted at the time by the needs of our bladders - and then being horny to think rationally. Somehow the campers seemed off-limits from the way the boys were avoiding them so Kristen and I headed for their tent to get ourselves changed.

While we didn't invite the boys in along with us, as much as I knew Kristen would have loved to have done, I'd already taken note that the side flaps were unzipped meaning anyone looking through the screened windows would have a pretty good view of the interior. The tent was situated (purposely perhaps?) such that the closest people with a direct line of site were quite a ways away. During the daytime especially, with the sun shining down on the tent, even though the campground was jammed full it would be next to impossible for any of their neighbors to see anything. Besides, why would anyone want to look into a tent full of boys anyway? However, all this didn't mean someone standing just outside wouldn't be able to peer inside.

"Now boys, no peeking!" I teased them but at the same time I tried to make the tone of my voice such that it sounded more like I was suggesting that they DO.

In any case, I would've been astounded if they didn't already have such thoughts in their heads already - both of their heads if you know what I mean. Kristen followed as I led the way, unzipping and then parting the screening to allow us both to slip inside. It wasn't exactly the most comfortable place to change as the center of the tent was barely high enough for us to stand upright, plus it was quite hot inside, even thought there was some nice shade over the site. All I had to do to lose the shorts was let loose my grip of them. For the entire trip I'd had to keep at least one hand on them so they wouldn't fall down so by simply letting go the shorts dropped to the floor in a heap around my ankles. For a moment I just stood there, basking in the feel of the warm air against my bare butt. Once Kristen had dropped hers I turned and backed into her, wiggled my bare bottom against hers.

"Hey cuz, careful you don't start something you can't finish," she teased me as she wiggled hers back against me.

Then we both turned around and without a second thought we both reached out for the other and shared a nice long kiss, even longer than the ones back in the bathhouse. Trying not to be too obvious, I looked out the window behind her, secretly hoping that the guys were watching from outside as I put my hands on Kristen's bare ass and squeezed each of her cheeks with one hand as she did the same with mine.

I think every girl learns at an early age that nothing turns on a guy more than to see two girls kiss, even it's her friends doing it and not her. It's always seemed a little odd to me that guys get so into seeing two girls kissing yet when it comes to two boys kissing, it's like the worst thing imaginable for them.

The same sort of thing goes for dancing. Girls will get out and dance together or in a group and nobody thinks twice about it but you'll never see two guys dancing, at least not unless they are gay. I can still remember kissing my first girl at a slumber party when I wasn't even technically a teenager yet and while it was sort of naughty at the time, we all were doing it and nobody accused anyone of being a lesbian.

"Did you see the look on their faces when I dropped my shorts on front of them back at the barn?" Kristen whispered with a giggle, "Shit, I thought poor Drew was going to faint."

"Hmmmmmm... I think somebody's hot for Drew," I teased her, "or at least his dick."

Kristen giggled even more, squeezing my butt a little tighter. "God Kelly, can you imagine him fucking me? Mmmmmmm, I can! Do you think he's really fifteen? He seems younger, or at least he acts that way. It's so hard to tell sometimes. What do you think?"

"Well, he's definitely not eighteen so really, what difference does it make? Why can't you fool around with guys your own age?" I playfully chided her.

"Oh don't give me that... I saw you looking him over Miss Goody Two-Shoes," she retorted.

"Well, I guess I'll just have to take care of the other two while you do Drew," I sighed melodramatically.

"Yeah, like THAT would be such a hardship for you," she laughed, spanking my bare bottom with a sharp slap.

Although I hadn't caught sight of them, I hoped that they had witnessed our little show and now it was time to get thing really going. We pulled our own shorts back on and then went back outside to the front of the tent where, judging from their heavy breathing, the guys had obviously hurried back from peeking in on us. The guilty looks on their faces were so blatant it was almost funny and I saw Drew was even a little flushed. Thanking him for his thoughtfulness, I handed back the shorts to Darren while Kristen returned Kyle's. It was probably a good thing for them as the loose boxers weren't doing much of a job of concealing their current state of arousal, even though they tried to hide it from us. It wasn't like they HAD to as neither Kristen nor I would have cared if they had flopped out for us to see.

"So what do you guys want to do now?" I asked playfully, my hands on my hips as I twisted them back and forth slowly.

Well, I KNEW what they wanted - the same thing most any heterosexual boy would want in these circumstances. They looked back and forth at each other, none of them apparently courageous to say what was really on their minds. Well, such hesitation had never deterred Kristen before and it certainly wasn't about to today. Once she got frustrated with their stalling she decided to take things into her own hands - literally as it turned out.

"So tell me Drew... did you like seeing my bare ass back at the barn?" she said softly, moving up a little closer to him.

Drew was barely taller than her so she could just about look him straight in the eyes. Poor boy, he didn't seem to know what to do and he looked over at his brother and Darren, pleading with his eyes as if they had all the answers for him.

"I wasn't asking THEM," Kristen chided Drew, "I wanted to know if YOU liked what you saw? Do you want to see it again? Maybe more this time?"

The other guys were watching this rather surreal scene unfold in front of them, not moving or looking away, probably wondering what was going on and where this was all leading. For that matter, I was wondering the same thing too! I had a pretty good idea where it would end but the journey could be just as interesting at times.

Drew nodded almost imperceptibly but that didn't satisfy Kristen. "Well?" she said, demanding a response, "Did you like my ass or not?"

"It looked really nice," Drew finally blurted out, his face beet red as Kristen stood just inches away from him now.

"Nice? Did you say my ass looked nice?" she said, acting as though she was incredulous, "You mom's butt probably looks nice... is that all you can say about mine?"

"It looked... hot," he said so quietly I could barely make it out. I almost felt sorry for the boy but then I knew what was waiting for him so I didn't feel TOO sorry for him!

"I asked if you wanted to see it again?" she reminded him, "Do you?"

Drew again looked at the other guys who just seemed more amazed at what was happening to their youngest member and NOT to them. I could practically hear their thoughts... "Dear Penthouse, I never thought this would happen to me..."

Rather than drag this charade out any further, Kristen reached out and grabbed Drew by the hand, then she pulled him towards the tent. "C'mon Drew, let's go inside and I'll show it to you again, OK?"

They left the three of us standing behind, the two guys staring with their arms hanging down to their sides, me just shaking my head slowly. What a waste! Heck, we could have probably spent an hour or so just teasing them outside having fun if she hadn't been so crazy horny. Sure, I wanted to get it on too but why not have some fun with them along the way as well? Well, it wasn't like I was in the tent yet so who knows what opportunities remained.

As I tried to decide what to do next, the two of them inside the tent that had everyone's attention - even mine. I could tell both boys were anxious to get back to wherever they had been looking inside before. Evidently they must have thought I might be offended if they looked in on Kristen and Drew. You would think by now they would start getting the message about me, wouldn't you?

"Are you guys gonna watch them or just stand there?" I prodded them, pointing to the tent and moving around to the back where the biggest window was undone.

Not only did it have the best view, but it was also the least likely place anyone would notice us looking at the tent from a ways away, causing them to maybe wonder what was so interesting inside that was grabbing our attention.

The three of us stood there in back of the tent, the two of them on each side of me. It was sort of funny in a way. As much as they had both been staring at my ass and boobs all day, at this moment I was closer to them than I'd been yet they didn't even seem to notice I was there as they covered the tops of their eyes with their hands to shade them from the sun so see inside better. With the sunlight on it the screening made it a little hard to see, but it was still enough to get a pretty good view of what was happening inside.

Kristen must have stripped the moment she entered the tent as by the time I got to see her all she was wearing was her sneakers. I didn't blame her for keeping them on as the bottom of the tent was dirty from the guys coming and going without cleaning their shoes off first. In any case, I doubted that either of the boys next to me were looking that far down as the rest of her was stark naked. Damn her, even I was impressed at her petite body. I sighed to myself seeing how cute and hot she looked. It was probably best they looked at just her for now as it would have frustrated the heck out of me to have them staring at her had I been in there as well.

"Holy shit!" Darren muttered under breath as Kristen started to touch her boobs with her fingertips as Drew just sat there on one of the air mattresses, watched her intently with his mouth hanging open as if he was trying to catch flies.

Kristen put on a little dance for him that would have gotten her arrested at most legitimate strip clubs, eventually touching her pussy and masturbating for Drew. She even faked an orgasm for him and since I was the only one who knew she was faking, what did it hurt?

"No way!" Kyle groaned, most likely jealous as hell of his little brother.

What evoked his latest response was seeing Kristen getting down on her knees and fumbling for Drew's belt. Drew reached out to touch her but she playfully pushed his hands away, telling him he could look but not touch. I guess the "no touch you partner" rule didn't apply to her though as she quickly undid his belt and shorts, then pulled them off of him along with his underwear, leaving Drew sitting bare-bottomed on the soft sleeping bag atop the air mattress.

Kristen asked Drew if anyone had ever touched his dick before. Kyle snickered besides me as he muttered, "Well HE certainly has!" Judging from the way both guys besides me were shifting around and adjusting their shorts, I had no doubt they were wishing Kristen was asking them the same question.

I couldn't make out exactly what Drew was muttering with all the grunts and groans coming from the peanut gallery outside the tent. "Can you believe it!" "Holy shit" "Oh my god!" were just a few of the comments being thrown out as Kristen reached out and grabbed Drew's hard dick. I think Drew was a little embarrassed to be so hard already but it wasn't as if Kristen cared - it just saved her some time and effort in her book

As for me, I like it best when a guy starts out soft so I can feel him growing in my hand or mouth. From Kristen's perspective, that was all just wasted time when he could be fucking her so the sooner he was hard, the better so far as she was concerned.

"Damn... do you think she's gonna suck him" Darren asked across to Kyle, as if I wasn't even there.

"Trust me, she will... and that's not ALL she'll do to him before this is over," I informed them..

"Fuck, your cousin's a real slut!" Kyle said admiringly.

That was the last straw as far as I was concerned. It was bad enough for Kristen to be grabbing all the attention but now Kyle was calling her a slut and not even thinking about me! Over the years I've learned to deal with guys paying more attention to Kristen, that was just Mother Nature's cruel joke on me and there was nothing I could do about it. To completely IGNORE me in favor of Kristen..., now THAT required a response. A girl has to have SOME pride.

"You know, it's not like you have to hide yours either," I said seductively, reaching out in both directions to pat their crotches.

Even with the denim shorts now back over their underwear I could tell both were stiff as rods underneath. They looked at me as if they weren't sure what I really meant. Damn, did I have to provide engraved invitations for them? And people ask me why I like older men! At least they don't have to be told twice – or even once in many cases.

"C'mon, let me see what you've got," I said, trying to keep the frustration out of my voice.

I guess I really couldn't blame them for being distracted as Kristen now had her head planted in Drew's crotch. Between her hair falling in the way and the window screen it was a bit hard to make out exactly what was happening, but with the way her head was bobbing and Drew was groaning, there wasn't much doubt she was sucking his dick.

"Damn, she's blowing him!" Darren croaked, "You're fuckin' little brother's getting a BJ!"

"Well, get yours out then and I'll do the same for you," I finally came out and said directly.

Sheesh, it was like I had to draw a map for them or something. At least THAT got their attention but after looking at each other then I saw them glancing around nervously, evidently concerned that someone might see them. Obviously I hadn't made them horny enough yet.

"You know guys, I'm not saying to get naked," I huffed, "Besides, nobody can see us anyway. Now how about taking those nice dicks out for me, OK?"

One thing you can count one when it comes to men, and especially boys, is that their big heads can only dominate the little ones for so long before a role reversal takes place. With both Daren and Kyle, horniness finally won out over common sense, just as I knew it eventually would. Besides, it WAS true what I'd said about nobody being able to see us. With the tent set so far back on the site and us being behind it, it would have taken someone almost deliberately wanting to see what was going on behind the tent for us to be discovered.

Finally, both guys had dropped their shorts and pulled their dicks out through the front slits of their underwear. Now THIS was more like it! I stopped watching Kristen and bent my knees, crouching down so I could grab each of their dicks and look back and forth to each side to see one and then the other from a more direct point of view. It seemed they were both about the same size, average I guess you could say but they both had that wonderful steel-rod stiffness that only a teenage cock can have. It was like grabbing onto two steel pipes and the best part was that I knew they would stay that way, even after cumming a couple of times.

"Soooooo, is this more like it?" I said softly, grinning up at both of them.

I could tell they were torn between wanting to see my cousin sucking Drew inside the tent and seeing me jerking them off with my hands. Well, there was one way to get them to pay more attention to me - just up the ante a bit.

"Do your girlfriends like to suck your dicks?" I teased them as I twisted each of my hands around their hard cocks.

They glanced at each other and had they been alone, I'm sure each would have bragged about his experience and the number of blowjobs they' been given but as best friends, they both knew the other would know he was lying. I was rapidly getting the impression that not even Darren had as much experience as he was claiming to have with girls. In the end, neither of them said a word, their silence more telling than anything else.

Well, it was up to me I guess so I took Darren's dick first in my mouth, just bobbing on it quickly, taking about two-thirds of it in my mouth before letting it go and turning to face Kyle and repeating my performance on him. Kristen may have her fifteen (fourteen?) year old dick to enjoy, but I had TWO teenage cocks at my disposal now so she could keep her jailbait! Back and forth I went, maybe going down two or three times on each before switching to the other, stroking the one cock with my free hand while sucking on the other.

With my other hand I pulled up my top, exposing my braless boobs to them while keeping it on just in case an emergency popped up - like their parents suddenly returning. It wasn't I was worried about ME - they might not like the fact some slut was sucking off the two older buys but I could only imagine what they would say about Drew getting his dick sucked by a girl at least seven years older than him! She was inside the tent so it wasn't like she wouldn't have time to get herself dressed or even hide among the blankets and sleeping bags.

Me being outside... now THAT was a different story entirely. Still, I had to say it was more exciting to be squatting down in the middle of a crowded campsite with my boobs hanging out while sucking off these boys' cocks. Squatting as I was, I could feel my shorts pulling up and I knew anyone looking would have seen a lot more of my ass than a girl typically would without being in a thong bikini.

I could tell that both of them were trying to hold back but they couldn't help but release a loud breath or a gasp now and then when my tongue and lips got in just the right combination on their dicks to make their knees bend. Both of them needed a shower after the hike and who knows what else they'd been doing before they met us but I didn't care. All I knew was I was enjoying their stiff dicks and I LOVED sucking them both off in front of each other. Odds were neither of them had ever seen the other being blown and I wondered how they felt about their best friend seeing their dick out and being stroked and sucked by this slutty girl squatting down between them.

As I sucked them I could see they were also watching what was happening in the tent as well. Myself, I couldn't see a thing and it was remarkably quiet inside as well. Kristen could never be accused of being shy about expressing herself during sex so either she was deliberately keeping calm so as not to draw attention from anyone outside or her mouth was too full of dick to say anything loud enough to be heard outside the tent. If I had to set the odds, it would probably be a little of each!

Who would cum first - Darren or Kyle? At first glance, you would assume Kyle since he was younger and Darren claimed to have more experience and as such, should be able to control himself more. Yet the more I sucked them, the more I had to wonder how much of Darren's bravado was just bluster? He seemed to be just as ecstatic as Kyle about me sucking his cock - certainly not like he had been-there, done-that before.

If anything, he seemed to be about to cum even before Kyle and sure enough, just as I was about to take my mouth off of him and turn my attention back to Kyle's dick, Darren flooded my mouth with his cum along with a long heavy sigh, almost like one of relief as his hairy balls emptied themselves into my waiting mouth. I held my lips firmly around his cock, keeping every drop of cum in my mouth and letting it pool on my tongue. God, how much cum did he have? It was like he was overflowing my mouth between his cum and dick stuffed inside!

"My turn!" Kyle suddenly gasped as I continued stroking his dick while sucking the last few drops from the tip of Darren's still hard cock.

I quickly turned to face Kyle, just in time to get a face-full of cum as his first load caught me on the forehead right between my eyes! Before the second load could nail me again, I had my cum-filled mouth wrapped around his dick where he could finish his load without making a mess of me - at least any MORE of a mess of me. I didn't even have time to swallow Darren's load before my mouth was flooded with Kyle's cum. It was as much, if not more than Darren' had given me, even with the first shot on my forehead instead of my mouth.

Damn, the boy's balls must have been ready to explode! There was no way I could hold all that cum in my mouth and swallowing with his dick in my mouth was hard so I had no choice but to let some of it escape and drip down my chin.

OK, so my thoughts tend to wander at times... As I sucked off the last of Kyle's cum I wondered what would happen if a guy didn't masturbate or fuck? Where did all the cum go? I doubted that he stopped making it just because it wasn't being used. Was that why some guys claimed their "balls ached" when they didn't get to fuck for a while or even masturbate?

Enough of THAT tangent! My mouth felt deliciously slimy from the fresh coating of cum from two young dicks as I swallowed it all down finally, wishing I had a bottle of water or something to help rinse out my mouth a little as it left quite an aftertaste. Oh well, it's not like I wasn't use to the taste but still, just a mouthful of water would have been nice...

Not surprisingly, both my guys were still as hard as ever and I knew from the looks on their faces if anything, they were even hornier than before I'd blown them. I knew what they wanted - what they probably didn't dare ask for but were undoubtedly praying they could. Really... what teenage boy would NOT want to fuck a girl after she'd just sucked his cock and swallowed his load?

I remembered back to when I use to date in high school and the dashed hopes guys would have after I'd sucked them off but then they didn't get to fuck me. Just because I LOVED sucking their dicks that didn't mean I let every boy in school fuck me. I DID have SOME morals. And a girl has to draw the line somewhere. Ok, so there are the exceptions like Kristen but I would feel safe in saying that the vast majority of girls - even the sluts and whores, have their limits, even though they may vary substantially.

I took the opportunity to glance inside the tent. Darren and Kyle were mesmerized already so I knew it had to be something pretty good. Why wasn't I surprised? (just kidding) There was my slutty cousin riding Kyle's brother, leaning over him such that her breast were low enough for him to suck on them while she rocked on his dick - his no longer virgin dick.

I wish I'd been able to watch when she first took him in her and seen the expression on his face when he got to feel his dick in a girl's pussy for the first time. I'd been fortunate enough over the years to have been fucked by a few virgins and it's always special to see that look - a mixture of lust, fear, gratitude, amazement, whatever, it was all there at this special time of their life. How long had she been riding him? Had he already cum from her blowjob or had she waiting to take his first load in her pussy? Was this the position she took his virginity or how had they been situated? Damn, so many questions to ask her later when we got together later when we were through with these guys.

"So what do you guys think of my cousin?" I asked them both quietly so as not to disturb the two in the tent.

"God she is hot!" Darren was the first to respond, practically drooling. He was stroking his dick slowly as he stared inside and I had to wonder if he even realized he was doing it.

Most likely had he known I could see him stroking it he would have been embarrassed but right now he was so engrossed in watching Drew fucking Kristen (or was SHE fucking Drew?) that I doubted he even knew himself what he was doing.

"I can't believe she's fucking my brother!" Kyle said almost breathlessly.

Really, how many guys actually get to see their brother fucking a girl in real life? To see his younger brother getting laid for the first time must have been more than little hard for Kyle. Again, I had to wonder just how many girls he REALLY had fucked so far - and if he even had done ONE!

"He seems to be enjoying it," I observed thoughtfully.

Well, Kristen certainly was too. Seeing drew naked and with Kristen on top of him rocking his dick in and out of her, I wondered yet again if he was really fifteen. God, he looked like such an innocent, naive boy! I had figured before he was maybe fourteen and now I was having to re-evaluate even THAT estimate! drew had his hands on Kristen's hips, where no doubt she had placed them earlier, and for the most part he just laid there and let my cousin do all the work - not that she seemed to mind. I've never fucked a boy Drew's age in my entire life, the youngest actually being my first boyfriend Steve way back when I was just fourteen.

For a moment, I had to admit I wondered what it would be like to be in Kristen's place right then, his young hard dick poking inside of me while I knew he had to be going completely nuts in his head over what was happening to him for the first time. It was SO hot to watch. If the other two boys hadn't been there with me, I might have succumbed and joined my cousin. Fortunately, at least I guess you say that, God was once again helping me deal to deal with temptation, just as he promised he would.

"Luck goddamn son of a bitch," Darren muttered and once again, I felt a little surge anger building up within me.

It was like I wasn't even there! For drying out loud, I'd just sucked them both off until they came AND let them cum in my mouth AND swallowed as much as I could and still, all they seemed to be able to think about was fucking Kristen. Well hello! I had a pussy too just in case they'd forgotten, and it was just as wet as Kristen's had been when she started fucking Drew - at least I was willing to bet it was. One thing I was blessed with (or at least thank my mom for giving me her genes), was a pussy that got soaked at the drop of a hat. OK, so there were times it might get a little embarrassing but I would rather have it that way then have to use some sort of lube very time.

"You know guys, I AM here," I sighed, hoping they took the hint. Damn, my boobs were still out and they hadn't even touched them!

"Oh! Sorry... we didn't mean to say all that about your cousin in front of you," Darren apologized. I wanted to scream. God, how could two boys both be so clueless!

Exasperated, I reached down, unbuttoned my shorts, and dropped them to the ground where I stepped out of them with one foot and used to other to toss them a few feet away, leaving me standing there in my sneakers, and t-shirt. Although the t-shirt was still pulled up over my boobs I decided I had to pull out all the stops if I was going to keep their attention thanks to the fuck show going on inside the tent.

Pulling the t-shirt up and over my head, I was left with just my sneakers on - same as Kristen but I was OUTSIDE the tent. Now THAT got their attention. Both of them turned to stare at my naked figure which was just mere inches away from them. Their hard dicks were still poking out so sweetly from their underwear and I was dying to have them in me.

"Well, who's gonna fuck me first?" I asked sweetly, putting one finger up to my lips trying to act innocent in contrast to Kristen being such a whore.

Without a doubt they both were dying to fuck me but at the same time, I was sure that just as neither had them had been watched getting a blowjob before (assuming they'd even HAD one before), I was pretty positive they'd never been in a three-some before either, or at least not anyone watching THEM doing it. Once again it was up to me to take the initiative but it was an easy choice, one I'd already made hours earlier when I first saw the guys together.

"C'mon Darren, I want you to show Kyle how to really fuck a girl," I said, turning my ass towards Kyle, leaning over to grab my knees as I spread my bare legs slightly apart for him.

Like, I'd been dreaming of his dick inside of me since I first saw him and now it was finally going to happen - at least it had better happen pretty damn quick!

As much as I was sure he wanted to fuck me, Darren seemed to hesitate and I had a pretty good sense for what was wrong. What were the odds that Darren had never fucked a girl from behind while standing up before? Hmmm, probably pretty good. Most likely he'd probably done nothing but good ole missionary position. Well, I wasn't about to lay on my bare back in the long grass and dirt along with god only knew what nasty bugs and creatures so it was this way or no way.

"Don't you think we should go in the tent?" Kyle asked, looking around nervously again.

There was still nobody nearby and I could barely make out the sounds of anything around us and what I could was quite a ways off. Sheesh, we were hidden behind the tent such that even if somebody drove by they wouldn't see a thing. Besides, Kristen and Drew were already in the tent. I'd had quite enough of Kristen grabbing all the limelight and the last thing I was going to do was get side-by-side with her and have to deal with be #2 yet again. Nope, if they wanted to fuck me, here was their chance. Besides, imagine how they would brag about it later to all their friends. Would any of them believe a word of it though?

"Will you just shut up, quit whining and FUCK me," I finally let loose.

Damn, this was getting to the point of being ridiculous. I'd never dreamed it would ever be so difficult to get two teenage boys to fuck me! God, usually they were pawing at me through my clothes.

"Here, let me help you," I offered over my shoulder to Darren. Putting my hand down between my legs, I reached for his dick like he was the quarterback standing behind me in a football game (do they have position called "doggie"?) I couldn't quite reach his cock but he got the hint and moved up until I was able to snag it like the baton in a relay race. I LOVED the firm feel of his stiffness in my hand. God, he hadn't shrunk even a fraction after cumming the first time. You gotta love a teenage cock!

"OK, now push it in slowly," I said after rubbing it a little on my pussy to get the head wet.

I had it positioned right at the opening to my pussy but even so, given it was the first time a dick was going to be in my pussy today I would likely still a little tight so at first my pussy resisted him.

"Push harder," I encouraged him, pressing my butt back against him to help drive him in me.

"Ohhhhhh, that's it... now deeper! I moaned as I felt him begin to enter me.

Finally! It felt so good to feel myself stretch out to accommodate his cock. It wasn't like he was all that thick or long, instead just the right size to slip in my pussy without much trouble and yet still feel comfortable in my pussy without overstuffing me. Granted, a cock that was TOO small wasn't exactly all that great, but I never complained about an "average" sized dick. The really big ones are better for porn flicks and showing off in front of people, but give me a typical 5-6 inch cock any day and I'm perfectly content. If anything, it's the thickness that I prefer and with a fat cock it's all the more important that he not be too long. I can deal with a wide cock, but a fat AND long at the same time can be quite a pain - literally!

As Darren's dick entered me, I suddenly realized that as much as I THOUGHT I was dying to be fucked by him, it was nothing compared to how badly I REALLY wanted it once I felt his dick inside of me. Indeed, hiking with the boys, teasing them constantly, and then finally seeing Kristen doing the wild thing with Drew was bad enough. Suck both guys off turned out to be the proverbial last straw for me. Wow, what would I have done if for some reason Darren had chickened out of fucking me? Well, thankfully I didn't have to find out.

Poor Kyle was left just standing there, his hard dick in his hand as his younger brother was doing Lord only knows what with my cousin in the tent while his best friend now had his dick sunk into the older girl's pussy right in front of him. I'm sure he loved seeing it but at the same time, he had to be wanting a piece of wet pussy for his own. Well, he would get it if he just waited patiently as I didn't expect Darren to last all that long anyway.

As Darren fucked me while Kyle watched, it made me feel like a total slut – and I loved it. Darren was reacting like your typical inexperienced teenage both, just moving his dick around without much so far as technique goes. His tentativeness made me even more convinced that his sexual resume was a LOT thinner than he had bragged about earlier. Still, so long as his hard cock was in me, I wasn't about to complain. It wasn't like I couldn't help out.

"Whadda ya think Kyle?" I gasped, "Ever see Darren fuck a girl before like this?"

"Never seen him fuck a girl like anyway before," he mumbled, staring at my boobs hanging down.

He seemed to be avoiding look at my ass – and thus Darren's busy cock. Maybe he was concerned that he might be gay or something if he got off seeing another guy's dick in action. Well, isn't that what porn is all about so why get worried about it now?

"Hey Kyle, why don't you let me suck your dick while Darren fucks me?" I offered.

Kyle froze as I was sure he had NEVER heard a real girl say anything even close to that, at least not to HIM. It really didn't matter as he was close enough for me to reach out for his cock with one hand while I still supported myself on my knee with the other. His dick was SO hard and I loved the way it felt so warm and smooth in my hand. I pulled him closer to me like I was reining in a dog on a leash until he was close enough for me to start sucking him again. Meanwhile, Darren was in me from behind and I loved the idea of both of their dicks now in me, one from each end. Too bad there wasn't a big mirror so I could see us together like this!

Inside the tent, I could hear Kristen moaning louder now. From the sound of things she must have been cumming and I couldn't help but wonder for a moment what she was doing with her young charge to make that happen. Then I felt Darren's dick thrust into me again, shoving me forward and causing me to almost choke on Kyle's dick and any thoughts of my cousin quickly disappeared.

Darren was getting more aggressive as he got the hang of things and I wished I could see what the two of them looked like as they faced each other above me, one of them fucking me while I sucked the other.

Darren was really picking up a head of steam now and I could hear him groaning as he rammed his dick in me like a pro. It might have been fun to try a few other positions with him in another place and time, but for now this was as good as I could ask for under the circumstances. God, here we were, in broad daylight, me naked with their dicks poking through their underwear as they fucked me outside their tent with not much more than the tent and a couple of campers to hide us from view of the general public. All it would take was for a couple of little kids to throw a ball or Frisbee in the wrong direction and imagine what they would see! Not that I was particularly hoping for that, but it was a possibility. More probable and worrisome was what if their parents came back now?

I was sure there would be plenty of time to get our clothes back together before they realized we were even there but I could only imagine what they would think seeing a girl like me with their sons, especially with the bulges the boys would undoubtedly still be sporting. Then again, at this moment I just didn't care. All I wanted was for both of them to fuck me... and then fuck me some more.

From the way he was going now, Darren must have been getting close so I dropped Kyle's dick from my mouth for a moment and called back to Darren over my shoulder.

"Hey Darren, ever cum inside a girl's pussy before?" I inquired.

His silence told me all I needed to know. "It's OK... you can cum in me Darren... cum inside my pussy."

It was more than just mere words as indeed, I WANTED him to cum in me. There's something about the idea of being the first girl he ever came in that really was turning me on. OK, so supposedly it wasn't like I was his FIRST girl ever (although I was willing to bet there hadn't been many before me, and NONE quite like me), but he would certainly never forget me nor forget releasing himself inside of me instead of having worry about pulling out or wearing a condom.

"Oh fuck me Darren... cum in me," I gasped.

Then I went back to Kyle's dick, not really working it so much as just sort of babysitting it with my mouth, keeping it nice and hard so he would be ready to go when Darren was done with me. Of course, he most likely would have stayed hard without me helping out, but what was the fun in THAT?

"Oh god!" Darren moaned as he started to cum in me.

He just held himself still in me, his hips thrusting just slightly into me instinctively, enough for me to feel his crotch pressing into my ass each time he shot another load of sperm into me.

It was what I need most right then. Kristen was moaning like a whore in heat inside the tent, Kyle's dick was rubbing against my cheek as I just held it in place with my lips, and Darren was filling my hot pussy with his cum. Now if all THAT isn't enough to make a girl cum, then she has to be the most frigid female on earth.

As I am far from being frigid, it was more than enough to drive me right off the proverbial cliff. It was all I could do not to bite Kyle's cock off as I felt my pussy contract, convulse and then squeeze down hard on Darren's now spent dick. Although his load was now out, he remained hard inside of me - yep, gotta love those teenage cocks! I might have fallen to my knees if it hadn't been for Darren's dick in my pussy and Kyle's in my mouth. No way I was going to let either of them go at this moment. I didn't even have to rub my pussy to cum this time - everything felt great just as it was.

I'm not even sure of either of them realized I was even having an orgasm. It wasn't like I was acting like your classic porn star crying out and moaning to them how good it felt. Instead, it was more like the three of us were all just being still, the two of them enjoying the attention their dicks were getting while I was in the middle, feeling as though the rest of the world had shrunk to just their dicks, my mouth and my pussy. I really didn't even care all that much about THEM at this moment, at least nothing past their crotches. No... all I wanted was their dicks - and more of them.

"Your turn now Kyle," I somehow managed to get out, "Switch with Darren and fuck me."

For a moment there was silence. Then to my utter amazement Kyle whined, "Ewwwww, but he just... he just did IT in you."

I had no patience for any more of this homophobic crap. "Kyle, just get your damn dick in me and fuck me," I hissed at him, jerking on his dick with my hand for emphasis. Whatever ridiculous inhibitions he may have had quickly disappeared as by now Darren had pulled out of me and moved besides Kyle, waiting impatiently for Kyle to get out of the way so I could suck on his dick now.

Kyle really did want to fuck me, I knew he did and it wasn't my ego speaking - what teenage boy his age would NOT want to fuck a girl like me regardless of who had just fucked me, or where? Nonetheless, I wanted him in me just as badly as he must have wanted to fuck me. Having Darren cum in me was like having a sweet appetizer in that it just made me want another load of cum all the more.

Darren was waiting eagerly for me to start sucking his cock again but Kyle still hadn't started to fuck me so I turned my head back to him where he looked scared as hell. Suddenly it dawned on me, oh my God... Kyle was a virgin! All that macho talk and the way he teased his brother was just a big scam.

Damn, how could a guy get to be eighteen and still be a virgin? Well, in all fairness to Kyle I guess for a guy it could be more possible than for a girl. Heck, ANY girl could lose her virginity ANY night of the week if she really wanted to. For girls, it's a personal decision based on her religious morals, ethics, and emotions. with opportunity having little to do with it. Boys are at such a disadvantage! They had to find a girl who would let them fuck her so for them, it was all in the hands of the girl - quite literally in some cases. Here was Kyle, proof personified.

Whether Darren knew about Kyle's lack of sexual experience or not, I wasn't sure but I had a sneaking suspicion he didn't know the truth and so I didn't want to embarrass Kyle. Still, I had to do something to help move this show along. To the surprise of both of them, I stood up and grinned at Kyle, holding his dick in my hand as I gently worked it with my fingers..

"You know... I have a better idea. Sit down," I instructed him, pointing my finger at the grassy turf below us.

At least it would be HIS bare ass on the grass, not mine. Kyle was confused but he obediently did as I told him, sitting with his back towards the tent. Once he was seated I knelt down, straddling his legs as I lowered myself down while facing him. With his dick just below my pussy, I leaned forward and whispered in his ear, "Don't worry, I'll take care of everything."

Then, speaking more loudly before he could react, I motioned for Darren to stand to the side so I could reach his dick. Before I could do anything more with THAT wonderful thing though, I had something more important to do - like taking Kyle's virginity.

"I REALLY want your dick in me Kyle," I said softly to him as I reached under my crotch to grab his cock and guide it to my cum-filled pussy.

After being fucked by Darren and having his fresh load in me I wouldn't be nearly as tight as I would've liked Kyle to remember but still, it wasn't as if I was some loose whore. I could feel Kyle's dick head pressing against my wet pussy hole and just as I was about to sit down on it, I leaned forward and whispered again into his ear.

"This is it Kyle... now you're gonna fuck a girl for the first it," and with that, I dropped down on his dick and buried it inside of me until I was sitting with all my weight on his lap.

It was so incredible to suddenly feel myself filled with his dick, like something had just exploded in me and swelled within my pussy in an instant. I moaned a little louder than I should as I just sat there for a moment and just focused on the feeling of his dick in my pussy.

"Oh Kyle, your cock feels SOOO big in me," I finally sighed to him, hoping to build his ego a little.

Then I turned to Darren, who was waiting ever more impatiently for me to pay more attention to HIS dick. Reaching for Darren's cock, I remained seated firmly on Kyle's hot rod like a hotdog mounted on a stick, grinding my ass slowly around in small circles to work his cock within my hungry pussy.

Then, none too soon as far was Darren was concerned, I took Darren's dick in my mouth and started sucking on it. Mmmmmmm, I loved the way he tasted and smelled like my pussy and his cum was still quite noticeable. I've always loved to suck a guy's dick after he fucks me. There's just something special about the mixture of scents and flavors that I find simply irresistible.

Actually, I like the taste of pussy so much that I love sucking a guy's dick after he's fucked another girl but I guess I'm a little biased in that I prefer the taste of my own pussy best. My thoughts momentarily drifted back to Kristen and Drew. How would his dick taste right about now? Kristen had one sweet tasting pussy and I loved to suck her pussy cum off a guy's dick after he'd just cum in her.

Now that Darren was getting some attention again, I went back to work on Kyle's dick a little more, humping on his cock to get it to move in and out of me more and more. Actually, this was more work than you might think. Why don't they include this in some exercise video? I bet it would be a pretty popular routine even if you were dressed in workout clothes!

Poor Kyle, as much as I tried not to be too aggressive, with everything that had been going on it was just too much for him. I could see from the look on his face he was trying to hold himself back but then his eyes flew went wide open and he looked at me with an almost apologetic expression as he spurted his first load of cum ever while fucking a girl and inside my pussy to boot.

"It's OK Kyle... it feels so good... I love you cumming in me," I moaned, trying to make him feel less embarrassed at having cum so fast.

"Shit, you came already?" Darren said to Kyle.

I felt so bad for Kyle. It wasn't fair for Darren to say something like that as it's not like he held out forever himself. Determined to come to Kyle's assistance, I dropped Darren's dick from my mouth and dismounted from Kyle, kneeling in the grass over his crotch and sucking the last of the cum that was dripping from the tip of his dick as I stimulated his hyper-sensitive dick. Once again I could taste myself on a dick, making it twice in the span of just a few minutes! I ate Kyle's dick like I was starving, sucking and licking it until ever drop of cum was cleaned off.

"Well, you guys have a good time?" I asked teasingly as I stood up and rubbed my cum-soaked pussy.

A little of cum - whose was it? Dripped from my pussy and I scooped it up with my fingers and then sucked it off with my mouth in front of them as they stared at me. "I have to say, I LOVED being fucked... by both of you."

They stood there like two kids, neither of them seemingly knowing what to say. Well, they COULD have said I was a good fuck or something but then, the expressions on their faces and the way they looked at me told me all I really needed to know. Damn, I felt like such a slut - and I loved it. This was what being a slut was all about. There was no intimacy here, nothing to do with love or even caring all that much about the other person. Then again, it wasn't just another fuck with some guys who were just adding another notch to their belts. It was like hitting the lottery to get two guys like this to fuck me - one a true virgin and the other almost one, and at least a pussy cum virgin at that.

We'd been at it a while and as much as it might have been a turn-on to be discovered by someone, at least I had enough common sense to realize that Darren and Kyle might get in trouble of their parents found out what they'd been doing so I gathered my clothes and dressed as they did the same.

I went around to the front of the tent and parted the netting to peer inside. Damn, Kristen was STILL on top of Drew, who looked to be about ready to pass out if Besides, after being fucked so good I think both Kristen and I needed to walk off a little energy anyway.

We got plenty of looks as we wandered along the road but all I could think about was the three boys back at the campground. If nothing else, at least now when they talked about having sex they had some REAL stories to tell!.

5. The Morning After

When I woke up the next morning something seemed different. Indeed, there was a large arm around me and I felt something poking me in back. When I stirred, the arm tightened and I felt the thing behind me dig into me a little harder and I knew instantly what it was - my dad's dick! Sometime during the night he must have gotten in bed with me and spooned behind me. As my eyes focused I saw that I was facing the other bed and I could see that Kristen was laying with her mom, both of them nude with the covers thrown off, despite the overworked air- conditioning.

"Good morning baby," my dad whispered in my ear as his hand started to massage my breasts.

I could feel the roughness of his unshaven face on my shoulder as he kissed my neck and licked behind my ear. He seemed to be unable to lay still behind me as I felt his dick rubbing up against my butt as he moved it up and down with his hips. That was one thing we shared, maybe in the DNA - we both woke up horny as hell in the morning. Usually I tell people I'm a night person as I love to stay up late and sleep in even later. So I guess you could really say I wake up horny more so than I'm a true morning person.

My dad had always been the same way. When I lived at home he use to come into my room every morning and if nothing else, masturbate while looking at me as I slept naked in bed. Usually he would have me suck his dick and sometimes he would fuck me, even if I wasn't quite awake. Indeed, a few times I'd woken with his dick already in me. I have to admit, I LOVE to wake up that way, the feel of a dick already inside of me as I wondered what he had been doing to me before I woke. At times like this, there was really only one thing for me to say...

"Fuck me daddy," I whispered hoarsely as the first words out of my mouth barely made it.

"Mmmmmmm, baby, you know I want to," he whispered back into my ear as I felt him lift my upper leg back and pull me more onto my back against him.

good, it was knowing my own father loved me enough and saw me as being sexy enough to WANT to give me his sperm.

As I felt his hips thrust himself deeper into me with each ejaculation of cum, it wasn't even about the sex that made me almost want to cry with such joy I felt. As much as I knew he enjoyed fucking Aunt Linda, and even Kristen now and then, I knew he never fucked them like he was fucking me just now. He was fucking his daughter, not his sister-in-law or niece, he was taking his own daughter for himself, joining with her and giving her his most precious token of love.

After my dad was finished, we just laid there for a while. My Aunt Linda was the first to wake up, Kristen was out like a light still. She looked over at us and I saw her gaze move to my crotch where my dad's cock was still twitching in me. She grinned as I knew she wasn't jealous as I wasn't her competition - if anything that would be Kristen.

I was suddenly reminded of how my mom use to look at us when my dad fucked me. She had that same knowing smile, like she was pleased at what she saw and understood what it meant - for both of us. She knew whose pussy he'd be fucking later that day so there was no threat to her. If anything, I think I use to get my dad's lust going at times to where he probably fucked my mom even more than he would have had he not been fucking me.

Sooner or later we would have to get up. The sun was shining outside and I knew it would be a great day out on the boat. What would happen? I had no idea but I was just looking for a fun family day out on the lake skiing.

Until then, I closed my eyes and squeezed down with my pussy to feel my dad's semi-hard dick in me.

Oh my god, what more could a girl ask for?

(Sep 11) Chapter 196: Compromises

Story codes: MF oral F-solo
Me (24)
Mr. Eisenberg (40)

All my life I've wanted to be a teacher more than anything. Then last year, just when it seemed everything was perfect, all my hopes and dreams were crushed. This past summer an unexpected opportunity arose which promised to revive those dreams. OK, so I had to comprise my principles just a little, but it got me back into teaching so I lived with it.

Besides the moral and ethical issues, I'm learning that there's another problem when you start straying from your beliefs - once you rationalize it the first time, the next time gets easier. Now that I had my job back, was I really ready to compromise my core beliefs yet again so I could keep it?

1. Cinderella

All my life I've dreamed of being a teacher. Actually, I can't think of ever wanting to be anything else when someone would ask me, "What do you want to be when you grow up?" After years of tough schooling, grueling exams, bureaucratic certifications, lifelong dreams realized, crushed and then resurrected again, I finally did it - I was a full time elementary school teacher.

In a more perfect world, I would've graduated with honors, aced my certs, been pursued by every major school district in the area, and finally been hired by a prestigious school with a great salary and benefits. All my students would love me as their favorite teacher and come to class eager to learn. At least, that's how I use to dream it would be.

In the real world, I graduated from college with good grades - but no honors. I had to study until I nearly dropped to squeak by the certification exams (had to take them in two states which didn't help). The schools I'd been hoping to teach at had waiting lists so long it would be years before I even got a substitute position.

When I finally DID get a job, it was part time as a fill- in for a teacher who was ill at a small Christian school. Talk about lousy pay and no benefits! The kids were general good but there were a few that made me wonder why I ever wanted to become a teacher and the parents... well let's not even discuss parents. So it wasn't quite a dream come true but still, I was a teacher and that's what counted in the end.

Then my world turned upside down with the breakup from my boyfriend just when I thought he was going to propose. Then there was the subsequent embarrassment of having to resign when my new ex-boyfriend turned traitor.

Suffice to say that there are things that a private school can delve into and take into account when determining your qualifications that public schools can't. Let's just say he told them enough that the administrator felt it was best we part ways. Nothing official was said and so far as my record read, it was for "personal reasons". Still, I was effectively black-listed as nobody would hire you without a good reference from your previous position and THAT wasn't about to happen so long as the old geezer was around. Considering he'd been the administrator since the school started, he wasn't about to leave any time soon either.

Fortunately, or at least from my perspective it was, the administrator had a serious heart attack which forced him to retire. His replacement was a much younger guy that I hoped would be unaware of the unofficial reasons for my resignation. Eventually he DID hire me back but it didn't go exactly as I had expected. Rather than repeat all that subsequently happened, check out these entries in my diary:

2009 (May 26) Chapter 187: School Administrator
2009 (Jun 26) Chapter 188: Unconventional Convention
2009 (Jun 27) Chapter 189: Fun at an RV Park
2009 (Jun 28) Chapter 190: Disneyland Fun

Keeping it brief, I was forced to let this man have sex with me in order to get back the dream I'd thought I'd lost - to be a teacher. That may sound a little ironic coming from a girl who has purposely and unashamedly used sex to get what she wants for most of her adult life, but this was a totally different situation. It's one thing to flirt to cut in line, give a quick blowjob in return for an evening out, or even to offer to let a guy fuck you to get something you really want. That's just normal stuff most girls do whether they admit it or not.

This time, though, it was different. It meant a lot to me to be able to pursue my teaching career on my own credentials. Resorting to using sex was like cheating, sort of like taking the 'easy way out" and it didn't mean as much afterwards. I planned on teaching for a long time and I wanted to be sure it wasn't something that depended on guys wanting to fuck me. After all, I may be 24 now but someday it might not be so easy to just bend over and expect to get what I wanted.

Thus when it came to pursuing my teaching career, I've always stayed the straight and narrow. For instance, I'd never fucked a teacher or done anything to get a better grade. In college I bartered quite a bit for some tutoring at times but it's not like I wouldn't have paid cash otherwise and besides, it wasn't like I couldn't use a little myself at the time. I dressed professionally at all my interviews (I mean as a professional teacher, not a hooker) and so until this case came up, I was pretty proud of myself.

It's not to say I was raped, humiliated or otherwise had to do anything I didn't like. That's not what peeved me off so over this whole thing. No, it just irked me that I had to resort to using sex when I was more than qualified based on my academic credentials, not my sexual resume.

So anyway, I'd done it, it was over, and now I just had to prove to myself that it wasn't me but the administrator's fault. I was bound and determined to be the best teacher in the school so nobody could ever say I slept my way into the job!

School had been in session for several weeks now. Back on the first day I was probably more nervous about seeing Mr. Eisneberg again than I was about my new class. Professionally, I was as well prepared as I could be and I felt confident that I would do well. What really was getting to me was worrying about what Mr. Eisenberg might demand from me. Surprisingly, I hadn't heard anything from him since we returned from California and for the first week at school, I only saw him briefly, mostly just passing by in the hall. It wasn't hard to miss him as all the teachers were female and so the only guys around during the day were him and the fat maintenance guy.

One week... two weeks... three weeks. Time went flying by and still not a word from Mr. Eisenberg. Maybe something had happened after the California trip that was keeping him in line. There was always the possibility that his wife had suspected something about what went on while we were there. She had me pegged for a slut from the moment she first saw me and had warned me in no uncertain terms to behave myself around her husband and family. As such I was sure she didn't know anything for certain or she would've said something at the time. Still, maybe she had enough suspicions to read him the riot act when they got back home.

It's not like Mr. Eisenberg's wife was some fat hag that never wanted sex. Quite the opposite actually as she was gorgeous and loved sex - and that tidbit of knowledge came from her, not him. In fact, when I first met her I had to wonder why in the world he would risk so much just to fuck me a few times. Was it just his ego, some sort of male dominance thing? Maybe he'd finally come to grips with the huge risk he was taking and decided to stop before anything happened that would cost certainly him his career, not to mention his marriage.

One thing that may have been helping keep his interest off of me was the school dress code. When it came to the teachers it was practically medieval in that we had to wear long skirts or dresses that came to no higher than mid-calf and preferably to the ankle. Anything high enough such that your knee was exposed when you crossed your legs was unacceptable.

When it came to tops, nothing sleeveless and especially NO cleavage - not even so much as a hint, especially when you leaned over which any teacher has to do all through the day. Bras were mandatory at all times and panties didn't even have to be mentioned as the answer was so obvious. It DID rule out thongs or anything other type of underwear that revealed any part of your buttocks. Heels were OK but no more than 2 inches. Hair had to worn up or tied back, nothing on the shoulders. Makeup was required to be modest; for instance there was to be no bright lipstick or excessive eye shadow.

Needless to say, I had to buy virtually an entire new wardrobe in order to teach there. Fortunately I had a few outfits from my college days stuffed in the back of my closet which looked professional enough to wear to class. The one thing that bugged me most was having to wear a bra every day. It made me realize that I'd never worn one on a regular basis for my entire life - until now that is, so that took more than a little to get use to wearing one every day.

All in all, nobody could accuse me of looking "hot" at school or trying to tease or come on to anyone. Besides, the oldest age taught at the school was 6th grade so it's not like the students were all that much into caring about their teacher's underwear yet.

Compared to me, the rest of the staff was quite a bit older. Looking around my first day I realized I must have been at least ten years younger than anyone else on staff. I guess that really wasn't all that surprising when you considered the minimum wage salaries and dearth of benefits. In fact, I'd overhead a number of the women say their work was a "ministry" and that they depended on their husbands for the household income.

Well, good for them but I wasn't married nor near retirement age. Personally, I was really worried about paying my bills without having to depend on my father for welfare but God came through for me and even that worked out for me in the end. My Aunt Linda just announced that she was moving in with my dad which meant there was room for me to move in with my cousin Kristen and thus not have to worry about my rent anymore.

I guess theoretically I could've moved in with them long before as they had a spare bedroom that was rarely used. Until now I'd turned their offers down as I never felt like it would be comfortable for me to live with them. Kristen had been sleeping in the same bed as her mom since her parents divorced back when she was just two years-old and it just wouldn't have felt right to barge in on them.

So now mid-September was already approaching and all-in-all, my life was looking pretty good. I had my job, a cheap place to live, and was dating a new guy I'd recently met who may have some potential. Riley was a single-dad whose daughter was in preschool. Technically his ex had all the rights to the pre-school girl but he still helped out getting her to school now and then which is how I met him. So far we'd dated a few times and I was starting to like him more every time. He knew nothing about me other than what he saw at school so you can imagine his concept of who I was!

So far I'd not done much to alter that perception, dressing conservatively on our dates - not old-maid but I left my slut outfits in the closet. He'd kissed me on the cheek after our last date but that was it so far as anything even resembling sex went. Not that I didn't WANT to suck his dick and have him fuck me on our first date; I just felt given my sad history with boyfriends that maybe I'd try something new with this guy and see what happened.

Yes, I felt like Cinderella. I'd met my prince and I was living in a fairy tale. What more could a girl ask for?

2. The Carriage Becomes a Pumpkin

Even Cinderella's ballroom fantasy had an ending and so did mine. One morning I was walking down the hall when I passed the administration office just as Mr. Eisenberg was coming out. He seemed startled to see me at first and then a strange grin grew on his face. He gave me that "look", the same one most guys give me when it's like they're trying to summon their x-ray vision so they can see through my clothes.

"Ah Miss Wells, I've been meaning to see you," he said in a disarming tone, "I was hoping you could stop by my office some time so we could discuss your progress so far."

I paused for a moment before answering, trying to read his body language to determine if this was a legitimate request or just a ruse for some hidden agenda on his part. Given my past experiences with him, nobody could blame me for being a little extra cautious. On the surface of things, such a meeting was not unexpected considering I WAS a brand new teacher and all. In fact, under more "normal" circumstances I would've expected such a review much earlier than this given over three weeks had already passed since school started.

However, these were definitely NOT "normal" circumstances which is one problem when you start associating sex with your workplace - you never know where one ends and the other picks up.

"Yes sir. I understand," I replied respectfully, "So when would you like me to stop in?"

He looked in his notebook as if he needed to consult his schedule and again I was left wondering if it was all a show or if he really needed to check. In any case, he snapped it shut before I could see what he was looking at and smiled at me.

"Well, I suppose it would be best to get it over with as soon as possible since we've delayed it this long already. How about right after your last class this afternoon?" he offered.

Being it was a Friday, I would've definitely preferred to have left for home as soon as classes ended to beat the terrible traffic. Other than that I didn't have a valid reason for refusing him so I just nodded slightly after which he said he was looking forward to it and returned to his office without another word.

The rest of the day went by with me wandering about in a daze. Thankfully I shared the classroom responsibilities with another teacher or I don't know how I would've gotten through it. All I could think about was Mr. Eisenberg and our "meeting" scheduled for the end of the day. Perhaps I was getting worked up for nothing. After all, he hadn't hardly said a word to me up until today so maybe this was all on the up and up? All the other teachers told me that they'd had a review within a week or so of their start and so if anything, they were surprised I had already gone so long without one. Well, they didn't know how my interview went either.

This nightmarish situation was exactly why I hated having to use sex to get my job. If I hadn't given in and instead had been more brave and stuck up for myself instead of panicking and agreeing to his demands, I wouldn't be in this situation. Instead, I was left wondering what I might have to do in order to keep my job. What would the other teachers say if they knew why I was so worried? Heck, the past administrator was so old he probably couldn't get it up anyway.

Ironically, the whole situation was rather ridiculous AND unnecessary. Heck, if instead of forcing me to let him fuck me in order to get my job, had he just come on to me like a typical horny husband I probably would've willingly agreed to having sex with him just because I enjoy fucking married men. It sort of reminded me of when I first tried escorting years before when I was in college. Back then I'd ended up quitting when one of my clients tied me up, blindfolded me, and then brought in a group of so-called friends to fuck me without warning me about it ahead of time.

As a direct result of that experience I "retired" from escorting before anything worse could happen to me. However, like what I was facing today, that was a case where had the jerk simply ASKED me ahead of time. I probably would've gladly agreed to go along with it (assuming, of course, he paid more). Instead, it was like he and his friends were raping me. So as you can see, there's a HUGE difference between doing something because you agree to do it compared to feeling like you have no choice.

Well, the exact same principle applied now to Mr. Eisenberg. Had he simply ASKED me to have sex with him, everything would've been fine and I'd be looking forward to our meeting this afternoon. Having a guy with a wife like his risk it all just to fuck me would have been exhilarating under different circumstances. Instead, because he forced me to let him fuck me so I could have my job, now I was dreading what might happen at the end of the day. In way I guess it was a shame!

3. After-School Performance Review

The last bell of the day had barely ended before the kids were evacuating the school, followed close on their heels by their teachers who were also anxious to get home to start the weekend. Not Kelly. No, I was on my way to the administrator's office instead for my so-called "Performance Review". It was amazing how the hustle and bustle of just a few minutes ago suddenly became an almost deathly silence, broken only by the sound of my heels clicking on the shiny tiled floors.

Despite my slow pace, I eventually reaching his office where I stood in front of the door and took a deep breath, trying to calm my nerves and slow my heart rate down a few notches. It was useless. Oh dear, I wanted nothing more than anything to turn around and sprint to my car but then I knew I may as well not bother returning. Whether I liked it or not, my continued employment depended on the outcome of this review - in whatever form it might take.

The silence in the hallway was broken when I knocked on the door. Within a few seconds he called out for me to come in. Sheesh, couldn't he even open the door for me? Stepping in, I saw him behind his desk from where he immediately told me to close the door behind me. Something reminded me of a story I once heard about how Billy Graham never allowed himself to be alone with any woman other than his wife in any closed room - not even a car. His rule applied even to his secretary of over thirty years.

Well, Mr. Eisenberg certainly didn't live up to those standards. What would the church board say if they knew he was meeting with a woman my age alone in his office with the rest of the school empty?

"Take a seat Miss Wells," he greeted me, pointing to one of two chairs set out in front of his large wooden desk. It must have been a hundred years old and looked like it could have survived a bombing it was so sturdy.

As for the rest of the office, it looked almost exactly as it had several months ago when he first "interviewed" me. Yep, the same furniture, even the same family photos except now I was a lot more familiar with the people portrayed in them. I saw him and his beautiful wife in one of them and wondered what his foxy wife would say if she knew the real reason why her husband was staying late after school today? I was pretty positive he hadn't told her who he was meeting with!

Funny, but he seemed unsure how to start so I just sat there with my legs crossed and my hands folded modestly in my lap, waiting patiently for him to take the lead. After all, it WAS his meeting so I was going to let him call the shots.

"So I guess you've probably been wondering when we would have this little chat, weren't you?" he started out softly.

I just shrugged, trying not to express anything that might lead him to believe one thing or another.

"Let's stop wasting both of our time, OK?" he suddenly blurted out, shifting his weight so as to sit on the edge of his chair while resting on his elbows on the desk in front of him. "We're both adults. We both know what this is REALLY all about, don't we?"

If he was looking for me to be the one to initiate anything, or to somehow condone what I knew he was leading up to, well then he was going to be sadly disappointed. There was absolutely no way on earth that I was going to give him anything that he could use later to claim that it was somehow all my idea or that I was complicit with anything. So I just sat there silently, waiting for him to get to the point.

"Fine, if this is how you want it, then I can deal with it," he huffed.

I could see he was quickly becoming frustrated. It wouldn't have surprised me to know that he had been fantasizing that somehow I would just waltz in, do a sexy strip-tease for him and finally beg him to fuck me - or something along those lines. Well, it wasn't going to be that easy for him. Sure, we both knew what I was probably going to eventually have to do, but it didn't mean I had to help him.

"Stand up," he demanded in a voice that suddenly turned bitter cold.

Gone was any facade of this being a formal "Performance Review". It was obvious things were going to happen pretty fast now and I could feel my heart racing. At the same time I also felt my pussy starting to tingle and I couldn't believe I could be reacting this way. OK, so it HAD been a while since I'd been laid but not THAT long, certainly no reason for my body to respond like this, especially under the circumstances.

Still, as I explained before, had he simply ASKED me from the beginning to have sex with me so he could cheat in his wife, then I probably WOULD be doing the strip tease thing for him on my own right now. It wasn't like he hadn't fucked me good in the past. In fact, he fucked me pretty damn well!

It was all becoming so damn complicated. My head stubbornly clung to the belief that it was wrong to trade sex for a career while my pussy was pushing me to go for it and take advantage of the situation. After all, it WAS quite a compliment that he was willing to risk so much just to have sex with me. His wife was a real fox, the classic MILF, and I'd actually found myself wishing she was bi during our trip out to California together this past summer.

Despite myself I couldn't help but think of how hot it would be if she was to walk in right now. We could have sex while her husband watched and then eventually he could fuck us both!

"I said take off your dress!"

My reverie was rudely interrupted and I realized that I'd been daydreaming. Mr. Eisenberg was glaring at me with a rather pissed-off expression. Apparently I hadn't heard him the first time while my mind went off on that weird tangent. It also served to break any train of thought I might be having about enjoying this with him as my logical side regained control and I started feeling a little angry at being forced into all this.

"NOW dammit, what the hell are you waiting for whore?"

THAT was almost the straw that broke this camel's back. It was bad enough to have to submit to him like a cheap whore just to keep my job, but to have him call me a whore was going too far. OK, so I WAS a slut but then I'm proud of my reputation. Being called a slut is an honor in that it means people see me as being sexy and they can tell I love sex. Whores, on the other hand, will do anything with anybody provide they get paid and I have no respect for anyone that does that - not even my cousin. Yet at the same time, wasn't I doing what Mr. Eisenberg demanded for a price - my job? Did that make me a whore to him?

Reaching behind me, I unzipped my skirt in back and let it drop to the floor around my ankles. The weather was warm enough and I still had enough of a tan to get away without panty hose or stockings so my legs were bare. If this had been a normal date I might have been embarrassed to be seen in such grandmotherly panties but then he was responsible for the dress code so I guess you could say it was his fault.

The creep had stood up as I was undressing and now his arms were crossed as he waited impatiently for me to strip the rest off so I unbuttoned my blouse and stood there in nothing but a black bra and panties. My heels were still on but I would have had to unbuckle the straps so I left them on for the moment.

"Well I see you're conforming to the dress code Miss Wells," he said smugly, "Actually I'm a bit surprised. I would've thought you to be the type to push the limits a little."

I just frowned at him and stood there with my hands on my hips, refusing to rise to his bait as I waited for his next demand. It wasn't long in coming...

"Hmmmmmm, why don't you come behind my desk and let's see how your cocksucking skills have progressed since our last review."

At least he had dropped the facade and wasn't trying to be so subtle anymore. In a way, I was glad to get the ball rolling as the sooner things got going, the sooner this nightmare would be finished. Feeling a little slutty, I walked slowly around his desk while he was working on undoing his pants.

By the time I was in front of him he had taken them off along with his underwear such that he was standing there in just his dress shirt, tie, socks and shoes. Trouble was, he looked so ridiculous that it was all I could do to keep from breaking out in laughter. The black socks were what really did it for me, coming almost to his knees. God, how nerdy could a man look?

Laughing at him wouldn't get me a passing grade so I bit my tongue and bent my knees to drop down in front of him until my face was level with his cock. Once again I felt conflicted. I couldn't believe I was going to suck his dick again just so I could keep my job. Then again, on the other hand he DID have a nice looking cock and I felt myself licking my lips without even realizing what I was doing as I stared at his rising dick.

It was almost impossible for me NOT to want to suck his cock. Since I sucked my first dick over ten years ago I've always loved sucking on a guy's dick. Since that first one I've sucked hundreds more but I never grow tired of it and I especially love it whenever I get the chance to try out a new one. Sure I'd sucked Mr. Eisenberg's dick a few times already but still, he DID have a nice cock and I DID feel this instinctive desire within me to suck it. In fact, I didn't even wait for him to say anything more before I leaned forward and took him my mouth right away, without even stroking him first.

Something in me suddenly mad me crave the feeling of his dick in my mouth. Well, that's not totally accurate. What I craved was the feeling of ANY dick in my mouth, not necessarily his in particular.

"Damn, now THAT'S what I call working for a grade!" he gasped as I went down on him and stuffed his entire dick in my mouth.

He was only about half-erect and so it was a cinch to fit him in but I also knew that even when fully erect he wasn't THAT big.

"Oh yeah, take it all just like that," he gasped as I pressed my face into his bushy crotch, feeling his dick growing with each passing moment.

I've always loved that feeling I get when a man's cock grows in my mouth. It's like it's magic and no matter how many times I experience it, I don't think I'll ever grow tired of it. God I loved feeling his dick in my mouth as it hardened and lengthened.

"You love sucking dick, don't you?" he said in a voice hoarse with his own lust, "It's OK, you can admit it... you love sucking MY dick, don't you Miss Wells?"

OK, so he had me pegged. What could I say, he was right. It was no different than putting a huge steak in front of a starving man and then telling him if he ate it then he would be selling his soul. Like there would really be a decision to make? So what if I was going against everything I'd promised myself? What did it really hurt to suck his dick? Wasn't I being a little too simplistic in my expectations? Given that I LOVED sucking cock was it really all that bad for me to suck one, especially if it meant keeping my job? Damn, like if I didn't have a problem with sucking a guy's dick for a free dinner, then why wasn't it OK to suck one for a much more important thing - to keep my job?

My pussy was on fire by now and I reached down inside my panties to play with myself as I kept sucking non-stop on Mr. Eisenberg's now fully erect dick. Mmmmmmm, I loved the way his hard cock felt in my mouth, stiff but yet smooth and soft at the same time. The sharp musk of his sex assaulted my nose and I breathed it in deeply, taking in the scent of his masculinity. My pussy was becoming more soaking wet by the minute and my finger easily slipped inside and then back up again to wet and tease my clit.

Personally, I would've been thrilled just sucking his dick until he came and calling it a day. After all, that's how many of my dates went. Despite what some people might think, I don't fuck every guy I date, at least not on EVERY date. Mr. Eisenberg, though, seemed to have different ideas.

"Stand up," he said, regaining his voice.

Reluctantly I let his wonderful dick slip from my lips and stood in front of him. I wiped my mouth off using the back of my hand and licked my lips, the taste of his dick still in my mouth.

"God, you look so fucking hot," he sighed as he stared at my lingerie-clad body. My assumption was that he would next insist on me taking it off next so I started to reach behind me to unhook my bra but he reached out to stop me.

"No... leave it on," he said urgently.

Then he reached out and hooked his fingers under the bottom of my bra, stretching it out and lifting it up and over my boobs until it was clear of them but still tight around the top of my chest. He put one hand on each of my breasts and started to squeeze them, play with my nipples between his fingertips, nipples which were bullet hard by now and sensitive to the touch. It was like a small electric shock ran through me whenever he pinched them and pulled on them.

"Perfect... just perfect," he sighed, "You get perfect marks for your tits."

Then he bent over and I felt his mouth on my boob, sucking on it softly at first and then hard, drawing the nipple into his mouth where he grabbed it with his teeth and tugged on it. It really did feel good and I could feel any remaining resistance in me fading away as he suckled on my boobs like a starving baby.

"Oh Mr. Eisenberg, that feels so good," I heard myself saying as if I was on the sidelines watching the action.

Indeed, it DID feel good but should I be encouraging him? DID I really want him to know I was enjoying this?

Then with his mouth still on my nipple I felt his hand pull my panties to the side and he started to explore my pussy, rubbing my clit and sliding his fingers up and down my pussy lips between my clit and my pussy hole. Standing up was becoming more and more a chore as my legs weakened with the incredible feelings of pleasure he was giving me by fondling my pussy. We both knew what the other wanted. Hell, I knew what I wanted, THAT was for sure! Any sense of resistance was long since gone and I knew what I needed more than anything at his moment. There was only one thing that I wanted and I had to have it.

"Fuck me... Oh god fuck me Mr. Eisenberg," I gasped, the words exploding from my mouth as my desires overwhelmed me.

For just a brief moment I felt a surge of intense guilt. Hadn't I sworn that I would NEVER ask him to fuck me again? Oh sure, I resigned myself from the start that I would probably have to LET him fuck me, but I would be damned if I was going to ASK for it, let alone beg for it.

Well, that was an easy promise to make back home but it was a much different situation now. NOW I wanted his dick in me and even though I knew he wanted to fuck me too, he didn't seem to be in any rush to do it. Well, I wanted it NOW. No more of this foreplay crap, I wanted to be fucked and I wanted to be fucked NOW.

Enough was enough so I pushed him away and sat back on his desk, pushing everything out of the way without any concern or care. Leaning back, I raised my knees up, spreading my legs apart without any shame or modesty. My panties were still on but I didn't care. Reaching down, I pulled the crotch over to the side and looked up at him, my voice barely recognizable now as I was utterly consumed by my lust and desires.

"Please fuck me Mr. Eisenberg," I begged, hating myself for doing it but not caring any more.

As much as I knew he wanted to fuck me, he seemed to be getting off just from seeing me acting this horny. Well, maybe "acting" was the wrong word as there was no acting going on so far as I was concerned.

"You want this in you, don't you slut?" he teased me, waving his dick around with his hand just inches from my pussy.

Then he slapped my pussy with it and pulled it away. "You need my dick in you, don't you? I can see it in your eyes. C'mon, beg for it slut... beg me to fuck you. You know you want it so beg for it."

My pride and dignity were on the line but my need to feel his dick in me trumped everything else. The hell with it, I'd deal with my ego issues later. Now all I cared about was addressing this overwhelming desire, this craving, this NEED I can't even begin to explain to have a dick inside of me. Heck, I really didn't care whose it was at this point. Like, the fat janitor could have walked in right now and I would've let him fuck me.

God only knows what I might do at a time like this if one of those cute boys in my class somehow wandered in - I was in that crazy of a mood - dying to be fucked and not caring who or even what fucked me. Shit, a stray dog could have wandered in and I would have gladly accepted his dick. I mean, I was like THAT horny at this moment.

Fortunately Mr. Eisenberg's cock was available so none of those ridiculous thoughts which were weaving their way through my sex-crazed mind ever had a chance of happening - not that they really ever would but when I get that bizarre you never know what I might do.

"Oh god, yes! Fuck me!" I cried out as I felt his dick beginning to finally penetrate me.

He didn't say a word as he yanked my panties roughly to the side and slipped himself in me. YES!! Finally I had what I wanted and that was all I cared about at that moment. My legs automatically wrapped themselves around his waist as I tried to pull him even tighter against me, wanting ALL of his dick in me, craving every inch of that wonderfully erect cock.

As he fucked me I could hear myself babbling on about how good it felt in me, how I wanted him in me so badly, begging him to fuck me deeper and harder, and on and on in an almost non-stop litany of dirty slutty talk. He seemed to love it and the nastier and filthier I got, the faster and harder he fucked me. It's funny how some men want the sweet innocent girl when they fuck me but then others seem more turned on by the dirty whore persona. Without any doubt, today Mr. Eisenberg was definitely into the whore side of the equation!

"Shit... I'm gonna cover you all over with cum," he announced, repositioning himself in preparation for pulling out me so he could spray me god only knows where when he came.

Well, NOT if I had anything to say about it.

"No!... cum inside my cunt," I said between gasps as I struggled to breath.

"Oh? So the whore wants me to stay in her, eh?" he replied with an almost evil expression, "Then beg for it whore, beg me for my cum, tell me how badly you want it in your nasty wet cunt."

At this point I was beyond caring anymore about my dignity or self-respect. After all, what more could I do that would make things any worse than they already were? Let's see... so far I'd given in completely to his demands and while I'd never admit later that I'd submitted myself to him, I was certainly going along with everything he wanted. In for a penny... in for a pound as they say. Why not finish it the way he wanted?

"Oh Mr. Eisenberg, I want to be your fucking whore... fuck me... mate me... cum inside of me dammit," I begged, "I want to be filled with your hot cum, feel your sperm in me."

It wasn't just an act - I WANTED him to cum in me. Had he known just how badly I wanted it he might've taken more advantage of the situation as I would have done about anything, promised about anything, committed myself to about anything, anything to long as he stayed inside of me and let me feel him cumming in me. There's something so frustrating, so empty when a man pulls out in the middle of his orgasm. It's like you've worked so hard to get to that point and then suddenly it's snatched away from you.

I wanted him to finish in me, to complete what he started, to give me his adulterous cum - the cum that SHOULD have been in his wife's pussy. Indeed, I wished his wife could be here now to see her husband as he released himself in another woman.

Mr. Eisenberg started to say something - I think he was going to make me beg even more but his dick betrayed him and he started to cum whether he was ready or not. Sometimes it works out for the best that men can't control their orgasms. He groaned loudly as he thrust his hips forward, smashing his hairy crotch into my bare pussy as he held himself still inside of me while his first load of cum erupted from his adulterous dick.

"Oh god!" we both cried out simultaneously as he jerked involuntarily with each ejaculation.

As for me, I just laid back on his desk and concentrated on the faint blooms of warmth that followed each of those mighty thrusts, trying to imagine his cum spurting from the end of his cock into the depths of my warm dark pussy. My hand was on my pussy and I was so close... so close!

"Oh fuck!" I moaned as it was my turn to cum.

He had stopped jerking but he held his spent dick in me as my pussy spasmed around him, pressing down on him as if it was trying to milk his dick to draw every drop of cum from him. I laid my head back on the desk and closed my eyes, just lying there still as he held my legs up and pushed himself in a little more to keep his deflating dick inside of me.

God I loved this feeling and despite everything it was all worth it just to be able to experience it yet again. It was the closest thing I can imagine to being in heaven as I laid there while my orgasm surged through me while a man's dick filled my pussy, surrounded by his fresh cum. My boobs were about to explode with pleasure as I held onto them like a life preserver as he rubbed his crotch up against my hyper-sensitive clit. Oh yeah, this was what I lived for... this was what I craved and would do anything for - even whore myself for if that's what it took.

Finally I started to relax and when I opened my eyes I saw him staring at me, smiling with this ridiculously wide grin on his face. He pulled himself out of me, allowing my legs to drop and hang down from the edge of the desk. I didn't have the energy to sit up yet so I just laid there, most likely looking like some whore in a porn film with my cum-drenched pussy wide open for him to see and my pointed boobs laying out for him to enjoy.

About the only thing that could have possibly made it better would be to have his wife walk in now and see the results of his handiwork laying out on his desk. His wife knew full well as a result of our trip to California what I slut I really was so I doubt it would've really surprised her all that much to see that it was me on the desk. After all, he would've had to be pretty kinky to want to fuck any of the other teachers.

"C'mon, get dressed. I need to get home before someone starts wondering why I'm so late," he said abruptly.

Typical man. While I could've laid there for a lot longer, rubbing myself just enough to enjoy the feelings that were still flooding me, he's done his thing and now he was ready to leave. I managed to somehow stand up and for a moment I had to hold onto the edge of the desk as I felt a little disoriented and dizzy.

"What's the matter, did I fuck you too well?" he teased me.

Somehow I don't think he was joking as he seemed quite proud of himself. Shaking my head, I tried to ignore him as I straightened out my bra and buttoned my blouse. The feeling of the soft bra interior against my hard nipples made me shiver and then I started to fix my panties back in place.

"Don't bother.. give them to me," he demanded. I looked at him with a questioning glance, not quite sure what he meant.

"Give me your panties... their mine now," he said more forcefully this time as he held out his hand.

At this point I wasn't in any mood to argue so I slipped them off and handed them over to him. He put them in his pant pocket for god only knew what purposes later. In spite of everything I couldn't help but think of how many guys have asked me for my panties over the years - and they always wanted the dirty ones!

No doubt I could make a fortune on-line selling my panties. I'd have to buy enough so I could wear a new pair every day and then mail them to yet another "customer" when I took them off at the end of the day. In fact, at one point I'd actually considered it but it seemed too creepy in the end.

With my outfit (sans panties) back in place, I checked myself out in a mirror on hung the wall and realized my hair was a total disaster. Mr. Eisenberg was in a rush to leave but I couldn't go walking around the school looking like I'd just had sex - even if it WAS the truth. Nobody should be around but then you never know. Knowing my luck the head Pastor would be walking around.

"Well, I'd say you passed your performance review today," he said but then he added, "But just barely. I think we're going to have to keep a close eye on you for the time being so don't be surprised if I call you in more often to discuss how you're doing."

I suppose later the full impact of what he'd just said would sink in later but for the moment, all I wanted to do was get out and go home. As I started to regain my senses, there was this sense of revulsion rising in me because of what I'd just done. All I wanted at this instant was to put as much distance between me and him and his office with that damn desk as possible. Grabbing my purse, I left his office without another word and headed for the parking lot.

On the way I passed my classroom and the thought struck me as to what my students would think if they knew what a whore their teacher had been after class today? Well, actually they probably wouldn't have understood it in the first place but I knew their parents certainly would. God, if word of what I'd just done ever got out... I'd be finished forever so far as teaching was concerned. Sure, his career would be in ruins as well but I didn't give a damn about him. It was MY career that I cared about.

4. The Drive Home

As one might imagine, on my way home I was having a horrible time concentrating on my driving. No jury in the world would convict me for being an emotional wreck? It seemed one minute I was confused, then excited, disgusted, thrilled, horny, and even angry. Heck, sometimes it was a mixture of them at the same time like when my pussy was still so worked up it would almost cramp but yet I was yelling at myself for being such a fool. No doubt more than a few people driving by must have thought I was a little "touched" as some of my "discussions" with myself became quite animated!

To top it all off, my cell phone rang and I saw it was Riley calling me, the guy I'd been dating lately. My first instinct was to ignore it but I hadn't heard from him in a few days so I was anxious to talk with him again. Taking a deep breath, I answered it as calmly as I could. Riley asked me how my day had gone and then mentioned that he'd been hoping to catch me after school but I didn't come out with everyone else so he was just checking to see if I'd been at school today and if everything was alright.

Just my luck, the one day he makes it to the school all week and what am I doing but getting laid by my boss in his office. God, what could I say to him? Obviously not the truth! Oh sure, I could just picture me saying something like, "Sorry Riley, I had to stay after today so my married boss could fuck me silly on his big desk." Actually, the very thought of it sent shivers through me and my pussy actually got that tingle it gets when I'm really horny.

For the briefest of moments I flirted with the idea of saying just that. Who knows, maybe Riley would like me better if he knew what a slut I was. If I put out for him the way I just did for Mr. Eisenberg, would he be more interested in me? Thankfully common sense prevailed and I simply told him I'd had to stay after work for a performance review - which technically wasn't a lie. OK, so I didn't bother to mention what skills of mine had been reviewed!

"Yeah, those can be a bitch," he commiserated with me, "Man, I can't believe he made you stay after work on a Friday though."

Fortunately we were on the phone and he couldn't see the sly grin on my face when I thought about just how "hard" Mr. Eisenberg's dick had been.

"Well, I think I made a pretty good impression," I said, smiling to myself at the memory of the look on Mr. Eisenberg's face when I started sucking his cock and then later when he was cumming in my pussy.

God, if only Riley had even a hint of how horny it was making me by talking to him about this! Without really thinking about what I was doing, I put the phone on speaker and used my hand to pull up my skirt so I could reach my crotch - nice and bare now as my panties were in Mr. Eisenberg's hands - literally most likely.

Riley started to talk about the weekend and what plans we both might have. By the time he got around to asking me out Saturday night I already had my fingers working my pussy and I pulled them to my mouth and tasted a little of Mr. Eisenberg's cum that had drained from me during the drive so far.

Mmmmmmm, I wondered what Riley's dick would feel like in my mouth and how my pussy would taste after he'd cum in me?

So far Riley and I had barely even kissed, let alone anything more, but at this moment had he been in the car driving with me in the passenger seat I had no doubt what I'd be doing. Traffic or not, I'd have my head in his lap sucking that dick he'd been hiding under his jeans from me. Regardless of my befuddled emotions, my body was craving more sex and I would've loved to have him pull over to the side of the rode and fuck me right now. He was still jabbering away when a quick gasp escaped my lips when my clit caused me to jump involuntarily after touching it on just the right spot.

"Hey, you OK?" he asked, breaking off from his discussion about the lack of good movies playing over the weekend.

Once again I was sorely tempted to respond with something like, "Oh I'm fine, just got my skirt up and now I'm masturbating while I'm driving and talking to you. By the way, how would you like to fuck me right now?"

Once again common sense came to the rescue so instead of saying what I WANTED to say, I brushed it off as being something to do with the heavy traffic. That sort of backfired as Riley then said he would call me later so I could concentrate on the road. Little did he know the real reason for my lack of concentration!

After he hung up I continued to masturbate as I drove. As I'd feared, by leaving the school so late on a Friday afternoon the traffic was miserable. It was pretty much stop and go but on the positive side it gave me plenty of opportunities to touch myself without having to worry about my driving. There were a few times when I would get myself rally going and the guy behind me would honk when the traffic started moving and I didn't notice. He probably figured I was on my cell phone and not paying attention. Maybe he would've been a little more understanding if he knew what I was really doing right in front of him.

As I touched myself I couldn't help but think about what I was doing and WHY I was doing it. The reality of my situation was beginning to sink in. Wow, how had I allowed myself to get to this point? Here I was, sitting in rush-hour traffic with one hand under skirt playing with my freshly fucked pussy after allowing my boss to fuck me so I could keep my job. Whew! Just saying that in one sentence was enough to run me out of breath!

Looking back, when I entered his office I knew deep down that he would likely fuck me before I left. If I was honest with myself I knew that while I had every intention of making him work for it, eventually I would be giving in to him.

As much as I would like to have blamed hormones and allowing myself to get carried away under the circumstances, there was no escaping the reality that I went into his office of my own free will with the expectation that he would fuck me. Not only had I reconciled myself to being fucked, as much as I hated to admit it I also knew that I would probably enjoy it more than I should but that wasn't really too bad a thing to hope for.

Maybe I had been trying to convince myself that it was just something I had no choice about. Perhaps I was guilty of rationalizing everything I the name of my career. Still, regardless of WHY I allowed myself to go to his office, what I honestly never anticipated was how I would react to the situation once it got started. Even when I allowed myself to think about it, I never pictured myself being the aggressor or begging for anything. If anything, quite the opposite. HE was going to be the one to make all the first moves. HE was going to be the one to beg to fuck me. HE was going to be the one to plead with me not to tell his wife. There was something in the idea of him being the one that wanted it the most that made it seem OK for me prior to our meeting.

So what excuse did I have? Sure I hadn't been laid for almost a week but still, it wasn't like I'd been celibate for a month or more. I'd masturbated as usual this morning so it wasn't like I should have been TOO horny, even though I'd skipped my usual lunchtime "break" because I'd been so nervous about the upcoming meeting. There was nothing I could point to that I could say made me WANT to go to his office, that was for sure. It was what happened once I was there that mattered.

Basically I have no logical excuse for my reactions. I guess there are just times when your body needs something and it forced you to do whatever it takes to fulfill that need. Sort of like when I crave a particular flavor of ice cream and end up searching every grocery store for miles until I find it.

Something in me just snapped when I walked in. Maybe it was seeing the photos of his wife and family, almost like they were watching as their dear husband and father committed adultery yet again with me. Maybe it was the sight of his erect dick - something that almost always turns me on given that it's hard because of me. OK, so maybe I'm just a slut and I like to be fucked - sue me.

With all the starts and stops I never made myself cum on the way home but time certainly went by a lot faster when you're fingering yourself while waiting for a long stoplight! Finally I was home and I couldn't wait to strip and lay in my bed and finish myself off. Actually, what I ended up doing was filling the bathtub with hot water and bubble bath soap. Mmmmmmm, it felt so good to relax in the hot water as I played with myself.

After I'd finally gotten myself off and felt a little more calmed down, I laid out on the couch and waited for Kristen to get home from wherever she was. I'd decided to tell her what happened and get her reaction - as if I didn't know already what it would be. She would undoubtedly encourage me to do him again and frankly, at this point the idea didn't bother me anymore.

If anything had come out of my "performance review", it was acceptance of my situation. Why fight it? Why not enjoy it? While I wasn't going to seek it out, the thought of my next "review:" no longer repulsed me. Hmmmmmm, I started to wonder what I should wear to the next one... something a little more interesting under the conservative teacher outfit might be fun.

Oh well, I guess I'll just have to wait and find out when the time comes.

(Sep 13) Chapter 197: Compromises Followup

Story codes: nosex
Me (24)
Mr. Eisenberg (40)

Recently I wrote about how I was forced to have sex with my boss to keep my job. Admittedly, I ultimately enjoyed it and if it hadn't been for the circumstances surrounding everything, I might have even thought about doing it again. That said, something had to be done about the situation before it got any further out of hand. Note: This is for those people who follow my diary and may be curious as to what happened after my last diary entry. There is no sex in this entry and for those with vivid imaginations, I doubt what happened is what you "hoped" for.

1. How I Got Here

Don't worry, I'm not going to repeat everything that I just published a few days ago in my recent diary entry "(Sep 11) Chapter 196: Compromises". Just a brief word for those who have no idea what this is all about...

Ever since I was a little girl, my goal in life was to be a school teacher. My dad is a lawyer and my mom was a nurse but neither of those professions interested me. For me, teaching was really the only thing I ever considered. I worked hard in school, got good grades, suffered through four years at a strict, conservative college to get a good degree, and finally achieved what I'd dreamed of - I became a teacher. Albeit, my first position was only temporary, filling in for a teacher on medical leave, but I had hopes of it becoming permanent. The pay was crap and the benefits non-existent, but it was a teaching job nonetheless and besides, it would look good on my resume when I reapplied to one of those larger schools with huge waiting lists for teachers.

Since I was fourteen and first had sex with the sixteen year-old brother of one of my friends, I've always been sexually active, to put it mildly. Actually, most people who know me call me a slut - a moniker I actually take pride in as it says people think I'm sexy and desirable. However, regardless of my personal lifestyle, I'd always tried to keep it separate from my professional career. To me, sucking a guy's dick to have him take me out and pay for a good time is one thing, putting out for a teacher to get a better grade is another. If I was going to be a teacher I wanted to make it based on my hard work and skills -not my sexual prowess.

With that in mind, when my new career hit a speed bump (actually, it was more like a mountain), it was because exactly what I didn't want to happen, happened. The guy I once thought I might marry broke up with me. His family were good friends of the family of the school administrator where I was working and so he used the opportunity to pass along some personal information about me and my family. While nothing that would harm me or my dad (thankfully my boyfriend didn't know about THAT relationship), it was enough for the administrator to meet with me privately and ask for my resignation. Officially I resigned for "personal reasons" but we both knew as long as he was in office that my teaching career was on hold - if not forever.

Well, it turned out his term ended sooner than anyone expected when he had a sudden heart attack and was forced to resign. Assuming his replacement wouldn't know the details of my departure, I applied for my old position back. As it turned out, he DID know but rather than turn me away, he used that knowledge to blackmail into having sex with him as a condition of my employment. Under the circumstances, I didn't have much choice so I did what I had to do - what any girl would have done in my shoes.

Being the new administrator was married to a hot fox with two daughters, had he simply hired me and then later made a pass at me, the odds were I would have gladly had sex with him. Indeed, he was exactly the type of guy that turns me on when it comes to having recreational sex. He was taking a HUGE risk in fucking me and even better, to want me that bad when he had a wife at home as hot as she was and as sexually open as she was just made it all the better for me.

Unfortunately, there were several things that turned this from being what should have been something fun and exciting to a nightmare that upset me and made me look for whatever I could do to stop it. The issue for me was that it involved my job - as in whether or not I had one. Making sex a condition for my employment was exactly what I did NOT want to ever happen so he was forcing me to enter into something I never wanted.

That alone would have been enough but then there was my "rule" about fucking married men - only do them once. Doing a married guy again is like shooting a deer after it's already down from the first shot. It's the fact he cheated on his wife in order to have sex with me, that he put everything on the line because of his lust for me, that his wife had no idea what I was doing with her husband – those are what turn me on when I have sex with a married guy. After the first time, it's just another a rerun where you already know the ending. Also, I have no desire to be some guy's mistress where basically he gets all the benefits and I get nothing but having to skulk about worrying that his wife will find out – and she inevitably will.

With Mr. Eisenberg, there was a third strike in that I spent almost a week in California with his family this past summer at a church convention. He forced me to go so he could fuck me a few times while we were there. It only complicated things as I got to know his wife personally and thus she shifted from being the faceless, clueless wife at home to a woman with thoughts and feelings. Maybe we weren't quite friends but still, she was no longer someone I could just brush off when he was cheating with me.

When I started school this fall, Mr. Eisenberg and I didn't even have any sort of real discussion for the first few weeks until last Friday when he told me to meet him in his office after school for a "performance review". Well, he wanted to review my performance, that was certainly true, but it was NOT my teaching skills that were in question. There was never any doubt I would pass such a review – nor any of the others he implied would be scheduled in the future.

What upset me the most when it was over wasn't even the fact that he had made me do it in order to keep my job. THAT was bad but there were something far worse. No, what really upset me was how I reacted once things got started. It was like I hadn't had been fucked in ages instead of just under a week ago. It was like once things got started I couldn't control myself and I became exactly the dirty slut for he desired, even to the point I literally begged him to fuck me before it was over.

On the drive home from my "review", I swore I would find an answer to this situation. I knew it couldn't continue as eventually we would be found out – these things ALWAYS become public knowledge sooner or later. As for his career, I didn't give a damn about his but I WAS worried sick about mine. Plus, he was married and so there were all those complications as well. The key questions was, what could I do? It's not like I had all that many options.

2. Options

When I mentioned my situation to a guy I knew from on-line that I talked to a lot (he's not on my website anywhere so don't bother looking), he had three suggestions for me in an email that soon followed out chat…

Dear Kelly,

After thinking about your situation with Mr. Eisenberg, I had an idea - why don't you talk to your father about it? He is a lawyer, right? So he could advise you as to what sort of legal grounds you may have to do something about it. Plus, since he loves you, he will understand the predicament that has occurred and not be judgmental of you in any way. As I see it, your choices are:

Try to make him stop through threats of legal action. In my mind this is the best choice but also the riskiest

Try to make the best of it until you can get another job - in doing that, you can keep making excuses as to why you can't do it with him that often and/or make it as unenjoyable for him as possible.

Tell him you don't mind doing it with him as long as he doesn't threaten you with your job (like you said that's how you felt). In my mind, this is the worst choice... it seems to me to be very contrary to so much you have told me about your beliefs.

I'm here to help you with this however I can Kelly.

Although I had thought pretty much along the same lines at first, I had to reject all three options. The first, threaten him with legal action, would have certainly worked but would also have dragged in lawyers and investigators who would be sure to make my past sexual history a part of the case and who knows how deep they might be able to go. It was way too risky.

The second choice would have worked great - IF I only a few months to go before the year was over but I now face an entire school year so there's no way I could stall him off that long. All he would have to do is file an unsatisfactory job performance review and I would be history - as well as blacklisting me from every other school in the future.

The last choice I actually seriously considered for quite a while. It would've been relatively easy, just give in to him the same way I'd done so far. When the school year was coming to an end, I could always apply for another job and leave no worse for wear. Besides, it wasn't like I didn't enjoy him fucking me. If I could somehow cast aside my principles for just six to nine months, I could probably have some good times while keeping my job intact.

Well, in the end I decided I couldn't do it. I may not be perfect and I know there are times when I act counter to the things I claim to believe in but who's perfect? There's a difference, though, in doing something "wrong" out of a moment of weakness or lust and doing that same thing in a premeditated way that you had time to think about and make an informed decision. Until this situation with Mr. Eisenberg had developed, I had never taken the easy way out by using sex and this was no time to start. There HAD to be a way out of this without becoming a total hypocrite.

Maybe it was a sign as the answer came to me in church. The sermon was boring, as usual, and my mind was drifting off thinking about my situation with Mr. Eisenberg. It didn't help that my dad hadn't been feeling good this morning so I didn't get my usual Sunday morning fuck before church. Needless to say, I was pretty horny sitting in the pew next to my cousin and Aunt Linda. As usual, I'd left my panties at home and with my legs crossed I was feeling a bit itchy down there between them.

Since I'd been fucked by Mr. Eisenberg a couple of days before it had been this way - alternating between being horny as hell and totally disgusted with myself. Right now I was at the "horny" end of the spectrum and it was all I could do to keep from putting my hand between my legs and masturbate. Not that I'd never done it in church but it was at times when I could be a little more discreet about it.

One of the fantasies I had a number of times was fucking Mr. Eisenberg in front of his wife and then having her join in. She was really hot for her age and the couple of times I'd seen her dressing while we were out in California were enough to make me wish she wasn't so straight as a ruler. Her female instincts allowed her to recognize me as potential threat (which I was, from her perspective at least) and she had made it plain to me in no uncertain terms that I was to keep my hands off her husband. Well, she didn't say to keep my mouth off, did she?

It was while I was thinking about what it would be like to 69 with his wife when it struck me. SHE was the perfect solution to my problem. No, I didn't think even for a moment that this would be a sexually-oriented solution - she'd made it perfectly clear to me where she stood on girl-girl sex (an abomination in the eyes of God among other things). The key for me was deciding how she would react if she knew her husband was indeed cheating on her with me. I'd gotten the idea this past summer that while she plainly suspected that he WANTED to fuck me, she didn't have proof he DID so she never said anything more. Hmmmmmm, so what would she do if she HAD the proof?

I'd actually first worried about this very thing back in the spring when Mr. Eisenberg and I first did it. A the time, my thoughts instinctively took on the "neuter and divorce him for everything he has" reaction. However, I was probably biased by what I would do if my future husband ever was so stupid as to cheat on me. For me, there is no more evil a sin that a man can commit against his wife than the act of adultery (or vice versa for that matter). Thus I could never forgive my husband if he were to go out and cheat on another woman behind my back. Even WITH my knowledge, adultery is adultery and I can't think of any situation when it would be excusable, even if both of us supposedly agreed to it.

Now, as I thought more about it (in between thoughts of her tongue on my pussy), I wondered if perhaps I'd misread her reactions. There was also the fact she had two daughters and a family life that would be hurt by a divorce, not to mention the humiliation of having to deal with the publicity of what her husband had been doing with me - and right under her nose in some cases. Maybe... just maybe... she could be the answer to my dilemma.

That afternoon I thought about it some more and I finally came to the point I had to make a choice between two unsavory options. Option One was clearly the coward's way out. I could do nothing and just let him fuck me for the rest of the school year. That had the advantage of being easy plus I enjoyed having sex with him. It was bad in that it went against everything I stand for and believe in and it would taint my teaching career forever.

Then there was Option Two: tell his wife. This was a LOT more risky in that she could go ballistic and create a public spectacle, ruining both of our careers and possibly exposing my own family to harm. On the other hand, it would be standing up for what I believed in and I knew that if it worked, I'd be able to look myself in the mirror and be proud of who I saw.

Was there really a choice when I came down to it? Once I made up my mind, I knew I had to do it and get it over with before I chickened out. If I let myself have sex with him again, and who knows when he might demand it - it could be tomorrow for all I knew now that he'd broken the ice so to say at school. As much as I might say otherwise, at least I was honest enough with myself to admit that I might never be able to stop myself if we did it again.

3. What I Did

With a firm resolve I dialed their home phone number and thankfully his wife was the one to answer. She sounded surprised to hear me - and for that matter, why not as I was probably the last person on Earth that she ever expected to call. I didn't say much, just asking that she meet me at a local restaurant for a few minutes to discuss something important. She didn't even ask me why, just quickly agreeing and then hanging up without further comment. It was all so quick I was left wondering if somehow she knew right away what it was all about - or at least the subject matter.

When I arrived she was already seated and had a hot cup of black coffee before her. We formally exchanged pleasantries and then I took a seat on the opposite side of the booth. There was no small talk about the weather or anything. Instead, we got right to the subject at hand...

It wouldn't be worth it for me to write down the entire conversation as I'm pretty sure most anyone can figure out what we said. As I suspected, she didn't seem surprised when I told her there was something going on between me and her husband. Of course, it didn't help when she mentioned thing like she wasn't surprised that a "slut like you" wouldn't honor her request to leave her husband alone and such. What could I say? Most likely I'd of been a lot less calm about it had our situations been reversed.

Mrs. Eisenberg allowed me to say pretty much what I had to say without interruption other than a few of those sharp comments that I mentioned. When I was done we just sat there for a couple of minutes, her staring at me like she was trying to decide whether to just kill me or that I was the lowest form of life she'd ever encountered - that sort of stare. Feeling a bit awkward, I just kept my mouth shut and let her take her time in responding. When she did, it was slow and deliberate.

"Ok, so here's the deal," she said in an icy tone, "Let me lay it out so there's no misunderstanding this time..."

"One - This is the last time you and I will EVER discuss this - or anything else for that matter. I never want to have anything to do with someone like you ever again."

"Two - You are to stay away from me and my family, especially my daughters. I don't want them being associated with sluts and whores."

"Three - if you EVER have any contact with my husband other than what is absolutely required for your job - and I mean as this school determines it, I will see to it that you are exposed for what you are - a nasty, despicable whore who chases and traps married men."

"Last - you will find another job for next year. If you're still teaching here next fall I will see to it that you wish you weren't. Don't worry, I'll make you sure you get an outstanding recommendation from your boss."

Then she sat leaned over and looked at me with eyes filled with what I can only describe as sheer hatred.

"You know... the sad thing is I knew you were going to be trouble the first time I laid eyes on you. For now I'll accept part of the blame for not stepping in sooner. Still, I don't know how you can live with yourself being what you are - and doing what you do. My husband is a good man but he is weak. I can't believe he would've done this unless you pushed him into it - sorry, I'm not buying any of your crap about him blackmailing you. You plainly saw an opportunity and took advantage of him. Now for whatever reason you want out so you're trying to make him look like the bad guy. Well, I won't let you do that to him."

With that she started to get up to leave but then she turned back to me and said in a low voice, "This may not be very Christian of me but I pray that someday someone will hurt you as badly as you have harmed my family."

She hurried off, leaving me with the bill which I paid and then I headed home myself.

Well, at least I was pretty sure I wouldn't have to worry about having sex with Mr. Eisenberg again. On the way home I didn't know whether to cry – with joy or out of shame. I wondered if she really believed what she had told me or was she just rationalizing so she could address her husband's infidelity and still keep their marriage intact? The looks she had given me, the sheer disgust in her tone of voice, and the nasty things she said about me stung even though I knew they were more her way of lashing out against her husband than me.

In any case it was done and over. I learned a number of valuable lessons from all this and hopefully, so did the Eisenbergs.

(Sep 19) Chapter 198: Old Habits Die Hard

Story codes: MF FF MMF F-solo oral exhib inc cousins
Me (24)
Kristen - cousin (22)
Lisa (21)

One of the best things to happen lately was when my cousin Kristen quit her job as a professional escort, A.K.A. hooker, whore, or whatever else you would call what she did. I know she loved her "work" and she was making a small fortune but even with the few experiences I had with her I knew sooner or later it would end in tragedy.

Being a Realtor may not be as glamorous (she's in school now), but after having worked with her mom (also a realtor) before, I was sure she would still find ample opportunity to use her "talents", only in more safer situations.

Well, you can take the girl from the streets but you can't take the drive that put her there from her so easily. I guess I couldn't blame her for wanting to relive a little of her past life - but why did she have to get me involved?

1. Escorting Pros and Cons

Of all the things I've done, being an escort has to rank up with the stupidest, but yet the hottest, on the list. It's one thing to go out on a date and get laid - any girl can do that any time she wants if she really wants it badly enough. But when a complete stranger is willing to pay just to possess you for a few hours, now THAT is something else entirely.

I dabbled with the escorting business when I was in college. Back then the rules were so strict that I was about crazy being so horny so I thought it might be a good way to blow off some steam without getting in trouble at school. Thus it really wasn't the money I was interested in all.

Well, the first few "clients" were just as I had hoped and everything seemed to be going along just great until I had this one guy insist on tying me to the bed and blindfolding me, only to bring in a few friends once he had me helpless. The ironic thing is that had he simply asked (and paid a little more of course) I wouldn't have had a problem with it. Still, it was enough that I quit immediately after that and stuck with things like bachelor parties where there was safety in numbers.

After college I escorted but it was for a professional agency dealing with "legitimate" clients - no sex allowed. In fact, sex with a client was the one thing that would get you fired faster than anything as the agency I worked for wanted to keep a good reputation with the local vice squad. They were allowed to grope me a little but nothing more than what I let most guys do on a date anyway.

My cousin followed a different path. Even in college she found ways to earn a buck turning tricks. She only attended for two years but her sophomore year was a joke academically as she spent most of her time on her back in her dorm room - among other positions. Without much else to fall back on than her back (sorry, poor pun), she found herself an agency to work for who took care of clearing the clients and handling the money so she wouldn't have to deal with the problems of being arrested for prostitution. Kristen was twenty when she started whoring herself but she looked more like she was sixteen or seventy which put her in high demand for all those older guy with "teenage daughter" fantasies and such. She never told me exactly how much she made but it had to be a lot given her spending on clothes and even a car.

There were a few times she invited me along on one of her "assignments", usually when she needed another girl and one wasn't available from the agency that night. A couple of times it became quite interesting, to say the least. There was one particular party where I was fucked more times by more guys than I ever had been in my life - and probably ever will. For over three hours they lined up and fucked me, many of them not able to wait and just squirting themselves on me while another guy fucked me. It was one of those nights I'll never forget, that is for sure! God, it took three showers to get myself clean afterwards!

I didn't mind accompanying Kristen on some of her gangbang assignments so long as they were few and far between. Sure they were fun, but such "events" just aren't for me on a regular basis. It's no different than the parties my best friend Beth drags me off to now and then. Although in those cases it's got nothing to do with prostitution, it's still a bunch of people who I don't know very well, if at all.

Kristen and I have grown up like sisters and while we share a lot of the same interests, she's always been the more "wild" one, always seeming to want to go a little further than me in everything (or a LOT further in some cases). Whereas I have a few hang-ups and limits on where I'll go sexually - no anal, animals, BSDM, etc., Kristen has few, if any. She knows my feelings about certain subjects and generally stays away from them when we talk, but I know from a few slips she's made that she's been involved in a few really kinky scenes that I would NEVER do, no matter how hard she begged me.

Perhaps it's that side of her, the uninhibited "I'll do anything if you pay me enough" attitude that made me worry the most about her. I was sure that one of these days someone would dare her to do something that she would regret later, at least I would hope she had the chance to regret it later. So you can see why I was so relieved the day she announced her "retirement". At 22, it sounds funny to think of her as retiring from anything but two years in that business were like twenty in anything else.

About the same time my Aunt Linda, Kristen's mom, moved in with my dad. It had been almost a year since my mom's accident and I guess they figured it was long enough so why not make it official since she was spending most nights with him anyway. That opened a great opportunity for me as my new job as a teacher paid crap and with virtually no benefits so just paying my rent was more than I could handle.

My dad was helping me out but I wanted off "welfare" so I asked Kristen if she minded that I moved in with her. The house had three bedrooms with one being turned into her mom's office while another served as a spare bedroom. Kristen and her mom had slept together since her father left them when she only two years old so the spare bed was always available. Still, I just didn't feel right asking to move in with her while her mom was still there.

So now everything seemed to be going right. Kristen was going to be starting her classes soon. I had my new job which kept me busy all the time it seemed. My dad and Aunt Linda were living together and they both seemed happier than I'd seen them in a long time.

2. Kristen Gets Horny

For those with dirty minds... NO, Kristen and I do NOT share a bed. We each have our own bedroom with her staying in the same one she has always been in while I occupied the spare. Although we have been frequently together sexually, it has almost always been as part of some larger scene such as a party or a date. As teens we often dated guys together but even when we had sex with them, Kristen and I never did anything together much more than tease the guys a little.

We started masturbating together when barely teenagers but that was as far as we went together when it came to sex until I returned for summer break after my first year of college. Even then it was part of a family get-together and not something between just the two of us.

In a way I guess it is a little ironic in that while I often wonder what it would've been like had I grown up with a brother or sister, in a way Kristen was like the sister I never had yet we never had sex together growing up. Somehow I don't think had I had a REAL sister it would have been like that!

Needless to say, you can't expect a girl who was used to having sex with any number of strangers most every day of the week to suddenly become a nun and go to school and study books all night. So I wasn't surprised that she dated a lot and even invited boys home now and then. I say "boys" because Kristen and I differed when it came to who we liked to have sex with.

For me, nothing beats a middle-aged married man who hasn't been properly laid in ages and is dying to relive his teenage years as the stud he remembers himself being. As a rule, such guys treat me well, seem to genuinely care about how I feel during sex, and take their time as usually it's a one-time shot - even with the miracles of Viagra.

Guys my age are fine too and my preference when it comes to a boyfriend as I'm not going to be some gold-digger with an 80 year-old geezer when I'm in my prime! Of course the teenage boys are tempting - nothing beats a sixteen to eighteen year-old guy when it comes to raw energy and stamina. However, as a professional teacher I have to watch my reputation and in these times, nothing can destroy a career as fooling around with an underage boy. Thus I have a FIRM rule against sex with anyone under eighteen. Well, maybe seventeen as that's legal in my state but why push it?

flavored with some boy's sperm. Hmmm, maybe it was his first time? He certainly didn't look old enough to be THAT experienced.

I was still dressed in my school attire and I didn't want to mess up the dress. Besides, it came down to my mid-calf and would just get in the way. I lifted it up and over my head, draping it over the back of the chair by the wall to keep it from getting all wrinkled.

"God, you wear THAT to work every day?" Kristen groaned, seeing me in my bra and panties. Not even a thong but more like the kind of panties your mom would buy you as a little girl. "How do you stand it?"

It WAS one of the things I didn't care for as much at work - the dress code. However, it was made perfectly clear that all teachers would wear "appropriate undergarments" meaning conservative bras and panties. For the majority of the teachers it was moot as at their age, they NEEDED them.

For me, however, it was like a prison sentence. The past three weeks marked the first time in my entire life I'd worn a bra every day of the week *thank god for the freedom of weekends). Even in college, where technically they were required, I was able to get away without one most of the time.

I just shrugged and didn't waste any more time in getting on the bed and in between her incredibly tight and smooth legs. God, I would kill to have her legs and she didn't so much as run to her car let alone work out. Maybe there's something to be said for extreme amounts of sex when it came to staying fit?

The bed reeked of sex and her pussy odor was noticeable while my head was still quite a ways away. By the time I was at her crotch, it was almost overwhelming. Damn, how many times had he made her cum? For that matter, how many times had SHE made herself cum? Was the boy toy the start or just the last act? As it turns out, she was more than happy to tell me all about it as I started to lick her pussy.

"Oh fuck, that feels so good Kelly," she moaned, pulling her thighs back with her hands to spread her crotch more for me, "I've been wanting that all day!"

"Didn't you go to school today?" I asked, taking my mouth off of her pussy just long enough to get out the words before going back.

I worked my way down and tasted his cum on her. Mmmmmmm, I LOVED the taste of the boy's sperm mixed with Kristen's own special flavor of cum.

"I couldn't," she groaned as my tongue reached up in her in search of more of his cum, "Just been so damn horny all day."

"You've been in bed all day?" I asked incredulously.

It wasn't me between her legs, it was that short little kid with what had to be his most stiffest erecting he'd ever had, fucking her for the first time in his life. No wonder she was getting off so hard from her recent memories.

"Oh GOD!" she cried out as her hips thrust up hard into my face.

My cousin gushed as she came and my face was awash with her cum. It tasted great and I lapped it up like a kitten at a bowl of fresh milk. Kristen's legs pulled together, trapping my head between her soft thighs which became like a vise as she held me in their grip. Finally she collapsed on the bed, her thin arms and legs out spread-eagle on the bed as if she passed out but from her sighs and whimpers I knew she was had her eyes closed tight as she basked in the afterglow of her orgasm.

"Sorry, I just can't seem to get enough today," she finally said, almost apologetically.

Yeah, like she EVER gets enough so what else was new. Still, she DID seem to be a little more horny than usual so I wondered what was up. Some sort of withdrawal symptoms maybe from not being fucked as much as she was accustomed to for the past couple of years? "You know... you actually look pretty hot in a bra and panties," she whispered in a husky voice, "It's been a while since I saw you in 'em."

Uh oh, I knew exactly where THIS was going. Then again, I didn't mind it either. She wasn't the only one horny now! It would be ridiculous to expect me to lick a girl like Kristen and NOT want a little for myself afterwards. I started to reach behind me to unsnap my bra but she waved her hand at me as she struggled to sit up.

"No, no... leave it on... it looks sexy on you," she giggled.

Sexy? Hardly the words I would have used. I DID have bras that looked sexy but this certainly wasn't one of them. Straight off the rack at Macy's - white, full cup, no lace, lined with wide straps and four snaps in back. Yep, an industrial strength bra if one was ever built. I figured if I HAD to wear one all day, it may as well be comfortable as it wasn't like anyone would be seeing it. It seems the sexier the bra, or ANY lingerie for that matter, the less comfortable it becomes, especially if you have to wear it a long time. But then, most sexy lingerie isn't intended to be worn for very long, is it?

Same for the panties - most mothers would have bought the exact same pair for their daughters thirty years ago. It was explained to me when I started that thongs and high-waist underwear was not acceptable - although nobody explained to me how anyone would know what underwear I was wearing, if any. With the dresses and loose clothing I wore over top, who would know the difference? Still, I didn't want to cause any problems so for the time being at least, I conformed strictly with the dress code. Why let such a silly thing create an issue anyway. It's not like I was trying to turn on the sixth grade boys.

"Lie back," she whispered, that look on her face she got whenever I knew she was hungering for sex. I did as she said, taking time to remove my heels first. It's not like they were sexy, just one inch black heels with full toes and heel straps - comfortable to wear all day in a classroom. They were off before she could say anything and I scooting back until my head was on her pillow. Kristen was kneeling on the bed now, rubbing herself as usual as she looked at me with hunger in her eyes.

"I thought about you today Kelly," she said in a voice hoarse with lust, "I thought about how good you would have tasted while he was fucking me."

I didn't ask WHICH guy she was referring to. Again, did it matter? Whether or not she really had or was just saying so now also didn't matter, she was still horny and when Kristen was in this condition, it was easier to just go along for the ride.

Pulling my panties to the side, she smiled and reached out with her tongue to barely graze my pussy with the tip. I was already pretty wet as it was so it wasn't like she needed to help me out in that department.

When it comes to getting your pussy licked, as a general rule nobody does it better than another girl. Of course there are exceptions to every rule but guys, despite what we may say to soothe your tender egos, you just don't get it. I won't get into a lecture on how to lick pussy, but if you want to learn, try to get your girl to let you watch another girl lick her and see how it's done! I'm sure she won't complain if you ask and who knows, you may get lucky before it's over.

Personally, the one person who could lick my pussy better than anyone else was my mother. In all fairness I will admit she had an unfair advantage in that she WAS my mother. Many times I've stated that 80% (or more) or sex is in your head (the BIG head guys). Who it is, when it is, where it is, why it is - all these mean much more in getting me off than just the physical act of licking my pussy. How can any girl compete against my own mother when it comes to creating the maximum emotional experience possible? Of course she can no longer lick me, but in my heart she will always be the best.

After my mom, I have to say that Kristen is the overwhelming #2 when it comes to licking me. Her mom isn't bad, but she's not in the same league as her daughter. I can't really explain why, but Kristen looks so damn hot and is so genuinely enthusiastic while she's doing it, I can't help but come incredibly hard whenever she eats my pussy. You can tell from the smile on her face, the way she practically attacks my crotch, that she is doing it out of the sheer joy of eating my pussy and thoroughly loves what she is doing.

So after all that windy discussion, you can imagine how I felt as my hot slutty cousin started to lick me while pulling my panties over to the side. She could have easily pulled them down and off of me but for whatever reason she preferred to do it this way and I wasn't going to complain so long as she did it! The bra felt like I was in the grip of a boa constrictor as my chest heaved while trying to catch my breath when her tongue would hit me in just the right place.

"Oh Kristen... right there... don't stop!" I moaned softly, almost more a whimper as everything around me faded into the distance and all I could concentrate on was the incredible sensations she was creating between my legs.

My entire body felt like I was on some sort of drug, almost like I was lifting off the bed Goose bumps covered me even as I was seating at the same time. I wanted to just lay there and let he do her magic but my body wouldn't listen to me and I was squirming under her while she wrapped her arms around my bottom and grabbed my ass in her hands.

"Will you hold still!" she teased me, leaning down on her arms to try and keep my hips from jumping up every time her tongue ran over my hyper-sensitive clit.

God, she knew EXACTLY where to lick me and just how to do it.

"OH GOD!" I couldn't help myself from crying out as she pushed first one, then two and finally three fingers inside of my soaking wet pussy.

Kristen's mouth was firmly over my clit, her lips pulling on it and then letting it snap back into place. I loved the feel of her inside of me, exploring my pussy and rubbing me so perfectly.

I came then. Oh god did I cum! It was the perfect climax to the perfect setting. It started with seeing that cute little boy leaving her room, knowing what he'd been doing to Kristen in my absence. Then there the taste of his virgin cum dripping from her freshly fucked pussy. Licking her pussy and feeling her orgasm swell under me took me up another notch.

Now with her mouth on me, her fingers in my pussy, her free hand squeezing my butt, it was all I was going to be able to take as I exploded from within. My hair even seemed to tingle as I practically leaped off the bed yet somehow she managed to keep her face on me, never missing a beat as she licked me mercilessly.

"Oh god stop! I can't take it... STOP!" I cried out.

What in the world was I saying? The last thing in the world I wanted was for this to end but something in me had hit the panic button. It was almost too much, too overwhelming. It was like I was out of control, like I couldn't understand what was happening to me and I just had to make her stop before something happened to me. What, I don't know but SOMETHING was going to happen if this kept up for much longer.

Fortunately Kristen knew better than to stop. If anything, my exhortations just spurred on her all the more as she ate me with renewed vigor. Then something DID happen, I came again but oh my god it was like nothing I'd experienced in a long time. It was my first orgasm was just a precursor to the main event, a warm-up for the final act in this sexual odyssey.

It was almost too much for me. I closed my eyes because it was too weird to open them, like I had tunnel vision and everything around me was going black. The tingling sensation was replaced by this incredible feeling of warmth, as if my body temperature had risen ten degrees and I was burning up from the inside. It was all over me, not in one particular place but like my entire body was being elevated to some strange place where nothing but pleasure existed. God, I wanted this to never stop!

"Kelly!... Kelly... are you OK?"

I heard Kristen's voice but for some reason I couldn't answer, like my voice was gone or something was keeping me from responding.

"Kelly! Dammit Kelly, this isn't funny!"

I opened my eyes and everything was blurry. Slowly things came into focus and I saw Kristen leaning over me. Despite everything I couldn't help but note that her perfect boobs weren't sagging a bit, even as she held herself over me. Then I noticed the expression on her face, like she was worried about something.

"Dammit Kelly, you scared the shit out of me," she huffed as she leaned back.

I didn't understand what she was saying and I guess she finally figured that out as she explained.

"You went away... passed out... fainted... hell I don't know what happened," she said in a worried tone, "One minute you were crying about me not stopping and then next you went limp and just laid here."

Well, I guess something did indeed happen. I couldn't ever remember passing out during an orgasm before. Had I been holding my breath? Was it just too much for me? Whatever it was, I just knew I felt wonderful right then, like I was glowing from the inside. My pussy was drenched and I looked down and saw the bed was soaked underneath me. Damn, I must have REALLY cum this time!

"God I feel so good," I sighed, letting my head fall back as I cupped my pussy with my palm, trying to settle it down as it felt like it was ready to jump right out of me.

"Well, don't EVER do that to me again... you scared the living crap out of me!" Kristen huffed.

Then she couldn't be mad at me anymore and we both giggled as she laid down next to me. She laid one leg over me and one arm, pressing her crotch against my hip as her boobs pressed against my side. She felt so good naked against me, so warm, soft and smooth. This was heaven indeed!

We both must have fallen asleep because it was almost an hour later when I woke up and realized we hadn't moved a muscle. I pushed her over and off of me and headed for the bathroom to take a shower. God, I must smell like a whorehouse!

After my shower, I saw she was still asleep so I tossed on a t-shirt and headed down to fix me some dinner. As it turned out, she slept the rest of the night. Well, I guess she had quite a day and had earned it. As for me, I couldn't help but masturbate again and even though I came, it was almost a disappointment after the incredible orgasm Kristen had driven me to earlier. Then again, I'll never complain about ANY orgasm!

Did I mention I love my cousin?

The next day I could've smashed the alarm clock but it was a school day and teachers can't be late. I DID have enough time to masturbate quickly and then it was off to work. Damn, Kristen was STILL sleeping! I finally got her awake so she could get to class on time - or at least she had enough time to get there on time. I called her a couple of times on my way to school to make sure she was up - good thing too as the first time I called she had dozed off again.

Sitting in front of the class that day, I wondered how these kids would react if they knew what their teacher had done after school the day before? No doubt most of them would have just shrugged or laughed which is why I enjoyed this age. They were old enough to take care of themselves but still young enough to love their teacher and the hormones were just starting to kick in with the older ones. By the end of the year the 6th graders would be getting a little horny in class but at the start of the year, they were mostly blissfully ignorant of the onset of puberty. That didn't mean their teacher wasn't thinking about such things!

I still was a little amazed at how hard I'd cum the night before. Damn, it wasn't even one of those days when things got wild and crazy. It had started off relatively mild but wow, did it ever escalate from there. I guess it just goes to show that the most erotic moments don't always have to be the wildest ones.

3. Kristen Offers an Idea

A couple nights later we were watching TV together late in her room while laying on her bed. I was tired and not really paying much attention to it so I started to get up to go to my bed and get some sleep. Kristen reached out to grab me by the arm and pulled me back. She looked like she was going to tell me something but then she stopped.

"Something you wanted?" I asked. I hadn't INTENDED to imply anything sexual but she grinned and I knew what thoughts were running through her head after my unintentional teasing.

"Yeah but that's not why I wanted to talk to you," she giggled, licking her lips as she glanced down at my bare crotch that was exposed under my shirt t-shirt.

Kristen was overdoing it to the point where I knew she was just being silly so I just waited patiently for the real reason to come out.

"Are you busy Saturday night?" she asked. Something in the way she said it told me she wasn't interested in what I was doing so much as what she WANTED me to be doing.

"Not sure, Riley was talking about taking me out," I answered noncommittally.

Actually that was a total fabrication as I was seeing him Friday night but I wanted to keep my escape options open with Kristen until I heard what was on her mind.

"Oh," she said with a frown and a down look on her face like she was disappointed, "I was hoping you might be able to help me out with something."

Now THAT set off the warning sirens and lights in my head. Whenever Kristen said she needed some help with something - look out! I was sure it had nothing to do with moving furniture or anything mundane, that was for certain. Still, I tried to be polite and not give away my concerns until she had her say. When I didn't respond she continued on her own.

"I had a friend call me and ask for a favor but it's not something I can do alone," she started out slowly, watching me for any reaction but I kept my sphinx face on for the moment.

Kristen finally huffed and flipped back on her back as if she was frustrated with me.

"Don't be that way Kelly, it's not like I ASKED for this or anything... it's just a favor for someone, that's all."

With Kristen, nothing was "just a favor" so I finally spoke up and asked, "So what's this so-called 'favor' anyway?"

Kristen brightened up at my response.

"It's nothing THAT crazy or anything. Just some guys want to have like a frat party but like they see on the Internet - you know, where the girls fuck in front of the crowd. I guess they want a couple of 'ringers', if you know what I mean."

Oh indeed I DID know EXACTLY what she meant. It was like those college sex party video sites where they supposedly go to parties and video sluts having sex. Personally, I always assumed the girls that were being filmed weren't "real" college girls and were just prostitutes or sluts that got invited for the video. Some of them I even recognized as being web whores so that just reinforced my assumption.

That said, even if I knew what she was talking about, what in the world was she even THINKING about doing such a thing - and for that matter, asking me to help her out?

"Kristen, I thought you quit that job," I sighed, giving her what I hoped was my "you're so pathetic" look.

"I DID!" she insisted, "This guy called me up on his own. THAT'S why I need your help. They want two girls but I can't go to my old agency and ask for anyone or they'll know what I'm doing."

Seemed a pretty thin excuse to me. It's not she was a member of some hooker union or something where she couldn't do "side jobs". I knew of plenty of times when she was whoring herself that she would take on private clients who wanted to avoid the higher costs of going through the agency.

"C'mon Kelly, they'll pay us each $2,000 cash!" she grinned at me, "You probably don't make that in a month at your crappy job."

Unfortunately, she was right about the pay at my job although I wouldn't ever call it a crappy job. After taxes, I certainly wasn't bringing home two grand a month and to get that for just one night WAS enticing. Still, it sounded like it wasn't going to be as easy as just getting fucked once or twice and walking home with the cash in hand.

"So how many guys and how many of them would do us?" I asked, not quite believing I was even considering this but still, it didn't hurt to ask.

Kristen shrugged, "Hell, I don't really know for sure. Maybe a dozen or so?"

Sounded a little low to me. If this was supposed to be some college party and not just a private home thing then I would think a lot more guys than that would be around. OF course, not all of them would want to dip their dicks in a girl after she's been fucked a few times but still, I knew from past experience that plenty of guys couldn't care less, just so long as they got their piece of the action - literally.

"And how long would we have to be there?"

Kristen shrugged again. For someone who was supposed to be arranging things, she certainly didn't seem to know a lot about much of anything.

"They didn't say... maybe a few hours?"

"Cameras"? I asked.

"Oh no, they assured me that nobody would be filming anything," she insisted.

Yeah right, and the check's in the mail and this won't hurt. Kristen couldn't possibly be THAT naive, could she? OK, so maybe nobody would be there with a big video camera and a College FuckFest banner but I couldn't see how the cell phone cameras would be kept at bay - and most of them shot video now as well. If anything was holding me back, it was the specter of having my naked ass splashed all over the internet with some guy's hard cock dripping cum after having just fucked me. Well, maybe if it was just my ass it wouldn't be so bad but what if it was my face as I sucked a few dicks instead? Oh wow, I could just imagine how THAT would go over on the bulletin board in the teacher's lounge!

"No way Kristen," I finally said, getting my head back in order after briefly flirting with the idea, "Who knows where that stuff will end up."

Kristen started to protest but I left the room in a hurry before she could try to talk me into it. To be honest, the IDEA of doing it appealed to me. I hadn't been to a frat party since I was in college and even then only once. I didn't know if this was really a true frat party or just something staged as one, but in either case it could be fun to get fucked in front of a bunch of other people - part of one of my favorite fantasies to boot.

Back in my room took of my t-shirt and laid in bed with covers off me and the lights out. Even though I'd told Kristen no, that didn't mean the thought of it hadn't aroused me and when I started to play with my boobs my nipples were already poking out nice and firm. It felt good to massage my boobs gently, rubbing them together and then grabbing my nipples between my fingers and stretching them out before allowing them to snap back in place.

I love my breasts. It was hard to imagine that not that many years ago they were the most embarrassing part of my body but when I got into my late teens they finally decided to make another growth spurt and filled in nicely. I don't know what happened prior to that or why they stayed small for so long, causing me nothing but grief. Sure, the boys didn't care but they were happy no matter what so long as my blouse was unbuttoned for them - preferably without a bra. Unless I wore it specifically so I could take it off later, I never wore a bra anyway as it wasn't like I had boobs like my best friend Beth, who pretty much HAD to wear a bra just to keep her puppies in the pen.

Keeping one hand planted on my breast, the other soon found its way between my legs and before long I was in full masturbation mode. It had been quite a while since I last recalled my first (and still only) frat party. I had gone with a couple of friends to another campus (our university didn't allow Greek organizations to start with, let alone such parties). Even though I was the one who didn't get drunk, I think I definitely left with the better reputation (depending on how you defined "better" I guess). Although it hadn't been anything like the video clips I'd seen in the Internet, it was still a lot of fun and I loved performing in front of people.

As much as it turned me on to masturbate thinking about it, I also realized it wouldn't been the same. First, I was quite a lot older, not a teenager anymore. Second, that time had been at a real frat party and I don't think the guys there really expected anyone to put out the way I did so it went over really well. Then there was the element of surprise. I never dreamed for a second beforehand that I would ever do some of the things I'd done, not to mention I did it for FREE. Would this really be as fun not that I was 24 and being paid to basically be a hooker at some guy's staged party that was meant to be like a college party?

I gasped as my finger found its target in my crotch. God I loved to touch myself when I got horny like this. Heck, I loved to touch myself ANY time but when I was as hot and bothered as I was now it was even better. So what if it was a fake party and we were the paid stars? At this moment all I could think about was a never ending line of hard dicks, all waiting to fuck me and cum in me - or on me or wherever.

Then other memories started to come back, like the party Kristen had taken me to where we were just two of a number of girls providing "entertainment" at a corporate hospitality suite during a convention downtown. The reality was we were just living fuck dolls for every guy wanting to get off. I'd never been fucked by half as many guys in one night before and never had since. The last hour or so was just a foggy memory as I literally just laid there, totally exhausted as more and more of them fucked me. Even when I stopped moving for them they still wanted to fuck me and get themselves off. Well, I guess it was better than masturbation for them. I ended the night literally covered in sperm from head to toe. Some guys like to shoot their cum on a girl in some of the oddest places!

By the time I fell asleep I'd cum a couple of times. I was half-expecting, and maybe even hoping just a little, that Kristen would stop in and try to "convince" me to go with her to her party. She can be VERY persuasive, believe you me! For whatever reason, though, she didn't so when I'd finished myself off again I dropped off to sleep and didn't wake until the morning alarm went off.

Kristen was just waking up when I left for school. All through the day I found my concentration was being thrown off when thoughts of her proposal would rise again from my subconscious. It can be a little embarrassing to feel your pussy getting wet when you're trying to help a fourth grader with a new math problem! Trust me, it wasn't the fourth grader that was making me horny, but rather thoughts of what Kristen's party might be like.

After school I had to stop and get some groceries. Funny, but guys still looked at me when I shopped in my school attire, but not in the same way as when I was dressed sluttier. It was like they wanted to look at me but felt guilty about it whereas when I wore short shorts and a tight tank top they didn't seem so concerned about staring at me openly. Well, when you're wearing a dress Laura Ingalls might have worn when she was teaching on Little House on the Prairie, it wasn't exactly like you were shrieking "I'm a slut" to the whole world. Personally, I preferred the stares to the hidden glances. At least then they were being honest with me.

This time when I got home my cousin didn't have some kid in bed with her. I laughed as I thought to myself the playground must have seemed empty without her being there today. OK, so that was a little cruel but she deserved it! She hadn't ever done a boy THAT young but then sometimes I had to wonder if that was by choice or simply lack of opportunity.

I went straight to my room and undressed. It felt soooooo good to take off my bra! Even after almost a month of having to wear one it still felt wonderful to take it off at the end of the day. It wasn't that it was so uncomfortable (a girl at Victoria's Secret gave me a great fitting once which made a HUGE difference), it was just the feel of being restricted by this band around my chest all day.

Also, I liked to feel my nipples rub against the fabric of my blouse or dress when I moved around and the bra took that sensation completely away. Of course, I also love the way guys look at me when my nipples poke through my tank top or sun dress so thankfully I don't have to wear one outside of school!

A quick shower and I dropped face-first onto my bedspread, burying my face in the soft pillow and laying there on my belly with my pegs spread out behind me. I suppose it would have made quite a sight had someone been looking in my room but in reality, at the moment it just felt better like this. I had the ceiling fan going on its lowest setting evening thought it wasn't hot and the slight breeze would strike between my legs and make my thighs tingle just a little at the soft "touch" of the air against them, almost like someone was stroking them gently with the back of their fingers.

Just as I was about to doze off, I felt the bed move slightly and then something warm and soft pressed against me, followed by a hand on my ass and a leg over mine. My head was turned to the opposite side but I knew who it had to be - my horny little cousin!

"Oh Kristen... not now!" I sighed as her fingers worked their way down my butt crack to my pussy and then inside.

She wasn't wasting any time as her fingers pushed up into me. Instinctively I parted my legs a little more to make it easier for her and I could feel her warm breath against the back of my neck under my hair.

"You love this and you know it," she whispered into my ear as I felt her push her crotch into my hip and rub herself against me. Her leg wrapped around mine, using it as leverage to pull herself in tighter against me as she slowly humped my hip like a horny dog on your leg.

"So... have you changed your mind yet? Gonna come to the party with me?"

So THAT was what this was all about. A not too subtle way of trying to get me horny enough to agree to her demands. Not that is wasn't working! It felt wonderful to just lay there with her hand working my pussy while she kissed my neck and ear. The feel of her breasts pushing against my side, her crotch humping up against my hip while my pussy responded to her touch was pleasurable to say the least! Enough to make me change my mind... not yet.

"I talked to him today about the cameras and he swears they will make sure nobody has a phone or anything during the party."

It really didn't matter to me what some stranger swore to her, there was no way in today's day and age that they could strip everyone's cell phones and keep the party secret. SOMEBODY would be taking photos and probably videos and once they did, there was no retrieving them - ever. If it hadn't been for that concern, I would have agreed to go. It wasn't my usual cup of tea but it sounded like fun as a one-time thing. I wasn't up to anything like that corporate hospitality suite gig we once did, but this sounded like a relatively tame event in comparison. With girls there too I doubted it would get so carried away either.

Then her hand disappeared from my pussy and for a moment I thought she was mad or something and was going to "punish" me by refusing to touch me anymore. You would think by now I would learn that Kristen never gives up THAT easily.

Something hard and colder than her fingers pressed against my pussy and I felt her working it in me. Damn, she was using one of her dildos on me! I'm not big into toys and she knew it so why did she think I would want one now?

Buzzzzz! Had she not had me practically pinned down with her leg I might have leaped off the bed! Suddenly it started to vibrate inside of me and more than that, it twisted around like some nasty snake or something. Then she pushed it in a little further and I felt something push against my asshole that was doing its own thing as well.

"I got something special for you today," she giggled as she worked it in me.

She didn't actually push it in my asshole - she knew better than to do THAT to me. Instead, she just positioned the tip right at the entrance to my ass and let it tease me while the larger portion assaulted my pussy. It felt incredible, especially when she twisted around and started to lick and kiss my butt.

"Oh Kristen...," I moaned, "God that feel so fucking good!"

I typically don't swear a lot on my own and when I do, it's more f or the guy's benefit than mine. A lot of guys like it when a girl talks filthy and so I have more than an adequate vocabulary for them but if it was up to me, I'd rather not swear a lot so for me to start cursing up a storm for Kristen, she knew I was enjoying what she was doing - enjoying it a LOT.

"You like being fucked, don't you Kelly?" she teased me as she started stroking me with it.

When she would pull it back the major part remained in my pussy but the smaller tip pulled away from my asshole until she pushed it back in just far enough to threaten to violate my ass but not quite enough.

"You love having a hard dick in your cunt, admit it," she pushed me.

Well duh! Of course I did. What normal heterosexual (or bisexual for that matter) girl doesn't?

"You want a lot of dicks in you... don't you Kelly," she continued on while relentlessly fucking me, "You want them all watching you being fucked, to be the center of attention, to have them all want you."

Well, you can't say my cousin didn't know me, can you? Of course I loved to be watched when I was being fucked. I loved seeing the desire and lust on other men when they watched a guy fucking me while wishing it was THEIR dick inside of me. I loved to see the expression they got when they realized it was their turn and they would be the next to feel their dick in my pussy. I loved it when girls would watch me, wishing they could be fucked at that moment the way I was. Even better, to have them watch their boyfriend or husband fucking me and seeing how much they loved it, how much they loved to fuck me - most likely more than they liked to fuck them.

"Oh Kristen... don't stop!" I moaned.

God, whatever she was doing to me it felt so good that I never wanted it to end. It was wonderful to just lay there and let her do everything, to just accept what she was doing and enjoy it without worrying about having to do anything in return.

When I finally DID cum, it was wonderful. Instead of the overwhelming sensations that I sometimes get when I cum, sometimes TOO overwhelming in that I actually feel like I might explode, this was perfect. It was like I was weightless and just floating in bed with my pussy consumed with pleasure. If somebody was looking at me, would I be glowing in the dim light with the warm heat that seemed to ooze from every pore of my body.

Somehow Kristen seemed to sense what was happening to me and instead of trying to fuck me harder or in some other way increase my orgasm, she just moved the vibrator slowly in me, setting it DOWN a few levels if anything. It served the same purpose as turning down the heat on a boiling pot just enough to keep it boiling but not so that it gets so violent that it overflows.

Even after my orgasm subsided, I just laid there without moving or saying anything. Kristen left her toy in me and laid up alongside of me, pressing her warm naked body against mine as we kissed. Her leg draped over mine, pressing against the vibrator just enough to put a little pressure on it, stimulating just enough to remind me it was there - as if I could forget. We kissed softly for the longest time, two cousins who were more like twin sisters in this intimate moment. It wasn't that often we just laid together like this and I soon fell asleep.

When I awoke I noticed Kristen was gone - along with her toy (thank goodness she remembered it). Later when I met her in the kitchen she grinned at me. No words were necessary, that grin told me all I needed to know.

"OK, OK, I'll go," I sighed. She shrieked and hugged me, as if I had just told her she had won the lottery or something.

"That is so cool Kelly," she bubbled, "I have some great ideas that I think you'll love."

She explained her plans and I have to admit, they DID sound pretty hot. I had a feeling I was going to enjoy this party even more than the others she had taken me to!

4. Getting Things Started With Lisa

Surprisingly, this was actually being held at a frat house and was a real college party. With all the web sites like CollegeFuckFest.com and such, the expectations are that every frat party has girls fucking on the couch but in reality, most people tell that that's it's not the case and I think everyone knows that but still, the urban legends persist My suspicion has always been that most of these so-called "college" parties hire hookers and porn stars to do the "heavy work" and then maybe a real amateur gets in on the action now and then. In this case, that was exactly what was happening in that Kristen had been hired to be the "sex girl", along with anyone else she could bring along with her.

In a nutshell, what Kristen had planned was cunning. While she would go as slut - not a stretch for her by any means, whereas I would go in "under cover" as your typical college girl who then gets "seduced" after a few too many drinks. We could have gone in together as sluts and started things out playing with each other but the guys had emphasized they were interested in sex, not watching girls playing with each other which was just teasing.

Saturday rolled around quickly enough and after masturbating and cleaning myself up in the morning, I just relaxed around the house trying to get whatever rest I could as odds were it was going to be a long night. Kristen went out shopping for a new outfit, as if her amazingly stuffed closet wasn't full enough already. For me, it wasn't necessary as all I intended to wear were jeans and a button- down blouse. Unlike most dates, I even planned on wearing panties and a bra! After all, the goal was for me to appear to be a somewhat innocent and naive girl who gets drunk and does things she otherwise never had planned on doing.

Kristen came back late in the afternoon with her hands full of bags. God, could she go ever out and NOT buy out the store while she was there? Most likely a lot of them would be returned as she always changed her mind once she got home but still, it was a lot of clothes! I was kicked back on the couch in a comfy t-shirt so she plopped down on the chair across the room with her bags with the intent of showing me everything she had bought.

"What do you think of this one?" she grinned, holding up a white lace bra that was so sheer I think you could read a newspaper through it.

Then she showed off a matching thong. It had a surprising amount of material but then it was the same as the bra - so sheer it may as well not have been there. The front provided plenty of coverage for her pussy but the back was not much more than a small triangle that would fit against the top of her ass with thin strings holding it to the rest of the thong.

"And what do you think of this skirt?" she said proudly as she held it up for me.

At first I thought she must have been planning on becoming an ice skater as it was so short it couldn't have even covered her ass when she was standing up.

"I have sheer-top hose for it," she said off-handedly, as if THAT was enough to let her wear it in public without being arrested for indecency. I couldn't imagine her wearing hose to a party and my instincts were correct.

"Now THIS is the one I got for tonight," she said proudly, showing off her newly found treasure.

Actually it wasn't quite what I expected, just a denim skirt that was actually longer than normal - at least longer than what is "normal" for Kristen. Then she dug in the bag for her last item, a small pink cami with the word "Slut" in large glittery letters at an angle across the chest. Well, whatever it lacked in subtlety it certainly made up for in how I imagined it would look on her.

With that she bounced off to her room. I saw the time on the TV and figured it was time for me to get myself ready as well. Up in my room, first I had to decide on my lingerie. Since I wasn't supposed to be a slut that eliminated most of the contents of my dresser drawer that I would typically have chosen. I wasn't ready to be THAT conservative and wear the ones I'd bought for school so that narrowed it down even further.

Finally I picked out a white one with multi-colored dots. It had a pink edging along the cups and back strap and overall it looked more like a young girl's bra, something I might have bought back when I was in high school. Why I'd bought it in the first place I had no idea, probably part of a joke or something at the time. To go along with it I picked out a pair of new pink panties that I hadn't worn before. They were cut a little high on the hips but nothing terribly sexy. I stood in front of the mirror and just shook my head. God, I was a high school girl again!

A pair of tight jeans was a must, a little worn with a few ragged holes. Then I picked out a tight white cami which was cut really low and had the thinnest shoulder straps. Over it I chose a black top which was also cut low, but not nearly so as the cami and while it showed some cleavage, it would've passed muster with most moms. The cami straps were visible under the top but that was all you could see of it to let anyone know I was wearing anything under the black top.

As for shoes, I didn't want to be a complete nerd and wear sneakers or flats so I picked out a pair of open toe heels with a wide heel that was just a couple of inches tall. They looked more classy than slutty.

My hair was my biggest problem. God I wished I had better body sometimes! No matter what kind of conditioners or shampoos I bought, It was always flat. Then an idea hit me and I reached into a drawer and picked out a white headband which pulled my hair away from my face without having to put it in a ponytail. Yep, it was perfect for my "look" this evening.

I wanted to wear some nice jewelry but I was afraid whatever I wore might end up being lost so I picked out some small earrings and a beaded necklace, nothing too expensive but at least it was something.

Finally, a little makeup, nothing too heavy or slutty, just some blush and eyeliner, about what you would expect any girl to wear. A touch of perfume on the wrists and neck and I was ready to go!

Back downstairs I was alone as Kristen still wasn't ready. It really didn't matter what time we got to the party as nobody would be doing much at the start anyway. Once the beer got going and things began to pick up, then it would be worth our while to be there. Still, Now that I was ready... I was ready! Kristen was never on time so I should have known better but still, just ONCE she could not be quite so late.

"OK, let's hit the road!" I heard her from behind me as I turned to see her coming down the stairs quickly.

God she looked incredible! The skirt hugged her hips and thighs like it was a tight bandage, showing off her fantastic legs to their best. She had tied up the bottom of her t-shirt under her boobs baring her midriff and pulling it tight against her boobs. Well, there was no question as to whether or not SHE was wearing a bra, that was for sure! Then again, I so rarely ever saw her in one it would have shocked me if she had. How she could walk down the stairs in those heels was a mystery to me - I'd of removed those stilts and walked down barefoot before taking my life in my hands trying to negotiate a flight of stairs in them - especially going down! She practically oozed with sexuality and I could tell from her flushed face why she had taken so long.

"Damn Kristen, you're getting laid by umpteen guys in just a bit, couldn't you have held off just a little longer?" I sighed, knowing the answer even before I asked the question.

Kristen just dropped her eyes at me as if I'd asked the stupidest question (which it just may have been!) and didn't even bother to answer. What could I say, when you're horny... you're horny!

"Well, don't you look so... ordinary," she giggled glancing at my outfit.

"And don't you look like a hooker," I retorted, only partially in jest.

She giggled and grabbed her purse and keys. "Well, I guess we're perfect then, aren't we!" and led the way to the car.

As we got in the car, Kristen's skirt rode up as she sat down and I noticed that instead of seeing a sexy thong, all I saw was Kristen's bare bottom and pussy.

"Hey, I thought you had that thong you just bought to wear?" I asked.

"Well, I didn't wear the bra so I figured why bother with the thong?" she answered matter-of-factly, "Besides, you saw that thong... does it really make that big a difference if I wear it or not? Anyway, this skirt's longer than usual so it's not like I'll be walking around showing off my bare ass to everyone."

As I'm sure she wouldn't have minded.

We got to the address and the street was full of cars so we had to park about a block away. It was strange as we walked up the sidewalk to the house. Guys were out on porches drinking beers and hooting and hollering at us the entire way. Well, make that they were hollering at Kristen. She pretended not to hear them but I noticed her ass had that little extra bounce she got whenever she was showing it off.

I felt like Miss Plain Jane besides her. It's not like I was dressed like a nun, but Kristen wasn't leaving much to the imagination, that was for sure. Arriving at the house finally, it was a large two story home with the frat's Greek letters above the door. It looked to be pretty old, like the rest of the homes in the neighborhood, but fairly well kept up. There were already a lot of people around and I looked to Kristen, questioning her softly as to what the heck we were supposed to do now that we were here. We really hadn't discussed much except for the overall theme of the party so I was a little unsure with what to do. Were we supposed to meet with someone, go somewhere special, what? Were there any rules?

Kristen turned and told me that we were just supposed to mingle as if we had arrived like any other girls did. I was surprised when she said she didn't even know what the guy looked like that had invited her! Fortunately, they had pre- paid for our "services" so at least that part wasn't in jeopardy.

Walking in, there was a large open room with what looked to be a kitchen in the back and then a door beyond that which must have led to the back yard. To the side was another room that also looked to be a gathering place, with a large screen TV and couches and such. People were just standing around for the most part, talking and holding a beer cup in their hands.

"So now what?" I asked in her ear, trying to be heard over the loud music without shouting it out to the entire room.

"Follow me," she answered simply, heading for the back of the house.

Sure enough, the back door led out to a large wooden porch where the mandatory beer keg had been tapped. There was a variety of lawn furniture and table where people were sitting and talking, along with a large stainless steel grill that didn't appear to be in use. I guess it was take-out or nothing.

By now we were getting some looks - at least Kristen was. I was also getting the once-over from a few guys but their eyes quickly averted to my slutty cousin next to me who was already smiling and saying hi to every male in the room - and a few females as well. She grabbed a cup of beer and handed it to me.

"I hate beer!" I reminded her, "I'll get something from the kitchen."

Kristen grabbed me by the arm and rolled her eyes at me. "Kelly, it's kind of hard to get drunk from Diet Coke, you know," she reminded me. I took the beer from here but didn't drink any. I brought it to my lips and made it look like I was drinking but just the odor of it was enough to almost make me gag. How do people enjoy this stuff, anyway? I decided I would just have to pour a little out when I got the chance to make it appear like I'd been drinking but not enough to cause anyone to offer me another glassful.

Kristen didn't care, she just chugged half her glass down and smiled, licking the beer off her lips in an almost obscene motion with her tongue. That wasn't missed by the guys and already they were hitting on her like she was a bitch in heat - and not a bad description of her at that. Soon she was off talking to a few guys while I was left alone on the deck to mingle.

There were actually quite a few girls there, a lot more than I had expected. Most of them had that college girl look. I'm not sure how to describe it but it was just that wide-eyed, deer-in-the-headlights look that girls get when they are out on their own for the first time at college. Most of them looked to be in their late teens or early twenties. I hadn't seen any sign of anyway checking ages so I guess it was just an honor system so far as the drinking was concerned which sort of surprised me in this day and age. I had my driver's license tucked in tightly in one of my jean pockets as I hadn't wanted to bring a purse along - one less thing to keep track of in a crowded party environment.

For the next hour or so I sort of lost track of Kristen. I mingled about, getting hit on now and then by some guys but it was more flirting than anything serious. I started talking to a group of girls who were dressed like me, more conservative and while keeping an eye on the party, didn't seem all that anxious to do anything too precarious. They told me they were students and asked me about myself. I just told them I was a grad student which seemed to hold them at bay for anything more. Apparently none of them had been to a party like this one before and I told them it was only my second - which was true as I had indeed only been to one other college party. Of course I didn't tell them about the OTHTER party experiences I'd had.

One he girls, Lisa, said she was 21 and that this was her first year away from home. Apparently she had done the Junior College route and now had transferred to the university to compete her BA in Nursing. She was really sweet and quite pretty as well, almost a twin of me when it came to our size and outfits. It was her first frat party and she seemed a little nervous but I assured her that she was OK so long as she stayed with the crowd and didn't go off alone with anyone. Indeed, I wouldn't have minded myself going off alone with her!

We got to talking about her family and some old boyfriends when suddenly she her mouth dropped open. Her eyes got wide and so I turned to see where she was looking. It was all I could do to keep from laughing when I saw what had surprised her so. There on the couch was this hot girl stripping off her top for some guy that she was straddling with her knees on the couch. Her skirt had pulled up just enough that when she leaned over it was apparent to everyone watching that there was nothing underneath it but her bare ass. Yes indeed, Kristen had found her man!

"Oh my god, what a slut!" Lisa gasped, "Can you believe she's doing that in front of everyone?"

Then she squinted a little bit (I had a feeling she needed glasses but was to vain to wear them at the party). "Oh my god, is she wearing ANYTHING under that skirt?"

I put my arm around Lisa and hugged her - nothing sexual, just a girl supporting another girl, and said, "Probably drunk... and I don't think she has anything on her butt either!"

"C'mon, let's get closer," she urged me, surprising me a bit. I would have taken her for the type to escape out the back door when confronted with such a display but instead she seemed curious to see more about what was happening. Oh well, why not?

One good thing about being a girl at such parties, the guys pretty much let you get away with anything. Had two guys pushed their way through the crowd trying to get a closer view they probably would have been punched. All Lisa and I did was say "excuse me" and smile and it was like the Red Sea was parting in front of us. Once up front we stood there together and watched the scene taking place on the couch in front of us.

Kristen was living up to her end of the deal, that was for sure. Watching her, I realized that I'd never really seen her in this type of situation where the guys didn't realize she was being paid to put on a performance. I smiled myself as I wondered what the guys who had hired her would say if they knew she probably would have done it for free as from the looks of things, she was enjoying it as much as the guy she was with.

In a way, it was a little too stereotyped for me. Face it, once you see one college party video you've pretty much seen them all. The girl may look different and she may say different things and have different techniques, but the basic "plot" of the scene was the same. Let's see... guy gropes girl, girl sucks dick, girl strips, guys licks girl, guy fucks girl, girl takes it on her face. That about covers it 99% of the time if you ask me. Kristen was still at the "girl sucks dick" stage, allowing her skirt to ride up and expose her bare ass which created a number of lewd comments from the peanut gallery about girls who don't wear underwear.

"What do you think Lisa?" I asked her.

Lisa hadn't said a word since we'd moved up front but then I noticed she hadn't been too shy to keep her eyes fixed on the two people on the couch.

"It's crazy!" she answered back, "I can't believe anyone would do that in front of all these people!" Then she got this look on her face like she was thinking about something pretty hard and continued, "Do you think she's really a student or just a whore?"

Hmmmmmm, Lisa seemed to be pretty sharp. The guys watching either thought Kristen was the real deal or they just didn't care. All they wanted was to watch and take pics with their cell phones. So much for someone promising there would be no cameras or video! Lisa seemed more interested in an intellectual way more so than being turned on. Obviously she'd never witnessed anything like this for real and I got the feel from her she was curious as to how far Kristen would go. Of course, she had no idea that I had any relationship to the slut we were watching as the guy pulled off her clothes and started licking her pussy - right on schedule.

Kristen was having a great time from the looks of things. Either the guy was a great pussy licker or she was doing an excellent job of faking an orgasm as the crowd cheered her on. I was pretty proud of her in a strange way. It was like all this was nothing to her, that having a crowded room of people watching her was just a normal day for her. Maybe after her job as a whore she WAS accustomed to such things, who knows? In any case, she was putting on a great show, talking to the guys around her, telling them how good her pussy was being licked and how bad she wanted to be fucked. She was earning her pay, that was for sure!

"So what do you think, would you like to be licked like that?" I said to Lisa, trying to nudge a response from her.

Lisa turned to me with a sly grin. She'd had been holding her cup of beer and it seemed as though every time it dropped someone was filling it back up again so she was getting just a little drunk by now, at least enough to open up a little more about herself.

"Actually, I'd love HER to lick me like that," she giggled, then she covered her mouth like she couldn't believe what she'd just said to me.

Just then the crowd cheered and I looked over to see the guy had just started fucking Kristen. She was slumped on the couch with her ass on the edge. He had Kristen's legs up over his shoulders and a rather sizable dick in her pussy. She was urging him on, much to the delight of the crowd.

"You mean you wouldn't rather have that nice dick in you?" I teased her, nodding toward the couple on the couch.

Lisa took another gulp of beer and looked me in the eyes as if she was about to pass on some monumental secret.

"I've never done it with a guy," she said, as if she was confessing to a murder.

"So you like girls?" I asked with a grin, liking where this seemed to be leading to. It wasn't what I'd been expecting to happen but hey, if the opportunity was there, why not take it?

Lisa seemed hesitant at first but from her flushed face and refilled beer cup I got the idea she wasn't accustomed to drinking. I had to grin a little as here I had assumed that I would be the one to supposedly get drunk and do things I normally wouldn't but instead, maybe Lisa might fit into our plans instead.

I figured I had nothing to lose so I turned to Lisa and kissed her on the mouth. It wasn't that long but definitely more than just a simple kiss from one girl to another. A couple guys by us noticed and next thing I knew they were urging us on. Lisa didn't seem to know quite how to react and just stood there looking back and forth as we got more attention.

"C'mon, let's tease them a little," I encouraged her.

Lisa seemed to hesitate as her eyes darted about. Although most of the guys were focused on Kristen being fucked on the couch, those right around us were glancing back and forth, not wanting to miss out seeing the lust on the couch but at the same time, most likely hoping for a little girl-girl action as well.

Over the years I've come to think that guys would almost rather see two girls together than a girl being fucked. It certainly never has failed to get their attention! Kristen and I would sometimes walk the mall or stores, acting flirty with each other and occasionally stealing a little kiss or a pat on the butt. Let me tell you, we could have been dressed in nun habits and guys would still have been staring us!

Lisa didn't agree but then she didn't say no either so I took it as agreement on her part. This time when I kissed her she responded more passionately, letting me taste her tongue as she opened her mouth and accepted mine.

You can imagine what the guys around us were saying as Lisa and I drew out the kiss even longer. We were both dressed in jeans and neither of was exactly allowing our boobs to fall out of our tops so it wasn't what we were showing off that was getting the cat-calls but rather what we we're doing - at so far all we'd done is kissed. When you think about it, it's sort of amazing that two girls kissing could draw attention from another girl being fucked just a few feet away.

To my surprise, It was Lisa that made the next move. Passing her cup of beer off to someone, she reached around me and grabbed my ass with both hands, squeezing my butt tightly and pulling me in closer to her until our boobs were pressed tightly against each other's. We were about the same height so they matched up pretty well. For once I had the booger set though, which pleased me to no end.

Not to be outdone, I reached around her and slid my hands up under her tank top and undid her bra. We never stopped kissing the entire time and if anything, when my hands unsnapped her she tongued me even deeper. Once I had her undone, I reached to her shoulder and pulled the straps down over her arms. She released my ass long enough to pull her hands through the straps and then planted them once again firmly on my butt. Moving my hands between us, I reached up and pulled her bra down off her boobs and out from under her tank top, flashing it over my head like a flag. Needless to say, everyone cheered and before I knew what was happening, someone had grabbed it out of my hands and was passing it around. Oh well, I hoped it wasn't an expensive one!

Now that her bra was off, I fondled Lisa's boobs through her tank top, rubbing my hands over them and feeling her hardening nipples through the tight thin material. They were quite firm, a lot like Kristen's in fact, but a little bigger and more full. Someone tried to reach in to cop a feel but I firmly pushed him away and wagged a finger at him. The message was clear - this was a girl's show only and no audience participation was allowed.

Now it was Lisa's turn. Rather than "unbra" me, she chose a different route and started to lift up on my black top. In one quick motion she had it up and over my head, tossing it over towards the couch where I hoped I would be able to find it again.

Not content with my white cami obstructing her view, she did the same with it, leaving me standing there in just my bra. When I picked out the bra I hadn't expected it to be on display in quite this way and it was a little embarrassing now to be wearing such a young girl' style but the guys certainly didn't seem to mind one bit. It was full-cupped so while they got to see some cleavage, most of my breasts were fully covered and my nipples were in no danger whatsoever of being on display.

So now with her firm boobs pushing out against the tight tank top and me in just a bra for a top, we went back to kissing again. I happened to glance over at the couch where Kristen was now in a doggie style. Another guy had joined in and she was sucking his dick while the first guy was ramming her from behind. It looked like she was getting it in the ass but it was hard to tell from the angle I had. Oh well, she liked that sort of thing so more power to her. Obviously she had the biggest crowd but Lisa and I had our own little "fan club" going as well.

After feeling her up some more I started to make like I was going to take her top off but that's where Lisa drew the line. She pushed my hands down and away from her tank top, telling me as best she could above the noisy din in the room that she couldn't go that far in front of all these guys. There was something in the way she added that last part, "in front of all these guys", that seemed to be sending me a message so I drew a breath and said, "Well, let's go where there's not so many people then."

She seemed OK with that so while she tried to rescue her bra, I grabbed my top and cami before they disappeared and I had nothing to wear home. With that, I looked around and took Lisa by the hand, heading for a stairway leading to where I assumed the bedrooms were.

5. Bedroom Antics

At the top of the stairs I looked in the first room but there was already a couple on the bed but they were too busy to notice - or didn't care in the first place that I was watching. The second bedroom had a large bed in the middle with a desk and piles of clothes everywhere but at least it was empty. I pulled the covers back over it - God only knows what was on the sheets, and looked back to see our "fan club" had followed us up and were staring in from the doorway.

"I don't care if they watch, do you?" I said to Lisa.

She shrugged her shoulders and from the way she was weaving on her feet, I was starting to worry that maybe she had drunk TOO much and was going to pass out on me - or worse. She seemed to be holding herself together so I guided her to the bed where she sat on the edge with her feet on the floor.

Ignoring the guys that had crowded in - there must have been at least seven or eight, I started to lift Lisa's tank top off when something flashed and I turned to see a guy with his camera.

"No pics!" I said emphatically.

He started to mumble something and I could tell he wanted to argue but when he saw the look I gave him he quickly put it away.

"If I see one more camera or cell phone, it's over and you ALL go out - got it?" I said rather strongly, probably more so than they expected.

They all nodded their heads and I noticed a few hands surreptitiously reaching into their pockets to put away their phones and cameras. Of course there was no guarantee that they would STAY in those pockets but at least it was a start.

Going back to Lisa, I raised her tank top up and off her head, her arms flopping back down to the bed once it was off. She was only about half-way cognizant of what was happening but so long as she didn't drink any more, I thought she would be OK. I gazed at her incredible boobs and felt a twinge in my pussy. Talk about perfect! I was guessing a 34B or maybe even a small C with large nipples that were currently standing out like large caliber bullets. I laid her back in bed and leaned over her, taking first one, and then the other in my mouth, suckling on her hard nipples like a hungry baby.

"That feels so good," she moaned softly.

The room was deathly quiet as everyone was transfixed at the sight of two girls making out on the bed in front of them. So far only Lisa was actually showing anything but everyone in the room, including me and I was sure Lisa, knew THAT would change before not too much longer.

Keeping my own bra on, I undid her belt and jeans, pulling her zipper slowly down to the bottom. Reaching on both sides of her hips, I grabbed the jeans and worked them off. Getting them over her hips was the hardest part. Lisa wasn't overweight by any stretch of the imagination but she DID have some pretty wide hips and the jeans were about as tight as they could be on her.

Once that part was over, I peeled them off her legs down to her ankles. Before I could take them all the way I took off Lisa's heels and then pulled her jeans the rest of the off over her bare feet. So now all Lisa had on was her panties but I was in no hurry to take them off. In the back of my mind I remembered that the primary reason I was here in the first place was to provide entertainment and even though this wasn't what Kristen and I had worked out beforehand, I didn't think the audience cared. I could hear some murmuring but for the most part they all just stood there and watched my every move without saying another word. I guess I may have been a little bitchy about the cameras and now they were probably afraid of incurring my wrath yet again!

At the moment I was still in my heels, jeans and bra. As much as I would have loved to have stripped down naked and done the same with Lisa, I did my best to take my time, even though my pussy was begging for Lisa to lick it – and I had a pretty good feeling that she would given half a chance. As it was, I let her legs continue to hang over the bed and kneeled down at her side, leaning over to once again kiss her bare boobs and let my hands run over her gorgeous body. She felt so smooth and warm, like velvet under my fingertips. I could reach as far as her thighs and my hands pushed her legs apart. She was still awake enough to realize what I was doing and she spread them even further apart – an open invitation if I'd even been given one.

Lisa undoubtedly wanted me to play with her pussy – as no doubt our audience did as well. Well, I wasn't going to give them that pleasure quite so easily so as my hands moved up towards her crotch, I stayed over her panties, pushing hard enough against her pussy to push her panties slightly into her slit. God her pussy felt like it was on fire! This was one horny girl. Of course, I'm sure had I put my hand between my own legs at the time it would have felt just as warm there!

Just to tease them all a little more, I let my fingers reach under the top elastic band of her panties. She was just trimmed, not shaved, and I could feel her short pubic hair against my fingers. The onlookers could see the rise of my hand under her panties but not where I was exactly touching so their imaginations were probably working overtime – just as I was hoping they would be. Then I pulled it out and caressed her flat stomach, finding a ticklish spot that made Lisa squirm just a little.

As much as I could have sucked on Lisa's wonderful breasts for the rest of the evening, there were other parts of her body that beckoned me. I moved my head up and kissed her neck softly, moving up to her ear and then over her cheeks to her lips once again. Lisa just laid there but she was moaning almost continuously and I noticed her hand opposite me moving towards her crotch. Her shyness was definitely gone now as she started to rub herself through her panties. I helped her to scoot up onto the bed more until her head was on one of the pillows and her feet were planted in the middle of the bed with her knees bent and spread apart. She was rubbing herself harder, focusing on where her clit was hidden below her grey nylon panties.

"Want me to lick your pussy?" I said to her softly, just loud enough for our "fans" to hear.

"Oh god yes... I want that so bad," Lisa moaned, her eyes closed as she rubbed herself even faster.

Ever so slowly I worked my way down her bare torso, stopping momentarily at each breast to give it another lick and suck on her nipples one last time. She tensed up each time I took her nipples into my mouth, tugging on them gently with my teeth. Then she giggled as I licked her belly and made my way to the elastic of her panties. Bypassing her panties, I kissed her leg and worked my way up to her knee and then moved around her leg until I was between her feet. Looking down, I had the perfect view of her panty-covered crotch. I wanted to see what was under them as badly as the guys behind me - and a couple of girls now as well I noticed.

I put one hand on each knee and pushed them as far apart as she could spread them and then started to kiss her inner thigh from her knee to her crotch. She must have just shaved before the party because her legs were as smooth as silk and so soft on my mouth. Finally my face was just an inch or so from her crotch and I could already smell the odor of her wet pussy.

God her pussy smelled so good! I have always loved the smell of a horny pussy, starting back with my own when I was a preteen and just masturbating. There was something special about it when you were horny that just made it taste all the better. I know some girls have a hard time touching themselves, let along tasting their own pussies, but I never had that hang-up. If anything, I love the taste of my own pussy better than anyone else's!

As tempting as it was to rip her panties off of her, instead I just pulled them to the side to reveal her pussy. She was hairier than I had thought but that was OK with me. My mom and Aunt were downright bushy and so long as I pushed the hair aside, I didn't mind having it brushing against my face as I licked them. My tongue reached out and I just touched the tip of it to her swollen clit, making her jump under my face, pushing me into her crotch as her hips lifted up.

Enough was enough. I lifted myself up and grabbed her panties, pulling them up and off her legs as she put them together and rolled back on her back to lift them up so I could get them over her feet. I tossed them to one of the guys who promptly covered his face with it trying to get the smell of Lisa's pussy. Oh well, I was pretty sure that was one set of panties Lisa would never see again. She lowered her legs again, putting one foot on reach side of me to spread her crotch open for me again and I resumed my position at her pussy. God she smell so good! Her pussy tasted great too, strong but not overpowering.

"Take your clothes off!" someone finally called out, breaking the silence.

Once the door was opened, the rest of the chimed in, chanting, "Take it off, take it off!" as if I was some stripper.

If for no other reason than just to tease them and show them who was in control, I decided that I wasn't going to get completely nude for them. Instead, I stood up quickly and undid my jeans, dropping them to my ankles along with my panties, then stepping out of them along with my heels. That left me with my bra on but I decided to leave it on just to make them wonder a little more as to what was hidden from view. Besides, it was a cute bra, even if it WAS a little school- girlish.

I suppose I could have given them a little show and flashed my all-but naked body at them but I was more interested in Lisa. This time when I resumed my position I was well aware that everyone was getting a view of my naked ass now, without the benefit of my jeans providing cover. I allowed my legs to spread apart a little, giving them a pretty unobstructed view of my shaved pussy if they happened to be in the right spot to see it.

Well, talk about things not going as planned... Still, I couldn't have planned anything like this. It was just one of those that works itself out and you have to be ready to go with the flow. I wondered how Kristen was doing. I couldn't hear anything from the downstairs so I didn't know if she was still being fucked or what. Of course knowing Kristen, the odds were the first guy was far from the last. Hmmm, what would she say if she knew what her cousin was doing upstairs? I didn't know if she had seen me and Lisa making out before. If so, she hadn't made any sign of it, so she must figure I was off playing my role and probably being fucked about now.

Actually, now that I thought about it, it wasn't that bad of an idea. Since I had never really established my "secret identity", nobody in the room had any idea who I was or what type of girl I was either. Obviously I liked girls and I was willing to bet every guy in the room was hoping Lisa and I were bisexual and maybe a few girls were rooting for us being lesbians. As much as I loved licking Lisa and feeling her squirming under me as I rubbed her hips and body with my hands while I licked her pussy, my pussy had needs as well!

Turning my head to the side, I grinned at the crowd and appeared to be a little sad, as if I wasn't getting something that I wanted (which didn't require much acting, believe me).

"Doesn't anyone want to lick my pussy?" I said in a whining tone, or maybe more like a spoiled child asking why she hadn't gotten the present she had asked for.

I didn't have to ask twice! Three guys stepped forward and all but came to blows arguing over who was going to eat me first. I just turned my head back to Lisa's smelly pussy and lifted my ass even higher, waiting to see who would win out, not really caring but just hoping whoever it was got down to business sooner than later..

Mmmmmmm, that was it. I felt two hands on my ass, spreading my ass cheeks apart and then the face of someone pressing against my butt as he started to lick my pussy. He wasn't exactly talented, more like some puppy at work without any idea of what he was doing, but I had to give him an "A" for effort.

He only got a few licks in when someone must have pushed him aside and another guy took his turn. This guy started to lick my asshole and it tickled more than anything else, making me rock my hips back and forth. He must have mistaken my ticklishness for horniness as he tried to push his tongue into my asshole.

Now it should be well known to most people that I am NOT an anal fan. I have experimented a few times in the bath tub and there have been a few times when guys have done me in the ass when I wasn't in a position to stop them. Still, I can honestly say I have never ASKED anyone to fuck me in the ass nor do I like it. It's the penetration I dislike though, so if a guy wants to lick my asshole, more power to him! My only thing is he better not try to kiss me afterwards. Since none of these guys would be kissing me tonight - THAT I knew for sure, if anyone wanted to lick my ass it was fine with me. Personally, I never saw the fascination in licking where I crap but then I guess to each their own.

After getting my ass good and wet, I felt him trying to put a finger in me and I had to reach back and slap his hand away firmly. I didn't have to say anything, that was enough to get my point across although I didn't doubt it wouldn't be the last time someone tried for it. What is it with girls and their assholes that fascinate men? It's not like right up the street I don't have a pussy designed for their dicks!

Apparently I had started something as it seemed one after the other took their turn at my pussy. Then I felt a tongue different from the rest and instantly I knew who it had to be - one of the girls was licking my pussy! Sorry guys, but it's usually pretty easy to tell the difference between a girl and a guy when it came to getting your pussy eaten. Girls just seem to have that instinct of where to lick and how to do it that just made it feel oh so much better! Then again, guys have dicks so I think in the end the guys have the overall advantage,

All this time I was working on Lisa and she was groaning now, louder than her moans before while she has both hands on her chest, one cupping each boob, She had her eyes closed, as if she wanted what was happening to her to continue but by closing her eyes she didn't have to acknowledge the crowd that was watching her. I wondered if she had ever done anything like this before? Who knows, maybe she was a "pretender" just like me - or then again, maybe she WAS the drunk, naive schoolgirl. I probably would never know the truth so why not enjoy her as she was?

When Lisa came it was enough to make me momentarily forget whoever it was that was licking and playing with my pussy at the time. Her hips lifted up and pressed against my face as she squeezed her boobs hard and groaned more than cried out. She had her eyes closed and appeared to be completely oblivious of anything around her. I could feel her pussy contract on my fingers and she tasted wonderful as she came - not a gusher by any means but what she did produce was so sweet!

When Lisa was finished, it was like whatever was keeping her conscious finally expired. Her head laid back and her eyes closed while her legs went limp. I moved up on top of her and called her name but she didn't respond. Yep, she was passed out! I hate to admit it but for a moment a really naughty thought came to mind about what the guys in the room would do to her in this state but that was replaced by a little more common sense - not to mention a bit of selfishness. After all, who was the only girl left conscious on the bed now?

At the time I still had my bra on and it was bugging me to no end so I reached behind me and unsnapped it, letting it drop down off my shoulders over my arms to the bed. It felt SO much better to have it off and the people in the room seemed to appreciate it as well. I turned and looked around and for a moment it was sort of surreal as everyone just stood there quietly, as if not sure what to do next - including me.

"Well, are you all just going to stand there and look or is someone going to fuck me?" I said rather matter-of-factly, looking around to see who would be the first to volunteer.

I'm sure it took them all a little by surprise but at that point I was horny as hell and what was there to gain from being subtle? There was no reason to pretend to be anything but a slut, not after what I'd just done with Lisa in front of everyone. Besides, who's going to ask questions when a girl is kneeling on a bed stark naked and asking who wants to fuck her?

Suddenly it was like someone turned off the MUTE button and everyone was talking at the same time. I have to say, it was rather ironic to me that here were all these college guys who probably masturbated every night that they could be in just this very situation and now that they were in it, none of them seemed to be daring enough to take advantage of it. What is it about guys that makes them so scared to get naked in front of their friends and have sex?

To my surprise, it wasn't one of the guys that stepped forward but a girl instead. She was rather ordinary looking, dressed in jeans and a t-shirt which helped to hide what looked to be more than a few extra pounds. Her blonde hair was cut rather short and she didn't appear to be wearing much makeup. I'd noticed her earlier when she and a couple of friends had come into the room but hadn't really paid much attention to her after that. Her friends, to be frank, looked a lot hotter than she did but they weren't the ones making their way towards me.

"Well, if you guys don't want her, I do," she announced, flipping her hair back as she got onto the bed and kneeled in front of me.

She was making no effort to strip or anything so I figured she just wanted to taste my pussy. Well, who was I to deny her?!

Lisa was curled up in her side over on one side of the bed so I laid next to her with my head against a pillow. I spread my legs apart lewdly and motioned with my finger for the girl to come and get it - with "it" being my wet and ready pussy. Everyone was talking now and I heard a few things like "sluts" and "lesbians". Hey, it was HER that wanted to eat my pussy so it wasn't like I was a pure lesbian. All a guy had to do was whip his dick out and I would have been more than happy to let him fuck me!

The girl quickly went for my pussy and got started. I have to say, she was obviously quite experienced and had one heck of a tongue! It felt great when she would suck on my clit and then push her talented tongue up into me about as far as I can remember anyone doing. She didn't touch me with her fingers, instead using her hands to push my thighs further apart to make it easier for her to get her head buried in my crotch.

Whether it was being with Lisa, having the guys licking my pussy, having this strange girl lick my pussy, or just doing it all in front of these people... whatever it was I came quickly. It was like I had this flood all dammed up inside of me that was trying to break free and her tongue in my pussy and lips on my clit were all that was needed to break the dike and let it all come flooding out - literally.

As I came I looked around and it made it even better to see the people watching me. Most of them, especially the girls, seemed to realize what was happening to me and I loved the looks on their faces. Some seemed turned on, others maybe a little disgusted, and then some just tried to pretend it didn't faze them but I knew that was just a put-on expression.

Whoever it was that had just brought me to a climax, she apparently got what she wanted by making me cum and she climbed off the bed without so much as saying a word to me. She returned to her girlfriends, wiping my cum off her face. I smiled as she tried to kiss on the them but they pulled away - whether because they weren't into girls or because of my pussy cum on her face, I don't know.

FINALLY one of the guys got his courage up (not to mention something else below his belt) and stepped forward, the crowd cheering him on. He was unbuckling his pants and by the time he got to the side of the bed he had them undone and the zipper down. I twisted around until I was laying crossways on the bed, trying not to disturb Lisa too much although I think at this point there wasn't much I could do to wake her anyway. I got up on my elbows and pulled his pants and boxers down, allowing his semi-hard dick to flop out. It was respectable if not magnificent but regardless I wouldn't have complained. By now I just wanted a dick and I wasn't about to worry about what size it was so long as it got hard and fucked me!

Once his dick was free I put my hands back down to steady myself and just took his dick in my mouth and sucked on it. Mmmmmmm, it felt so good to finally have a dick in my mouth. He was already about half-erect when I started and he quickly grew as I let him stroke it on and out of my mouth. It felt so cool to feel him getting thicker and longer as I blew him. It was like a balloon expanding in my mouth but much tastier and stiffer.

Soon he was fully aroused which was good enough for me. Had it been just me and him I might have sucked on him for as long as he could take it, maybe even letting him cum if he thought he could do it again quickly. Two things caused me to change my usual routine; first I had to keep in mind WHY I was really there - to entertain. Yet just as important, at least for me, wanted to be fucked! OK. so it was a little selfish of me but sometimes a girl's got to do what a girl's got to do.

Letting his dick pop out of my mouth (as erect as his dick was, when I released it the thing literally popped up and stood up erect) and looked up at him with a wicked grin. "Ready to fuck me now?"

Yeah, like I really needed to even ask. Actually, it was as much for the crowd as it was for him and as soon as I spoke those words the chant began, "Fuck her, fuck her, fuck her..."

I twisted around to face the opposite direction which put my ass right in front of him. bending down on my left elbow, I reached under me with my other hand and started to play with my pussy, running my fingers up and down my slit between my pussy lips and occasionally dipping one or two inside my pussy. I was soaking wet by now so it wasn't necessary but I'm sure my "fans" appreciated it. The dude grabbed his erection and shuffled up against the edge of the bed - his pants were around his ankles now so it made anything BUT shuffling all but impossible unless he hopped. Using two fingers, I split my pussy open to give him a clear shot at me.

"Fuck her, fuck her, fuck her..." the chants continued as he positioned his dick at the entrance to my waiting pussy.

Poor Lisa was lying dead to the world right next to me and I couldn't help but admire her incredible nude body as she laid there totally oblivious to what was going on beside her. I could see her cute pussy between her ass cheeks as she had her legs tucked tightly into her now in almost a fetal position. Once again I wondered what would happen if a guy tried fucking her now. Was she really a virgin? I'm sure there was at least one or two guys perverted enough to fuck a chick even when she was literally unconscious.

"Oh fuck!" I suddenly blurted out.

It was just an automatic reaction to his dick suddenly piercing my pussy, pushing its way deep inside of me. I'd allowed myself to get sidetracked by the sight of Lisa and was taken by surprise when his dick suddenly violated me. God it felt so good to have him in me! At first I just stayed still, letting him stroke himself in and out of me. He had gripped me on each of my hips with his hands, rocking me now back and forth in time with his thrusts.

It wasn't anything to write home about, just a good old- fashioned doggie-style fucking. Heck though, I wasn't complaining! He may not have been huge but he was at least a little better than average and as horny as I was, he could have been a Munchkin and I still would have loved him in me.

He must have been pretty horny because it only took a few minutes of this before he was ramming me hard and I could tell from the increasingly frantic pace that he was about to cum. Personally, I would have loved him to stay in me and cum in y pussy but alas, that wasn't HIS plan. Suddenly he pulled out and I felt a warm wet feeling on my butt and back as he shot his cum all over me.

I suppose it was a good visual for the crowd but it was about the worst place for a man to cum so far as I am concerned. First I didn't get to see him cum, second, I didn't get to taste it even, and third but not last, I couldn't even really reach it to wipe it up with a finger and eat some of it! About all I got out of the deal was a mess to try and clean off later. Then again, it wasn't MY bed so why should I care if I just lay on my back and rub it off later?

Finished, the guy pulled up his boxers and jeans and buckled himself back up again, leaving me on the bed with his cum all over me. I flipped on my back and tried to wipe it off as best as I could on the bed covers. Yuck, I was going to need a good shower later, that was for sure.

Looking around, it didn't appear that there was anyone else volunteering to do a second act with me. I certainly wouldn't have minded a little longer fucking but at the same time, I felt I'd done my duty, at least so far as this room was concerned. Lisa was still out of it and I figured if I just covered her up and left her that she should be ok. The crowd seemed to sense that the "show" was over for now and had started to disperse.

I wondered how Kristen was doing. Rather than mess up my tops, I just grabbed my panties and bra and put them on. You could say in some ways they were less risque than most of the bathing suits and bikinis I wore although for some reason, guys seemed to find lingerie more sexy than bikinis. Maybe it was the "I'm seeing something I shouldn't" factor or whatever you want to call it.

6. Back Downstairs With Kristen

Grabbing the rest of my clothes, I followed the crowd down the stairs back to the living room where I found my darling little cousin was still hard at work - if you can call what she was doing work! It was getting pretty late but there was still quite a few people watching as it appeared she was having no problems finding guys to fuck her. Then again, no doubt she was more aggressive than I had been upstairs. I stood there off to the side barefoot in my panties and bra, clutching my clothes to my chest as I watched a pro in action. Damn, that girl knew how to put on a show!

For maybe another hour or so I watched as Kristen took one guy after another, sometimes alone, sometimes in groups, sucking and fucking them as they filled every hole - and I mean EVERY hole. Some guys just jerked off and moved in to cum on her while others took in the ass or pussy. It seemed she had a dick in her mouth almost continuously, leaving it empty only long enough for the next one. She looked a wreck with cum all over her, in her hair and even in her ears (hence the EVERY hole observation I made earlier). Through it all, it was like she never got tired, never got enough. Each guy got the same treatment as the one before. It was like watching a true professional and it made me understand why she had been in such demand when she was hooking.

In the meantime I had gradually gotten myself dressed. I considered a few times joining in with her and I'm sure nobody would have complained but it was her show and I let her be the star. I guess if I'm completely honest I would say I was also a little intimidated and I didn't want to be shown up by her but I would never admit that to her, not in a million years.

I can't really say why it ended but it just did. One minute she was getting another load of sperm on her face and the next she was just sitting there with a slightly dazed look on her face. I had no idea how many guys had fucked her but it probably wasn't as many as it seemed at first judging from the number of onlookers who did NOT do her. I moved over to her and she finally noticed me.

"Hey, you look a wreck!" I teased her.

"Crap, that was crazy," she sighed, holding her head in her hands and then looking up at me with a perky smile, "But I loved it! Did you get to watch any of it?"

I explained to her quickly what I had been doing and then some guy came over and leaned over to talk to us. He was saying something about wanting to take us to another bedroom or house, I wasn't quite sure, but I told him we were heading home soon. Kristen started to say something - I think she actually was interested in the offer! Before she could volunteer I told the guy again it was over for the night and went to work trying to clean Kristen up enough to go home. What she needed was a long hot shower followed by a soaking bath but that wasn't going to happen here so all I could do was wipe away the majority of the cum on her and try to get her dressed so at least she wouldn't be naked in the car.

In the end I drove us home as Kristen was acting like she was drunk. I hadn't seen her drinking much but who knows what she had done while I was up in the bedroom. Perhaps she was just "drunk" with sex, I don't know, but in any case I wasn't about to let her drive in her condition. We made it home just fine where try as I did to get her to shower, she just dumped her clothes and flopped in bed, falling asleep almost the moment her head hit the pillow.

Seeing Kristen sprawled out on her belly on the bed, I was reminded of Lisa back at the party. With everything going on with Kristen I had forgotten all about her. A momentary pang of guilt hit my stomach as I wondered what had happened to her. My worst fear was that sooner or later some guy would get drunk enough to assault her in her condition. Oh well, ther4e was nothing I could do about her now and in any case, she was old enough to be responsible for herself.

Unlike Kristen, there was no way I was going to bed without a shower, even though I had very little cum on me, especially compared to Kristen. It felt good to feel the warm stream of water on me, cleansing everything away. I was SO tired by now that even the temptation of the shower massager wasn't enough to keep me from heading straight to bed.

Oh well, I was sure there would be plenty of time to masturbate in the morning. For now I was ready to go to bed and go to SLEEP this time. My last thoughts were of Kristen and how incredible it had been to watch her fucking those guys. Yes indeed, old habits DO die hard and I wondered if she was really going to be able to leave her old job behind her. Only time will tell I guess.

(Oct 09) Chapter 199: Ghost From the Past

Story codes: MF FF F-solo oral exhib inc father daughter cousins
Me (24)
John - my dad (44)
Kristen - cousin (22)
Randy - old boyfriend (24)

When someone asks me where to go to meet people I always give them the same answer - church! At first this may sound like the LAST place to meet someone, especially if you're looking to get laid, but if you think about it, it's full of people who probably are NOT going out to bars and clubs yet are desperate for sex! As it turns out, recently my own advice proved to be true once again for me when I was reunited with an old flame - in more ways than one.

1. My Past With Randy

Note: There are a few diary entries from back in 2002 about me and Randy so I won't repeat everything here. If you're interested, you can read about us back then in:

2002 (Sep 20) Chapter 41: My First Time With a Virgin
2002 (Oct 02) Chapter 42: Fooling Around at My Boyfriend's House
2002 (Oct 12) Chapter 43: Caught By My Boyfriend's Sister

Way back during the beginning of my senior year in high school there was a boy in my church senior high youth group named Randy. I was a seventeen year-old senior while he was just a sixteen year old junior. Younger guys, especially those younger than me, typically weren't all that interesting to me so he never caught my attention until one fateful evening at a youth group meeting.

I was wearing my typical denim shorts (short but not TOO short for church) with an old church camp t-shirt that was a baggy and really did nothing for my figure. All in all, I was wearing the about the same outfit as most of the other girls.

At one point Randy was sitting next to me and I couldn't help but notice that he was staring at my legs whenever he thought I wouldn't notice (why do guys always think they can get away with that?) Once when I knew he was looking, the next time I turned my head quickly toward him and he glanced away, blushing because he knew that I'd caught him. Actually I thought his shyness was sort of cute and in a way it turned me on a bit. At the time I wasn't seeing anyone in particular and besides, if he got rid of the dorky glasses I bet he'd look pretty hot. Maybe it was because he was so shy, but I'd never seen him alone with a girl and I'd never heard of anyone dating him.

Later on in the evening we played a scripture quiz game. The girls drew names from a hat and wouldn't you know it but I pulled out Randy's name to be my partner. Our table was off in the corner with nobody was too close to us but it wasn't like we were alone or anything even close to being like that. Still, I found myself thinking about how he had been staring at my legs and crotch earlier, wondering what he was thinking at the time.

In my mind, I pictured him going home later and laying in his bed all alone at night, fantasizing about me and wanting me, wishing he could put his hands all over me and feel those smooth tanned legs he'd been staring at all night. I imagined him getting this wonderful erection and then masturbating himself as he imagined me dropping my shorts and showing him more of me than he'd seen before.

Sitting so close to him now, I started to get that feeling deep inside, that irresistible itch that can only be truly satisfied by a man. It was then that I really started looking at Randy with more than just curiosity or passing interest. What he would be like if we were alone? How it would feel to have him do more than just look at me? How big was his dick? Had he ever fucked a girl with it? Heck, had anyone even sucked it yet?

As it turned out, I managed to coax him into asking me out on a date (actually I think I did most of the asking, he just agreed with what I said). It was fun for me because I'd never dated a virgin before, let alone a guy who hadn't even been past first base! We went to see a movie and I like to think that he still gets an urge to masturbate whenever he remembers what I did to him that night. Long story short... Randy wasn't a virgin when he returned home! What made it special for me was that he was my first virgin. I'd never been fucked by a guy doing his first girl before so he'll always hold a special place in my memories.

After that we dated a bit on and off. His parents, especially his mom, were crazy strict so we pretty much had do to everything at my house. I can still remember the first time I met Randy's mom at a church carwash. Like most of the girls I was wearing shorts and a bikini top that left little to the imagination, especially as we got wet, but it was good for business.

At the time I hadn't gotten together with Randy yet but even so, his mom took one look at me and I knew from her pursed lips and narrowed eyes that she wouldn't want her precious son to have anything to do with a slutty girl like me. That image haunted me when I started going out with Randy. Whenever I knew I would be seeing her I would try to dress more conservatively and occasionally I even wore a bra (now THAT alone should tell you how hard I was trying to please her!)

All my efforts to please his mother proved to be worth it as I was having fun dating Randy. I called him my personal "Clark Kent" in that beneath those dorky glasses and shy demeanor was a hunk of a sexy sixteen year-old. Sex was all new to him which made it all the more entertaining for me as well. I especially loved pushing him to do things that he'd never done before. Perhaps one of the hottest things we did was to fuck on their porch while his parents were watching TV in the living room next door! He was so nervous I was afraid he might not be able to get it up but once I started on him he "performed" magnificently! It just goes to prove that a boy's horniness will override his common sense every time!

Randy also had an older sister who was going to a local college at the time. I never even saw her until one day Randy and I were taking advantage of his parents' absence and were fucking on their bed (another time when Randy was terribly nervous but couldn't say no to me). Wouldn't you know it but that turned out to be the one time his sister was home when I was there and she caught us doing it. It was touch and go for a while, especially when I suggested that she join us (neither of them went for THAT!), but it all worked out in the end, even if she did threaten to use it as blackmail someday.

After a little while Randy and I just seemed to drift apart. I can't really explain why, it was just one of those things. Randy was a really nice guy but I think I was a little much for him. Once I went to college I totally lost touch with Randy. He wasn't at church whenever I was back home and I heard something in passing once about him going to school out west but I never really tried to find out the details. We never got THAT serious and it was one of those things I chalked up as a fun time which left me with a few fond memories.

2. A Church Encounter

With all that you can imagine my surprise when last Sunday at church a ghost from my past suddenly appeared. Seated in the pew in front of me was Randy along with his parents. At first I didn't even recognize him but at the beginning of the service we always stand up and greet those around us. When he turned around his eyes got big and for a moment I was confused but then I remembered him. He'd lost the glasses, gotten a better haircut and his skin had cleared up. As I shook his hand all I could think of was, "Wow!"

When we sat back down my dad nudged me in the side with his elbow. His eyes shifted to Randy and then back to me and I knew he was curious about why I'd reacted as I did. I just grinned at him and he knew immediately that this was someone I'd fucked before and that was all he needed to know. Later I would remind him as I was sure I'd told him about Randy back then and he had been home several of the times I'd brought Randy to my room to fuck me. Odds were he had probably even peeked in to watch but if I had a hard time recognizing Randy then there was no way my dad was going to remember him. It's not like he was the only boy I use to bring home. Some girls like to bring home puppies - I preferred guys!

After church I managed to slip in next to Randy in the line to shake the pastor's hand. We only had a few minutes but we exchanged phone numbers and he called me the next night to ask me out the following Friday night. When he called I was over at my dad's house visiting him and my Aunt Linda (who was now living with him full-time) so I politely excused myself and went up to my old bedroom to talk in private.

Randy and I chatted for a while on the phone and I learned that he was still single, had graduated with a degree in some sort of engineering, and had been living in California since then. Apparently his dot.com company was hit by the recession and had gone bankrupt so now he was back living with his parents until he could find a new job.

Surprisingly, given our past, we never discussed sex during the first call, not even anything about our current dating arrangements for that matter. It was pretty much just catching up on our college days and careers. Of course I didn't mention to him anything about my escorting experiences or even the lingerie parties I modeled for. It wasn't that I was ashamed of my escorting past, it's that even though I didn't have sex with my clients, it's still hard to explain it to people who didn't know me and I didn't want him to get any wrong impressions of me.

3. Imagination Running Wild

Even though Randy and I didn't talk about it, I was definitely thinking about sex! Damn, he had looked so hot in church earlier in the week. Memories of the first time I sucked his dick in the movie theater parking lot came flooding back to me and then I recalled the expression on his face the first time his dick entered my pussy - for that matter the first time it had ever been in a pussy period. It was such a mixture of pleasure and lust, and a little surprise as well. I can only imagine what it must feel like for a boy to feel his dick surrounded by a warm pussy for the very first time. If Randy was a typical example, it must feel pretty damn good! Of course, I loved feeling in me was well and I couldn't help but wish he was in me now!

As we talked I couldn't help but start to rub myself through the jeans I was wearing as my pussy was getting that feeling it gets whenever I'm horny - or least hornier than usual. As I was using my new Bluetooth toy my dad had recently bought for me, I didn't have to hold the phone or even use the speakerphone which left both of my hands free. Hmmmmmm, so is that what they REALLY mean when they say "hands free"?

Laying back on the bed, I quickly undid my jeans and slipped them down and over my feet. Since I wasn't wearing any panties underneath, that left me bare-bottomed on my bed - just like so many times during the "old days" when I use to live here! For a brief moment my mind wandered and I wondered just how many times I masturbated on this bed - hundreds? Thousands? All I knew was that it was a LOT!

Little did Randy know but as he went on about college and his job that I was masturbating at the other end of the line, thinking about his wonderful hard dick that I use to love to suck and have fuck me so much. They say you never forget your first virgin and all I can say is I agree! It was such a thrill that night to be his first, to know that my pussy was the only one that had ever felt his dick pushing itself up inside of it. When he came in me (which didn't take long the first time, to be sure) it was extra special for me because I knew he had never given his sperm to any other girl before me.

After we hung up, remained on my bed, masturbating as I dreamed of what it would be like to meet Randy again, to feel his hands roaming all over me, groping me, exploring me and fondling me. True, odds were he'd been with plenty of girls since we had dated, but I would always be his "first" and hopefully I'd still be special to him because of it. I wondered if he'd gotten an erection while he was talking to me? Had he been stroking himself while I'd been rubbing my pussy? Was he jerking off at this very same moment, just as I was masturbating about him, hoping I would get the chance have him to fuck me again after all these years?

My hips arched upwards as I thrust two fingers deep into my wet pussy, imagining it was Randy fucking me with his steel-hard cock. I remembered how hard he use to get and how fast he would get that way when he was with me, whether it was "appropriate" at the time or not. I just loved the way he use to beg me to let him fuck me all the time, like he couldn't get enough of me once he found out how good it was to have sex with me. It was like I had broken down some dam inside of him and all that sperm wanted to get out and into my pussy (or my mouth, depending on the occasion).

"Ohhhhhh!" I moaned softly as my orgasm rose within me like a tsunami rising as it approaches the shore.

It steadily grew in intensity as my pussy gripped my fingers tightly, imagining it was Randy's dick that was filling me. I reached under my sweatshirt and rubbed my boobs, twisting my hardened nipples with my fingers as I fucked my tight pussy with my other hand. God I wished Randy was with me now, just as he had been in this very same bed with me so many times before, fucking me and cumming in me over and over again.

At the time I was so lost in my orgasm that I almost didn't notice the bed moving but something caught my attention and when then I opened my eyes, I saw it was my dad, naked as he positioned himself between my legs while my Aunt Linda watched from the doorway. He didn't say a word but the lust in his face told me more than a speech ever could. His dick was fully erect and ready for action.

Mmmmmmm, had they been watching me as I masturbated? Either way it didn't matter as in total silence he pushed my hand out of the way and then drove his hard cock into his daughter's pussy. My orgasm, which had been starting to wane, suddenly picked up again and my dad groaned as he struggled to stroke his cock in and out of my spasming pussy.

"Oh daddy, that feels so damn good," I sighed, my eyes shut as I tried to concentrate on nothing but his dick in me, "Fuck me daddy... fuck me... fuck me more. Love me daddy... show me how much you really love me!"

Under the circumstances I guess I sort of expected him to say SOMETHING in response to me but he seemed completely focused on fucking me as he held himself up on his hands as his hips thrust his dick even deeper inside of me and then pulled it almost all the way, just to thrust it back in me all the way yet again... and again... and again. He has driving it hard into me, pushing me into the bed as he put his weight behind his cock, drilling it as deep as he could into my pussy. His head pulled back and I heard him groaning as he struggled to hold himself back.

"Cum in daddy, it's OK, cum in me now!" I urged him as I wrapped my pegs around him and pulled him into me.

My father dropped to his elbows, trying to keep from crushing me as my boobs pressed into his hairy chest.

"Oh baby!" he groaned again, but this time I felt his hips jerking as he began to ejaculate.

Dad had his dick into me all the way, his hairy crotch grinding into my bare pussy as load after load of his incestuous sperm was pumped into my waiting pussy. Any thoughts of Randy were long gone as I reveled in the feeling of my father cumming inside of me. I loved it when he came in me, when he showed me how much he loved me, when he gave me his sperm, when he mated his daughter out of his parental love as well as his genuine male lust for me. My pussy felt so wet and warm as he held his dick still in me, now surrounded by his daughter's loving pussy as his cum drenched me inside.

"Oh god I love you so much Kelly," he whispered to me as he tried to gather his breath.

I knew exactly what he meant. It was the love of a caring father for his daughter, the kind of love only a father can give, the kind of love only a daughter can receive. Of course he didn't have to fuck me to show his love for me, but the fact he DID fuck me just made it all the better and more intense. If he didn't love me and respect me, he couldn't fuck me like this. At the same time, if he didn't lust for me the way a man lusts for a younger women, he couldn't have fucked me like this either! It was wonderful for me to know that while I knew his deepest desires and needs were fulfilled by me, it was also a sign of my love for him that I allowed him to fuck me this way.

He started to move but I didn't want this moment to end do quickly.

"Stay in me daddy," I begged him gently, "I want to feel your dick in me a little longer."

"Anything for my baby girl," he whispered to me as we kissed.

It wasn't a "family" kiss where you peck and part, yet at the same time it wasn't like when I kiss another man either. It was the kind of kiss only a father and daughter can share. It was romantic in that it made me feel good, especially with his dick still in me which was driving my pussy crazy but not in a "lover" type of romance. This was yet another way for us to each express our love and respect for the other in a way that was personal and incredible intimate.

"Oh daddy... I love you inside of me like this," I whispered in a soft voice.

It was so perfect, just the two of us lying in bed, joined together as only a man and woman can be. I could have gone on all night like this... it was just SO special.

"Well, it's good to see the two of you are having such a good time."

My thoughts were suddenly interrupted by a voice from the door. I looked over my dad's shoulder and saw my Aunt Linda was still standing there, naked with her one hand on her hip while the other was resting on the door handle. She had been naked earlier as well, for some reason getting into this nudity thing since she moved in with my dad, running around stark naked most of the time. It wasn't something she had done before when she lived with Kristen so I wasn't quite sure why she had started it, but my dad seemed to get a kick out of it so I didn't question it.

My dad started to lift himself off of me when my aunt said, "Oh no, I didn't mean for you to stop, I was trying to say how nice you looked together."

It was too late, intentional or not she had broken the spell and my dad got up. Actually, his cock had dwindled down to where it had barely been in me anyway but still, it was not how much he had in me, but the fact he WAS in me that mattered. Now it just hung limp, wet with a mixture of our cum.

"Mmmmmmm, now THAT looks too good to pass up," my aunt said as she rubbed her hands and stepped into my room.

She kneeled down and took my dad's dick in her mouth, sucking it clean. Unfortunately, there was no way he would be responding this quickly after having just fucked me so after she had gotten a good taste she stood back up and wiped her lips with the back of her hand.

"Ahhhhhh, " she sighed as she turned to look at me with a grin, "You know, you taste pretty good on him Kelly!"

We all laughed a bit at that. I gathered my jeans and carried them down with me as we retreated to the family room in the basement to watch TV. I left after a little while but from the look my aunt was giving my dad, I had a feeling they didn't wait long after I left to have some fun of their own!

4. Driving Home on Friday After School

Friday night came quickly. I love teaching and whereas in the past I use to count the days, hours and minutes until the end of the week, now I actually feel a little disappointed when the bell rings after the final period of the week. This week, however, I wasn't as disappointed as usual because I knew later that night I would be seeing Randy again after all these years! All week I'd thought of him on and off. More than a few times in class I could barely keep my hands from reaching under my dress. Of course I never actually DID anything. Even though most of my students were only ten to twelve years old, they still would've known something was up if their teaching started moaning with her hand in her crotch!

The traffic on Fridays was always the worse and what was typically at most a twenty minute drive was usually thirty or more on Fridays. It was all small streets so there were lots of stops signs and street lights. It was hard to concentrate on my driving when all I would think about was Randy and how he would be fucking me this evening. Yes, I'd already decided he was going to fuck me, whether he knew it yet or not! Somehow I didn't think he would mind.

At school, as a teacher I am required to wear long dresses and skirts which come well below the knee (they preferred to the ankle but I usually went with half-way to the knee). Sitting in my car waiting for yet another of a seeming endless stream of red lights, my pussy was literally aching as I thought about how good Randy's dick would taste. Did he still get so incredibly hard? Could it still go from flaccid to fully erect in less than minute or was that just my memory being overly imaginative? My hand left the steering wheel and I pressed through my skirt between my legs. A surge went through me like an electric shock as I nailed my already sensitive clit.

As horny as I was, I really didn't want to get my skirt messed up so I grabbed the material and inched it up over my knees and up to my waist. Unfortunately I had on nylon stockings but at least no pantyhose, just some plain cotton panties which were intended to be more comfortable than sexy. My philosophy was that if I was going to be forced to wear them to school, I may as well be comfortable. After all, it wasn't like anyone would be seeing them anyway. Most of the other teachers were twice my age and since I'd taken care of my issues with the administrator, there wasn't anyone interested in what was under my dress in the first place other than maybe a precocious sixth grader and I wasn't interested in THAT sort of attention!.

My foot was planted on the brake as I reached under and pulled my panties aside. Damn I was already so wet! I could actually smell the odor of my horny crotch as I started to lightly play with myself. The light turned green and for a ,moment I just let my hand rest against my crotch as I steered my way around traffic until the next stop light forced me to come to a stop once again.

Normally I would have been mumbling under my breath about the intelligence - or lack of, of the traffic engineers that times the lights but today I almost welcomed the pause as it allowed me to focus on myself for a few moments.

Looking to the side of me, I saw a guy in a suit tapping his steering wheel with his fingers, obviously anxious to get home or to wherever he was going, He turned to me and smiled when he saw me looking at him. I wondered what he would say if he knew at that very moment the girl he was smiling at was masturbating in her car as she waited for the light alongside of him! The thought made me even hornier and I bit my lip to keep from crying out as my clit reacted to the increasingly faster motions of my fingers. The light turned and his lane moved faster so he was quickly out of site as once again I tried to focus on my driving.

With each red light it became more and more difficult to pay attention to the light as turned green. I was getting so close! This time I didn't stop playing with myself as the traffic crawled ahead. Damn it felt so good to touch myself! My damn panties kept getting in the way and finally I was so frustrated that at the next light I reached down and slipped them off, pulling them down to my ankles and stepping out of them, leaving them on the floor under my feet. I lifted my skirt even higher such that my now bare as was directly on the warm seat beneath me. God I wanted to cum so bad!

HONK! I opened my eyes and looked in the rear-view mirror where some bitch was beeping at me. I realized about two car lengths had opened up between me and the car ahead of me which I quickly closed up - like it made any difference in this mess. I wished I could scream out at her and tell her I was about ready to cum so give me a break! Fuck I was so close now... almost there...

5. Preparing for My Date With Randy

Thankfully Kristen wasn't home so I had the house to myself. The last thing I needed right now in the state I was in was to have to deal with her fucking some boy she'd brought home after cruising the middle school practice field. Usually I just pretended not to notice and let her have her fun but as horny as I was right now I might have not had the willpower to "just say no".

As I undressed, I recalled how that young boy looked in the car next to me and yet again wondered what he would have done had he had any idea of what was happening just a few feet away in the car next to him.

I always showered when I got home but today I especially needed one. Lord only knew how badly I stunk like sex after masturbating so hard in my car. The warm stream felt so good against my bare skin. I turned to face the shower head and let it stroke me on my face and chest. The water hitting my nipples felt so wonderful and the stream that formed in my cleavage caused a funny sensation inside of me. I cupped my breasts in each hand, squeezing them as I closed my eyes and let the shower flow over them.

Mmmmmmm, imagine in just a few hours it wouldn't be MY hands playing with my boobs. Randy had always loved my breasts, even though when we dated they were at least a full size smaller than they were now. If he liked them back then, I was hoping he would love them now! He had been like a little boy on Christmas morning with them, touching and fondling my boobs like they were something totally new to him – and I guess in a way they were at the time. He had told me mine were the first breasts he had ever touched.

Speaking of the first things for him to touch, I let one hand run down and cup my crotch as I recalled the first time Randy had put his hand inside my shorts and touched my pussy slit. He'd frozen at the first touch, as if he had no idea of what to do now that he had reached what he had been dreaming of for so long. It was so cute!

It got me incredibly hot to whisper instructions to him, teaching him how to touch a girl, explaining the parts of my womanhood and instructing him on how to make me feel good. It was almost like masturbating as he did exactly what I told him, almost to a fault. It wasn't until the third time or so that he seemed to feel comfortable to initiate anything and to try things on his own.

Pushing my finger inside of me. I turned away from the shower and let it strike me in the back of the neck and between my shoulders. God, it had felt so incredible the first time he put his dick in me. Even though by then I'd been fucked by quite a few guys, there was something special about knowing it was the first time this dick had ever been inside a pussy. Every other guy that had fucked me before Randy had been with at least one other girl which made Randy special to me – ,my pussy was the only one he had ever experienced.

The poor boy had barely gotten his dick all the way in me when he exploded and filled me with cum. He started to pull out, a little embarrassed I think at his quick discharge but I assured him it was natural and fine with me. besides, he didn't shrink one bit after that first time and soon he was fucking me again, with more control this time now that he had cum.

With my eyes closed I turned to the side and leaned back against the wide wall of the bathtub as the shower continued but I wasn't paying any attention to it. My eyes were closed and all I could think about was that first time when Randy had fucked me. Then I started to think of the other times we'd done it and how hot it had been when his parents had been in the next room. Even when his sister had caught us I remember he hadn't shrunk a bit but kept fucking me even though I knew he was mortified at the sight of her in the doorway. Mmmmmmm, if only she had joined us. It would have been fantastic if she had let her brother fuck her!

As I masturbated I felt my hand being pushed aside and another finger was toying with my pussy. At first I thought it was just my imagination working overtime and then I opened my eyes and saw Kristen standing there with the shower curtain moved aside. She was naked and had reached in to help me out. Seeing I was aware of her, she grinned and joined me, turning off the shower as she did.

"Mmmmmmm, now THIS is the way I like to find you when I come home," she murmured to me as she kissed me and played with my pussy.

Kristen and I had played together enough over the years for her to know just where to touch me and just how to do it in order to get me off – as if it really mattered at this moment where she did. Her perky boobs slid against mine, slippery from the wet shower as our breasts pressed against each other's. She had her crotch pressed up against my hips, using me to rub herself against as she masturbated herself like a dog humping my leg. Hmmmmmm, somebody else must have been pretty horny herself as well!

"Oh god Kristen, don't stop," I begged her as another orgasm struck me.

God, this was turning out to be quite the Friday evening already and I hadn't even been picked up by Randy yet!

We played together in the shower for another twenty to thirty minutes until we were both exhausted. I grabbed a towel and threw in on my bed, plopping down in the middle of it without even drying myself off. Kristen did the same and we both laid there on our backs, nude and wet after both of us had just finished cumming yet again.

"Damn, that was good," Kristen sighed, "Now do you mind telling me what this was all about?" she giggled.

I explained to her about my ride home and how horny I'd been when I came through the door. Kristen chuckled when I mentioned about being relieved to find her not home with some young boy.

"Fuck, if I'd known you were going to come home like some tramp in heat I'd of had the whole boy scout troop over!" she laughed, "AND their leader!" she added.

I could only imagine where she was going so I didn't respond, figuring it was probably better I didn't know. Somehow I managed to get myself up and back to the bathroom to get myself ready. Looking back, I saw Kristen roll over on her side and start going at it again. It really didn't surprise me, she usually masturbated every day when she came home from school so why should today be any different?

I glanced at the clock next to my bed and my eyes popped open. Damn it, I only had an hour now before Randy was picking me up! I'd better get going and dreaming about him fucking me or I wouldn't be ready when he came and really DID!

All week I'd been having a running debate with myself as to how to approach this date. It wasn't like randy and I had never been together before and when we were, it had been all about sex. I never felt anything romantic for him when we dated, just enjoying the time we spent together. He never mentioned anything himself, never uttering the "L" word, thank God, and for all I knew, he was happy just fucking me every chance he got. So now the question was, did I pick up where we left off or what?

From what I could see, I had several options. The easiest would be just to go at it as if our last date had been last week and simply have a good time. Then again, this wasn't the same Randy I knew back in high school - this glass geek and innocent virgin. Certainly he'd been with other girls since he'd had me and I wondered how many he'd fucked - and how he compared me to them. Back in high school I felt I was pretty "skilled" compared to most girls my age when it came to sex but that was a long time ago - and a LOT of guys ago for me. Certainly he had fucked other 'experienced" girls after me, most likely older and more experienced than I had been at the time. Certainly I was due some "extra credit" in the grading curve for being his first, but that didn't mean I had been his best.

What if Randy wanted something more than just sex? What if he was looking for some sort of "relationship"? In some ways that wouldn't bother me as I WAS 24 now, approaching 25, and sooner or later I needed to start getting serious with a guy again before I became an old maid. I didn't know randy really at all so would I even WANT to get serious with him? Was it worth NOT having sex right away with him to try and establish some sort of platonic relationship first? Was that even necessary? Just because we started off with sex, did that mean we couldn't have a "serious" relationship later?

Of course, there was always the last option- just dating him and having fun without sex AND without worrying about a relationship. Yeah right... THAT option lasted about 3 seconds!

In the end, I had decided about mid-week to go for sex, pure and simple. I'd been the class slut when he met me back then, so why not be a slut for him now? Any second thoughts I may have had were crushed in the wake of my behavior the past couple of hours. Heck, if I wasn't lusting for Randy so badly, then how do you explain what I'd been doing? Just as I always say a ,man's erection never lies when it comes to his intentions, in a way the same applies to my pussy. It's almost impossible for me NOT to get wet and horny and start playing with myself when I'm really turned on by someone and want nothing more than to have him (or her) fuck me.

Randy had mentioned something about dinner and a movie - just as our first date had been. Hmmm, why not re-enact that evening?

Back then when I was getting ready for my first date with Randy I'd also showered, shaving my legs and around my crotch. Back then I trimmed a little patch of my pubic hair that I kept around (I was shaved bare now). If I recalled correctly, I'd worn a cute blue plaid skirt and a white lace blouse. The blouse was semi-sheer and buttoned down the front while my skirt had come less than halfway down my thighs.

A smile came to me as I remembered choosing a pair of standard white cotton panties and even wore a bra for the first time on a date in ages. All-in-all it had actually been a pretty conservative outfit for me compared to what I wore for some boys but I was worried then that Randy might be scared off if I wore one of my more daring dating outfits, especially the cute little skirt and halter set my dad use to refer to as "Kelly's high school slut outfit" (but actually it was his favorite!).

Looking through my things, I didn't have the blue plaid skirt but I DID have a red one that my dad had bought as part of a "naughty schoolgirl" outfit a while back. It was shorter than the one I'd worn before for randy, coming down only a few inches below my ass in the back. It was really intended more as a "costume" than an "outfit" to wear in public but I doubted that Randy would complain. As for the blouse, I had several that were similar and actually ended up with the one that went with the schoolgirl costume. It was practically sheer and the red bra I chose to wear under it would be plainly visible. Again, not intended for public consumption but nothing most guys would say anything about.

The bra was one of my fav's from Victoria's Secret, deeply cut, snapping in the front with lace around the upper portions of the cups. While not a "wonder" style bra, it did lift and hold my breasts nicely, pushing them up and together to "enhance" my cleavage. It wasn't exactly the most comfortable thing to wear and I never would have lasted a full day at school in it, but I didn't intend to be wearing it TOO long tonight so comfort wasn't exactly a concern.

I had several sets of heels that all would have gone well with the outfit but in the end picked out a rather simple pair of high heels with an ankle strap. The heel was about four inches, enough to show off my legs nicely but so much as to make it feel like I was on stilts. I'd gotten a pedicure the night before so my toes looked good and I thought a light gold chain with a small heart charm around my left ankle added a nice touch.

The schoolgirl outfit came with white thigh-highs that really looked sexy but those would have been over the top should I have to walk into somewhere public - as if the skirt and blouse weren't enough already. Then again... I thought about it some more and decided that so long as I wore a longer coat, maybe one that came down to my knees, that I could wear about anything and it wouldn't matter. Thus the white hose came out of the drawer and completed the ensemble. I looked in the mirror and grinned as I recalled the look on my dad's face the first time I'd worn it for him after he'd bought it for me.

"Hey, isn't that the outfit your dad bought you last year?" Kristen said, peeking in from the doorway.

She was still nude, but then she usually was around the house. "Didn't he wind up fucking you like in about two minutes that time?" she giggled.

I turned and grinned at her. Actually, it was probably at least ten minutes as I'd done a bit of a dance for him and teased me. Like, he deserved to get his money's worth so I wasn't about to strip it off the first minute! In the end, I actually didn't undress at all, at least not the first time. He had just pulled the pulled the panties aside and I sat on his lap as he fucked me in his chair with the entire outfit still on, even the bra.

Well, Randy wasn't aware of what me and my dad did so I wouldn't be telling him how this outfit had been initiated, that was for sure! Still, I thought it was rather appropriate that I was now wearing one of my dad's favorite outfits to go out with a guy he use to watch fucking me up in my bedroom when I was in high school!

"So what do you think cuz? Will he like it?" I asked Kristen, posing for her with my hands on my hips and a pouty look on my face.

"Shit, if he doesn't you know he's gay!" Kristen laughed. Then she got this nasty grin and licked her lips, saying, "Actually, it turns ME on as well!"

We both laughed but yet IU think we both knew she was serious - and I didn't mind it either. Even though what Kristen and I had done a little earlier wasn't something we did all that often, I can't say I didn't enjoy having sex with her. It was just better that we didn't do it all the time since we had to live with another as well. Actually I think we use to do it more when I lived in my own apartment than we did now that I had moved in together with her.

With that I gather my purse and coat and went to the living room to wait for Randy as it was about time for him to show up. Kristen went off to her room - I had a pretty good idea why, leaving me to wait by myself. I only had a few minutes when headlights shined and a car stopped in front of the house. Randy popped out from the driver's door and stood there, evidently thinking I would come out to meet him.

Wrong! Instead, I waited for him to finally come to his senses and come to the door to greet me. Call me romantic, but I figure the least a guy can do is pick me up at the door, especially when he knows what's in store for him later. My body tingling as he approached. God he looked so hot!

Finally, the night was here. I couldn't wait to be with Randy once again after all these years.

6. Dinner With Randy

Hi Randy," I greeted him at the front door, "That's so sweet if you to come to the door for me like a gentleman."

My sarcasm was totally lost on him but then I guess I couldn't blame him. He seemed more interested in my legs at the moment, probably wondering what was further up but with my coat already on that was pretty well hidden from view – as I intended it to be for the time being at least. He held open the storm door as I closed the door and checked to see that it was locked behind me. Too bad Kristen was still occupied up in her room. I would have loved her to see what I had all to myself for the evening! I smiled as I imagined her returning to her room once again after getting an eyeful of Randy.

"Something you wanted to say?" Randy asked, evidently thinking I was smiling because of something I wanted to tell him. Rather than say he was wrong, I made something up instead.

"Just thinking back to all those years ago when we went on our first date." I replied.

By now we were at his car and he held the door open for me. "Well, things have changed quite a bit since then for both of us I imagine," he said as he closed the door and quickly hurried to the other side. I looked around the car and was slightly miffed that it had a large console in the center. While I could probably still reach over it for his crotch, any hopes of blowing him while he was driving were pretty much off the table now without performing some wild gymnastics – which I wasn't dressed for.

I was waiting for him to ask me if I had a preference as to where we would go for dinner but he had indeed grown up and didn't ask but rather started driving somewhere. Rather than appear nervous and ask him where he was going, I just sat back and waited to see what happened. We made some small talk as he drove and I noticed he kept glancing over at me. All that was available for his viewing pleasure at the moment were my legs as my coat covered everything else. Even then, the coat barely covered the tops of my thighs so it must have been obvious to him that whatever was underneath couldn't have been very much. It was SO tempting to look over at his crotch to see if there was any response yet but I kept my eyes ahead except for when I turned to look at him – and then I looked him in the eyes without glancing lower.

Randy turned off and started heading up a steep hill and I knew the area well enough to know there was only one thing ahead of us. It rather surprised me as I had assumed we would be going to some dark restaurant with a quiet, out of the way booth were we could be more "personal". Yes indeed, probably the last place I would have ever guessed would be a Japanese steak house!

"I hope you like places like this," Randy said as he pulled up to the door to let me out before he parked the car.

I just smiled and nodded and stepped out when it became obvious he wasn't going to get out to open the door for me.

As I turned to exit the car, I noted an older couple entering. The husband was holding the door open for his wife (I assumed she was anyway) and he turned to see me getting out of the car. I tried not to notice his stare as I allowed my coat to pull up enough to reveal that my skirt had to be EALLY short based on the amount of thigh he got to see. Randy pulled away but the guy was polite and held the door open for me as well while his wife waited impatiently inside.

"Thank you," I said with a smile as I passed by him.

"Oh it's my pleasure," he replied.

Then he saw his wife glaring at him and he quickly hustled over to be with her while she in turn shifted her glare to me instead. She didn't say anything out loud but it was obvious what she was thinking about me. Cool! I must be looking goof tonight to earn her wrath while I still had my coat on!

Randy appeared in a few minutes and checked on his reservation. He told me it would only be a few minutes and offered to take my coat and check it. Yeah, like I was going to parade around the restaurant in THIS outfit! I'm sure most of the guys wouldn't mind but even I have enough common sense to know when something's over the line.

"Ummmmm, I think I'll keep it on... it's sort of chilly in here," I said, clinging to my coat.

Just then a girl came to us and said out table was ready - that was quick! She led the way towards the back of the restaurant to a table which could seat eight people, two at each end and four in the middle. She started to offer a seat in the middle but I nudged Randy and nodded towards the end against the wall. He picked up on my not-too-subtle hint and motioned to the girl that we preferred the other seats. She didn't seem to mind and for the moment we were the only ones at the table.

"Do you want me to help you with your coat?" Randy asked. I rolled my eyes and shook my head slowly.

"I... well... I didn't really come dressed for this place," I started to say but he didn't seem to understand.

"Oh I'm sure they don't care if you're not dressed up all fancy," he encouraged me, totally clueless it seemed to the reality of the situation. Since he didn't seem to be able to take a hint, I unbuttoned my coat and opened it up enough for him to see underneath.

"Whoa!" he said under his breath as his eyes immediately went to his favorite spot - my chest. Even in the rather dim light he must have been able to see how sheer my blouse was and the red bra underneath had to be plainly visible. "Sorry... guess I sort of blew it, didn't I?" he apologized. "Do you want to go somewhere else?"

Before I had time to answer, the girl brought in the older couple that I had "met" on my way in and seated them next to us. Actually, he was seated next to Randy who was at the corner while the wife was to his side furthest from us. When she realized who was sitting at our table I could see her eyes open and for a moment it looked like she was going to say something to her husband, probably about moving to another table. Too late, he had already taken her coat and helped her to sit down before she could get anything out.

Before seeing the old bitch I was about to accept Randy's offer to eat somewhere else. Indeed, I would have been happy eating something out in the parking lot, if you know what I mean. But seeing the way she looked at me, that high and mighty, "holier than though" aristocratic snobby attitude, I decided that this wasn't so bad at all. In fact, maybe I should think twice about removing my coat.

"Oh no, this is just fine," I said back to Randy, acting as though I hadn't even noticed out new table neighbors. "In fact, I've warmed up now so maybe you can help me with my coat after all."

Randy gave me that "are you sure?" look but I pushed back my coat, leaned forward and lowered my arms for him to take it off of me. When he pulled it off, I leaned back and grinned ever so slightly as I saw the older guy staring at me, not to mention the other couples that were now filling in the remaining seats at the table. Although they couldn't see my skirt from the way I was seated, my blouse was plainly visible - or not, depending on how you wanted to describe it. I'd left the top three buttons undone so it was opened up down to the bottom of my cleavage, allowing the red bra underneath to poke out slightly from the opening.

"Damn, that is one HOT outfit, Kelly!" Randy whispered to me in my ear.

He was also the only one who could see just how short my skirt was, barely covering my ass as I sat down, exposing almost my entire upper thigh.

Perhaps I should have been a little self-conscious about my outfit but then it's not like I was actually exposing anything. Had I been wearing a white bra instead of a bright red one it probably wouldn't have been so noticeable but then what was the point in that? Once the dinner got started and our soup and salads arrived, everyone seemed more involved in the dinner anyway so it rally became a non-issue for the most part. Now and then I would catch one of the men stealing a glance my way, but they all had wives and/or girlfriends with them to keep their interests in check.

It wasn't until the cook arrived started his thing that Randy took any initiative. While I was watching the "volcano" erupt, I felt his hand on my leg - finally! I looked over at him and he started to pull his hand away, misinterpreting my looking at him for disapproval. I put my hand on his and pulled it up even higher onto my thigh.

"Don't you dare take it off," I said softly to him, licking my lips ever so slightly, "I was wondering if you were ever going to touch me!

Randy rubbed my leg softly, inching his way up a little at a time until he reached the hem of my skirt where he paused. I reached down again and pushed his hand underneath and for once he took the hint! It was only a few more inches until he reached my panties and I spread my legs open just a bit to make it easier for him. Once again, he took the hint and reached in between to press on my pussy through my panties.

"Panties?" he questioned in a low whisper and then grinned.

I knew what he was referring to. When we dated I rarely wore panties, making this the one of the few times that he had to deal with them so far as I was concerned at least.

The chef started to hand out the first round of food so Randy had to pull his hand away, at least for the moment. Everyone was focused on the chef so I decided it was time to start being naughty. Reaching underneath me, I slipped my panties off and over my knees, letting them drop to the floor where I lifted my feet off of them. It was a bit of a pain with my heels but eventually they were all alone under my feet.

"Ummmmm, Randy, I need some help," I said softly to him.

He looked at me with a curious expression and I continued, "I dropped something on the floor."

Most likely he first thought I was talking about my napkin but when he looked down and saw what I was referring to, he just shook his head and reached down to grab them. Rather than hand them to me, he boldly put them in his pocket.

"You didn't need those in the first place," he explained with a sly grin.

The rest of the dinner went pretty much without further incident. It felt better to not have my panties on. Fortunately I was hidden by the table as in a normal table arrangement anyone seated opposite me would have had a fairly good view of my bare crotch. The couple who were last to arrive were then the first to leave.

Randy and I got up then and he helped me with my coat. When I put my arms back to let him put it on me, I could feel my skirt lifting up and for a moment it must have slid up just enough to prove I wasn't wearing anything as I heard a distinct gasp from the old bitch but I wasn't about to give her the satisfaction of looking at her and letting her glare at me again.

Soon we were at the entrance once again where I waited for Randy to get the car. I was hoping the older couple would come up and give me another chance to flash the husband but no doubt she was making sure I was long gone before she let her husband approach the entrance again. Too bad, maybe she might have gotten the old guy worked up for later when they got home if she hadn't been so prudish!

7. Movie and a BJ

Once we were back in the car Randy was finally able to talk openly with me. "Wow, now I see why you wore that coat tonight," he gushed, "That is one incredible outfit!"

Just in time I caught myself as I was about to say my dad had bought it for me but I'm wasn't sure how Randy would react to that news. It didn't have to mean I had sex with my dad, just that he bought me sexy clothes but still, some guys might find even that a little too much to deal with. Isn't it funny how guys all seem to love incest stories until it's their own girlfriend that is involved?

As he drove off, I undid the coat again to give him a better view. Lifting up my skirt, I let him see my bare crotch and teased him with, "So are you going to give me back my panties?"

"Hell no... I like things just the way they are now," he chuckled, reaching over to pat me softly on my crotch. "I see you shave it all off now... that something new?"

Reaching down to rub my bare pussy, I replied, "Actually I've been this quite for quite a while now. Do you like it better this way?"

"Hey, I love your pussy no matter what hair style you choose. Bald is cool though."

"Does it feel good this way?" I teased him.

Randy reached over again and ran his finger up and down my pussy and then pulled his hand away as he tried to steer through traffic. "Pretty damn good if you ask me."

We were already at the theater so I decided to wait until we were inside to continue our little game. Randy bought the tickets and soon we were seated in the theater. It wasn't that crowded but we still took a pair of seats towards the top and off to one side where we were a number of rows and seats away from anyone else. Randy handed me some popcorn as he helped me out of my coat once again.

"I don't think you'll be needing this in here," he said, grinning as he did.

For a moment I was tempted to slip off my skirt as well as I could always pull my coat over my lap if anyone came close. Being bottomless in the theater would have been hot but at the same time, it would have been more for show than necessity as the skirt was already so short it barely covered my crotch as it was. Besides, I wouldn't put it past Randy to grab it and hide it away the same as he had done with my panties should I take it off, forcing me to go leave the theater later with nothing on my bottom under my coat. Not that such a thing would have been so bad, it was more the principle than anything else. If I was going to be bottomless when we left, it would be MY decision, not his.

By now Randy HAD to have gotten the message that I wasn't going to be playing hard to get. During the week I had debated how to approach this moment and I didn't see any reason to deviate from my plans so it was time to get down to the business at hand - Randy's dick! I lifted the armrest that separated us and scooted over uptight against him, placing my hand firmly on his crotch so I could feel him firmness underneath his pants. I wasn't disappointed - he was already becoming aroused!

"You know, I've been thinking all week about your dick Randy," I murmured to him, purring like a kitten.

If he was surprised by my boldness, he didn't let on. It wasn't like this was our first date or anything after all. No doubt he would have been more surprised if I had played it cool but then my goal wasn't to surprise him... not by a long shot. Nope, if there were going to be any surprises it would be how fast I could make him cum.

The rest of the theater didn't seem to be paying any attention to us so there was no reason to wait. I reached over and undid his belt and buckle while he put his arm around me and started to play with my boobs through my blouse and bra. Damn, that boy still loved boobs as much as ever! Soon I had his dick free and in my hand. Mmmmmmm, it felt so warm and I loved the way it was firm but not yet hard.

"Do you remember the first time I sucked your dick Randy?"

Randy just nodded, he eyes shifting between mine and his crotch as I gently stroked his wonderful dick. Randy hadn't exactly been small when I first held him all those years ago and if anything, he had grown quite a bit since then. He wasn't exactly HUGE, but he was definitely at the top of the above average end of the scale.

"Do you want me to suck your dick now Randy?"

He just nodded but that wasn't good enough for me so I repeated myself saying, "Tell me Randy... I want you to tell me you want me to suck your dick."

"Oh god yes Kelly, I want you to suck my dick," he groaned, almost too soft to be heard but good enough to satisfy my ego.

If there was one thing I knew guys LOVED to hear, it was me asking them to fuck me. Well, in the same manner I loved it when guys asked me to suck their dicks. There was just something about them putting it in words that turned me all the more as I got ready to suck their cocks.

I leaned over and took the head of his dick in my mouth and just sucked on it for a while, using my tongue to tease it while putting just the head itself in my mouth. He smelled so good, that delicious mixture of a man's musky crotch and sweat. The base of his dick was covered with a thick thatch of dark pubic hair which I ran my fingers through as I suckled on the head of his dick. It felt wonderful to have his cock in my mouth, feeling it surge and grow as I gave him what he wanted.

"Do you like that?" I asked, looking up at him while I stroke the shaft of his dick.

"Oh god yes... don't stop," he begged.

Well, I can't say I've had a guy tell me much of anything different once I started sucking his dick but still, it was always nice to hear it.

Suffice to say I didn't see much of the movie. Well, make that none of the movie. It wasn't a disappointment as my intention had never been to see the movie in the first place. My goal was to spend the entire movie sucking Randy's dick and that's exactly what I did. Over the course of the movie I changed positions now and then. As much as I hated to do it, I kneeled on the floor a few times to give my back a rest from leaning over his lap. The last half hour or so I finally wised up and stretched out across the seats to the side of him with my head in his lap, sucking on the cock I'd been dreaming all week about.

Randy wasn't sixteen anymore but he was probably more in his prime now than anything so when he stayed hard after the first time he came it didn't surprise me. Try as I did, it was impossible to NOT have him cum fairly early on given how horny he was and if anything, it was good that he did because after that he was a little easier to suck without having to worry so much about driving him over the edge. I assumed he had to be good for at least three time an evening if not more and I still had every intention of him fucking me after the movie so the most I could let him cum was twice during the movie.

The first time Randy came, even though I was trying my best to be ready for it, took me a little by surprise. Usually the guy gives me a little bit of a warning, a least a second or two but this time Randy just suddenly hot off like a jack-in-the-box. It would figure it was one of the few times I didn't have my mouth around his shaft, instead I was liking the side of his dick while I played with his pubic hair.

Next thing I knew he was spouting like Old Faithful and the first load must have landed right on the side of my head and hair. I quickly got my mouth over him and managed to gather the rest in my mouth after which swallowed it down, but to my chagrin I could feel it dripping down from the side of my face. Great, now I had THAT to deal with after the movie as well.

The second time he came was almost at the end of the movie. There had been a few close calls along the way and quite a bit of leaking precum, but I managed to control him enough to keep him from going all the way each time. This time was when I was kneeling in front of him, squeezing in between the seats so I could suck him more easily. At least he gave me some warning so I made sure to have my lips sealed around his hard shaft right before he began to spurt his cum, taking every drop in my mouth without spilling a bit of it.

Before I swallowed it, I did what I knew he wanted - I opened my mouth and let him see his cum covering my tongue and then swallowed it down, just to open my mouth again and prove it was all down in my belly now. It was sort of like proving to your mom that you'd taken your pill and guys always seemed to really get off from watching me do it.

"Trust me, it gets nothing but better," I said, "My guy came twice in my mouth tonight and I loved it."

The girl looked up at me like I was some alien and finally said, "How can you stand it? I thought I was going to throw up when he made me swallow it. I can still taste it in my mouth."

"Well, remember to keep some mints with you next time, they can help a lot until you get more use to it," I offered.

"I just feel so... so dirty now," she said, still sobbing a little but starting to get herself under control.

"Why? Just because you sucked a man's dick and swallowed his cum?"

"I didn't want to... but he said if I loved him I would do it."

Well, I would have loved to have a few words with her so-called boyfriend about now but that wouldn't help her at this moment. Why do guys have to be such bastards?

"Do you really love him that much?"

She nodded so I asked, "So if you love him enough to suck his dick, what about sex?"

She shrugged her shoulders and I continued with, "Are you a virgin then?"

This time she nodded more emphatically and I could tell her virginity meant more to her than any worries about sucking cock.

"Well, I tell you this then. Don't let him fuck you just to prove you love him, OK? Make sure it's something YOU want to do. If he really loves YOU, then he'll respect you enough to wait."

She seemed to be more under control now and seemed to be anxious to leave so I finished with, "You know, you should try sucking him more often. It really DOES get better each time and the more you do it, the less he will pressure you to have sex."

She seemed to be uncomfortable with this line of discussion now that she was over her initial problems so I let he go, following her close behind. As she went back into the theater across the hall, I saw my own movie must be letting out as people were leaving the theater. Soon randy appeared. I didn't tell him about the girl, figuring it was something he didn't need to know about, and soon we were out in the parking lot headed for his car.

8. Randy Finally Fucks Me

Randy beeped his car and started to reach for the front door on the passenger side to let me in. He seemed surprised when I just stood there rather than sit down once he had the door open.

"Something wrong?" he asked.

"I'm just waiting for you to open the door for me."

Randy appeared puzzled. He was holding the door open yet here I was telling him I was waiting for him to open it. What I guess I should have said was that I was waiting for him to open the right door, that at the moment he had the wrong door open. Sheesh, the guy may be hung like a horse but he certainly could be clueless at times!

"Well, the front seat has that stupid console..." I hinted.

Damn, was he just stupid or what? Even with that hint he still stood there with his mouth half open like he had no idea what I was talking about.

"Damn it Randy, I want you to fuck me and we can't do it in the front seat!" I finally burst out in an exasperated voice.

"Ohhhhhh!" was all he could think of saying as finally he got the idea.

I don't know what he had in mind but certainly he had to be have planned to fuck me somewhere sooner or later before the night as over. Then again, maybe he hadn't? Was he still that unsure of himself that he thought all he would be getting was BJ the first night we dated again?

"Randy, if I let you fuck me on our first date, why wouldn't I let you do it now?" I huffed, "No dammit, are you going to fuck me or not?"

"But... here?" he said in a high voice, looking around at the full parking lot. Granted at the moment we were relatively alone but that could easily change in a moment's notice.

"You didn't seem so worried the first time you fucked me in a movie theater parking lot!" I taunted him.

Nobody was near us so I slipped my skirt down and stood there in front of him totally naked from the waist down. It was chilly but what the hell, I quickly undid my blouse and threw it in the car, followed quickly by my bra, leaving me in nothing but my heels and an ankle bracelet.

"Shit Kelly, what if someone sees you?"

"Well, then get in with me before I freeze and fuck me," I challenged him as I ducked into the back seat.

I crawled in to the other side and turned, sitting on the seat with my bare back against the other door, one leg on the floor with my other on the seat, letting my legs spread apart to give him an unimpeded view of my pussy in the glow of the parking lot lights.

With that he got in back with me and shut the door. Rather than undress, which arguably would have been cumbersome in the tight confines of the rear seat, he just undid he pants and pulled out his now erect dick.

"Now THAT'S better," I sighed, reaching down and grabbing his stiff dick, "Now quit goofing around and fuck me."

"Damn, you're still as such a slut as you were in school," he laughed as he positioned himself between my legs, "I was wondering if you had cooled off a little after all these years but I guess not."

His dick was at the entrance to my pussy but he kept on talking, even as he wiggled his hips to get the tips of his dick in just the right place between my wet pussy lips.

"I've been waiting for this moment for such a long time," he sighed as he began to push himself into me, "God damn, your pussy feels as tight as it was back then!"

It felt incredible to have him finally fuck me, to FINALLY fill my horny pussy with the fullness of his thick cock. Damn, how many times had I masturbated this past week dreaming of this very moment? How many fingers had I put in me imagining it was this very dick that was now in me? How many times had I cum, imagining he was cumming in me at the same time?

"Put it in me deeper Randy... I want it deep inside of me!"

Randy pulled me down from where I was leaning against the back door until I was flat on the back seat, my head on the armrest as he rammed his dick into my hungry pussy. I could hear voices outside, maybe from someone walking by but if they saw anything, they didn't let on and the voices receded. All I could concentrate on now was the feeling of Randy's cock in my pussy, the feeling of him fucking me and filling me.

Randy pulled out of me and pushed me aside so he could sit on the seat. I moved on top of him, straddling his legs as I faced him and felt his dick pressing up under me, trying to get back into the warm cave of my pussy. I quickly lowered myself down onto him as I held his dick with one hand, directing him easily back into my freshly fucked pussy. My boobs were in his face and she started to grab at my nipples with his mouth as I mounted myself on his cock like a corndog on a stick at the fair and started to bounce on him like a bucking bronco.

"Suck my nipples Randy... harder!" I sighed as he reached up and grabbed one boob with each hand while I rocked on his cock. I could see out the back window and grinned as several cars passed by and then an entire family walked behind us as they made their way to the theater. I was surprised they didn't notice the bouncing of our car as I drove Randy's dick in and out of me. It felt so wild to have him fucking me while mom and dad led the kids just a matter of feet away from us!

"Cum inside of me Randy," I begged him, "I want you to cum inside of my pussy."

Whether it was me asking him or maybe he was going to do it anyway, but one way or another Randy started to spurt again, this time with his cum gathering in my pussy instead of my mouth. It was exactly what I needed right then, the final bit of heat to light the fires within me as my own orgasm made my pussy grip his dick and I gushed cum down his shaft. God I needed this, I need it so badly! Each time his cock shot another load in me, it was like pouring another cup of gasoline on the fires within me, driving me even more and more into a totally orgasmic state where nothing in the world existed but his wonderful cock in my pussy.

"Damn!" was all he could say as I feel into his arms, totally exhausted.

I just sat there for a while, letting his cock remain in me, feeling him in me as I just put my head on his shoulder and felt his hands roaming all over my bare body. I felt wonderful, tired, and yet I horny, if that were somehow possible!

"I love your dick in me like this Randy," I purred softly to him, closing my eyes so I could focus on the feelings between my legs.

He was fully dress still so it was his pants I felt under my bare bottom. In a way it was strange. When I fucked my dad in a situation like this, HE was the one that licked to be naked while I would stay dressed. I had to say though, I liked being the one that was nude better. Even better than that would have been if we both were naked but under the circumstances, I was content with things as they were.

Eventually we had to get going. If nothing else, I was getting a chill now that I wasn't being "warmed up" by Randy fucking me. Randy opened the door and got our, reaching down to get my skirt and blouse for me. I waved him off and just grabbed my coat. Really, what was the point in getting dressed now?

On the way back to my place neither of us said a word. It was like everything had been taken from us when he finally fucked me in the back seat. When we got to the curb in front of the house, Randy finally broke the silence.

"I had a great time tonight Kelly, can I see you again?"

I leaned over to him and kissed him, smiling as I replied, "Well you better... but next time we do it someplace more comfortable, OK?" He just grinned and so I teased him with, "Maybe at your parent's house again... with your sister?"

For just a moment he hesitated and I wondered what it was that seemed to have struck a chord with him but then in an instant it was gone and he was back to being himself again.

"How about your place?" he suggested.

Indeed, now THAT would be interesting to say the least, especially if Kristen was around. Sure, maybe randy was a little old for her taste but I knew she was never one to turn away a goof fucking. Besides, when I told her all about tonight I knew she would be wanting a piece of Randy for herself anyway.

I just smiled naughtily, gathered my clothes, and let myself back into the house. I turned and waved to him as he drove off. When I turned back to the living room, there was Kristen, naked on the couch watching TV. She saw the outfit in my hands and when I took off my coat to reveal I was naked underneath, she whistled and motioned at me to join her on the couch.

As I approached Kristen, I started to tell her about the night. Seeing the hungry look in her eyes, I had a feeling my evening wasn't quite over yet!

(Nov 10) Chapter 200: Dad Turns 45

Story codes: MF F-solo inc father mother daughter uncle aunt niece
Me (24)
John - my dad (45)
Aunt Linda (41)
Kristen - cousin (22)

Hard to believe but my dad is now on the downward slope to 50! There are a few days each year that are special when it comes to me and my dad - Father's Day, 4th of July, his birthday and Christmas. Of course, it's HOW you make a day special that counts!

Note from Kelly: On reading this over after I wrote it, I realized I may have repeated myself a lot and perhaps dwelled on certain topics a bit too much. My apologies if that's the case but these things are important to me and are hard to put into words so please bear with me!

1. My Feelings for My Dad

Let me start right out by saying that my dad is the greatest dad in the world. Of course, I COULD be a little biased, but so what? After all, shouldn't EVERY girl believe that HER dad is the greatest in the world?

OK, so I admit that my dad has always spoiled me, probably more than I deserved. While he's never shared his tax return with me, I'm well aware that he earns an incredible income though his legal practice and as such, money has never been a big issue for our family. Even so, I wasn't raised in a mansion nor are there any expensive European cars in the garage, but that's more because that's how my parents CHOSE to live, not because they HAD to. Even though there's not many physical needs that I have been "deprived" of and I appreciate everything I have, that's not the only reason (or even the biggest one) why I say my dad is the best in the world.

More important than money, my dad is simply amazing to be around. He is smart, witty, and people seem to naturally want to be with him. OK, so maybe he's

As I've gotten older, graduated from college, moved into my own apartment, and eventually obtaining the dream job I've always wanted (teaching), things have changed between my father and me. That's to be expected I suppose. Heck, I'm certainly not the same naive sixteen year-old high school slut he first fucked over eight years ago! We don't see each other as much, especially now that my Aunt Linda has moved in with him, so it only follows that we don't have sex as much. It's been ages since I woke up with him trying to sneak his dick into me or jerking off over me.

The one "tradition" we HAVE tried to maintain is our Sunday morning "quickie" where he fucks me as close as possible to when we leave for church, thus ensuring when we sit in the pews his cum is still inside of me, perhaps even still leaking out a bit. Still, if he were to call me right now and tell me he needs me, I would be there in a heartbeat, ready to submit to him and be his ever obedient daughter, his loving daughter.

Now isn't that what the greatest father in the world deserves?

2. Planning and Plotting

My dad's 45th birthday was fast approaching. Every year it was something I fretted and worried over as trying to come up with something new and original can be quite taxing at times. Last year it was so close to my mother's passing that we just sort of let it come and go quietly without a lot of fanfare. Thus I felt even more compelled to ensure that this year's birthday was one that my dad would never forget.

To be fair, my dad was easy to satisfy, just as most men are. Heck, I knew that just a wakeup BJ and sex in bed would've been enough for him but where's the fun in that? Over the years I'd done a number of things, including role playing (naughty babysitter, dirty French maid, innocent school girl, and so forth), taking him out to dinner or a movie - or both and having sex in public, and even once hiring a stripper for him when I was away at school (no sex, I took care of THAT a couple of weeks later).

Ever since my Aunt Linda moved in with my dad I've been living with her daughter, my cousin Kristen. There's a spare room at the house and Kristen wasn't all that thrilled about living alone for the first time in her life. The added benefit of free housing was also important as my career as a Christian Elementary School teacher is fulfilling, but the pay is absolute crap. Thus my dad had been subsidizing me to pay for my rent and stuff, something I was glad to no longer have to worry about.

Living with Kristen is... well, let's just say it's "entertaining". As a recently "retired" whore, she just graduated from Realtor school but she hasn't totally lost the "itch" that drove her previous "career". Also, there's her insatiable passion for sex with younger boys that while it can be incredibly erotic, it is also be a bit disconcerting at times, not to mention tempting - something I simply don't need if I want to remain a teacher. I considered going to Kristen to get her advice for this year's birthday celebration but I already knew in general what it would be - something crazy that would get us all in trouble, if not thrown in jail!

In the past I could go to my mom and be assured she would always have something constructive and useful to help me. It was times like this when my heart would threaten to break again and tears formed as my thoughts turned to my mom and I realized yet again how much I missed her. Eventually I turned to the next best person - her sister, my Aunt Linda.

Linda was a couple of years younger than my mom and actually dated my dad back in their high school days (technically she was still in middle school when they started but close enough). My mom and Aunt Linda had sex with my dad and his younger brother throughout their high school years. When my Uncle Jim got married, he had to quit having sex with Linda as his new wife was really uptight about that sort of thing would never have gone along with it.

My dad almost married Linda as I think he had more fun with her sexually (even my mom admitted that Linda was the "wild one") but his heart was with my mom and fortunately love won over lust. Still, being so close my dad and his now sister-in-law continued their physical relationship. They continued even after Linda married, supposedly to a man who accepted her incestuous background.

Unfortunately, as things turned out he never was able to truly accept her family relationships and forced Linda to choose between her family and her husband - as if there was a choice. Family has always come first in our family and it was really unfair of her husband to be so jealous, especially since they now had a baby girl - my cousin Kristen.

Over the years, my aunt would stop by our house occasionally and disappear with my dad for a while, leaving later with this odd expression on her face. The idea that she and my dad might be having sex never even entered my mind, especially since my mom was usually home during those times. It wasn't that I would have thought anything wrong with them having sex, I just never even thought about it period.

Once I started having sex with my parents I learned the truth about my Aunt Linda's place in the family. The two of us even had sex but it turned out to be something we only did rarely after that, and almost always as part of a larger family "event". Eventually my cousin was included, much to the delight of my dad as you might well imagine. Kristen has always been into younger boys but she enjoys pleasing her favorite uncle and while my dad doesn't fuck her often these days, I know he made use of her "services" frequently when I was away at school.

Given their history, it was only natural that after a proper period of mourning that my aunt should move in with my dad. Of course, I say "only natural" assuming you DID know about their history. Given most of our family does NOT know about the incestual side of things, you can imagine what was being whispered at the time.

Now that they've had time to see them together, people seem to be accepting it more but I know there's still a bit of tension when my dad and aunt show up together at a family event, especially if they should kiss or get a little touchy-feely. Fortunately, I don't think the two of the care a hoot about what anyone thinks. Even though they seem close, I can't see them ever getting married - they don't have THAT sort of relationship. The important thing is they seem to be very happy being together and that's what counts in my book.

So anyway... I decided to seek my aunt's advice this year as I was drawing a total blank. I stopped by over at the house when I knew she should be home from work yet my dad would still be at his office in downtown Pittsburgh. When I walked in the house nobody answered and I eventually found her on the back deck, soaking in the hot tub. Who could blame her? I LOVED that hot tub and after a long day nothing beat relaxing in the hot water as the jets and bubbles caressed you. Needless to say, it was WHERE those jets were directed that made all the difference - as my aunt obviously was aware of gathering from her position in the tub when I walked out from the kitchen onto the deck.

At first she didn't realize I was there as the noise of the blower and pump drowned out the sound of the door opening and my steps onto the wood deck. Plus, she was facing away from me with one leg up on the side of the tub, the other with her foot on the bottom. It was my favorite position as well as it allowed one of the corner jets an unobstructed shot directly into your crotch. Oh yeah, it was a GREAT position to be in and judging from her reactions, she'd been at it for a while.

"Ohhhhhh, Goddddddd!" I heard her groaning as her head laid back and she closed her eyes, humping herself quickly as if she was being fucked by the hot stream of air and water directed at her hairy pussy (granted, I couldn't actually SEE her pussy from this viewpoint but I knew she never shaved, despite Kristen's badgering).

It was a bit chilly this late in the day but not terribly so - enough that I was wearing a light jacket but not so cold that I needed to zip it up. Rather than interrupt her just as it appeared she was about to cum, I decided to watch and wait for the finale. Of course, just WATCHING wasn't an option. Like, how could anyone watch a woman with Linda's body, even if she was past her 40th birthday, as she got herself off right there in front of them?

Actually, seeing her masturbate like this wasn't something I could even remember seeing before. In fact, I couldn't remember EVER seeing her masturbating alone without someone watching her. I guess technically she WAS being watched now - by me, but that didn't seem to be quite the same as her doing it right on front of my dad for him to watch and enjoy. It's sort of funny in a way how something like that can go unseen for so many years.

God, my nipples felt so hard and sensitive! It wasn't just the chill in the air either that was making them so as I loosened my blouse a few buttons so I could caress my boobs. I eventually undid them all and pulled the blouse out from my jeans so it hung loose, allowing me easy access to my boobs which were practically aching from lack of proper attention.

Thankfully the security fence around the deck hid me pretty much from anyone's view. The people on the hilltop in back of our house would need some pretty strong binoculars to see anything - assuming they even could tell I was doing anything in the first place to make them even want to look closer.

Aunt Linda had one arm over the side to stabilize herself and from the looks of things, had the other between her legs helping the jets to accomplish their mission. There was that distinctive arm motion that clearly signaled that she was masturbating - and pretty hard at the moment as well. She was groaning and mumbling something that I couldn't quite make out but I didn't want to move in any closer and alert her to my presence. Every now and then she would add in a little moan or even cry out a little louder, arching her back and then settling in for more. God she looked so damn sexy!

As good as it felt to fondle my boobs, watching my Aunt Linda masturbating in the hot tub was creating feelings in me that mere boob rubbing was woefully inadequate to satisfy. Leaning back against the brick wall of the house, I reached down and unbuttoned my jeans, quickly drawing down the zipper and spreading them open at the top until I was able to reach in and get to my pussy. My body shuddered uncontrollable as the tip of my finger touched my throbbing clit, sending out all sorts of spasms and jerks that I couldn't anticipate or counter. Reaching down further, I pushed my finger just a little into my pussy hole and smiled to myself at the wetness I found there. I knew without touching myself I was wet but actually feeling the slick interior of my pussy was always something I looked forward to when I would start to masturbate.

The damn jeans were just in the way! Fuck it... I pulled them down and the cool late air raised goose bumps on my thighs and the rest of my body but they were the least of my concerns at the moment. The bump I WAS interested in was between my legs, right at the top of my pussy slit where it seemed to become more and more sensitive by the second. With one hand I was toying with my pussy while with the other, cupping my boob and tugging on my nipples. I imagine it would have made quite a sight for anyone seeing us – an older woman letting the hot tub do its work on her while a girl about half her age masturbated as she watched unnoticed!

The jets must have finally accomplished their mission as I watched my aunt stiffen and lift her hips up until her pussy was at the water surface and I could see the darkness of her thick pubic hair just under the top of the frothy water. She was fingering herself and then shoved her hand between her legs. Cupping her crotch and pulling up against it as she cried out in ecstasy as her orgasm began. It was SO hot to watch her cumming, knowing she had no idea her "performance" had an audience, an audience of one, one girl who was getting off herself at the sight of her aunt masturbating and cumming.

"Oh fuck!" she gasped when she finally let herself settle down and take a seat in the tub.

My aunt was breathing heavily and turned her back to the side of the tub to sit on the underwater seat that was molded into the tub. It was then something seemed to catch her eye and she turned to face me.

"Oh my god!" she gasped, jumping a little at first from the surprise of someone watching her.

Then she recognized who it was and her shock change to a seductive grin as she shook her head at the sight of me.

"Damn it Kelly, just how long have you been watching me?" she blurted out.

Then she seemed to finally come to grips with my own condition - maybe the jeans around my ankles and the open blouse had something to do with that, not to mention the strategic positioning of my hands. "God damn it girl, you must be freezing... get your ass in here now!"

I still hadn't said anything and so I just shrugged and stripped right there next to the house, leaving my clothes in a pile on the deck on top of my shoes. Now that I was naked the cold was making me shiver so I quickly hustled over to the tub. The water seemed almost unbearably hot after the coldness of the air but I still slipped down up to my neck within a few seconds, my skin tingling from the heat of the bubbling water.

"So... did you enjoy the show?" she teased me.

For a moment I thought maybe she was implying that she had known all along that I had been watching and the entire thing had been an act put on for my benefit. Then she added, "If I'd know you were there I would've tried harder to give you a better view."

So much for her knowing about me watching. We both giggled at her comment and then she got more serious, or at least TRIED to appear more serious.

"So did you cum yet?"

I shook my head and she frowned.

"Well, we can't leave you like THAT now, can we," she stated rather rhetorically.

She started to get up and the first thing to pop in my mind was that she going to offer me her position so I could make use of our favorite jet while she watched. As it turned out, she had other ideas...

"It's been a long time," she mused, talking to herself it seemed more than to me, "God you're so fucking hot."

It was then I realized what her intentions were - SHE would be the jet, or least she was going to provide the stimulation I needed to get myself off. Well, who was I to complain? If your aunt told you she was going to make you cum, would you argue? As she moved in closer to me, I felt her warm wet skin pressing against me as she put one arm around my neck while placing her other hand on my upper thigh as she leaned over to kiss me. As she had already said, it HAD been a long time since I had even kissed her, ages in fact it seemed.

Even though my aunt was about the same age as my mom, it wasn't the same as when I use to kiss my mother. Of course, how could it be? It was like comparing my dad fucking me to one of my uncles fucking me. Both were certainly different experiences than just fucking any other man but still worlds apart in terms of emotion and feelings. Perhaps the biggest difference was the lack of submission on my part. The ONLY man I've EVER truly submitted myself to, totally and unconditionally, has been my father. Oh sure, I play along with some guys and pretend to submit, but it's not without some reservation and holding back, unlike with my father to whom I give myself totally and freely.

It was a similar thing with my aunt. While I didn't "submit" myself to my mother, our relationship was far more than a mere mother-daughter thing when we had sex. For that all too brief moment in time, we became lovers in every sense of the word, equal partners forging a bond that only a mother and her daughter can ever fully appreciate - or even comprehend. With my Aunt Linda it was certainly more intimate and meaningful than having sex with a girlfriend, or even my cousins Tammy or Kristen. Still, it never even came close to the "lover" status that my mother and I enjoyed. Regardless, I still enjoyed being with my favorite aunt and perhaps because it WAS so rare I even appreciated those times we spent together even more.

As our tongues met I felt her hand working its way between my legs and I spread them more apart to make it easier for her. I sighed as she caressed my inner thighs, running her palm and fingers up and down my thigh from my crotch to my knee. Closing my eyes, I just sat there and let her do all the work, reveling in the intense feelings she was bringing up from deep inside of me.

"My, you have such a tight pussy for a girl who fucks so much," she teased me as she pushed one finger inside my pussy, quickly followed by a second.

I couldn't help but smile. Indeed, I'm quite proud of my tight pussy and more than one guy has been fooled into thinking I'm relatively inexperienced based on how hard it was to get his dick in me at first. In fact, I've been fucked by literally hundreds of guys, albeit some of them only for a few moments at a gangbang or something like that, but still a lot of dicks no matter how you slice it. As for how many time I've been fucked... well I can't even venture a guess but it has to be in the thousands. Heck, my dad alone has fucked me hundreds of times over the past eight years!

Keeping her finger lodged in my pussy, my aunt moved off the seat and positioned herself between my knees. After she pulled her fingers out of me, she put her arms under my legs, pushing my knees apart with her elbows as she reached under me and scooped me up with her hands under my butt. Then she lifted me up, rather easy given I was mostly underwater, until my bare crotch surfaced like the back of a whale at the top of the water.

"You young girls and your shaved cunts," she growled under her breath as she looked at my freshly shaved pussy.

Unlike most girls who leave a "landing strip" or some design in the pubic hair stubble, I prefer to keep my pussy totally shaved. Kristen shaved hers as well so it's not like my aunt hadn't seen a shaved pussy before. Oh well, I guess it was just a generational thing.

Oh my god! I about shot out of the water when her mouth descended on my pussy. She certainly wasn't wasting any time, instead going directly for my clit and grabbing it between her teeth, just hard enough to tug on it gently, driving me literally up the wall as my clit felt like it would burst into flame at any moment!

"Oh god... that feels so good Aunt Linda," I groaned loudly, grinding my smooth pussy into her wet face.

She had been trying to get me to call her just "Linda" for years but for whatever reason I could never break myself of the habit if calling her Aunt Linda. At times like this it seemed sexier as well to call her my aunt rather than treat her like just another girlfriend I was having sex with.

Over the years I've always maintained that nobody can lick my pussy as well as my mom. Of course she had a few things going for her in that category in addition to her skills at pussy licking – which were formidable in and by themselves. First, and most obvious, was that she was my mom. Then there was the point that she was the first woman I ever had sex with. Oh sure I masturbated with my friends long before that, but other than some teasing and stuff we never actually touched each other – and even then not for very long.

My mom was the first woman to ever touch my pussy with the intent of getting me off and was also the first to ever taste me directly with her mouth. Then there was this almost indescribable factor in that as my mom, she just seemed to KNOW instinctively what her daughter wanted, and more important – what she NEEDED. When my mom licked my pussy, she could make me cum harder and faster anything else, even my own hands when I was super horny and masturbated.

As such, it would be unfair to try and compare my aunt to my mom when it came to how she licked me and how I felt when she did. It was much more than technique - it was the relationship that counted most. One thing I COULD say about my Aunt Linda was that when it DID come down to technique, she was at the top of the leader board when it came to her ability to eat pussy, better even than her whore daughter. Oddly enough, while she was GREAT at licking pussy, my dad had once confided to me that her cock-sucking skills weren't all that spectacular. He even much as to once joke that perhaps THAT was the real reason her husband left her, but I think he was just teasing me at the time.

My aunt's superior pussy-eating skills, especially as compared to her lackluster cock-sucking expertise, probably was due more to the fact that she had sex more with women than men. Other than my dad, his brother and her ex, the only guys I knew that she had sex with were her clients. As a realtor in a tough, ultra-competitive real estate market, she wasn't afraid to use every weapon in her arsenal to nail down a sale - even if it meant fucking the client. Otherwise, I only saw her with other women, always younger than her. Who knows, maybe Kristen's insatiable urge for younger boys came from her mom's genes? She has been with a really cute girl for the past few years and while I've never joined in with her and Sondra, it wasn't for any lack of desire on my part!

Needless to say, none of this was going through my mind as my aunt licked and sucked on m pussy. Her hands kneaded my buttocks like she was making bread, squeezing me and gripping my ass in her hands as she ate my pussy. Given I was already pretty worked up from having masturbated just a few minutes earlier, it didn't take long for my orgasm to make its appearance.

"Oh God Aunt Linda... don't stop... oh fuck me, don't stop now!" I pleaded with her. Indeed, I think I might've died from disappointment if she had quit right then. I was so close... so damn close now!!

"OH MY GOD!" I cried out loudly.

Hopefully the neighbors were inside at this time of year as they might've thought someone was being tortured from the way I cried out as my entire body felt like it was being consumed with pleasure. The hot tub suddenly felt almost chilly as my body seemed to be burning up from the inside out. My legs thrust out and then I wrapped them around my aunt, pulling her tightly into my crotch as I drew her head in against my exploding pussy.

"FUCK!" I suddenly cried out again as it seemed as though my orgasm was dying down and then my Aunt Linda used her tongue perfectly on my clit to drive me over the cliff yet again.

It WAS almost torture now as I felt like I just wanted to stand up and run around, to do anything to release the incredible emotions and lust that was trying to burst from within me. It was almost too much, too intense, for me to handle and my vision seemed to narrow and even the sounds of the hot tub faded away as my mind retreated to some place far, far away as I focused on nothing but my pulsing pussy - and my aunt's tongue that was relentlessly working on me.

Damn, she did it to me again... and then again! Each time she seemed to sense just when my orgasm was retreating and each time she knew exactly how to push me back over the edge again. No... make that THROW me off the edge again. There was nothing subtle about it, she just dove in and somehow managed to make me cum even harder each time.

For the record, cumming once would have been great and twice even better. A third time made for something extremely special but what do you call it the fourth time? It got to the point where I couldn't even cry out anymore, like my vocal chords were frozen as my entire body was filled with the most intense and brutal pleasurable feelings I'd even felt before. Indeed, this was sex at its best - pure lust and passion. It was almost animal-like in that it was all for one purpose - to make me cum. There was no talking, no games, just pure, unadulterated sex... and I was loving every second of it.

Finally I simply couldn't take any more. I was still having trouble seeing anything but it was like my entire body simply gave up and collapsed all at once in unison. It was total, unconditional surrender to a vastly superior force. I'm sure my aunt would've taken for me for yet a another round but I simply couldn't do it, at least not if I wanted to remain conscious. My legs dropped from around her and somehow I found the strength to push her head away. She didn't resist, sensing no doubt the complete exhaustion I was feeling now.

Aunt Linda reached over and turned off the tub, the sudden absence of noise almost deafening. Then she sat back next to me and assumed the same position she had been in originally, her arm around my neck and her other hand on my thigh.

"Mmmmmmm, I love to make you cum baby," she whispered to me, "You taste so fucking good when you cum you know, even better than Kristen."

Now THAT was enough to grab my attention, even in the almost catatonic state I was in. I tasted better than Kristen when I came??? She had never compared us before so it came as quite a surprise to me - and I have to admit, made me a bit proud of myself as well. You have to admit that for her to say her niece tasted better than her own daughter was quite a compliment!

Once I'd regained my senses, we each grabbed a towel and got out from the tub. I gathered my clothes on the way in and we sat at the kitchen table with our towels wrapped around us as she brought out a bottle of wine and poured us each a glass. I'm not normally much of an alcoholic drink person but the white wine seemed to be just the thing under the circumstances.

Whew! Now THAT wasn't what I had expected when I came over. Not that I regretted even a second of it but still, I had things I needed to discuss before my dad got home. Indeed, I was hoping to leave before he even knew I was there so he wouldn't get any hint that I was plotting anything for his upcoming birthday.

Surprisingly, it only took a little bit to work to something with my aunt. If anything, it was like she'd been thinking about this already, maybe for years, and was just waiting for me to ask. Indeed, it was more then I would've expected from her but after what she'd just done for me, I was thrilled. As I drove away, smiling to myself as I contemplated what we'd come up with, I saw headlights in my rear view mirror and watched as my dad pulled into the driveway. Cool, I'd made it out just in the nick of time!

Now that I had a plan, all I needed was for the right day to arrive - November 10th, my dad's 45th birthday.

3. A Special Wakeup Call

Unfortunately, November 10th fell on a Tuesday, complicating things a bit. Had it been a weekend it would've been a while lot easier because I knew my dad wouldn't be taking off work on his birthday, no matter WHAT. It was something I'd grown accustomed to many years before. After all, with everything good comes a price. My dad was successful and well-compensated because of his work and not taking off your birthday just comes with the territory - a price to pay you might say.

That said, it didn't mean that he practiced abstinence on work days either. Indeed, when I lived at home one of our favorite "traditions" was for him to come into my bedroom in the morning before he got ready for work and either fuck me or do whatever he felt like that day. Sometimes it was something simple where he just jerked off, usually cumming on me somewhere as a sort of "calling card" to let me know he'd been there while I was asleep. Anyone who knows me knows that I'm not a daughter, not his sister-in-law. Of course, I wasn't about to argue with her logic! The night before I set my alarm for a ridiculously early hour which proved to be totally unnecessary as I tossed and turned all night, unable to sleep with all the anticipation. I must have masturbated at least four times trying to calm myself down enough to get some sleep but nothing seemed to work. Finally I gave up, showered, and headed over to my dad's house in the darkness of the frigid morning.

My Aunt Linda had left the door unlocked so I wouldn't have to make much noise with the lock getting in. Funny, but you could have a marching band blaring in his bedroom and my dad would sleep right through it but the tiniest click of the door lock would spring him out of bed - as I found out early on when I started dating and came home late.

Trying to be as quiet as I could, I quickly stripped, leaving my clothes on the couch in the living room. As silently as possible, I sneaked up the stairs to the second floor where all the bedrooms were, taking a route I'd plotted out many years before which avoided the worst of the squeaking stairs. Once in the bedroom, I saw my aunt was laying on her side, watching the door. She didn't move when I came in, just winking at me. Obviously someone else was excited about this morning and having a hard time sleeping as well!

As usual, my dad was sprawled on his back, naked with the sheets tossed off. My Aunt Linda, just as my mom before her, was wrapped up tightly in a thick comforter but my dad never seemed to be able to keep any covers on when he slept. I cringed as he snored loudly, no doubt all the worst by laying on his back, but I knew no matter how hard my mom had tried she'd never been able to train him to sleep on his side where at least the snores were muted somewhat. For once, though, his snoring wasn't annoying as it signaled to me that he was sound asleep and had no idea what was about to happen.

Standing next to the side of the bed, I carefully reached over and used my forefinger to push his dick over and to the middle. It had flopped over to the side and was so flaccid that it was almost buried out of sight in his thick pubic hair. My mom and aunt liked to keep their pubic hair intact but at least they trimmed it.

My dad, on the other hand, had never touched a razor to his crotch, at least so far as I knew, in his entire life so you can imagine the shrubbery he was sporting between his legs! Personally, I love a hairy crotch and the way the hair feels against my face when I suck him against my bare pussy when he fucks me. It's also fun just to put my hands down a guy's pants and run my fingers through his pubic hair.

4. A Surprise Office Visit

Later that morning I was sitting behind my desk at school, waiting for my students to arrive. As I licked my lips, the sharp aftertaste of my dad's cum was still noticeable in my mouth and I could feel my pussy tingling as I recalled how wonderful it had been to suck my dad's cock less than an hour earlier.

It was almost like a dream. Here I was, sitting in a small classroom in a Christian elementary school, dressed up all prim and proper with several twelve year-old boys and girls already seated in front of, with no idea that just a few minutes ago I had been sucking my dad's dick! Wow, talk about surreal! The only thing that could have made it better would have been if he had fucked me but since I knew what my plans were for the rest of the day, just sucking his dick seemed the appropriate way to start to day off.

As the kids continued to file in slowly, my thoughts were distracted with memories of my dad - or should I say of my dad's dick. Like, it had been such an amazing experience to feel his limp cock growing in my mouth, reacting to me even though he was sound asleep. With my legs crossed, I squeezed my pussy between my thighs and caught myself just in time as my hand started to instinctively move to my crotch. I doubted any of the kids would've even noticed anything given I was seated behind the desk, but it would've been quite embarrassing if another teacher or maybe even a parent were to suddenly appear unannounced.

In all fairness, under the circumstances who would fault me for masturbating during my lunch break? Oh sure, officially it would've been frowned upon, to say the least, but I was so incredibly so horny just thinking about all the plans I'd made for the day after the final bell had gone off. Thank goodness the teachers had a private women's restroom which afforded considerably more privacy than the student version. Not surprisingly, I came quickly the first time once I got started. I don't know if it was so much the joy of masturbating or rather the relief it gave me to finally release the pent up emotions and lust that had been building in me all morning.

It was like I couldn't get my fingers on my clit fast enough once I closed the stall door and lifted my dress. Heck, I didn't even get my panties down before one was hand inside of them, working my poor clit after having ignored it all morning despite its insistent pleas. With my other hand I maneuvered my panties down to my knees as I alternated between rubbing myself and fucking myself with my fingers.

married man I had sex with was one of the older partners back when I was just sixteen. Although he did me at his house when I was babysitting, it was what he saw at the office that got him thinking about it in the first place.

Over the years several more of the guys at my dad's office made it to my "sexual history" list. The funny part was that so far as they knew, my dad didn't know anything about it and I think they got a thrill from fucking the boss's daughter. Naturally I told my dad everything and there was even one time when he encouraged me to do a few of them as a "reward" for some extraordinary work they'd recently completed.

As I got in my car and prepared to drive home, I started to have second thoughts. Maybe dressing more conservatively would actually be the better option now that I was older. Dressing like a slut is no big deal when you're a teenager. In fact, it was probably more expected than anything. Now, however, I was 24 and walking in dressed in a short skirt and tight top with no bra might be seen more as me acting like some kind of hooker than just a slut - not the best image for the boss's daughter..

There was also the point that it had been a long time since I'd been there and no doubt the staff had changed considerably. People who had known me in the past wouldn't be surprised if I dressed slutty but what about the newer folks? How would it look if the daughter of a senior partner came in looking like a streetwalker and then shut the door to his office? What if they didn't even know I was his daughter? The last thing I wanted to do was to cause my dad any problems. Besides, I was thinking I might be able to used my currents outfit to my advantage...

After getting out of the elevator I entered the office and the first person I met was the receptionist. She was another new one - they seemed to go through receptionists like water through a sieve. She didn't even know who I was until I introduced myself after which she smiled at me to be courteous but other than that, didn't seem inclined to give me the time of day. I wondered briefly if people had told her anything about the boss's daughter. No matter, she let me go in and as I entered the main waiting area, there were a couple of people waiting, probably clients. Walking past them quickly, I headed straight for the fancy doors which led to the legal offices.

After going through the double mahogany doors I looked for Margerie, my dad's personal secretary. Instead, seated at her post was another girl I didn't recognize. Hmmmmmm, what was up? I'd known Margerie since I was a little girl and so far as I knew, she was the only secretary my dad had ever had since he first started here so many years ago. Dad said she was a great secretary and it didn't hurt she managed to keep the figure of a Playboy playmate - something which fooled many a pervert who didn't know the razor sharp mind she liked to pretend she didn't have.

Walking up to the new girl, I introduced myself and learned that she was just a temp who was filling in while Margerie was away on vacation. Hmmm, that meant I needed to be a little more careful. My dad especially valued Margerie for her discretion. Indeed, she was the only person outside our family that even a clue that my dad might be fucking his daughter. I don't think they ever specifically discussed it, but there was something in the way she looked at me with a sort of sly smile that told me she had a pretty good idea of what happened when I closed the door to my dad's office. Fortunately, to paraphrase the Las Vegas ads, so far as Margerie was concerned what happened in my dad's office stayed in my dad's office. Now with Margerie out and this girl in her place I would have to be sure I didn't do anything that might give her any wrong ideas. Well, I guess technically they would have been "right" ideas but it wouldn't do for someone like her to have such things. It looked as if my decision to stick with my conservative dress was working out well so far. Who would think anyone dressed like me would be committing incest?

The girl knocked on my dad's office and opened it to tell him I were there. Funny, I don't know why she didn't use the intercom but I took note of it as something to remember later should I hear a knock on the door. My dad came quickly out of his office with a look of surprise on his face as needless to say I hadn't told him that I'd be showing up today. Then a pleased expression appeared and he told the girl that he would be "busy" and not to be interrupted for anything. She just nodded as for her, the "rest of the day" was only about a half hour so far as she was concerned.

Walking into my dad's office, it suddenly occurred to me that I hadn't so much as bought him a birthday card. Dang it, how could I have forgotten such a thing? Apparently I'd been so wrapped up in all the other planning I'd been doing with my aunt that I didn't think of something so basic as a card. I guess it really didn't matter as my dad was like most men in that even if I HAD given him a card he would've undoubtedly read it just long enough to make me happy and then put it aside without another thought. Oh well, I didn't think he would be disappointed with I DID remember fort his birthday!

"Hey dad... happy birthday!"

My dad shut the door behind me and I couldn't help but notice he made sure that it was closed securely and locked as well. It made me feel good to know that he obviously had expectations of doing something with me and he didn't want anyone just popping into the office and seeing us in action. In a way, I took it as a sincere compliment in that my dad was confident enough in me that he could assume I was there to submit to his desires. I had no doubt that after this morning's brief episode his desires had been working up pretty well during the day. I wondered if he ever ,masturbated while at work and if he did, did he do it today?

Before I could say anything else, he reached out and pulled me tightly into him, his hands on my back as he leaned down to kiss me. It felt so wonderful to feel his lips against mine, pressing tightly as our lips parted and his tongue began to explore my mouth. As he kissed me, his large hands slowly worked their way downward until he had one on each of my buttocks, gripping them firmly and pulling up on my ass such that I was slightly lifted off my feet onto my toes.

"Damn baby, I just love your ass," he whispered softly as our lips parted just enough for him to tell me.

We must have stood there for five minutes or more, kissing continuously as he fondled my butt and kissed me passionately. I liked it so much better when we just got right to it instead of fooling around with too much talk and such. What was the point of all the foreplay, especially in this situation? We both knew why I was there so why waste time that could be put to better use?

"You know, I've been thinking about you all day," he said in a husky whisper, "I can't believe you sneaked off this morning without even waking me."

"Did you wake up feeling good?"

"Oh yeah? Your aunt made sure I knew who had done it as well."

"I wanted to do something special for your daddy."

"Mmmmmmm, believe me, it WAS... it certainly was," he sighed as he started to feel for the zipper on the back of my dress.

"I want you birthday to be special daddy... I want to make you happy. I would do anything for you daddy...ANYTHING!"

My dad took my head in his hands and tilted it back so he could look me in the eyes. "Kelly, EVERY time I'm with you it's special. You're my only daughter and I love you."

"Oh daddy, I love you too... Please just tell me what I can do to please you."

way, thus begging him to do me and in doing so, expressing my submission to his biblical authority over me. It was also a direct, without being coy or cute, way of expressing my desire to please him without question or interpretation.

Reaching down, I could feel the bulge that was sticking out from his crotch through his pants and my heart jumped just a little. Mmmmmmm, he wanted me... he desired me. God, my own father was horny as hell for me and that was just incredibly hot so far as I am concerned. I love it when men desire me, when I see that look of lust in their eyes that tells me more than anything they want to fuck me right then and there.

It makes me feel good as a woman to know that men are turned on just by the sight of me, that they desire me even though they know nothing at all about who I am. There's no greater ego and confidence booster than to see a married man's eyes wondering as he walks along with his wife and family, knowing he would betray all of them in a heartbeat for the opportunity to fuck me just once.

This time his hands found the tiny hook at the top of my dress behind my hair. Undoing it, the next thing was the zipper which he easily slid down to the bottom of my back. I stepped back and slowly pushed one shoulder off and then other, holding my arms around my chest to keep the dress from falling any further. Then I relaxed my arm muscles and the heavy dress dropped to the floor around my ankles, leaving me standing there in front my father in my bra, panties and heels. All of these were relatively conservative with my bra being your basic white everyday version straight from the rack at JC Penney and the panties white cotton as well with a rather full cut that didn't even expose any camel toe. The black heels were only about 1-1/2 inches, meant more for comfort than showing off my figure.

Stepping out of the dress, I kicked it over to the side so we wouldn't step on it and moved forward to my dad again where we embraced tightly and began to kiss again. Once again my dad's hands went straight to my ass, except this time there was much less interference for him to deal with. Even so, my panties were apparently still too much as he slipped his hands under the elastic of the waistband and put his palms and fingers directly on my bare ass.

My boobs were now dressed up against his chest as he ran his hands over my now exposed body. I knew the bra was an irritant and he wasn't use to having to deal one when we had sex but he didn't say anything about it. Who knows, maybe it was because normally I did NOT wear a bra that having one on now was actually more erotic for him. Whatever the reason, I decided for the moment to leave it up to him when, if ever, the bra would disappear.

One of the perks of being a senior partner in a large law firm is you get an office that is more like a motel room, even a suite. My dad's office included a massive wooden desk, a private bathroom (complete with a shower), a fully stocked wet bar, and comfortable furniture that included several large chairs and a matching leather couch.

Perhaps best of all was the privacy in unlike the fishbowl offices assigned to the lower-ranking associates and partners, his was completely private and quite soundproof. Of course the intention was to allow him to hold private sessions with clients and other partners, but it also allowed him to do other things as well - like his daughter and occasionally his niece as well. So far as I knew my Aunt Linda had never even been to his office, let alone fool around there, but I had learned lately that there were a lot of things about my aunt that I didn't know so maybe she had.

My dad steered me backwards towards the couch which was right behind me, lowering me down gently as he continued to kiss and fondle me at the same time. The leather felt cool against my bare bottom at first, but quickly warmed up as he sat down next to me. He twisted towards me, reaching over to my left leg and pulling it up and over until it draped over his lap as he held me closer to him. I could feel his leg pressing up against my exposed pussy and without even thinking I started to grind myself slowly against him through his pants as he grabbed my bare ass again and pulled me into him even tighter.

Sitting there almost nude with my dad's arms firmly around me, my heart almost burst as I felt this incredibly sensation of parental love and fatherly security. It was like every care I had in the world just disappeared and nothing existed but me and my dad in our own little world on his couch. It felt so safe to be in my father's arms, knowing he would never allow anything in the world to harm me. At times like this I was closest to the once person who loved me and respected me more than anyone else.

"Fuck me daddy," I whispered to him again, trying to convey to him my appreciation for how special I was feeling at this moment, "Show me how much you really love me."

There was nothing else that I could say that better described how I felt for him right then. One might say that I could have said that I loved him. Well, I could also have told him how secure he made me feel. On the other hand, I could also have told him how good he was making me feel as he touched me lightly all over and ran his hands over me like a teenage boy exploring his first nude girl. There were so many other things I could have said to him but they were all effectively summed up in those three simple words... "Fuck me daddy."

For a moment I thought he might start to cry but my dad had too much self-control to allow his emotions to be displayed so openly. Instead, he simply pulled my leg up higher over him, allowing his hand to reach in from behind and between my smooth upper thighs until I felt the side of his finger pressing up against my warm pussy as he gripped my thigh in his hand.

Had I asked anyone else to fuck me he would have probably have taken me literally; immediately stripping and pushing his stiff dick inside of me as quickly as possible. My dad was far too respectful of me to react in such a vulgar and thoughtless manner. He understood that when I asked him to fuck me, it was more than just the penetration of his dick inside of my pussy that I was offering - far more than that. I was offering him ME, as in ALL of me, to do whatever he wanted, anything he needed.

What made my dad so wonderful was that even though he knew he COULD do literally anything to me, ask me anything, demand that I do anything, he respected me far too much to abuse his "power". He knew what I enjoyed and didn't and had never asked me or even hinted at anything that he knew I would not enjoy. For example, my dad enjoyed anal sex and I knew my mom, Aunt Linda and Kristen allowed him to do it with them, but he knew how much I hated it and thus he NEVER asked me to do it with him. Of course if he DID, I would have gladly done it for him without a hint of protest or disappointment, but he was far too fantastic of a father to ever take advantage of me that way.

Our lips parted and again I whispered for him to fuck me. My dad responded by kissing my face, neck and ears. God I loved it when he kissed my neck while he played with my hair! I tilted my head back, letting him kiss and lick my neck ever so gently so as not to leave a mark. It felt especially good when he would just lightly flick the tip of his tongue against the side of my neck as he ran his fingers through my hair, tugging on it just slightly. The soft sighs that I was making had to be telling him how much I was enjoying this as he slowly worked his lips down my chest to my breasts where he lifted the bra up and over my boobs.

"Ohhhhhh daddyyyyy..." I sighed softly as he gently kissed my nipple, alternating from one breast to the other.

His tongue reached out and just barely touched them as he caressed my breasts gently in his hand. Then I couldn't but jump as he sucked hard on one nipple, pulling it into his mouth as his tongue tickled it. Then he released it, letting it snap back into place and then quickly sucking on it again.

"Your tits are perfect baby," he murmured, his voice barely audible as he continued to lick and suck on my boobs.

Of course I knew he was just being a proud father as my boobs are not perfect - far from it. Thank God they finally filled out a decent C-cup after spending most of my teens years tormenting me by refusing to grow out of the B-cup range. Maybe it was due to me being a few pound heavier now than I was in my teens. It seemed whenever I gained or lost weight my boobs were the first thing to be affected.

As my dad suckled on my boobs like a hungry baby, my upper hand traced its way to his crotch where I could feel my dad's erection easily through his dress slacks. God he was SO hard! Yet even as much as I knew he wanted to feel his dick in me, he continued to touch me and fondle me as if he was in no hurry to get to his ultimate goal.

As my dad continued to suck on my boobs, his hand drifted to between my thighs and he lifted my upper leg up just enough to get his hand back between my upper thighs again, only this time from the front. I gasped as he cupped my shaved crotch in his hand, placing his palm firmly against my entire pussy and pressing against it as he slowly moved it in small circles. The pressure of the palm of his hand against my clit made me squirm uncontrollably.

God, I was SO horny!

My pussy was practically dripping wet by now and it felt so warm as his middle finger began to press down between my swollen pussy lips, working its way between them until the tip of his finger was poised at the outer entrance to my pussy hole. He pressed more firmly against me, forcing the tip of his finger in to the first knuckle and then moving it around in tight circles inside of my wet pussy.

"Oh daddy, that feels soooooo good!"

His response was to simple push it in a little further and continue to twirl it around in me. Actually, while most guys seemed to concentrate on pushing their fingers into me as far as they can, what they fail to realize that it's the entrance to my pussy where all the sensitive nerve endings are. It's also why I love it when a guy pushes just the head of his dick inside of me and grinds his hips around to move his his dick started to press right up against my pussy hole, just one hard shove away from entering me.

"I love you daddy," I sighed as I saw his eyes were focused on where my crotch was waiting for his incestuous cock.

The look on my father's face told me everything - an expression of sheer lust and sexual desire. I think the entire office staff could have walked in at this moment and it still wouldn't have been enough to stop him from what he was about to do. Indeed, I don't think anything imaginable could have prevented my father from taking me at this moment. I was his and there was no power on earth that could deprive him of what he deserved - his daughter.

"Yes!" he groaned as he shoved his hips forward, driving his dick half-way into me with one string push.

God, it felt incredible to feel my father's dick in me yet again. It was like every time he fucked me it was for the first time again. Yes, it felt good to feel a dick in my pussy but this wasn't just any dick, it was my father's! At this moment we were now one, two people joined together in the most intimate act possible between a man and a woman.

"I love you in me daddy... I love you," I cried out as my pussy gripped his dick, wanting him even deeper in me.

He quickly resettled his feet and with one more hard shove he was buried in me to the hilt. I could feel his balls slap up against my bare ass as his crotch met mine, with nothing in between us now that his dick was surrounded by my wet pussy.

Feeling your father's hard cock inside of you has to be one of the most erotic and fulfilling sensations any girl can experience. Sure, if I had been blindfolded and never told who it was that was fucking me it would have been just another dick. The point is, I DID know who was fucking me and it DID make a HUGE difference.

I've always maintained that good sex is last 80% emotion with only a small part of the enjoyment and fulfillment created due to the actual physical act of sex. It's far more important WHO fucks me, WHERE they fuck me and WHY they fuck me than the actual mechanics of the act. Of course, a guy who is skilled at fucking can make the entire experience all the better, but he can never fully satisfy me with just his dick, it has to be more.

Yes indeed, this wasn't just another boyfriend fucking me, it wasn't a cheating husband doing me behind his wife's back, it wasn't even an uncle fucking his niece.

No, this was something so special that only a father and daughter can ever truly understand it. As he slid his cock in and out of me, all I could think of was how it was my FATHER who was fucking me. I wanted this to go on forever, to have his dick stay in me as long as possible, to be physically joined together with my dad in the most intimate and personal way possible.

Deep in the back of my mind, however, lurked another thought. Yes, as much as I adored him for what he was doing to me at this very moment, there was more I needed to do for him. After all, it WAS his birthday and his birthday surprise was only partially complete. I could barely make out the clock on the shelves behind his desk and somehow, despite the "distractions", I was somehow able to remember that someone was about to knock on the door!

5. My Cousin Kristen Joins In

Talk about timing... at that moment there was a soft knock on the door. My dad just ignored it, assuming he even heard it in the first place given how lightly the person was knocking and the way he was concentrating so intensely on what he was doing to me right then.

"Daddy, you need to answer the door."

"Not now, they can come back later."

"Daddy, you NEED to answer the door," I said a little more strongly this time.

He suddenly stopped his strokes in and out of me and was motionless with his dick buried deep inside of me. Then he looked at me with a curious face and then he smiled as he started to figure out what was going on.

"Is that who I think it is?"

Actually, I wasn't sure WHO he thought it might me. There was a case for it being my Aunt Linda since they were now living together as lovers. Perhaps he thought it more likely that it would be my cousin Kristen as she and I had already teamed up in the past to invade his office for a quick fuck. Then again, maybe he was thinking I was surprising him with a visit from his youngest niece, He HAD mentioned how long it had been since he had fucked Tammy so maybe he was thinking I had arranged for something special on his birthday. I was actually afraid to ask who he thought it was out of fear that he might mention the wrong person, disappointing everyone involved in the process.

"Well, why not just find out for yourself?"

My dad grinned and he leaned back which had the effect of pulling his dick out of me. God, I felt so empty all of a sudden! For just a moment I was tempted to tell him to forget about whoever was at the door and put his hard cock back in me. However, before I could say anything he set my legs down and headed for the door. He must have been pretty confident as to who it was as he didn't bother putting his pants back on. It seemed actually a little funny to watch him walking to the door with his shirt and tie still on along with his dark socks, his engorged dick pocking out from between the shirt tails.

For a moment I panicked. I certainly HOPED it was who I thought was at the door!

Standing back behind the door just to be sure, my dad unlocked it and cracked it open. Seeing who it was, he grinned broadly and stepped back to let the door open and in walked my fun-loving cousin Kristen. My dad quickly shut and locked the door behind her.

"Happy birthday Uncle John!" she giggled as she glanced down and saw his dick poking out at her, "Mmmmmmm, looks like I'm the one getting a present though!"

Before my dad or I could say anything, she dipped down, bending her knees and taking my dad's dick in her mouth so quickly he didn't have time to react. She took it in deep and then took it in and out a few times before releasing it and holding it in her little hand as she stood up straight again.

"Mmmmmmm, you've been fucking Kelly, I can tell," she giggled, wiping her mouth with the back of her other hand, "I'd recognize my cousin's pussy anywhere."

Of course, seeing me laying back on the couch with my legs spread and my pussy wide open would have probably tipped her off in any case, but it was just like Kristen to even think of saying such a thing. If there was one thing you could count on when Kristen was involved, it would be fun and entertaining. No doubt that was a large part of the reason she was so successful as a hooker. Her youthful looks and perky personality didn't hurt either I am sure.

Thankfully, at least so far as I am concerned, she "retired" from the prostitution business a few months ago but that didn't mean she was just as horny and looking for sex as ever. The only issue I had with her was her taste in men - or should I say boys.

For me, nothing compared to the thrill of an older husband cheating on his wife with me for the first time. If anything, I preferred them to be older as they were typically hornier and more anxious to please me. In addition, the longer they'd been married the more discretion they had and the more satisfying it was to have them choose me to be the first one they cheated on after so many years of faithful marriage.

Kristen, on the other hand, had tastes quite the opposite from mine. Sure, as a hooker she had sex with most every male type in the book, but that was for money, not fun. On her own, for her own personal pleasure, Kristen liked the boys and the younger the better. Once they had their high school diplomas, it was like she lost interest in them. Even better was if they were barely even in high school, or maybe even in 7th or 8th grade. I suppose when she was in her teens it wasn't so bad but now she was 22 and the age differential was getting larger every year. Sooner or later I knew she was going to have to adjust her ways but for the time being, it was like talking to a blank wall whenever I broached the subject.

One exception Kristen made when it came to her "no old guys" rule was my dad. As her uncle, she had first let him fuck her when she was sixteen and I was away for my first year in college. You could say she substituted for me while I was gone, even if I didn't find out about it until the following summer break. Since then I knew he still fucked her occasionally - what man in his right mind wouldn't if he had the chance? Kristen may be 22 now but she looked more like she was at most 18, with the most perfect perky B-cup breasts and incredible legs. Everywhere she went, guys looked at her first and while over the years I've grown accustomed to it, it still irks me at times despite my best intentions!

Kristen was like a little girl released into a candy store. She giggled as she quickly stripped off her clothes and hopped onto the couch next to me stark naked. She looked at me a little funny and I realized I still had my bra on, even though it was up over my boobs now. I slipped the straps over my shoulders and twisted it around, unhooking it and tossing it to the side out of the way, leaving me with just my heels which I then unbuckled and let fall to the floor. My dad stood back, watching the scene with a touch of amusement on his face. You couldn't blame him. How many guys reach their 45th birthday and have two twenty-something girls stripped nude in their office with every intention of fulfilling his every desire?

As my dad finished undressing, Kristen turned to me and we started to make out in front of my dad. Of course he'd seen us doing this many times before, but he'd confided me in once a while back that it still turned him on to see two girls making out - especially when it involved me or my mom. By the time he was undressed, we were already playing with each other's pussies and boobs, trying more to put on a show for my dad than anything else.

"Damn girl, you're soaking wet!" Kristen exclaimed as her hand felt up my pussy, "I bet you loved getting that daddy cock, didn't you?"

I giggled at that and looked at my dad who just rolled his eyes in mock exasperation. Kristen wasn't wasting any time, though. Seeing my dad was finally naked, she promptly twisted around until she was on her knees with her hands on the back of the couch, pushing up her hips to lift her ass up for my dad.

"Fuck me Uncle John," she said, but much more demanding than I'd been earlier.

In her case, she meant exactly that - for him to fuck her. None of this foreplay crap for her; she wanted his dick and that was that!

My dad looked at me and I just smiled and shrugged my shoulders. While I knew my dad loved to fuck me and I was number one in his heart, I was well aware that he simply enjoyed fucking Kristen for who she was - a hot, young, pretty, nubile slut who simply LOVED sex and wanted as much cock as she could get, anytime she could get it.

Moving up behind his niece, he rubbed his dick up along her pussy as she reached under herself and spread her lips apart with the fingers of one hand. From the way she was glistening in the light, her pussy looked to be pretty wet already and I couldn't help but wonder if she hadn't been doing herself for a while before she had knocked on the door. Regardless of why, his dick slipped easily into her well-used pussy and in one hard hip thrust he had himself buried inside of her, his thick pubic hair mashed up against her cute little bare ass.

"Oh yeah, fuck me Uncle John, fuck me fast!" she cried out as he started to stroke himself in and out of her.

Holding his niece by the hips, he pushed her back and forth in sync with his own thrusts to drive himself as deep as he could inside of her and then to pull out until his cock was barely in her. A couple of time he pulled out too far but her pussy was so open and wet he easily slid back in without any further help.

As my dad fucked my cousin, I sat there with one leg over the side of the couch and the other tucked under me, sitting sideways as I leaned against the back of the couch and slowly masturbated. Even though my dad had just fucked me not more than a few minutes earlier, I was pleased to feel my pussy grip my finger tightly. If there was one thing about my body that I was most proud of, it was how tight my pussy still was even after all the men who had fucked me. Even better, it was the one thing I had up on Kristen. She wasn't exactly loose like she'd had a baby or anything, but guys who had fucked us both always said I was the tightest by far, something that she didn't like to hear but was music to my ears. It probably didn't hurt that I wasn't a big fan of large dildos like she was. Most of the time I use my fingers to masturbate and when I DO use a dildo, it tends to be rather small instead of those monsters that Kristen likes to use.

"Fuck me in the ass," Kristen said as she turned her head back to my dad. She turned to me with a playful look, knowing full well that I hadn't offered such a thing to my dad earlier. Oh well, if she wanted it, let he do it!

My dad just grinned and pulled out of her pussy, then used his hand to wet his fingers in her pussy which he then used to lube up her ass. His dick was hard and wet from fucking her and it was a little surprising to me how easily he slid into her ass once he got in the right position. I knew Kristen didn't object to anal sex, but I was now wondering just how often she did it. Apparently more than I'd thought!

There wasn't any doubt in my mind that had this been allowed to continue much longer, my dad would have cum in her ass but just then there was another knock on the door. My dad looked startled and he turned to me to see me grinning and it hit him what was going on.

6. My Aunt Linda Makes It a Threesome

"Another one?" was all he asked, looking incredulous. I nodded and he grinned even more.

He had to know it was one of two people - my Aunt Linda or my cousin Tammy. In my heart, I knew he was hoping for Tammy and I wished then that I had found some way to get her involved but she simply wasn't available. Besides, it would have been more difficult for a girl her age to wander into the office without someone taking notice. Kristen showing up at the same time as me was already pushing the envelope but to have a seventeen year-old slut coming in after us would have certainly raised some interesting questions.

Following the same procedure as before, he went to the door and looked to see who it was. He just shook his head as my Aunt Linda walked in. At least she had remembered to bring a card and a present, hopefully tipping off the staff that was all

My dad smiled as he saw Kristen eagerly licking her mom's pussy. Again, what man wouldn't love the site of a daughter licking her mother's pussy? Aunt Linda raised her hand and shrugged as if she was saying she had no control over what Kristen was doing - despite the fact it was her idea in the first place. Then he turned to me and the humor was replaced with lust as he started to stroke his dick in his hand as he looked at me with an intensity that was almost frightening. Oh yeah, he was horny and now he going to fuck me and there was absolutely nothing in the world that would stop him.

This time I turned to my side and he slid in behind me as I lifted my top leg up and over him with my bottom leg out straight behind me, exposing my wet pussy to him. Our heads were facing Linda and Kristen such that I could actually hear her lapping up her mother's increasing wet pussy. It was hard to actually see her tongue on her as my aunt's pubic hair was pretty bushy and hid her daughter's face as she pressed it into mother's pussy. For just a moment I felt a slight pang in my heart as I remembered how it had been when I could do the same with my mother, who also preferred to keep her pussy natural, just trimming it enough to be presentable in her outfits and bikinis.

Any such thoughts were quickly replaced by the wondrous sensation of my dad's dick entering my needy pussy yet again. He had one hand helping to hold up my leg and the other around my neck such that he could reach my boob as he fucked me.

"Damn John, your dick looks so hot in her pussy," Aunt Linda remarked, her eyes fixed on where my dad's dick was now buried completely inside his daughter's pussy.

Despite my best efforts, I couldn't help but giggle slightly as his stiff pubic hair tickled my bald pussy when he would start grinding his dick in me, moving his hips in tight circles to twist his dick around inside of me.

"You're tickling me daddy," I apologized.

"Well, I would certainly hope I'm doing more than just THAT!" he came back with a chuckle as he started stroking his dick in and out of me.

My dad was starting to pick up speed and it didn't surprise me given the situation he was in. How many men at his age, or ANY age for that matter, could hold back for long when fucking their daughter while watching his sister-in-law being eaten out by her daughter - the same niece he was just fucking a few minutes earlier?

some imaginary lover. She was humping like a mad woman as her orgasm racked her body, moaning and rubbing her pussy furiously as she made herself cum even harder.

For me, I was so caught up in watching what was all happening about me, masturbating was almost a second thought for me. Sure I was touching myself but that was about it as my interest were more in watching my dad fucking my aunt. Aunt Linda really didn't look a lot like my mom so it wasn't like I was seeing some surreal scene that brought back memories of seeing my parents fucking, but it was still pretty hot to see my dad fucking a woman I didn't get to see him with all that often.

My dad was getting pretty close again and I saw Kristen give me a look as if she was expecting me to say something. I knew what she was worried about, that my dad would cum in my aunt and she wouldn't get to have it for herself. While most guys who really know consider me a cumslut (guilty as charged), once again I am nothing compared to Kristen. I think the girl would shower in it if she could.

OK, I like cum, most of the time at least, and it doesn't bother me to taste it and swallow it but I can't say it's the most delicious thing on earth. For me, it's more HOW I get the cum that counts and I swallow more to keep it off my face and to turn the guy on than for my own pleasure.

Kristen, on the other hand, LOVED cum. It was like just tasting it was enough to get her off, like it gave her some incredible high, almost like she was drinking a glass of wine or even something stronger. If my dad DID cum her mom, I'm sure she would have tried to lick as much as possible out of her afterwards but I knew she would much rather get it straight from the source - my dad's dick.

I had discussed this very situation with my aunt while we were plotting this little episode. I remember asking her who would get to have my dad cum in me. After all, he WAS 45 and it would be a little much to ask for him to cum in each of us, even if I were to somehow spike his lunch with an overdose of Viagra. It was obviously time to put our solution in play, even if from the looks of things my aunt had supposedly forgotten all about her agreement to follow the plan.

Motioning to Kristen to join me, I got off the couch and stood next to where my dad was fucking my aunt.

"C'mon dad, let us finish you so we can all share."

My aunt pretended not to hear anything and at first my dad didn't respond. He was getting close and I knew from many past experiences that soon he would be beyond the point of no return and there was no talking or discussing anything with him after that.

"DAD!" I said more sharply, "It's not fair!"

Reluctantly, my dad stopped, holding himself up with his dick buried in his sister-in-law. He was flushed and breathing hard, barely able to speak.

"Dad, we want to share your cum, OK?"

He hesitated a moment, looking down at my aunt who I could see as torn between her own lust and her sense of duty. After all, this whole thing had been HER idea in the first place!

"Oh alright," my dad sighed as he pulled out of Linda and sat back on the couch, stroking his dick.

He pushed himself up to the edge and Kristen and I eagerly kneeled in front of him. I looked to see if my aunt was going to join us but she seemed too exhausted to move and just laid there touching herself. I knew exactly how she felt. Having a man pull out before he came was like the ultimate disappointment.

"Fuck, I'm cumming!" my dad said hoarsely as she stroked his dick faster.

Kristen and I put our heads next to the other and opened our mouths wide, letting our tongues hand out like two panting dogs.

"Oh shit!" he groaned as he started to spurt cum from the end of his cock.

The first stream flew out and landed on top of my head, a little landing on the bridge of my nose and forehead. He corrected his aim such that the next one landed on my tongue and then quickly shifted his cock like a fireman moving his hose from one burning window to the other. Kristen was struck right in the eye and cheek with his first shot on her but the next one also landed on her tongue. After that he moved and put his dick on my tongue, the last few shots barely shooting our as his cum pooled on my tongue.

His cock now spent, Kristen grabbed it and sucked on it, drawing every drop of cum from him she could. My dad shuddered as his sensitive dick jerked involuntarily as she sucked him dry.

"Damn, I needed that!" he sighed as he flopped back against the couch, his dick quickly receding now that it had accomplished its mission.

Kristen turned to me and grinned, I knew what she wanted - my dad's cum in my mouth. Rather than swallow it, she kissed me with her mouth open and I pushed as much of it into her mouth as I could with my tongue. She eagerly licked it up with her tongue and then sat back, grinning with my dad's cum now dripping down her face. The Kristen wiped away the cum from her eye so she could open it and then turned to her mother, her mouth wide open to show her mom what she had inside.

"Well, aren't you gonna share?" Aunt Linda asked pointedly.

My dad and I followed Kristen's every move as she leaned over her mother's face and let the cum in her mouth drip down to her mom's open mouth. At first just a little dribbled out but then was followed by a large lump of cum that made my aunt choke for a moment before she caught herself. Then she swallowed it down, much to Kristen's chagrin as she obviously had expected her mom to give it back to her.

"Bunch of slutty cumsluts if I ever saw one," my dad muttered, the grin on his face betraying his amusement.

I suppose had we been home us three girls might have continued on but we were in my dad's office and he was done for the time being at least. The poor guy looked totally exhausted and for good reason! The three of us started to get dressed while he gathered everything of his together and headed for his shower. I was still nude as I walked over to him and hugged him.

"Oh daddy, I so hope you liked your birthday present from all of us!"

With that we did the group hug thing and I can say I haven't seen my dad looking so happy in a long time. I suppose he figured that was it as the three of us blew him kisses as we walked out of his office. There were still a number of people working - a legal office doesn't even THINK about closing so early, but we managed to slip out without drawing too much attention to ourselves.

Out in the parking garage I thanked them both for such a wonderful party for my dad. My aunt hugged me and said, "Now it's up to you to finish the day off right!"

Kristen grinned and I figured my aunt must have told her my plans for the rest of the evening. As they left in my aunt's car, I got in my own and drove slowly home - except "home" in this case was my childhood home, the place where my dad would soon return for the third, and final, part of his birthday surprise.

7. My Father, My Lover

One of the most basic principles I have regarding incest, at least for me, is that I have sex with my father because as his daughter it is my responsibility to please him and to satisfy the needs and desires that building him. I submit myself to my father as his loving daughter, NOT as a "lover" or an alternative or even substitute for my mother. At the same time, I do this all out of love and respect, NOT because I feel an obligation or coerced in any way.

While I hesitate to make the comparison as people might get the wrong impression, in a way, it is similar in context to how I give myself to God. As my father, my dad deserves my submission yet at the same time as his daughter he loves me and respects me as well. OK, I know it's complicated and difficult to explain, but the point I'm trying to make here is that I have NEVER confused my relationship with my father - he is my dad and I am his daughter, a relationship that we can't have with anyone else.

So why all the fuss over what some people might argue is a question more of semantics than principle? I guess it's more a concern for me as to how people perceive what I do with my dad. I want everyone to understand we are not having some sort of perverted love affair, nor is it anything I am being coerced to do in any way. What I do with my father is what I firmly believe EVERY daughter should do - honor him, respect him, and submit to him. In all families, that may not involve sex but when it does, then the relationship can be even closer or more intimate - but still a relationship between a father and daughter.

So back to my dad's birthday...

When I returned to the house it was dark and empty. I figured I had at least an hour or more before my dad would return him, plenty of time to get myself cleaned up and ready for him. The first thing I simply HAD to have was a nice, hot shower. Had I been alone with my dad at his office I might have shared a shower with him but with the three of us, not to mention my plans for AFTER our threesome, it was best that waited until I got back.

Once I was cleaned up, I wrapped a towel around me (I just never feel comfy walking around nude, even when I'm alone) and unzipped the small bag that I'd brought with me. There wasn't much in it, just some toiletries and makeup along with a special negligee that I'd just bought special for tonight.

It was perfect! I'd looked everywhere for just the right one and believe it or not, I found the perfect thing at Macy's of all stores. The ones at Victoria's Secret were really TOO sexy for what I wanted to be tonight. Sure, I wanted to appear sensual but at the same time I was looking for a little of that "little girl" look that I knew my father loved. Finding something between an ultra-sheer teddy and flannels with feet was more of an obstacle than I'd figured it would be but after looking for days, I was going through the sales section at Macy's, not really expecting to find anything, when the perfect negligee appeared.

At the time I was alone so the only person there to give me an opinion on how it looked was an older sales lady. When I took the hangar with the negligee to the dressing rooms, she was there checking things in and out. It must have been a slow night because I didn't see anyone else around and she looked bored out of her mind. When I showed her the negligee, she smiled at me, probably thinking it was for a boyfriend or maybe even a husband, although I didn't have a wedding ring on. Needless to say I did NOT tell her it was for my dad!

Once in the dressing room, I quickly stripped and put on the negligee. It was a semi-sheer white lacy thing that barely came down to my ass. There were a pair of matching panties but I wasn't planning on wearing them so I left them off. Looking in the mirror, I grinned as I knew my dad was going to love seeing me in it. It was sheer but not THAT sheer that it looked like I wasn't wearing anything, just enough to hint very broadly at what was underneath.

Most negligees are short, apparently designed under the assumption that you have panties on as well. Well, if there was one thing I KNEW turned on my dad it was a girl without panties. Actually that worked out perfectly over the years as my favorite outfit around the house was just a T-shirt or men's shirt with no bottoms. Talk about killing two birds with one stone - I got to feel comfy while my dad got his favorite view of me - bare bottomed. This outfit was longer than usual, enough to cover my ass when I was standing up but still short enough to reveal that I was totally naked underneath should I bend over even slightly.

Just as I was about to take it off and get dressed, a naughty idea came to mind. I grinned as I knew it was something I shouldn't do but I couldn't help myself - it was simply too delicious of an idea.

"Ma'am, can you help me for a moment?" I called out through a barely open door. When she arrived, I opened the door all the way and stood there in front of her.

"Do you think I look hot in this?" I asked innocently, "I'd hate to buy it and then not look good in it."

One negligee - $99.99. The look on her face - priceless!

Without a word she covered her mouth and quickly turned away, muttering something to herself about "slut" and "no decency these days". It was all I could do not to break down laughing as I dressed. Later, as I checked out, she wouldn't even look me in the eyes as she quickly did her thing and swiped my credit card. I suppose I should have let it go at that but you know me, never been one to control myself that well!

"Thanks for your help. I hope my daddy likes it!" I said in a naughty tone as I turned and walked away. What I would have given for a mirror or see her face!

Now that I was back in my old bedroom, I pulled out the negligee and held it up in the soft lamp light. Yep, dad was going to like it, I was sure of that.

In my dad's bedroom, I set out about a dozen different candles and lit them, the air quickly filling with their sweet scent. I had my portable Bose player for my IPod and set it up to play some soft music. Standing there feeling the soft negligee caressing my nude body, I debated the bed covers - should I leave them on or pull them down? Had we been in a hotel the answer was obvious. Have you ever seen those shows that hold up an ultraviolet light to those covers? Ewwwww!

In the end, I pulled them off so that about half the bed was exposed, enough for me to lay on my side on the sheets with the bed behind me covered. Not only did it seem more erotic, but sheets are a lot easier to clean than comforters!

Now all that was needed was the guest of honor - my dad. My plans were to finish off the day in a more romantic setting, something less aggressive than what I'd given to him before. The morning BJ was he was sleeping was intended to be erotic, to give him something to think about and fantasize as the day went by. The office threesome was to fulfill a male fantasy - having multiple girls having sex with him in his office at work. Rather cliche but still pretty effective I thought. Now that the day was done and he was home after a long day at work, I wanted the evening to be more intimate and controlled, something to close out his birthday with a sweet memory.

As with the threesome, this evening was my aunt's idea. At first I was a little unsure about it. My initial reaction was it sounded like I was romancing my husband more than my father but my aunt convinced me that my dad needed something like this. She confessed that while she and my dad loved fucking each other, neither of them shared any romantic feelings for the other.

Since my mother's passing, he had not spent an evening with a woman where he could be tender and intimate in aromatic sort of way. As my aunt pointed out, without committing adultery, who else could provide him with such an evening? She and my dad had too long of a history to even pretend. My cousin Kristen was too much a whore, even if not professionally anymore, for my dad to feel that way with her. My cousin Tammy was definitely not the one, not at her age at least. So who did that leave but me as his daughter?

I remember discussing this with my aunt and telling her how guilty I felt that I hadn't given my dad my virginity. I even told her how I'd arranged for him to fuck my cousin Tammy, taking her virginity in the process. when she was just fourteen as a way to compensate in a small way for not letting him fuck me at that age. That surprised her a little as she had not realized that was the reason, I guess she figured it was just something that happened when an opportunity arose.

Then for the first time, I confessed to my Aunt Linda my concerns about being my dad's "lover", how I always resisted being anything other than his daughter, even when it came to role playing. Surprisingly, she didn't seem to be surprised and I wondered for the umpteenth time just how much my mom and dad had shared with her. She assured me that if anything, doing this for my dad would be exactly what I always tried to do - to please him and to give him what he wanted, and needed.

In the end I agreed to do what she suggested but now as I laid on the fresh bed sheets I'd just put on I was having second thoughts. Everything was perfect - maybe TOO perfect. Was I really ready for this? Was he? Could I keep it under control before things went too far? Just what did that mean anyway - "too far"? Did it matter what happened so long as it was honest and from our hearts?

I was rather surprised when just a few minutes after I'd finished preparing I heard the garage door opener and I knew my dad was home. He was a lot earlier than I'd expected and I wondered if maybe he was so exhausted after our little party that he had left home with the idea that he would maybe have a drink or two and then go to bed.

This was something I hadn't considered - my dad being so tired when he came home. I just assumed he would see me on the bed and be ready and raring to go. My heart started to pound as I panicked, wondering if maybe he would be too tired to do anything with me. No doubt no matter how tired he was he wouldn't SAY anything but it wasn't what he said that I was worried about - it was how her performed that did. Men can lie all day but their dicks NEVER do.

I had parked my car away from the house so there shouldn't have been any clue that I was there waiting for him. If anything, I was also concerned that he might not come right upstairs but maybe fix himself a drink and watch some TV first. The fact my Aunt Linda wasn't there probably didn't surprise him as she was often out at all hours showing homes, based on when her clients were available.

Footsteps on the squeaky stairs - he was coming up! My heart was pounding now with anticipation. I tossed my hair back and tried to look as sensuous as possible as I laid there on my side with my ankle crossed. The negligee was pulled down as far as I could and from the front I was sure it covered everything but I couldn't vouch for any other angle. I took a deep breath and let it exhale slowly as I heard him approach the top of the stairs.

"Kelly?" he burst out as he turned into the bedroom.

Of course he recognized me but I think the surprise just caused him to blurt out the first thing that came to his mind.

"Hi daddy, happy birthday... again," I purred softly.

"Wow, what's all this?" he asked as he looked around the room, eying the candle and hearing the soft music.

"I want to make you happy daddy," I answered softly, "I want to please you any way I can. I want you to take me daddy... any way you want me. Let me be the daughter you always dreamed about."

He looked at me with the most loving expression as he started to realize the significance of what I was saying.

"Oh god Kelly, you already ARE the daughter any father could ever want."

My heart fluttered as I took a breath and said something I'd never said to ANYONE ever before.

"Daddy, will you make love to me?"

My dad's eyes opened wide. If anyone knew how much those words meant to me, he did. We had often discussed what it meant to me to have sex with different men in different situations, including himself. NEVER had I EVER asked him to make love to me, instead I ALWAYS asked him to fuck me. To some people, that is just a minor issue of semantics. To me, it is a HUGE difference, something I never expected to utter until my wedding night.

"Are you sure baby?"

just as you only can give your virginity once, perhaps this would be the only time I make love with my father. It was a special time for me, one I will never forget, but there is still nothing wrong with "fucking" my dad.

I don't regret for a comment what we did that night. Still, it was something that I think we will always hold special more so than a shift in our relationship. Perhaps there will come a time when he "needs" a lover again.

Until then, I will always love my dad in a special way – but as my father, not my lover.

(Nov 21) Chapter 201: My Boyfriend's Sister

Story codes: MF F-solo oral voy inc brother sister
Me (24)
Randy - boyfriend (24)
Cindy - Randy's older sister (26)

Other than in my own family, I have never actually met anyone else who is involved in incest outside of chats and e-mails. Years ago when we first dated, Cindy caught me and Randy doing it on their parents' bed. Until recently I never knew where that episode eventually led. Although things didn't work out like people might expect reading this introduction, it was still a memorable afternoon for me!

1. Past Experience With Randy & Cindy

Back in my high school days I dated a bashful guy named Randy for a short while. While he was rather cute, he also had a rep for being sort of a geek and together with his shyness, it kept him from even having been on a single date with a girl before, let alone have sex. In contrast, I was enjoying my own a rep - that of the class slut. Before you judge me, it was something I'd worked mighty hard to get since Junior High and was quite proud of myself, especially taking into consideration some of the competition I faced.

At the time we met, Randy was sixteen, a year younger than me. Ah yes, a lowly junior whereas I was a senior, finally having reached the top of the high school food chain. Like many of the guys I dated back then, Randy was part of the same church youth group I attended and it was at one of our meetings that he first drew my interest - after noting HIS interest in me.

Given our dissimilar backgrounds, you can probably imagine how dreadfully nervous Randy was the first time I went out with him. Then there was the night when he first fucked me. We did it in the parking lot of a movie theater, the same one where I'd just spent the entire movie teased him terribly. While I would never have let him know it at the time, by the time we got to his car I was probably even hornier than he was! "Public" is always fun but what made it special for me was that he was my first virgin.

Up until Randy, all of the boys (and men) I'd had sex with had at least SOME experience so it was a new milestone for me to be a boy's "first". It's sort of a special feeling to know that no matter how many girls he dates or marries in the future, he will always remember me!

One of the biggest obstacles to dating Randy wasn't his shyness but rather his parents, They were extremely conservative to say the least, almost to the point of being psychotic. Naturally his mother didn't care for me dating her son. We actually had some history before I went out with Randy, going back about a year to the first she'd seen me at a car wash for a church fund-raiser.

My white cotton t-shirt was soaking wet by the time she drove up, making it pretty obvious that I wasn't wearing a bra underneath, nor anything else for that matter. It also didn't help, at least from her perspective, that my denim shorts were a little tight and cut high enough to show more than just a bit of my ass when I bent over - something I made I did whenever possible. The nasty look she gave me was classic but I wonder if she realized that all it did was encourage me all the more. Frankly, knowing her beliefs and opinions, I would've been far more concerned had she NOT looked at me with that withering frown!

Once I started dating Randy I tried to tone down my dress and attitude as best I could when I was around his mother. Regardless of my efforts, she seemed to have me permanently pegged as one of "those" girls, which was true actually. Still, I think she was relieved that at least her son was dating SOMEBODY finally so she just frowned when I was around and otherwise did her best to ignore me.

In a perverse sort of way, seeing how protective Randy's mom was of her son, knowing full well what her reaction would be if she ever found out that Randy was fucking me, made sex with him all the more special. For example, perhaps one of the hottest times we had together was when we were making out on the porch connected to their house and I got him so crazy horny that he couldn't resist when I asked him to fuck me while his parents were in the very next room watching TV!

Randy had an older sister named Cindy who was three years older than him. While we were dating she was going to classes at a local college and so was rarely home. As a result we'd only crossed paths a couple of brief times so it was quite a shock one day when we thought we were all alone at his house, fucking like rabbits on his parent's bed, when Cindy poked her head in.

Randy's reaction was totally predictable. Heck, I thought he might faint at first! What made it all the more surreal was that even though he was completely freaked out at having his own sister seeing him naked while he fucked me, his dick never even hinted at a retreat. I loved the fact that he stayed inside of me the entire time his sister stood there in the doorway.

As for Cindy, I got the feeling she was more amused than anything at catching her younger brother in the act and she seemed to get a kick out of teasing him and threatening to tell their parents. The only thing that seemed to make her a little intense was when she noticed I was wearing her mom's robe. Between us fucking on her parent's bed and me wearing her mom's clothes, THAT sort of seemed to upset her a little for some reason. I DID try to hint at her joining in with us but the very idea seemed to disgust her. So far as I knew she never said another word to Randy or his parents but we were a lot more careful after that to be sure the house was empty when we played around.

We only dated a short while before Randy and I sort of drifted apart. He was just too shy for me and once the thrill of being his "first" faded, it just wasn't much fun for me anymore. Still, we still got together now every now and then for a little fun until I graduated and left town for an out-of-state university.

The next year it was his turn to graduate after which he headed out to the west coast. After college he found himself a job with some startup software company and so he never moved back to the Pittsburgh area. We didn't keep in touch and I sort of forgot all about him until not long ago when he totally surprised me in church.

My first thought when I saw him was "WOW!" as he had grown up quite a bit since those awkward high school days and so we started dating again. At first we both were only interested in sex and I have to say, the guy was certainly no virgin anymore! Randy had always had a pretty decent dick and my god, he sure had learned how to use it! Those sluts out in California certainly must have taught him a thing or two! Still, I like to think I can pretty much keep up with about any girl when it comes to sex and he wasn't complaining, that was for sure!

Over the past month or so, we've started to grow closer and I've caught myself daydreaming that maybe our relationship might become more than just "fuck buddies". I mean, it wasn't like I wasn't enjoying myself with him the way things were, but lately we seemed to be talking and cuddling more instead of just getting down to it as soon as we got to his place or mine.

Speaking of which, it was usually MY place more so than his. The reason Randy was back in Pittsburgh was that he'd been laid off from his California job and was living with his parents until he found a new job. His older sister Cindy had long since moved out and was now living with some guy on the North Side so it was just him and his parents. His mom hadn't changed a bit, still as conservative and narrow-minded as ever, so we couldn't do anything when she was home which meant at least 90% of the time we had to go to my place if we wanted to fool around - which was about all we did!

Where this was all leading to, I had no idea. It wasn't like I was being exclusive with Randy and I wasn't assuming he was either so far. We didn't exactly talk about anyone else we might be seeing and I think we both figured it was better this way NOT knowing. Even so, I was spending so much time with Randy that I wasn't seeing too many other guys. The good news was that if Randy was indeed screwing someone else but me, it certainly wasn't hindering his performance. Isn't there some old adage about "letting sleeping dogs lie"? I was happy with things the way they there so why go looking for trouble?

While Randy was fully aware of my reputation, there was one thing Randy definitely did NOT know about my sex life and that was that one of the men I had fucked regularly while we dated was my own father! It should go without me saying it that I'd never told him anything about my "close" relationships with some of the men and women in my own family. Granted, it wasn't anything personal so far as how I felt about Randy. It was just that I never told ANY of the guys I dated about this side of me.

Face it, every relationship is destined to have its good times AND bad so I never wanted to be in a position where I dumped some guy and he could use this information as blackmail or otherwise use it against me. Just look what happened with the guy I thought was going to be my finance. It almost ruined my life so now if anything I am all the more paranoid about revealing my incestual background than I've ever been.

2. Randy Surprises Me

One night after Randy and I had finished having sex, we were laying in my bed just snuggling up together when I asked him how his sister was doing. I don't exactly know WHY I asked but for whatever reason the memory of her looking in on us suddenly popped into my head and I found myself wondering what she'd ever done about it, if anything. It was just a causal question and had he ignored me I probably would've just forgotten I'd even asked and gone back to enjoying the feel of his warm nude body pressed against tightly up against mine. What I was REALLY thinking about was the feel of his dick pressed against my belly, already starting to stiffen up again and I knew he'd be ready to fuck me again soon. Yes, you can imagine where my mind was REALLY focused. Cindy was just an afterthought, at least at that moment.

"I don't know if I should be telling you this, but actually I started fucking my sister not long after she caught us," he said casually, almost as if he was remarking about the weather outside.

My eyes popped wide open and I literally jumped with surprise, staring at him with a look of incredulity.

"No really, we started having sex soon after that," he repeated himself, "I guess I wasn't comfortable telling you about it at the time."

No shit Sherlock. I don't know what shocked me more, the fact that Randy had fucked his sister or that he was telling me about it now in the first place. Based on my discussions with people over the six years I've being on-line, I've no doubt that a lot more brothers and sisters "experiment" when they are younger than people know about, but I also believe that the vast majority of them never have sex. Even if they do, it's usually when they are younger and more naive, usually stopping when they get into their later teens and realize the full implications of what they are doing. For two siblings to START an incestual relationship when they've already reached their late teens was something entirely new for me. Sure I knew a lot of people fantasize about it, but to DO it is something entirely different. Then to confess it to someone like he had just done to me... well, that was something totally new.

As a side note, I personally believe there is a LOT more incestuous activity in our neighborhoods than most people realize, or even would admit if they DID know about it. Since everybody is afraid to admit it, nobody knows who is really doing it.

So anyway, here we were, laying under the comforter in my bed with his now almost totally reenergized cock poking into me like a sharp stick while my mind was just racing along. It was if he didn't even realize what a bombshell he'd just laid on me as he lifted my leg over his, reaching down to fondle my pussy as I felt him scooting in closer to me. It was pretty obvious what he wanted - to start fucking me again, and under almost any other set of circumstances I would've been more than willing but hot damn, what about what he'd just told me? Did he think he could drop something like on me and then just go back to having sex like nothing had happened?

"Tell me about you and your sister," I insisted as I just laid there instead of helping him back into me.

Wow, talk about a classic inner struggle. My body wanted him to fuck me but my mind was all about him and his sister. I guess that's one of the things that separates the sexes - with men the body always won out but I think women are better able to control themselves. They may WANT it as bad as the guy but they are able to put it off longer if necessary.

"We can talk about that later... now I just want to fuck," he mumbled almost incoherently as he reached around to grab my butt so he could pull me into his dick.

"Noooooo, I want to talk about it now!" I insisted, pushing him away.

Since it wasn't often that I ever said "no", at least when it came to sex, so it had to be surprise to him.

For whatever reason, Randy seemed to extra horny tonight. Heck, he didn't even want to go out to dinner tonight but instead just led me up to my room as soon as he'd arrived and he was fucking me literally seconds later. Usually I like it when he gets that way. Heck, I like it when ANY man gets really horny for me as it makes me feel extra sexy and pretty. Sure it's usually better to spend some time with foreplay but now and then getting right down to it without any fanfare, or even small talk period, can be erotic as well.

Well, that was exactly how things had gone tonight as Randy was in an even hornier mood than normal and THAT was saying a lot when it came to Randy and his enormous sex drive. Someone told me once that "randy" was slang in some countries for "horny" and I have to say, if that's the case then Randy was well-named!

"C'mon Kelly, let's fuck first. We can talk later, OK?"

"No," I resisted, "It's all your fault. You're the one who said you were having sex with your sister so now you have to tell me all about it."

"Tell you what... if you let me fuck you now I'll tell you all about it while I do you... deal?"

Now how could I turn down THAT offer? It was indeed the best of both worlds - getting laid AND having him tell me about his incestual dealings with his sister. Hmmm, sounded fine to me! Besides, the feeling of his hard dick poking me between my legs as it searched for the entrance to my pussy was getting me pretty hot as well.

"OK, deal!" I agreed but instead of letting him fuck me like this, I pushed him over and moved on top of him, straddling his waist with my bare legs, letting my wet pussy press down on his erect dick. By moving my hips up and down his body, my pussy slid up and down the length of his thick shaft, stimulating me as well as him in the process.

"You fuckin' slut, stop teasing me!"

"Hmmmmmm, I think somebody wants his dick in my pussy," I teased him, rubbing down hard on his now fully erect cock.

"Dammit Kelly, if you want me to tell you about my sister, then stop fooling around!"

Well, I DID want him to tell me about her, and I DID want him in me - probably as much if not more than he did but I would never let HIM know that. What the heck? I reached down and grabbed his swollen cock with my fingers, directing him to my wet and hungry pussy. He had cum in me the first time and between the remnants of his cum, my own lubrication, and having been stretched out a bit from just having been fucked, he slid easily into my pussy.

"Oh yesssssss, that's it," I couldn't help but sigh with relief as his engorged dick filled me once again.

At first I just sat there motionless, mounted on his crotch like a popsicle on a stick. The warm feeling of his cock as it lay buried deep inside my warm pussy was mesmerizing. Damn, how many times had I taken a dick in me since my boyfriend took my virginity back when I was just fourteen? Hundreds? Probably more like thousands if you counted the times the same ones did me.

Still, no matter how many times I've been laid, that feeling I get when my pussy is first filled by an invading dick is something I will simply NEVER tire of. Each times is unique, something special. That's because it's not just the physical act of taking a cock up my pussy that turns me on, it's far more than that. It's WHERE we are, WHEN we do it, WHY it's in me, and most of all, WHOSE dick it is that determines more how

I feel during sex than just a penis in my vagina. Without all the emotions it may as well be a dildo in me - which is exactly why I don't like dildos as a general rule. Sure, dildos have their uses at the right time and place, but I can never feel as satisfied with one of them as I do when a real dick is in me.

Randy had his strong hands on my bare hips, pushing and pulling me in time with his small thrusts, leaving me to do most of the actual work - which was fine with me. One of the reasons I like being on top is then I get to set the timing and depth. Most guys, at least when they THINK they are controlling things, just want to ram their dick in and out as deep as it can go without any idea of what really turns on a girl when she's being fucked. It's almost like they are just masturbating but using my pussy to do it.

Sitting down with my full weight on his lap, I ground my shaved pussy into his hairy crotch, making his dick swirl about inside of me, just the way I liked to feel it. For just a moment I forgot about our deal but then I remembered. How could I forget? Leaning forward I put my hands flat on his muscular chest such that my boobs dangled over his face, tempting him but not quite low enough for him to reach my nipples.

"OK Randy, I let you fuck me so now tell me all about you and your sister."

Randy puffed his cheeks and huffed. Most likely he'd figured that once he started screwing me that I would forget about him and his sister. True, usually once he was in me any prior conversation we had going usually came to a screeching halt as we would focus on sex... but not today. This was too important to forget about and now that I'd upheld my end of the bargain, it was his turn to reciprocate.

"I guess I probably shouldn't have said anything," he said, appearing a little uncertain now talking about it.

"Well, now that I KNOW you fucked her you may as well tell me about it."

"You promise not to tell anyone? Not even your cousin?"

"Of course not silly."

"I mean, if anyone were to find out we could be in a lot of trouble, right?"

"You know you can trust me," I assured him as I gave his dick a nice squeeze with my pussy for good measure.

"Shit, you really know how to talk me into things, don't you!" he gasped as his hips thrust suddenly up, driving his dick into me after I'd just squeezed on it.

"C'mon now, tell me... and I want details!"

Randy sighed with a resigned look and as he started to talk, I ever so slowly rocked on his dick, trying to "inspire" him to tell me everything. It was a rather disjointed discussion as there were times when we couldn't resist and I would start humping on him hard, so here's a summary of what I learned...

As I suspected, it was Randy's sister that had started things. After seeing her brother fucking his girlfriend, Cindy looked at her brother with different eyes. Of course she knew that Randy was usually pretty horny based on how often he masturbated (why do guys think nobody knows what is going on when they disappear into the bathroom for such long periods of times and lock the door behind them?). What actually drove her to cross the line he didn't seem to know, but what he DID know was that one time when he was about to "relieve" himself in the solitude of the bathroom, Cindy had stopped him and pulled him by the hand into her room. Neither of their parents were home and she didn't hesitate one second as she unzipped his jeans and pulled out his cock before he realized what was happening.

It was obvious that this wasn't Cindy's first rodeo and despite any feelings of trepidation at having his sister handling his dick, Randy told me he'd cum in Cindy's mouth quickly the first time. She didn't even undress, instead just kneeling in front of him and sucking his dick as if it was the most natural thing in the world for a sister to suck off her younger brother. After he'd cum in her mouth, she swallowed it and then abruptly told him to leave her room, adding that she expected him to return the favor next time.

Despite me asking Randy for details, he seemed to be giving me the "Reader's Digest" version of things so I kept pressing him to fill in the holes as he spilled more and more. I quickly gathered that his sister was the dominant one which wasn't all that hard to believe since I seemed to be the dominate one in our relationship as well. He seemed to like it when the girl took control, becoming as shy as he was back in our high school days. Now that he was older and more experienced, he tried to be the dominate partner but I could still make him do whatever I wanted. Then again, that's not saying much as most girls can make a man do about anything if she wants to badly enough.

Apparently the next time they had the house to themselves, Cindy had made Randy fuck her in their parents' bed, apparently it had something to do with he could do it to a "slut like Kelly" then he could do it to her as well. What sort of surprised me was that they kept it up even though when they both dated other people. OK, so maybe I shouldn't have been surprised but Randy had never been the type that seemed to be able to date two girls at the same time. Sure, he wasn't exactly dating his sister, but fucking her certainly qualified as being the same effect as dating if you want my opinion.

After he left for school, they only got to fuck when he was home on breaks or otherwise visiting their parents. Cindy was still single but was living with some guy. I gathered that she was monogamous with her boyfriend but made an exception for her brother - an exception she almost certainly hadn't told her boyfriend about. Randy then admitted to me that he still fucked her while he had been going with me for the past month or so.

Sitting there on top of Randy with his dick inside of me made this little tidbit of information a little easier to swallow, but still I felt a little perturbed with myself that I'd had no idea there had been times when I was sucking his dick that he had been fucking his sister not that long before. He must have washed up pretty well afterwards as usually I can taste the slightest hint of pussy left behind on a guy's cock after he fucks another girl.

There was one more thing I wanted to ask him, or rather demand of him. However, this wasn't the right time and I was afraid he might clam up if I asked him now so I started to concentrate more on sex than interrogating him. Heck, can you blame me? As hot as it was to hear about him and his sister, there WAS a nice hard dick inside of me the whole time and it was well past time to do something about it.

"Please fuck me Randy," I begged him, shifting the conversation away from his sister and more to me, "Fuck me hard! Fuck me like you fuck your sister."

He seemed almost relieved to be able to quite talking about Cindy and to get back to what I knew he wanted - fucking me. Grabbing my hips tighter, he rolled over and let me slide off of him onto the bed. Then he twisted me around and pulled me up on my knees so he could enter me from behind. If there was one position I knew Randy liked more than any other, it was doggie style. Heck, I enjoyed it just as much since it allowed him to drill his dick into me deeper than in any other position. In addition, I loved to feel his crotch slap into my bare ass. The only issue I have is it seems so impersonal to be with a guy and be facing away from him while we have sex.

"Shit, you know I really love to enter Cindy like this," he gasped as he quickly positioned his hard dick at the wet entrance to my freshly fucked pussy hole, "But you have a much better ass to look at."

Well, at least the horny boy had the common sense to compliment me over his sister while he was fucking ME. No doubt he probably said the same thing to Cindy when he fucked her, telling her that it was HER ass that was the best. Actually, I hadn't seen his sister since we started dating again as she didn't live at home, so I didn't know what her ass really looked like these days anyway. Back when she was a teenager I thought she was pretty hot but who knows what had happened to her since. She wouldn't be the first hot college girl to go to pot after graduation!

Randy finally pushed his dick into me and now it as my turn to gasp as he rammed it hard and true, burying himself in me until I could feel the coarseness of his thick pubic hair pressed up against my smooth bare butt. That was another thing I loved about Randy - he had never so much as trimmed his crotch and I simply adored the thick hairy bush of curly black pubic hair that surrounded his wonderful dick.

"That's it Randy, fuck me... fuck me... fuck me," I kept repeating myself over and over as he started to stroke his dick in and out of me, grabbing my hips with his hands to drive himself into me even harder.

Even though he'd just cum in me using this very same position less than half an hour before, I could tell he was on the verge of doing it again. Seems once the guy found something he liked he stuck with it! Well, personally I prefer a little variety and since he'd done it HIS way the first time, I didn't see any reason why it wasn't fair for me to ask for it MY way this time.

"I want you on top of me Randy."

From the way he was groaning and grunting, I guess he didn't hear me. At least he BETTER not have heard me! I'd hate to think he had just ignored me. For the moment it was OK as I like the way it feels when he fucks me hard and fast. Meanwhile, I'd dropped down to my elbows which put my ass up even more into the air, making it all the easier for him to drive his bard cock into my open pussy. Not only did it feel better this way, but it was a lot easier on my arms. Plus, I wasn't constantly feeling like I was about to be thrown forward onto my face when his crotch slammed so hard into my butt!

At least this time he wasn't cumming so fast. With older guys I would do whatever it took to help string them along as usually they were like musket loaders - one big shot with a bang and that was it for the night. When it came to younger boys - like the ones my cousin Kristen preferred, it was just the opposite in that they seemed to be in a perpetual state of erection no matter how many times they came.

Heck, usually they didn't even soften up but just kept right on going like little their cocks were powered by little Energizer rabbits!

Unfortunately, such resilience fades quickly as a boy leaves his teens but guys in their early twenties like Randy could still usually cum at least three or four times a night, even though the last time or two usually took quite a bit of coaxing on my part to make it happen. The good side was that after the first time, which usually happened pretty quick, they would cum a lot slower the next, taking longer with each ensuing erection. Thus I wasn't worried about Randy cumming TOO quickly in me so I gave him a little more time in his favorite position before I became more insistent.

"C'mon Randy, I want you on top of me this time."

Again I got zilch for a response and I was starting to think that maybe he might actually be ignoring me. Well, two can play this game! Without warning I lunged forward, letting his cock slip out of my pussy as I fell to my stomach on the bed. Before he could react I quickly flipped myself over and spread my legs apart for him, smiling at him lewdly as I offered myself for his enjoyment (and mine). Randy just stared at me with this cute expression of puzzlement and disappointment, like a little boy whose mommy had just snatched his favorite toy away from him without any warning. Still, I HAD warned him so he couldn't complain too much. Besides, unlike his strict mommy, I was more than willing to give his "toy" right back to him again!

"Don't just stare at me," I said with a naughty grin, using both hands to spread my freshly fucked pussy apart for him, "Stuff that bad boy back home where he belongs!"

Randy grinned at that and so I dramatically licked my lips with a display of anticipation as he shuffled on his knees to get between my legs. He then reached to the side and grabbed a pillow, stuffing it under my butt so as to lift my crotch up in the air a few inches. It was then my turn to pitch in so I reached forward and grabbed his erect dick in my hand, still so wonderfully wet and slippery from having just been in my pussy. He leaned over me and held himself up on his hands as I directed his beautiful cock back to my horny pussy hole where he started pushing it back in me the moment he felt it touch me.

"Oh yes!" I moaned softly as he pushed himself in me, filling my tight pussy with his dick once again.

Even though it was the same cock, it somehow felt different in this position. Maybe it was because I was facing him now, seeing the expression of lust and passion on his face as he shut his eyes tight while he fucked me. I could pretty much go along with about any position during sex but this was the way I liked to finish, with the guy on top of me, kissing me, sucking my boobs, his bare body covering me like he possessed me.

"That's it Randy... cum in me," I whispered hoarsely to him, "Cum in me the way you cum in your sister... fuck me like you fuck Cindy." Whether he heard me or not I wasn't sure but in any case the desired results were achieved. Randy pushed himself deep into my pussy, then pulled out just a little bit and suddenly thrust himself hard against me, driving me back on the bed a few inches with the force of his impact. He held himself in that position, arching his back as he threw his head back and groaned loudly, his cock erupting inside of me like a sperm-belching penis volcano as it once again flooded my pussy.

"Oh yeah, give it all to me Randy, all your cum... give it to me the way you give it to Cindy!"

Regardless of whether or not this was how he actually fucked his sister, Randy was certainly more than willing to give me his cum. Even though it was his second load in the same hour, he still managed to conjure up a great load of cum, releasing himself time after time inside of me. Each time he did I felt him push against me, as if he was trying to shoot his cum as deep into my waiting pussy as he could. I tried to picture in my mind how it must look inside of me as the sperm would spew from the end of his cock and spread out even further up inside of me. Mmmmmmm, this was indeed heaven on earth!

After he came, Randy feel to his elbows, barely keeping his full weight off of me. My boobs were pressed hard between us as he just held himself inside of me without even moving, as if he wanted to savor every moment he could of his empty dick inside of me. All of which was perfectly fine with me as I preferred to have him in me as long as possible anyway. If there was anything that disappoints me during sex, it's a guy cumming and then pulling himself out right away without allowing me time to soak in the pleasure he'd just given me.

"I want to watch."

Randy just grunted as I felt his hot breath against my neck where he had buried his head in against my now totally messed-up hair.

"Seriously... I want to watch you fuck your sister."

"No way," was all he said in response.

"Noooooo, I really DO want to watch you fuck her!"

Randy shook his head against me. "She'd never do it. Besides, she'd kill me if she found out that I'd told you about us."

"Who said anything about telling her?"

Randy's eyes widened and he got this strange look where it was obvious he wasn't quite clued in yet as to what I was talking about. Well, like I said before, men just aren't all there right after they cum! He started to lift himself to get off of me but I put my arms around him , wrapping my smaller legs around his as well to pull him into me again.

"I wish you would stay in me longer... please?"

Typical guy. He wants so bad to get in you but then once he cums and HE is satisfied, then he wants back out again as fast as he got in! Why don't guys get it that a girl likes to feel him in her after he cums? Even if he shrinks down, there's still this connection, this intimacy, that continues as his cum begins to leak from me around his cock. Now and then I could feel him twitch in me and it make me jump just a little every time. The weight of him on my crotch, pressing his pubic hair against me and keeping his now semi-erect cock in me felt so unbelievably good.

Oh crap, did he just snore? A little pissed off now, I abruptly pushed him off of me and he flopped over on his back, his limp cock flopping over to one side. For a moment I couldn't help but think how much I liked the way it looked, all covered with his cum and my pussy wetness. Another time and place and I probably would have started sucking him; partly to see if I could get him hard for round three, but also because I LOVE the taste of a dick after it's just cum in a girl - especially if that girl was ME.

At this point the jerk was sleeping so I shrugged my shoulders and laid down next to him. Closing my eyes, I started to masturbate as I imagined how it would be when I watched Randy fuck his sister. (I hope you noticed that I said WHEN, not IF!) There was no doubt in my mind. I was going to watch Randy fuck his sister no matter what it took.

"Hey, isn't HE supposed to be doing that to you about now?"

Startled, I opened my eyes and as they focused I saw my cousin Kristen standing there, just a shadow outlined by the hallway light in the doorway. I could still tell that she had her jacket on, obviously she had just gotten home from wherever she had been. It's not like she kept me up to date with her comings and goings.

"So what's the story? Didn't get enough and still horny or what?" she asked, stepping into the room as she unbuttoned her coat. "So..., how many time did sleepy head cum?"

Grinning, I held up two fingers. Kristen just shook her head as if she didn't know what to do with me.

Well, that's what you get for doing the old guys," she teased me, "You really need to join me if you want some REALLY hard cock!"

My heart rate suddenly spiked as I looked to see if there was anyone behind. It would be just like Kristen to have some young teenage boy in tow, perhaps letting him watch her cousin as she masturbated. Nobody was there but in any case, she knew better than to ask me but of course that had never stopped her before. She seemed obsessed with the notion that one day she would wear me down and I'd help her fuck some kid from the neighborhood but I was pretty confident that such a thing was NEVER going to happen.

"Hmmmmmm, need some help?" she offered as her eyes were fixated on my freshly fucked pussy where I now had two fingers slowly working their way in and out. She was talking to me but she had her eyes fixated on my crotch.

As tempting as the offer was, I shook my head and motioned for her to leave. It would be just my luck that Randy would wake up and want to fuck Kristen this time. We'd done a couple of threesomes in the past and he knew we played together even though we were cousins. Still, there is something about two girls playing together, even if they are related and thus technically making it incest, that makes people treat it differently than incest between a boy and girl. Why was it that two sisters (or in our case, cousins) playing together is "just playing" but a brother fucking his sister is considered so much more serious?

More than anything else, my main concern at the moment was that I wanted to keep Randy concentrating on sex with his sister, not with Kristen. When he woke up I had plans to remind him of his promise to me. Of course, he'd never actually promised me anything, but I wasn't going to let such technicalities get in my way!

3. The Drive to Randy's Home

As things turned out, although he was reluctant at first, Randy DID finally agree to let me watch while he fucked Candy. OK, so it took a couple more blowjobs and some public sex to "convince" him, but ALL men have their price - and it's usually pretty darn cheap when it involves sex.

Still, there was one line that Randy absolutely refused to cross and that was to let Cindy know that I knew all about them. Apparently he could deal with me watching, but only if I was hiding out of sight. Above all else, he was positively adamant that there was no way under heaven that he was going to allow me to join in with them, even if she was OK with it. It sort of disappointed me but then I couldn't really blame him. His sister probably would freak if she known what I knew about her now.

It was more than just concern over Cindy's reaction, though, that seemed to be a driving force. There was also something in the way he acted that told me there might be some more deep personal issues as well, although I couldn't for the life of me figure out what they were. The only thing I could possibly fathom was that she might still be a little jealous from me having fucked Randy first - or doing it on their mom's side of the bed or wearing her clothes. Oh well, I guess I was just going to have to settle for being a voyeur. Still, it was better that nothing.

As it turned out, getting Randy to agree to let me watch was the easy part. The REAL trick was to find a time when he could fuck Cindy that I could be there to watch. Since they always did it at their parent's house, that meant their parents had to be out of the way as well. Whew, talk about a complicated scenario! From the sounds of things I was staring to worry that this could take months!

As it turned out, maybe it was something that was meant to be because it was just a week later when Randy was fucking me again and right in the middle of everything he casually announced that Cindy was going to be over at the house this coming weekend. Apparently their parents were going to be away for something or another, leaving the house to them for the entire afternoon. Thankfully I didn't have any plans other than being with Randy already so that made it easy on my part.

Later, when I told Kristen about it, her response was quite predictable. I hadn't even finished what I was telling her before she got all hot and bothered. "Can I watch too?" she asked with a suspiciously innocent look on her face, "I promise to behave!"

Well, I knew Kristen better than to believe THAT line for a minute, or even a millisecond. The words "Kristen" and "behave" simply didn't belong in the same sentence! There was no doubt in my mind that my ex-whore of a cousin would have somehow found a way to have done something to get herself involved along with Randy and Cindy and that was something Randy had specifically asked for me NOT to do.

My cousin's face fell with an exaggerated look of disappointment when I calmly informed her that she couldn't join in with us. Actually, I would have loved to have seen her surprise Cindy right in the middle of her brother doing her but at this time in my relationship with Randy, that was the sort of publicity I didn't need.

Randy insisted on picking me up on Saturday, the day he had arranged to be with his sister where I could watch. I guess he was afraid that having my car in the driveway would alert Cindy that something was up and street parking was all but non-existent in their neighborhood. During the drive to his place I tried to tease him by touching his dick through his jeans, threatening to take it to and start sucking on it. It wasn't like it would be the first time I'd sucked him off while he drove.

"Damn it Kelly, now stop that!" he said, sounding a little annoyed, "I'm gonna need all I have for Cindy later!"

Well, if he wasn't going to let me play with them, there was always ME! I was also wearing jeans plus a sweater top, pretty standard gear for this time of the year so it wasn't going to be as easy as if I'd wore a skirt. Still, if nothing else I always had perseverance going for me. Unbuttoning the top of my jeans, I unzipped them and quickly slid them down to my ankles, revealing that I wasn't wearing anything between them and me. Not that it was exactly a surprise to Randy.

"God dammit Kelly, can't you behave for just ONE night?" he sighed but I noticed he wasn't exactly making any real effort to look away either.

The leather seat was cold on my bare bottom so I kept my coat and top on to help me to stay warm.

"You know Randy, it really turns me on that you're gonna let me watch you fuck your sister today," I said softly as I leaned back and started to gently masturbate myself.

"You know Kelly, there ARE people driving right next to us," he observed, as if I didn't already know.

"So? They can't see me," I replied seductively, "But if you WANT, I could let them see me too... Would that turn you on?"

Randy's eyes rolled as he just shook my head at my teasing and carefully navigated his way through the insane tunnel and bridge traffic. Even though I was rubbing myself I really wasn't working very seriously to get myself off – it was all more a show for Randy than for me. Actually, what was getting me off more than my finger was seeing his reaction to what I was doing. It really turned me on that something I enjoyed so much and sometimes took for granted could turn a guy like him on so much. It was like he went under some sort of spell the moment he saw my finger inside my pussy, like some hypnotic state where I could suggest almost anything and he would do it for me, no questions asked.

"So tell me Randy, does your sister masturbate for you like this?" I teased as I continued to slowly play with myself.

Randy shook his head and I thought I could just detect a slight sadness in his expression. "Noooooo, actually for that matter YOU are the only girl I've EVER met who was so into having someone watch her masturbate. Most girls I've been with don't even like to touch themselves during sex whereas you...," his voice trailed off.

"Most girls? Like... how many girls have you been with Randy?" I asked, quickly picking up on his little slip of the tongue.

For the most part, the subject of our sexual histories and past partners was something we avoided, at least up until now. Face it, most people don't really like to hear about the other people their partner has been with, me included. That is, unless there is something erotic or interesting about it. My boyfriend having sex with his sister definitely fell into both categories! I could have done without hearing about sex with other girlfriends, but incest with his sister was something altogether different, especially since I had never met a guy before who fucked his sister (at least outside my own family).

Randy hesitated slightly before answering and as he did my mind was instantly racing. Did his reluctance to confess mean that he'd been with a lot of other girls and he didn't want me to know about them? Maybe it was just the opposite, that he'd NOT been with many and he was embarrassed to confess. For just a brief moment the thought flashed through my mind that maybe all his partners hadn't been girls! That idea was quickly pushed aside as I hadn't seen even the slightest hint of homosexuality in Randy. He certainly liked girls, THAT much I was 100% positive! One thing I've always held true is that a man can SAY anything without meaning a word of it but his dick never lies!

"You mean beside you and Cindy?" he asked, obviously stalling for time.

"Well duh, I guess so!" I huffed in response, "I wasn't exactly asking how many farm animals you've done."

OK, maybe THAT was pushing it a little but Randy seemed to just ignore me anyway. He was acting as thought he was struggling to tally up some huge list or something but then he finally sighed and admitted rather sheepishly, "Well, it's only been the two of you. I mean you and Cindy."

Now it was MY turn to hesitate in my response. To be frank, I was having a difficult time accepting what he just said. Really, how could a guy like Randy have gone through four years of college and lived in southern California for all those years after graduation without having sex at least once?

"C'mon, you're kidding," I said, the disbelief clearly in my tone, "Not even a blowjob? Give me a break!"

Randy shrugged, "Well, maybe a couple of those but they weren't all that good and besides, aren't you the one who is always saying that oral sex isn't really sex?"

He had me there but it was a technicality, not a knockout punch.

"So none of the girls you dated had sex with you? And you're telling me that NONE of them would masturbate for you?"

Don't get the wrong impression of me. I'm really not so naive as to think that all girls enjoy the same things that I do, but you would think SOME would share SOME of my interests. When I was dating, especially back in my high school days, I loved to tease the boys and I learned early on that the best way to do that without them even laying a hand on me, or having to expose all that much of me, was to just masturbate for them. Sometimes I would just put my hand under my skirt or down my jeans and they didn't even get to see my pussy but it still turned them on incredibly.

I loved masturbating for guys because I could do it almost anywhere which really got them going. Despite all the fantasies written about it, giving a blowjob, or even a hand-job for that matter, in a restaurant or somewhere similar in public can be pretty difficult without getting caught. However, I could masturbate just about anywhere so long as I was a little discreet about it. The initial look a guy gets when he realizes what I am doing is always the best part. Unfortunately most guys were too self-conscious to reciprocate but over the years a few have jerked off while I did myself which I enjoyed watching as well. The cool thing was that I was masturbating more to turn them on... and they were masturbating because I turned them on.

"You know, I DID ask my sister to do it one time but she reacted like I was some sort of pervert," he explain to me, "She said she wasn't a whore and she wasn't going to put on some sort of porn show for me. I mean like she was really pissed!"

All the while we were talking I was slowly rubbing myself. Talking about masturbating was a turn-on for me as well and to just be driving down the road holding an "ordinary" discussion while I was masturbating as if we were in the privacy of my room was making me REALLY horny - as you might well imagine. I could only hope it was having the same effect on Randy but there was little doubt about THAT judging from the large bulge in the crotch of his jeans!

4. Getting Started at Randy's House

Before long we were pulling into the small subdivision where Randy's parent's lived. It was your typical older, middle class Pittsburgh community, a collection of similar no-nonsense red brick homes sitting on hills practically on top of one another. He pulled into the steep driveway and we quickly went into the house without any fanfare.

"So tell me, where do you guys usually do it?" I asked, taking off my coat. He took it and hung it up in the hallway closet so it would be out of the way.

Randy shrugged his shoulders. "Wherever she wants to I guess, it depends on her mood usually. You know how it is."

Hmmmmmm, I looked at Randy a little closer. There was something here that I hadn't quite figured out yet. This was but one of a number of little comments he'd made since revealing his secret about his sister that made me wonder who was calling the shots. I guess I'd just naturally assumed from the start that Randy had been the one to get things rolling with his sister, or at least he had been the one to keep it going. In my imagination I had pictured him peaking in on his sister and having her catching him and having him join her. A little clich,, yes, but still it COULD have been true in their case. He had told me otherwise and now I was starting to wonder if there wasn't something a little more kinky going on here...

"Sounds like your sister's pretty strict with you," I tossed out casually, like a crafty fly fisherman casting out his lure, hoping for that big strike.

Unlike the typical fisherman, I wasn't disappointed. Although he didn't say anything, the look on Randy's face spoke volumes. First there was this instantaneous expression of panic, like I'd discovered something he'd rather I hadn't. He recovered just as quickly and if I hadn't been watching so closely I would've missed it entirely as his face took on a look more of annoyance, as if I was sticking my nose in where it didn't belong. Oh well, this wouldn't be the first time I'd done THAT, that much was for sure. Subtlety wasn't exactly my strong suit.

"So how's this going to work? Do I get to sit at the end of the bed and watch or what?"

Randy stared at me like I was some sort of alien. "Huh?" was all he got out, his jaw all but hitting the floor, "You're joking... right?"

Now it was my turn to look annoyed. "Well, you DID promised me I could watch, didn't you? Like, what's the point in me being here if I can't see you? Sheesh, you may as well have had teleconference phone sex."

"I said you could WATCH but I didn't say you could do it where she could see you," Randy came back lamely. "Shit Kelly, she'd cut my balls off if she knew I'd even TOLD you about us, let alone ask her if you could watch!"

There it was again... that subtle hint of submission... maybe not so subtle now.

Folding my arms in front of me, I assumed a classic aggressive stance. Lifting my shoulders, I huffed loudly and blew my breath out of my puffed cheeks to clearly signal my growing exasperation.

"Well then Randy, what CAN I do?"

Randy looked like he was struggling now and I got the idea that perhaps he hadn't quite worked this all out beforehand. Then his face lit up and he took my hand and led me upstairs to his parents' bedroom. Entering it, I smiled as I noticed that it hadn't really changed in all the years since we'd first had sex here. OK, so the bedspread was different and the curtains were new, but the carpeting was still this horrible outdated beige shag and the bed itself was basically the same as was the rest of the furniture. I caught myself wondering if her mom still hung up her robe on the back of the bathroom door...

"Remember when we did it in here?"

Randy was smiling at me now. Indeed I did! It was like it all happened just yesterday in some ways. Of course, the hottest part had been when his sister had caught us. Poor Randy, he must have thought he was totally screwed but Cindy had been pretty cool about it overall. Still, I NEVER would have suspected from her reactions that it would eventually lead to incest between her and her brother. Indeed, when I had offered to let her try out her brother's dick for herself, all she did was scrunch up her nose and cry out, "Ewwwww!" Not exactly a promising signal that she was wanting to have sex with her brother.

"If we do it in here you can watch from the master closet," he said, pointing to the double folding doors at the end of the bed.

Even now they weren't fully shut and anyone peeking through them would have an unobstructed view from the head of the bed. Of course I would have much preferred a side view but it wasn't like there were a whole lot options. The only other choice would have been the master bath but the risks would have been far too great as who could tell if his sister would need to use it for some reason.

"Are you sure you're going to do it in here?"

Randy would never have made a good poker player. He raised his eyebrows and I knew in an instant that he was NOT sure at all but he still tried to put on a good front. "Well, I guess I get her to do it here if I try hard enough," he said, parsing his words carefully as if he might have to testify in court later. Well, if I hid in the closet and then they did it in another room he just might have to!

What really made me cringe was the word "try". As I mentioned, it wouldn't be a whole lot of good to hide in the closet and then find out she wanted him to fuck her on the kitchen counter (where I believe they HAD done it a couple of times during the past summer). Still, I couldn't see any other way to ensure the right option was taken so I figured I just had to depend on Randy's horniness and his growing desire for me to watch him fuck his sister for the right decisions to be made. Come to think about it, given Randy's seemingly perpetual state of horniness, it really shouldn't be all that hard after all.

Just then we heard a car in the driveway next to the bedroom. Randy peered out through the curtains and his face was almost white as he turned to me.

"She's here early," he whispered, as if she could somehow hear us in her car outside in the driveway.

5. My First Time Watching a Brother and Sister

OK, so technically this wasn't going to be the first time I'd watched a brother fucking his sister. Still, it was how I considered it that counted. It's sort of like me telling people that my college roomie Brenda was my first lesbian experience when in reality I'd been with my mom and her sister for years by then. Simply put, I don't consider regular sex within your family, (a.k.a. incest), when I think of "first times". Well, maybe when it comes to losing your virginity but that's a physical milestone as well. It's sort of hard to pretend you don't have a hymen anymore!

What I mean is that even though I watched my cousins fucking, it was just that - my COUSINS fucking, not a "real" brother with his sister. Like when I had sex with my mom, it was just that - sex with my mom, not sex with a girl if you get my drift. So when I had sex with Brenda, my first college roomie, it was indeed like having sex with a girl for the first time. So it would be with Randy and Cindy. Unlike when I'd watched my cousins Rick and Tammy fucking, seeing Randy and Cindy would be the first time I felt like I was watching a brother and a sister doing it. All this may be a matter of semantics to some but it's important to me to make such distinctions.

So here I was, tucked back in the closet out of sight in their parent's bedroom. It was a walk-in style closet so there was lots of room. With the doors opened a few inches I could sit well back out of site in the darkness and never be noticed by anyone outside, yet still having a great view of what was in front of me. Randy adjusted the doors a little and then stood back, giving me the thumbs up when he confirmed Cindy would never be able to see me from the bed.

Just then his sister came to the bedroom doorway. She still had her coat on which explained why she had gotten there so quickly. Fortunately, Randy had just turned around so it wasn't like she saw him fooling around with the closet doors.

"What in the world are you doing in here?" she complained, "Didn't I tell you quite clearly how I expect to be greeted?"

Randy just stood there, stammering. Thankfully he had the presence of mind not to look back at the closet as that would have surely gotten her attention.

"Really now, would it have been THAT hard for you to greet me naked at the door like you were supposed to?" she asked sternly, more like a mother complaining that her son hadn't taken out the garbage or something.

"Ummmmm, you're early," Randy started to explain lamely.

"Then what are you doing in here then?"

"I'm sorry Cindy, I'll do better next time," he answered, dodging her question.

It was absolutely surreal. My supposedly macho boyfriend was behaving like some young kid being balled out by his mother. Cindy seemed to be enjoying it too from the sly grin she let show on her face.

Then Randy came up with something that I had to give him credit for. It appeared she had plans to have sex somewhere else but then Randy seemed to know which button to push to get the right reaction from her. Hmmm, maybe he wasn't as pussy-whipped as I was starting to worry that he was.

"Cindy, do you remember when you caught me and Kelly here?"

Cindy smirked and tossed her hair back. "You mean that whore you're screwing now?"

"She's not a whore," Randy corrected her, if meekly. Good boy, at least he remembered how much I hated to be called a whore.

"Well, she's a slut then or whatever you call girls like her," Cindy huffed, "I don't know what you see in her other she's an easy fuck. Doesn't it bother you to know how many guys must have fucked her over the years?"

Once again Randy dodged the question saying, "Well, I was thinking you might like to do it here... maybe show me how much better you can fuck me than she did."

"Fuck that shit, you know how I feel about this room," she said back sharply, "Let's go to my room."

Wow, so he had lied to me, or at least not told me the whole truth. So they really hadn't fucked in this room like he said they had, or at least had agreed with me that they had. Was it because she was too hung up about it being their parents' room? Was she freaked out about fucking in the same bed as her mom and dad? Not all kids like to think about their parents having sex and with their parents, it was easy to see why.

"You knew, we fucked in here the other day when she was here," he taunted his sister. Now THAT was a total lie as we hadn't had sex at his house all the past week but then I guess Cindy didn't know that.

"So what? Now are you coming or not dammit," she said in an increasingly agitated voice.

"What's the matter, don't you think you can fuck me better here than her?"

Now I was totally confused. One minute I would have sworn he was a submissive wimp to his sister yet now he was standing up to her, or at least trying. I got the feeling that his fear of my wrath if he did her in her bedroom may have been overwhelming his fear of his sister. Either way he got to fuck her but if he went to her room then he faced being cut off by me in the future.

"You little shit, who the fuck do you think you are?" she practically hissed as she stepped into the room, "Don't you dare compare me to that oversexed whore. Don't you even mention her again, do you hear me?"

Randy was making a quick retreat back to his submissive mode, practically cowering as his older sister approached him menacingly. She was as tall or slightly more than he was while wearing her black winter boots which had what looked to be maybe a two inch heel or so. At least he'd managed to stand up to her long enough to set things in motion, sort of like that brave band of soldiers giving their lives to fend off the incoming army long enough to allow their compatriots to make a safe retreat. It was just temporary as the "brave" Randy was now overwhelmed by the incoming force of his sister but he had accomplished his mission.

"So you think your whore's so great in bed, don't you?" she growled as moved in even closer, "You like fucking well-used cunt, don't you? Well, I bet your little skank doesn't know what you really want, does she? Have you shown her the real you yet?"

Now it was starting to get interesting. While Cindy may have thought she was trashing me, in reality it is pretty easy for me to ignore slurs like the ones she had tossed out about me. I'd learned long ago to let crap like that from girlfriends (not to mention a few wives) to roll off like water off a duck's back. If anything, I took it as more of a compliment that she thought of me as such a "threat" and to be so desirable to men.

Cindy had finally removed her coat, revealing a rather conservative skirt and sweater outfit, probably fresh off the clearance rack at Macy's. The brown plaid skirt came down past her knees and over the top of her boots so you couldn't see any of her legs. The beige sweater fitted tight around her neck and was long-sleeved, much too bulky to show off her figure. It made me wonder where she worked during the day that she dressed so plain. Even the old teachers at my school dressed better than her.

Then she lifted her skirt up, bunching it up around her waist or reveal something those old ladies did NOT wear - a black, high-waist thong that wasn't hiding much other than to show she shaved most, if not all, of her pubic hair.

Reaching down, she pulled the scanty thong to the side to reveal that she was indeed cleanly shaven.

"Lick me," she commanded Randy, pushing him down to his knees with her hand planted on his head.

It wasn't much but apparently it was all she needed to say as Randy dutifully "assumed the position" on his knees before his sister as she stood up straight and spread her legs slightly. He started to put his hands up to grab her waist but she swatted them aside.

"Don't touch me! I don't want your whore-grubbing hands on me," she practically spat out.

With that she put both hands on the back of his head and pulled him into her crotch. From my position all I could see as the back of his head as he ducked under her to get his tongue on her pussy. I'd of loved to have a better view, maybe from the side, but it wasn't like I had an option when it came to my viewing preferences.

"That's better... now put your tongue in me."

As stern as she had tried to appear, now that her brother's head was buried in her crotch and he couldn't see her face anymore, the mask dropped and she was grinning like the cat that ate the canary as Randy licked and sucked on her pussy. Well, she SHOULD be grinning. I knew from personal experience that Randy was quite talented when it came to licking pussy. As much as I've tried to explain to some guys how to lick me, it seems more a matter of that you're born with the talent to not. Randy, or so it would seem, was give more than his fair share when the pussy licking talents were handed out!

"Suck on my clit... that's it... just like that... oh yeah, right there!" she moaned, her eyes closed as she put her head back and her mouth sort of hung open as she gasped each time his tongue flicked over her ever-more sensitive clit.

Randy was like a kid giving his first speech before an audience, not quite knowing what to do with his hands. I knew he wanted to touch his sister's ass - he LOVED grabbing mine and I knew he enjoyed squeezing and playing with my ass more than anything else on me. After her harsh rebuke, though, he didn't make another attempt to feel up his sister so he just sort of let his arms hang to the side as he continued to lick his sister's pussy.

"Oh god... right THERE," she cried out, taking her hands off Randy's head and clutching her breasts through her thick sweater. "Don't stop.. don't you dare fucking stop now!"

A soft moan started from Cindy's mouth and it sort of dragged out like a long fire siren, growing with intensity the longer she let it out. Apparently her little brother knew just which button to push (sorry, pun intended) to get his big sister to cum quickly!

"Did that feel..." Randy started to say, pulling his head back to look up at her. Cindy cut him off before he could even finish his sentence.

"Shut up, I don't even want to hear you speak," she spoke harshly to him, once again assuming the dominant body language as he was looking at her again.

I got the quick impression this was all sort of some twisted game to her. I just wondered if Randy was in on the "game" or if big sister was playing him like a fine fiddle.

With that she turned around and leaned over onto the bed on her elbows. Reaching behind with one hand, she flipped her skirt up over her back to reveal a pretty decent looking ass. The thong was all but invisible in the back as she slipped a finger under the middle strap and pulled it over to one side to expose her pussy to her brother

"Now I want you to fuck me," she said, looking straight at him.

As she did, she had a direct line of sight into the closet where I was kneeling and for a moment I panicked, thinking that maybe she could see me. It was just an illusion though, as she was focused entirely on her brother's dick.

With Cindy spreading her legs apart suggestively (and she called ME a slut) and I could see the look of lustful desire on her face. As much as she was trying to appear so cool, dominant and in charge, it was obvious that the bitch wanted his dick in her as badly as he did! I couldn't blame her, I felt the same way when I was with him and got a good look at his erect cock. As far as a cock went, a dick is pretty much a dick but I also knew what he could DO with that dick that made it so desirable. From the looks of things, Cindy was well aware of its capabilities as well.

Randy was undoing his jeans, fumbling a bit in his haste which seemed to frustrate Cindy. Again, I couldn't blame her. Once you got to the point where you KNEW a dick was going to be in you at any moment, any delay was unbearable. Having just cum, she was most likely dying to have his dick in her - I know I would have under the same conditions.

Randy finally got his belt undone and the front of his jeans open. He started to push them down off with his underwear when Cindy's patience came to an abrupt end.

"Shit, you don't have to take them all the off dammit, get that dick in me NOW!" she growled at him.

Randy let go of his pants and grabbed his hard dick with one hand while he shuffled up to her exposed butt and started to poke his dick up against her. Again, he fumbled about as he seemed nervous. Whether it was the pressure his sister was applying or knowing that I was watching from the dark closet, seeing him in a way I'd never seen him before. Most likely it was a bit of both but I would have bet a lot that it was me in the closet that had him the most distracted. Of course, Cindy had no idea about THAT aspect so she took it to be incompetence on the part of her brother.

"Sheesh, do I have to do everything?" she complained.

Reaching down between her legs, she grabbed his dick from his hand and directed him towards her pussy. Once she had it where she wanted it, she pushed back against him, driving his dick into her as he pushed forward in response.

"Oh yeah..." she sighed, falling back down on her elbows as Randy started to stroke his stiff cock in and out her pussy.

"Slow down... not so fast," she said in a lower voice, the dominant tone disappearing as she enjoyed the feeling of her brother's incestuous dick in her.

Indeed, I could only imagine how it must feel for her to have her own brother fucking her. Many a day I'd laid in bed and masturbated as I dreamed of an imaginary brother coming into my room at night and fucking me.

I had to think that it would be quite different to have a brother fuck me than my dad. With my dad, it was more a submissive thing where I wanted to please my father and be the most obedient daughter I could. With a brother, I would think it would be more "fun", the two of us simply taking advantage of the opportunity provided by living so close together such that we could have sex whenever either of us wanted it.

As I mentioned earlier, the only other time I'd seen a brother fucking his sister was when I saw my cousin Rick fucking his younger sister Tammy. That seemed so different, though, than what I was watching now. Rick was more than four years older than Tammy and been having sex with her since she was fourteen, at least that was when she first started sucking his dick. Plus, they were my cousins so I knew them more personally as part of my family.

In contrast, Cindy was a couple years older than Randy and they hadn't started having sex until Randy was sixteen. Plus, this was one of the few times I'd ever even seen them in the same room together, let alone having sex, so it was a whole new thing for me to see them this way.

Watching Randy fuck his sister, I started to imagine it was me that he was fucking instead of his sister. I remembered how we had done it so many years ago in this very room, except then it was Cindy watching him fuck me. Until now, I had been so mesmerized with everything going on before me that I hadn't even so much as touched myself. Well, THAT wasn't going to stay that way for much longer!

My pussy was starting to respond to the scene in front of me, perhaps more so because the dom-sub thing seemed to going by the wayside. I wondered if it was all just a game they played and not so kinky as I had thought. Cindy seemed to be thoroughly enjoying herself now, rocking back and forth in sync with her brother's thrusts, moaning loudly each time he rammed his hard shaft deep inside of her pussy.

As they got more into it, Randy reached forward and grabbed Cindy by the hips and pulled and pushed her to drive his dick even harder and faster into her. This time Cindy didn't protest, not so much as even a dark but rather if anything, she seemed to be enjoying it all the more.

My hand was now between my legs as I cursed myself for wearing tight jeans. There was no way I could get them down in the cramped space of the closet without drawing their attention so the best I could do was rub myself through the tight fabric. Of course I wasn't wearing anything under them but the denim was still enough to keep me from rubbing myself the way I was dying to at this moment. It was incredibly hot to see a brother actually fucking his sister rather than two people pretending to be siblings on some stupid so-called "incest" website.

Now it was Randy's turn to cum as his strokes got suddenly faster and harder and I could see from the way he was grimacing that he was trying to hold it back as long as he could. He groaned as he shoved it into Cindy and then pulled her back in against him, holding himself deep inside of her as I could see his ass clenching as he began to shoot his loads of sperm into his sister's waiting pussy.

"Oh fuck!" he gasped, speaking his first words since she had shut him down earlier.

Cindy fell forward onto the bed on her stomach as Randy literally rode her down, keeping his dick planted firmly in her now cum-drenched pussy. He laid forward on her back, her skirt bunched up under him as I watched him now and then jerk a little as if he was having some sort of aftershock from the earthquake that had just consumed him.

Now that she had what she wanted, Cindy resumed her dominant role again but this time I saw it in a different light. There was something in her eyes that didn't quite go along with the way she was talking to him. She loved him fucking her, THAT was for certain! Still, she pushed him back so she could stand up again, pretending to not care about him anymore now that he had served his purpose.

"Well, it took you long enough to cum," she chastised him as she pulled her thong back into position and lowered her skirt once again, shaking it to get it to hang right again.

Then she smiled and gave him a kiss, on the cheek but still a kiss. "I hope you remember this the next time you fuck that whore of yours," she said in a soft tone, "Remember, nobody fucks you better than your sister... right?"

Randy nodded as he just stood there with his pants down to his knees and his cum-covered dick poking out from his shirt tails. He was still hard and no doubt would have been ready for another round but Cindy seemed to be in a rush.

"Hmmmmmm, guess you'll just have to take care of that on your own," she teased him as she patted his dick with her hand, "Sorry, gotta get back home before Ryan gets back."

I hadn't asked Ryan about who she was living with so I assumed this "Ryan" must have been her line-in roomie or whatever. Whatever the situation was, she hurried out the room without another word and headed straight out of the house, leaving Randy behind all hot and horny. Well, THAT was something I could deal with!

6. Showing My Gratitude

Randy was just starting to pull his jeans and underwear back up when I emerged from the closet, thankful to finally be able to stretch my legs again. Seeing what he was doing, I quickly said, "Oh no you don't, leave those pants down!"

As you might imagine, after watching everything for the past half hour or so, I was horny as hell and the only thing on my mind was what my eyes were fixated on in front of me - Randy's cum-covered cock. I knew if had just been in his sister and some of that wetness that was glistening in the soft light was from her pussy as well and I couldn't wait to taste her on his dick. Without saying another word, I pushed him back onto the bed and leaned over his crotch, taking him into my mouth without any further fanfare.

God he tasted so good! There's just something about the taste of a warm dick that just fucked a pussy that is like nothing else in the world. Cindy's pussy flavor was distinct, a sort of musky aftertaste like the perfect seasoning added to what was already a delicious meal. My heart beat fast as I realized I was tasting not just any girl on his dick, I was tasting his SISTER! The only other pussy I would have liked to taste more on his dick was mine, but then I love the taste of my pussy so it really wasn't a fair comparison.

"I take it you got turned on watching me fuck my sister?"

My response to Randy was just to look up and our eyes met as I tried to grin as best I could without letting his dick fall from my mouth. Holding it by the base, I let it out for just a moment to say in a teasing tone, "You know damn well it did you bastard!"

Back to his dick again, I licked his shaft up and down on each side and then in little circles around the smooth mushroom head, letting just the tip flick under it in that place I knew drove him nuts. Cupping his hairy balls in my hand, I gently rolled them as I started sucking once again on his dick, this time taking him in all the way until my nose was pushing against the base of his shaft. I loved the smell of his crotch. It was so... male!

"God that feels so good Kelly... you know you me suck better than Cindy ever did," he groaned as I deep-throated his cock.

Well, it wasn't really a fair "contest" with Cindy as I'd probably sucked hundreds more cocks in my "career" than she had. Overall, it may be a little egotistical but in my opinion, when it comes to cocksucking skills I don't think there are too many girls out there better than me. For anyone doubting me, I have enough testimonials to back up that that claim!

Another day and time, I could have sucked his cock for hours - assuming he could take it. There's just something about having a man's penis in my mouth that really turns me on. It's hard to explain why, but I think a lot of it has to do with knowing how I am making him feel and seeing how badly he wants me to do it - and not stop. To have that much power over a man, to be able to reduce him to begging me to suck him, is quite an ego booster. I don't mean to say it's some kinky dominatrix thing, I just like having a man totally consumed by his lust for me to the point he will literally do anything just for a few moments of having his dick in my mouth.

Today, however, there was a higher priority for me. I love to suck dick any time and much of the time it is just for fun. When it comes down to me being REALLY horny, however, sucking dick is like a nice appetizer but I can't wait for the main course. My pussy was practically cramping with the anticipation of feeling his dick in me and when it gets that way, there's really only one way to satisfy that need.

The quickest thing would have been to do like his sister and just uncover myself only enough for him to fuck me and get down to it without any further delay. However, unlike her, I was wearing jeans which weren't so easy to just flip up and out of the way. Besides, while there is a time and place to be fucked with your clothes on, I enjoy being nude best when I have sex. Then again, there can be something sexy about having something on. Hmmmmmm, decisions, decisions...

It didn't take long to make up my mind. Standing up, I quickly dropped my jeans, sliding off my boots as I did to leave me naked from the waist down. This "outfit" wouldn't have surprised anyone who knows me. I've always been the type that enjoys running around bottomless while covering up myself on top whereas full nudity is something I tend to reserve for sleeping in my bed, soaking in the hot tub, sex and stuff like that.

Standing there in front of Randy now, bare from the bottom of my stomach down, my pussy exposed while by boobs remained hidden from sight, made me feel incredibly sexy as I saw Randy's eyes were fixated on my crotch. His right hand had moved down to his dick and he was stroking himself slowly and I wondered if he even realized what he was doing or was it just an instinctive action on his part? For a guy who had just fucked his own sister just minutes earlier, he certainly seemed horny enough for ME now! Was she even on his mind now? While at some level I would have loved him to be comparing me to her, having his full attention on me was fine with me!

"Tell me what you want Randy," I asked him in a husky low voice.

"You," was all he said but that wasn't enough for me.

"Tell me more... tell me what you want."

Randy was licking his dry lips now and his hand was moving more firmly on his dick now. Of course I knew exactly what he wanted but I also wanted to hear him put it in words.

"I want to fuck you."

"More... tell me more."

"I want my dick in your pussy," he blurted out, sounding a little exasperated by now but I didn't care, "Can't we quit playing games and just do it?"

I'd pushed him far enough but I'd heard what I wanted and if anything, it just made me feel all the more horny. As much as I loved seeing the expression on a man's face when I knew he desired me, hearing him put that lust into words took it to another level for me. I guess it just follows the old axiom that the more senses you involve, the better the experience. When it comes to sex, I think this is all the more important.

"I want you too Randy," I purred softly, as seductively as I could, "I want to feel you in me... I want your dick inside of me... I want you to cum in me... deep inside of me."

As I said this, I moved in closer to him and replaced his hand with mine. With my other hand I cupped my bare pussy and pressed one finger into me - God I was so damn wet! I wanted him in me more than anything at that moment. To be more specific, it wasn't so much RANDY I wanted, I wanted Randy's DICK The rest of him was just a delivery system with the sole purpose of bringing him to an erection and putting that erection into my pussy.

OK, so maybe this all sounds a little too intense and overly focused, but you have to try and understand just how ridiculously horny I was at this moment. Remember, I was horny to start with by the time we got to his house and now I'd just witnessed Randy fucking his own sister while I was unable to properly play with myself throughout. Even now I could still taste his dick in my mouth, flavored with the faint remains of his sister's pussy after he'd cum in her. Plus, all the time I'd been sucking his cock I kept thinking more and more about how much I wanted him in me.

Under these conditions, was there any wonder that my entire world had reduced itself to the feeling of his erection in one hand and the wetness of my pussy in the other? Nothing else existed at this moment, no other thoughts intruded. I was totally focused on one thing and one thing only - getting Randy to fuck me.

There were any number of options available at the moment as to HOW to accomplish that, but in my current state expedience took precedence. Enough of the games and talk, I wanted his dick in my pussy and the faster it got there, the better. Turning around, I put my hands on my knees and spread my legs enough for him to get a better view of what he had been staring at along with my ass now as well.

"Fuck me Randy... fuck me PLEASE!" I begged him, my own lust now overriding everything else.

He was obviously just as anxious as the words were barely out of my mouth when I felt his hand on my butt and then the pressure of his dick against the wet opening to my pussy. No further words were needed as he pushed himself into me and I moaned long and soft as I felt him moving deeper and deeper inside of me, filling me with his manhood and joining himself together with me.

Anyone who has read about me knows that I claim that sex is at least 80% mental where the thoughts and feelings were more important to the level of satisfaction than the actual mechanics of sex. OK, so that isn't ALWAYS true and this was one of this moments. All I could think about, if you can even call it rational thinking, was Randy's stiff dick in me and how incredibly good it was making me feel. I wasn't thinking about HIM, thoughts of his sister were pushed aside, even fucking in his parent's bedroom was of no consequence. The ONLY thing that mattered to me at this moment was his dick as it stroked in and out of me!

As if him fucking me wasn't enough, I felt him lean over me more and put his arm around me until he was able to finger my clit as his hips thrust his cock in and out of me. Oh god, it felt so damn good! He knew exactly where to press his fingertip against me to drive me wild and as wet as I was it slid easily over my clit, stimulating it such that my entire body felt like it was one giant goose bump, tingling like crazy but feeling so good at the same time. I tried rocking back against him but for whatever reason it was hard to get in sync with his more erratic thrusts and for a moment I started to feel a little anxious.

Quickly I made a decision and so I stood up which had the effect of dropping his dick out of me. The immediate result was this feeling almost of despair as suddenly my pussy felt so empty and hungry! It was like someone had taken all the air from the room and I had an almost panicked sensation. I needed this so badly and to have him out of me even for a few seconds seemed like an eternity.

Turning around, I pushed him to the floor, onto his back against the carpet. His dick was so stiff and looked delicious as my eyes locked onto it like a hunter sighting in his prey. I practically jumped on top of him, anxious to regain that sensation once again of having him in me. My pussy was soaking and he easily slid back into me as I lowered myself down onto and started to bounce on his cock. Oh yeah, now THIS was heaven!

Grinding myself into his crotch, I loved the feel of his stiff pubic hair as it smashed up against my bare pussy. My hips swiveled as I played with myself, using my own hand now to rub my clit while I cupped my boob with the other. Randy grabbed my hips with his hands and pulled me down onto him, squeezing me tightly. Pulling up my top to expose my boobs, I leaned forward over him such that they hung over his face. I was rewarded by the feel of his mouth on my nipples, going back and forth between them as his hands reached around and clenched my butt, one cheek in each. I had his dick in my pussy, his mouth on my boob, his hands on my ass, and my own hand on my clit? My god, what more could a girl ask for?

When my orgasm struck it just suddenly rose up in me and broke loose. None of this slow buildup to a climax for me today. I was so horny that I wouldn't have been surprised had I cum the moment he first entered me. I could feel myself gushing over him, flooding his dick and crotch with my cum. He tugged on my boob, grasping my nipple just hard enough with his teeth to pull on it without actually hurting me. The effect was to make my climax even harder and more intense as my fingers rubbed my pussy furiously. God I loved to cum and the feeling was so much better this way than just masturbating alone in my bedroom – SO much better!

Randy wrapped his arms around me, pulling me down on top of him but keeping his dick imbedded in me. We rolled over on the floor such that it was my turn to be on the bottom. He put one hand on each of my thighs and pushed my legs apart and back to let his dick press into me as far as he could drive it. For the moment I closed my eyes and concentrated solely on his cock in me, awash in the incredible feelings of pleasure and lust that he was generating within me that seemed to fill every part of my body.

The sweater was now bunched up under my chin and it was distracting so I pulled it up and over my head, tossing it to the side such that I was now nude for Randy. This was the way it should be now, exposing myself totally to him, giving him access to every inch of my body, letting him see me... ALL of me without any shame or worry.

"Cum in me Randy," I whispered, the words emerging from my mouth before I even realized I wanted to say them. Indeed, that was exactly what I needed at this moment, the perfect response from him that would complete my needs.

Having a guy cum in me is important to me. None of this pulling out and squirting on my stomach or ass, not for me. I know some guys get off seeing their cum all over a girl but for me, feeling a man cum inside of me is the final act that completes me as a woman. It's why I hate condoms. I understand why men hate them as I can't imagine lining myself in latex and trying to feel a dick in me. At the same time, when they cum it doesn't matter to them if they are cumming in me or their sperm is being gathered inside the condom - either way they are getting off while buried in my pussy.

For me, a condom deprives me of that feeling I get when a man cums in me, that faint bloom of heat that rapidly disappears but signals to me that he is releasing himself inside of me. It's his sperm that he is giving me, an act of mating that while ultimately is foiled thanks to modern medicine, but at the time no different than if he was actually trying to mate me. It's not that I want to be pregnant - far from it, but I love the fact that he is at least trying to do it, even in just a symbolic way. That is why it is even more erotic for me to have my own dad cum in me, or in the case of randy, to see him cumming in his own sister. For two people so close already consummate a bond that can only be created through sex is perhaps the most intimate way to express their mutual respect and lust for one another.

With my words, Randy started pumping in and out of me now like he was under some time limit for the most number of strokes in one minute or something.

He literally pounded unto my crotch as he drove himself into me, pushing me a little along the floor each time.

"I'm cumming!" he announced with a grimace, lifting his head back as he arched his back and pressed himself into me, holding himself tight up against my crotch as he started to ejaculate inside of me.

YES! I came again at the first feeling of his cum in me, just enough for me to know he was doing it. Now it was my turn to receive his cum, it was my turn to be mated with his beautiful cock, it was my turn to become one with him as he gave me his most precious gift - his sperm.

Randy collapsed on top of me, totally drained now that he had finished his orgasm. I wanted him so bad to keep fucking me as my own orgasm wasn't finished yet but he was obviously too exhausted to go on any longer. He rolled off of me and lay flat on his back, his arms over his head as he groaned. I turned on my side to look at him as I fingered myself, trying to drive what was left of my orgasm a little longer.

My orgasm rose again as I felt his cum drain from my pussy. I draped one leg over him and pressed myself in against his body as I just held my hand against my throbbing pussy. His dick was growing flaccid but I still loved looking at it, trying to imagine how it must have looked when it was buried inside of me just moments before. It was amazing how such a thing could bring me so much pleasure!

We must have laid together like that for maybe half an hour or so, just letting the feelings flow through us and enjoying the sensation of him against me. Well, to be more accurate HE slept while I was doing the reminiscing. I held onto his dick with my hand, unwilling to let it go but I knew we should be leaving soon. Then again...

I got up on my knees gently so as not to wake him up. His dick looked sort of cute actually as it flopped over and lay in a bed of pubic hair. It looked SO inviting...

This time when I took his dick in my mouth, it was MY pussy that I could taste on him. Cindy had tasted similar but I think every girl knows the distinctive flavor of her own pussy. I have to say I was quite familiar with mine! Some girls claim not to like to taste themselves but I have to say it has been something I have enjoyed since I first started to touch myself. At first it was just curiosity but in some ways it was like when I first tasted cum. I knew from that first taste that it was something I loved and I wanted to taste it as much as possible To smell and taste myself on a guy's cock was an added bonus!

Randy stirred as I started to suck his dick again. He lifted his head and sighed when he realized what I was doing.

"Give me a break Kelly, haven't you had enough?"

Stupid question! My answer was to just suck more on his dick but he reached down and tried to push my head away.

"We need to go before my parents come home and find us in their bedroom."

I had thought his parents were away for the day at least. Apparently that had been a line to make me more comfortable doing it at his house today. It didn't really matter as while I would have loved to stay around and suck his cock some more, I wasn't feeling obsessed about like I'd been just a matter of minutes ago. Right now it was just something that I wouldn't stop if he wanted to fuck me, but I wasn't about to go off the deep end if he didn't. Like, I couldn't imagine turning him down but I wasn't going to push for more - at least not right now.

I had cum dripping down my thigh and in general felt a little messy so I got up and went in to use the bathroom to clean up enough to feel presentable to go home. By the time I returned, randy was already dressed and waiting for me.

"Shit, you really have an incredible body," he said admiringly as I walked out, still totally nude. Well, what girl wouldn't feel good hearing a guy say THAT to her?

"Better than Cindy's?" I teased him as I did a little turn for him to give him a 360 degree view.

"She's OK but there's just something about you that drives me nuts," he continued, "You don't try to hide anything or be someone you aren't. I've never known any girl so comfortable with her sexuality as you are."

I wasn't quite sure what that meant, but it sounded good so I just smiled and got myself dressed in front of him. We left and I walked out of the bedroom I thought for a moment how ironic it was that the same bedroom where his ultra- conservative mother slept could be the scene for such incredibly erotic sex between her own son and daughter!

The drive home was rather uneventful in comparison to the happenings before. It wasn't until later that night when I lay naked in my bed, about to fall asleep that it seemed to hit me as to what had really happened that day. Eventually I did fall sleep, but it wasn't until after I'd thought about Randy and his sister, imaging myself joining them as I masturbated myself to sleep. I seriously doubt such a thing would ever happen but a girl can dream (and masturbate), can't she?

(Nov 26) Chapter 202: Thanksgiving Brothers

Story codes: MF MMMF F-solo M-solo inc father daughter uncle niece
Me (24)
John - my dad (45)
Uncle Paul (52)
Uncle Jim (43)

Thanksgiving has always been a time for our family to get together. Each year we switch off as to who hosts the event and this year it was my dad's turn. As things turned out, his brothers had more to be thankful for by the time the day was over.

1. My Dad and His Brothers

Most of this has been stated in past diary entries and I also post a family tree on my website so I'll try to keep this brief for those who aren't familiar with my family background...

My dad has two brothers, Paul who is now 52, seven years older than my dad, and Jim who at 43 is two years younger. Due to the age differences, my dad and Jim were closer with each other growing up than they were with Paul. For example, by the time my dad entered high school, Paul had already graduated and was away at college. Paul eventually married my Aunt Julie and they produced two girls, Ginny (29 now) and Laura (26). Both of my cousins are now married with children, just your everyday typical soccer moms. All of them are still living relatively close to one another on the north side of Pittsburgh yet other than family functions I never see much of them. While when we DO get together we all get along fine for the most part, I can't say we're very close.

In high school the two younger brothers apparently had quite the reputation (at least from what my mother and her sister have told me) for chasing the girls, especially the younger ones. Being the older brother, my dad would lead the way while his younger brother tried to match him with the typical drive of a younger sibling trying to upstage the older one.

had been having sex quite regularly over the years. It's not that I felt what they did was wrong, per se. After all, as her brother-in-law it wasn't adultery for her to fuck him. Still, I found it curious that she didn't discuss it much with my dad, if at all.

Then came one day last summer when Uncle Paul stopped by and told me about everything between him and my mom, obviously in hopes of doing it with me now that my mom was gone. In principle it was OK with me; after all, he IS my uncle and as such I have family responsibilities to attend to, but I can't say I was all too sorry when after the first time he didn't push for more. In fact, it was ME that initiated our second time together but that is another story...

Well, that was more than I intended to cover but I wanted to set the scene for where things were as we approached the 2009 annual Thanksgiving family gathering. I'd never done anything overtly sexual in previous years although I was probably guilty of teasing my uncles a bit, and thereby pissing off my aunts who would then complain to my mom about me. It seemed like ages since I fucked either uncle, or even Rick for that matter, so it wasn't like I was expecting anything to be different this year,. Besides, neither of my uncles would dare risk trying to fuck me with all the rest of family gathered. Nothing like that had ever happened before and it wouldn't happen this year either. Of course, that didn't mean I couldn't have a LITTLE fun, even if it was just to annoy my stodgy aunts.

As things turned out, I was wrong. So very very wrong!

2. Preparing for Guests

All I can say is thank God my Aunt Linda is living with my Dad now. I don't think I could've possibly gotten the house in order and everything ready without her help. Well, to be honest, I think she did most of the work with just a little help from me. OK... so she did all the work.

Feeling a little guilty about dumping everything on my favorite aunt, I stopped by the day before Thanksgiving after school was out to see if there was anything I could do to help. My dad, of course, wasn't home as he probably wouldn't be in until 7 or 8 o'clock at the earliest, even if it was Thanksgiving Eve (is that an official holiday?) I went there straight from school so when I stepped in I was wearing a simple floral dress that came down to mid-calf, long sleeved with a high neck. It was pretty standard wear for a teacher at an extremely conservative Christian elementary school and I'd grown accustomed to it so I was sort of surprised by my Aunt Linda's reaction when I stepped inside the entrance hallway.

"What the hell, you gone Amish or what?" I heard from behind me as I hung up my coat in the hallway closet.

I turned to see my aunt, looking not at all glamorous in baggy sweat pants, a grey Steelers t-shirt streaked with seat stains, and old sneakers with white anklets. Her brown hair was pulled back into a haphazard ponytail and she obviously hadn't put on any makeup, all of which contributed to making her look of exhaustion all the more extreme.

"Well I see you came dressed to work," she said wryly, her arms folded with a dishrag in her hand.

Immediately I felt even more guilty as I realized how hard she'd been working doing things around the house that I should have been doing. Sure she was living with my dad now but it wasn't like she was his wife or live-in maid. However, as his daughter I had certain responsibilities beyond just sex and if ever I felt I'd shirked them, this was one of those times. I started to say something in my self-defense but thankfully she cut me off as I had no idea what I was really going to say.

"Oh don't look so upset, I'm just messin' with ya," she laughed, "God Kelly, you can be SO easy sometimes... and I don't mean that the way you might be thinking. Seriously, I think I've got everything ready so don't sweat it."

The place DID look immaculate. I have to admit that housework has never been one of my forte's and had it been left up to me, there was no doubt the place wouldn't look nearly as good as it did now. Everything was dusted, put away, swept, and polished. Actually it was the best I'd seen the place in a long time.

"Well I don't know how to thank you," I said, looking around in wonder.

"Don't worry, I do!" she came back, "Your old, discrepant aunt needs a back rub... BADLY!"

If she'd asked my opinion, I would've told her she looked like she needed a whole body rub. I couldn't remember seeing her so dirty and tired looking. She must have been at it all day so it was no wonder that her back was giving out on her. Heck, mine hurt just THINKING about all the work she'd done.

"Let me shower first, I feel so dirty... make yourself at home."

It seemed ironic to hear her say that as I already considered this as MY home. After all, this was the house where I was raised and lived all my life until I graduated from college and got my own apartment. Still, she was the one living her now so I guess that gave her the right to call it hers. That didn't make it an easier for me to accept though!

We both headed upstairs where she turned to the right and then right again into the bathroom while I went straight at the top of the stairs into my dad's bedroom. For a moment I thought of it as my parent's bedroom but then felt a bit of a pang in my heart when I remembered that these days it was just my dad's bedroom. In my heart, though, it will always be my parent's bedroom even if it was my Aunt Linda sleeping in there now with my dad instead of my mom.

Aunt Linda quickly stripped and dumped her clothes down the chute in the hallway to the basement laundry. I got a quick look at her nude body and couldn't help but admire what I saw. My mom had done a pretty good job of keeping her shape into her forties but Linda was unbelievable. Anyone seeing her like this would think she was in her mid-thirties at the most and not 41. Of course a boob lift a few years back didn't hurt but what you saw was still 100% her. After a brief scare with a lump in her breasts, the doctor recommended against implants so he just tightened things up and left her a solid B cup. But her tight ass and firm belly was totally natural without any surgical help, the envy of many a women ten years her junior.

My dress was much too constrictive to allow me to give her a proper massage, plus I didn't want to risk staining it with oil or lotion so I stood up and took it off, hanging it over the back of a chair by the side window. Turning, I saw my reflection in the large mirror over the dresser and couldn't help but smile to myself. When was the last time I'd worn panties and a bra in this room? For that matter, had I EVER? Yet here I was with a plain beige bra and matching full panties complete with pantyhose, standing in a pair of plain brown shoes with just one-inch heels. My dad would have been surely been shocked had he walked in and seen me like this!

The pantyhose was the next to go. Being one of the few pair I had without a run, I wasn't risking them snagging on anything while I gave my aunt her backrub. My old bedroom was right next door and I still kept a few things there in case I ever had to stay the night so for a moment I debated trading in the bra and panties for a more comfortable sleep shirt. Then I shook my head at myself and remembered that I had an entire closet of my dad's dress shirts to choose from. When I lived at home it was one of my favorite things to do - to go pick out a new shirt of his and wear it around him. He always complained that I was picking out his best shirts but I knew he really didn't mind - especially since that was ALL I was wearing.

Dumping the bra and panties on the chair with my dress and pantyhose, I rummaged through the closet until I found the perfect shirt - pure white with long sleeves. It looked brand new and was made of this thin material which felt really comfy on me. Of course being for my dad it was huge on me and did nothing to flatter my figure but it felt so much better to wear as compared to that stupid bra and panties set. The tails came down way past my butt and even when I sat on the bed with my legs tucked under me it covered me completely. Now had my dad been the one I was waiting to get out the shower I might have made sure the shirt wasn't doing such a good job hiding my ass but with Aunt Linda it didn't really matter.

It wasn't that my Aunt and I never fooled around, it just wasn't something we did normally. Ironically, she was the second woman I'd had sex with. My mom was my first, followed shortly after by her and her sister. After having had sex exclusively with boys for the past two years it was a little surreal doing it with a woman so it helped that the first ones I was with wither my mom and aunt. Still, they WERE my mom and aunt so it wasn't quite the same for me as having sex with other girls or women. In fact, when people ask me who my first girl-girl experience was with, I usually tell them it was Brenda, my freshman roomie back in college.

Over the years I'd been with my aunt a few more times but it was always with someone else - my dad and/or my mom usually, although there had been a couple of times with Kristen. For whatever reason, we never went off and did anything alone. We were together a lot, especially in the past few months since she moved in with my dad, but there never seemed to be any sort of sexual tension between us. I guess it was because of this that I was more worried about dressing for my own comfort now than trying to catch her eye. I'd rubbed her back numerous times before - she'd had problems with it for ages now, so there was no reason for me to assume this time would be any different.

Sitting on the bed, my aunt came in with a towel wrapped around her hair - and not much else but a smile. She was little damp from her shower, still slightly flushed and I couldn't help but admire her once again. Damn, no wonder Kristen looked so much younger than her age when her mother looked not a day over 35, if THAT old. I noticed that she was keeping her dark pubic hair trimmed a lot closer than in the past. Hmmmmmm, had my dad been an influence on that? He never much about it but I always knew he loved my shaved pussy better than my mom's bushy one. Not that he didn't like her pussy! Just talking about the hair style.

"Being a little shy today?" she teased me, gesturing towards the long men's dress shirt I was wearing.

She knew better of course, it was just her way of joking around with me. She was never one to shy away from being nude at our house, especially once I started having sex with my parents and her. It was the same even more so at her home. It wasn't unusual for me to go to their house back when she and Kristen were living there and find her cooking supper in the nude or just watching TV all naked on the love seat.

Surprisingly, at least when you think about her love of nudity, my aunt usually wore a bra. What made it seemed sort of odd at first was that she started to do that more often AFTER her boob lift. I would've thought if anything she would be proud of the way they held up on their own until she explained to me that after going through all that pain and misery she wasn't about to have them start sagging again. I guess she had a point but it wasn't enough to convince me to start wearing one all the time!

Reaching over to the nightstand, she handed me a tube of massage oil. I couldn't help but grin as I imagined what it had been used for before now. A pang of sadness hit me as I couldn't help but think that it was my mother who use to keep her own lotion on that very nightstand, not to mention an impressive array of toys in the drawer below. I wondered if my aunt had replaced them with her own favorites?

"Here, I just bought this last week and I just love the way it makes my skin feel afterwards," she said as I took the dark brown plastic bottle from her hand.

With that she laid on her stomach crossways on the bed, facing the front wall of the bedroom across from where I was sitting. I scooted more towards the middle of the bed, pulling the pillows in behind me to support my back as I curled up besides my Aunt Linda. She had her own little pillow under her head, her arms wrapped around it like an imaginary lover as she nestled into place.

"God, my back is just KILLING me," she sighed, "I hope that extra-strength Tylenol kicks in soon."

Well, if she was trying to put me on a guilt trip for all the housework she'd been doing without me - she succeeded brilliantly. At the same time while I may have felt a bit guilty, I didn't regret it all that much. Of all the chores around the house, I hate cleaning the most. Laundry is a pain but bearable. Heck, even ironing was better than cleaning floors and dusting!

Pouring a little of the oil in the palm of my right hand to let it warm up, I leaned onto my left side and stretched my legs out, my bare feet extending over the side of the bed. The room was too small for a king-size bed so there was just a queen. With her laying crossways and me having to scoot down so I could reach her back, it didn't leave a heck of a lot of room for my own legs.

"Oh that's cold!" she exclaimed, tensing up as I put my oil-filled hand onto the small of her bare back.

"Sorry! I tried to warm it up first," I apologized as I started to spread it out all over her back.

"I know... sorry... just start at my neck, ok?"

Her neck DID feel tense as I worked my fingers around her, kneading the tops of her shoulders as well. Slowly I worked my way down to her shoulder blades, pressing my fingertips in and pushing as best I could given the bad angle I was working from.

"That feel's soooooo good, Kelly," she sighed, "Dig in harder if you can."

Even though I preferred laying on my side as I did this, I could tell I wasn't going to be able to get the right angle to put enough pressure on her without wearing out my own arm. Gathering myself up, I got on my knees and put both hands on her sides to steady myself as I lifted my right leg up and over her, resulting in me squatting over her lower back, just above her bare butt. Sort of like riding a horse bareback I guess you could say. Keeping both hands firmly on her, I started to work up and down her spine, one hand on each side as I rubbed with the heels of my hands in tight little circles.

"Ummmmm, that's much better."

Now and then I must have hit a particularly sore spot as I would feel her butt tighten under me. Without any panties on, my bare crotch was pressing down on the top of her butt crack and I could feel her squirming under me now and then - not a bad sensation really!

"Just push from the bottom to the top with your hands," she suggested, her voice slightly muffled as she had her head face down into the pillow.

Following her suggestion, I pushed from just under my crotch on her back, slowly working my way up both sides of her spine until I reached her neck and then did the same in reverse. I'm not sure who really liked it the most though - her feeling my hands pushing on her sore back or me feeling my pussy rub against her bottom as I leaned far forward and then back until I was upright again.

For the time being she just laid there, sighing now and then and jumping just a little when I nailed a particularly painful spot. I guess you could say that rubbing someone's back is a lot like giving a guy a hand-job - you move your hands until you feel the person react, telling you when it's being done in just the right way.

"My lower back now... God it hurts so bad," she groaned softly.

As I was effectively sitting on that part of her at the moment, I worked my way back, keeping my legs on each side of hers. It was a little uncomfortable having to stretch my legs apart so wide so instead I ended up just straddling one leg, pushing my right knee in between her thighs while my left remained the outside of her left leg. My hands worked their way around the small of her back, sometimes going so low as to caress her buttocks briefly. Damn, for a forty-something woman she still has an ass women half her age would kill for - me included!

It felt a little naughty to caress her bottom. This was SUPPOSE to be a back rub after all, not an ass rub, but she didn't seem to mind and I loved the soft feel of her smooth butt under my fingers. I may not be into anal sex but I still love to touch a nice ass - just as I LOVE mine to be touched as well. There's something simply erotic about walking down the street with your guy's hand planted firmly on your ass for everyone to see. I love it to be touched and kissed, even licked - so long as they stay away from my asshole. Call it what you want, but I have this thing about assholes that just turns me off when a guy tries to play with mine - and don't even THINK about asking me to play with his!

As I rubbed her lower back and bottom, I scooted back a little more until her knee was just under my crotch, her hard kneecap pressing up against my pussy. I almost snickered as for a moment I had this flashback to being a little girl in grade school, rubbing myself under my dress on the monkey bars at school, totally oblivious to the stares of the other kids. You can probably imagine the phone call from my teacher to my mother that day, not to mention the lecture she gave me when I got home.

Using both hands, I caressed my aunt's upper thighs, one at a time, first coating them with oil and then rubbing it into her skin as I worked my hands together from the outside to the inside and back out again. Up and down I went from her hips to her knees, working my fingers into her still tight thighs - another miracle of genetics I might add.

Aunt Linda must have been enjoying it as much I was enjoying rubbing myself against her knee as I saw her take her right arm from around the pillow and lower it, pushing it under her. Then I saw her fingers peeking out from between her legs which were spread apart just enough to let me see what was happening between them. Damn, Aunt Linda was masturbating herself!

The fact she was masturbating wasn't exactly headline news. While sex itself was seldom on display, if there was one thing that is freely done in my family it's masturbation. My mother use to tell me growing up that it was a natural human reaction to the feelings inside all of us and there was nothing to be ashamed of by responding to those feelings. Of course, as illustrated by the infamous "Monkey Bar Incident", there was a right time and place for everything. Watching TV was an OK time but on the monkey bars at school - not so much. No, the fact my aunt was masturbating in and of itself wasn't surprising, but to have her do it while I was rubbing her back... now THAT was definitely a first.

Trying as best I could to ignore what she was doing, I started to work on her other leg. She was being discreet about it and if I hadn't seen her hand moving under her I might not have even noticed. Still, I COULD see her fingers when she would push them into herself but for the most part she was just rubbing her clit, pushing her fingers in only as needed to keep her clit wet and slippery.

Well, what was good for the goose... you get the idea. As much as I tried to concentrate on rubbing her legs, I couldn't tear my eyes away from what was going on between them. I felt her move under me slightly, rocking from side to side as she parted her legs just a little more to make it easier for herself to touch her pussy. As for me, I was rotating my hips in small tight circles, rubbing my own clit against her hard knee but somehow it didn't feel right. I guess you could say I just wasn't getting the job done.

Leaving one hand on her slippery thigh, I moved the other down and under my dad's shirt to my pussy. My fingers were oily and slick but it wasn't really necessary considering how wet I was already down there. God it felt so much better to finally touch myself! Between my fingers circling my sensitive clit and the feel of my aunt's warm smooth thigh under my other hand, it was quite an erotic moment - as you might imagine.

Neither of us said a word as we both slowly masturbated ourselves. It was like being at a sleepover back in Junior High, with all the girls playing with themselves but each of us trying to pretend like we weren't paying attention to the others. Even though she never turned her head, my aunt HAD to know what I was doing. Just rubbing myself against her knee would have told her and now with only one hand on her leg she had to know where the other was! Meanwhile, I watched as her fingers worked their magic on her own pussy, seeing the tips poke out through her pubic hair like they were materializing from some hairy forest.

Cool... she was cumming... I could tell she was trying not to be too obvious about it but there was no hiding the quickening pace and the tightening of her butt and legs. My aunt didn't get as frenzied as her daughter when she came but she wasn't exactly shy about it either.

Speaking of which, when it comes to understanding of women by men, the female orgasm has to be the least understood of all. For a man, it's easy - stroke or suck a guy's dick long enough and he cums, just as assuredly and reliably as pumping up a balloon with air until it pops. It was all simple cause and effect, nothing too complicated. Heck, a guy can be passed out and if you do him long enough his dick will be squirting like a fire hose. In fact, most guys can't even stop themselves from having one! They may protest or try to keep from giving in, but once they reach that limit there's no stopping it, like a dam that cracks and there's nothing that can be done to keep it from collapsing.

Also, men seem to define sex by their orgasm. What I mean is they HAVE to cum to feel satisfied. This can be used to your advantage. For instance, if you want to frustrate a guy, just suck on his dick until he is just about to cum... and then stop. There's simply no better way to get back at a guy who's pissed you off than to leave him hanging right on the edge.

When it comes to girls, however, the first thing guys need to realize is that an orgasm is NOT a requirement for having fulfilling sex. Under the right circumstances I can feel quite satisfied and entirely happy having sex all night without a single orgasm. Having an orgasm is something in addition to just sex, like whipped cream on pumpkin pie. You can love eating just the pie and be happy, but adding the whip cream makes it all the better. In fact, sometimes the whipped cream by itself is just the thing!

Next, an orgasm is something I have to WANT to have, not something I can't stop myself from having. I believe that EVERY girl is capable of having an orgasm. My theory is that the women who say they don't simply don't have the self- confidence or real desire to have one. That said, I think some outright fear having one. I've known girls to be on the brink of a huge orgasm and then pull away, afraid of how feeling like they are losing control over themselves.

Perhaps the funniest thing, if I dare say so, are the girls who stop because they think they are going to see if they don't! Yes, there is a stunningly similar sensation at the outset of an orgasm similar to that of peeing but once you learn to recognize it, there IS a distinct difference. And yes, I HAVE peed a couple of times myself so guys, get over it. It happens.

Another difference between men and women is HOW they orgasm. For men, it's like fireworks going off - the fuse is lit, blastoff, a stunning display, maybe some loud noises, and then poof, it's all over in a flash. A few seconds or reward and then it's like he goes into some dream state, perhaps because his brain has been so robbed of blood from the effort of arousing his cock that he can't think clearly.

For most women, or at least me, orgasms come in many flavors. There's the classic "hit by a truck" where suddenly it's as though you feel like you're going to explode and then it's like getting hit blindsided. Everything goes blank as your entire body feels like it's on fire from your toes to the tips of your hair. It can go on for quite a while if you're properly stimulated but tends to die quickly.

At the opposite extreme is the "steady boil" where you can feel yourself slowly but surely rising to a climax and when it hits, it's like a pot of water finally starting to boil, nothing that extremely different from what was there a moment ago but yet distinctively more intense. This is what I typically experience when I masturbate in public, like in church or in class. You can't let yourself go TOO wild but to sit there and feel the steady rush of pleasure fill me and make me almost gasp for air is quite effective.

Probably the most common orgasm I have is somewhat I between the two extremes. It is what I typically feel when I masturbate in private and can allow myself to build up slowly to the peak. It's sort of like the "steady boil" but once I cum then it suddenly transforms to the "hot by a truck" feeling.

Indeed, this was exactly what was happening to me now. Rubbing my nude aunt, watching her blissfully masturbate, rubbing my hands on her ass my crotch on her knee, was like a perfect storm so far as letting my emotions and lust build up slowly but surely. Then, seeing her cum, it was like somewhat lit the fuse leading to my hidden bunker of pleasure and it exploded in a tremendous flash. My hand squeezed her thigh tightly as I pressed my fingers up against my clit and raised my head up towards the ceiling, trying not to cry out too loudly. Yes, she was there and having her own orgasm but at the same time, this was for me, not a performance for my aunt.

For what seemed forever the two of us were lost in our mutual orgasms, each of us shuddering uncontrollably and now and then jerking with a sudden sharp sensation running through us. I don't know which of us ended first, it wasn't like we hit the finish line and stopped but more like we were coasting down a hill and finally came to rest somewhere far from the mountain.

My aunt was the first to move, nudging me to get off her leg which was probably numb by now from me sitting on it.

"Well, now THAT was what I call a back rub!"

I grinned at her a little sheepishly. Damn, here I was 24 years old and no kid yet somehow I felt a little embarrassed at letting myself go like that when I should have been working to make her feel better. We both ended up playing in bed next to each other on our backs, legs stretched out in front of us as we stared up at the ceiling, the aftershocks of our mutual, but unmentioned, orgasms still striking now and then. I was actually about to fall asleep when she nudged me.

"Hey sleepy head, your dad will be home soon."

At first I admit to thinking maybe she had some ulterior motive, like maybe a three-some, for when he got home. Funny but we'd never even mentioned anything like that since she first talked about moving in with him so I don't know why I would think that but I was soon brought back to earth. She obviously was hinting that I should go so SHE could greet my dad when he got home. Well, she WAS living with him and I guess that was her right but it still felt a little odd. After all, I had lived in this house for over 18 years and I guess I still sort of felt that I was number one on my dad's list when he came home from work all tired but horny. Oh well, I guess that's all a part of growing up and escaping the nest. As it is often said, no good deed goes unpunished!

Rubbing my eyes, I collected my clothes and gave her a quick kiss goodbye, leaving her lying naked on the bed. As I drove off, I wondered if that was how my dad would find her when he got home. Knowing my Aunt Linda, I wouldn't be surprised!

3. Teasing and Flirting

Thanksgiving version 2009 was upon us. Was it George Carlin who said something like, "Marry an orphan, then you won't have to worry about boring family traditions." Not that all my family traditions were boring - far from it, but some were and Thanksgiving was right at the top fo9lowed close behind by Christmas day. When I was younger and we kids could run off and play games it was so much easier. Now as an "adult" I was expected to socialize and help with the preparations, not nearly as much fun. Who could blame me for looking for new "games" to play?

If there is one thing I wish about my family, it would be that everyone would be involved in incest, or at least be like my mom's mother and accept it, even if they don't want to participate. It's not like I have any burning desire for a "Thanksgiving Orgy", THAT would be just weird, but it would certainly make the day go by faster if people could go off and take care of their mutual needs as they saw fit. No, instead It was more a mixture of different beliefs and culture. Since both my dad's brothers had fucked me, and Uncle Jim had also fucked his younger daughter, THEY were not the issue. Heck, I could tell from the moment they both walked into my dad's house and took one look at me what THEY were thinking about! Hint - it wasn't about the turkey and dressing.

Actually it was my aunts who were the real issue. Aunt Shari was a religious zealot and insanely obsessed with sex - or rather NOT having sex. Sometimes I wonder how she even got pregnant. I have this nightmarish image of her lying on her back, almost rigid in bed, spreading her fat legs and telling my uncle to "just do it and get it over with" so she could have her children with least amount of sex. It goes without saying that she hated me for being a slut, and hated my mother as well for letting me be one, especially around her husband and teenage son. She was always nagging my mother about how I dressed and behaved around her family. My mother, bless her heart, did her best to ignore her sister-in-law but I know at times she had all she could do to not just reach out and slap my aunt across her pudgy face.

My Aunt Julie has never been quite so outspoken as Aunt Shari, but it was obvious from the looks she gave me and those cute little sarcastic remarks she liked to throw out now and then that she wasn't enthused about me social life either. I doubt she would have been any happier if she knew her husband had been fucking my mom for years, and now me twice this past summer.

Except for my youngest cousin Tammy and her brother Rick, the rest of my direct cousins were all girls. Kate, Tammy's older sister was a little shrew just like her mother. My other cousins were fun - they could throw a mean bachelorette party, but really no different than most of my friends. While I had no doubt they enjoyed sex, I had a strong suspicion that they wouldn't exactly approve of incest, especially between their dad and slutty cousin.

Hopefully that sheds some light as to why I say our family get-togethers like today's tend to be quite boring. Sure I liked to flirt with my uncles a little, just enough to piss off my aunts, but there always this line neither they or I would cross. It was one thing to have my Aunt Shari THINK of me as a slut and suspect I was having more sex than a girl my age should; but quite another to ever let her get even an inkling that two of the guys I was having sex with were her own son and husband!

In the spirit of the holidays - not to mention the seasonal cold outside, I was wearing tight jeans and a long sweater top - the type that comes down over your ass and about half-way to your knees. It fit me like a glove and I just loved the way it make me look lean and slender while emphasizing my bust line. It was thick enough that it wasn't blatantly apparent that I wasn't wearing a bra, but tight enough so that when I moved it became instantly obvious. I loved the way it felt moving across my exposed nipples. It was like they were constantly hard, even though the material made it difficult to really notice.

As each of the families arrived, I notice I got looks from BOTH the men AND the women. Of course the men's eyes never seemed to get higher than my chest while the women would look me over like I was some freak and then turn away, the disapproval obvious on the expressions - as I am sure they wanted me to notice.

It was my chore to take everyone's coats to the master bedroom and by the time I would be back, they were already spreading out around the house. It was telling that in both cases, my uncles were the last to linger in the hallway. For my part, I did the same with each of them, smoothing out my sweater top and asking them if they liked how it looked on me. It was so funny in that both of them reacted exactly the same way - a silent head bob and eyes fixated on my boobs. Then I teased them, checking to see nobody was close enough to hear and then whispering in a low, conspiratorial tone, "Well, maybe later you can see it off of me as well."

It was like you could almost hear the "BOING!" as both of them grew the cutest bulges in their pants. I almost laughed as they quickly took a seat in the living room, crossing their legs to hide their blatant state of arousal. I'd love to have seen them explaining their way out of THAT should their respective wives ever notice.

Not long after the others had arrived, Kristen showed up and made her grand entrance. Even though she was technically from my mom's side of the family, with her mom now living with my dad (much to the disapproval of Aunt Shari and Aunt Julie I was sure), it seemed insensitive not to invite her over as well. Well, if you thought my aunts thought I was a slut, you should have seen their faces when

Kristen showed up in her typical "understated" outfit - skin tight white pants with a turquoise tank top and pink blouse over it with the buttons all undone. The tank top came well down, exposing a LOT of cleavage, and it was so tight her nipples clearly poked through. The pants were so tight you could tell she wasn't wearing a thing under them - not to mention a perfect camel-toe in front as well. I almost laughed as once again Kristen proved she wasn't afraid to follow her own philosophy about life - "if you got it, flaunt it".

While my aunts and older cousins prepared the dinner, Kristen and I tried to avoid the kitchen as much as possible. With three horny brothers downstairs in the family room watching football, it was like shooting fish in a barrel for us. My older cousins' kids were playing in the formal living room upstairs. Kate was with her mom - as always, while Tammy was watching over the younger kids upstairs. Rick was off in the corner of the basement on my dad's old computer. He claimed to be playing some game but I had no doubt the pervert was surfing for porn.

At ages 22 and 24 respectively, Kristen and I were starting to get a little old for the "sit on your uncle's lap" routine but that didn't deter us. With my aunts and cousins periodically popping their heads down to give us an update on dinner (or more likely, spying on us to see what was going on), it wasn't like we could get very carried away but then, you don't need to when it comes to teasing and flirting. Indeed, it's what you DON'T do that makes it hot. Had I actually shown my uncles my boobs it wouldn't have aroused them nearly as much as ALMOST showing them. Letting them fondle my breasts would have been nice, but not nearly as hot as letting them just get their hands on them and then brush them away, pretending like I was shocked they would even think of such lewd actions towards their niece. Of course they knew it was all an act but that didn't seem to keep them from getting quite worked up over it.

Fortunately Kristen was there so my dad got to be included in the fun as well. I would've loved to have flirted with him but as much as my aunts would have been mad at me had they caught me on their husband's laps, they would have gone ballistic had they seen me teasing my own father in the same way.

By the time the big meal was ready, I think all three of the brothers would've rather retreated to the bathroom and taken care of their "problem's but fortunately the long table cloth hid any signs of their internal morality struggles. I would've loved to be able to sit next to my uncles but my aunts had strategically seated us such that both Kristen and I were well separated from the older men. It didn't stop them from staring at us now and then, especially at Kristen with her nipples poking out like blaring headlights. As for my aunts, if looks could kill...

Dessert was just getting over when my Aunt Linda excused herself, explaining that she and Kristen had to leave to show some homes to a prospective buyer. I was caught off guard, as was everyone else. Like, this was Thanksgiving - who looks at home today?

Well, as it turns out, if you're Canadian it doesn't matter to you if it's Thanksgiving in the USA. If anything, it seemed they saw it as an opportunity to see a few homes without worrying about being interrupted by other people. Oh well, I guess being a realtor means having to make sacrifices. Kristen didn't seem too pleased at all and seeing the eyes she was making at her uncle's - all three of them, it was obvious why. Still, she'd quit whoring herself and partnered up with her mom and that meant doing the things she wasn't as happy about as well sometimes.

I must say, though, that neither of my other aunts seemed the least bit displeased at their quick departure. I knew that they considered Kristen an even bigger slut than me, there were even a few mentions at times that suggested they may even have suspected she was a whore until recently. Actually, I think they meant "whore" more as a disparaging description and probably had no idea just how on-target their description was.

As for my aunt, there seemed to be no end to the rumors and general nastiness. I even overheard a few conversations where they accused my dad of cheating with her on my mom while she was still with us which made me laugh. If they only knew the truth!

So that left me alone with the guys watching football. I suppose I should have helped with the dishes and stuff but I just was in no mood to play nice with my nasty aunts and listen to their continuous stream of sarcastic remarks.

As it was, being with my dad and uncles was a little surreal anyway. Even though I'd been fucked by all three of them at one time or another in the past, I still got the impression that none of them talked about it much with each other's. This seemed especially true with my Uncle Paul. In fact, I was starting to wonder if he even knew I'd been fucked by his youngest brother long before he had me? So it became a situation where all of them must have secretly wanted to fuck me, yet none of them had the courage to say to the others that they did - weird, to say the least as you might imagine.

So for me, there wasn't really a whole lot I could do to tease them besides sit on their laps and wiggle my butt against their hard cocks underneath. My outfit, even though I thought it made me look sexy and desirable, at the same time was rather inaccessible without going through a lot of trouble. It wasn't like it was low cut to where they could look down and see my bra-less boobs. The jeans were tight but not like a skirt where I could let it ride up and show off some bare upper thigh. Big deal if I wasn't wearing a bra if they couldn't hardly tell. If anything, it was a little frustrating for all of us!

4. Thoughts of Revenge

As the game went on, my dad asked me to go upstairs and get some more beers for the men. As I was about to enter the kitchen, I paused as it seemed there was some sort of argument going on in there. I sat back in the eating area where I could listen in without being seen and it soon became clear it wasn't an argument so much as a heated discussion. Apparently Aunt Shari and Julie were talking in the kitchen about how me and Kristen had been behaving like such sluts today.

Actually, they seemed most disgusted with Kristen but I wasn't off the hook by any means. It was like they somehow "understood" Kristen's actions given her dad leaving when she was little, not to mention having a mother with no morals (as supposedly "proven" by her moving in with my dad). Yet when it came to me, they blamed ME for being the slut and being too much for my mother to handle. According to them, now that my mom wasn't there to put on the breaks, I was being "contaminated" and "influenced" by living with Kristen, with the proof being I was getting "worse" than ever..

It was my Aunt Shari who seemed the most pissed off about my Aunt Linda living with my dad. She called my Aunt Linda every nasty name in the book - Jezebel, adulteress, you name it. Given how strict my mom and dad both were about adultery with me, I found her remarks rather silly, if not downright stupid, but she just went on and on about how horrible it was that a woman would sleep with her dead sister's husband so soon after she had died (so soon - a year after??).

My Aunt Julie seemed more concerned about the impact Kristen and I were having on her husband. Apparently she didn't really care about her sister-in-law's husband but she surely was pissed off about hers. All this lamenting was rather surreal as she had no idea her loving hubby had been giving it to my mom for years under her very nose. Heck, I'd only done him twice and she was pissed at ME! Rather ironic I should think.

Listening to them rant I felt my anger beginning to build up in me. To be honest, I hated my Uncle Jim - he was boorish and smelly and had no respect for women, not even his niece or daughter. He fucked me because he loved to fuck teenage girls and it was the same with his daughter Tammy. I hated seeing him do her because I knew it wasn't out of love and respect, as it was when my dad did me, but just an older man getting his rocks off fucking a girl a third his age. As for my Uncle Paul, as I said I'd only done him twice. The first time he sort of caught me off guard by spilling the beans about him and my mom. The second time was more out of spite, to prove to him he didn't control me like he probably thought he did after the first time.

Indeed, I didn't have any real intentions to do any more than flirt with the two of them. Remember what I said about teasing a guy until he was about ready to cum and then backing off? Well, that seemed an appropriate way of dealing with my two uncles. I loved teasing and flirting and making them THINK they had a shot at me when in reality there was no way I was going to fuck them any time soon - if ever again.

That is - until now.

There are two basic forms of revenge - one where you do something and they know about it. Then there is the type where you do something but they never find out about it. It may not be as satisfying as seeing the expression on their faces, but you still get the self-satisfaction of knowing what you've done and how they WOULD react if they ever found out. Indeed, the second form seems to be the motivation for many men who fuck me and even those who send me tributes. They hate their wives but would never do anything overtly against the, instead, they do something they know their wife would hate and feel betrayed if she ever found out, but don't let her know about it. Maybe a psychiatrist could explain it a little but more but it's definitely the motivation for many of the men I deal with.

So why couldn't I do the same? As much as I would love to do something with my uncles right in front of my aunts and see the looks on their faces as they saw how their husbands lusted for me so much that they committed adultery with me. I was rational enough to know that was NOT going to happen in this lifetime. Revenge is sweet but don't spit in the wind either. Instead, I could do something I knew would hurt them if they ever found out, but keep it to myself, at least for now. Maybe someday things would get to where I REALLY hated them and wanted to hurt them. Then it would always be available but for now, it would have to be more in my mind than in their faces.

Stepping in the kitchen as if I'd just arrived and was clueless as to their previous discussion, I went to the refrigerator, grabbed three beers, and left with saying a single word to them. The silence was mutual and I was well out of earshot before they struck up their hateful conversation again.

Bitches! As I went down the stairs my mind was racing. So they thought I was as slut and a bad influence on their husbands? Well, they had no idea just how right they were and I was going to prove it right here and now.

5. Uncle Paul Goes First

Handing out the beers, I stood there off to the side as they opened them and kept right on talking about the game. Only my dad seemed to notice I was a bit flushed and the firmness of my jaw as I stood there and fumed over what my aunts had been saying about me and my cousin and aunt upstairs – and what they were probably STILL discussing if I knew them.

"Something wrong Kelly?" he asked, looking just a little concerned now.

Not answering him right away, I just stood there with my arms folded across my chest, weight on one leg as I tapped my other foot slowly. I could hear the kids playing just above us and Rick was out of sight behind the TV cabinet lost in his computer porn. It was now or never.

"You first!" I suddenly blurted out, almost surprising myself as much as them.

I was pointing at my Uncle Paul, motioning for him to get up. He looked at my dad and then back at me, and then back at my dad, obviously mystified as to what I was talking about.

"C'mon... in the cedar closet... now!" I said in a low but demanding tone.

My dad had lined one of the small cellar rooms with cedar strips and we used it for long-term seasonal clothing storage. I'd always loved the strong smell of cedar when you walked into it and it also had the advantage of a lockable door.

"Alright, what's going on?" Uncle Paul said, not making a real effort to get up. He still seemed to think I was just playing some sort of game, perhaps flirting again or just teasing.

Walking over to him, I put one hand on each arm of his chair and leaned in until my face was just inches away from his. "I'm only going to say this once so listen carefully... If you want to fuck me, meet me in the cedar closet - NOW!"

Well, THAT got his attention. I had said it softly enough that Rick wouldn't have heard it across the other side of the basement but the other two brothers surely did - one of which was my dad. Both of them immediately grinned at each other and my dad shook his head as if to say, "here we go again". Well, not that I had ever done this before, but he knew me well enough to know when I made my mind up to do something, I was pretty hard to stop. When it came to sex, make that IMPOSSIBLE to stop!

I stuck my tongue out playfully and stood upright again, twirling on my heels, I headed for the closet without looking back or saying another word. Damn, I would have loved to have seen the looks they exchanged right then!

Standing alone in the dim closet, I almost thought for a moment he wasn't going to come. I'd picked Uncle Paul to be first because I knew the other two would do it in a heartbeat. Heck, I had no doubt that they would have done me right there in the family room. It was Uncle Paul who had never fucked me in front of the other two. In fact, my dad and Uncle Jim had even swapped daughters a few times so it wasn't like they had never seen the other fuck me. No, it was Uncle Paul I was most concerned about having the fortitude to go through with anything under the circumstances. With his wife and family upstairs, would he still have all the bravado he tried to show off earlier in the summer?

In a word, the answer was "yes". The door opened and silhouetted in the light was my Uncle Paul. Even in the dim light I could see his face, a mixture of lust and worry all twisted up into one ever-changing expression.

"Are you ready to fuck me Uncle Paul?"

He hesitated for a moment and in all honesty I couldn't fault him for it. One minute the guy was drinking a beer watching a football game and the next he was in a small dark closet with his niece, offering herself to him while his wife, daughters and grandchildren were just a little ways away. What would win out - his lust or his common sense. Well, since when did any man listen to his head instead of his penis?

He turned and grabbed the door handle and for just a brief moment I thought I had totally misread him and he was going to leave. Then I heard a click and realized he had just licked the door instead. Turning to me, his face assumed a look that should have been in the dictionary next to "lust".

"Well, are you all talk or are you really putting out?"

The ball was back in my court so naturally I did what any self-respecting slut would do in this situation - I "assumed the position". Squatting down with my butt resting on my heels, I waited for him to advance and watched as he undid his belt and pants.

"Damn, you really ARE a fucking little slut, aren't you?" he said rhetorically, "You just can't wait to get your mouth around your Uncle Paul's dick, can you?"

He was technically right, although not for the reasons his ego was telling him. If it hadn't been for his wife upstairs, all he would have gotten form me today was the scent of my wet pussy and the smell of my perfume as I ground my butt into his lap. Yeah, I wanted to suck his dick but what I really wanted was to suck my Aunt Julie's husband's cock. Semantics? Maybe but it meant something to me to make the distinction.

With his pants unzipped I could reach in and pull his already hardened cock out from his jockey underwear, pushing the elastic waist band down and out of the way. Oh yeah, he was hard alright. I was surprised he wasn't already cumming! Without any further fanfare I took him in my mouth, letting him slide in between my lips as far as I could take him on the first shot. As I wet his shaft with my mouth, I was able to take more and more of him in until I had my nose up against the base of his dick, buried deeply in his thick pubic hair.

"God damn it... take it all you little bitch," he grunted as I felt him shudder as his dick pushed into my throat.

As I sucked him I pulled his pants and underwear down to his ankles. He still has his shoes on so that's as far as they went but it made it easier to suck his dick without all of that in the way. He held up his shirt with one hand so it didn't hit me in the face and used the other to push me down onto his dick each time I took him into my mouth. He was loving it but I knew I didn't have a lot of time and the last thing I wanted was for him to cum in my mouth. It's not that I didn't want his cum in my mouth, but I had another destination in mind for it!

Standing up, I pulled my sweater top up and over my head, tossing it on the clothes hanging in the closet. I quickly undid my jeans and soon I was standing there naked in front of him with just my anklets on to protect my feet against the cold concrete floor of the basement. Out where the TV was it was carpeted but here in the closet it was just the bare painted concrete and it felt as cold as ice.

"Ready to fuck me Uncle Paul?" I whispered in a hoarse voice.

He didn't say a word but spun me around and pushed me forward so my hands were on my knees. I spread my legs apart for him and he didn't waste any time getting up and behind me. His hard dick poked me in the butt before he grabbed it and steering it in between my legs, trying to find the entry to my pussy. It shouldn't have been hard as I was freshly shaven but he was obvious caught up in his desires and patience was NOT a virtue for him at this moment.

"C'mon... fuck me Uncle Paul!" I whined impatiently as he fooled around like some silly high school boy in the back seat trying to screw his girlfriend.

Just then his dick found the mark and I couldn't help but gasp as he literally rammed it into me. Sure I was letting him fuck me just to get back at his wife but still, he WAS a man and he DID have his hard dick in my pussy so who says I couldn't enjoy myself in the process?

"That's it... fuck me Uncle Paul."

"Oh yeah, you want this, don't you... you need it.. just like the little slut you are," he whispered harshly in my ear from behind me as he stroked himself in and out of me.

"Yes... oh god yes!" I moaned softly, feeding his ego in hopes it would spur his orgasm, "I need you to fuck me Uncle Paul... I need you to cum in me."

"Fuck, here it cums... take it all you little whore."

I felt his body slam into my ass and with each blow he delivered a spurt of cum deep inside of me. As he came in me, emptying his sperm into my wet pussy, my thoughts were of his wife upstairs and how I wished she could see us now. If she thought she had something to bitch about just because I sat in his lap, imagine what she would be complaining about NOW? Technically, since I was his niece it was incest and not adultery but I doubt she would have recognized the difference - or cared of she had.

When he was done he pulled out of me and I turned to face him, a wicked grin on my face.

"Did you like that Uncle Paul?"

"You ARE such a tease, aren't you?" he sighed heavily, pulling his pants back up and tucking in his shirt. "God, what I'd give to have a daughter like you."

I thought of his two daughters and wondered if he had any idea how they'd behaved the nights before their respective weddings. Maybe they weren't so innocent as daddy thought they were? Still, it was a nice compliment and I took it as such.

"So now what?"

He looked at me as if I had something more for him. Well, sorry to disappoint you Uncle Paul but...

"You got what you wanted... didn't you?" I asked suggestively.

He just shook his head and unlocked the door. In the meantime I quickly donned my sweater top again, sans the jeans. It was well over my ass, almost like a short dress - a VERY short dress. He opened the door and I followed him out. My dad and Uncle Jim looked at him and then at me, their faces unable to conceal the questions they both undoubtedly had.

6. Uncle Jim Gets His Turn

"Well?" Uncle Jim finally blurted out. Uncle Paul resumed his seat and I cut in before he could say anything.

"Don't worry about what he got... the question is, what will YOU get Uncle Jim?"

With that I stood in front of him, turned around, bent over and briefly pulled up the sweater top to flash my bare ass and pussy. Just as quickly I pulled it back up and turned around to stand in front of him again.

"See anything you want Uncle Jim?"

His face said it all. Without a word I turned and once again headed to the closet, but this time I heard him get up and follow me in close behind. He closed the door but I noticed he didn't lock it. Maybe doing it with it unlocked added a little excitement for him? Whatever it was, I really didn't care as I wasn't the one who should be worried about getting caught. My Aunt Julie might have been furious with Uncle Paul for fucking me, but I wouldn't be surprised if my Aunt Shari castrated Uncle Jim if she ever had a hint he as fucking me.

"So I get sloppy seconds, eh?"

If it hadn't been for the words of his wife still fresh in my mind, I would have put on my jeans and walked out then and there. The jerk. He should be thrilled to even have the chance to fuck a 24 year-old pussy, even if it WAS dripping cum from his brother just fucking me. Still, the spiteful words of my aunt rung in my ears so I swallowed my pride and gave him what he wanted - me.

Ignoring his sarcasm, I once again pulled off the sweater top and for the second time in just ten minutes, I was standing nude in the closet in front of an uncle. This time, however, we got straight down to business. As much as I wanted to spite my Aunt Shari, I really despised Uncle Jim, especially for the way he treated his youngest daughter. A father should fuck his daughters out of love and respect, not treat them like some cheap whore, forcing her to do his bidding whenever and however he demanded. In fact, for a while I had refused to let him fuck me at all but then he threatened to cut off my dad from Tammy so for my dad's sake I gave only what I had to in order to mollify Uncle Jim.

Again I squatted down but this time it wasn't to suck his dick. I pulled some clothes down and used them under my knees to protect me from the cold concrete floor and then got on all fours, leaning down so my butt was poking rather obscenely up in the air at him. Well, I am sure his wife would have thought it obscene at least. For Uncle Jim, it was more like an invitation - an invitation to fuck me.

As he practically tore off his clothes, I waited there on my hands and knees, thinking about how I wished Aunt Shari was watching. If only she could see the look of lust and anticipation in her husband's eyes now, undoubtedly a look she'd never seen in them when he fucked her cold pussy. Then, just as I felt him moving in behind me, I realized I had just made a serious mistake...

In a tight spot like a closet, your options for sex are father limited. Well, not technically, but in reality they were limited. I'd let Uncle Paul fuck me standing up from behind so I just figured I'd do it doggie style with Uncle Jim given the cramped quarters. Anything with me facing him would have required more acrobatics and effort than I was prepared for. There was one serious risk in doggie style, at least there was when Uncle Jim was fucking me. As much as it present my pussy nicely, it gave him even easier access to my ass - MUCH too easy.

If there was one thing I should have remembered about Uncle Jim, it was his love for anal sex. I'd refused him for the most part in the past but there had been a couple times I had to let him do it to keep my dad in business with Tammy. You would think such a thing would be quick to come to mind when I faced him but I guess in all the hurry and my thoughts about his wife I just forgot - and now I learned I was to pay the price for my forgetfulness.

"Damn, you have the sweetest ass," he murmured as I felt his dick press in against me.

At first it hit my butt, just as Uncle Paul's had done earlier. However, whereas Uncle Paul had shifted position down to the area of my pussy, Uncle Jim zeroed in on my asshole - my TIGHT asshole.

Just one question... Why do men like to stick their dicks up a girl's asshole? I can understand when it comes to gays, it's like lesbians with fake dicks strapped to themselves. But when a guys has a perfectly good pussy just dying for him to penetrate, why go for the asshole? Maybe it's just me, but in my opinion my asshole is a one-way door - out only. For god's sake I shit through my asshole! If there's one thing that turns me off as much as anything less in the world, it's anything to do with potty sex. It just grosses me out totally and I don't even like to discuss it.

With that in mind, Uncle Jim still was determined to fuck me in the ass it seemed. Then he made it clear WHY...

"Damn if I'm taking sloppy seconds from my brother ever again,: he grunted as he spit on his dick and then I felt him spit on my asshole, "Bad enough I always got your mother last, I'm not taking it this time."

It was almost enough to make me forget the sharp pain I felt as he pushed his dick into my asshole. I wanted to force him away but I knew better. Uncle Jim could be quite "persuasive" when he as horny so the best way to keep him away from your ass was not to let him get near it in the first place. I'd blown it and now I was paying the price.

Still, what the hell did he just say? What was this about him and my mom? If he was getting "seconds", who was "first"? My first thought was, of course, my dad, but then I had to wonder if maybe this was something more about her relationship with her brother-in-laws that I had never known about. Heck, after all these years I had never known Uncle Paul was doing her so would it be such a shock to find out he and Uncle Jim had BOTH been doing her... and at the same time?

My thoughts about my mom were pushed out of the way as I almost cried out in pain as his dick pushed all the way in my ass. God, why would anyone want this? I wasn't feeling anything sexy and it certainly wasn't getting me off. All I could think about was hopes that he would cum fast and get it over with.

According to all the porn movies and stories, after a while this was suppose to feel good and soon I would be writhing with pleasure and begging him to fuck me ass deeper. Yeah right. Well, gather around children and let me fill you in on a secret... Anal sex hurts and I don't give a damn how long he fucked me, it didn't get any better. The only time it even felt remotely good was when he finally came (thank god for that). Perhaps the sperm in my ass lubricated him better and that's what helped but I had to admit that for a brief moment it actually felt good. Then he pulled his dick out of my ass in one swift motion and for a second I thought I had taken a shit and half expected to turn around and see poop on his dick. Thank goodness it was just the feeling of his dick sliding out of me that felt like I was taking a dump!

He got up quickly and rearranged himself as I struggled to get to my feet. A decent man would have helped me up but he had gotten what he wanted from me - and now couldn't care less about me. I felt a little wobbly on my feet and my ass felt weird. I wasn't sure if it was sore from him violating me or if it just felt good to have him out, the sort of pleasant sensation you get after a good dump. Whatever it was, I was glad it was over!

"Yep, like I said, you've got one sweet ass Kelly," he said smugly, "Not quite as tight as my own daughter's but still nothing to be ashamed of."

This time I put my jeans on as well under my sweater top. Uncle Jim had already resumed his place in front of the TV by the time I got out and he grinned from ear to ear as I walked slowly back into the family room area.

"Hmmm, a little bowlegged baby?" he teased me, looking at his brothers as if he wanted them both to know what he'd done to me. Yeah, like he probably hadn't already the moment he came back out.

I looked at my dad, expecting him to stand up for me but he just shrugged his shoulders as if to say what could he do, it was my fault after all any of this had come about. At 24 I was old enough to take care of myself so I guess it was a little unfair of me to expect my daddy to come riding in on a white horse to save the honor of his daughter. Still... it would have been nice. Of course, it would have helped if I had any honor to save!

I walked slowly up the stairs, grimacing at the feel of my sore ass. Back upstairs though, the sight of my two aunts made any pain instantly disappear. Screw them. They could say all they wanted about me and my family but it was me that had their husbands sperm in my pussy and ass right now. Feeling them cum in me and now seeing the smug faces on my aunt's faces made it all worthwhile!

7. Alone at Last With My Dad

After the game was over everyone soon left. My Aunt Linda and Kristen were still out doing their home-selling stuff, leaving just me and my dad alone. He was in his favorite chair while I was stretched out on the couch, just like old times. Memories came rushing back of all the times I'd spent with him - and all the things we'd done. It was a special place for me, with special memories. My dad had kept my mom's chair in the same place and the emptiness of it was the only sad thing for me. It was over a year now since she was taken from us but it still hurt at times like this. Still, I knew she was in heaven and I also knew she would want me to take care of my dad in her absence. Just as she would watch me from her chair as I pleased my father, I was sure she would be watching now as well. Hmmm, do you still get to masturbate when you're in Heaven? I hope so!

"So what was the story today anyway?" my dad finally spoke up, breaking the long silence, "It all seemed rather contrived... what was your point in fucking them? You could've just teased them and made their day, especially with everyone else here. Damn Kelly, do you have ANY idea what would've happened if one of your aunts had decided to come down here while you were having your little bit of fun?"

At first I thought he was teasing me but the look on his face quickly sobered me up. No... he was dead serious. I tried to explain to him what went on with my aunts earlier but he wasn't buying it.

"Give me a break Kelly, they've both always talked about you that way and you know damn well your mother and I just ignore them. They wouldn't be happy unless I had you wear sweat pants and a baggy sweatshirt so why worry about them? What was the big deal today? No matter why, it was STILL a pretty stupid thing to do."

I was a little taken aback. Usually my dad was the first one to encourage me to take risks or to be daring. Indeed, some of the things I'd done for him, especially for his work, had been quite risky. Posing as a whore for his clients so they wouldn't know he was fucking his daughter? Fucking the staff as a "reward"? What was so bad about what I did today?

He must have seen the downhearted look in my face so he came over to the couch to put his arm around me and hug me. "Hey baby, I didn't mean to upset you but sometimes you seem to forget what would happen if other people found out what we do. There's nothing wrong with it and I love you so much but not everyone would be so understanding... especially your aunts."

"I'm so sorry daddy... I just hated them for saying those things."

"Well, if nothing else, it WAS pretty hot," he said, hugging me a bit tighter, "I think your uncles were taken by surprise today, THAT was for sure."

I couldn't help but laugh a little at that. Oh yeah, a "little" surprised was the understatement of the year.

"You know, I was pretty proud of you actually," he said more deeply, "not many girls could have pulled off what you did today - at least not with so much class."

"Really daddy?... you were proud of me?"

He hugged me even tighter and I felt a warm glow in me. My dad was proud of me! Of all the things he could have said, that was the one thing that made me feel best.

"Of course I was baby. Seeing them look at you that way, knowing how badly they wanted you and how jealous I know they are of me... well how could I NOT be proud?"

"But Uncle Jim has Tammy."

"True but she's got nothing on you. You're the one they wanted today."

"I love you daddy."

With that we kissed and I knew he was the one that wanted me now. As we both undressed, I couldn't help but think about how although they were brothers, it was so different having sex with each of them. Being my uncles, it wasn't like they were just any ol' married guy cheating on his wife - even though neither of my aunts had a clue as to what their husbands did with me. Growing up with them all my life, they were family, not just friends or like the guys I dated. Still, my Uncle Jim was just getting more gross all the time while my Uncle Paul was becoming more interesting. Yet as I stripped for my dad, neither of them made me feel the way my dad did.

There's just something special about being with your father that is like nothing else in the world. Sure I've had guys with bigger and fatter dicks, guys with better looks and harder bodies, guys with more "skills" and others who were more adventuresome. All of that made for good sex but with my dad there is something special that nobody else can give me - my father's love. Like just now when he told me he was proud of me, it made me feel special to know he felt that way about me.

As his daughter it was my duty to satisfy his needs but it never felt like it was something I was forced to do but rather something I WANTED to do. I'm sure he using his cock like a dildo only in this case, it was the real thing. That wasn't my purpose now though. It was HIS needs that needed to be satisfied, HIS lust that had to be fulfilled. Not that it wasn't something I enjoyed, but he came first, just as a father should.

Once I had my father's dick head in me, I let go of his cock and started to rub my clit with my fingers. He quickly took over and I felt him pushing himself into me. It was my third dick of the day, finishing the trio of brothers but yet it was so much better than the others had been. I could hear my dad grunting as he pushed himself into me, joining our bodies, becoming one with me. This was so much more than "just sex", I felt as if I was giving myself totally to him, submitting myself in the most intimate and pure way possible. As a daughter SHOULD!

"God I love being in you like this," he whispered hoarsely as he held himself still in me, his dick now totally consumed by my pussy as the base of his shaft met my crotch.

Indeed, this was one of my favorite ways for him to fuck me. The BEST was when he was on top of me, like I was totally under his dominion as he took me for his own desires.

Spooning was probably my second as it was intimate yet at the same time a little more distant. I couldn't see him yet I could feel his dick in me and his hands roaming all over me. In a way it was like he was using me, fucking me to satisfy his growing lust as he began to pump himself in and out of me. I don't mean "using" in a bad way - quite the opposite in fact. I loved it that as his only daughter he felt comfortable enough to seek me out when his needs grew to where only I could satisfy them properly. As much as I knew he loved my mother and having sex with her, I always knew there were certain "needs" every man has that only a younger girl could quench, and all the better when that girl was his daughter.

As my dad slowly stroked himself in and out of my pussy, I could feel myself responding to the incredible sensations it produced in me along with those I was making with my fingers on my clit. I loved the way he tugged on my nipples, pulling on them with his fingers and then letting them snap back after which he would rub my boobs. I'd been fucked twice already but hadn't come near to an orgasm yet now with my dad barely moving inside of me it was already time for me to cum.

"Oh god daddy, don't move!" I pleaded as my pussy clamped down on his dick like I was having cramps.

I felt my orgasm wash over me as I could think of nothing but the fullness of his dick within me. God it felt so damn good! Yet again I knew this was perfect and so right.

"Fuck me daddy... fuck me faster," I directed him as the initial tidal wave had gone through me.

Now I wanted him to fuck me - REALLY fuck me. I was still cumming and all I wanted was his dick moving in me, rubbing me just the right way as it slid in and out of my gushing pussy.

He responded instantly. By now he knew how I wanted it when I came like this so as soon as he felt my pussy let loose even the slightest he was pumping away furiously. Watching his two brothers go off to the closet, knowing what they were doing to me once they closed the door, seeing me exit with their cum in me... all of it must have been driving him crazy - not to mention horny as hell!

"Oh daddyyyyyyyy," I moaned as I felt him start to cum in me.

My father pushed his incestuous erection even deeper into me and then gave short, hard thrusts as he delivered each load of cum. Now it really was perfect... it really was just right. My own father was giving his most special love to me. My dad was showing me in a way no words could say that he loved me as his daughter. He held himself in me when he'd finished, pulling me tightly against him as if he was claiming me as his.

Normally it is the guy who falls asleep at this point, spent from his exertions but in this case I was the one who was exhausted. It had been a crazy day and now it was like I'd just been given the best gift of all - my dad's cum, and all I could do was enjoy the sensation of him in me. I must have fallen asleep with him still in me as I don't remember him pulling out.

*******************

Later I woke up and found myself laying naked and alone under the blanket. As I gathered my bearings I realized that my Aunt Linda must have returned home as I saw my dad talking to her out of the corner of my eye. From the way she was grinning and looking at me, it was obvious he was filling her in on all the details. I was so tired still that I just laid my head down and fell asleep again.

It was Thanksgiving and yes, I had a LOT to be thankful for!

(Dec 16) Chapter 203: Church Dad

Story codes: MF adultery F-solo oral exhib
Me (24)
Dan (42)

I've said it before and I'll say it again, the best place to meet men is at church, especially if you're looking for a married one. Men are men and they all have the same inner desires. The ones at the bars and clubs are acting out on those desires and either their wives are OK with it or they're simply bad husbands - not the type of guys I want to get involved with. It's the ones at church, those who lead lives that are socially "acceptable" while hiding their marital issues and inner lusts, that are ripe for the picking. Sometimes all they need is a little encouragement...

1. Sex and Married Men

Anyone who knows me at all knows that I love having sex with married men, particularly if they've not cheated on their wives before. While you can read my "Kelly's Married Guy FAQ" for more details about my little "hobby", in summary nothing tells me I'm sexier or more desirable than to have a man want me so badly that he'll break his marital vows, betray his wife's love and trust, and break one of the Ten Commandments just to experience sex ONCE with me. Really, how could all that NOT make a girl feel good about herself?

Just to be clear, I have absolutely NO desire to harm anyone's marriage which is one reason why I never meet twice with a married man. I'm just not interested in being "the other woman" in some sleazy affair. It's being the woman he can't resist, the girl he lusts for more than anyone ever before, becoming the fantasy he never thought would come true, that makes me so unbelievably horny and satisfied when we do it, not a relationship.

Although I am sure there are those who would claim I am contributing to the failure of a marriage, I actually believe I've SAVED a number of marriages by allowing an unhappy husband to live out one of his greatest fantasy, thereby getting it out of his system so he can go home to his wife and kids and be a better husband and father.

One thing that needs to be made clear - when I talk about having "sex" I mean something very specific. "Sex" is the penetration of a vagina by a penis. Period. Sex is fundamentally a reproductive act, even if most of the time that's not the intended purpose. Thus by definition, "oral sex" is NOT sex (yes, President Clinton was technically correct, although not politically). Because it's NOT sex, a husband who receives a blowjob from another woman is not technically cheating on his wife. This is based on my own perspective using the principles by which I lead my life. No doubt his wife and family, not to mention some friends and church leaders, may have different opinions!

A husband is cheating on his wife (more accurately he is committing adultery against his wife) when he has sex with a woman not in his family (let's avoid the issues of bi and gay marriage please). It make NO difference if his wife has given permission for him to have sex with other women. Adultery is adultery, even if the wife is "OK" with it. It is a sin and a violation of the Ten Commandments and no one can give you "permission" to violate them. Thus it's up to the guy as to whether committing adultery means anything to him. It's HIM that is committing adultery after all, not me.

One last thing, people have called me hypocritical for saying on the one hand that I abhor adultery and would neuter my future husband someday if he ever did it to me, yet on the other hand say I love it when another man commits adultery with me. Personally, I will be faithful to my husband and I will NEVER commit adultery. When a man cheats on his wife with me, HE is the one who is married so HE is the one committing adultery. If I was married as well, then it would be an entirely different story indeed. I don't feel guilty in the slightest for what I do - why should? I do it simply for my own self-satisfaction and the ego-boost it gives me. HE is the one who has to reconcile his actions with his marital vows and spiritual beliefs.

By the way, I've found that I'm not the only one who feels this way. Many of the men I've met on-line have told me that they find it much hotter to fuck a married woman than a single one. Personally, I think most people, whether they engage in it or just fantasize about it, find something about the whole "married partner" scenario to be an incredible turn-on.

man's heart that his wife can never fill again or remove. When I look at their wives afterwards I can't help but wonder if they've any idea that when their husband makes love to them now that at some point he's thinking about how it was to fuck ME. Maybe he even wishes in a small way that it was MY pussy his dick was in instead of hers. Of course they don't know any of this but it's still fun to think about!

2. Renewed Determination

Actually it had been quite a while since I'd been with a married man, long enough that even my dad would tease me about it now and then. The most recent one had been the school administrator where I teach but I really don't like to count him because of the circumstances under which things took place (he was blackmailing me).

Indeed, it wasn't until my dad casually asked one day after we'd had sex if I was "losing my touch" that I realized it had been over six months since I'd done a married man! It didn't seem possible at first but after I thought about it, yes, confirmed it was true. Apparently all the issues I've been having with changing jobs, dealing with blackmail, and simply fulfilling my responsibilities as a daughter, niece and now a girlfriend had been overwhelming me.

After I left my dad's house that day, I drove in the my car back home and made a vow to myself. I was going to get a married guy to fuck me in the next week and that was that!

To be fair, if my goal had been simply to get laid by someone I'd never met before in one week, that would have been silly. I've always maintained that ANY girl, no matter her age or looks, can get a man to fuck her in the next 30 minutes at any point in time if she REALLY wants to. Of course that means she can't be very selective, but the point is valid.

It's the basic difference between men and women really. Women can have sex whenever they want it, all they have to do is make themselves available. Men, on the other hand, are at the mercy of women. Unless they rape someone (which I would NEVER condone under ANY circumstances) they have to find a woman who is willing to let them fuck her. Judging from the number of horny guys who read my site, it's a whole lot harder for the guys than the gals!

When I look for a married guy, I don't want someone who serial cheats to where he may as well not be married. Similarly, I don't want "swingers" where the wife is in on it. The whole point for me is that the wife does NOT know about her husband cheating on her. It's him having to bear that secret, to perhaps feel guilty about it for the rest of his life, for him to secretly remember me whenever he has sex with his wife... THAT is what turns me on.

The guy I want is your typical husband, a wife with three kids and a dog living in a simple home with a job he hates. The guy who had such dreams as a teenager, whose life never turned out the way he had hoped. The man who married the girl he dated in high school before he realized how many other options he would someday have but now was stuck with her, realizing now that he'd married the wrong woman but could never do anything about it because he was licked into the marriage by finances and kids. The man who looks at other woman and wishes he had sex with more of them when he could, perhaps his wife even being the only one he'd ever done, perhaps he lusts for his daughter who reminds him of the opportunities he had as a teen that he never took advantage of.

The married man I want knows that his fantasies are just that – fantasies, and he would never act on them, especially with regards to his daughter, but he still secretly masturbates to porn as he relives those fantasies in the middle of the night while his wife is asleep. All he wants is that ONE chance to fuck the girl of his dreams, that ONE opportunity to have his dick sucked like his wife never would do for him. He doesn't want to leave his wife, at least not to where he ever would, but he just wishes he could live out his fantasy just ONE time before he gets too old to get it up anymore!

Yep, THAT'S the husband I wanted to fuck me and I had just one week to find him.

By the time I got back home, I could hardly wait to get up to my room and strip off my clothes. God I was so horny again! Besides, my jeans looked like I'd peed in them with my dad's cum leaking from me all the way home. I probably should have showered and cleaned myself up before I left but I'd figured it would be OK for the short drive home. Guess dear old dad must not have been fucking my Aunt Linda enough lately as he'd left quite a load in me!

Once undressed, I stood next to my bed and hesitated. My bed looked awful tempting, practically calling out for me to hop on board and do what came natural. Then again, I felt sweaty and my pussy was still wet from sex so a shower would be awful nice. The shower had another thing going for it – a wonderful new shower massager with more settings than I knew what to do with. What the heck, why not kill two birds with one stone as they say and so I headed for the shower. Kristen wasn't home, where she was I had no idea, so I had the place all to myself.

It was an older home with a tiny bathroom – were people in the old days so much smaller or what? The shower and tub were combined with the sink opposite and the toilet at the end next to the window – rather odd when you think about it but I guess it had something to do with the way the plumbing worked or whatever my dad had tried (without much success) to explain to me one time. When I sat on it there as barely enough room for my knees so I don't know how taller men could ever have used it.

The tub was ancient porcelain, worn down in some places with a rubber stopper on a chain. It had separate controls for the hot and cold water which I liked much better than those complicated single handle versions that I ALWAYS turn the wrong way and either practically scald myself or face the threat of hypothermia. The shower head was lower than most – another sign of ancient short people? You pulled down on this little handle in the faucet to turn on the shower which ALWAYS started with a slug of cold water no matter how hard you tried to avoid it. There was a shower curtain instead of doors which I hated but my aunt had picked out one with a pretty yellow floral design so it wasn't too terrible to look at.

I pulled the curtain across and reached in to run the water before stepping in and turning on the shower. Yep, there was that blast of cold water and then the soothing feel of hot after that, making my skin tingle as I felt it beating against my bare skin. It felt good to rinse myself off – something I should've done at my dad's house I guess but better late than never. I rubbed myself between my legs with some soap, scrubbing off the cum that was still clinging to me.

As I scrubbed my pussy I remembered my promise to myself that I would find myself a new married guy within a week. Hmmmmmm, imagine if I'd been babysitting in this house and now that the kids were in bed I decided to take a shower and while I was doing so, the dad came home from work early and heard the shower running. (OK, so the plot's a stretch but hey, I can fantasize about it any way I want!). In my mind I pictured him peeking in at the edge of the shower, seeing me facing away towards the shower head as I allowed the water to strike me in front and run down between my boobs to my crotch.

Is there anything as sexy as being watched while you masturbate? Well, maybe there are a few things but you get the idea. It's even better if the person watching me doesn't realize that I know they are watching me. I love to be all naughty and let them think it's just me I'm doing it for, not realizing that I'm getting off as much by putting on a show for them as I am from the actual masturbating.

So it was with my babysitting in the shower fantasy, imagining the father coming home and peeking in on me as I did myself in the shower. I could picture his cock getting hard and uncomfortable as it grew until finally he couldn't hold back and he pulled it out through his unzipped pants so he could stroke himself as he watched me. Mmmmmmm, I loved to see a man stroking his cock when he's all hard because of ME. No matter what else he says or does, a man's dick never lies.

Imagine his surprise when I turn around and catch him jerking off as he peeks at me in the shower. He turns to run away but I call out to him and beg him to continue. Then I played with myself again, imagining his lust overcoming his shyness as he once again stroked his own dick while I played with myself right in front of him.

When my imaginary masturbating father started to cum, so did I - and for real as well. God I loved to cum when I masturbated, often several times if I had the time and energy. It felt great, was easy to do, didn't require any special equipment, and made me feel better than at any other time of the day.

As if I hadn't been determined before, I was all the more by the time my so-called shower was over. Damn, I HAD to find the right guy- and soon.

3. Finding the Right Man

Some people seem to think all a girl has to do is wear something a little skimpy, flirt with a guy for a while, and before you can even spell adultery he'll be fucking her. Sure, that works in fantasy stories but in real life it's by far the exception more than the rule. It's not that such a thing NEVER happens; I'm just saying it's not at all typical. Such stories are sort of like how men's dicks in porn movies don't reflect on the typical guy's dick in real life. It's also just like how real women don't just walk in the locker room after the game and start fucking the whole football team... and so on.

In real life, while finding any ol' guy to fuck isn't all that hard, finding the RIGHT married man can be downright frustrating at times. Oh sure, most of them try to sneak a peek at me when their wives aren't looking (or at least they THINK she isn't looking). Heck, some of them don't seem to mind if she IS. For the most part guys just window shop and most of them aren't REALL ready to go in the store, let alone buy anything.

While I don't mean to sound cynical, deep down I truly believe that EVERY married man seriously thinks about cheating on his wife at some time or another in his marriage. However, in all fairness to the married man demographic, I also believe that the majority of them will never go beyond that "wishful" stage no matter what the reason or opportunity. That isn't to say they won't be jerking off in private back home thinking about what MIGHT have happened if they HAD done something. It's just that for one reason or another, they simply don't cross the line Maybe they're afraid they will be turned down and embarrassed, perhaps even exposed. Of course, maybe some are just happy to be married to their wife, although I think THOSE are a VERY small minority.

Given that the divorce rate in the USA is well over 50%, that tells me that the majority of men DO cross the line sooner or later. Often I think they just needed the right girl at the right time and place to make the first move and their resistance finally crumbles.

Face it, men are driven by their penis so it's not really that unexpected. What DOES surprise me is that most men are able to STAY married for any length of time. All I have to do is look at my own father to see one of those few exceptions, but then he also has had some things going for him that most men don't. The advantages of incest are for another discussion but it is one reason I believe incest can be good in terms of preserving a marriage.

It's a fine line between a husband who WANTS to cheat but never will, versus the one who wants to cheat but doesn't for whatever reason - fear, shyness, conscience, etc. So what is the "profile" of the typical married guy I'm looking for?

He's in the thirty to forty-five age bracket, old enough to HOPEFULLY be mature but still able to get it up reliably. He's climbing the career ladder, meaning work conflicts with his home life, creating tension with his wife and isolating him from his family. He's rarely next to his wife at social functions and when he is, they don't talk much and you can almost feel the tension crackling between them as they don their phony smiles and try to act like the perfect middle-class couple.

He's been married for ten to twenty years. Long enough for the glow to have faded but not so long that he's locked in for life. Look at the guy who's been married for more than 25 years. His kids are grown up and moved out, his career has peaked, line. Well, people may think that but from what I can see, the only difference is that the married men are more careful in where and when they look at the girls.

Because I work primarily with the high-school youth group, Dan and I hadn't had much occasion to cross paths as he had been with the juniors until this year when Dresden became a Freshman in high school and moved up into the senior group. He immediately caught my attention as he was a pretty good looking guy but the gold ring on his finger blazed like a neon sign. It was both a warning AND an invitation - the key question was which one was the overriding message?

It didn't take long for me to notice that Dan liked to peek at the teenage girls. Unlike some guys who can't seem to mask their attention, Dan was actually quite accomplished at it. In fact, if hadn't been that I was looking for it I might have never noticed. Silently I was checking off the boxes in my head - age, looks, etc. and I quickly established that he might be an excellent prospect for some more "fun" down the road.

The key in reeling in another woman's husband is that HE has to be the one to initiate things. You never want to be in the position later on where he can claim that he was pursued or stalked or in any way coerced into doing something he really didn't want to do. Even though such claims were ludicrous and never believed by anyone from what I could tell, it was best not to get into such a situation in the first place.

If course, to get a guy to cross the line from looking and flirting to dong anything more, he had to have the confidence to MAKE that first move. That is where the fine art of flirting comes in. Every girl learns it to some extent early on, even if she doesn't realize it. That dropping of the eyes, the tongue on the lips, the little head bob and throwing back of your hair... all things that seem to come natural to a girl when she's trying to get a guy to do something for her. Getting a door opened, paying for a date, and such is easy. Taking it the next level is where girls like me come in...

Funny, but while a short skirt and a low-cut blouse may grab the attention of a guy, it's not what ultimately makes him ready to cross the line and ask to have sex with you, especially when he's married. Face it, sexy girls are everywhere - TV, the Internet, the local club, schools, you name it. While they will grab his attention and lead to who knows what fantasies the next time he masturbates, if anything I've found that being TOO sexual or TOO hot can actually drive a married guy away. He's been trapped in his marriage for quite a few years by now and seen a of pretty girls but never cheated so THAT should tell you something. Heck, even single guys can be frightened off by a girl who looks "too good", thinking such a girl would never be interested in someone like him.

So while it never hurts to ACT flirty and to dress a little provocatively, that's not how to get your man. No, the most sure-fire way to get a married guy to want to be with you is to do what his wife probably stopped doing many years before - listen to him. Yes, that's right - LISTEN. It's amazing what a guy will tell you if he thinks you care about what he's saying. The more he talks about himself, the more personal it tends to get until sooner or later the conversation turns to his personal issues and marriage.

Granted, this approach takes time whereas I COULD just go to a bar in a short skirt with no panties and the only thing I have to listen to is," do you want to go to my place?" or some other typical line of crap. Trust me, if you want to make a married man desire you, nothing in the world works better than crossing your legs, shutting your mouth and opening your ears.

So it was with Dan. Over the past couple of months as we would meet on Wednesday nights and then again sometimes on Sundays at the service, I always tried to ask him how he was doing and then just clam up and listen. Now and then you need to add in a head nod or a few encouraging words just to prove you're actually listening to him, but otherwise I just let him spill out whatever he wants.

At first he asked a lot about me but I did my best to deflect what I could and minimize the answers to the rest. In reality, while I'm sure he wanted to know more about me, it was what was under my clothes that he REALLY wanted to know, not what was in my head. Every time I would try to turn the question around to him and his family, working them more and more into his days back when he was dating his wife and early marriage years. The idea was to get him thinking about those days and how good they were and how much better they would be if somehow he could just relive them again.

One thing I studiously avoided bringing up was his daughter - or any of the other teenage girls for that matter, even when I noticed his eyes straying to catch a glimpse of a girl wearing short shorts as she was leaning over to pick something up. Some of the younger girls would still be braless and I noticed he had a special interest in those. I wanted Dan to get the impression that I had no idea what he was doing. If he DID, then he might get embarrassed that I had "caught" him and retreat back inside again for a while.

As for me, being it WAS church and I WAS responsible for the teenage girls I had to be a little concerned over what I wore when working with the youth group else I would incur the wrath of some of the more conservative mothers - not to mention the wives of the leaders. While I was expected to "set an example" but I wasn't going TOO far in that direction. Still, jeans and a sweater or blouse were my usual garb on Wednesday nights although I often was a little less conservative on Sunday mornings at the service sin e I was usually with my dad at those times.

As Dan got to know me better, he would often stand to the side with me and start talking about things. If I thought I could get away with it, I might loosen up another button on my blouse just during that time, something he seemed to appreciate! Usually I wouldn't be wearing a bra, especially with the heavier winter clothes, so I know he could peek down my chest while he pretended to be checking something else out in that direction. It was a little risk and there were a few times I had to turn away quickly before someone else saw me, but it was sort of fun for both of us I think.

It took over two month before Dan made the progression from describing "the good old days" back when he was in high school and in his own youth group to where he would begin to hint about how he missed those days and how there was so much he hadn't done that now he wished he had. It was the opening I'd been waiting for, the one I was starting to think would never come. He seemed to be in a rather melancholy mood that night. Perhaps problems at home or work? It wouldn't surprise me if it was both.

"I bet you were quite the stud back in high school, weren't you?" I casually asked him, not looking him in the eyes so as not to scare him off.

"Oh no, not at all," he sighed.

"Ahhhhhh, the girls must have been all after you."

"You know how it is... you don't realize what you've got until it's too late."

That was interesting... we were both sitting at a table off to the side, leaning forward on our elbows watching the kids do some game. There really wasn't much for us to do at the moment so we'd sat down to get off our feet for a moment and it seemed to be just the right conditions for him to open up to me. He was watching the group, supposedly doing just what he was supposed to be doing, but I was pretty sure that certain girls were getting more of his attention than others but from this distance it was "safe" for him to check them out.

"Ohhhhhh?" I responded softly, not really saying anything but letting him know I was there to talk to.

"I suppose there were a few girls I could have gone out with... but I was too shy I guess. Seems once I dated Cathy that was it."

"Really? Was she the only girl you dated?"

Dan hesitated a bit, keeping his chin on his hands as he rested on his elbows. Then he chuckled saying, "Well, she was the only one who put out."

"Well, there's something to be said for a girl who puts out I guess," I giggled.

"Yeah, it's fun... until they get pregnant."

Hmmm, now THAT was interesting news...

"What happened?" I nudged him a bit.

"The usual I guess... back then if you got a girl pregnant it was pretty cut and dry - you married her. She was only eighteen and I was nineteen... it was crazy."

I did some quick math in my head... he seemed older than barely in his thirties. Not THAT old but somehow more than 33 or so which is where he would be based on his daughter's age. He seemed to sense from my silence what I was thinking.

"I know... I'm 36 and Dresden is 14... Well, Cathy lost the first one just a month after we got married. I've also regretted that we didn't get an annulment but I was too scared to ask for one. Stupidest thing I ever did... or I guess didn't do."

His voice had dropped off to where I could barely hear him. I wasn't sure what to say at this point so I just stayed quiet and let him carry on at his own pace. He was quiet for a few minutes and then it was like he just opened up.

"You know, I probably shouldn't be telling you this but I was ready to divorce Cathy after a couple of years, We were way too young to be married and it was getting to be too much but then she went and got pregnant again. She claimed she was on the pill and it was an accident... but I still think she did it to keep me from leaving her."

"Wow... that wasn't very nice of her," I said softly under my breath.

Actually, I DID think it wasn't very nice of her. For a woman to get pregnant to trap a man was horrible. It showed me more what a decent man Dan must be to "do the right thing" and stay with his wife all these years to raise their kids.

"I don't know... it might not have been so bad but she gained a ton of weight with Dresden and then it seemed with each kid it just added more. Believe it or not, she use to look a lot like you when we were first married you know, at least figure wise."

"So you never cheated on her? Even after she let herself go?" I threw in the last part in hopes it would make him feel all the more frustrate with his wife, sort of a counterbalance to the potentially difficult question I posed at the beginning. By now he was on a roll and he didn't even hesitate before answering.

"No... have to admit I THOUGHT about it a few times but never have. It would kill the kids and besides, I've got no choice with a mortgage and debts up to my eyeballs."

With that the game concluded and everyone started to run around. Whatever mood had developed between Dan and me seemed to pop like a balloon, especially when his wife started griping to us both about just sitting around and not helping out. He looked at me and shrugged, as if to say, "see what I mean?"

After that Dan seemed to avoid me for the next couple of weeks. Perhaps he thought about what he had told me and was embarrassed. Then again, maybe I'd stirred up a few things inside that frightened him and so he was steering clear of me to keep them from developing further. Probably a bit of both if my suspicions were correct. The one thing I did notice was that he still looked at me whenever he thought I didn't notice - all the more now if anything. This gave me hope and the courage to take a little action on my own.

5. Pushing Him Over the Edge

From all appearances, Dan was just the type of guy I was looking for. He met all the qualifications in terms of age, marital status, family life and such. Now he recently confirmed the next step in the process - he was obviously dissatisfied with the way his life had turned out and how things were at home now. Just like a tiny crack just needs a little stress to suddenly stretch across the entire windshield, it was the same with guys. Once they allowed their own "crack" to be revealed, all it took was a little stress in the right place and it would open wide up. When it came to applying the right "stress", there's none better than me!

The next Wednesday night I kept looking for another opportunity to get close to Dan without drawing attention to us. It was about half-way through the program when I saw him talking to his wife, looking quite upset as she pointed his finger at him. Finally he threw his hands up and I watched as he spun around and left the room. His wife seemed exasperated and went back to whatever she was doing in the kitchen, probably getting the snacks ready or something like that.

Realizing I probably had only a brief window of opportunity, I took another door that led to the same hallway and looked around to see if I could see where Dan had gone. I was about to give up when I saw something moving at the end of the hallway where there was a large glass window overlooking the parking lot. It looked like Dan so I quickly undid two of my buttons on my blouse, allowing my cleavage show. My jeans weren't all that tight but they still showed off my ass well enough.

"Is everything ok Dan?" I asked softly as I approached him. Dan turned and when he saw it was me, he shrugged and kept his hands in his pockets.

"What can I say? Hey look Kelly, I'm sorry for dumping on you the other night, I'm sure the last thing you want to hear about is some guy's marital problems."

Little did he know that under the circumstances, actually that was the FIRST thing I wanted to hear but I didn't say it. Instead, I moved up closer to him, looking to see what response I could get before I made my mind up which way to go with this. If he moved backward and put more distance between us, THAT would not be a good sign and I would probably have to revise my plans. However, he didn't move back but rather just stayed where he was. Not the BEST response but certainly a positive one. The ball was in my court...

"You know, I saw the way you were looking at me earlier tonight."

Dan's face turned red and for a moment I thought maybe I'd gone too far so I quickly added in, "It's OK, I like it when you look at me that way."

From the expression on his face, I think he believed THAT about as much as he would had I offered to sell him some prime real estate in Antarctica or something. I was about to mention something about him looking at the other girls as well but decided at the last second not to as it might embarrass him all the more. I already knew he did so having him tell me himself wasn't all that important.

"You know... I was thinking about what you said about Cathy being the only girl that ever put out for you. Don't you ever wish that you had done it with another girl?"

Now he really looked at me with an odd expression. He was probably trying to figure out where I was going with all this. Clearly he had noticed my blouse and the way my boobs practically were falling out of my blouse. The problem was, he seemed to be thinking I was just teasing or otherwise playing with him.

"C'mon Kelly, what's going on here?" he said, suddenly looking around, "Is this some sort of practical joke? Did Cathy put you up to this? Where are the cameras?"

"There's no cameras, no joke and trust me, Cathy has NO idea I'm here with you."

"I don't understand..."

"Don't you Dan? Don't you know what you want right now?"

I wasn't going to unbutton any more of ,my blouse or go any further until HE asked for it so I had to somehow get him to do something soon or this would all just be for nothing - and probably ruin any chance of anything in the future as well. He looked at me, unable to keep his eyes from straying down where he had an excellent view of my boobs courtesy of my wide open blouse.

"All you have to do is ask Dan," I whispered to him in a husky voice, "You didn't when you were in school and you've regretted it ever since. Don't regret it now."

Dan licked his lips subconsciously and I knew he was weakening. The crack was starting to spread and once it started, there wasn't anything he would be able to do to stop it.

Frank was looking over my head, down the hall, probably worried that someone might come out and see us. We were a ways down so it wouldn't be obvious even if someone did but I knew it wouldn't hurt for us to get out of sight as soon as possible.

"What are your trying to do? Why are you doing this?"

It was like someone told him that he had won the lottery but he couldn't believe it. He had to know what I was trying to do - he was just so conditioned after all these years that he couldn't believe it.

"All you have to do is ask Dan... all you have to do is ask."

It wasn't like he would be doing something illegal like making a move on one of those teenage girls back there that I knew in his heart he desired - maybe even his own daughter under the right circumstances. His marriage was a sham, forced upon him from the start by a stupid mistake that should have been corrected but then was only made worse later on. She would never know anyway so what was the harm? Still, I could see the lust in his eyes but the way he had his lips pursed I knew he was struggling with his conscience.

"Don't you want me Dan? You look at me like you do. Like I said, I like the way you look at me that way... makes me feel good inside... VERY good inside... do you know what I mean Dan?"

"What difference does it make, we can't do anything here anyway."

With those words the crack spread wide open. Yes, he wanted to do me but now it was just a questions of logistics. Well, if he was worried about having sex in church, he certainly didn't know me very well!

6. Dan Fucks Me in Church

"Let's go in here," I suggested, pointing to one of the darkened classrooms.

As I expected, he didn't argue but instead followed me in silently, as if it were some sort of dream. The room was dim, just the dim glow from the parking lot lights outside allowed us to see anything at all. I noticed he shut the door behind him... good sign!

"I can't believe this...," he mumbled as he just stood there, his hands back in his pockets as if he was afraid if he let them loose they might start doing something on their own.

I moved up close to him until we were just an inch or so apart.

"Tell me Dan... does Cathy like to suck your dick?"

It was the most blatant question I'd asked so far and it seemed to catch him off guard.

"No, she never has," he stammered, "She says it's dirty and only whores do it."

"Well Dan, I like to suck cock... does that mean I'm a whore?"

"Oh no, I didn't mean THAT!" he came back quickly, his voice a confusion of doubt yet I could detect a trace of lust beginning to emerge.

"Did you know I liked to suck cock Dan?"

His expression was enough to make me almost laugh out loud. Something told me my reputation had preceded me somewhat yet at the same time he obviously didn't want to sound like he thought I was a "bad" girl – which he probably did anyway.

"Ummmmm, I didn't know," was all he could finally get out.

"Would you like me to suck your cock Dan?"

"Ummmmm..."

"All you have to do is ask you know."

It was the moment of truth for Dan. After all these years of dreaming about such a situation as this (although I doubted he had ever dreamed of exactly THIS set of circumstances) the opportunity was upon him. Did he cross the line or not? So far nothing more had been done that buttoning two buttons wouldn't resolve. Even if we were caught in here now it would be embarrassing (at least for him), but nothing criminal.

"Well Dan?"

I wasn't about to let him keep thinking about it TOO long. The element of surprise was working in my favor up until now but soon the voice of reason would regain control and it would be all over. It was a race against time and so I kept pushing, hoping to get to the finish line before the clock ran out.

"You really want to... you really want to give me a BJ?"

"No Dan, I would LOVE to give you a BJ!"

"Oh shit then.. do it."

Before he could change his mind, I had my hands on his belt before the last syllable had faded away. Fortunately, it as an easy one and soon I had it undone along with his pants and zipper. I opened them apart and saw he had his white jockey short underwear on underneath. The bulge beneath them was unmistakable - there was little doubt that Dan's DICK was ready, even if the rest of him still wasn't quite so sure. Pulling his elastic waist band out, I saw the head of his cock peaking up like a snake in a hole, waiting for me to release it from its prison. A quick tug down and it flopped out over his underwear.

"Mmmmmmm, you have a nice dick Dan," I murmured, looking up at him and our eyes met as I grabbed the shaft of his cock with my hand and just held it for a moment.

Then, without any more fanfare, I took the head of his cock in my mouth and let my tongue run around the smooth know and under the ledge that encircled it.

"Oh god... that feels incredible," he sighed and I could feel his dick practically jumping in my mouth. It was crazy to have a guy this old with three kids and know I was giving him his first blow job!

I pulled his pants and underwear down to his ankle, giving me easier access to his crotch. Damn, talk about a hairy guy! Not only was his crotch a damn forest of pubic hair, it extended down his legs and up his stomach as well. He was like some sort of black bear!

I cupped his balls with one hand while I took more of him in my mouth with the other until finally I had all of him in my mouth, Not that it anything for me to brag about - his dick was a little smaller than average but it was hard like a steel pipe with a slight curve upwards such that when he stood upright it pointed up to the ceiling like a rocket ready to blast off at any second. Then, licking the side of his shaft from top to bottom, I let my tongue work on his for a while, which he obviously enjoyed.

"Oh my god... I can't believe this!" he must have muttered a hundred times if he did once.

It was nice to have a guy be so appreciative of a BJ. Heck, I didn't even have to do anything too fancy with him - he was more than happy with just the classic head bob with a little bit of a twist as I raised my head up from his crotch. No doubt he would cum pretty quick and for a moment I weighed the odds of him being able to cum again quickly at his age. He was right at the breakpoint where guys started to really lose their resilience. Dan could easily be a one-time guy, at least so far as one evening went.

I considered asking him if he wanted to fuck me but then I didn't want to go through the whole routine I'd just done in order for him to let me suck his dick. Instead, I chose the classic approach, the one thing no guy can resist when I ask him...

Rising up to my feet, still fully clothed, I held onto his dick like it was leash and stood up on my toes to whisper in his ear, "I want you to fuck me Dan."

He seemed started at that but then what did he think we were going to do? Sucking his dick was nice but it wasn't even technically adultery as it wasn't sex. Noooooo, if he was going to cheat on his wife with me that meant he had to fuck me - in some position somewhere.

He looked at me wide-eyed, his breathing shallow and his face flushed as I held onto his dick and squeezed it gently.

"Don't you want to fuck me Dan?"

Well, I'd like to see him say no to that! Actually, I wouldn't but it's just a saying. Here he was, in a darkened Sunday School room with his pants around his ankles and the hands of a girl ten years younger than him wrapped around his cock, still wet from having just been in her mouth. For the first time in his life he felt a girl's mouth around his cock and now here she was, offering herself to him for the ultimate prize.

"May the Lord forgive me for saying this but yes... yes I do," he was barely able to get out. It was good enough for me!

We didn't have a lot of time as sooner or later someone was going to wonder where we were. This was going to be a case of him fucking me in one position and getting off pretty fast. That wasn't so bad in that as horny as he was now, he probably wouldn't be able to last very long, let alone swapping positions all around. I pulled my jeans down below my knees, revealing to him that there was nothing between me and them. His eyes widened as he stared at my bare pussy.

"Do you like it?" I purred, rubbing myself slowly for him with one hand as I grabbed his dick again with my other.

Damn, he was so hard I was afraid he might burst!

"You can touch it of you want."

He didn't seem sure at first but then the temptation was too great for him and he reached out and just cupped my crotch at first, as if he wasn't sure what to do.

"Ever feel a shaved pussy before Dan?"

He shook his head, not saying a word as he started to work up more courage to begin exploring me with his fingers. I felt one trying to push its way into me gingerly.

"It's OK Dan, you can put it in me."

I leaned back against a chair which thrust my hips forward, making it easier for him to reach under my crotch and push his finger into me. If he wasn't so old I would have thought it was like a teenage boy feeling his first pussy. It was sort of cute but time was running short and I wanted something besides his finger in me – something thicker and stiffer.

"Wouldn't you rather put you dick in me Dan?" I whispered in a low voice, trying to be as sultry as possible, "I want you to fuck me Dan... I want your dick in me now."

With us both standing up he seemed unsure of how to proceed so I turned around and leaned forward, suing the chair back for support again as I spread my legs apart of pushed my butt up and out.

"You can fuck me from behind, OK?"

Looking over my shoulder at Dan, he was holding his dick but not exactly rushing to put it in me as I had asked. Then it dawned on me...

"Have you ever done it this way before?"

He shook his head and mumbled so I barely heard him, "Noooooo, Cathy only wants to do it one way."

He didn't say WHICH was but I assumed it was missionary. Hey, nothing wrong with that. In fact, I loved to be fucked that way when a man was about to cum so we could kiss and I could look into his eyes as he released himself inside of me. It also made me feel more feminine and secure to be under him as he came, sort of like submitting myself to him I guess.

"Well, here's your chance to do something different," I responded, not mentioning that he would also be doing SOMEONE different as well. It was hard to believe that he had never had sex with anyone but his wife - EVER. I couldn't even imagine being with only one guy!

I could feel Dan's dick rubbing against my butt and then down between my legs as he tried to get it into position. Using one hand to hold myself up, I reached between my legs with the other and took the head of his dick between two fingers and rubbed it against me so it slipped between my pussy lips and up against my pussy hole. All it needed now was for Dan to push but he just held himself there. Was he feeling a little guilty now, maybe having second thought? Well, we hadn't come this far to stop now!

"It's OK Dan, you can do it... you know this is what you want, what you've always wanted."

He stood behind me for a few more seconds, one hand on each of my bare hips with his cock pushing up against my pussy, hard enough to holds it in place but not quite enough to slip inside of me. I wiggled my ass a little, trying to help him in me and it seemed to be working as I felt the tip of his cock push just a little into me and the his head seemed to just pop into me on its own.

"That's it Dan, you can do it... push it all the way in me...I want all of you in me Dan."

"Oh god...," he groaned as I felt his grip on my hips tighten and then the wonderful feel of his dick as he pushed it into me.

Whether he was groaning because he felt good or because he couldn't believe what he was doing, I don't know and at that po9int I didn't care. All I knew was how good it felt to have his adulterous cock filling me up, feeling so incredibly good as he pushed it deeper and deer until finally I felt all that hair around the base of his dick against my smooth bare ass.

"Holy smoke, you're so tight... and so wet," he moaned as he started to do what comes natural - stroking himself in and out of me slowly.

His hands had moved from my hips and were now massaging my ass, one on each cheek now as he played with my butt as he fucked me.

"Your dick feels so good in me Dan... Mmmmmmm, I love it in me."

I wasn't embellishing anything - his cock DID feel good in me and now I was using my free hand to play with my clit. He reached around me with his right hand and cupped my boob through my blouse, then reaching under it from the top as with it unbuttoned and me bending over as I was it was hanging plenty low enough for him to easily feel me up. He pinched my nipple between his fingers and it made my entire boob tingle.

As Dan continued to fuck me, a steady rhythm now as he pumped away from behind me, I was rubbing myself faster, trying to make myself cum before he did. I thought about his wife, just down the hall doing who knows what, totally clueless that her husband's cock was inside another girl's pussy for the first time. In a way, I almost wished she would suddenly come in and see him, to see the lust in his eyes and the groans he was making as he pumped his dick in and out of my tight pussy.

It was the idea of seeing her face as she realized what her husband was doing that did it for me. Sure I loved his dick in me, I loved the way he was squeezing my boobs, and I really loved the way my fingers were stimulating my clit; but it was the thought of Cathy seeing all this that sent me over the edge and made me cum. The thought of her realizing how much more her husband loved fucking me than her. The thought of her seeing him fuck me from behind, something he had never done with her. I wanted her to see him cum in me, to mate me and give me the sperm that was rightfully hers but which she didn't deserve.

"I'm cumming Dan... Oh god you're making me cum!"

Well, it didn't hurt to build up his ego along the way so why mention what REALLY was making me cum? Besides, his dick WAS a major factor as I felt my orgasm surge through me, causing my pussy to clamp down on his cock like I was having a contraction. Apparently that was all he needed as I felt him change his rhythm and push himself all the way in me and start to cum in me, each burst of cum at the end of a smaller thrust that pushed him even deeper in me at just the right moment. Mmmmmmm, it made my orgasm even better to feel the gentle warmth of his cum in me and then fade away, only to be followed by yet another.

As soon as he finished I stood up, causing his dick to pull out of me and I quickly turned and bent me knees so I could get his cum-covered cock in my mouth. Mmmmmmm, it tasted so good when it was coated with our cum. His cum dominated but I could also taste myself on him. Reaching down, I scooped up the cum that was dripping now from my pussy and put it to my mouth, looking up so he could see me licking it off my fingers. He just stared at me the entire time, as if he couldn't come up with the words to describe how he was feeling at that moment.

Standing up, I licked another finger covered with cum as I grinned naughtily at him.

"Does Cathy like to suck you after you fuck her?"

Dan was still panting from his exertions but he managed to shake his head and answer, "Noooooo, she would never do that."

Sheesh, and women wonder why their men aren't satisfied with sex? No blowjobs, missionary only, no after-fuck sucking... sounded like it wasn't all that much fun.

Now that he had cum, it was like whatever hold I had over him was broken and the realization of what we had done suddenly dawned on him. His face looked pale and he started to stutter and stammer as he pulled his underwear and pants back up and tucked in his shirt. Meanwhile, I looked around for something to clean myself off so it would look like I wet my jeans when I pulled them back up.

"Do you have a handkerchief Dan?"

He automatically reached in his pocket and handed me one. I don't think, though, he realized what I wanted it for as his eyes widened when he say me put it between my legs and wipe the mess off me that he had left behind. When I was done I folded it so the cum was inside and handed it back to him.

"Thanks so much. Here you... a souvenir."

He took it but didn't seem to know what to do with it as I pulled my jeans up and buttoned my blouse. He looked around as if hunting for a garbage can but then seemed to think better of it and finally just pushed it down into his pocket again. Something told me that this was one handkerchief that wasn't going to make it to the laundry pile!

"That felt good Dan... did you like fucking me?"

"Ummmmm yes... what have I done?"

"It's OK Dan... you know it's what you wanted to do."

"Yeah but if Cathy ever finds out... she'll kill me... I'll lose everything... the kids... my job..."

"Well, I certainly won't tell her so how will she ever find out?"

"She'll know.. somehow I know she'll just know."

I took his hand but he pulled back.

"OK, so I wanted it but that doesn't make it right... oh god.. now what am I going to do?"

I started for the door and turned, motioning for him to follow me.

"Well, I HOPE you'll remember this next time you're with her. Now we better get back before someone wonders where we went."

He caught up to me before we were in the hallway. Grabbing me by the shoulders, he turned me around so he could face me.

"I'm sorry, I shouldn't have said all those thing. It WAS wonderful... and yes, it is something I'll never forget but Kelly... we can NEVER do this again... OK?"

I didn't bother telling him that it really didn't matter if he wanted to or not as we would never do it again anyway but it made it easier this way. My mission was accomplished. No matter what he might say now, when he was fucking me I knew he loved it - the penis never lies!

I let him go back first and then I followed a few minutes later, coming in from a different door so it wouldn't look like we had been together. I saw Dan talking to his daughter and smiled. I wonder if she could smell me on her daddy? He hadn't cleaned up and the scent of sex had to be overpowering. I thought about warning him to go to the restroom and washing off a little before he saw his wife. Dresden might not recognize the smell but I didn't think Cathy would miss it. Then again, the odds of him hugging Cathy and being as close to her like he was with his daughter right now we're probably pretty remote so I just let it go.

Dan never said a word to me the rest of the evening. In fact, he never came within a few feet of me. Still, before the night was over and he was putting on his coat to leave, he liked over at me and smiled briefly.

As I saw him walk out with his daughter, his wife a little behind, I wondered how he would feel tonight when he was in bed with Cathy. I think I had a pretty good idea!

(Dec 23) Chapter 204: Aunt Linda Returns Home

Story codes: Fm FFm F-solo m-solo inc mother daughter
Me (24)
Aunt Linda (41)
Kristen - cousin (22)
Todd (16)

My cousin and I may be practically sisters but we are very different in many ways. The same could be said for our mothers (except, of course, they WERE sisters). When my Aunt Linda moved in with my dad a few months ago it allowed me to move in with Kristen, saving me a bundle on rent. It soon became clear that things around the house weren't the same with me there instead of my aunt. So what happened when Aunt Linda returned home for a day, supposedly to lay the law down?

1. Cousins and Aunts

Overall I've got to admit that I've been a pretty lucky girl for most of my life. Born into a great family, I had two loving parents who were a daily reminder as to how a Christian marriage should function. We weren't filthy rich but then again it wasn't like I ever remember any real financial worries. For instance, sure we didn't have yacht but there was always a nice ski-boat for summer. Thanks to my dad I was able to attend a great private Christian college without the burden of enormous student loans. OK, I will even admit to being a little spoiled although I'd like to think it never got to the point of being rotten. Overall, I'm not complaining!

That all said, if I was pushed to come up with one thing that I feel cheated on, it would be not having any siblings. My mom had a rough delivery with me and the doctors warned her that it would likely kill her if she had any more children. Oh sure, being an only child definitely has its benefits. No hand- me-downs and I've always gotten about anything I wanted. But those are all physical benefits whereas I think by not having a brother or sister I lost out on a lot more, if less tangible. When I see my friends, especially as they get older, come to appreciate the relationships they have with their sisters and brothers, I have to wonder what it would have been like to have brother or sister myself. Of course, there is the added benefit of having a brother around for more interesting things... (or a sister for that matter).

My mom had a younger sister growing up and I guess it's hearing about how they did so many things together that makes me wish at times that I had a sister as well. As things turned out, my Aunt Linda herself had only one child before her divorce. My cousin was a girl as well so neither sister produced a son. Come to think about it, in all my immediate family there has been only one boy produced versus six girls in my generation!

Without a father and a husband at home, it sort of fell to my dad to act as a surrogate to my aunt and cousin. Of course he could never be a true husband to my aunt, at least from an emotional perspective, but he DID try to help with her sexual needs as best he could. He was like a father to Kristen - and as she got older that relationship developed in ways that hopefully would have been had she had a "real" father.

Kristen and I practically grew up as sisters as she and my aunt seemed to always be over at our house. In some ways I guess Kristen is the sister I never really had - and the same for her with me. Even today it's like we're inseparable. In fact, because we're always together and had similar reputations back in high school, people who don't really know us all that well often make the mistaken assumption that we ARE sisters. The reality is that we are actually quite the opposites in many ways.

Take our physical appearances as an example. I'm a natural brunette who changed to blonde a few years ago. Kristen is a blonde who changed to a brunette, going almost black recently. Whereas my body is at best "average" in most departments, Kristen has this crazy perky figure which makes people often mistake her to be anywhere from two to four years younger than she really is (she's 22 now and still gets carded everywhere, even the R-rated movies). Her boobs are perfect and her legs incredible with a smile that makes boys melt like butter in a microwave oven. I've always been a little heavier compared to her, not fat by any means but never as naturally thin as Kristen. The girl can eat anything and never put on a pound! Whereas flirting just seems to come natural for her, I have to TRY to flirt and while I think I do a pretty darn good job at it, it's not without some effort.

One area we really differ is not so much from the neck down but upwards. I've pretty much always maintained a 4.0 average while Kristen passed thanks to having horny teachers. I enjoy using men for fun and pleasure but it's me calling the shots whereas Kristen seems to have an inherent need for a man to take care of her. I readily admit to having used my body to get things but it's been for things I WANT. Kristen, on the other hand, doesn't seem to mind in the slightest to use her body to get the things she NEEDS; hence her relatively short career as a prostitute - which she only quit after some pretty intense pressure from her mom..

Then there's sex. Like duh. While we both LOVE it and even competed at times in school as to who was the biggest slut, there's actually quite a few differences between us in that department as well. One area in particular is masturbation. Kristen claims I'm some sort of a masturbation freak, LOL. While of course she does it now and then, she seems to think I'm more than a little bit weird because I do it at least two or three times a day. Even when she DOES masturbate, she prefers a dildo or a vibrator whereas I'm a finger girl all the way.

A key difference between us in terms of sex is one so great that it's even threatened our relationship at times. I mentioned earlier that Kristen worked as a prostitute for a while, making a bundle of money but at the same time, at least in MY opinion, she degrading herself by doing things I would NEVER even fantasize about, let alone actually DO. Of course she saw it quite differently. Still, it's a one line I refuse to cross. To me, being a slut is sexy and fun. Sluts use their bodies to get the things THEY wants. Being a whore means you're selling your body to anyone willing to pay so he can get the things HE wants. That's quite a difference, at least in my book.

It was one of the happiest days in my life when Kristen reluctantly announced that she'd quit her job and would be going to school so she could sell real estate along with her mom. Given that her mom wasn't afraid to has use her body if necessary to close a deals, I had no doubt that Kristen will follow in her footsteps. Still, at least she wasn't hooking anymore.

There is another significant difference between us sexually that has caused a lot of tension, especially since I've moved in with her. That difference is our preferred choice of men - or in her case, boys. While I can understand the attraction of younger guys thanks to their incredible endurance and unbridled enthusiasm, for me nothing beats an older guy who treats me with respect and looks out for my needs ahead of his. Sure they may not have the hard bodies of the young guys and maybe they can't get it up but once or twice a night, but what they do with it beats the younger guys all to hell. And if they are married... all the better!

experience with her in the past, even if just a hand-job or to grope her boobs, or at the least get a peek at her body.

While the boys were unhappy about not getting Kristen's mom (or at least her cousin) to join in, that was nothing compared to Kristen's frustrations. She tried over and over to get me to join in, to the point of practically having sex with them right next to me in a vain effort to make me want to abandon my principles. As tempting as some of those times were, I never broke down and I hope I never will. It would only take one time with the wrong boy and my entire life would be changed forever. Just look at the headline news!

Kristen seemed to assume that sooner or later I would give in to my lust and let some fourteen year-old kid do me so it must have surprised her to see that my answer was an unwavering "no". Just when I thought she was finally getting the message, the cavalry arrived in the form of her mom, riding in to save the day!

2. Mixed Feelings

Actually, it all started before my aunt ever showed up. I woke up on my first day of Christmas break, only to find that instead of it being noon, or some other decent hour for getting out of bed on the first day of your holiday, it was only 8:00! What the heck was going on?

Now that I was awake, I felt Mother Nature's urge so I slipped on a t-shirt and headed across the hall to the bathroom to take care of business. The house seemed quiet so what had woke me up? Kristen should have been gone by now to the office where she and her mom worked which means in theory, there shouldn't be anything - or anyone, inside to disturb me. Shrugging my shoulders, I decided it must have just been a bad dream and started back to my bedroom. Oh well, if nothing else, now that I was awake I could take care of another "urge" that also needed to be satisfied when I woke up...

Just then I heard something, like a dish clattering, coming from the downstairs. My heart was pounding but then I realized it was probably Kristen making breakfast. Sheesh, she must be running late again - as usual. Fortunately she basically worked for her mom and in the home selling business it usually didn't matter all that much if she got in a little late anyway. Still, I was curious what she was doing since her breakfasts typically consisted of something from a box she could eat myself, (OK, and maybe a little after that), but now I was 24 and nobody was going to buy the "but we're almost the same age" rationalization any more. Even at 22, Kristen wasn't in all that much better of a situation but she didn't seem to mind a bit. If anything, she seemed to relish them all the more as she got older.

Perhaps what REALLY intrigued me was a few of the comments made when I first moved in. When I turned down Kristen's offers I heard something a few times that made me curious. Things like, "But your mom use to so why won't your cousin?" or "I miss your mom," usually in tones that sounded frustrated or even exasperated. Kristen and her mom had never been ones to talk a lot about their home life. I knew they'd slept together ever since her dad left and these days I also knew what they did together from an early age, but it was more based on an offhand comment here and there or something my mom would pass on to me more so than either of them coming straight out and saying anything.

There had been a few times in the past when I'd gotten a hint that my aunt also liked to indulge herself with some of Kristen's "friends". Indeed, I knew for sure they did older guys together - my ex-boyfriend was one example from just last year (long story...). I'd never actually SEEN my aunt with a teenager. Actually, I rarely saw her with ANY guys as she seemed to prefer to keep her dating experiences private. Still, I sometimes wondered just how much my aunt and cousin did together when it came to the younger generation around town.

There was one time when I let myself get into a conversation with Kristen about her "hobby". She had been trying to con me into doing something with her and along the way I asked her where she found these boys in the first place. It wasn't like our own neighbors had that many boys that qualified. She explained it was all mostly word of mouth while some of them went back to guys she was with in high school who now had brothers following in their footsteps.

What Kristen didn't realize in telling me all this was that it was EXACTLY why I did NOT want to participate in anything with her. If they were kids who were telling one another about this hot chick that liked to fuck high school boys (at least I think most of them had made it to high school), the LAST thing I needed was for MY name to be included in that rumor mill.

Actually, I DID try to talk some sense into Kristen many times but it was like back when I was trying to prod her to quit her prostitution gig. She refused to listen to me then, just as she refused to listen to me now. Once of my concerns about her being a whore was that it would become common knowledge in the community, possibly leading to who knows what problems for her as well as our family. Fortunately, her mom had finally talked some sense into her and she quit before anything like that happened.

Now it was the same with her "youth fetish" as I liked to call it. I could only imagine the consequences if the word ever spread to the wrong ears. At least she did her whoring with adult men (at least so far as I knew) so all she could be charged with was prostitution. THIS, however, could lead to much more serious issues, perhaps even a label as a sex offender. Now THAT wasn't something to make light of - and a damn good reason for me to keep my bare ass out of the kitchen this morning!

I made it back to my room without alerting them to my presence. I considered closing my door but then Kristen would know something was up as I NEVER closed my bedroom door, not even when I was growing up. I'm not really claustrophobic but still, I hated being in my room with the door closed. Besides, my room was at the end of the hall whereas hers was right at the top of the stairs so there wasn't much risk in us crossing paths.

Dropping my t-shirt on the floor by my bed, I crawled under the covers to keep warm. I kept hearing Todd's voice in my head and I wondered again how old he was. Hmmmmmm, what did he look like? Had he been here before? How much experience had he had with other girls - if any? How had he and Kristen gotten together? Then the big question - what the heck was he doing over here so damn early?

I recalled a TV show where a college boy was accused of statutory rape but he claimed she had told him she was eighteen. As part of the investigation, he was shown photos of successively younger girls in provocative clothing and poses and was then asked if they turned him on. Of course he said "no" but the guy asking him the questions knew he was lying. The key point was that in the end the investigator claimed that the guy was telling the truth about thinking the so- called rape victim was of age. He made the point that it is a natural human reaction for a male to be stimulated by youthful girls - just part of the genes. The key was that while he was lying about not being turned on by them, he DID know that it was "wrong" to do so, or at least to act on those feelings.

It sort of ties in with my motto that "any fantasy is OK, no matter what it is, so long as the person knows where the line is between fantasy and reality". I don't care if someone tells me they fantasize about sex with very young children, even though it doesn't turn me on in the least and actually is disgusting so far as I am concerned, plunging my fingers deep into me as I imagined Todd fucking me, cumming in me over and over as his cock exploded inside of a girl for the first time. Instead of his cum spurting onto his hand or stomach, it was inside of me, in a pussy where it belonged.

As I laid there, letting my orgasm run its course through me, I opened my eyes to look at the doorway. In a way I was almost disappointed as I half-expected to see Kristen and Todd standing there watching me. At the same time, I was also relieved that they weren't! Then I heard something, like they'd finally made their way upstairs to her bedroom. Knowing Kristen, she would leave the door open but in her case it was to make sure I heard her. The little slut never stopped trying.

As hot as it made me, and as much as I knew Kristen loved what she was doing, as her older cousin and the closest person she had to being a sister, I also felt somewhat a responsibility for her. Someone needed to talk some sense into her pretty head. It certainly wasn't going to be me so that pretty much left once person - her mom. It wasn't until her mom finally put her foot down that Kristen quit whoring so maybe now if she did the same with regards to the young boys, Kristen might finally "graduate" to guys at least her own age - or at least eighteen if nothing else.

That's when I decided to pick up the phone...

3. Seeking Aunt Linda's Help

I dialed the office and fortunately my aunt answered the phone. At least she wasn't out looking at homes with a client. She seemed a little surprised that I was calling (she knows how I like to sleep in) but didn't press the issue.

"Aunt Linda, I'm not sure how to say this but I don't know who else to turn to."

"What are you talking about Kelly? Hell, you know you can always come to me about anything."

"Well... It's about Kristen..."

"Oh great, NOW what has she gotten herself into? Where the hell is she anyway? She's late again." My aunt sighed audibly over the phone.

"Well, it's not what SHE is into, it's who is into HER."

"Ohhhhhh, so THAT'S why the little slut's late this morning. I figured it must have been something like that although I guess at this time of day I figured it would be the two of you. So what's the big deal? It's not like we're all that busy here at this time of year so I wasn't all THAT worried about it."

To say Kristen and her mom have a rather unique relationship would be the understatement of the year. Still, it seemed to work for both of them so who was I to say anything?

"Do you know someone named Todd?"

There was silence on the line and I wasn't sure if it meant she was thinking about it or if she didn't want to answer.

"Well... I guess you could say that. Why do you ask?"

I went on from there to explain to her the events of the morning and my concerns about what she was doing. I hadn't quite finished when my aunt cut back in.

"You know Kelly, we've talked about this before so I'm not so sure what you expect me to do? Frankly, if this is the Todd I think we're talking about, I can't say I really blame her. Have you seen the kid yet? He's pretty damn cute."

THAT wasn't exactly the response I was hoping for. Still, sooner or later we needed to work this out and if I was going to have any success it was paramount that my aunt be on board with me.

"No, I haven't see him yet but he certainly didn't sound very old," I said, trying not to let the frustration escape through the phone, "She won't listen to me about this - we both know that, so I was thinking maybe this would be a good time for something like an intervention before she gets herself in hot water someday."

"An intervention? You're kidding... right?"

Thank God video phones aren't here yet otherwise she would have seen my eyes rolling.

"OK, maybe a bad choice of words but someone needs to talk some sense into her and stop this and I can't think of anyone she'll listen to but you."

Again, there was a long pause on the phone. Then it was like she started to say something but changed her mind and then it went quiet again, only to repeat this a couple more times before she finally said something.

"Look, things are dragging around here so how about I come over and we can talk some more about this, OK?"

It sounded like a plan so I agreed and she quickly hung up. Sitting there with my silent cell phone in my hand, I thought about what she had said and then it dawned on me that she hadn't really promised anything at all. Well, hopefully she would do something to convince her daughter what a treacherous road she was on.

Hearing some of what was going on down the hall though, I had a feeling it was going to take some pretty tough love to convince her.

Having just finished myself and now after talking to my aunt, I really wasn't all that horny any more so I decided to quickly wash up and get dressed. It would take my aunt about fifteen minutes to get here if the roads were clear so I had to hurry. There was no sense in getting carried away as I had no plans for going anywhere. All my shopping was done and today was supposed to have been a day of sheer laziness.

By the time my aunt arrived I'd cleaned myself up and thrown on some sweat pants and sweatshirt – perfect actually for this early in the morning when it seemed the house was a lot colder than the hallway thermostat claimed. I was waiting for her in the living room after having silently slipped by my cousin's bedroom. Passing by I couldn't help but take a peak but there wasn't much to see with the covers mostly over the two of them. All I could make out was the back of his head and shoulders as he appeared to be fucking her plain old missionary style. His head was buried in her neck, covering his face as well as hiding hers from view. She was being uncharacteristically quiet as usually Kristen is quite vocal during sex.

I was waiting on the couch when the door opened and in walked my Aunt Linda, back home again for the first time in weeks.

4. Aunt Linda Takes Charge

"Hey girl, you're looking hot this morning," she greeted me rather sarcastically but the smile on her face disarmed her remark.

She liked to tease me and I guess I was usually an easy mark for her. It's not like she was dressed all that hot herself as she tossed her winter coat over the back of the love seat. She was wearing a pant outfit – something I rarely saw her in so evidently she wasn't planning on entertaining any clients today.

One of the reasons it took a lot for my aunt to step in and convince her daughter to quite the "escort" business was that in some ways, my aunt wasn't all that different. Sure, she was a licensed Realtor and all, but in today's housing market there's a ton of competition and my aunt wasn't afraid to use every "asset" she had to her advantage. She specialized in upscale homes typically purchased by executives moving in from out of town or those that had been promoted and were looking to upscale their homes. Thus she worked with a lot of "alpha" type males, accustomed to knowing what they wanted - and getting it, especially when it came to women.

Sure sexual harassment and sex discrimination are supposedly gone or at least on their way out but try telling that to the real world executive. They may not put things in those terms but they DO know where a woman's place is, at least in their opinion. While it may have irritated her sensibilities, my aunt was more than willing to use their sexist attitudes to turn quite a pile of commissions at a time when most realtors were crying. Listening to her describe some of her clients and what she'd done to get a sale, I don't think she really minded it all that much either.

Actually, my aunt has even come to me a couple of time for some "help". It was sort of fun, although a bit surreal as well, to do it in a strange house with someone who didn't even live there just so he would sign a purchase agreement with my aunt. I knew that Kristen often helped as well and when I first heard that she was trading in her mattress for a gold jacket I cynically thought all she was doing was changing her client base. To give her credit, she put I a great effort on her classes and she had passed her initial exams with flying colors - not something I was use to seeing in her in the past.

"So are they going at it now?" she asked, nodding her head towards the stairs leading up to our bedrooms.

"Looked like it last time I checked," I said with a frown.

"Oh lighten up Kelly, it's not like she's raping him or anything."

"Well, LEGALLY she is!"

My aunt frowned herself now. She had said it lightly but still, I couldn't help but wonder what she meant by it and she certainly didn't seem to like my response. I'd assumed the reason she had come back home this morning was to straighten Kristen out once and for all but now I wasn't so sure anymore.

"You said it was Todd, right?" she asked. I just nodded and she grinned slyly, "Mmmmmmm, I remember him. God he was a cute one. Been a while since he's been over though."

This was the second time she'd mentioned him being cute so I was starting to wonder what her motives REALLY had been in coming over here. Something was telling me that it wasn't what I was hoping for, no indeed.

"So you've seen him before?"

My aunt smiled naughtily, "Oh yeah, he used to be one of Kristen's regulars but then when school started it seemed he stopped coming over. Oh... that's right... today's the start of Christmas break; so no wonder he's over today."

She paused and then continued, "I know, I know, that's not what you meant. Let's just say for now that we've both seen a lot of each other, if you know what I mean."

"Aunt Linda! You're kidding me!" I exclaimed, unable to control myself completely even though I'd already more or less assumed this was the case based on her remarks so far.

"Hey girl. just because you pass the forty milestone doesn't mean you turn into some old maid," she said, wagging her finger at me, "It never hurts to indulge now and then. Look at your mother and your cousin Rick!"

"Yeah but you're 41 and he's what... fifteen?"

"Oh gosh no Kelly, what kind of woman do you think I am? He's at least sixteen by now."

Like THAT made any difference but she didn't seem to see the irony in her remark. Maybe so, but he certainly didn't SOUND like he was sixteen and certainly no older. All I knew was that things were definitely NOT going as I had planned.

5. Aunt Linda Turns the Tables

With that she turned her head towards the stairs and her shoulder lifted and then dropped as I heard her sigh.

"I know you mean well Kelly," she turned to me and said softly but I could tell from her tone where it as going, "But to be frank, sometimes you stick your nose in where it doesn't belong."

Now THAT wasn't what I expected. I just stared at her, dumbfounded that she seemed to be blaming ME for something or another now. "It's not like it's dangerous or anything - the main reason I was against the prostitution gig; and with Todd it's certainly consensual... trust me on THAT one. For crying out loud, he IS sixteen so it's not like anyone's raiding the cradle so lighten up. Nobody is saying YOU have to participate, are they?"

Well, technically that was true but I'd been feeling more than just a little peer pressure and all which hadn't made me very comfortable. Still, I wasn't about to argue the point with my Aunt, I knew from past experience such arguments are never won. Even when you think you do, you've still lost in the end.

"So what are you going to do?" I asked rather lamely, not sure what else to say without pissing her off all the more.

Aunt Linda's head hunched down and she gave me this "what the hell is wrong with you" expression so clearly I'd still somehow managed to say the wrong thing.

"Oh Kelly... what am I going to do with you? For a girl as smart as you, sometimes you can be really naive."

Now I was starting to get a little perturbed myself. Like, what had I exactly done to deserve all this? After all, I wasn't the one fucking some kid in my bedroom. I started to speak up in my defense but she was on a roll and there was no stopping her now.

"Do you think I came home because I was going to talk her out of anything?" she asked but obviously intended to answer her own question with, "Hell no... I came home to JOIN her you silly girl."

Sheesh, now what had I done? She turned away from me before I could figure out what to say and started up the stairs. About half-way up she turned and grinned at me saying, "You know Kelly, it's never too late to change your mind."

She was just teasing me but still, it sort of made me feel a little ticked that she would even bother. She knew how I felt about it and still, she couldn't resist one last little taunt. No wonder Kristen was the way she was!

She disappeared from view and then I heard an excited voice. I couldn't quite make out what was being said or who was saying it, but it was like someone at an airport greeting their long-separated loved one as they came off the plane. Not really wanting to listen any more, I went into the kitchen to get something to snack on. Nothing like a couple of donut holes to take your mind off things.

Sitting at the kitchen table, I put the entire Dunkin Donuts box in front of me. So what if I downed a few extra calories this morning. It wasn't like I could go back up to bed and sleep or anything with lord only knows what debauchery going on right down the hall.

I started to think about what my aunt had said - or rather lecture to me. Was I really making a federal case out of nothing? If I was honest, sure Kristen (and now my aunt) teased me and did their best to try to get me to join in, but they never FORCED me to do anything or boxed me into a situation where I had no choice. Was it really any different than my friend Beth constantly nagging me to go to one of her shout that made it all the way from the upstairs bedroom to the kitchen. Was I being TOO stubborn? Would I regret later that I let this opportunity slip through my fingers over some sort of principle that nobody cared about but me?

When I first came in the kitchen I'd been a bit flustered from talking to my aunt and really was not at all horny. However, now that I'd settled down and starting to think about it a little more, I could feel that sensation between my legs and in my lower belly that I knew meant I was going to have to take care of something before too much longer. The sweat pants were too warm and uncomfortable so I slipped them off and the feel of the cool wood of the chair under my now bare ass was soooooo comforting.

Closing my eyes, I inched forward on the chair such that I was barely on it, leaning back and lifting with my hips to push my pussy upward as my left hand instinctively made its way to its favorite place to be. The moment I touched my pussy it was hitting me with a Taser as I felt this shock rippled through me, making me gasp as my sensitive clit responded. Damn, I may not have been a few minutes before but I was certainly horny now!

I'd only masturbated for a few minutes when I opened my eyes and pulled my hand away from my crotch. Sitting up, I huffed and shook my head, not quite believing what I was doing. This was really stupid when you thought about it. Here my aunt and cousin were fucking the daylights out of some hot teenage boy upstairs and what was I doing but playing with myself in the kitchen wishing I could join them. It wasn't like there was some force field keeping me away from them. All I had to do was walk upstairs and I was sure they would be more than happy to let me join in. What was holding me back?

I stood up and straightened out the sweatshirt. It was an XL so it fit me like a feed bag but that's why I loved it so much - REALLY comfy to wear around the house. It also came about halfway down my thighs when I stood up which made it somewhat modest, at least compared to what else I usually wore around the house. I'd made up my mind and once I'd done that, then there was no sense wasting any more time debating the issue - it was time to just do it!

As I made my way up the stairs, I kept telling myself that all I was going to do was watch and that I would NOT get involved any more than that. I just couldn't take this listening in the kitchen crap any longer, not when so much was going on upstairs without me. Why not watch? Was it really any different? Being in the house, it would be hard to complain I had no idea what was going on in the bedroom so I was going to be indicted, it may as well be on something that was plausible. I'd just watch and masturbate and enjoy the show!

6. Aunt Linda Indulges Herself

I don't know who was more surprised when I made my entrance. I didn't hesitate at the top of the stairs but instead just walked right in like I owned the place. It took only a couple quick glances to figure out what was going on. Obviously things had moved along pretty quickly as Todd was fucking my Aunt Linda doggie style while she was eating out Kristen's pussy in a 69 position such that Kristen's head was right underneath where she had a front-row view of Todd's dick sliding in and out of her mom's hairy pussy. Nope, they hadn't been wasting any time, that was for sure!

In the position they were in, nobody realized at first that I even had entered the room. Todd was facing away from the door and my Aunt was similarly facing the same direction, only with her head down between Kristen's thighs. Kristen had a big pillow under her ass which made it easier for her mom to tongue her pussy. Kristen was pretty much out of sight as well with her head under her mother's pussy with Todd kneeling behind my aunt's bare ass as he fucked her. I'd been holding my breath as I entered, waiting for the immediate response but instead it was as if either they didn't notice me or they didn't care to make a big deal out to. Probably a little of both I would say based on how things went from there.

I coughed just enough to get their attention. My aunt lifted her head up and turned it back to see me over her shoulder. Todd stopped fucking my aunt and twisted around to see who was at the door. He just grinned when he saw who it was and went back to fucking my aunt. While I don't think Kristen actually saw me, who else would it be?

"Come on in Kelly, my aunt invited me, "You gonna join in?"

I just shook my head and took a seat in a chair by the window where I got a great side view of the action on the bed. My aunt didn't press the issue but just went back to licking Kristen as if nothing had happened. Todd seemed to take her lead on everything so when she stopped paying attention to me, he did the same and pretty much ignored me for the time being at least. In a way I guess I was almost disappointed in that they didn't try harder to get me to join in. Of course I would have refused politely but they still could have at least TRIED!

fucked my aunt was exactly going to go over well with my school board. Since I'd already gone this far, why not get some satisfaction out of it instead of just what my own fingers could deliver?

I was about to stand up when my Aunt Linda started to buck and cry out as her orgasm peaked. Well, I wasn't going to break in NOW, that was for sure. I hunched back down in the chair but then couldn't help but start playing with myself again as she moaned and humped under him like she was some sort of wild harlot. I'd heard her having sex with my dad plenty of times recently and never heard her get off like this before. No wonder she was so intent on doing it with this kid again!

Todd must have been turned on by my Aunt's display as much as I was because suddenly he pulled out of my aunt and started to spray his cum all over her stomach and boobs. The first shot actually might have reached her face but it was hard to tell from where I was at. Damn, that boy must have had the cum sac of a horse to shoot that much at one time! Kristen wasn't about to let it go to waste as she licked up what she could and then used her fingers to scoop of the rest, rubbing hat she couldn't get into her mouth all over her mother's gorgeous body, leaving a thin film of cum all over her to shine in the light.

That was my cue - time to go for it and fuck this kid before I lost my nerve. I knew if I allowed myself to think about it that my rational side would take over and ask what the hell was I doing so before then., I had only a few minutes to do it if I ever was. Todd's dick was still standing out from his body like it was permanently erect, not shrinking one bit after delivering such a monstrous load of cum.

Damn! Just as I was about to get up again, my cousin pushed him onto his back and she crawled forward and mounted him cowgirl style before I could even get my butt off the chair. She had his dick up in her and was rocking on him like a kid on the playgirl gone mad before I even realized what was happening!

My aunt looked exhausted but she still looked over at me and grinned. I think she caught on to how exasperated I was that Kristen had jumped on Todd so quickly before I could but then she shrugged her shoulders as if to say, "Sorry, What can I do about it?" I couldn't blame her as I knew Kristen well enough to know that when she was ready to be fucked, you had better just get out of her way because she became so focused on her target that she would literally run you over if you got between her and the dick she was eying.

Kristen had her hands on Todd's smooth but muscular chest, humping his dick with her hips as he just laid there and enjoyed what she was doing. Yep, there was swore I would never do. Then again, I wasn't about to tell her that I was really happy now that I hadn't done it.

"Well, I guess we owe you something then," my aunt purred softly, running her hand over my torso and then down between my legs.

It felt so good! I lay back and for the next couple of hours it was heaven on earth. In the end, I was glad Todd hadn't fucked me. If he had, then the rest of them morning wouldn't have been so great.

Now what about the next time Todd come over? Well THAT'S a bridge I guess I'll cross when I get to it.

(Jan 22) Chapter 205: Revealed For the First Time

Story codes: MF MMF F-solo M-solo oral inc father daughter
Me (24)
John - my dad (45)
Randy - boyfriend (24)

Ever since the first time I had sex with my dad, Rule #1 has always been, "Don't tell anyone about it." Of course I talk about it on-line but then nobody there knows who I really am so it's safe.
